MODERATION

The appeal for moderate drinking now being made to the liquor consuming public by some of the larger distillers, as well as many of the organizations of retail licensees is not only proper but wise. It is a far-sighted and sane admonition which ties in well with the ideas of sensible citizens, who rebelled agninst prohibition in the sweeping demand for repeal by the public in most states of the Union.

It was not the intention of many citizens who led the fight against continuance of the intolerable conditions which grew from the dry regime, that the Americnn public became sodden with alcohol. It was the realization of those who saw the true picture of what was happening to respect for law and general mornls that brought nlcoholic liquors back to a legnl stntus. It was also the realization that the cause of temperance, as a scientific and moral issue, was not being advanced under the theory of force.

More and more people begin to understnnd that temperance is a moral element and not a legislative matter.

The sudden lifting of restraint from alcoholic impulses no doubt encouraged for a time some of the excesses now complained about. This was to be expected if one has ever paused long enough to study human impulses.

But now the novelty of release from restraint is wearing off. Now is the time to catch human impulses on the rebound and consider temperance in cool reasoning. Moderation is the first principle of temperance, after all—not force of police stars and courts operating under a mandate of severity. The time is here to teach temperance through moderation, by fair and reasonably intellectual means.

Quick punishment of liquor dealers, who think the business is still a hacket, as practiced by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, is but one of the necessary steps toward teaching Americans how to handle liquor. It is just as necessary, however, that the drinkers of liquor be impressed with the understanding that excess is no longer in vogue and drunkenness no longer a humorous condition.

Moderntion is the right way towards decency, and distillers and dealers who make such an appeal are not only smart, but they are performing a public service of great value.

OPEN BACK DOOR

Among the small minority who object to civil service, the fear is sometimes exprehsed that the merit system, in securing public employes against removal for political reasons, will tend to render them inefficient and unmindful of responsibility. Let the averago man know he can't be fired, so the argument runs, and he is bound to become a slack, intolerant of criticism, and careless of his employer's interest.

This criticism, unfortunately, has been true in some cases where civil service has been introduced; but it can never be validly urged against civil service in Michigan. For the Civil Service Study Commission have taken some pains to make clear that the bill they are drafting will be featured by a provision for the so-called open back door.

The open back door may be defined as a civil service removal system which permits prompt and easy discharge of any employe guilty of serving the public poorly. Having no effect on the meritorious employe, it guarantees to the public that lack of merit shall be as rigidly and as quickly eliminated from the great business which serves the people as it is eliminated in the most efficient private business. Such a system is the modern answer to what formerly was in some cases a fair objection to civil service.

By including the open back door in the civil service bill, the Commission is silencing in advance the most effective gun of any spoils politicians who might, for personal rensons, choose to oppose the introduction in Michigan of the merit system.

ON WHICH TICKET

It is amusing to see how confuaion enters the ranks of the pro-Couzens press whenever the question of his record in the Senate arises. The difficulty seems to be that until it is known whether he is to run as a Democrat or a Republican his editorial friends nre unable to decide which way to paint the record.

If it is to be Democratic, they can point to his support of the major New Deal measures, his endorsement by Jim Farley, and the stamp of approval which Farley steam-rolled through a reluctant state convention at Grand Rapids.

If he is to be a Republican, they can point to certain occasions wherein he asserted his self-appointed right to be a bilious and cantankerous old man without the capacity for teamwork even with his newly found New Deal friends. Out of this they will doubtless attempt to construct a vision of Couzens, the Republican.

With the primaries only a few months away, it is urgent thnt something be done soon, but where to begin, until Couzens decides which way to run? Meanwhile Wilber Brucker is winning the admiration and support of more nnd more nnti-New Dealers every day by his courageous and forthright opposition to the socialistic New Deal experiments.

HISTORIC MICHIGAN

Long designated as the "most historic spot in Michigan," Mackinac Island is taking a leading place in the celebration of Michigan's Centennial year. Before Bunker's Hill and the Declaration of Independence, Mackinac Island was a thriving outpost of civilization with the largeat population of any Michigan territorial town. When General Cass went in canoes to mark the northwestern boundary of the territory 125 years ago there was a larger population on Mackinac Island than in all of what is now Wayne county. Encouraged by what Henry Ford is doing with historic Greenfield Village and its museums, with his cooperation in this Centennial year, a distinguished honorary Historic Mackinnc committee is this month completing a high school essay contest in 24 Michigan cities, participated in by over 2,000 students, and as a result of which 17 young people will be given free vacation trips this summer to Mackinac Island and the dramatic and historicnl Straits section. Eugene B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction, is chairman of the Historic Mackinac committee.

STAMP OUT MOB RULE

Persons who take law into their own hands are a type of law violators intolerable in any civilized community. Therefore the action of the authorities in attempting extermination of the so-called "Black Legion" in Michigan should be aided by every real American.

The vigilante spirit in any of its manifestations is exceedingly dangerous. Especially is this true when it is based upon appeals to racial or religious prejudices. For it is an established fact that the self-appointed vigilante with a gun is invariably headed straight for trouble.

America is no place for auch an organization as the "Black Legion." These represent autocracy in its worst form, because their decrees and their actions are founded on intolerance and bigotry. Every such organization should be disarmed and unmasked, their members exposed to the daylight they shun.—Grit.

SLOW DOWN

Safe drivers regulate their speed to the conditions of traffic, roadway and the possibility nf hazards of any and all descriptions. Blind corners, children playing, pedestrians, the presence and possible action of other cars; in short, the whole moving scene. Irresponsible drivers fail to do this and accidents result. The leading cause of traffic accidents is speed too great for conditions. When in doubt—SLOW DOWN.

"Already this RED CROWN'S saved me more than I paid for it—and I've still got it"

boasts Barclay B. Barnacle

Mr. Barnacle, known throughout the state for his prominence in Tall Stories Club circles, was glad to tell us how he solved the problem of gasoline costs . . . We pass it on for what it's worth, which doesn't seem to be much.

"I USE our car all day, and my son, Barclay B. Jr., uses it all night. That used to take a lot o' gas . . . until we switched to Red Crown, yesterday.

"Seems like right then our fortunes looked up. Why, only fifteen minutes after I'd bought the first tankful I stopped in the book and found I had 85 cents more in my account That's about five gallons saved.

"And this morning, after Junior had driven his girl 50 miles over to Lenoxville and 50 miles back to attend a lecture on Crop Rotation, there was still ten gallons left in the tank!

"'Course some would say Junior might just o' parked down the road a piece and never gone to Lenoxville . . . but anyhow, I'll be buying Red Crown if I ever have to buy any gas again."

Mr. Barnacle's imagination runs away with him at times, it seems. Certainly it did THIS time!

Of course, no motorist really has any such exaggerated belief as this, about gasoline mileage. But many do have inaccurate impressions. That's why Standard is conducting the most extensive road test ever attempted, this summer. Rather than make claims, Standard prefers to make it easy for motorists to find out the real facts about gasoline mileage for themselves.

PLAN NOVEL EVENTS FOR CHERRY FESTIVAL

Mummer's Parade, Amateur Night Are Included in July Celebration

Two National Cherry festival events, the Mummer's parade and the Cherry Pickers' amateur night, are already taking shape, according to the festival executive committee.

Cherry Pickers' amateur night, an innovation of this year's festival, will be held the first evening of the celebration, July 15. Although arrangements have not yet been completed, John Minnema, chairman of the amateur night committee, hopes to award the winner an appearance on Major Bowes' amateur hour.

All Pickers Eligible

Application blanks for the competition may be obtained from the National Cherry festival secretary. All pickers are eligible who produce a letter from a grower certifying the performer has picked cherries.

Fifteen prizes will be offered competitors in the Mummer's parade, according to Gene Sampson, chairman of the parade committee. First award will be $50 and the second $25 Sampson announced.

As in past festivals, the Mummer's parnde will top the three-day program, July 15, 16 and 17. Festival custom decrees a grand finale of fun, with pie-eating, peanut-rolling and other novel contests.

Entries for parade stunts may also be submitted to the festival secretary or the chairman of the parade committee.

CHANGE WELFARE RELIEF POLICIES

NAME TWO SUPERVISORS FOR COUNTY COMMISSION

Change Effective July 1st Expected to Bring Relief Administration Closer to Counties

In order to make possible a greater degree of participation by local governmental officials in the administration of relief the State Emergency Relief Commission, in consultation with the Governor, has revised the membership of the County Emergency Relief Commission, effective July first.

The county commissions thereafter will be composed of the chairman of the county board of supervisors, or a supervisor selected by him to serve in his place, the chairman of the present County Emergency Relief Commission, except where he is a county official, and a third member to be recommended by the county board of supervisors for appointment by the state relief commission. The state relief commission is hopeful that this revision of the membership of the county relief commission will secure greater public support, understanding, and interest in the administration of relief.

There will be no changes in the state commission, nor in its personnel or basic policies. The supervision of the state relief administration over the local administration of public relief funds will continue as at the present time.

The commission reiterated its three-year-old policy that no employe of the state or county relief commission may hold an elective office or be a candidate for public office, or in any other way take an active part in political activities of any sort. The commission will rigidly adhere to its policy that those who administer relief abstain from political activity.

The commission will set up at once a state-wide merit system establishing the principles of civil service for all employes of the state and county relief commissions. Such a plan will operate until such time as the state may create a civil service commission. All employes will be selected on the basis of merit, as evidenced by appropriate examinations, experience and training.

The commission directed the administrator to make an immediate survey of the administrative personnel employed in all of the counties in the state, and in recognition of the continuing decreases in the caseload of the county relief commissions, to make reductions in administrative personnel.

FARM LOAN ASSN. WILL MEET HERE

ANNUAL SESSION DIRECTORS TO BE HELD JULY 1

Election of Officers and New Directors Will Be Conducted at the Meeting in Court House

Members of the Charlevoix County national farm loan association which has headquarters at Charlevoix and 88 stockholders in this county, will attend the annual meeting of the association in the court house at Charlevoix on July 1.

William F. Johnson, secretary-treasurer, says the members now hold $8,500 in stock in the association and have loans outstanding of $180,000. Besides this volume, the association is also handling for the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul, commissioner's loans totaling $48,400.

Directors are to be elected and the members will hear a complete report on the business for the past year. The present officers of the association are: William Withers, of Marion township, president; H. L. Francisco, of Marion township, vice-president; and the directors are Plenny Gennett, of Norwood township, Edward C. Davis, of Hayes township, and William Shapton, of Marion township.

The association is one of the local cooperatives through which farmers obtain credit for long term farm financing or refinancing of farm debts through the land bank by jointly guaranteeing all their loans. The guarantee enables them to get a lower rate than would be possible otherwise.

The guarantee fund is made up of each member's capital stock in the association, amounting in each case to five per cent of his loan, pooled and pledged with that of all the other members as the basis for cooperative borrowing.

There are now more than 22,800 members of such associations in Michigan and their loans outstanding on March 31 totaled more than $51,576,000, all based on first mortgages.

It has been arranged to have a speaker from the Federal Land Bank attend this meeting.

RAILROADS PROVING ECONOMICAL CARRIER

Freight Rates Less Than Penny, Passenger Less Than Two Cents Mile

It costs less than a penny to ship the average ton of freight a mile and less than two cents, on the average, to ride a mile on an American railroad, according to a study by the Michigan Railroads Association.

The actual charge for moving the average 2000 pounds of freight a mile is 0.978 cents and of riding the average mile 1.918 cents, the survey shows and adds, "the railroads are incomparably the cheapest mode of transportation for the average of all commodities over all distances."

The study indicates there has been a steady decline in average freight and passenger per mile costs on American railroads in recent years, dropping from 1.275 cents per ton per mile and 3.086 cents per passenger per mile in 1921.

The survey contrasts American freight ton-mile costs with those in other nations and shows that while U. S. lines pay the highest wages and largest taxes of any railroads in the world only Poland's lines charge less 0.687 cents per ton mile, the others ranging from 1.046 cents in Germany and 1.186 in Japan to 2.43 in Norway and 3.5 in Switzerland.

"Thus it is proved that America's railroads," the study asserts, "are not only the safest mode of travel, functioning throughout 1935 without a single accident fatality among passengers, but are also the most economical, in addition to being community builders, the nation's largest single taxpayer and employer and paying all of their own way."

Meat Cuts and How to Cook Them
BEEF CHART

Every housewife is confronted with the three-a-day question of variety in the meals she serves. In beef we become addicted to roasts or steaks and forget all about the other good beef cuts which will give pleasing variation and be easy on the pocketbook, too. Perhaps our trouble lies in the fact that we are not as familiar as we should be with many of the possibilities offered by beef. If you are one of those whose use of beef is limited to a roast or a steak, the chart given above will be invaluable in learning to identify and locate the many retail cuts of beef. The chart will show you at a glance just how each one should be cooked. You will want to preserve this chart for ready reference.

BELVEDERE HOTEL OPEN FOR SEASON

HOST TO GRAND RAPIDS BUSINESS TOUR TONIGHT

Many Fine Improvements Completed in Preparation for Season—Prospects Best in Five Years

Belvedere Hotel, which was originally scheduled to open on June 27, will officially begin its 1936 season with dinner this evening. At that hour, a banquet will be served to members of the Third West Michigan Out-of-Door Tour, which is making this noted hostelry its headquarters for the over-night visit in Charlevoix. Many local business men are also expected to attend the banquet.

The Belvedere Hotel looks most attractive in its new coat of ivory paint with green trimmings. An elevator has been installed which will be a great convenience for the guests. The lobby walls have been redecorated in pastel colored tex-tone that makes this room appear larger and brighter. Numerous other improvements have been made throughout the building to modernize it and make it an ideal home for the summer vacationist.

Two shuffleboard courts have been built on the lawn adjacent to the casino, and croquet courts are available near the tennis courts, for the entertainment of the guests. Numerous interesting activities are listed on the social calendar of the hotel.

The Belvedere beach has been greatly improved, having had a retaining wall built to prevent the sand from being washed into the lake. Nine brilliantly colored cabanas have been built there by members of the club. Among other added improvements to the bench are the installation of a drinking fountain and rest rooms for the bathers.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Steiner are again managing Belvedere Hotel. During the winter seasons, Mr. and Mrs. Steiner are managers of the Coquina Hotel, Ormond Beach, Fla.

Inquiries and reservations are reported to be far in advance of any season for the past five years, and the management is looking forward to an excellent season.

Many of the former members of the staff will return to resume their duties, several of whom have been in the employ of the Belvedere for a number of years. Miss Rae A. Gravauer has returned as secretary-bookkeeper and will again be assisted by Mrs. Esther Massey. Messrs. Sanford J. Nelson and Chan W. Massey will again take over the duties of the front office, and Charles O. Guy will act as night auditor. Wyatt S. Wilson will be superintendent of service. The housekeeping department will be headed by Mrs. John Durgin, who has served in that capacity for many years. Joseph McCarthy will again be head waiter, and W. J. Brooks will be chef, this being his third season at Belvedere. Andrew Gartner will return for his fifth season as pastry chef.

E. J. Edwards, warden of the Belvdere Club, reports rentals of cottages far ahead of the past several summers. There are few available cottages, most of which are expected to be leased within the near future.

GEORGE KELDERHOUSE RETIRED ON JULY 1ST

Will Complete 32 Years With U. S. Coast Guard Service

George Kelderhouse, veteran member of the Charlevoix Coast Guard station, will complete over 32 years of service with the United States Coast Guard Service on July 1, the date set for his retirement.

Mr. Kelderhouse entered the service at South Manitou Island on April 24, 1904. He served at Muskegon and during the World War with the New York division on the Atlantic coast. He returned to Charlevoix on January 24, 1919, and later was transferred to South Manitou, where he was in charge of the station and was rated First Class Boatswain Mate. He later returned to Charlevoix and was in charge here from the retirement of Capt. Oscar Smith until Capt. Fred Straubel's appointment.

Advancements which will result from Mr. Kelderhouse's retirement have not been announced.

DEATH TOOK PIONEER LOCAL WOMAN SUNDAY

Funeral Services Conducted Wednesday for Mrs. Margaret S. Orlowski

Funeral services were conducted from St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock today for Mrs. Margaret S. Orlowski, whose death Sunday took a beloved pioneer Charlevoix woman. She had been in failing health for some time.

Deceased was born in Limerick, Ireland, November 15, 1840. She came to this country with her parents at the age of four years. Educated in Cleveland, O., Mrs. Orlowski taught school at Canton and Berea, O., prior to her marriage to Severn Orlowski.

Following their marriage the couple resided a short time in Bay City before settling on a farm in Hayes township. Over 40 years ago they moved to Charlevoix, Mr. Orlowski founding the business now operated by his son, Louis S. Mr. Orlowski died 10 years ago.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Herman Garrett Tellman, of Chicago, Mayme and Mrs. E. Josephine Madill, and a son, Louis S., of this city. Other survivors are three grandchildren, Mary Margaret and Louis Orlowski, Jr., and Edwin Josef Madill,—the latter of Washington, D. C.

GENERAL FISHING SEASON TOMORROW

REGULATIONS REMAIN SAME AS LAST YEAR

Retarded Spawning May Mean That Many Breeding Fish Will Likely Be Taken

The peak of the fishing season in Michigan arrives at 12:01 a. m. Thursday, June 25. This day and date marks the opening of the general fishing period when every species of game and food fish known to our waters becomes the legal prey of some 600,000 residents and non-resident fishermen.

It means that over 5,000 inland lakes, the majority of which have been closed to bass fishing since January 1, will be thrown open to anglers to take any species that may grab their lures. It also means that fishermen will be allowed to take bass, bluegills, sunfish and warmouth bass in any of the designated pike lakes that have been closed to this kind of fishing since May 1.

The regulations on sizes, limits aand equipment are the same as last year. Large and small-mouth black bass must be at least 10 inches in length and only five may be taken in a day with five in possession at any time. Bluegills and sunfish are held to a minimum length of six inches with a daily limit of 25 of combined species. Warmouth bass of any size can be taken with the 25 daily limit. Pike and walleyes must be at least 14 inches long and five in a day is the limit. Perch, calico and strawberry bass are held to a six-inch limit with a daily catch of 25. These regulations are for inland lakes and rivers.

Fishermen may use two lines each but they must be under immediate control. Each line may have four hooks or less and the hooks may be single, double or treble. A plug with several treble hooks is considered as one hook.

Every fisherman over 18 years of age must have an anglers' license costing 50 cents and these expire on December 31. This is for residents, while non-residents must pay $2 for a season permit and $1 for a 10-day license. The wife of a non-resident may have the same privilege for 50 cents for the season or the 10 days. Wives of residents may fish without charge.

CLARENCE ARNOLD BUYS THE SEARS PROPERTY

Will Operate Garages, Boat Livery and Yacht Servicing

Clarence Arnold, well known local young man, has announced the purchase of the Sears property which includes frontage on Round Lake and Clinton street.

Mr. Arnold has taken the property over and will operate the garages, boat livery and marine servicing facilities. His present plans include the handling of baits for fishing parties, rental of rowboats, canoes and addition of a power boat, also installation of a dock pump to service yachts.

The good old hymn said "Lift high the banner," but the boys along the roads don't seem to lift much of anything but the thumb.

ACT TO PRESERVE INDIAN MISSION

SUPERVISORS CONSIDER PURCHASING OF TRACT

Appoint Committee of Five to Investigate Means of Preserving Historic Spot for Public

(By Elizabeth M. Wood)

If action of the Charlevoix county board of supervisors is carried to successful conclusion, one of Northern Michigan's most historic spots will be preserved for the public.

At their June session, a committee of five was appointed to investigate ways and means of securing the 30-acre tract near Greensky Hill, location of an Indian Mission and circle of Council Trees, the meeting place of tribal chiefs of the region back farther than history records.

For years, nearly everybody in the county has been aware of the fact that at Greensky Hill there stood a circle of trees, planted for some reason, by the Indians before white men settled in the Traverse region.

Little of the history of these trees seemed to be known and it was not until research revealed that the history of these council grounds made them one of the most historic spots in Northern Michigan, that sufficient interest was aroused and a movement started to preserve this site for the public.

From time immemorial, these grounds have been the meeting place for the Indians from the entire Traverse region. The Council Trees, originally 30 in number, were planted by chiefs of the various tribes, as a pledge that as long as they grew and bore leaves, the tribes would remain at peace with one another. To save them from destruction by the white men in their search for straight trees for lumber, each tree was bent to the ground and tied with basswood thongs. Under these trees, the Indian chiefs held council, by the light of birch-bark torches placed in the bend of each tree.

The Indians of this section desired a church, there being one far to the south and several to the north. In 1830, nearly 100 years ago, Peter Greensky was brought here by the Methodist church. He had gone from Sault Ste. Marie the previous year, to act as interpreter for the Presbyterian missionaries who started a mission at Old Mission.

A little log house was built for Peter Greensky and his wife, Susan, after whom Susan Lake is named, the house being placed in the center of the circle of council trees. Upon the arrival of Peter Greensky, a council was held and a beautiful blanket presented to him.

THE INN OPENING SET FOR SATURDAY

M. H. TURNER AND ASSOCIATES HAVE MANAGEMENT AGAIN

Many Improvements and Repairs Have Been Made in Preparation for 1936 Summer Season

The Inn, Charlevoix's largest summer hotel, will open Saturday, June 27, for the 1936 summer season. The 1936 season will mark the fourth June opening since the convention of the Michigan Bankers' Association several years ago.

The Inn will again this year be under the management of M. H. Turner, owner of the Highland Pines Inn at Southern Pines, N. C. Associated with Mr. Turner in the management are William E. Flynn, Lee McDonald and James T. Flynn, all members of the staff of the Highland Pines Inn.

William E. Flynn will act as resident manager; Mr. McDonald in charge of accounting; James T. Flynn, maitre d'hotel; Andrew Spence, chef-steward; Ernest Maeir, chief pastry cook, and Charles McCoy, superintendent of service. Mrs. William E. Flynn is again housekeeper. Nora Davis Staplin, of Miami, Fla., will have charge of the beauty parlors; Maurice Schmidt the barber shop and billiard room; Emerson Hull in charge of the garage, and C. Y. Marshall maintenance of grounds. Charles Evans, of Southern Pines, returns as chief engineer.

The hotel with its cottages and vast acreage is being put in the usual excellent condition for the opening. The Pere Marquette Railway Company, owners of the property, have had carpenter crews making necessary repairs to the buildings, and a large staff of painters have been engaged repainting the exterior of the hotel and redecorating the interior.

The bathing pier on Lake Charlevoix, badly damaged by ice last winter, will be repaired.

Advance bookings are in excess of previous years, resulting in the plan to advance the opening date. All indications point to a season far more successful than in the past two years.

TELEGRAPH OFFICE IS ON SUMMER SCHEDULE

The local Western Union Telegraph office is now operating on summer schedule, with week day hours from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m., and Sunday hours from 9 a. m. to 12 and 5 to 8 p. m. The Sunday schedule will be extended in the future.

HANDICAP GOLF TOURNAMENT HERE SUNDAY

According to Gordon Todd, Board of Commerce activities director, prizes will be awarded for medal score as well as driving and approaching contests.

The tournament, the first public event of the municipal course, is open to all players. Under the handicap rules, all players stand an equal chance of winning. A large entry is expected for the event. The tournament will open at 2 p. m. and entries are to be made with "Bill" Supernaw, club professional.

ISLAND MAIL BOAT IS ON SUMMER SCHEDULE

Changing to summer schedule along with train service, the Charlevoix-Beaver Island mail boat Marold II began daily trips Monday.

For the balance of the summer season the boat will leave Charlevoix at 8 a. m. and return in the afternoon at 5 o'clock.

STEELHEAD PROVIDING GREAT SPORT

BEST SPRING "RUN" IN MANY YEARS UNDER WAY

Daily Record Catches Indicate Fish Plentiful—Abundance Result Persistent Planting

Steelhead trout have returned to Lake Charlevoix! The actual truth of such an assertion is proven in the best two weeks of spring fishing this community has experienced in so many years it has almost become a memory.

It was thought records for a day's catch were established two weeks or more ago, but since that time the mark has been passed almost daily as party after party has returned with strings of steelhead ranging from a half dozen to over twice that number in many instances.

And strangely enough, the steelhead are not confined to the usual grounds on the west shore of Lake Charlevoix. The lake seems to be full of them, with fishermen having equal success all along the north shore, up the lake at Ironton and in South Arm. For the first time in years the steelhead fishing has pushed Mackinaw trout trolling into the background. Even the old "die-hards" have abandoned the Mackinaw grounds for the more gamey, fighting steelhead. Sundays and evenings the west end of Lake Charlevoix has the appearance of a regatta, with dozens of boats out.

And perhaps the most important conclusion in connection with this phenomenal fishing is the almost unanimous opinion that it is the result of persistent planting of steelhead year after year by the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club. The fish are running almost uniform in size, indicating they are the plant of perhaps one year—maybe three or four years ago. Also, many smaller steelhead, running from half to slightly over a pound have been taken. The results certainly should be an incentive for increased and continued efforts along this line.

That Charlevoix has benefited by this excellent fishing is proven by the fact that anglers from throughout Michigan and out-of-state points have been attracted here.

MANY VETERANS CASH IN THEIR BONUS BONDS

Fifty-Six Turned in Bonds for Certification at Post Office

According to Postmaster J. M. Foster, 56 local veterans have had their bonus bonds certified for payment at the local post office.

A total of 412 bonds have been certified out of approximately 950 delivered. Arthur Edwards was the first veteran to receive and have his check cashed.

In the future, Mr. Foster stated, the post office will not be open evenings for certification, but that all veterans will be cared for during the regular post office hours.

LEGION DISTRICT MEETING ENJOYED

FINE BANQUET AND PARTY AT THE ARGONNE

The day's program started at 1:30 p. m. with a parade down Bridge street from the Legion Home on East Garfield avenue to and across the bridge and back again to the Legion Hall. The delegates were in line and marched to the music of the Cheboygan bugle and drum corps and the local Sons of the Legion corps. After the parade, the visitors headed out to The Argonne, where some 150 people out of the 250 in attendance enjoyed the fine banquet put on by Manager Kerns of that establishment. Quite a few local civilians were guests of the veteran organizations at their feast.

District Committeeman Dr. C. J. Gray, of Petoskey, called the convention to order shortly after the banquet and the main business to be transacted was the election of new district officers. William Burroughs, of Rogers City, was elected district committeeman, and S. B. Henry, of Charlevoix, alternate district committeeman.

The public dance in the evening was well attended by the delegates and townspeople and greatly enjoyed. Fine music and several interesting features were provided by the Singing Aces, orchestra now playing at The Argonne.

At the post-prandial hour, speeches of welcome were made by Mayor Bergeon and President Hallett of the Board of Commerce. Guest speakers included David G. Addy, present department commander, Leslie G. Kefgen, past department commander and chairman Michigan Prison Board, Carl Smith, chairman department finance committee, Fred Munell, department membership director, Otto Scott, past department vice commander, and Dr. C. J. Gray, retiring district committeeman and past chairman of the department finance committee. Supt. O. P. North made a very efficient toastmaster.

Past Department Commander Kefgen made an interesting address on the Legion's Americanism program and outlined many valuable ideas for the work of the individual post along these lines.

The ladies had their own meeting out on the lawn under the leadership of their retiring district committeewoman, Mrs. Weiner, of Alpena. Mrs. Kanobe, of Rogers City, is the new district committeewoman, and Mrs. Bernice Gardiner, of Cheboygan, the alternate.

HOOVER'S INN OPEN FOR SEASON FRIDAY

Popular Summer Hotel Leased Again by Mrs. Helen Hoover

Hoover's Inn, one of Charlevoix's popular summer hotels, will open for the 1936 season on Friday, June 26, according to an announcement today by Mrs. Helen Hoover, who has leased the property for another season.

Assisting Mrs. Hoover as manager will be R. S. Watson, who in the winter operates the RonAir Hotel at Miami Beach, Fla. Associated with him will be Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knott, also of Miami Beach. George Bellanger, formerly of the Congress Hotel in Chicago, comes as chef, bringing his assistants. Others of last year's dining room staff will also return.

The hotel, owned by W. P. Porter, of East Jordan, has been greatly improved in preparation for the season. Interior and exterior decoration, new curtains and a new refrigeration plant are included, also improvements to meet requirements of the new state fire laws.

The hotel will operate on the American and European plan, according to Mrs. Hoover, and a dining room specialty will be "Sizzling Steaks," a popular new southern dish. The Coffee Shop will not be operated this season.

CORRESPONDENCE

BEAVER ISLAND

E. Cole returned from Chicago Saturday. He was accompanied by his sisters, Mrs. Mattie Ludeke and Mrs. Carrie Fick, and her son, Dolph Fick.

Edwin McCann and Clifford White left on Sunday's boat. They both were en route to Roscommon to take examinations for county conservation positions.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter O. Gallagher, son, Danford, and daughter, Helen, of Charlevoix, are visiting Mr. Gallagher's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Gallagher.

Nels J. Lafreniere was called to Chicago suddenly by the death of James J. O'Donnell, former Beaver Island resident, and uncle of Mrs. Nels Lafreniere.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Cole entertained the graduates of the class of 1936 of St. James High school and their friends at a dinner Thursday evening. A dance in the Nomad club house followed the dinner.

"Hold Everything" Presented

Last Tuesday evening was one of much merriment and suspense for the 40 guests of B. C. Mellencamp, Charlevoix, of the Agricultural Extension meeting here on Beaver Island. An ultra-modern comedy of life as we live today, "Hold Everything," was portrayed in a most amusing manner. A couple of young moderns whom the fates have decreed must marry, have decided to dislike each other, even though they have never met. They stop at the same tourist home in their endeavor to run away from each other. Under fictitious names they fall violently in love with each other and, of course, events progress rapidly, then. Just when things begin to go smoothly, they become embroiled with bank robbers who take themselves seriously much to the amusement of all concerned. Then the girl's father comes on the scene, not knowing it is his book which has been robbed. The robbers plan to trade cars with a group of aspiring young movie actresses who are on the way to stardom—at least in their own estimation. Suddenly everyone finds himself in hot water with the kettle boiling over with humor. A colored servant finds herself in possession of the stolen money, and from then on it's thrills, shrieks and chills, with all trying to escape from each other.

The play was very well interpreted by the young people who participated.

Beaver Isle Boy Celebrates Solemn Mass

Rev. Father Bernard Schied celebrated one of his first solemn high masses in Holy Cross church here. He was assisted by the Rev. Father Eugene Fox and Rev. Father Maynard, of Bay City.

Father Schied, a former Beaver Island boy, attended Quigley school in Chicago and then Mundelein Seminary. He was ordained a priest by his eminence, George, Cardinal Mundelein, May 19, 1936. Rev. Father Schied was the second youngest priest ever to be ordained, being superseded only by Cardinal Mundelein. A special dispensation from the Pope allowed this brilliant young man to be made a priest of God at the early age of 22 years.

His parents were residents on the Island for many years before Father Bernard took up his studies in Chicago. They still return every summer to their cottage to visit with relatives and friends. Mr. Schied for many years led the Beaver Island choir and both were active in both church and civic affairs.

A reception in Holy Cross hall from 3 to 6 Sunday afternoon gave Father Bernard's many friends an opportunity to meet him again and receive his blessing. A short program of speeches and musical numbers followed the refreshments. Father Schied will return to Chicago on Wednesday to receive his appointment to a parish there.

Beaver Island Mourns Loss

Word was received here Wednesday of the death of James J. O'Donnell, of Chicago, a former Beaver Islander. Mr. O'Donnell was born here in 1874 and until he was a young man resided on the Island. He obtained work in Chicago and worked into the position of superintendent in the sanitary district. He is survived by his widow, Blanche, and three sons, Gabriel, Barney and James.

Mr. O'Donnell left a host of friends on Beaver Island who mourn his death and will keenly miss his visit every summer. Mr. O'Donnell was the uncle of Mrs. Nels J. Lafreniere.

Another death that was a decided shock was that of Miss Rose Duffy, of Chicago, niece of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gallagher. For the past three years Miss Duffy had spent the summers and part of the winter with Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gallagher, and was one of the most popular and attractive girls in the young set. Rose's friends were stunned and heartbroken when news of her death reached here. Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher left for Chicago immediately to attend the funeral.

NORTH COUNTY

We need rain for the strawberries. It looks as though they would be a short crop as last year.

Jay Emery has returned to Flint after a few days' visit with his wife and son here.

Frankie Hostler is reported as improving at the Indiana hospital. He was a World War veteran who was gassed.

Mr. McGuire is stopping at the home of his son, Oliver McGuire, and family. Mrs. Peck has no renter as yet, we hear.

C. H. Morse has been doing some work for resorters on Torch Lake shores. He expects to get a paint job for two Elmira school houses.

Bill Pascoe, who was badly injured in running into an electric light pole in front of Bay View cemetery a week ago Sunday, is on the gain, and the company has given him a new truck.

Jasper Dawson and family, of Pontiac, came up Saturday for about a week's visit. He has resided in Pontiac about 12 years. He says times are bad there, but some still talk for "Poor Dealers."

James Dawson and family attended a big Town-end meeting at Traverse City this week. With the different political parties all promising help to the farmers, as well as the 100 Per Centers and Townsendites, there is no show of going wrong.

Mrs. Charles Scott is again back from the hospital much improved in health and went to get her daughter at Rapid City for a short visit home. Dorothy is still helping at the Dr. Miller home. His residence and office recently burned down with little insurance. He will resume practice again in about three weeks.

Sympathy goes out to the Maurice Henry family. Mr. Henry was stricken with paralysis while putting down a well on the Arthur Wiltse farm, Mitchell, last week Wednesday. Many of the neighbors have kindly consented to help in the care of Mr. Henry. Mrs. Henry herself had not been feeling very well.

Many will be sorry to hear of the death of Egbert Vanderstill, of Ellsworth. He was ill but five days, and passed away peacefully without any apparent suffering. He was 82 years of age. He was a member of Central Lake M. E. church for years. Funeral was held Monday at Christian Reformed church, Ellsworth.

Forrest Dewey and wife attended the big 100 per cent credit meeting at Lansing recently, where a procession 14 miles long took place, and Lawson, of "frenzied finance" fame, spoke. They believe in having the government loan money without interest to the people. As well as the Townsendites, they have millions of foliowers.

BARNARD

More like summer this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bradford entertained relatives from Detroit over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith and family visited at the Charles Warner home Thursday evening.

The 4-H Community Clubs are well started on their summer program. A fine group of members is enrolled.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Moore and Lloyd Fairbanks, of Lansing, visited at the home of their uncle, Howard Gornell, last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. George Vance, of East Jordan, and daughter, Mrs. Mary Carpenter, and family, of Lansing, visited at the Clyde Smith home last Friday evening.

The Morning After Taking Carter's Little Liver Pills

Does YOUR Car have any of these faults

HARD TO START?
USE TOO MUCH GAS?
STALLS IN TRAFFIC?
ENGINE "MISS" AT HIGH OR LOW SPEEDS?
LACK POWER—SPEED?
"KNOCK" ON HILLS?
VIBRATE . . . RUN ROUGH?
SLUGGISH . . . NO "PEP"?

Drive in and let us prove to you that, through the Sun Motor Tester, we can restore that lost new-car "feel" . . . that thrilling, sparkling, old-time "pep" and surging, eager flood of abundant power. These make all the difference in the world to you in driving . . . and can be delivered only by a perfectly functioning motor, sweetly and exactly "tuned."

FOUNDATION PLANTING

The twelfth in a series of articles on improving the homa grouods by Ray Faulkner and Edwin Ziegfeld.

GARDEN POOLS

There is probably no better wuy to get continuous enjoyment from your garden than to hnve n pool as part of the whole development. A quiet pool will give you the reflections of the flowers which are growing near it, thus doubling their heauty, or the pool may reflect only the blue sky above it. If it is possible to have ruaning water, the plensure will be greatly increased by the sound which it makes. However, any pool will provide continuous movement, change of color, and a splendid contrast of textures.

Placing the Pool. Since the pool is alwnys n conspicuous element in the yard, it should be used as a point of emphasis. If you have a formal garden, the pool may be located near the center or against a wall or hedge. If you have an informal garden, the pool will probably be placed at the end of the lawn with an informal background of free-growing shrubbery. In some yards the pool may he located in a hidden corner of the lawn where it can be surrounded by a rock garden. Wherever the pool is placed, it should be arranged so that it is easy to walk up to it to see the reflections, lilies or fish.

Formal Pools. The regular geometric pools in the shape of circles, ovals, semi-circles, squares or rectangles usually have a coping of concrete, stone, or brick. Rough material, such as boulders or field stones, is not in harmony with the regular geometric shapes, and consequently should be avoided. Since these pools are closely related to the architecture of the houses, they should be as much in character with them as possible. If the pool has a flat coping, it should be related to the walks and paths in the garden or to the paving which is used on the terrace.

Informal Pools. Irregularly shaped pools are well adapted to small, irregularly planted lawns. The shapes possible for this class of pools are almost unlimited in their variety, but they should not be so complicated that they destroy the unity of the pool or the garden. The edging on these pools should be in harmony with the shape of the pool, and therefore should not be a hard, concrete edge nor should it be of the same sized field stones set in rows like nine pins. There should be as much irregularity us there is in the shape of the pool itself. Such pools aro best when they are placed at the same level as the lnwn. Raising them above the lovel of the lawn is out of keeping with their natural character. The water should be kept as near the top of the pool as is possible. Having it too low exposes the sides of the pool making it look like a well.

Planting Around the Pool. Planting around formal pools should follow all of tbe principles which hnve been stated for planting a formal garden. Tho plants with definite, outstnnding chnracteristics nre more harmonious than those of sprawling habit. Evergreens are often used at the corners of the pool or at regular intervals around the edges. Both evergreens and deciduous shrubs may bo clipped into formal shapes to give emphasis to the important parts. Formal pools are better when not over planted. Their architectural quality needs some open space around them in contrast to informal pools which can be rather heavily planted since that is the way they are found in nature.

Irregular pools look best with informal planting around them to harmonize with their naturul character. Some of the plants may be so close to the pool thut the branches will grow out over the water or nctually dip into it adding much interest with their reflections. Low creeping plants around the edge of a pool add a splendid natural touch and soften the edge of a pool, add a splendid natural touch and soften the edge which is apt to be too hard. These are particularly showy when in bloom. An informal pool is very effective when backed up by relatively high plant materials either directly against the pool or several feet back. A tree near the pool also adds a fine, natural quality and increases the interest of pattern of shade on the surface of the water.

In addition to the interest and beauty which pools give from the reflections and contrast in texture, water lilies may be planted in them. For water lilies the pool must he at least 18 inches deep but not more than two feet in depth where the lilies are growing. Each plant requires nppraximately four square feet in order to develop fully. These wnter lilies may be placed directly in soil in the hottom of the pool or they may be plunted in large wooden boxes or pots. It is important to remember that water lilies are vigorous feeders, and should be given as much soil, fertilizer and water surface as is possible. They will well repay any additional care which is given them in this respect with a great number of flowers. Ordinary eattails from the swnmps make interesting pool plants with their linear, vertical leaves contrasting plensantly with the horizontnl water surface. These, too, are vigorous feeders and should be used only in relatively large pools. Other interesting plants suitable for growing in the pool nre wnter hyacinth, water poppy, and parrot feather. The pool should be well stocked with goldfish both for the interest that they add, and because they will eat the larvae of mosquitoes which may breed in the pool.

Building the Pool. Although building an elaborate, formal pool demands the assistance of trained workmen to build the forms, set the coping, etc., a simple pool can be mado by almost anyone. After deeiding on the shape and general character of the pool the ground should be exeuvnted to u distance ten inches larger in each direction than the finished pool. At the low polnt of the pool extend a two inch pipe until it hits sand. If the pool is located where the soil is heavy or mostly clay, it will be necessary to dig a dry well. This is a hole seyeral feet deep and one or two feet wide filled with small boulders. Water from the pool can be drained into this when it is necessary to chunge the water in the pool. The pipe should hnve a threaded joint, the top of which will be exactly flush with the bottom of the pool at its low point. Another length of pipe cun be put into this which will be ns high as the surface of the water.

The sides and bottom of the excavation should be lined with cinders four or five inches thick which hnve been well stamped down. This gives a solid foundation and provides drainage for the ground around the pool. The concrete should be mixed with one part cement, two purts sand and three parts gravel, and poured over the cinders. Make the first luyer about four inches thiek and then place several layers of chicken wire in the concrete for reinforcing. Add one or two inehes more of concrete on top of tho chicken wire. The concrete should be carried slightly above the water line before adding the coping which may be of brick, flagstone or concrete. Be sure that the coping is exactly level for any difference will be very noticeable when the pool is filled with water. A small pool can he built at a cost of from two to ten dollars and will amply repay anyone who is willing to put this amount of money and energy into the improvement of the home grounds.

"Once a Thief, Always a Thief"

An article in The American Weekly, with next Sunday's Detroit Times, describes how Canada's most notorious gunman pretended he had reformed, was let out of prison, was petted as a hero, and was offered well-paid jobs—but he was shot to death in a masked holdup when he killed a policeman.

AT THE MOVIES

Doctor Hero In Dionne Film

In "The Country Doctor," the Fox picture which shows June 27-28 at the Palace Theatre, the world's five most famous bnby girls are making their starring debut in a picture chock-full of dramn, suspense, comedy nnd romnnce.

They are the Dionne Quintuplets, selected hy Darryl F. Zanuck to head an all-star Hollywood cast in n warmly human und gripping story of a doctor in the Canadian wilds, a man who sacrifices career and ambition to soothe the ills of helpless people.

Bette Davis, who won the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences award for the best performance by any actress in 1935, is coming to the Palnce Theatre on June 29-30 in the First National production "The Colden Arrow."

For once, this great actress departs from the sinister characterizations that made her fnmous in "Of Human Bondage" and "Dangerous." She follows her success in "The Petrified Forest," which was a tragic although sympathetic role, with an entirely new portrayal — that of a charming young American girl who yearns for romnnce.

The picture is based on the play by Michael Arlen, noted English playwright, and is a story of love in high society, set in a background of luxurious yachts and resort hotels.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Christian Science" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, June 28.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Psalms 107:20): "He sent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 146): "Divine Science derives its sanction from the Bible, and the divine origin of Science is demonstrated through the holy influence of Truth in healing sickness and sin."

complains—Miss Janet D. String

If Miss String, secretary of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Tall Story Club, has a fault it is that her club reports are always tinged with sadness. To wit:

"LAST fall somebody told me I'd save gasoline if I used Standard Red Crown all the time. So, without considering the consequences, I agreed to use nothing else for a year. And just look what it got me into!

"The very first day I saved a bowl full. That was fine—it wasn't in the way at all. But look—in the first week I'd saved a barrel full! By the end of the year I'd saved a tank-car full!

"My, what a lot of gasoline to keep around the house!

"Father complained so bitterly that I had to rent a barn to store it in. And now I've got a barn full of Red Crown—and more piling up every day. I'm almost sorry I ever started."

Perhaps we should feel sorry for Miss String. But somehow we just can't bring ourselves to believe a word of her story.

We have reason to know that Standard Red Crown is an economical gasoline—but its use hardly saves that much.

Because it does have "more live power per gallon," Standard Red Crown operates a car with less waste power per gallon. What you save, in longer mileage, is well worth while over a year's time. But rather than make claims, Standard prefers to make it easy—and profitable—for motorists to find out the real facts about gasoline mileage for themselves. So, this summer Standard is conducting the most extensive road test ever attempted. You are invited to participate.

SUPERVISORS CONCLUDE ANNUAL JUNE SESSION

Raise County Valuation First Time in Years—Welfare Appointments

Charlevoix county supervisors concluded a two-day session on equalization Tuesday afternoon.

For the first time in many years the county valuation was increased, the comparative figures of $8,789,360 for 1935 and $8,838,520 for 1936 showing a raise of $49,160, of which $46,180 was in East Jordan.

Orton VanDusen, by virtue of his office as chairman of the board, became a member of the County Welfare Commission. William M. Sanderson, Eveline supervisor and chairman of the Republican County Committee, was appointed to the commission.

Supervisor Barney Milstein, East Jordan, and County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow were named to attend a meeting Friday at Lansing for discussion of the new state welfare set-up.

A committee composed of George W. Weaver, Howard Stephens, R. C. Korth, Mrs. Agnes Lorch and William M. Sanderson was named to investigate purchase of the Indian Mission property near Greensky Hill as a public park.

LOCAL GIRL WED SUNDAY AT FRANKFORT

At a pretty wedding solemnized Sunday afternoon, June 21, Miss Freda Greiner, daughter of Ludwig Greiner, became the bride of Charles Herban, of Frankfort.

The ceremony was performed in Frankfort by Rev. Smart, using the double ring service, in the presence of the immediate families. The young couple were attended by Miss Caroline Greiner, sister of the bride, and Harley Herban, brother of the groom. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Herban is a graduate of the local high school. Mr. Herban is a graduate of the Frankfort High school and has spent several years in Michigan City, Ind. He is now employed on the Wabash, one of the ferries operating between Frankfort and Wisconsin. Mr. and Mrs. Herban will make their home in Frankfort.

WAIVED EXAMINATION ON SECURITIES FRAUD

Detroiter and Grand Rapids Man Arrested Monday by Sheriff Ikens

Herbert B. Montague, Grand Rapids, and Clare D. Forshee, Detroit, waived examination before Justice H. R. Fowler Tuesday on charge of selling securities without license.

They were arrested Monday at Petoskey by Sheriff Floyd Ikens on complaint of Louis Koboski, Boyne Falls farmer, who claims they obtained his stock, later sold for $70, and left him with a slip of paper. Trial in circuit court was set for July 6 and bond, yet unfurnished, at $750 each.

Montague and Forshee were arrested at Petoskey on a similar charge in May. Trial set for June 22 was postponed to July 2 when witnesses failed to appear.

COUNTY NURSE SPEAKS BEFORE WPA WOMEN

Gives Instructions in Hygiene and for Care of the Sick

Miss Deane Rinck, Charlevoix county nurse for the Children's Fund of Michigan, met with the Charlevoix city WPA group of women Wednesday.

A brief resume of the 16 two-hour classes in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick, as given to the Boyne City WPA group last winter, was given, also the scope significance and a brief history of the American Red Cross.

Other topics discussed were: the scope of health work as provided by the District Health Unit, such as the pre-natal service, free infant and pre-school clinics semi-annually or annually, health examination for school children every few years, immunization, communicable diseases, facilities provided by other sources such as the annual free chest X-ray clinic, the Michigan Crippled Children and afflicted act, also the purpose and contents of the Loan Closet was explained.

OVER THOUSAND PREDATORS TRAPPED IN FIVE MONTHS

During the first five months of 1936, the Department of Conservation paid bounties on 1,214 predators. This number consists of 606 bobcats, 603 coyotes and five wolves. The report of May bounty payments, just compiled, reveals total payments of $1,897.58 for 162 coyotes and 98 bobcats.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Usher had as week-end guests their daughter, Miss Lucille Usher, also Mrs. Walter Rabyler, both of Lansing. Mrs. Rabyler will be remembered as Bernice Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Marshall, former local residents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Foster and daughter, Helen, have returned from Kalamazoo, where they attended the marriage of their son, Robert. They were accompanied home by their sons, Jack and Bernie, students at Western State Teachers' College at Kalamazoo.

The Fochtman Men's Store softball team won its fourth game of the year from Knight's Charlevoix Indies here, Sunday, 11 to 2. Petoskey used Wykes and Rose as battery while Charlevoix had Kirby and Novak. Charlevoix goes to Petoskey next Sunday at 11 a. m. for a game at the fair grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gardner, of Mancelona, the former worthy grand patron of the Michigan Chapter, O. E. S., attended a school of instruction held at the Masonic temple Monday afternoon. Other guests included Mrs. Bertha Miller, Mrs. Myrtle Starmer, Mrs. Julia Porter and Mrs. Izetta R. Jacobs, of Petoskey.

A wedding of interest to Charlevoixans took place in St. Matthew's church, Flint, Saturday morning, June 20, at 8:30, when Miss Josephine Jesko, formerly of Ionia, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jesko, of Ionia, became the bride of Joseph Coates, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Coates, 331 Forest street, formerly of Charlevoix. The couple spoke their marriage vows before the nuptial High Mass at a double ring ceremony at which the Rev. Fr. Drescol officiated.

Rev. and Mrs. Hurd have been for the week past at the Bay View Institute, where Mrs. Hurd was dean of women, and Mr. Hurd lectured each day on stewardship. Young people from here included Harold Chew, Leslie Shapton, Carol Webster and Miss Iva Howe, all of whom received special recognition by the faculty and program committee, Mr. Chew and Miss Howe presenting fine research reports, and the others given important parts in the orchestra. Miss Howe also was elected first vice-president of Grand Traverse district, which includes about 70 separate churches.

GETTING READY FOR CELEBRATION

County Event to Be Held at Boyne City July 3rd and 4th

Intensive work on the part of the various committees for Boyne City's and Charlevoix county's Fourth of July celebration is showing results with an excellent two-day program of events taking shape.

While still too early to present a complete program, a baseball game will be played on Friday afternoon with a concert by the Boyne City band in the evening.

Saturday, July 4th

Following is the tentative program:

0 a. m.—Band concert.

10 a. m.—Address of welcome.

10:15—Sports; tug of war, foot races and other street contests.

12:30 p. m. — Parade of floats, bands, calthumpians, etc., etc. Prizes of $25, $15 and $10. Also $5 for best calthumpian.

2:30 p. m.—Baseball: East Jordan vs. Boyne City. Amateur program and daylight fireworks.

4:30 p. m.—Water sports and motor boat races.

7 p. m.—Band concert, boxing, tennis.

9 p. m.—Fireworks.

BOWLING TOURNAMENTS ARE DRAWING INTEREST

Sweepstakes Are Now Under Way—Events for Women Next Tuesday

Sponsored by a group of women bowling enthusiasts, a tournament for women will be held at the Charlevoix bowling alleys at 9 o'clock Tuesday evening, June 30.

Each participant will bowl three frames, with the highest score the winner. L. J. Hansen, manager, will be assisted in the management of the tournament by Gordon Todd, activities director of the Board of Commerce.

All women are invited to participate.

Another event holding much interest with bowling fans is a sweepstakes tournament which opened Saturday evening, June 20, and closes Friday evening, June 26. The winner takes two-thirds and second high score one-third. Up to the present time, Joe Troyer has posted high score for the three frames allowed.

The first church was a "Wag-nog-ang," constructed of saplings, bent and tied with basswood strips and covered with elm bark. It had only a dirt floor. In this elm-bark Wagnog-ang, Peter Greensky, robed in his blanket, preached to the Indians.

Eventually, so many of the Indians embraced Christianity that the Wagnog-ang proved too small and it was decided to build a church of logs. The timber for this church was cut nearby and not brought from Northport, as is generally supposed. The huge pines were cut and squared, and with a yoke of oxen belonging to Peter Greensky as their only aid in dragging these huge timbers into place, the Indians finished their church in 1861, not 1863. Windows, doors and trim were brought by dugout canoe from Traverse City and packed up the steep hill on the Indians' backs.

After the church was completed, it still lacked a bell. From somewhere, a huge conch shell was produced and this was blown to call the Indians to worship.

Between the church and Susan Lake, is an ancient Indian burying ground with the graves faced to the east, as has always been the Indian custom.

As a reminder to the Indians that these council grounds must be kept sacred, a knife was thrust into the trunk of a huge beech tree nearby and the tree gradually concealed it, during its years of growth. It is to be regretted that this beech has been cut by someone ignorant of its meaning.

Nowhere in the North is there a more historic spot than this old Indian Council Ground. Half a mile of lake frontage, a beautiful tract of maple woods, combined with the fascination of the Indian legends connected with it, would make for Charlevoix county one of the most interesting parks in the entire Traverse region. Each year Petoskey, Harbor Springs and Cross Village draw thousands of people to witness their Indian pageants, but in none of these places is to be found the natural setting offered by the Council Grounds at Charlevoix.

CHRIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Services will be held at 7:30 Sunday evening, June 28. Rev. Edward S. Doan, of Petoskey, will be in charge. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Hartwick Pines State Park in Crawford county, northeast of Grayling, is the largest state park in Michigan, having a total area of more than 12,000 acres.

Great Lakes Exposition Opens Saturday, June 27

WITH bands playing, thousands of gay-colored pennants whipping in the lake breeze, and with massive exhibit structures shimmering in the sunlight, countless numbers of eager spectators will pass through the towering pylon-entrances of the Great Lakes Exposition when that gigantic 150-acre fair opens its doors on Cleveland's lakefront next Saturday.

Opening day activities at the fair, which celebrates Cleveland's hundredth birthday and one hundred years of progress in the vast trade empire of the Great Lakes area, will be given over to a panorama of colorful festivities and special events. Radio broadcasts in the afternoon and evening will bring to the nation the news of the opening.

At night, the huge Exposition will be a gorgeous fantasy of illumination. These lights will be turned on by the "man in the moon." As the rays of the moon flash on the "eye" of a powerful telescope, an impact of light will strike a photo-electric cell, which in turn transmits the impulse to switches controlling the lights.

For visitors to the Great Lakes Exposition there is a vast variety of free entertainment. From the huge orchestral shell, directly north of the fair's main entrance on St. Clair avenue, will come the melodious strains of concert music played by the Great Lakes Symphonic orchestra of 100 pieces.

Opposite the Plaza and inside Cleveland's beautiful Public Hall, scene of the recent Republican National Convention, will be the Exposition's Radioland. Here, in the largest broadcasting studio in the world, visitors will see and hear the greatest stars and acts on the radio networks.

In the Municipal Stadium, the gargantuan Marine Theater built on the lake, and in the two main exhibit buildings, the Automotive Building and the Hall of Progress, visitors will find all types of free attractions, ranging all the way from sports to interesting, educational exhibits.

Following the winding roads that lead throughout the entire Exposition area, spectators will see the marvelous Court of Presidents, its sides lined with golden eagles dedicated to the presidents born in, or elected from, the Great Lakes states. There is the Parade of the Years, a stirring pictorial drama of transportation, the beauty of the quarter-million dollar Florida State exhibit, the lure and excitement of the 40-acre amusement zone crammed and jammed with arcades, side shows, rides and marine concessions.

Further eastward and terminating the colorful Exposition Mid-way is the Streets of the World, a complete international settlement of thirty-six separate villages housing more than 165 buildings.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Immunity from Childhood Diseases Relies on Community Interest

Now, at the present time, while you and your family are in the best of health, is the right time to think about safeguarding the ones you love against the possibility of future illness. Your children today—to a far greater extent than the children of past generations—can be protected against smallpox, whooping cough, typhoid and diphtheria. The thought, however, oftentimes comes to the mother: "At what age shall these protective treatments be given?" Let us cite here a few facts about these diseases, their symptoms and the age at which protection may be given.

Smallpox: Before the advent of vaccination, practically everyone had smallpox, usually before the seventh year, it took more lives than any other disease and left behind it blindness, disfigurement and deformity. Smallpox is one of the most easily caught diseases. This disease usually develops about the twelfth day after infection and the beginning symptoms are chills, fever, headache and vomiting. Firm red pimples appear on the face and hands and then on other parts of the body.

Vaccination is your protection against smallpox and medical authorities state that this immunity may be given two months after birth. In many persons one inoculation is protective for a life time. However, to be on the safe side, it is recommended that vaccination be given at five to seven year intervals.

Diphtheria: The majority of all children between six months and five years of age are susceptible to diphtheria. During the five year period ending 1930, an average of 8,000 lives were lost each year in the United States, the majority of this unnecessary tragedy occurring in the five and under group. Another astounding fact is that there are from 10 to 12 times as many cases of this tragic disease as there are deaths and each year from 75,000 to 100,000 little victims must go through this ordeal.

Diphtheria is another "catching" disease whose germs enter the body through the nose and throat with a sore throat as an early symptom.

Prevention can be secured by immunization of the one-dose alum precipitated toxoid and can be administered at the age of nine months. This simple and secure measure of protection should be given every infant to safeguard against this hazardous disease.

Whooping Cough: Sixty-two per cent of the whooping cough deaths that occurred in Michigan over a 10 year period from 1925-1934, which was a total of 2,148, were under one year of age, and 92 per cent were of children under three. This is indicative that the younger the child the greater the hazard. Two weeks is the usual interval elapsing from the time infection is received until the symptoms occur. This disease starts with a slight cold, running at the nose and a dry cough. A physician's attendance is as important in whooping cough as in any other communicable disease since oftentimes heart strain, susceptibility to pneumonia and tuberculosis are the results of this disease.

A recently discovered vaccine by Dr. Sauer has been found to create immunity to this disease and may be administered at the age of six months.

Typhoid Fever: This is a preventable disease and is prevalent in the fall. Typhoid fever is a disease of youth and early adult life, from 70 to 75 per cent of the cases occurring in persons between 15 and 30 years of age. Every case originates from another case or carrier and is acquired either by direct contact with such a case or by the use of milk, food or water which has been contaminated by his discharges.

Protection can be given after one year of age by typhoid vaccine. Three treatments, administered by a physician at weekly intervals, will make a person immune for approximately three years.

To sum up—vaccinate your baby from 10 days to two months of age; give whooping cough vaccine at six months; toxoid for diphtheria at nine months, and typhoid vaccine any time after one year of age.

Every parent owes these measures of protection to their children in shielding them from these tragic diseases. Now, while your child is healthy plan to take him to your family physician for immunization against these diseases—or plan to attend one of the infant and pre-school clinics being held in your county during June and July where immunization against diphtheria and vaccination against smallpox are given by your District Health Department.

THE BEST CAMPAIGN

When all is said and done, the best campaign ammunition which a public official can have is a record of public service.

Speech making and promises may have their place, but they figure as secondary assets in a political battle, if the office-holder can point to things that have actually been accomplished.

Governor Fitzgerald, after almost a quarter of a century of public service, more than once has imparted to political gatherings this thought:

"The greatest contribution I can make to the Republican party is to perform my duties in a manner that will reflect credit not only upon myself, but upon the party."

A whizz-bang campaign is a necessity for the candidate on the out-side looking in. For the incumbent, it might not be so wise to devote time to campaigning that might better be used in performing the duties of his office.

The Governor's words might be worth a little consideration at this time, when many an office-holder is laying awake nights figuring how he might best employ his time during the next few months—time, which by the way, is being paid for by the people in the expectation that he will devote it to the job to which they elected him.

SHE LOST 20 POUNDS OF FAT

Feel full of pep and possess the slender form you crave—you can't if you listen to gossipers.

To take off excess fat go light on fatty meats, butter, cream and sugary sweets—eat more fruit and vegetables and take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning to eliminate excess waste.

Mrs. Elana Verillo of Havre de Grace, Md., writes: "I took off 20 lbs.—my clothes fit me fine now."

BRONCHIAL COUGHS

All coughs look alike to Buckley's Mixture (triple acting)—one sip of this grand medicine soon stops an ordinary cough—tough old deep seated coughs and the persistent bronchial cough are under control after just a few doses—no more tormenting, sleepless nights.

Buckley's is alkaline, that's why it's so different—it "acts like a flash". Refuse substitutes—guaranteed. 45 and 85 cents at all druggists. W. K. Buckley, Inc., Rochester, N. Y.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
By B. C. Mellencamp

Important Notice to Farmers in Soil Conservation Program

From day to day new rulings are being received relative to the soil conservation program. Most important is changing the date from June 15 to July 1 as it related to the operation of the fields.

1. In summer fallow. Acreage summer fallowed if first cultivated before July 1 and followed by a crop classified as soil conserving seeded without a nurse crop before September 1, 1936. In connection with this please see your nearest county committeeman and have him visit your fields that you desire to summer fallow and receive his approval. Otherwise summer fallow cannot comply for soil diversion and the soil conserving payment.

2. Crop land in 1936 which before July 1, 1936, was not used for the production of a soil conserving crop or devoted to a neutral use shall be classified as idle crop land and shall be regarded as used for the production of a soil depletion crop.

3. Green manure crops, wheat, oats, barley, rye, buckwheat, flax, rape, emmer, spelts and green mixtures whether pastured or not, plowed under as green manure before July 1, 1936, and followed by a crop classified as soil conserving seeded without a nurse crop before September 1, 1936.

All farmers should remember that the land will be considered as a soil depletion use if it is idle up to July 1. If you desire to summer fallow to control noxious weeds, be sure to have your committeeman approve your petition. The work of listing is pretty well done and it is expected that within a week or ten days the preliminary soil depleting base can be sent to each farmer.

Are You Interested in Home Beautification?

O. I. Gregg, landscape specialist from the Michigan State College, will be in this county on Tuesday and Wednesday, July 7 and 8, for the purpose of making landscape outlines. It is still possible to have Mr. Gregg take on two or three more cooperators. If interested, kindly contact your county agent at once, as the first come, first served.

The results of this project may be noted as you drive around the county, many farm homes have been beautified and make your travels far more attractive and enjoyable. This service is free and should be used more freely. Nothing adds so much to the satisfaction as to see homes attractive.

Don't forget to phone or drop a line, so that a place may be reserved for your farm home.

Michigan Colt Development Contest Being Developed

The Michigan Colt Development project, sponsored by the Michigan Horse Breeders' Association, the Michigan Livestock Improvement Association and the Michigan Department of Agriculture. The purpose of the state wide contest is to stimulate interest in the proper development of colts through breeding, feeding and exhibition practices. Any Michigan farmer may enter one or more colts, either grade or purebred, in the contest. Enrollments must be made in advance of the time of taking initial weights, which will be between July 1 and 20. A fee of $1 is charged each entrant who qualifies for a medal or award.

All colts may be entered by sending to the county agent a certified report showing the date of birth, sex and color markings of foal, breed, name and color of dam, registry number, license number, color and number of owner of sire as well as the weight of each animal nominated on a special blank.

The object of the contest is to record the record of feed and management practices used by the owners and the weight over a 12 months period. With the splendid crop of young colts coming on in the county, it is hoped that farmers will apply to the county agent for the blanks to enter the contest. More complete details will be gladly furnished any one interested in this program.

EDITORIAL

PASTE THIS IN YOUR HAT

Before the summer has progressed very far, voters of this state and nation will find every available medium of communication loaded with political appeal and argument. It will come from both Democrats and Republicans.

Just a little in advance of the storm, it might be well to get straight on one matter of which you'll hear a lot, probably, at least where election of public officials in Michigan is concerned. With business obviously on the up-grade (and we won't stop to discuss what percentage of it comes from expenditures of money borrowed from the future by the federal government), many a public official concerned with collection of fees, taxes and the like, may find his payrolls enlarged more than they were during the depression years. Te thus exposes himself to the thoughtless criticism: "He's got a bigger payroll than he used to have. He's spending too much of the taxpayer's money—throw him out!"

The thing to get straight in this connection is to find out if the collections in the office concerned, show an increase. It costs money to collect money, you know.

A few months ago virtually every department of Michigan's state government was criticized, by inference, by "swollen payrolls" and increased disbursements. The Department of State, to cite an example at random, was shown to have a bigger payroll, some months ago, than for the same period in 1935. What the critics failed to mention, however, was that the collections of this department headed by Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, had jumped more than $5,000,000 during the same period when payrolls were "up" a few thousand dollars.

The increase in payroll was occasioned by demands created by the sale of automobile license plates and stickers within a relatively short time, for the most part. Today, records show that for the first eleven months of the current fiscal year, total disbursements by the Department of State, compared with the same period, twelve months previous, gained less than $3,000. The increase in total collections was $5,720,000.

When you hear a statement made for political reasons, try to get the whole story, and the possible reasons underlying it, and you'll be wiser than the average. Paste this in your hat, at least figuratively, and it will stand you in good stead in the months to come.

MICHIGAN FINANCES

Knowledge that the state of Michigan will end its fiscal year not only with a balanced budget but also with a considerable surplus in its treasury is a matter for solid satisfaction.

Two things have been important factors in making this happy condition possible.

Business recovery and increase of customer purchasing power have brought about a large increase in tax revenues.

The state has enjoyed a business-like, frugal administration in Lansing which has resisted temptation to swerve from a policy of good economy.

Gov. Fitzgerald has seen in the larger inflow of tax money an opportunity to get Michigan on a solid financial basis instead of an opportunity to splurge.

While he has moved to bring about necessary rehabilitation of government activities and institutions, free and easy spending remains distinctly "out."

As a result, the taxpaying public, which in these days includes everybody who eats and sleeps, has a right to hope for an actual decrease in taxation within a reasonable time.

The situation is one for which the people of Michigan should be thankful and grateful. — Detroit Free Press.

SUMMER

The summer solstice is here and the June days move slowly to their end for another season in the ever relentless march oftime. To lovers of nature June is the most beautiful month of the year. A long time ago the poet said: "What is so rare as a day in June?" It is the month of longest days, bluest skies, greenest landscape, sweetest flowers, highest hopes. "Then, if ever, come perfect days," continues the poet who adds:

"Then Heaven tries earth if it be in tune,
"And over it softly her warm ear lays;
"Whether we look or whether we listen,
"We hear life murmur, we see it glisten."

June enlivens growth with proper proportions of sunshine and moisture, and in the joy of surrounding fragrance and beauty, it spurs anticipation of the autumn's bounty. Speaking of wonderful June a writer says: "Nature at her best satisfies, satisfies in beauty, in courage and in faith—faith that the harvest will be bounteous, faith that God lives and that man may be like him."

BICYCLE DANGERS

Safety first warnings should not be directly entered to the motorist. Other human elements enter into the ghastly toll of accidental deaths in this country every year. In this connection we would like to say a word to children who own bicycles, and to their parents.

Like driving a motor car, recklessness while riding a bicycle may end in tragedy. Riding down steep hills at a high rate of speed, dodging in and out of traffic, riding on busy streets after nightfall without lights is courting disaster. Boys who do tricks on congested streets likewise are inviting trouble. A bicycle, used carefully, can afford a lot of fun and recreation. Used recklessly it is a cut rate ticket to the hospital or the cemetery. Timely precaution will avoid sorrow in many homes during the vacation months when bicycles are most prevalent.

FORT HOLMES

Michigan's centennial year and the dedication of the restored ancient Fort Holmes on Mackinac Island on July 11, will be celebrated with the largest number of Michigan visitors the famous Island has even had at one time. More than 1000 members of Michigan Kiwanis clubs will participate, together with Governor Fitzgerald and members of the Mackinac Island State Park Commission. Fort Holmes again stands on the highest point of the Island, and is an accurate reproduction of the famous American fort named after the gallant Major Andrew Hunter Holmes, who was killed in the battle of Mackinac Island on August 4, 1814. During the British possession it was called Fort George, after the then British king. It forms a great added attraction to the "most historic spot in Michigan."

DOLLARS

Have you become accustomed to looking on the dollar side of life? A lot of our trouble comes from our wrong ideas about money. If we regard money as a servant, we will have a useful proposition. But when it becomes our master it makes us do some funny things. No man should let a dollar make a decision for him in anything.

COUZENS ENTERS

Senator James Couzens will contest for the Republican primary nomination for United States senator in September, according to a dispatch from Washington last week. The fact that he received the endorsement of the Grand Rapids convention made it necessary for him to expressly state that he was a Republican, being in accord with the declaration of party principles as set forth in the platform at Cleveland. He plans to return to Michigan immediately upon the adjournment of Congress and after two months spent on a yacht on the Great Lakes will take an active part during the closing days of the primary campaign. Campaign offices to further his candidacy will be opened in Detroit and Lansing, and at some point in the Upper Peninsula, not yet selected. The senator realizes he has a real fight on his hands this year, and plans to carry his message to the rank and file of the voters on a greater scale than has heretofore been necessary.

HALF-YEAR PLATES GO ON SALE SOON

WILL BE AVAILABLE HERE ON FIRST OF JULY

No Extension Over Limit Set for July 31 Will Be Made, According to Orville E. Atwood

On Wednesday, July first, automobile license plates for 1936 will go on sale at half price, Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, has announced. The plates will be available from that date on, at the Department of State and all branch offices throughout Michigun.

Cars that have been on the highways with 1935 plates have been equipped with 1936 half-year permits or "stickers." Cars placed in operation on the highways prior to July first must be equipped either with half-year permits or with 1936 plates purchased at full price, it is pointed out.

Owners of cars which have been equipped with half price "stickers" have had at all times the privilege of purchasing 1936 plates upon payment of the balance of the 1936 license plate tax. But in any event, all operated motor vehicles must be equipped with 1936 license plates by mid-night, July 31, Atwood warns. No extension of time can be granted without express action by the Legislature, and none was granted last year.

All motorists are urged to replace their "stickers" with 1936 plates as soon as possible, as an accommodation themselves. It is not physically possible to accommodate everyone in one day, or in several days. Motorists are asked to have their "sticker" registration certificates with them when they apply for their 1936 plates.

An indication of the certain volume of applications for plates is given by the fact that on June 18, a total of 446,145 motor vehicles were equipped with stickers.

BELOVED CHARLEVOIX WOMAN DIED MONDAY

Mrs. Louisa Johnston Succumbed Following Extended Illness

Mrs. Louisa Johnston, 88, a well known and long-time resident of this city, died Monday afternoon at her home on Mason street following an extended illness.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the See funeral chapel, Rev. W. W. Hurd officiating.

Deceased was born January 21, 1848, at Claverack, N. J., and at the age of nine years moved with her parents to Whitewater, Wis., where her father operated a planing mill. She attended Hudson River Institute at Claverack, and a seminary at Rockford, Ill. Mrs. Johnston, with two girl friends, were the first white women to visit the western pioneer town of Ouray, Colo., and were presented with a platted lot. Thrown upon her own resources by reversal of the family fortunes, she became a hand typesetter, working at the trade in Lincoln, Neb., Cedar Rapids, Ia., and Flint.

Mrs. Johnston was an ardent fisherwoman and until late years could be found daily on the docks along Round Lake. Her intimate friends were innumerable and she devoted much of her time to handwork and art, presenting it to her friends. She will be greatly missed by Charlevoix residents.

No known relatives survive.

LOCAL BASEBALL CLUB WINNERS AT IRONTON

Won Sunday Tilt by 9 to 7 Score—Return Game Next Sunday

A local baseball team recruited and supervised by Herb McRoberts, WPA recreational director, won a close contest at Ironton by a 9 to 7 score Sunday afternoon.

Charlevoix counted five runs in the second and fifth innings, but Ironton tied the count in the sixth. Both scored in the seventh and Charlevoix managed three runs in the next two to win.

Hill and Dixon worked on the mound for Charlevoix with Winnick catching. Boyer and F. Thompson shared the hurling for Ironton, with A. Thompson at catch.

Ironton will play a return game here Sunday, June 28. Providing there is no soft ball game, the contest will be at the south side field, otherwise at the north side diamond.

PROSPECTS POINT TO A BIG HUCKLEBERRY CROP

Michigan should have another good huckleberry crop this year, barring late killing frosts. From reports received by H. R. Sayre, chief of field administration, Department of Conservation, a fair to good yield is indicated throughout Northern Michigan. The bushes are said to be looking "very good."

Card of Thanks

May we take this means of expressing to the people of Charlevoix our sincere gratitude for their many kindnesses at the death of our beloved sister, Sophia Manson. We realize now that our loss was also yours. We wish to thank especially the pastor, singers, speakers and members of the Congregational church for the beautiful memorial service. Mrs. Marie Manson Way and family, Mrs. Eva Manson.

ALL MOTOR BOAT OWNERS MUST RE-REGISTER CRAFT

Tan Dollar Penalty for Violation of New Customs Regulation

The collector of customs, Martin R. Bradley, has again issued a warning, calling the attention of all motorboat owners to the Anti-Smuggling Act of 1935, which provides for the renumbering of all motorboats, and which is now in effect.

Failure to re-register a motorboat calls for a penalty of $10, and all law-enforcing agencies have been directed to enforce this provision of the act.

Motorboats are numbered for much the same reason that automobiles are licensed. However, there is no charge to the boat owner. He simply makes application for a number to the Collector of Customs at Detroit, on blanks furnished for that purpose. Upon receipt of the application, properly prepared, a number is awarded to the boat and a certificate issued to the owner. This certificate constitutes a document for the bont and must be kept on board at all times.

Outboard motorboats of rowboat type, not exceeding 16 feet in length and equipped with oars and oarlocks as the primary means of propulsion, are exempt from numbering.

In this connection, Collector Bradley points out some navigation rules it is well for the motorboat owner to remember, as their violation carries severe penalties.

Every motorboat while being operated must have on board:

1. Two copies of the "Pilot Rules for the Great Lakes and their Tributary Waters."

2. An approved type of fire extinguisher (quart size).

3. Efficient life preservers, one for each person (babies included).

4. An efficient sound-producing device—whistle, fog horn, or any device which will produce a blast of ten seconds in duration.

5. Prescribed lights after sunset.

CLINICS ANNOUNCED FOR THURSDAY, JULY 2

Infants and Pre-School Children to Be Examined by Dr. Dean

Dr. Carleton Dean of the District Health Unit will conduct two infant and pre-school clinics on Thursday, July 2.

The clinics will include all families living in the Bay Shore, Murray and Burgess school district. In the morning at 9 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Bessie Zipp, of Bay Shore, and at 1:30 p. m. at the community hall in Burgess.

These free health clinics are for all infants of pre-school children whose parents cannot take them routinely to their family physician for health examination, also for all infants and pre-school children who have not been protected against diphtheria and smallpox.

Charlevoix county has not had a case of diphtheria for three years and no smallpox for four years. This record will continue only if parents continue to protect their children in infancy and throughout childhood.

JAMES J. M'CANN DIED AFTER EXTENDED ILLNESS

Funeral Services for Well Known Resident Were Conducted Saturday

James J. McCann, well known local resident, died Wednesday, June 17, at his State street home, after an extended illness.

Deceased was born October 15, 1860, at West Port, Ont. At the age of 14 years he came with his parents to Freedom, Mich. He was united to Rose Gallagher in 1893. The family had resided in Charlevoix for 21 years.

Surviving besides the widow are four daughters, Mrs. William Coveyou, Petoskey; Mrs. Monroe Block, New York; Ann and Mary, Detroit; Margaret, at home; two sons, Dan, of Charlevoix, and Hubert, of Cincinnati, O., also a sister, Mrs. Mary Ann Keaton, of Detroit.

Funeral services were conducted at 9 o'clock Saturday from St. Mary's church. Burial at Brookside cemetery.

VISITORS AT TOURIST CAMP 50% OVER YEAR AGO

Reflecting the general increase in tourist traffic in Northern Michigan during early weeks of the 1936 summer season is the report by Hugh "Dad" Brady, caretaker of the Charlevoix auto camp, that visitors to date are almost double the same period a year ago. Noticeable, Mr. Brady reported, is the increase in the number of trailer cars.

G. W. PRIEST OPENS PHOTOGRAPHIC STUDIO

In an advertisement elsewhere in this issue, George W. Priest announces the opening of his photographic studio in his residence, 201 Clinton street. As in the past, Mr. Priest is prepared to handle all photographic work.

NEW RULING WILL TAKE EFFECT NEXT WEDNESDAY

Civil Service System to Govern Employment in Accordance With New State Set-Up

The State Emergency Welfare Relief Commission announces that, effective July 1, 1936, civil service procedure is to govern tho employment of state and county Emergency Relief Commission employes.

Present employes will be required to pass a qualifying examination which will be given shortly. The reaults will be used to make necessary staff reductions.

New appointments in the counties will be made by the county relief administrators, with the approval of the County Relief Commissions, from lists of eligible candidates who have been approved by the personnel department on a merit basis. These lists will be made up of successful applicants who pass a competitive examination. The examinations will be rated on a weighted basis, giving credit for education, experience, personality and ability to pass a test. Tho details of these examinations are now being worked out by a committee made up of civil service experts. Appointees will be required to serve a 90-day probationary period. Preference will be given to the employment of local persons. In the absence of available eligible candidates on the lists, persons who have not qualified may be given temporary appointment for a period not to exceed 60 days, and such appointment will not be renewable.

An employe may be laid off at any time if changes in the program or limitation of funds so warrant. In such case, the employe's name shall be returned to the eligible lists.

An employe may be separated from the service at any time for cause. Dismissed employes may request an investigation and secure a hearing. Such investigation will be made by the field representative of the State Relief Commission for the personnel department. After consideration of all facts, the findings will be submitted to the State or County Relief Commissions with recommendations.

County commissions and administrators will be asked to cooperate in the conduct of employe training programs to the end that the quality of service rendered may be continually improved. The persons so employed will be rated from time to time by means of service ratings by the personnel department. These will be used to determine salary changes, promotions, staff reductions, and dismissals.

No applicant, eligible candidate, or employe sball in any way be discriminated against when an appointment, advancement, promotion, staff reduction, demotion or dismissal is to be made because of political or religious convictions or belief.

No employe shall engage in any political activity whatsoever, other than to express his views on local, state, and national matters of general public concern as a citizen, and to cast his vote in any election. Employes who are candidates for public office or hold public office or take an active part in political campaigns must resign. Proof of political activity shall be considered cause for dismissal.

COAST GUARDSMAN IS HONORED AFTER DEATH

Gold Medal for Cunningham, Silver for Three Others Presented

The widow of Surfman Earl Cunningham was awarded a gold life saving medal Thursday — the posthumous award of the Coast Guard to her husband who lost his life February 8 while trying to save a party of local fishermen adrift in an open boat in Lake Michigan ice floes.

The medal was presented by Commander Ward W. Bennett, of the tenth district, Grand Haven. Silver life saving medals also were presented to Boatswain's Mate George Kelderhouse, Motor Machinist Quinton R. Duhm and Surfman William J. Woods, all members of the Charlevoix Coast Guard station who participated in the rescue attempt.

DEPOSITORS WINNERS IN BANK ASSESSMENT

Suit to Collect 100% on Bank Stock Ordered to Trial in August

The Charlevoix Depositors' Corporation, representing impounded funds of the reorganized Charlevoix State Savings Bank, won the initial skirmish Monday in a suit to collect a stock assessment involving approximately $12,000 from W. S. Richardson, former president of the institution.

Judge Parm C. Gilbert denied a motion in circuit court to quash the service on technicalities claimed. He gave 20 days for the defendant to file answer and ordered the case brought to trial at the August term of court.

The case has been pending since July, 1935.

K. OF P. SOFTBALL TEAM WINNER FROM BOYNE CITY

The Charlevoix K. of P. softball team won from Boyne City by a 17 to 16 score in a close and exciting contest at the north side diamond Friday evening.

The game was a see-saw affair with both teams leading alternately. The two teams will meet at Boyne City in a return game at 9 o'clock in the morning of Saturday, July 4.

MOTHER AND TWO DAUGHTERS DROWN

FIRST VACATION TRAGEDY OF SEASON THURSDAY

Mrs. Charles G. Parker, Daughters, Joan, 10, and Patricia, 8, Lost Lives in Lake Charlevoix

A mother gave her life in a futile attempt to save her two daughters from drowning Thursday afternoon in the first Northern Michigan vacation tragedy of the season.

Mrs. Nancy Curry Parker, 41, wife of Charles G. Parker, of Arlington, Va., was drowned in the south arm of Lake Charlevoix near the Isle of Pines when she went to the assistance of her two daughters, Joan Isobel, 10, and Patricia Anne, 8.

Mrs. Raymond Pillsbury, of Detroit, at whose home the Parker family were guests, narrowly escaped a similar fate, Attracted by the screams of the Parker girls who had stepped over the channel bank, Mrs. Pillsbury, a good swimmer, went to their reseue and was bringing them in when Mrs. Parker rushed into the water. Unable to swim, she grasped Mrs. Pillsbury and all went down. Fortunately, Mrs. Pillsbury was able to break away and today owes her life to the alertness of her daughter, June, 8, who pushed a rowboat from the shore and went to her mother's rescue.

Mrs. Pillsbury recovered the bodies of Mrs. Parker and Joan Isobel. The body of Patricia Anne was taken from the water by Charlevoix Coast Guards who had been called to the scene. Wade Howe, an employe of the Pillsburys, and others made unsuccessful attempts to revive the victims. Coast Guards also worked on tho bodies under the direction of Drs. R. B. and Bruce Armstrong.

Mr. Parker and Mr. Pillsbury were absent in Charlevoix at the time of the tragedy.

YOUTH DIED MONDAY AT LOCAL HOSPITAL

Thomas Thomasen, 20, Succumbed After Illness of 11 Weeks

Funeral services were conducted at the See funeral chapel at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon by Rev. G. R. Parker, for Thomas Thomasen, 20, who died at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon at Charlevoix Hospital. Burial was at Brookside cemetery.

Thomasen, born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and raised in Norway, died 11 weeks following an operation for ruptured appendix. He was stricken upon his arrival for employment during the summer on the J. P. Wilson schooner Malabar.

The youth is survived by his father.

COUNTY-WIDE TOWNSEND MEETING THURSDAY NIGHT

HARDWOOD NURSERY NEW BEAUTY PLACE

LOCATED BETWEEN GAYLORD AND CHEBOYGAN

CCC Camp Eorollees Build Water System — Many Varieties of Planted Trees Growing

Michigan's new hardwood nursery, 15 miles west of Wolverine and just off US-27 between Gaylord and Cheboygan, seems destined to become one of the beauty-spots of Northern Michigan.

The nursery was built by CCC workers in the center of a picturesque valley formed by some of the tallest hills in the northern part of the state. A fine panorama of forest and hills is provided.

Forestry authorities at Lansing state that because of its unique location and the fact that a gravity system of water supply is used to water the seedlings, operating costs of the new nursery will be exceptionally low.

The water used for sprinkling the hardwood seedlings now in nursery beds and in rows is obtained from a spring in the hills at the rate of 85 gallons a minute. The water from these springs has been backed up by a dam, less than a quarter-mile from the nursery beds and is carried down to the nursery in a four-inch pipe. The gravity-formed pressure is sufficient to operate the sprinklers with all the power and water desired.

CCC crews are now at work caring for the seedlings, some of which are three inches and more in height, and also in building a packing house from which the seedlings will be sent to the various state-game refuges and state forests for planting this fall. One of the chief functions of the new nursery will be to supply shrub and tree species for game-food planting. Many of the trees and shrub species now growing at the nursery will bear fruit and seeds for game birds; others are of a type desired to provide food and cover for deer and other animals.

The effectiveness of many nf the tree and shrub species in improving game food and habitat conditions has already been demonstrated in experiments conducted by game authorities in Michigan, while in the case of others furtber experimentation is necessary to determine their usefulness.

An application has been made to the federal government through the Michigan Emergency Conservation Work office at Lansing for allocation of funds and CCC labor for construction of a permanent superintendent's dwelling at the nursery.

BUSINESS TOUR ENJOYED VISIT

GRAND RAPIDS WHOLESALERS HERE WEDNESDAY

Fishing for Steelhead and Mackinaws, Banquet at Belvedere Hotel High Spots of Visit

Charlevoix entertained a group of 50 Grand Rapids business men participating in the third annual Out-O'-Doors Tour last Wednesday evening.

After arriving here at 5 o'clock in huge busses, many took advantage of Mackinaw trout fishing in Lake Michigan and steelhead fishing in Lake Charlevoix. Several fish were caught and those fortunate enough to get in on the sport were greatly pleased. Others made the rounds of Charlevoix business concerns.

Sponsored by the Charlevoix Board of Commerce, an excellent banquet was served at the Belvedere Hotel. Eighty-three were present at the function. Robert F. Sloan acted as toastmaster and Charlevoix's greeting to the visitors was extended by Mayor Arthur Bergeon and Harold Hallett, president of the Board of Commerce.

From among the visitors those giving short talks were Alex T. McFayden, secretary of the Grand Rapids Association of Commerce; L. J. Thompson, Grand Rapids manager of the Standard Oil Company; and John Hekman, president of the Grand Rapids Association of Commerce. All expressed their appreciation of Charlevoix's efforts toward their entertainment.

Music at the banquet was provided by a group of four young men from Grand Rapids, known as The Sage Riders. Several reels of sports movies were shown. This group entertained later in the evening on Bridge street, using the sound car equipment of the Automobile Club of Michigan, which accompanied the tour.

The tour left at 8 o'clock Thursday morning to visit towns south on US-31 and for a luncheon stop at Traverse City.

RESORT SEASON TO SET RECORD

JULY 4TH ACCEPTED OPENING IN NORTHERN MICHIGAN

Biggest Influx of Summer Residents and Tourists Expected Theo—Reports Show Optimism

Michigan's 1936 summer resort season, expected to be the largest and most profitable in recent years, was swinging into full stride today.

For most residents of the state, July 4 will mark the beginning of the influx to Northern Michigan resort spots, although there has already been a steady trek away from the cities for the hot weather.

Officials of resort associations predict record trade this year. An acute shortage of summer cottages has already developed, and hundreds of inquiries from out of the state have been returned with the notation "there are no summer cottages available in Michigan."

Hugh J. Gray, of Grand Rapids, chairman of the state Tourist and Resort Commission and secretary-manager of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association, is optimistic about prospects this summer.

"The state's advertising campaign to 'Vacation in Michigan' is yielding great returns," Gray declared. "We have received 100 per cent more inquiries regarding tourist facilities than last year and it is practically impossible to find cottages for rent.

"Hot weather in Chicago and southern cities, despite unseasonably low temperatures in Michigan, is an encouraging sign.

"The record demands for cottages to rent indicates that Northern Michigan merchants will enjoy good resort business and the state will have many summer visitors in addition to 'trailer tourists'."

At Bay City, headquarters for the East Michigan Tourist Association, Tom F. Martson, secretary-manager, pointed to announcements that many large Michigan corporations are giving employes vacations with full pay this year as "a boon to resort business."

SPECIAL HOLIDAY FEATURE AT THE ARGONNE

Big Dancing Parties Scheduled for Friday and Saturday Nights

Pleasure seekers over the Fourth of July will find special efforts put forth for their entertainment at The Argonne, popular amusement place located north of Charlevoix on US-31.

Willis J. Kerns, manager, has announced special parties for the evenings of Friday, July 3, and Saturday, July 4. Favors and the usual attractions of a holiday occasion are planned.

CARTIER-GALLOP WEDDING OF JUNE 27TH ANNOUNCED

Local friends have received the announcement of Mrs. Clarence Westcott Gallop, of North Adams, Mass., of the marriage on Saturday, June 27, of her daughter, Eleanor Antionette, to Harold A. Cartier, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Cartier, of this city.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX OPENS FOR SEASON

NINETY BOYS, THIRTY LEADERS HERE FOR SUMMER

Lewis C. Reimann Begins Tenth Season as Director; Veteran Staff Contains Famous Names

(By Ed. Taylor, Camp Correspondent)

With the arrival of approximately 90 boys over the week-end, Camp Charlevoix officially opened its tenth season Sunday.

The camp, which is owned and directed by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis C. Reimann, of Ann Arbor, has its largest enrollment in the history of the camp and with the staff of 30 men on hand to direct the activities of the campers a fine year is expected.

Oldham Returns

Heading the staff is Earl "Oke" Oldham, who is serving as camp doctor and as director of activities. "Oke" has been in camp ever since the beginning in 1927. He graduated in June from the Detroit College of Medicine and Surgery.

Jack Hogan, who was a counsellor for five years and business manager for two, is back again as business manager. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan.

Smith Heads Seniors

Returning for his second year, Ken Smith, of Flint, is the new head of the senior section. He has been made associate director to Mr. Reimann and will serve in that capacity all year round. He is a graduate of Union Seminary and was formerly director of young people's work at the Court M. E. church in Flint.

Sanford Ladd, a third-year counsellor, is the head of the intermediate section and swimming coach. He is a senior at the University of Michigan. Returning after a year's absence, Bob Lyon is the head of the junior section and also heads the riding and riflery departments.

Athletes in Camp

Kemper Burton, three-sport star from Connecticut Wesleyan University, is director of athletics. Assisting him is Bob Cooper, junior at the University of Michigan, who is a prospective gridiron star on the Wolverine eleven this fall.

The new handicraft man is James Voyce, a graduate of Stout Institute and now instructor. He will teach the boys archery in his spare moments away from the shop.

Projects to Be Built

Assisting in the handicraft shop and directing several permanent camp projects will be John Nenninger, a sophomore at the University of Cincinnati Medical School.

Heading the boating department is Tom Hart, a graduate of Connecticut Wesleyan and who now is working for his master's degree at the University of Michigan. Jack Hogan, along with his duties as business manager, will head the canoeing and also be in charge of all trips.

BEN EAST FINDS STEELHEAD FISHING SPORTY

Grand Rapids Press Outdoor Editor and Wife Landed Six Fish Friday

Mr. and Mrs. Ben East, of Grand Rapids, the former outdoor editor of the Grand Rapids Press and noted authority in conservation circles, found Charlevoix's steelhead fishing much to their liking Friday.

Guided by Don Clothier of the Charlevoix Trolling Camp, the visitors landed six steelhead trout on Lake Charlevoix. They were very enthusiastic over the sport, took several reels of pictures landing the fish and, as a result, Charlevoix is in line for some mighty nice publicity for its steelhead fishing.

Comedy Full of Fun and Thrills Booked by Palace

With Margaret Lindsay and Glenda Farrell teamed as a pair of young women lawyers, "The Law In Her Hands," the new First National comedy drama which comes to the Palace Theatre on July 9, is gay with fun and vivid with swift and dramatic action.

Lederer In Gay Comedy

What happens when a handsome young man kisses the wrong girl in a darkened movie theatre "One Rainy Afternoon," is depicted in hilarious fashion in Pickford-Lasky's gay Parisian romantic comedy of that title which brings dashing Francis Lederer to the Palace Theatre for two days beginning July 10.

One thing certain, Republicans are not going to refute Democratic aid in defending the doctrine of state's rights.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Preparing the Pre-Schooler for School Next Fall

Four-fifths of all deaths which occur from contagious diseases are in children under five and also that of all deaths in all age groups from all causes, 25 per cent occur in children under five. These checks show the general susceptibility of this group to disease and its unpleasant results call for the exercise of all well known measures for the control of these conditions. Knowing the liability to exposure and susceptibility of this age group to communicable diseases brings out the importance of organization on a basis to assure the greatest possible prevention as well as control through immunization and isolation.

The examination of pre-school children reveals a high percentage of physical defects, among the most prevalent being defective teeth, enlarged and diseased tonsils and adenoids, defective breathing, defective vision, defective hearing, nervous defects and undernourishment. Because of these facts it is self-evident that a program for the periodic physical examination of pre-school age children, for the purpose of keeping well children well as well as the ascertainment of existing physical defects and eradication of these defects, is exceedingly necessary and important before this child be sent to school.

In order that this neglected age group may receive better care, the District Health Department is arranging a series of clinics for the infant and pre-school child. For the most part, these clinics will be held in rural areas during the months of June and July. At these clinics a complete physical examination will be offered the child as well as immunization against diphtheria.

Used Car Title Law Trips Many Drivers

Motorists of Michigan who are involved in used car transactions are having their attention drawn to a provision in the state's motor vehicle laws, which not only cannot be successfully evaded, but which often trips up purchasers who do not understand it.

The provision makes it mandatory that within 10 days of the purchase of a used car, the purchaser shall file the assigned title with the Department of State and shall transfer the license plates to himself as well. A fee of $1 is charged for each of these two transfers.

Many used car purchasers neglect to conform with this provision of the motor vehicle laws; many others defer the filing of the reassigned title until after the passage of the deadline for the use of the plates which accompanied the car. This delay is taken, it is believed, in the mistaken belief that the fee for plate transfer is thus saved the owner.

Orville E. Atwood, seerctary of state, points out, however, that when plates for the succeeding year are applied for, the $1 transfer for the old plates is collected before the application for new plates will be received. The only result is to delay the motor car owner when he applies for plates.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page

Favorite Fourth of July foods are to be available at moderate cost. Watermelons, hams, cold cuts and chickens are general favorites throughout the country although New England maintains its allegiance to fresh salmon and green peas.

Salad greens are plentiful and cheap. Among the lowest cost vegetables are string beans, beets, carrots and spinach. Peas, cabbage, eggplant and squash are moderately priced and cauliflower is much lower.

Butter and cheese are higher but eggs are plentiful, reasonable and of good quality.

Fruits of many varieties are inexpensive including the melons, berries, cherries, apricots, bananas, oranges, peaches, plums and pineapple.

Low Cost Dinner
Cream of Tomato Soup
Cold Cuts
Potato and Vegetable Salad
Bread and Butter
Watermelon
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Fried Chicken Buttered Onions
Corn
Bread and Butter
Melon with Ice Cream
Tea or Coffee Milk

Fourth of July Dinner
Jellied Bouillon
Celery Olives
Fried Chicken New Potatoes
Green Beans and Peas
Tomato Salad
Bread and Butter
Fruit Cheese Crackers
Coffee

FOUNDATION PLANTING

This is the last of a series of articles on improving the home grounds by Ray Faulkner and Edwin Ziegfald.

OUTDOOR LIVING ROOMS

The difference between gardens of today and yesterday was emphasized in one of the earlier articles of this series. A garden to our grandparents meant a place to raise a few flowers and herbs. Later it came to mean a spot of color in the yard, but all too often the garden became merely a place to keep free of weeds and in which to pick flowers.

The new conception of a garden is that of a place to live in out-of-doors—a place in which one can relax, rest, eat, and entertain. This new idea makes it necessary to provide some area where we can really live out-of-doors, so that we may enjoy our gardens as much as possible.

Requirements of An Outdoor Living Room

The first requirement of an outdoor living room is that it be close to the house and directly accessible from it since in design and use it is mid-way between the house and the garden. It may well be used as a transition area from the house to the garden. In this respect it is similar to a porch or terrace.

An outdoor living room in Owatonna to be useful as much of the time as it possible should be paved. This pavement may be of brick, gravel, concrete, or flagstone. Such a solid floor makes it possible to use tables, chairs, and other furniture comfortably outdoors, and dries much more quickly than grass would after a rain. It also causes none of the worries which are too often connected with grass areas which are used a great deal.

The area should be reasonably small since it is only in a small area that we can produce a feeling of intimacy and an enclosure is necessary to make an outdoor living room useful.

Planting of the Outdoor Living Room

The planting of outdoor living rooms should be very simple and can be as formal as is desired. Restrained planting has everything in its favor for the interest here should be in the people and activities rather than the plants. A large tree or two should be planted near enough to the area so that part of it would be in shade during all of the day. A small hedge is often used to divide the outdoor living room from the garden. Interesting shrubs such as evergreens or those with showy flowers make splendid accents around the edges.

We can learn much from some of the European nations concerning the use of potted plants in such areas. The potted plants set up a very definite pattern through their repetition and have the further advantage that they can be used when in bloom and replaced from time to time. Thus one never needs to apologize for the appearance of the flower garden.

Features of An Outdoor Living Room

The most important features in the outdoor living room are those pieces of furniture which make it possible to enjoy it. The furniture should be simple, strong, and of a construction that will not be harmed by the weather. In more elaborate areas, walls, small fountains, raised plant beds, or even a small statue may be used to very good advantage.

An outdoor living room more than any other type of garden shows a relationship between art and more enjoyable living conditions.

CATERPILLARS STRIP FORESTS OF FOLIAGE

Stripping of Leaves Will Not Cause Serious Damage to Trees

A species of caterpillar which feeds on the leaves of trees has swept through vast areas of forest-country in Northern Michigan, leaving them with the appearance of having been devastated by forest fire. The pest has been identified by the entomology department of Michigan State College as the forest-tent caterpillar.

Although in many instances every particle of foliage has been eaten off the trees, even those of mature size, forestry authorities of the Department of Conservation assert that it is not likely that the trees will be killed unless the infestation is repeated for several successive years. The leaves will come back again, trees having been defoliated last spring in some places already are growing new leaves.

Conservation authorities say that many areas near Grayling, Gaylord and Wolverine have been almost completely denuded of forest foliage by the caterpillars. Although known as the forest tent caterpillar the insect does not build a "tent."

It favors the leaves of maple, oak, birch, elm, poplar, wild cherry and ash as food.

The moths which develop from the pupa stage of this caterpillar usually appear late in June or early in July and begin to lay eggs, according to State College entomologists.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX OPENS FOR SEASON

Brayton Does Personnel Work

In charge of personnel work is Richard Brayton, who is now working on his master's degree at Michigan after graduating from Toledo U. Erwood Edgar, sophomore track man from Michigan, will have charge of teaching track this summer.

New Nature Man

Ralph King, instructor in nature study at Battle Creek High school, is in camp for the first time and is head of the nature department. He brought with him his very fine collection of nature specimens and with the cooperation of the boys this summer hopes to make many additions.

Oscar Boetticher, a former camper, is in charge of boxing and wrestling. He has just completed a two year course at Culver Military Academy where he was an outstanding athlete.

Astronomy Added to Program

Robert Bogue, a student at Tusculum College in Tennessee, is going to have charge of the riflery and also at night will teach the boys some astronomy.

One of the outstanding features of camp this year is the presence of Felix Shen in camp. Shen is spending two weeks in each section and is known as sort of an "International Ambassador of Good Will." He is the son of the former Chinese ambassador to Austria.

Cook Starts Fifth Year

Mrs. Blanche Sowers, of Ann Arbor, is in camp for the fifth summer as head cook. She is assisted by Mrs. Kelly, of Hudson, Mrs. Haggerty and Miss Potter, of Charlevoix, and Tom London, of Ann Arbor.

Assisting in the business office are Paul Harvey, junior law student at Michigan, who is acting as camp clerk, and Ed. Taylor, junior at Ohio Wesleyan University, who is assisting in the office and writing the camp publicity.

Eight Assistant Counsellors

Eight assistant counsellors are in camp this year helping in the different departments and sections. They are George Cunningham, Evansville, Ind.; Junior Blue, Flint; Gilmore Haynie, Evansville, Ind.; Ben Trumbull, Jackson; Orr Wieman, Ann Arbor; "Dod" Herbert, Akron, O.; Jim Evans, Grand Rapids, and Charles Willoughby, Flint.

Helping as department assistants are Bill Thompson, Ypsilanti, and Ray Pinkham, Lansing.

Camp Charlevoix is located on Oyster Bay, on Lake Charlevoix, six miles from Charlevoix. To reach the camp, go north on US-31 to the Boyne City road and one mile east on that to the camp entrance. Visitors are welcome on Saturday and Sunday.

PETOSKEY PLANS BIG FOURTH CELEBRATION

Farmers' Picnic, Soap Box Derby, Public Wedding to Draw Interest

Plans are progressing rapidly for the big celebration to be held in Petoskey on July 3, 4 and 5, according to Charles Bailey, general chairman.

A Soap Box derby for children from 10 to 15 years of age will be one of the main features of the three day celebration. The only qualification for the homemade vehicles to be entered in this event is that they have four wheels and a set of brakes. Preliminaries for the event will start at 3 p. m. Friday. Finals at 10 a. m. Saturday. Youngsters desiring to enter this contest should get in touch with Harold J. Harris of Petoskey.

The event is being sponsored by the Perry Sales Co., who will donate a trophy and a trip to Grand Rapids with all expenses paid to the winner so that he may compete in the derby to be held there next month.

Saturday morning at 9:30 there will be a street parade and the committee wishes to extend an urgent invitation to towns and organizations outside of Petoskey to enter floats. There will be cash awards for the best floats.

Picnic for Granges

A farmers' picnic for the various Granges in this vicinity will be held at the Pere Marquette Railroad park at 11 a. m. on the Fourth. It will be a basket lunch affair. Free coffee will be served. Professor W. D. Henderon of the University of Michigan will be the speaker. His subject will be "The New Patriotism." It is expected that about one thousand people will enjoy this picnic. Chairman for this affair is Joseph W. Scoggin.

Another feature that promises to attract a great deal of attention is the public wedding to be held in the Pennsylvania railroad park at 5 p. m. on Saturday. An award of $25 plus many valuable merchandise prizes donated by Petoskey merchants will be given to the happy pair who are the principals in this event. Parties interested are requested to contact Clarence B. Murray at the Barber drug store.

FOR INSECTS, SEE MICHIGAN FIRST

State Has Its Share of Good, Bad and Indifferent Types

Michigan has its share of the world's total of 650,000 kinds of insects that can crawl, fly or jump, according to Professor Ray Hutson of the entomology department at Michigan State College, East Lansing.

The state can claim to have approximately 20,000 different kinds of insects, of which some are real crop and livestock pests and menaces, while others are cause for little worry. In size, says Profesor Hutson, the insects in Michigan range from those seen only with a microscope to the Cecropia moth, a fairly harmless insect that has a wingspread of about seven inches.

People who are easily shocked seem to have an unfailing instinct for locating books or plays that shock 'em.

"I WOULDN'T RISK MY LIFE ON ANY OTHER TIRE"

Says Louis Meyer—

EQUIP YOUR CAR WITH

Firestone

GUM-DIPPED TIRES

for Greater Safety!

THERE is a reason why Louis Meyer won the 500-mile Indianapolis race this year—and why he is the only man ever to win this gruelling race three times. He always used Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires, and never experienced tire trouble of any kind.

Louis Meyer knows tire construction. He also knows that to drive for 500 consecutive miles over this hot brick track, negotiating the dangerous curves 800 times at the record-breaking average speed of 109 miles an hour, requires tires of super strength and greatest blowout protection, as a blowout on any one of the dangerous curves would likely mean instant death. By the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process every cord in the tires on Louis Meyer's car was soaked and coated with liquid rubber, thereby preventing internal friction and heat. This is the secret of the extra strength and reserve safety built into Firestone Tires.

When you make your holiday trip this week-end, you of course will not drive 109 miles per hour, but at today's higher speeds you do need tires that will give you greatest blowout protection and will stop your car up to 25% quicker. Take no chances! Let us equip your car today with Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires, the safest tires built. It costs so little to protect lives worth so much!

OPEN DANCING CLASSES WEDNESDAY, JULY 8TH

Miss Calla Travis at Belvedere Club for the Summer Season

Miss Calla Travis, of Grand Rapids, opened her cottage on the Belvedere Club last week and will remain until the first of September when she leaves to spend a month in New York.

Dancing classes directed in the Belvedere casino under Miss Travis' supervision will open Wednesday, July 8. Classes will be held every morning from 9:30 to 12:30 o'clock.

Miss Travis will have as associate director again this season Mrs. Tom Darling, of Grand Rapids, a graduate of the Travis school. Mr. Darling will act as life guard at the Belvedere swimming pier again this season. This is the third season Mr. and Mrs. Darling have been connected with activities of the Belvedere Club.

JOE TROYER WINNER BOWLING SWEEPSTAKE

Troyer turned in a score of 455 for three frames to take two-thirds of the prize money. Keith Miles, with a score of 423, took the other third and second place.

A new alley record for fans to shoot at has been set by Lyle Miles, who counted 238 pins in a regulation game.

THE TEA GARDENS NEW LOCAL ESTABLISHMENT

Mrs. Laura Heise Opening Dining Room Sunday, July 5th

Promising to become one of the city's popular places is The Tea Gardens, to be opened Sunday, July 5, by Mrs. Laura Heise.

The new establishment, specializing in chicken dinners and catering to parties and social functions, is located in the old Merriam residence, corner of Bridge street and Dixon avenue.

Attractive appointments and decorations will be completed for the opening.

SPECIAL POLICEMEN NAMED FOR SUMMER

Council Approves Appointment Two Regular, Two Special Cops

The city council at Monday night's regular session confirmed appointment by Mayor Bergeon of special summer police, thus providing adequate protection for summer residents during the resort season.

Sander Halverson and Glenn Rose for regular duty and Fred Coon and Ralph Bacot as special policemen.

The police committee was instructed to install "stop" signs at intersections on US-31.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH
W. W. Hurd, Pastor

July 5: Last Sunday the pastor was under physician's orders not to preach, because of serious throat disease. Mrs. Hurd gave the morning address and, if the condition continues, she will speak again next Sunday. If the pastor preaches, the topic probably will be, as formerly announced, "Our Orthodox Theosophy."

The pastor has entire management of the annual outing of the L. T. B. Ministerial Association, including planning the dinner. This occurs next Monday. Because of probable late return from the steamer ride, Mackinaw City, etc., the official board is called for the following evening at the parsonage, Tuesday, July 7.

The Aid Society meets next Tuesday in the church. Regular meeting, quilting, and refreshments by a committee.

A brief but very important meeting of the board and members at close of service Sunday, to attend to a special matter requiring immediate attention.

BELVEDERE CLUB ARRIVALS

This week marked the arrival of many summer residents at the Belvedere Club. Included are: Mr. and Mrs. R. Vernon Clark and daughter, Elizabeth, Miss Helen Schlafly and nieces, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Fox and Mr. and Mrs. August Beltzner, all of St. Louis, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. James B. Balch, of Kalamazoo; Mrs. John Olin and family, of East Elton, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pike and family, Mrs. William McGregor and Mrs. Fremont Woodruff, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Upson and family and Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Barrett and daughter, of Cincinnati, O.; Mr. and Mrs. James I. Dissette and Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Roemler, of Indianapolis, Ind.; Mrs. Jean Dow Bacher and infant son, guests of her mother, Mrs. Earl Dow; Miss Doris O'Neil, of New York, and other family members at the O'Neil cottage; Mrs. George D. Webb and son, John, of Chicago; Mrs. Harry B. Wyeth and family, of Pasadena, Calif., occupying the J. F. Skinner cottage; Miss Calla Travis, of Grand Rapids, who has as guests Mr. and Mrs. Tom Darling.

REV. HURD ANNOUNCES MINISTERIAL OUTING

Annual Event to Be Held July 6 at Mackinaw City State Park

Rev. W. W. Hurd, pastor of the local Methodist church, has been given management of the annual outing of Protestant ministers of the region to be held July 6.

Rev. Hurd announces that all ministers are invited, whether members of the L. T. B. Ministerial Association or not. This year's carefully planned cooperative dinner will be held at noon in the State Park at Mackinaw City. Following there will be a cruise on one of the large lake steamers.

BAPTIST CHURCH
W. H. Rauch, Pastor

Some time — some day — some hour—in the near or far future you will yearn for the touch of my friendly hand. I am your comforter and best friend. I am calling you! I am the Church.

The U. S. census survey tells us that less than one-half of public school children are in Bible school. The percentage of adults, who receive no Christian education, is even greater. With America becoming more and more pagan, the country is paying the price in a material way. Half a million boys and girls and men and women are on the police records as members of the red army of crime.

Remember the morning worship, 10:30. Sermon by the pastor.

Bible school, 11:45.

Evangelistic worship and praise at 8 p. m.

Thursday evening monthly business meeting following the prayer service.

Another Robinson Crusoe story! "The Boy Castaways," a newly discovered book by the great master of imaginetive fiction — Jules Verne. Start this amazing adventure story in The Chicago Herald and Examiner of Monday, July 6th.

Office supplies of any description may be obtained quickly through this office. Charlevoix Courier.—Adv3tf

CHURCH OF GOD
Dr. C. A. Stewart, Pastor

You are welcome to all of our services. If you are a stranger, we will endeavor to make you feel at home among us.

Sunday school at 10 o'clock.

Morning worship at 11 o'clock. The pastor will fill the pulpit.

Young people's meeting at 7 p. m.

Evening worship at 8 o'clock.

Prayer and praise service Wednesday night at 8 p. m.

"Blessed is he who loves the Church of God before his business.

"Blessed is he who can walk as fast to a religious service as to town.

"Blessed is he who invites people to church and comes along himself."

Eliminate smoked lamp chimneys and clogged stove wicks by using DX Kerosene. It is clean and high test. Delivered in lots of 25 gallons or more for 12c per gallon. Sunoco Oil Station, A. C. Hanson. Phone 7015-F2.—Adv27t2

NEW SUPER SERVICE STATION COMPLETED

Golden & Mayne Station Is Newly Equipped and Improved

The building has been completed and equipment installed in the new Golden & Mayne Super Service Station located on Belvedere avenue.

The station, owned by the Northern Auto Company and leased by Ed. Golden and Hugh Mayne, is equipped with hydraulic lift, pressure greasing and washing equipment and necessary facilities for automobile servicing.

Rest rooms formerly below the street level have been installed in more convenient locations. The improvements make the station among the most up-to-date in the city.

Did He Marry a Twin? Or Didn't He?

An article in The American Weekly, with next Sunday's Detroit Times, discloses the perplexing predicament of a man whose wife sometimes masqueraded as a twin sister and, he says, staged a real-life situtlon more absurd than a comic opera.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

Edited by Ed. Taylor

Sunday, June 28. A day that will live long in the memories of those who gathered at the Limberlost for the opening of Camp Charlevoix's tenth season and also its greatest. All day long people were coming and going — old counsellors and campers were greeting each other enthusiastically while the new members of the Tribe of Charlevoix were being introduced around.

The purpose of this weekly column is to give the parents of the boys here at cnmp an iden of what their son or sons are accomplishing. We hope that throngh our efforts that all you folks down in the city will be kept in close contact with your boy up here. Any comments, suggestions, or criticisms, on the part of the parents will kindly be accepted. Let us know what you would like to read in this space and we'll try to ohlige.

Sunday morning the first chapel service was held. Tom Hart sang a solo, "Blessed Be the Tie That Binds," after which the group decided to give the weekly collections towards helping needy boys attend the Fresh Air camp sponsored by the University Boys' Camp. The "Chief" gave a short talk on "Living Together."

Sunday afternoon a "get acquainted" ball game was held. Each section had their own game and some real baseball wa- played, and while they were opposing each other and playing together the boys were able to get to know each other much easier.

In the evening the annual first night program was staged. — pillow fights—"Pat and Mike." The juniors staged some real battles with Don Piccard finally winning the championship of the section by beating Bill Robinson. Oke defeated Ken Smith in the feature battle of the evening, while George Cunningham and Gil Haynie put on a fast free swinging fray with the former winning.

Monday each of the boys was conducted through each of the different departments. Then at the close of their activity period they chose the activities that they wanted to enter the first four weeks.

Many interesting events are on the program for the next week. Tuesday afternoon a treasure hunt will be held and on the Fourth of July a big barbecue will take place with Jack Hogan presiding over the fire. In the evening the opening council ring ceremony will take place.

GROWS TURKEYS IN CONFINEMENT

Method Used in Experiment Shows Way to Profit Without Range

Extensive range is not necessary for successful turkey production, according to summaries of experiments carried on by the poultry husbandry department at Michigan State College. Turkeys which never had range or access to outside pens were marketed successfully with a remarkably low mortality and an equally attractive low feed cost for gains in weight.

If it hadn't been for a rat that took 11 young poults before some Daniel Boone rifle sleuthing at night resulted in the pest's death, the mortality rate would have been but six per cent.

"Recent trials have demonstrated the practicability of rearing and finishing turkeys without range and under close confinement," says Professor C. G. Card, who worked with F. N. Barnett on the campus at East Lansing and with Ashley Berridge at the Lake City experiment station in completing the turkey experiment.

"Of the many methods of starting baby turkeys, this project followed a simple but apparently effective system. The young poults were removed from the incubator when dry and placed in a baby chick shipping box for the first 24 hours and then under small brooders in the laboratory building in lots of about 40 poults each. Mash in hoppers and water in vacuum fountains were the only things given for the first week with the exception of small amounts of boiled eggs for the first five days.

"Burlap was used for a floor covering for the first three to four days until the chicks were accustomed to eating mash. Then bright chip shavings were used until the birds were removed to Lake City at the end of five to seven weeks."

At Lake City the poults were received in lots of 25 and each lot was placed in pens 10 feet wide and 24 feet long. An electric hover was used until no longer needed and then perches were installed. Average weights in lots at maturity ranged from 17.1 pounds to 20.5 pounds. Costs on different rations ranged from 7.3 cents per pound gain for one lot to 10.9 cents per pound. Another project is under way now.

TIRES ON TRACTORS PAY INITIAL COST

Figures Indicate Fuel Savings Alone Are Worth Investment

Simple arithmetic proves that tires on tractors pay for themselves in about five years in fuel savings, says H. H. Musselman, professor of agricultural engineering at Michigan State College.

Although scattered reports on fuel savings have indicated pneumatic tires on tractors are able to save a fourth or a third of the fuel on many Michigan farms, conservative figures actually obtained in a survey by Professor Musselman ranged from 12½ to 15 per cent. Yet even this minimum range easily proves the efficiency of modern traction.

On the average Michigan farm it is estimated that a tractor is being used for field work 75 days a year and consumes about 15 gallons of fuel per day. Fuel costs thus are around $168.75. A saving of 12½ per cent or one-eighth is $21.09, to which can be added an additional saving of seven and one-half per cent of time in the field or a labor saving of $5.62. This is a total for a year of $26.71. Estimating an initial cost for the tractor tires at $200, these minimum figures bow the tires pay for themselves within seven and one-half years, although individual farmers are reporting the time is perhaps less than five years. The tires should last ten years or more.

To these actual cost figures, says Professor Musselman, farmer operators can be assured that rubber tires have removed all usage limitations on a tractor. It is true, he reports, that wet grass, heavy green sod or wet clay will not permit use of rubber tires, but the speed at which the outfit can be worked under proper and more favorable field working conditions overbalances this handicap. In addition, there is far greater comfort for the tractor ridar, there is less wear on the tractor and the machine can proceed on roads where tractors with lugs are barred.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Proof of Compliance Rests With Farmer in Soil Conservation Program

Several announcements recently received from the state headquarters are sufficiently important to publish at this time. We are nearing the time when most farm operations relative to crop production have been completed and farmers should carefully check on the situation.

In the first place, in order to receive a soil conserving payment it is necessary to have less acres in soil depletion uses than last year. It is still possible to seed with legumes if you need more land classified as soil conserving. In fact, up to September first is permitted in this year's farm inventory.

Remember this, it shall be the responsibility of the person who intends to make an application for a grant on the basis of such performance to establish the necessary proof. The necessary proof may be secured by obtaining a statement signed by a community committeeman or at least two neighbors who are farmers to the effect that such practice has been followed. Such statements or proof should include the following information where applicable:

1. Name of county and township.
2. Number of the work sheet executed with respect to such farm.
3. Receipts for the purchase of any seed or other materials for proof of the kind and amount of seed sown.
4. Material applied and method of seeding or application.
5. Date of seeding or practice.
6. Number of acres upon which the practice was followed and adequate identification of such acreage.
7. Name of operator and landlord, if any.
8. Such other material as will constitute proof of such classification or practice.

Such statements shall be retained by the farm operator or owner until requested when performance is checked later in the year. Further a provision has been incorporated specifying that any acreage of oats or other grain used as a nurse crop when clipped green or pastured sufficiently to prevent grain formation must be in a solid block contiguous to the entire side or end of the field and a line between the clipped or pastured portion and remaining portion of the field must be straight. This means that a person can not cut a small portion out of a field because the grain is hardly worth harvesting to make this area soil conserving. A straight line must be left contiguous to either the side or end of the field.

In order to make sure, it is highly recommended that each farmer keep all invoices of seed, fertilizer, lime, etc., purchased. Also to record dates of seeding and other operations and to have at least two neighbors sign the statement that all farm practices and operations that affect compliance have been carried out.

Tattooing of Livestock Becoming Popular in County

V. L. Pelott is already established in the county working with a crew of eight men visiting each farm and explaining the merits of the tattooing as a means of preventing loss of livestock from thieves.

As a reminder that the livestock is branded and if stolen can be readily identified, a flare sign is left with each farmer. The state police, sheriffs and other law enforcement officers have a record of all brands used in the state and thus are able to identify stolen livestock. The National Tattoo Registering Association of Saginaw is the company making the farm visits in this county. Its representatives have already covered several counties in this section.

Northern Michigan Dairy Herd Improvement Association Ends Successful Year

Norman Thompson, tester in charge of the Northern Michigan Herd Improvement Association, gave a very comprehensive brief of the results of last year. The average cow in the association produced 323 pounds of butterfat yearly, which is something like 32 pounds more than 1935. The high herd made 454 pounds of fat, which is the highest ever recorded in Northern Michigan.

E. C. Scheidenhelm, extension specialist, led a highly interesting discussion of the value of cow testing. He also thought it highly desirable that dairymen produce more young stock for sale and that dairymen advertise far more extensively than they have in the past.

The association this year will take in five or six counties. The following dairymen have signed up for the new year: George Meggison, John Hyek, R. K. Paddock, Fred Willis and Mrs. Hiram Brock, all of Charlevoix; and James Nice, of East Jordan.

Mr. Thompson has again been engaged as tester and will start the new year about the first of July. There will be 28 herds per month, which is the maximum that can be taken care of by one man.

Bang's Disease Testing Making Rapid Progress

This county is making a splendid record in keeping its dairy cattle free from disease. After having been one of the leaders in the TB eradication program, it is now duplicating this record with the Bang's Disease eradication. Without a doubt over 60 per cent of the herds in the county have already been tested. In many cases entire communities, in others only one or two herds are tested.

Recently a long list of names was submitted to this office of dairymen who have already had one test but who neglected to send in the yellow slip, which must be done before the second test is conducted. Another list of names carries those who applied for the test but who failed to send in the agreements. Letters have been sent out to both lists urging them to contact their county agent who will be glad to have the necessary papers sent to them. A plea is broadcast to the people in the county to report to the county agent at Boyne City if they have not been tested as yet. In other words, we are deeply interested in having the program go along as rapidly as possible. We shall be glad to make the necessary contacts if your herd has been missed.

Dr. Crawford reports that so far out of 328 herds tested only eight showed reactors. This is a very low average as compared with some counties that run as high as 15 or 20 per cent of the initial test.

Kindly check up in regard to the above mentioned particulars as in the majority of cases the reason the veterinary has not seen you is that you have failed to send in the proper papers.

CHERRY HARVEST WILL PROVIDE EMPLOYMENT

Jobs for 5,000 Available in Grand Traverse District

Approximately 5000 jobs for Michigan persons will be available in a few days in the cherry orchards covering a 30 mile area near Traverse City.

Anyone over 16 years of age desiring a job and who is capable of picking cherries should register at once in any of the local offices of the National Reemployment Service, Major Howard Starret, state director, announced today.

The National Reemployment Service, affiliated with the U. S. Department of Labor, is aiding the cherry growers in a quick, wholesale statewide transfer of workers to the orchards.

KAMP KAIRPHREE NEWS
By A. Oskman

Kamp Kairphree officially opened on June 26, Friday. With the opening day quite a few arrived, old and new. Among our new counsellors for our summer season there is Miss Elizabeth Brown, our Nature instructor, who is working on her P.H.D. in the University of Chicago, arrived Friday. Miss Helen Caffyn, of Indianapolis, Ind., is to be with us as our head counsellor. Miss Elizabeth (better known as "Buffy) White is working as assistant counsellor to swimming and archery as well as fencing instructor and the camp bugler. Miss White is a student in the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. Miss Marion Dickinson and Miss Mary Edna Hert are our art and music plus dramatics instructors, respectively, and are from Kalamazoo, Mich., and Missouri. Miss Eileen Lay, from Ann Arbor, is our riding and riflery instructor.

Over Sunday we have had as guests at different times, Miss Mary Johnson, who spent the night in camp, and her mother and grandmother, who stayed over in Charlevoix. They motored up to bring their daughter, Betty. Also, Mr. and Mrs. Kittredge, from Detroit, who have spent the week-end with us, motored up with their daughter, Ruth. Sunday, Miss Florence Pollock, a young lawyer from Ann Arbor, arrived and plans to stay for a few days. Prof. Lay and his daughters, Eileen and Shirley, arrived at the first of last week. They stayed over in Charlevoix.

On the whole Kamp Kairphree has a very promising outlook for the camp season.

As you get older, time goes so fast that babies seem to be born just a few weeks after the wedding.

PETOSKEY STAGING BIG THREE-DAY CELEBRATION

Mammoth Program of Entertainment Is Arranged for Event

Petoskey is all set for the influx of thousands of visitors for the huge three-day celebration, July 3-5, the first similar event held there in several years.

Charles Bailey, general chairman, said that committees have reported everything in readiness for the affair which will attract thousands from all Northern Michigan.

Events for the first day will include aerial bombs and salutes; a four-mile bicycle race, public wedding, tug-o'-war across Bear River between city employes and members of the fire department, concert by the Petoskey band, softball game between Fochtman's and the K. of C., and a wrestling match at which Ivan Rasputin is scheduled to appear.

The Fourth promises a program packed. An aerial salute at 8:30 a. m. will be a signal for the start of the day's activities. A parade in eight sections, including the Harbor Springs, Gaylord and Petoskey city bands and clown unit, will be the first event on the program followed by a farmer's picnic in Pere Marquette park at which Prof. W. D. Henderson, director of the extension division at the University of Michigan, will be the principal speaker; baseball game between Traverse City or Cadillac and Petoskey nines; street racing events featuring a 100 yard dash free-for-all; softball game between Fochtman's and the Knight of Columbus team of Charlevoix; music by an orchestra; massed band concert, wrestling matches, public dance and fireworks.

Activities on July 5 include a skeet shoot, fly casting events, sofeball games, band concert and aerial salutes.

REFORMED CHURCH PICNIC, EASTPORT, JULY 4

SAFE BULL PENS SAVE BULLS, LIVES

"Save the good bull and yourself" is the admonition of the dairy extension department at Michigan State College in their warning to dairymen in the state that they are wise in being cautious in handling a mature bull but that it is foolish to butcher a valuable animal when personal safety can be assured at low cast.

Good herd sires are scarce and are much too valuable to be sold for beef. A dairy farmer may be throwing away several hundred dollars when he butchers a young bull, says A. C. Baltzer, extension dairyman at the college.

"By constructing a bull barn or a box stall which opens into an exercising lot to which a breeding chute is attached, the most dangerous bull can be managed with perfect safety and can be kept until he is proved," Baltzer reports. "Costs of construction may be minimized to a small sum for materials. Directions for a lumber order and construction are included in extension bulletin No. 32 and a supplement, obtained by writing to the dairy extension department at Michigan State College. Necessary materials are not costly."

TWO CLINICS WILL BE HELD THURSDAY, JULY 9

Hayes Township Districts Served by District Health Unit

Dr. Carleton Dean of the District Health Unit will conduct two free infant nnd pre-school clinics Thursday, July 9.

In the morning it will be held at 9:45 a. m. in the Lake Side school with the help of Mrs. P. Skornia. We hope all mothers having infants or children under school age who do not visit their family physician will be sure to attend. At this time toxoid will be given to protect your child from contracting the unnecessary sickness of diphtheria and vaccine to prevent smallpox.

Because the Lake Side school is located in the middle of the township and the township is very small, the families around North Bay school and Hortons Bay are urged to attend also.

In the afternoon of Thursday, July 9, at 1:30 p. m., the same type of clinic will be conducted at the home of Mrs. Lee Sneathen, one-half mile south of Maple Grove school. We hope all the families ffom Maple Grove school and Undine districts will attend.

Should there be families elsewhere in Hayes township who were unable to attend the Burgess or Bay Shore clinics on Thursday, July 2, or the Hopyard clinic conducted shortly before school closed, they, too, are urged to come.

CHARLEVOIX BASEBALL CLUB WON TWO GAMES

Defeated East Jordan 7 to 6 and Ironton 5 to 3 Sunday

Charlevoix's WPA supervised baseball team won two contests Sunday to maintain an undefeated record this season.

In the morning the local aggregation trimmed East Jordan by n 7 to 6 count in a close contest, and in the afternoon nipped Ironton by a 5 to 3 score.

Posted Low Net Score of 64 Sunday; Arthur Schlesinger Wins Driving

William "Bill" Fessenden won the handicap prize with a gross score of 103 and net of 64. Harold Lamb was second with a score of 65, Robert Miles third with a score of 66. Guy John posted the low medal of the day with an 83.

Following the success of Sunday's event, similar contests are planned at intervals throughout the summer season.

RAMONA CLUB OPENED SEASON ON WEDNESDAY

Dining Room Opens July 16; Floor Show, Orchestra Features Then

The Ramona Club on Little Traverse Bay, between Petoskey and Harbor Springs, opened the cocktail lounge on July 1 for the summer season. The main dining room will be opened on July 16 when a floor show and orchestra will start the season. Frank Whittman and His Music will be at the Club for the season.

NEW BOATS COME FOR SUMMER RESIDENTS

Five Cruisers Placed in Commission Here in Recent Weeks

A new 23½-foot Chris Craft semi-shelter cruiser was unloaded here Friday at the Miller Boat Co. for Mrs. Carl Weil, of Chicago, well known Charlevoix summer resident.

Other new boats added to the local fleet by summer residents include a 30-foot Richardson cruiser for Kirt Friend, of Chicago; a 26-foot Gar Wood cruiser for Harry Lesser, of St. Louis, Mo., and a 25-foot Richardson cruiser for Charles Upson, of Cincinnati, O.

WELL KNOWN LOCAL COUPLE OBSERVE 50TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

In the evening of June 29, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman E. Benton, long-time respected and esteemed residents of Charlevoix, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage.

While they had been led to expect only a few relatives and friends, they were happily surprised to find that more than 40 people had come to extend to them the greetings and felicitations of a most joyous occasion.

From the old home town of Chillicothe, O., came a nephew and his family, and lettera and telegrams from others were read. To these greetings Mr. Benton in a few simple and well-chosen words responded. It was truly a most touching utterance from a man who wholly forgot himself to pay a splendid tribute to a faithful and loving mate of a half century.

Choice refreshments played their part and the busy hum of conversation reflected the spirit of the event as all joined to wish the happy and devoted couple good luck and good cheer as they started upon another span of a married life well spent.—Contributed.

July 4th BIRTHDAY of a Nation!

July 4, 1936, marks the 160th Anniversary of our American Independence. When we realize that our Nation has grown from thirteen scattered colonies to the greatest Nation in the world in the short period of 160 years, well may we pay tribute to the wisdom, courage, and high ideals of the Patriots who, in 1776, signed the Declaration of Independence.

In observance of Independence Day, this bank will transact no business on Saturday, July 4, 1936.

TWO CANDIDATES ARE ANNOUNCED

TIBBITS SEEKS RE-ELECTION TO LEGISLATURE

Dr. George T. Lister, Hillman, Republican Candidate for State Senator, 29th District

Announcements this week by two candidates seeking nomination to legislative berths at the September primary election marks the first activity in politics in this district.

According to County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow, no petitions have yet been filed in his office. The deadline for filing is at 4 o'clock the afternoon of Tuesday, July 28.

Best known of the two candidates making their announcement is Douglas D. Tibbits, of Boyne City. After early in the spring announcing he would not be a candidate, Mr. Tibbits has now signified his intention of seeking re-election as Republican representative from the Charlevoix-Leelanau district. In explanation of the change we quote, in part, his letter:

"Early in the spring Mr. Tibbits was offered the position as secretary-treasurer for a proposed group of National Farm Loan Associations located in the five counties of Northwestern Michigan, and had decided to accept this position and withdraw from politics. Recently, however, due to delays by the Federal Land Bank in starting the work, the rather loose, indefinite and uncertain arrangement existing between the different associations and the Land Bank, and the constant urging by many friends that he run for re-election, Mr. Tibbits has decided to enter his name for the nomination."

The other announcement is that of Dr. George F. Lister, of Hillman, who seeks the Republican nomination for state senator from the 29th senatorial district of which Charlevoix county is a part.

No better introduction could be given Dr. Lister than the following quotations from an editorial by E. J. Hanna, editor of the Emmet County Graphic:

"No better parallel of the famous Dr. Dafoeo of Dionne quint fame could exist than this same Dr. Lister. Having known him for many years we are familiar with his history, and The Graphic is more than pleased to have the opportunity to endorse him for the position he seeks.

"Having served his community as a country doctor and a friend of mankind for 28 years and his country during the World War as a captain in the 334th Infantry, in France, he has now reached that age where he feels that if he is to serve the people in a larger capacity than his local field offers, it is time that he got into action again.

"With his position in life assured, he cast about seeking a better method by which his talents and time could be spent for the betterment of his country. He chose to enter the Senate of the state and devote his efforts and ability toward the betterment of conditions in this district. Therefore his name will appear on the Republican primary ballot this fall as a candidate for the Republican nomination for the Michigan Senate."

In all probability another week will bring activity in county politics.

PLANNING ALREADY FOR CABARET PARTY AT INN

Abner Rosenzweig, Director, Here for Summar, Looking for Talent

While the annual cabaret party at The Inn is several weeks away and will not be held until early August, plans are already in the making for the program of this popular summer feature.

Abner Rosenzweig, of Detroit, who has directed the cabaret party program since its inception, is spending the summer in Charlevoix this season. He already has an experienced eye out for talent and is bent upon making the 1936 edition the best ever.

NOTED PIANIST AT PETOSKEY FOR SUMMER SEASON

Clifford Herzer, brilliant young American pianist, has returned to Petoskey for his third season. After his debut in New York City at Town Hall in October, he has been concertizing through the East and as far south as Miami, Fla.

Mr. Herzer will accept a few private piano pupils during the summer. He will be presented at a recital in Petoskey, August 3.

MRS. ARTHUR BERGEON SUCCUMBS TO ILLNESS

Died Wednesday Morning at Home Here; Funeral Friday Afternoon

Charlevoix residents today mourn the death of Mrs. Arthur Bergeon, beloved local woman, who died Wednesday morning at her Clinton street home following an illness of several weeks.

Lena Fanuing was born December 20, 1876, at Ionia. When a small child she went with her family to Stanton, where she graduated from high school in 1897. She came to Charlevoix in 1897 and taught in the local schools five years, then moved to Traverse City, where she taught until 1906. On August 7 of that year she was united in marriage to Arthur Bergeon and they came to Charlevoix.

Mrs. Bergeon was active in civic and fraternal circles, having served as member of the board of education.

Surviving besides the husband are two sons, Walter C. and Ormiston F., this city; three grandchildren, Clark, Michael and Deborah Bergeon; two sisters, Miss Helen L. Fanning, of Ionia, Mrs. Frank D. Kephart, of Traverse City; also twelve nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon from the See funeral chapel, Rev. G. R. Parker officiating.

BANKS SHOW NICE GAIN IN DEPOSITS

LOCAL INSTITUTIONS ISSUE STATEMENTS THIS WEEK

Substantial Increases Over a Year Ago Encouraging Reflection of Return to Normalcy

Substantial gains in savings and commercial deposits of the Charlevoix County State Bank and the Charlovoix State Savings Bank are revealed by statements issued by the institutions this week.

Since the statement of June, 1935, the Charlevoix County State Bank has shown an increase in deposits of $76,456.27, representing a raise of $51,684.99 in savings and $24,771.28 in commercial deposits. Other noticeable items in the statement are a surplus fund of $6,000, an increase of $1,000 over a year ago, and an undivided net profit figure of $3,-103.10 as compared to $2,262.08 in 1935. The bank has paid a 10 per cent dividend on impounded funds since last year. Total resources of the institution are now $419,174.09, as compared to $331,300.25 last year.

Finances of the Charlevoix State Savings Bank also show a substantial increase. Commercial deposits have increased from $42,152.74 to $57,-215.00, a raise of $5,056.26, and savings have increased from $61,095.27 to $67,665.23, a jump of $6,567.96. Undivided net profits increased from $157.73 to $2,779.75, and total resources from $173,433.96 to $204,-411.60.

The Charlevoix County State Bank being a state chartered institution and also member of the Federal Reserve System, is publishing two statements, one of which appears elsewhere in this issue.

BIG BOXING SHOW FRIDAY CAMP WOLVERINE

Springvale Boxers Take on Cheboygan Team at Camp Arena

On Thursday night, July 9, beginning at 8:30, Camp Wolverine boxers will entertain the Cheboygan team in the large open-air bowl at the 673rd Company camp near Springvale.

These are return matches and should prove very exciting. The Cheboygan boys were victorious in all but one bout at their meeting in June, and the Campers are out for revenge.

There will be at least six bouts ranging from the 130 pound class to the 175 pound class.

There is no admission charge to these shows and another huge crowd is anticipated.

KNIGHTS WIN SOFT BALL CONTEST FROM FOCHTMAN'S

Knight's soft ball team took another game from the Fochtman's, Petoskey club, by a 4 to 2 count at Petoskey last Sunday. Smith, of Grand Rapids, pitched for the Knights, limiting the opponents to five bits. Petoskey still has the edge on games won in the prolonged series, which started several weeks ago.

ENTERTAINMENT EVENTS LISTED

YACHTSMEN TO VISIT HERE JULY 20 AND 26-28

Resorters' Skeet Championship and Michigan Riviera Teonis Tourney Are August Evants

Preparations are going forward for numerous sport and entertainment features for July and August, according to Gordon "Doc" Todd, activities director of the Board of Commerce.

On July 20, boats participating in the annual Chicago-Mackinac Island race will congregate in Charlevoix for the day or longer. The visit here will culminate several years of effort to bring the entire racing fleet to this port. Such entertainment as will be possible during the brief stop-over will be provided

Another fleet of sailing craft, participants in the Port Huron-Mackinac Island race, come here July 26 for a two-day stop-over. This will be the first time the fleet has visited this harbor. Entertainment features are being planned for the visiting yachtsmen.

An event of early August will be the first annual Resorters' Skeet Championship, to be held August 8 and 9 at the Belvedere Golf Club range. This event, an annual affair which will be built up to state-wide proportions, will be open to all entries, and should provide a popular Charlevoix summer feature. The Belvedere range is now upen under the management of H. W. Mayhew.

Another August event and an annual feature here for many years, will be the Michigan Riviera tennis cham-

DEATH TAKES BELOVED CHARLEVOIX WOMAN

Illness of Saveral Weeks Fatal to Mrs. John McCann, Wednesday

Charlevoix and Norwood were saddened last Wednesday by the death at Charlevoix Hospital of Mrs. John McCann, a beloved and long-time resident. While she had been ill for several weeks, her sudden passing was a shock to the family and friends.

Frances Babcock was born at Walloon Lake in 1883 and spent her entire life in Emmet and Charlevoix counties. She was united in marriage to John McCann in 1908.

Surviving besides the husband are five children: Mrs. Irene Seymour, this city; Edmond, of Traverse City; Shirley, Richard and Dale, at home; also a sister, Mrs. C. C. Monahan, of Bridgeport, Conn.

Funeral services were conducted from the See funeral chapel at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, Rev. G. R. Parker officiating. Burial was at Petoskey.

KIWANIANS MEET MACKINAC ISLAND

ANNUAL CONVENTION SET FOR JULY 9, 10 AND 11

Charlevoixans Among Five Hundred Dalegates Expected to Attend Three-Day Meeting

Plans are rapidly taking shape for the 1936 annual Michigan District convention of Kiwanis Clubs which will be held on Mackinac Island July 9, 10 and 11. Division number eight will be hosts to the other seven divisions.

Over 500 delegates are expected to attend the convention. There are 3,300 members in the state belonging to 60 different clubs. Headquarters will be at the Grand Hotel, where all sessions will be held.

Meetings will be in charge of Vernon E. Chase, district governor, of Dearborn. Other officers who will have a prominent part in the convention are Immediate Past Governor Ben Dean, Grand Rapids; Secretary-Treasurer Forney W. Clement, Ann Arbor; and the eight lieutenant-governors: John J. Melcher, Detroit; Carl A. Mitchell, Benton Harbor; Fred L. Winter, Muskegon; Ralph M. Hunter, Midland; Bernard L. Davis, Hillsdale; Howard L. Spedding, Ann Arbor; Jerome V. Deuweke, Detroit; and Gladwin H. Lewis, Traverse City.

Committee in charge of the convention are: George W. Baldwin, chairman, Sault Ste. Marie; Lacy H. Sergent, Petoskey; Charles C. Cullitan, Cheboygan; and the presidents of each club in Division number eight and one man appointed by the president of each club in this division.

The program committee are Frank S. Hait, chairman, Ann Arbor; Arthur H. Lee, Bay City; Joseph G. Prance, Detroit; Edward B. Flack, Saginaw; and George R. Bowen, Detroit.

The dates of the convention and the location were selected so that delegates might combine their vacation with the convention.

On July 12 a large delegation is expected to journey to Sault Ste. Marie where the third peace plaque will be placed on the international boundary line symbolizing more than 100 years peace between Canada and the United States.

Little Dutch Inn Opens Sunday

An advertisement elsewhere in this issue announces the opening for the second summer season of the Little Dutch Inn, owned and operated by Mrs. Henry Block at her rural residence two miles south of Charlevoix on US-31. The Inn specializes in chicken dinners by appointment.

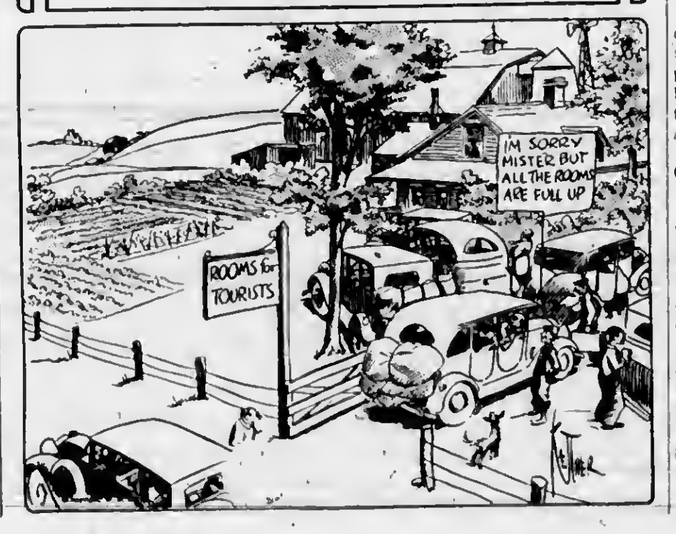
The Tourist Season Is Here



LOCAL HOTEL MEN RETURNED SOUTHERN PINES

M. H. Turner to Manage Southern Hostelry Again Next Winter

M. H. Turner, who with his associates, William E. Flynn, Lee McDonald and James T. Flynn, operate The Inn during the summer, will return next winter as manager of the Highland Pines Inn at Southern Pines, N. C.

With him at Southern Pines will be his associates in Charlevoix, thus returning to a management changed a year ago when the board of directors of the Highland Park Hotel Company put the southern hostelry in new hands.

The decision to put those above named and so well known to Charlevoixans back at the helm at Southern Pines brings to a close an extensive controversy over policies.

E. J. SMITH TO HANDLE LINE FLOOR COVERINGS

E. J. Smith, formerly connected with the S. M. See & Sons house-furnishing store, announces in this issue of The Courier that he is handling a full line of Armstrong linoleum rugs and floor materials at his residence on South Bridge street.

With the demand warranting, Mr. Smith expects to enlarge his merchandising to include furniture.

SCHOOL VOTERS TO MEET MONDAY NITE

ANNUAL MEETING SCHOOL DISTRICT AT 8 P. M.

Election of Two Trustees and Reports of Secretary, Treasurer and Librarian Will Be Given

The annual meeting of Charlevoix School District No. 1, city and township, perhaps the most important civic affair of the summer season, will he held at 8 o'clock Monday evening, July 13, in the assembly room of the senior high school.

There will be the election of two trustees. The term of Carl F. Kohler expires and a vacancy exists, caused by the recent resignation of William P. Hicken, secretary. In addition to the election of trustees, reports of the school secretary and treasurer, and of the Charlevoix public library will be given.

The treasurer's report will be of special interest to all school patrons. The board of education, following its successful conduct of affairs the past several years, has made a remarkable record of financing. Despite the fact that numerous necessary improvements have been completed throughout the buildings during the past year, necessary additions made, etc., finances are well in the "blue."

The public will, without doubt, be interested in learning of the progress made in the school system along the line of improvements during the year and may get the information complete by uttending Monday night's meeting.

INDEPENDENCE DAY UNEVENTFUL HERE

Largest Holiday Crowd in Years Taxed City's Accommodations

Independence Day passed uneventfully and comparatively quiet in Charlevoix with hundreds of local residents attending regional celebrations.

One of the largest holiday crowds in years was present in the city and rooming accommodations before the week-end had passed were almost at a premium in the tourist class demand. Rooming houses and cabin camps were filled to capacity, according to reports.

The week-end was without a serious accident of any description, despite the fact that highways were packed with traffic and bathing beaches and amusement centers entertained the largest crowds of the season.

CHARLEVOIX SPLITS WEEK-END BALL GAMES

Won from Boyne 10 to 9 Friday; Lost Suoday Tilt by 13 to 10

The Charlevoix Red Sox split even with Boyne City in two baseball contests played over the week-end.

The Sox took Boyne into camp by a 10 to 9 score in a close contest at Boyne on Friday, and lost the return contest at the south side diamond here Sunday afternoon by a 13 to 10 score.

COUNTY LOCATION NEW SUMMER CAMP

PRESBYTERIAN GROUP IS BEHIND THE PROJECT

Will Build Summer Place for Under-Privileged Children on Lake Louise, Chandler Township

The young men's Bible class of Scovel Memorial Presbyterian Church, Inc., is erecting a summer camp for underprivileged children. It will be called "Camp Jeffrey."

The camp is to be located on Lake Louise in the Methodist-Lake Louise Christian Community, which controls 6000 acres of land surrounding beautiful Lake Louise in Charlevoix county.

This project is a new endeavor for the young men's Bible class. Three years ago this class consisted of 30 or 40 young men. Through their enthusiasm and the able leadership of the Rev. George D. Jeffrey, pastor of the church, who teaches the class, it has grown to be an active group of approximately 250 men.

Last week the group was granted a charter as a Michigan corporation. The board of directors are Rev. George D. Jeffrey, pastor of Scovel Memorial Presbyterian church; George Hawley, of Michigan Bell Telephone Company; Fred W. Rea, of Chevrolet Motor Company; Frank Heath, of Goodrich Silvertown Stores; J. M. Dand, James A. Rea, Alex Stewart and Donald Carson, active in Masonic circles.

The group activities cover two male quartettes, a male chorus of 30 voices, two championship basketball teams, a hard ball and soft ball team, a weekly newspaper which is mailed to the 250 men who are active members, a 15-piece orchestra of musicians of professional standing who play at all services of the Bible class. The orchestra is under the direction of Dave Castel, who is well known in musical circles. Among the players in the orchestra are men who have played under the direction of Kolar, Sousa and Gabrilowich, and in the Shrine band and other notable musical organizations.

The Camp Jeffrey project has been started with great enthusiasm and for several weeks some of the group have been at Lake Louise clearing the site of the camp, which is being constructed in the second growth timber country. The men are doing all construction work on the camp and buildings themselves and will use funds for purchase of material only.

This year they will use the Methodists' camp on the other side of the lake while they are erecting the first log cabin units for Camp Jeffrey.

The camp was opened July 4 with about 28 or 30 children, and will operate for one month this year.

Rev. Jeffrey, who is devoting his vacation to the enterprise, says, "We want to start the program in a small way, but still be sure that a sound religious program is carried out. So the children will receive a real lasting benefit."

It is expected that the first building will be completed by the end of July. This building will be used as a dining hall and community house with smaller buildings for bunk houses which will be erected as required and as funds are available.

COUNTY WILL RECEIVE WEIGHT TAX RECEIPTS

Revenue from Half-Year Stickers Will Aggregate $10,342

Sale of automobile license plates and half-year stickers amounted to $2,692,921 more for the first six months of 1936 than for the corresponding period last year, it was revealed as the Department of State announced second quarter weight tax refunds to counties totalling $2,-819,008.

Allotments which will be vouchered by the auditor general's department will bring the total weight tax returns to counties for the first half of 1936 to $14,370,715, compared with $12,577,828 for the same period in 1935.

Automobile registrations to date, total 1,446,142, or 144,822 more than on July 1, 1935.

Alpena, $11,543; Bay, $31,393; Charlevoix, $10,342; Cheboygan, $9,-415; Emmet, $15,494; Grand Traverse, $19,051; Manistee, $13,139; Mecosta, $11,216; Wayne, $1,011,-396; and Wexford, $13,424.

HUNTERS MAY TRAIN DOGS NEXT MONTH

Legal After August 15 in Lower Peninsula Counties

Upland gamebird and rabbit hunters may legally begin to train their dogs in Michigan next month. Under the law it will be legal for hunters in the Upper Peninsula to train their dogs on rabbits, ruffed grouse and prairie chickens beginning August 2, and those in the Lower Peninsula may begin training their dogs on rabbits, pheasants, prairie chickens and ruffed grouse August 15. The legal training period continues to March 15.

Training must be confined to the hours between sunrise and sunset.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

Edited by Ed. Taylor

Saturday marked the beginning of the Green and Grey competition. In the afternoon three ball games were held to determine which side would be given the "Mugwump." The Greens made a clean sweep and won all three of the games. In the senior section the score was 19-8. Brad Nolan and Jim Karn formed the winning battery, while for the Greys Bob Stevens, Ken Gann and Mike Riley pitched with Herb Berdan catching.

In the junior section the Greens piled up a 21-6 margin. Jackie Farr pitched for the victors with David Bennett, Dave Hunting, and Hap Hubbard throwing for the losers. Walt Fader made the outstanding play of the game when he completed an unassisted double play.

The Greens also swamped their rivals in the intermediate section. Bob Kittredge and Bob Farr hurled for the Grays with half of the section doing the pitching for the Greens.

Last Wednesday night marked the opening of Bud Boetticher's weekly boxing shows. Eight fights were run off during the evening and in each one a battle royal ensued.

Johnny Avis won a close decision over Hap Hubbard in the first bout. Both boys slugged fast and furious during the whole fight and were nearly exhausted at the end. Hap challenged Johnny to a return fight next week and promises to reverse the decision.

In the next encounter Dave Hunting outpointed Herbert Allge. The first two rounds were even but Dave won a slight edge in the final canto. Jackie Farr beat Tommy Bennett in a fast slugging bout. Bill Palmer then administered a terrific beating to Bob Farr but Bob stood up and fought like a man although he was badly outclassed.

Another speedy brawl brought together Mel Donally and Eddie Robertson. Mel finally won the judges' vote after three rounds of hard glove slinging. The only bout which failed to bring much excitement was between Paul Piccard and Maynard Swan. Paul had too long a reach and consequently kept his small opponent from hitting him although he didn't do much damage to Swan.

Longyear Palmer won a decision over Al McGregor in the seventh bout of the evening. Next came an exhibition between "Kid" Boetticher and his ace pupil, Jim Karn. The boys went three rounds at a fast pace and showed the fans on hand some classy boxing. Jim, although he was outclassed, put up a game fight and showed promise of developing into a first class fighter.

Johnny Kohl whipped Don Blue in a fast three rounds. Johnny held an advantage on reach and held the speedy Blue at a long range. In the finale Bruce Lang outpointed Dick Thomas in a rough and tumble affair with pure rough house tactics replacing scientific fighting.

Saturday evening, the Fourth of July, was celebrated in great style. For supper the whole camp gathered on the beach to eat some of Jack Hogan's barbecued lamb and then they filled up on watermelon. Following the big feed the fireworks were shot off and then the whole group went to the council ring for the opening ceremony.

At the council ring ceremony the new members in camp were initiated into the Tribe of Charlevoix. The meeting began with "Chief" Oke bringing fire from heaven. Then the head counsellors in each section gave a short talk. Young Chief Oscar Boetticher dug up the "1935 Spirit" which was read by the Great White Chief. The meeting closed with the singing of the Omaha Tribunal Prayer.

Sunday morning in church Kemper Burton gave the talk. He used as his subject the oath of allegiance taken by the Boy Scouts. From this topic he gave a very interesting and worthwhile sermon. Jim Karn read the Scripture while Jim Daniels led the group in prayer.

Sunday afternoon the seniors hiked to Mt. McSauba where they ate a picnic supper. Ken Smith nearly passed out after climbing the hill and George Cunningham and Gil Haynie, the two AK's were nearly murdered by the section in a game of "King of the Mountain."

Also on the same afternoon the intermediates took the truck and went to Young's State Park for a swim and a picnic supper.

Overnights have begun to break into our program now that camp has gotten into full swing. Last week Kemp Burton took his cabin, Stevie Woodruff, Al Redmond, Don McHenry, Gari Stroh and Dick Friedlander over to Mt. McSauba for the night. An added member was Stevie's dog Tommy, one of the most beloved members in camp.

Monday night Jack Hogan took cabin 16 on a trip down the Jordan River. George Cunningham and Bob Stevens tipped over on the first curve but the water was only waist deep and no damage was done. Others on the trip were Tom Hart, Junior Blue, Fred Gillette, Phil Rowe and Ray Pinkham.

Tuesday two groups went out for the night. Herb Johnson's cabin went on a sailboat trip to Whiting Park, and Jim Voyce took his boys down the lake in canoes. Those going on the former trip were Bob Carr, Ben Trumbull, Steve Stackpole, Jack Hood, Gil Wickwire, Oliver Ayres and Fred Matthaei.

During the coming week many interesting events are on the fire. Wednesday afternoon Camp Algonquin will be here for a hard baseball game. Thursday night the staff will present their own interpretation of that famous drama of the Gold Rush Days, "The Shooting of Dangerous Dan McGrew." As yet no one knows what that will be.

The Greens hold a 2-0 lead in the competition so far having won the ball games and showed the "Mugwump" once. Come on Greys! Get on the ball and give those Greens a battle!

KAMP KAIRPHREE NEWS

By Ann Oakman

K. K. Swings Into Activity

July 1, Wednesday, our happy group welcomes Mr. and Mrs. Harley Smith and family with guest, Veitch Purdom, all vacationing at their summer home in Onaway. They stay for just a short while, leaving at noon. Friday, brings us Mr. and Mrs. Gram to see their daughter, Ruth, and Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Lay and daughter, Shirley, come up to see their daughter, Eileen. And as a surprise they bring with them Mrs. Carl S. Oakman and Mrs. Brown, who thoroughly surprised their respective children. Also Mrs. Dickinson, who is staying nearby visiting. All visitors leave Sunday. Mrs. Oakman and Mrs. Brown stay over night, Saturday night, in camp, while the others stay in Charlevoix.

Events of the Week

Tuesday, the last day of June, finds us all decorating the sandy beach of Lake Michigan with our backs of all hues from pink to orange! (Or are we wrong?) The day was perfect and a grand time was had by all. Thursday, our classes are rearranged, and we learn a new game: bat minton! Ever tried it? We think it's great sport. Friday our fisherman, Daddy Swain, Carl, Reuben and guest, Mrs. Pollock, bring home the bacon. (Pardon us, we mean fish!) And did it taste good! We hear that those fish just jumped into the boat, they were so glad to see us! How's that for the tall story contest?

Tonight was the big event of initiating something like 16 to 20 campers and counsellors. All was well and no one has forgotten his initiation so far, we hope!

Saturday, history was made inasmuch as the Kairphree Whites were victorious over the K. K. Blues in the yearly baseball game, and we hereby dub Carl Oakman a second Babe Ruth! We have a swellegant banquet decorated by the four old counsellors, Miss Lucy Brauns, Miss Mary Funk, Miss Marney Coe and Mrs. Beblmer.

Saturday night, the parents with their daughters and respective tentmates take a jaunt into Charlevoix to see the sights. On return to camp, films are shown (it is to be a weekly feature every Saturday night) of George Washington.

Sunday, a tableau taken from the finding of Moses was presented by Ruth Gram, Mary Alice O'Connor, Penny Shaw, Ann Oakman, Betty Johnson, Lucile Nolan, and Gladys Gallinger, all under the direction of Miss Mary Edna Hert, dramatics instructor. In the evening Kchatter comes out.

FOUR PROPOSALS TO FACE VOTERS

OTHERS MAY GET APPROVAL BEFORE ELECTION

One Seeks Substituting Income Tax for Real Estate Levy; Another Bans Sales Tax from Food

At least four, and possibly more, proposals for amendment of the state constitution will be submitted to the voters next November.

At the close of business Friday night petitions qualifying two of the propositions had been filed with the secretary of state and 5 p. m. today is the final hour. The other two amendments were proposed by the Legislature in regular session.

The latest amendment to be placed on the fall ballot is one which would wholly eliminate taxes on real estate and substitute a state income tax. The necessary petitions were filed late yesterday by Henry L. Lammers, of Jackson, president of the Michigan Property Tax Repeal Association. The vote on the income tax proposal will be the fourth tried in recent years by farm leaders and all of the previous attempts have resulted in rejection.

The other amendment proposed by petitions calls for the elimination of the state's three per cent sales tax on staple foods.

The two amendments proposed by the Legislature call for optional reforms in the government setup of the counties and give police officials wider latitude in prosecuting cases involving the seizure of weapons.

PLANS UNDER WAY FOR ANNUAL COUNTY FAIR

Dates Are Set for September 8-11, Inclusive, at East Jordan

The Charlevoix County Fair will be held at East Jordan this year September 8, 9, 10 and 11.

The Charlevoix County Agricultural Society, of which F. O. Barden, of Boyne City, is president, and Charles Murphy, of East Jordan, is secretary, promises a bigger and better fair than ever.

As usual there will be fast running horse races, fine exhibits for the county schools, 4-H club, bountiful agricultural exhibits, etc. Every day there will be a thrilling balloon ascension and parachute jump.

Cash drawings of $100 will be given away each day of the fair, and tickets can be obtained through your local merchant. With each $1 purchase you will be given a ticket good at the drawings, also your admission ticket will be good at the same drawings.

Mr. Murphy is making arrangements in the near future for good baseball teams in this territory so that there will be a baseball game to witness each day.

As usual there will be rides, merry-go-round, whip and many other attractions of the better types for amusement.

Hooker & Son, of Charlevoix, will be at the fair with their Kentucky saddle horses and give many performances of fancy riding, jumping and other stunts.

MICHIGAN BELL HAS HUGE EXPENSE BILL

Will Expend Thirty Million Dollars During the Year 1936

Approximately $30,000,000 will be expended by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company this year for operation of its service, extension and maintenance of plant, taxes, interest, and the purchase of supplies and material essential to the conduct of its business, according to the company's present estimate for 1936.

Of the total expenditures, the greater proportion will be paid out in Michigan, approximately $12,000,000 representing salaries and wages to the company's 7,500 employes. Of a total tax bill of over $4,000,000 federal, state and miscellaneous local taxes, the company will pay to the state of Michigan $2,622,577.65. A check for part of the state taxes was presented Tuesday (June 30) to Auditor General John J. O'Hara. The balance is to be paid the state before November 1. These taxes go to the primary school fund.

Large quantities of the supplies and building materials required by the company this year also will be represented by expenditures in Michigan. These items include furniture, oil, gasoline, cleaning materials and equipment, paper, tons of printed matter, newspaper advertising space, electric light and power, automobiles, trucks, batteries, tires, trailers, transportation, lodgings and meals for traveling employes, paint, brick, lumber, cement, stone, steel and other building materials, plumbing fixtures and almost numberless other products. Almost every business and industry in the state will benefit.

The telephone plant needs of the company this year call for the purchase of 19,000 telephone poles, 4,000 crossarms, 6,500 feet of duct in clay conduit, 400,000 feet of strand wire, 150,000 pounds of bare copper wire, 68,000,000 conductor feet of wire in lead-covered cable, and 65,000 handset telephones. Procurement of the raw materials and manufacture of these items will provide labor and wages for thousands of men and women.

Net additions to the Michigan Bell Company's plant this year will amount to $3,930,000, compared with $1,446,000 in 1935, bringing the plant investment of the company up over $175,000,000. Gross plant construction will total $10,000,000, compared with $6,887,000 last year. Current maintenance of the telephone plant will cost $5,900,000. Net additions to plant will total $3,930,000 and will include $136,000 for land and buildings, $1,515,000 for new central office equipment, $1,950,000 for telephone equipment, $190,000 for exchange lines and $40,000 for long distance lines.

Gain of telephones, which in 1935 was 32,000, is expected to reach 40,000 this year. The first four months of the year gave the company a net gain of 17,000 telephones, and up to the first of May the company had regained about one-third of the 210,000 telephones lost during the early years of the depression.

Under the Michigan law, telephone, telegraph, express, railroad and carloaning companies pay taxes to the state in lieu of local taxes, upon property generally used for conducting their businesses. The Michigan Bell Company is the largest taxpayer of the utilities group. The tax money paid the state by these utilities is placed in the primary school fund and from there is distributed among all public school districts in proportion to the number of children of school age residing therein.

The tax bill to be paid by the Michigan Bell Company this year represents $7.21 per telephone, based on the average number of telephones operated by the company during 1935. Net earnings from 170,000 telephones, or substantially one-third of the average number operated last year, will be required to meet the company's tax bill.

FACTS DEBUNK FOOD FALLACIES

Nutrition Rules Against the Handed Down Notions Fish Is Brain Food

Old wives' tales and other fallacies have no place in the problem of feeding the family today, says Miss Roberta Hershey, extension specialist in nutrition at Michigan State College. She has compiled a list of 20 queer suppositions about foods and the answer to all of them is a definite "No."

The suppositions include those about the wisdom of not combining fruits in a meal with milk, or the idea that tomatoes thin the blood, or that cane sugar is superior to beet sugar, that fish is a brain food or that onions will cure a cold.

In answering the "old wives' tales," Miss Hershey has no argument against onions, but with authority she says that a cold is cured when the body overcomes the infection, a process in which onions could have no connection. That fish is a brain food brings out another debunker through nutrition facts. One particular food does not build particular tissues, for the various tissues, says Miss Hershey take the material they require from the blood stream. Fish happens to contain phosphorus which all body cells require, but many other foods also contain this element.

And so the process continues, says Miss Hershey. For laboratory tests and common sense prove that lemons, tomatoes and grapefruit are not acid forming foods, as popularly supposed. Cucumbers need not be soaked in salt water to remove poison, for cucumbers do not contain poison and salt would not take it out.

Fifty acres of test plots offering visions of new opportunities and practices for nearly all of the major Michigan crops will be included in the open house program for the annual Farmers' Day program on the campus of Michigan State College on Friday, July 31.

Primarily the features of the day will center around the state's million acre alfalfa crop, an acreage in which Michigan leads the nation. Production, handling and usage of alfalfa will enter into all the major parts of the day's program. In the morning, however, groups of farmers will have the opportunity to tour the test plots.

Visitors will see some unusual experiments, according to the promise of H. C. Rather, head of the farm crops department at Michigan State College. Soy beans, for instance, were planted ahead of corn instead of later, so that if maturity can be reached earlier in the fall, hay can be cut and cured with four time the chance to avoid rains in August than in the usual curing time in September.

Corn, alfalfa, chicory, weeds, sudan grass, malting barley, wheat, oats, sugar beets and beans are all involved in tests on the college farms. Varieties are being tried out, planting dates are being checked, and other cultural practices and hay and pasture operations enter into the experimental work. The farm crops department is cooperating with other departments in running many of the plots and experiments.

In general, the program for the day will be worthwhile and interesting. A hay cocking contest at 9:30 in the morning will open up the program. After departmental demonstrations in the morning, a general afternoon program of speaking will include a talk by O. E. Reed, chief of the Bureau of Dairy Industry, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. More than 10 years ago Reed was head of the dairy husbandry department at Michigan State College, when the first stimulation to alfalfa growing in the state was begun.

MAKING IMPROVEMENTS AT YOUNG STATE PARK

Construction of an addition to the the bath house-pavilion and of outbuildings at Young State Park northwest of Boyne City, has been started by Foreman M. E. Martin and enrollees of CCC Camp Wolverine.

The store and locker room previously housed in the main building will be located in the new addition, when completed, providing more room and better accommodations. The addition will be of log construction, as is the main building.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Development of a Healthy Child Begins at Home

Is your youngster in the best physical condition? Bodily defects and illness, often slight and unrecognized, are sufficient to unbalance the child's adaptability and undermine his mental health. Periodic examinations should be made by your family physician or at the time of your visit to pre-school clinics that are being conducted in your community by the District Health Department.

It is important that good habit training in work, play, relaxation and sleep be established at home. The mother should also bear in mind that by so establishing these good habits in her child she is also helping to curb his emotions in anger and fear. We find it essential that parents maintain wholesome social and hygienic conditions in the home. Every effort should be made to make the child's home life simple, harmonious and happy, uninterrupted by quarrelling, inter-parental disharmony, overcrowded living arrangements or similar circumstances which tend to tax the child's sensitive and immature nature.

Good parental example in emotional control is of paramount importance. To a very large extent, children unconsciously model their lives after those with whom they live and who are in positions of authority, and respect and love.

In establishing discipline, parents may accomplish much by making few rules concerning what they expect of their child. These should be reasonable, sensible and within his capacity to successfully keep. The parent having committed himself concerning reward or punishment should make no allowances but keep such rule in force without exception.

Ample opportunities should be provided for the child to have complete freedom and relaxation in which he might enjoy satisfaction and cultivate his own ideas and activities. We should aim to lead and guide children into desirable activities but not force them. The pre-schooler will early in life develop desirable personality traits if he is allowed to mingle and play freely with a number of children. By such early associations he will develop such characteristics as the ability to get along with others, team work, sense of responsibility, self-confidence, self-respect, and respect for his fellows, cheerfulness, even in face of difficulties, sense of security, self-control, initiative, leadership as well as followership, a give-and-take attitude, perseverence and tactfulness.

By creating happy and wholesome environment for our children together with close observation over their physical condition, we will tend to bring forth a happier life for this generation. We can only begin to accomplish this by understanding the child—his problems and perplexities.

To assist the parent in carrying out the above procedures the District Health Department distributes numerous pamphlets on the Pre-School Child. We also conduct pre-school clinics in each township each year at which time a complete physical examination is offered the child. All parents are cordially invited to attend these clinics and bring their children under six years of age with them. It is the desire of the District Health Department that well children shall be kept well and that they shall avoid all diseases wherever possible. The aim is to encourage the child to be as healthy as he can.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page

New potatoes are now about half their high of a few weeks ago. Lamb, too, is cheaper so that a dinner of roast lamb, new potatoes and green peas is now a possible feast for modest pocketbooks. Other meats, poultry, fish and eggs are little changed. Butter prices seem to have steadied, at least temporarily.

Fruit is the big marketing item with most types of berries and melons available, a normal supply of bananas and oranges, apricots, cherries, peaches and plums abundant, fresh pineapples seasonable, apples and pears beginning to come into market and figs and seedless grapes arriving here.

Generally speaking, vegetables and salad greens are also cheap and abundant.

Low Cost Dinner
Beef Patties in Tomato Sauce
Potatoes Green Beans
Bread and Butter
Sliced Peaches Soft Custard
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Swiss Steak New Potatoes
Tomato Salad
Bread and Butter
Plub Cobbler
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner
Cantaloupe
Broiled Beefsteak Parsley Potatoes
Cauliflower au Gratin
Stuffed Tomato Salad
Rolls and Butter
Peach Shortcake

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Notaries Public Total Some 36,000

Every 15 minutes of every working day, Michigan gains another notary public—there are about 36,000 of them commissioned at all times. Appointments are made by the governor; commissions are issued by the secretary of state.

Some interesting facts about this public office which survives in modern form from a centuries-old practice of England, are available in the records of Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state.

In 1935, more than the average yearly number of commissions were issued, the total being 9,673. The average is about 9,000. As commissions are for four years unless sooner revoked, some 36,000 commissions are in force at all times.

Any citizen of the state, 21 years or over, endorsed by a circuit or probate judge or a member of the Legislature, may apply to the governor for a commission. A fee of $1 which goes to the state's general fund, must accompany the application. The commissions are sent to county clerks who notify applicants. Applicants must then file bonds of $1,000 each and pay the county clerk a fee of 50 cents. If the bond is not filed within 90 days, the commission is withdrawn.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m..

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Sacrament" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 12.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (James 1:12): "Blessed is the man that endureth temptation; for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord has promised to them that love him."

Correlative passages to be read from te Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 22): "Love is not basty to deliver us from temptation, for Love means that we shall be tried and purified;"

A pioneer is a fellow who can remember back when the railroads furnished the station agent with a house and bought his winter coal.

RAMONA CLUB FLOOR SHOW OPENS JULY 16

Vera Fern, Acrobatic, Tap Dancer, One of Several Featured Stars

Miss Vera Fern, acrobatic and tap dancer, will open the Ramona Club floor show on Thursday, July 16. Miss Fern comes direct from the Hollywood restaurant on Broadway, New York. She has danced in all the leading night clubs of the country and comes to Ramona highly recommended.

Following Miss Fern will be Miss Sandra Gre, radio singer, who comes to Ramona from an engagement at Chez Paree, Chicago.

Present "Danse en L'Air"

Billie Weber, manager of the club, seems particularly pleased to present as a part of the show Madeline Northway and Danilo, who will present for the first time in the United States their dance now famous in Europe, "Danse en l'Air." This dance team appeared in the late Florenz Ziegfeld Follies and has appeared in the leading club and restaurants abroad.

This dance team comes from Place Pigalle, New York City, to Ramona. They were 21 weeks in the Deauville club and at Palm Beach the past winter.

The cocktail lounge at the club opened last Wednesday, and the restaurant will open on July 16.

37TH SPIRITUALIST CAMP MEETING OPENS JULY 12

TEMPERANCE MEETING FOR MOTHERS FRIDAY

A mother's meeting will be held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walker Miles, 202 Belvedere avenue, under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Mrs. C. A. Stewart will speak on the topic, "Temperance Education in the Home."

INFANT AND PRE-SCHOOL CLINICS TO BE HELD

Thursday, July 16, two more health clinics will be conducted by Dr. Carleton Dean of the District Health Unit for infant and pre-school children.

In the afternoon at 1:30 p. m., it will be held at the home of Mrs. Henry Hilton, just opposite the Hilton school. To this clinic all families living in the Norwood, Hilton and McGeagh school districts are invited.

Arrangements are being made to have the same type of clinic in the morning at 9:45 of the same day in the Clark and Phelps school districts. Detailed arrangements have not yet been completed but the nurse will soon call in this district to arrange these.

FAMOUS DRIVER OUTLINES SAFETY ITEMS

Tells What to Do and Not to Oo While Driving Automobile

Tbe safety and pleasure of any motorist's vacotion trip can be increased many fold by the observation of a few simple rules according to Ab Jenkins, known as the world's safest driver. Jenkins, who holds more speed records than any other man in sports, has driven more than one million miles on all kinds of roads in every state in the Union, without an accident.

Besides the well known and fairly well recognized rules about observing stop signs, not trying to beat traffic lights, not passing another car on a turn or a hill, Jenkins has the following advice to give on features of driving little thought about by tbe average motorist:

1. Read tbe road; that is, observe cars far ahead and those directly behind because only in this way eau you deeide whether passing is safe. The car behind can do you a lot of damage aud observing only the next car ahead is no insurance of safety.

2. Don't drive in a slouched position. Keep both hands on the wheel. Haods and arms should always be in a position to take care of the ever impending emergency.

3. When making a turn use only one hand to apply pressure on the wheel, allowing it to slide through the other hand. This places you in a position to put full strength into a quick turn in the opposite direction should emergency demand it.

4. Never run a car faster than you can drive it. If you are at all nervous you are driving too fast.

5. Never use the brakes in a skid on slippery roads. The best metbod is to disengage the clutch, which will permit the rear wheels to roll free and follow tbe front wheels stroight abead. Tben apply the clutch gradually.

Jenkins places tire equipment as the first and most important eonsideration for safe driving. He states tbat every driver sbould be compelled to have good tires on his ear. Jenkins is on expert on tire equipment. He has studied manufacturing methods as well as proved the performance of tires in his speedway and highwoy driving. All of his records, including the omazing performonce of 127 miles an hour for twenty-four hours on the hot salt beds of Utah were made on Firestone tires without tire trouble of any kind.

FOREST FIRE LOSS IS HALF PREVIOUS YEAR

Michigan's forest fire loss this year to date is little more than half that for the same period of 1935, when the all-time low record of forest fire damage was recorded in this state.

Up to June 30 Michigan had 621 forest fires as compared to 70 and 3,253 acres devastated as compared to 5,008 acres during the same period of 1935.

Are you prepared for the next depression which the forecasters say will be along in the 'forties?

OLD SETTLERS' ANNUAL PICNIC IS POSTPONED

Because of conflicting activities, the annual picnic of the Old Settlers' Association, originally scheduled to be held at the Traverse City fair grounds Wednesday of this week, has been postponed until later in the summer, Judge Fred H. Pratt, president of the association, announced.

The committees in charge of the picnic, appointed two weeks ago, will carry over and handle the event when it is staged later.

Many folks in Michigan have become convinced that now is the time to buy, but not so many have been persuoded that now is the time to pay.

THE BEST JUDGE

Every intelligent person realizes that there are two kinds of drinking. One is moderation. The other is excess. Between these two is a sharp dividing line. That dividing line is the extra drink that is 'one too many." Everyone accustomed to drinking knows this: There comes a point when an extra drink brings no extra pleasure. For those who thoughtlessly or through good-natured response to a host's persuasion, drink more than they need for pleasure—there is just this to remember: There can be no better judge of moderation than the individual himself.—From an advertisement by Seagram's.

BONUS MONEY

Government bonus money is now—r at least was—in the hands of the World War Veterans. In countless instances this evidence of government bounty and gratefulness comes as a godsend into homes impoverished by the depression and will be wisely expended. It is a reflection on modern civilization that in many communities gyps and gamblers organized to separate the men from the money in the quickest possible manner. We hope most of their nefarious plans were frustrated. There is no place in American life for that sort of chicanery.

DON'T KILL A CHILD

While at play during the vacation season children often become so absorbed in their game that they are likely to forget caution. Many a residential street is turned into a makeshift baseball diamond. They know it is dangerous, but they take a chance. That's just the reason motorists must be extra careful. Slow down and keep your car under control, ready to stop on a second's notice. When the lives of little children are at stake you cannot dodge this responsibility.

REPRESSION

The worst thing to do with a notion with which you can't agree is to try to suppress it by force. That only drives it underground and makes it more dangerous. Any unsound doctrine ought to be heard freely so that it can be refuted and discredited.—Grit.

pionship. The Riviera, scheduled for August 17-23, inclusive, follows the Western Championships to be held at the Little Harbor Club at Harbor Springs. Officials of the local and Harbor Springs clubs are working on an arrangement that will bring several nationally ranked stars to both tournaments. The Riviera will be held at The Inn clay courts as in previous years. Walter T. Hayes, now located at Washington, D. C., will come again as official referee.

While plans have not been definitely made, there is a possibility of holding the annual Charlevoix Open tennis championships preceding the Riviera. Swimming meets and other features for the entertainment of summer residents are being arranged and will be announced.

ADDITIONAL IRONTON NEWS

The WPA project recreational program under the management of Noel Thompson and Evert Spidle is creating much interest in the community. Last Sunday they had a hard ball game scheduled with Mr. McRoberts and his Charlevoix team, which was postponed until further notice. Next Sunday the Boyne City team will play with the local team at 9 a. m., after which they will go to Mr. Thompson's at Nowland Lake for further recreation and refreshments. Next Monday evening, Mr. Dennis and Mr. Swafford, managers of the East Jordan team, will play soft ball with the local team, which is managed by Ross Alexander. These games will be continued through the coming weeks under the WPA recreational program.

THREE GROUPS COMING HERE IN NEXT TWO WEEKS

Boats—more than Charlevoix has seen in its harbor at one time in many years—will gather here Sunday and Monday, July 19 and 20.

On Sunday, a Chicago fleet of cruisers, followers of the annual Chicago-Mackinac Island sailing race, will come here following their annual regatta at Green Bay, Wis. This fleet has accepted the invitation of officials of the Charlevoix Board of Commerce to pay a visit here and many will probably enter Round Lake harbor for the first time. Such entertainment as is possible will be provided the visitors.

On Monday, July 20, boats participating in the Chicago-Mackinac Island race will assemble here for the day and many longer. Charlevoix has always had a scattering number of entrants in the annual Great Lakes sailing classic as visitors, but this will mark the first time that the entire fleet has assembled here.

On the evening of Sunday, July 26, a Venetian boat parade, a feature which proved so colorful and popular during last year's Homecoming celebration, will be staged on Round Lake. The marine committee of the Board of Commerce, sponsors of the spectacle, have secured 40 boats to take part in the parade, and the grandeur of the approaching event may be better anticipated when it is brought to attention that but 17 boats took part last year! The city band, seated on boat deck in the middle of Round Lake, will furnish music during the parade and a colorful display of fireworks will also be a feature. Boats of both local and summer residents are to participate.

The Venetian parade will be witnessed by yachtsmen who have taken part in the Port Huron-Mackinac Island race, for the fleet will arrive here that day to remain the 26th and 27th. Numerous other features are being planned for the entertainment of the group of yachtsmen, possibly including an afternoon baseball game between the Knights of Dearborn, a crack down-state team, and the Charlevoix Red Sox.

OSSIFIED MAN SHOWING AT THE CARNIVAL

Edwin, with Ripley's Oddities at Century of Progress, Attraction

Not the last of the Joyland Shows given under auspices of the American Legion at their Garfield avenue grounds this week, is Edwin, the Ossified Man, who will be remembered by residents who saw Ripley's Odditorium at the Century of Progress.

Edwin was born at Flint, Mich., in 1900, and at 14 was doing part time work in a newspaper office. Then his long string of misfortunes began. He says:

"In August, 1915, while I was walking on Main street, a team of runaway horses trampled over me, leaving me smashed and unconscious. The doctor gave me 24 hours to live. However, owing to the fact that my body was healthy and strong at the time of the accident, I cheated the undertaker. I suffered untold agonies for three years, but early in 1918 the pain suddenly left me. My body then was perfectly rigid.

"Now my weight is 47 pounds. Organically sound and mentally alert. Digestion perfect, sleep well and feel fine. Yet my body is rigid, every joint locked, head fixed immovably, jaws locked."

CHARLEVOIX OPEN TENNIS TOURNEY AUG. 10-15

Tennis Club Sponsoring 12th Aonual Event at School Courts

Sponsored by the Charlevoix Tennis Club and supervised by Gordon "Doc" Todd, activities director of the Board of Commerce, the 12th annual Charlevoix open tennis tournament will be held August 10-15, inclusive.

The event, unsanctioned and open to all tennis players, will be held on the municipal concrete courts at the school grounds. Held primarily for the entertainment and participation of summer residents and enrollees of the many summer camps in this region, the tournament has always drawn a large entry.

Entries may be posted at any time prior to the tournament with Mr. Todd at the information bureau.

CITY EMPLOYES ARE GIVEN PAY INCREASE

Salaries Boosted During the Summer Months In View of Extra Hours

Three city employes were granted increased salaries during the summer season by the city council at Monday night's regular meeting.

Acting to provide adequate compensation for long hours of service during the height of the resort season, Forest Plum, acting utilities superintendent, Floyd Rice, Diesel operator at the electric light plant, and Leo Allard, acting street commissioner, were granted increases for the months of June, July, August and September.

The comfort of patrons of city parks was taken into consideration with the ordering of two dozen park benches to be installed in the several city parks.

HOSPITAL ANNUAL MEETING WEDNESDAY, JULY 22

Election of Three Trustees and Other Business Coming Up

Announcement has been made of the annual meeting of Charlevoix Hospital board of trustees, to be held Wednesday evening, July 22, at the council rooms in the library building.

Election of officers, reports, etc., will be major items of business.

WPA RECREATIONAL EXHIBIT ON MONDAY

VARIOUS COUNTY GROUPS WILL SHOW ACTIVITIES

Program at Priest Building to Include Instrumental and Vocal Music, Other Interesting Features

Charlevoix citizens will be given an opportunity to view the accomplishments resulting from WPA recreational projects at an exhibit to be held Monday, July 20, in the Priest building.

The purpose of the exhibit is to reveal to the public the work completed in handicraft, bands, vocal and chorus music groups, violin instruction. There will also be several reels of movies showing WPA recreational activities throughout the state as well as physical activities in Charlevoix during the past winter.

The tentative program includes:

Selection by Boyne Falls band; numbers by violin group from East Jordan; a representative from dramatic group, vocal chorus of 30 girls and other novelty numbers, from Boyne City; free movies, including film of recreational projects in Charlevoix county last winter.

The closing feature of the day's activities will be a soft ball game between Ironton and the Charlevoix K. of P. teams at the south side diamond.

Each group demonstrating their work on the program will be accompanied and under the direction of the WPA supervisor under whose instruction and supervision they have worked. The program is being arranged by Dean Davenport, Charlevoix county recreational supervisor.

The entire program is free and the public is extended a cordial invitation to attend.

PRENTISS M. BROWN SEEKS SENATE POST

Announces Candidacy on Democratic Ticket in September

Prentiss M. Brown, of St. Ignace, U. S. representative in Congress from the 11th Michigan district, has announced that he has decided to run for United States senator on the Democratic ticket in the primary election.

He is completing his second term as a congressman. As yet no one has entered the race to succeed him on the Democratic ticket, although State Representative Edward Fenlon, of St. Ignace, Clifton J. Hill, of Alpena, and William Miller, of Escanaba, are being mentioned as possible candidates.

NEW BELL RATES MAY NOT CHANGE CHARLEVOIX BILLS

Don't be elated over the prospects of a lower phone bill as the result of the new Michigan Bell rates.

Chances are that unless you live in Grand Rapids or a few other small communities, the bill will be the same as it always has been. The introductory charge on hand sets has been cut to 10 cents a month but most of the other fee reductions is on installation and other service charges.

WELFARE CIVIL SERVICE EXAM JULY 18TH

TESTS CONDUCTED BY FIELD REPRESENTATIVES

Place of Exams May Be Ascertained by Calling Charlevoix County Emergency Relief Office

Qualifying examinations for all stenogruphers, typists, and clerical workers employed by County Emergency Relief Commissions will take place Saturday, July 18, according to a statement by Dr. William Haber, state relief administrator. The examination will be conducted by state field representatives or other persons appointed to act for the state commission.

Examinations for case workers and other administrative employes will take place at a later date, probably on either or both of the following Saturdays. These will be followed by qualifying tests for employes of the state office.

The time limit for the examinations will range from one and one-half to three hours. Most of the examinations will stress the short answer type of question. The short answer type involves questions which can be answered with merely a true or false indication, or the correct completion of a statement. Examinations for administrative positions will contain a heavier proportion of the free answer or essay type.

Identification of the writer of the examination will be sealed separately and locked up until all papers are graded and the scores recorded against a number received by the contestant by random choice.

A committee of civil service experts selected by the governor and the state relief commission will be in direct charge of procedure in the examination. Work to date has been devoted to reclassification of employes in regard to type of work performed.

The examinations to be given the incumbent employes is qualifying only, not competitive. Competitive tests will be devised for persons who wish to file applications for future employment with the county commissions, with local people given preference.

These examinations are the result of the opinion of the governor and the state commission that the administration of relief is one of the most important functions of government and that competent, qualified personnel is a necesaary requisite to good administration.

DETROITERS LAUD TREATMENT HERE

LIKED ENTERTAINMENT DURING ANNUAL CRUISE

Official Publication of Detroit Athletic Club Compliments Charlevoix Very Highly

Praise of Charlevoix's entertainment of Detroit Athletic Club members on their annual cruise here late in June continue to come to officials of the Board of Commerce.

Among the latest is an article published in the D. A. C. magazine and captioned "Thanks, Charlevoix," which we reprint as follows:

The hospitable shores of Charlevoix were visited by those of the D. A. C. who had the good fortune to go on the Club's cruise up the Great Lakes last month. Singling out Charlevoix as a port of call on the cruise was not regarded at the time as any special stroke of genius. The ship had to put in somewhere, and someone happened to say, "Charlevoix, you're it." There was a great golf course there, so why not?

But Charlevoix didn't take that offhand view of the situation at all. Charlevoix was complimented and that marvelous city up there on Lake Michigan set right out to show its appreciation. You're never going to know the meaning of the term "good neighbors" until you go to Charlevoix.

The city was decorated for the D. A. C. party. Automobiles were placed at the disposal of the Detroiters. A golf tournament was arranged and special prizes put up. Fishing parties were organized. The charming women of Charlevoix got up bridge parties for the feminine contingent among our cruisers. Beautiful homes were opened to the visitors. The whole town turned out to wave goodby when the South American sailed away.

Now, that's what we call hospitality. And the best part of it all is that Charlevoix wants the D. A. C. folk to come back next year. Which allows us to say a good word for the guests as well as to thank those good neighbors of Charlevoix.

RED SOX WON DOUBLE BASEBALL BILL SUNDAY

Defeated Barnard 7 to 6 and Pellston 12 to 11 in Twelve Innings

They defeated Barnard by a 7 to 6 count in the opening contest, and in the next went twelve innings to best the Pellston team of the Emmet county league by a 12 to 11 score.

THREE VETS' GROUPS MEETING AT LANSING

State Legion Convention at Capital City, August 16-18

Three organizations besides the American Legion will have their annual convention when the Legion meets at Lansing, August 16, 17 and 18. They are the "40 and 8," the "8 and 40," and the American Legion Auxiliary.

The "40 and 8" or more properly "La Societe Des 40 Homes et 8 Chevaux" is the fun-making unit of the Legion, named after the box cars on French railroads, built to carry 40 men and eight horses. Members of the society wear blue smocks, similar to those worn by French railroad workers, and horizon-blue caps. Membership is limited to those who have been active in Legion affairs.

The "8 and 40" is composed of members of the auxiliary. There are about 100 of them in the state.

Convention headquarters for the Legion have been established at the Olds Hotel. Registrations and reservations for hotel space now coming in indicate that a new record for attendance at state conventions will be made this year in the Capitol City.

RELIEF FROM HEAT WAVE HERE TUESDAY

TEMPERATURE LOWER FOR THE FIRST TIME IN TEN DAYS

Water Pumping Hits New Record, Lake Temperature Rises to 81 Degrees—Farm Crops Face Ruin

Cooling breezes from the north were felt in Charlevoix Tuesday, bringing the first relief from an unprecedented ten-day heat wave.

The mercury, hovering near the 90 mark all morning, began dropping gradually and the evening was the first comportable one since July 4. Today's temperature stands high in the 80's but a cool north breeze and partially overcast sky combined to make conditions ideal. Temperatures prior to Tuesday broke all local records for high and continuation.

Promises since Sunday of relief in the form of much needed rain have so far failed to materialize and crops throughout the county are suffering. One farmer made this statement: "Unless we get rain in a few days we may as well just forget our spring work." That condition, although relieved by showers in some localities, is prevalent throughout Michigan.

Efforts of Charlevoixans to quench their thirst, and save their gardens and lawns, taxed the capacity of the municipal water pumping station. Figures show that the gallonage pumped during the hot spell ran to the astounding total of 1,500,000 gallons daily. Pumps ran without a halt 24 hours daily to keep up with the consumption.

Interesting also is the rapid rise of water temperature in Lake Michigan and Lake Charlevoix. Almost too cold for comfortable bathing before July 4, the water temperature in Lake Michigan climbed to 81 degrees Monday. Charlevoix's several bathing beaches were never before so popular as local and summer residents sought relief from the heat.

DR. PARKES CADMAN IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Was Koown to Charlevoix Citizens As Commencement Speaker

Followers from many faiths today mourned the death of Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, a one-time English coal miner who became one of the most beloved and influential men in America.

His body was taken to New York on Monday from Pluttsburg where he died Sunday, a week after he was stricken with appendicitis and peritonitis. He was 71.

Dr. Cadman, noted as a radio preacher and heard by millions, was commencement speaker in Charlevoix in 1934.

TOWNSEND CLUB WILL ELECT THURSDAY NIGHT

An important meeting of the Charlevoix Townsend Club will be held at 8 o'clock Thursday evening at the court house.

Election of officers will be held at this time and a program of talks will be given. All interested persons are invited to attend.

SCHOOLS IN FINE FINANCIAL SHAPE

WILL START 1936-37 YEAR WITH SUBSTANTIAL BALANCE

Carl Kohler Re-Elected, Dr. Carleton Dean Succeeds W. P. Hickeo As Board Member

Two members of the board of education were elected, Carl F. Kohler to succeed himself, and Dr. Carleton Dean to replace William P. Hicken, resigned. Kohler was elected from a field of three, including also Earl A. Young and C. S. Webster, on the fourth ballot.

That Charlevoix school will start the 1936-37 year in excellent financial condition was indicated by the treasurer's report. In round figures the operating fund has a balance of $11,000, and the debt service fund a balance of $4,000, which, according to estimates, will allow a reduction of one mill in the tax for debt service another year. Higher collection of taxes than anticipated, a fuller payment of state aid, and economy in operation accounted for the fine balances. A total of $27,000 in delinquent taxes is outstanding, also $8,000 impounded funds.

The district's bonded indebtedness was reported at $59,500 which is being reduced at the rate of $10,000 per year plus interest. The issue will be cleaned up on January 1, 1942.

The secretary's report revealed that by taking advantage of the federal WPA program the buildings and property of the school were kept in good condition. Some of the improvements completed were decorating interior of the grade building, enlarging the dining room, calking windows, cleaning storage rooms, stock room for the manual training department and refinishing of desks and chairs. Improvements contemplated are enlarging of the manual arts department to provide means for mechanical drawing, insulation of the high school ceiling to prevent heat loss, painting outside of high school building, completion of the athletic field and ventilation of the high school building.

In view of the balances on hand, tho many improvements completed and the general good condition of the school system, the board of education is to be complimented on its satisfactory conduct.

KIWANIANS HEARD INTERESTING TALK ON TUESDAY

Youth Interested in Football Hear "Tad" Wiemann Next Meeting

Dr. Brock, editor of the Sugar Beet Journal and educational director of the Farmers & Manufacturers Beet Sugar Association, not only gave a comparison between beet and cane sugar, but also proved himself one of the most interesting speakers ever to appear before the Kiwanis. One member remarked: "Walter Winchell has nothing on this fellow."

An interesting meeting is scheduled for next Tuesday evening. "Tad" Wiemann, head coach at Princeton University and a counsellor at Camp Charlevoix, will be the speaker. All local young men interested in football are invited to be guests of the Kiwanis that evening.

MEGGISON CANDIDATE FOR PROBATE JUDGE

Will Seek Nomination on Republican Ticket at September Primary

County politics showed the first sign of activity this week with the announcement of Clarence B. Meggison of his candidacy for the Republican nomination as Judge of Probate at the September primary election.

Mr. Meggison, formerly manager of the Charlevoix Cooperative Association, prominent in Grange and Legion circles and Charlevoix postmaster four years, is the first candidate to announce for county office.

CORRESPONDENCE

BEAVER ISLAND

Glen Logan, Detroit, has joined his wife at the Bonner cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Constance McCauley, of Detroit, are vacationing here.

Mrs. Roland McDonough was a business visitor in Charlevoix last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Golay, Detroit and St. James, spent Wednesday in Charlevoix.

Dr. and Mrs. Hassell Palmer were visitors in Charlevoix and Petoskey the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurston, Chicago, are back at the Beaver Hotel for the summer season.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford White entertained with a party at their home last Saturday evening.

Nels Lafreniere and Lloyd McDonough were business visitors in Charlevoix and Petoskey last week.

Sergeant Wilkes and family, of Detroit, are now occupying Archie Lafreniere's cottage on the Bluff.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Cole are vacationing with Mr. Cole's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Cole, at Nomad.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles McCann, of Bay City, visited with Dr. McCann's mother, Mrs. Grace McCann, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Buddy White and daughter returned home after a few weeks' visit with relatives and friends in Chicago.

Miss Helen Ray and her friend, returned to Chicago this week. They will return to Raycraft, the Ray cottage, at Nomad, the first of August for the remainder of the summer season.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert McCauley and family, of Detroit, have returned to their summer home here. They have with them as a guest for the summer, Miss Shirley McDonald, also of Detroit.

Warm weather has brought many of our old summer friends hurrying back to Michigan's balmy breezes and refreshing waters. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hefflin, Chicago, have opened their summer home, and the Burns cottage was also opened last week to receive its owners for the summer.

Miss Robert Schied, Chicago, is back in her summer home after a brief stay in the Petoskey Hospital, where she underwent an operation for the removal of tonsils and adenoids. Dr. Parks, of Petoskey, attended her. Miss Schied is recovering rapidly and soon will be among her friends to partake of all carefree summer activities.

A midnight supper was given in honor of Captain and Mrs. Ludwig at Archie Lafreniere's cottage last Tuesday evening. Among those who attended were Captain and Mrs. Ludwig, Mr. and Mrs. Nels Lafreniere, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McDonough, Mrs. John Maloney, the Misses Winifred, Rita and Helen Lafreniere, Irene Boyle, Elvira Gillespie, Audrey Anderson, Grace Bradley and Ebbie Maloney, and the Messrs. Archie, Vernon and Joseph Lafreniere, Lawrence McDonough, Edwin McCann, Norbert Gallagher, Jack Schied, Neil Gallagher and Charles Pischner.

Announcement of the annual August supper sponsored by the ladies of the Altar Society has been made by the society's new officers. Mrs. James W. Gallagher is honored with the office of president; Mrs. Raymond Cole, vice-president; Mrs. Frank O'Donnell, secretary, and Mrs. George Ricksgers, treasurer. The date set for the supper is earlier this year, August 9. The affair is always a gala event, a time for a real homecoming for all former residents who are employed in the larger cities of Michigan, Illinois and elsewhere. Watch for further notice in this paper concerning the event. It is expected a special excursion will take care of late arrivals from the cities and friends in Charlevoix and Petoskey.

Rising temperatures never before known to this cool green isle have crowded our favorite swimming beaches and makes our village seem almost deserted. Crowds of picnickers have taken advantage of our beautiful drive around the Island which is almost completed, and many new coves and beaches ideal for beach suppers and swimming are thronged with Islanders and summer residents. The new drive is so cool and lovely. Old friends and new friends of Beaver Island will be enchanted with it. Through miles of winding road along the lake, the trees form a perfect canopy of green. Wild flowers and ferns grow in profusion along the way, and the pounding of the surf mingled with the rustle of swaying trees and fragrant pine make it one of the most relaxing as well as most beautiful of Michigan's drives. Sunsets viewed from the bluffs and sand dunes at Iron Ore Bay where the old road joins the new are utterly lovely.

NORWOOD

William Alward is building an addition to his barn on his farm near Norwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Murray, of East Jordan, were Sunday guests of Miss Bertha Pierce.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Smith, a daughter, July 10, weighing eight pounds. Name, Maxine Joyce.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wolter, of Chicago, arrived here Saturday, where they were guests of relatives until Tuesday.

At a school meeting Monday evening at Norwood, Fred Hull, whose term as moderator had expired, was again elected to the same office.

Stanley Wagner, of Flint, enjoyed a delightful visit and fishing and other outdoor sport at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer McKay last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wagner very delightfully entertained their twin son and daughter and their families, Mrs. George Light and Floyd Wagner, at their home Friday evening, it being their birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jones and their grandson, Robert Jones, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Jones' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Newland, and family, at their cottage in Central Lake, where they are summering.

During the past week of hot and dry weather, everyone is trying every known remedy to try and keep cool. Bathing and picnicking at the beach, while others eat and sleep on their lawns at home. The dry weather has damaged the fruit and crops badly in our locality.

FARMERS TO SEE NEW TYPE SILAGE

Sweet Tooth for Cow May Develop from Experiment to Be Shown

If cows in Michigan develop the weakness or strength that humans find in having "a sweet tooth" then part of the credit for the achievement can be given the farm crops department at Michigan State College. Two silos filled with alfalfa, one filling mixed with molasses, will be opened at 9 a. m. for inspection by farmers visiting the college campus on the annual Farmer-' Day, Friday, July 31.

During the day's program built around the state's celebration of having more than a million acres in alfalfa this year, more than any other state, all departments at the college will participate in describing experimental work. Test plots for crops, livestock and machinery and buildings can be inspected in the morning. A program of speeches will be held in the afternoon.

The two silos containing the alfalfa and the molasses and alfalfa are located on the college farm on Mt. Hope road about a mile south of the main campus. Haymaking demonstrations will be held in an adjoining field.

According to H. C. Rather, head of the farm crops department at Michigan State College, the new method of ensiling alfalfa is evidently one of the most valuable of the recent developments in agricultural experiment work. During wet weather or in late fall, the method promises to permit saving the alfalfa crop with excellent feeding quality. Similar silage has been made and fed on a commercial scale at the W. K. Kellogg farm and Upper Peninsula substations of the college.

RAKE LAWNS OBTAIN HARDWOOD SEEDINGS

Wolverine CCC Enrollees Visit Cities to Carry Out Work

When CCC boys of Camp Wolverine, searching for red maple and soft maple seeds in the Hardwood State Forest reported slow progress because of the widely scattered trees, Foreman Fred Stokes took them to the spacious lawns in Petoskey, Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan and secured the seed in record time.

The consent of property owners was willingly given, Mr. Stokes reported, when he explained that the seed was being collected for planting in the new Hardwood State Forest nursery. The boys then raked the seed from the lawns and transported it immediately to the nursery. Each day's harvest of seed was planted on the following day.

The seed planted first has already sprouted to two and even three inch seedlings, and will be of sufficient size to be transplanted in other state forests this fall or next spring, according to Superintendent Carlos LeGuire of Camp Wolverine.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

Edited by Ed. Taylor

Many interesting events have passed since the last writing of this column und many more will come before another paper comes out, so in this short space we will try to outline what's what at Charlevoix.

Last Tuesday the annual obstacle race took place with the Greens barely winning over the Greys. The Greens got an early start but then the Grey team took the lead. The final event decided the contest with Jim Daniels beating Vernon Evans in the water boiling contest.

Our hard haseball team lost their first game when Camp Algonquin came down last Wednesday and won a 9-4 five-inning battle. Both sides were handicapped by the heat but played good ball. Bud Summerfield and Brad Nolan did the pitching for the Indians with Ken Gann catching. Gann hit a homer and Karn a three bagger to help the Charlevoix cause out in the last inning.

Saturday afternoon the second boxing show was held. Several return matches were held and despite the heat and guests the boys put on some good battles. Jackie Farr whipped Jimmy James in the opener. Jackie is the only junior to win both of his fights.

In the second bout Dave Bennett licked Johnny Avis after three rounds of hard fighting. Hap Hubbard came back after losing last week and beat Popeye Ford.

In the first of the intermediate fights Gilbert Wickwire trounced Oliver Ayres. In what was perhaps the most bitterly fought battle of the day's program, Bruce Laing beat Junior Farr. Both boys went after each other with all the fury of wildeats and the punches flew thick and fast during the entire three rounds.

Allen McGregor won over Maynard Swan in the next fight. Don Blue outpointed Dick Thomas in a fast tilt. Another battle royal brought together Bill Palmer and Paul Piccard. Palmer gave Piccard a bad beating but the latter fought back bravely and held on gamely.

The semi-final bout was between Ken Gann and John Kohl. Gann won a close decision. The main event was a tussle between Jim Karn and Bud Summerfield and after three rounds of good boxing Summerfield's hand was raised in victory.

The added attraction of the show was an extra weight encounter between San Ladd and Ed Taylor. (Note — Your eorrespondent is still recovering from some of Ladd's left hooks to the midsection.) After three rounds of fighting which saw both contestants nearly exhausted Ladd received the sign of victory. The bout was supposed to be taken easy but several of the winner'a powerful left hooks did no end of damage when tbey collided with Taylor's middle.

The Greys finally have the Mugwump but only after the Greens had piled up a five point advantage. It seems that one of the Greens was a bit careless in hiding the sacred stick and Bob Farr of the Greys found it. Since securing it tbe Greys have shown it once and hope to add onto their total and catch up with their rivals.

In the intermediate swimming meet Saturday afternoon, the Greens won by a 23-22 margin. Skid Livingstone was the high scorer of the meet by winning three firsts. Dick Friedlander won the other two events to take second scoring honors.

Bob Bogue's cabin started out on an overnight in the sailboat Monday night but, after going only 100 yards or so, they came back with the boat and took eanoes. Those going on the trip were Al Grinnel, Mike Riley, Jim Abbott, Dick Thomas, Longyear Palmer, and Jack Hawley.

Last Thursday night, Kemp Burton and San Ladd took their groups over to Walloon Lake on an overnight. On the same night, Jack Hogan, Bob Lyon, Ken Smith, Jim Karn, Jim Daniels, and Herb Berdan went down the Jordan. The trip came through without any upsettings, but Hogan got a real sunburn.

Thursday afternoon will probably see most of the older boys washing their ears and scrubbing up. The reason . . . the first party with Kamp Kairphree. The girls down the lake are going to be the hostesses for the first of the annual series of social events and the boys are anxiously awaiting the fatal hour to arrive.

Wednesday nur athletic teams will go to Camp Algonquin for an Athletic Day program. The two camps will engage in riflery, swimming, tennis, hard ball, and soft ball. Saturday the Algonquin boys will return the visit and come here for a program of almost the same list of events.

Saturday night a minstrel show will be presented in the clubhouse. Several famous black face comedians have been imported from Ethiopia for the show and many other famous minstrelmen from different parts of the nation have been obtained.

Saturday, July 25, is Dad's Day. All you dads are urged to get here and spend the day with your son or sons. Come for breakfast and go through the whole day's program with your boys. There will be the annual ball games in the afternoon with the big banquet at night.

A feature of the program will be the presence in camp of David Irwin, who made a heroic 3,500 mile trip across the Arctic. Mr. Irwin will be the guest of Phil Huber and will give a lecture during his short stay in camp.

OVER 200 FARMERS HAVE FED. LANK BANK LOANS

Observing this week the 20-year anniversary of the passing of the farm loan act of 1916, which marked the beginning of cooperative eredit for farmers in the United States, President Roy A. Nelson of the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul, said that there are 243 farmers in Charlevoix county who have federal land bank or commissioner's loans.

1,200,000 JOIN S. O. ROAD TEST OF GAS MILEAGE

One million two hundred thousand motorists have joined Standard Oil's mileage test in 14 states, it was announced today by Edward C. Seubert, president of Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

That is four times as many participants as were counted on at the beginning of the test. The first lot of 300,000 record books and redcrown gold-winged emblems was exhausted almost before the test was well started, and dealers and motorists were clamoring for more. These were supplied until a total of 1,200,000 kits had been given out.

The test opened May 1, and July 5 was the last day for entrance. Participants who entered the contest the final day have until September 18 to send in their records and their comments on their experience in "learning the truth about gasoline mileage."

Cash prizes totalling $5,000 and 500 merchandise awards are to be presented to those who submit the best records and comments, as judged by an impartial board. The prizes will not go necessarily to those who report the best mileage totals, as differences in cars will naturally be taken into account. All-around completeness of the report will be an important factor.

The test is expected to demonstrate, at least to all participating, that claims based on laboratory or official road tests can be almost anything, but the mileage that counts is the mileage that the consumer actually gets in his own car. Standard Oil sales executives are not without confidence also that the test will demonstrate to participants that Standard gasoline has what it takes to get good mileage.

Data provided by the records sent in by contestants will be utilized by Standard engineers to get a new slant on the performance of gasoline under the conditions of every-day use.

COUNTY 4-H CLUB PICNIC EVENT OF JULY 23

Nearly Two Hundred Members and Leaders to Assemble at Bay Shore

One of the big events of the summer is the 4-H Club county picnic which will be held Thursday, July 23, at Bay Shore. All winter as well as summer club members are invited to attend.

Miss Bird and Mr. Lundin of Michigan State College will be there to help with the various eontests.

Events will start around 9 o'clock. It is planned that most of the afternoon will be spent with recreational activities.

The winners of all events will have the chance of representing Charlevoix county at the Gaylord Club camp which will be held the week of August 10.

Charlevoix county has a large summer 4-H Club enrollment. Around 150 boys and girls have enrolled.

How do I Oil-Plate my engine?

You do it while you drive. It is no work at all, and costs nothing extra. Oil-Plating comes from the sure union that will take place between all working parts of your engine and Conoco Germ Processed Oil—patented. This is the first oil ever especially alloyed so that it does not merely flow on, but plates on! Therefore it does not flow off, letting precious metals scrape and scorch. Instead it keeps them Oil-Plated. CONTRACT POTATOES FOR DETROIT MARKET

Farmers to Pool Tubers Under New Plan Sponsored in Michigan

An effort is now being made to sell the higher quality potatoes to better advantage in Detroit. Last year a consumers' potato show was held in Detroit to encourage the buying of Michigan potatoes rather thnn Maine and Idaho potatoes. A marketing organization will be perfected in Detroit to handle the production from farmers who are delivering high quality potatoes.

Henry C. Moore, potato specialist from Michigan State College, in company with County Agent Mellencamp, spent two days last week in contacting a large number of farmers. In this new project each lot of potatoes will be stored separately and a fancy grade will be made from each lot if it will be of advantage to the grower. Then a constant supply of high quality potatoes can be furnished the demand in Detroit throughout the marketing year.

In order to join this program, the potatoes must be planted early so that they will mature properly, be sprayed sufficiently and harvested carefully. Only four communities in the state will handle this new project so the results will be watched with great interest by potato growers in this aren.

RAIN NEEDED TO SAVE MICHIGAN FARM CROPS

Although crop conditions in Michigan declined quite generally during the month of June as a result of inadequate rainfall, the outlook on July 1 this year was more promising than for the same date in the recent drought year of 1934.

According to the July 1 report of the Michigan Cooperative Crop Reporting Service, the composite condition of the major field and fruit crops of the state was 70 per cent, which compares with 77 per cent for July 1, 1935, and only 57 per cent on July 1, 1934. Rains the last week of June and the first week of July relieved conditions somewhat in the major crop areas of Lower Michigan, but recent continued high temperatures since the July 1 crop reports were collected have undoubtedly resulted in additional crop damage.

In general, crop conditions on July 1 were poorest in the west-central and southwestern counties of the Lower Peninsula. However, Michigan farmers generally are fortunate in that they have relatively large holdings of feed grains and hay carried over from last year.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY GIRLS WIN AWARDS

Two Hayes Township Girls Given 4-H Club Scholarships

Selection of an all state honor roll and scholarship list in 4-H Club work in Michigan for the past year was announced at Michigan State College Thursday, July 9, during the annual 4-H Club Week for southern counties in the state.

Girls on the honor roll were selected from the 15,000 who participated the past winter in clothing projects, according to A. G. Ketchum, state 4-H Club leader. Boys winning a place on the honor roll and getting scholarships were among the 7,500 boys enrolled the past year in handicraft projects in the state. Scholarships of $95 were awarded by the Michigan State Board of Agriculture to 12 girls and 11 boys.

Included in the list for the honor roll was Eleanor Abel for work in clothing, Route No. 3, Charlevoix. A scholarship was awarded to Elinor Howe, Route No. 3, Charlevoix.

COUNTY SOIL CONSERVING PAYS $.9.90 ACRE

The average rate of the Class I or soil-conserving payment for Charlevoix county under the 1936 program is $9.90 an acre, according to Maurice Doan, chairman of the Michigan Agricultural Conservation committee.

Mr. Doan points out that the rate for each farm will depend upon the productivity of the land on the farm and may vary considerably from the average rate for the county. Farms more productive than the average for the county will receive rates bigher than the county. Less productive farms will receive lower rate.

The county average payment applies to the diversion of acreage to soil-conserving crops or uses from the general soil-depleting crops, such as corn, oats, wheat and barley. Special payments apply in connection with the production of sugar beets and flax.

Rev. G. A. Weaver, missionary of Petoskey, was a caller at the A. Snitseler and J. W. Morse homes here last Wednesday.

Mr. Sinclair, of the East Jordan Canning Company, was a business caller in the neighborhood last Monday. Mr. Rood, of the Ellsworth Canning Company, called last week.

Tom Edwards, of Flint, a former resident here but now a WPA administrator, called here Saturday. He said business is booming there (at Flint) and if a vote was taken it would be 5 to 1 in favor of Roosevelt. He said they can't get enough painters. Jay Emery, who has worked in the auto factories of Flint for 15 years, says factories have closed, and times are the dullest in three years. He says paint job is on, but don't know how long the work will last. Then, too, everybody can't paint. This is the way the Poor Dealers represent things. Rev. Weaver says they tell how many men are put on jobs, but don't tell how many are taken off. At the same time Mr. Edwards (Democrat) was telling about Flint booming, Chicago was telling over the radio that 11,500 city workers were discharged, and that a long bread line was bombarding Mayor Kelly's office for something to eat. Rev. Weaver, who is a charity officer, and has been for 30 years, says he never saw conditions of the poor so bad.

Candidates Warned of Petition Rule

Nominating petitions for any candidate who files with the secretary of state, county or city clerks, cannot be accepted unless accompanied by an affidavit concerning any change in name of the candidate, Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, points out.

The law covering the "change of name" affidavit was passed by the 1935 Legislature. Many petitions have already been received without this affidavit, which results only in delay until the form is filled out and filed with the petitions.

With the approach of the July 28 deadline for receiving petitions, some candidates failing to conform with this law, may not be qualified for places on the ballot if they file too late to permit return of this form for filling out and filing, Atwood points out.

The law specifically bars the secretary of state from accepting petitions not accompanied by the affidavits made on the prescribed form. These forms are available at the Department of State and at the offices of city and county clerks.

Provisions of the state election law covering the signing of nominating petitions for candidates for state and local offices, have also been cited by Atwood, for the guidance of signers.

It is unlawful for any voter to sign more than one nominating petition for the same office, save where there are two or more persons to be elected to the same office, Section 2874 of the Compiled Laws of 1929 provides. Violation of this provision of the law is classed as a misdemeanor.

Thus, no voter in Michigan may lawfully sign nominating petitions for more than one candidate for any local office, save in the frequent case of election of two or more circuit court commissioners or circuit judges. In any event, voters may sign the petitions of only as many candidates to the same office as there are persons to be elected to that office.

Voters are also cautioned that it is unlawful to sign the petition of any candidate for any office, more than once. Many instances of this violation have been noted on petitions already filed; duplicate signatures are eliminated as petitions are checked.

Michigan farmers will save more than $257,000 during the next year in interest on land bank loans now outstanding through the continuance of the three and one-half per cent rate by act of Congress which was approved June 25, it was learned this week from the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul.

This same rate will also affect new as well as old land bank loans made through national farm loan associations and apply to all interest payments coming due before July 1, 1937. The three and one-half per cent rate which was enacted more than a year ago as a benefit to offset some of the adversities under which agriculture had been operating, was to have expired on June 30 this year.

Under the law as amended the special reduced rate is extended one year, after which time all loans will be returned to the interest rate at which they were written, as the law does not change the contract rate, but operates only as a temporary reduction.

SET UP PROGRAM FOR FARM WOMEN

M. S. C. Invites Rural Housewives to Attend Conference July 26 to 30

Farm women from all sections of the state are being invited to spend five days in rest, study and recreation on the campus of Michigan State College, East Lansing, during the annual Farm Women's Week Sunday through Thursday, July 26 to 30. Activities in the campus for the week are terminated in the annual Farmers' Day program Friday, July 31.

In outlining the conference, R. W. Tenny, short course director at the college, describes the program as an opportunity for farm women in the state to study home and community problems, to have a week's vacation and rest to better meet these problems, to make new friends and meet old acquaintances, to enjoy the beautiful campus and to gain inspiration.

In brief, the program offers registration and a lawn supper Sunday afternoon and evening. Monday, July 27, the women visitors will hear Dr. Sarah VanHoosen Jones, manager of her own farm near Rochester, Mich. Her subject is "A Woman as a Farm Manager." Clothing, foods and nutrition, home furnishing, home management and child development will be taken up in sections which the women can follow up during the week.

During each day the women are urged to attend a different discussion group, participate in hobbies and enter into the program of rest and recreation as well. Conclusion of the program is Thursday evening, July 30. The speaker will be Miss Grace Frysinger, senior home economist for the Central States Extension Service of the United States Department of Agriculture.

REPORT PROGRESS IN SOIL PROGRAM

Estimated 190,000 Will Request Federal Grants for Participation

An estimated 190,000 farm owners and tenants in Michigan will participate in the national soil conservation program. Some counties are almost ready to turn in complete sets of work sheets, fill out and set up county bases for participation and apply for the federal grants that will be paid on compliance, it is announced by Maurice Doan, chairman of the Michigan Agricultural Conservation committee.

Although the last phases of the work preliminary to payments will include surveys of each farm to measure compliance and cannot be completed before fall, those counties which complete the present preliminary work first are likely to be the first to receive the benefit checks, according to the federal and state extension service.

The amount of money that will come into Michigan for participation in the program can only be estimated. Approximately nine million acres in the state are being considered for setting up state and county quotas. Three million acres are considered soil depleting, according to Chairman Doan. Conversion to soil maintaining crops could include 360,000 acres, which at an estimated $11 an acre average would pay farmers in the state $3,960,000 if all farmers participated in the program.

On the remaining six million acres now maintaining soil fertility, a maximum of $1 an acre could be paid for this maintenance of good practices, or a total payment to the 190,000 farmers of between five and six million dollars for the Class Two payments. Considering the late start and newness of the program, according to Mr. Doan, the program and acceptance by farmers has made good progress.

SEEKING NEW RAW MEAT FEED FOR FINGERLINGS

High Cost of Raw Liver Makes Move by Conservation Dept. Necessary

Hoping to remove the expensive raw-meat item from the food menu of hatchery fish and still grow contented and healthy fingerlings, fisheries authorities of Michigan are conducting extensive experiments with food substitutes at the Wolf Lake hatchery at Kalamazoo.

Twenty lots of hatchery trout of approximately 1,000 fish each, are being used for the experiments.

Each lot of fish will be fed different types of substitute foods over an extended period of time, such as fresh ground fish, fish meal and "tankage," which consists of refuse from packing plants. Cereals of various kinds also will be tried.

If any of these food or combinations of foods prove good enough to serve as a permanent substitute for raw meat, which has become so expensive as almost to be prohibitive, it will be placed on the hatchery fish bill-of-fare.

The experiments are being conducted under the supervision of Dr. Louis Wolf of the Institute for Fisheries Research, Department of Conservation; Superintendent V. G. Marks and James Wilkinson of the Wolf Lake state fish hatchery.

AUTOMOBILE FATALITIES SHOW DECREASE

Automobile Accident Deaths Drop from Previous Year

Automobile accident deaths in Michigan continued to show a decrease of eight per cent for the first five months of 1936 over the corresponding period of last year, according to tentative figures released by the State Department of Health. There were 111 traffic deaths in May, 20 of which occurred in Wayne county, bringing the total for the year to 527.

Last year there were 575 automobile deaths in the same period, and 580 lives were lost by similar means in 1934. A total of 1,660 lives were lost in automobile accidents in 1935, the highest toll on record in this state.

Blondes and brunettes are different races of women and redheads may be unlike either. An unusual scientific story in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next Sunday's Chicago Herald and Examiner.

New Rulings in Soil Conservation Program Received

Since last week's issue, two or three announcements have been received that have a direct bearing on the soil conservation program.

In the first place, contrary to the original announcement, it has now been decided by the federal office that after July 1 the expenses of carrying out the program must be deducted from the payments made to farmers. The county committee will make every effort possible to keep the expenses of the program down to a minimum so that the maximum payments can be made to farmers. No work for pay will be done by township committeemen unless authorized by the county committee.

During the last three weeks very little activity has taken place in the program because the state committee has neither confirmed nor rejected the totals sent in for this county. As soon as the totals are okayed for the county, the county committee will take the necessary steps in making whatever changes have to be made to meet the state requirements.

O. I. Gregg, Landscape Specialist, Makes Out New Outlines

As a result of Mr. Gregg's visit, five or six more homes will be beautified. In addition personal visits were made to several other homes to make suggestions relative to beautifying the surroundings.

Planting plans were made out for Paul Skornia, Boyne City; Sam Straw, of Charlevoix; Grant Kime, of Boyne City, and Mrs. Walters, Boyne City. Also time was spent in visiting the Jordan Valley Creamery Company in discussing what can be done to make it more attractive.

This work is to be continued next year. Over 40 plans have now been made out in this county and several farm homes now show the value of this activity. However, in too many cases farmers have not made use of the plans already made out. It is hoped that in the near future farmers will carry out their outlines already prepared by Mr. Gregg.

Amount of Soil Conserving Payments Per Acre Announced

The average rate of the Class I or soil conserving payment for Charlevoix county under the 1936 farm program is $9.90 an acre, according to Maurice Doan, chairman of the Michigan Agricultural Conservation committee.

Mr. Doan points out that the rate for each farm will depend upon the productivity of the land on the farm and may vary considerably from the average rate for the county. Farms more productive than the average for the county will receive rates higher than the county. Less productive farms will receive lower rate.

The county average payment applies only to the diversion of acreage to soil-conserving crops or uses from the general soil-depleting crops, such as corn, oats, wheat and barley.

The maximum acreage upon which farmers can receive Class I payments is 15 per cent of the general soil-depleting base acreage for the farm. These Class I payments are distinct from the Class II or soil-building payments which will be made to cooperative farmers who follow approved soil-building practices on their farms. Producers may qualify for one or both of these payments. The soil-building payment to each farmer is limited by his soil building allowance which is the same number of dollars as there are acres of soil-conserving crops on crop land in his farm this year.

In most cases, the Class I rate for an individual farm will be established by comparing the appraised yield of the farm's most important soil-depleting crop with the average yield of the crop for the entire county. In every case, Mr. Doan said, only the crop or crops were used which accurately indicate the productivity of the farm as compared with other farms in the county.

As an example, suppose corn is the principal soil-depleting crop on the farm, and the appraised normal yield of corn for the farm is 36 bushels an acre. Then suppose that the normal average yield for the county is 40 bushels an acre. The productivity of the farm would be 30/40, which is the same as 90 per cent. The rate of the soil-conserving payment for the farm, then, would be 90 per cent of the county rate of $9.90 per acre.

Edward G. Robinson In Hard Boiled Sleuth Role

Back in a part which affords him all of the opportunities for characterization that "Little Caesar" gave him, Edward G. Robinson, one of the finest actors on stage or screen is playing the stellar role in First National's "Bullets or Ballots," which shows at the Palace Theatre July 19-20.

In this film he plays the part of a hard-boiled detective of the two-fisted school who breaks up an organization of racketeers.

Some like romance — some like thrills — some like comedy — and "Big Brown Eyes," which opens July 21 at the Palace Theatre, with Joan Bennett and Cary Grant sharing the leading roles, will please 'em all, because it's got everything!

New Leading Role for Rochelle Hudson

A story of courage, adventure and blazing love on the Northland trail comes July 23 to the Palace Theatre in the stirring Fox picturization of James Oliver Curwood's novel, "The Country Beyond."

Rochelle Hudson, Paul Kelly and Robert Kent are the principal players. Kent and Kelly are "mounties" who take Miss Hudson's father, Alan Hale, in custody for a killing. But Hale, who is innocent, eludes the officers with his daughter and sets out after the real criminal.

Marion Davies in "Hearts Divided"

Marion Davies, in her latest Cosmopolitan production, "Hearts Divided," a First National release with a romantic historical background, opens at the Palace Theatre July 24.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By Ann Page

Butter is four cents a pound higher than ten days ago and ten cents higher than last year at this time. Eggs, however, are cheaper than last year though their price has begun its seasonal climb.

Heat and drought will no doubt affect other food supplies and prices but at the moment fresh fruits and vegetables are plentiful and reasonably priced

Beef is somewhat lower, choice quality lamb remains high though there is plenty of cheap undergrade lamb available and other meats are steady. Small fowl, broiling and frying chickens are reasonable. Salt water fish is fairly plentiful and inexpensive and it is excellent served cold.

Potatoes are again reasonable.

Low Cost Dinner
Cold Cuts Potato Salad
Pickled Beets
Tapioca Cream with Berries
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Cold Fried Chicken Vegetable Salad
Sliced Tomatoes
Bread and Butter
Peach Shortcake
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner
Melon Cups
Celery Carrot Sticks
Fried Chicken Parsley Potatoes
Green Beans
Rolls and Butter
New Apple Pie Cheese

LOCAL HISTORY IS WANTED FOR STATE RECORDS

Local centennial celebration committees throughout the state are requested by the Centennial Celebration Joint Committee in Lansing to send in the complete programs of their celebrations and such local historical data as may have been discovered during the local celebration, for permanent filing with the Michigan Historical Commission.

New historical information of real value was gained in organizing and staging local centennials. In order that it may not be lost but made available for public use, it is desirable to have this matter assembled and classified at the state capitol for reference and information

"TOUGH GUY" ISO-VIS "D" CAN TAKE IT!

KEEPS YOUR OIL LEVEL UP AND YOUR OIL COST DOWN

Standard's Premium Quality Motor Oil laughs at long hauls

Here's motor oil that doesn't get tired! Neither the long grind of summer driving nor frying engine temperatures can sweat out the qualities which make it good—it's tough!

By a special process, sludge-forming and carbon-forming impurities have been removed from ISO-VIS "D"—it's all oil! The things that weaken other oils with wear are removed from ISO-VIS "D". That's why it's so good! That's why it lasts.

And it's only a Quarter a Quart!
Plus Michigan General Sales Tax 1c a qt. plus Federal Tax 1c a qt. — total 27c a quart

Swing through your Summer's driving with new economy, new engine protection—ISO-VIS "D" will give you these. It's for sale at the sign of STANDARD SERVICE. Annual Report of the Secretary, Board of Education, Charlevoix
July 13, 1936

During the last year regular meetings of the Board of Education have been held on the first and third Monday of each month.

By taking advantage of the Federal Building Programs, the buildings and property of the school have been kept in good condition. Some of the improvements completed are: Decoration of the inside of the grade school building, enlarging of the dining room, windows calked, clean storage rooms, stock room for the manual training department, and refinishing of school desks and chairs. Among other improvements arranged for are: Extension to the manual arts department to provide means for mechanical drawing, insulation of the high school ceiling against heat loss, painting outside of High School building, completion of the athletic field, and ventilation of the high school building.

The bonded indebtedness of the district is now $59,500 which is now being reduced at the average rate of ten thousand a year plus interest. The issue will be paid up on January 1st, 1942. Due to the high collection of delinquent taxes the past year, and the high percent of current taxes paid there has accumulated in the treasury about $4,000 for payment of debt service. The rate of tax for debt service this next year can be reduced at least a mill. Higher collection of taxes than anticipated, and a fuller payment of state aid plus economy accounts for a balance of $11,000 in the operating fund. Having a balance is fortunate. State aid is based on the number on the census list, and on the average membership. Both of these numbers are getting smaller. The county tax allocation commission has again allowed this school district only four mills for operating which, together with the lowering of assessed valuation within the city, will make it possible to maintain the present program for a few years, but additions to the school program and instructional costs will have to wait for more state aid or the permission to spread more tax on district property.

There is still outstanding $27,000 in delinquent tax. Also $8,000 in closed banks. Only a portion of this can be depended on. Out of an operating budget of $42,000 at present, as compared to $57,000 of recent years, the district's contribution cannot be more than $11,000.

School equipment, which has not been much added to or replaced during the last three years, will be attended to out of the surplus. In looking forward and considering possible income, the Board of Education estimates that any money on hand will be used for the next few years in keeping the schools at their present standard.

C. B. MEGGISON, Secretary.

BELVEDERE HOTEL

July 14: Mrs. Ernest Roberts, Baltimore, Md., and an all-season guest at Belvedere Hotel, was hostess to a large party of friends at a luncheon-bridge on Tuesday. Varieted delicately colored flowers were artistically arranged in low bowls, and dainty pieces of fern were noted down the center of the tables, while pink and light green tapers cast a soft glow over the luncheon table. Following the luncheon hour, Mrs. Roberts invited her guests to adjourn to the solarium of the hotel, where they enjoyed an afternoon of bridge. At the end of the afternoon's play, attractive prizes were awarded to those holding top scores.

Covers at luncheon were laid for Mrs. Trigg Waller, Mrs. Leonard Matthews, Mrs. G. Witherspoon, Mrs. Carl Steiner, Mrs. R. Vernon Clark, Mrs. Charles B. Fox, Mrs. W. N. Bemis, Mrs. James Ingham, Miss Mariet Heaton, Miss F. Grey, Mrs. George Tramel, Mrs. Elizabeth S. Pingree, Mrs. A. Eberts, Mrs. W. A. Layman, Mrs. B. Nabors, Mrs. W. B. Stewart, Mrs. Charles O. Roemler, Mrs. E. E. Pershall, Mrs. Edith G. Hodge, Mrs. J. C. Bagby, Mrs. Arthur P. Taylor, Mrs. E. N. Beach, Mrs. A. Grey, Mrs. J. W. Fristoe, Mrs. Edith McGuire, Mrs. S. B. Ball, Mrs. Elmer Kaiper, Mrs. A. Landis, Miss Helen Schlafly, Mrs. G. Holliday, and Mrs. L. S. Rupert.

The first of the series of Sunday evening concerts was presented by the Stulberg Trio, who have returned for their fourth season at Belvedere. The Trio is comprised of Julius Stulberg, director and violinist, David Pratt, 'cellist, and Joseph Evans, pianist. The Trio is planning to present many unusually interesting programs throughout the season.

Joseph Evans rendered an unusually fine piano solo, selecting for his presentation Chopin's lovely "Nocturne in F Minor." Other outstanding numbers presented by the Trio were The Rosary, by Nevin; Moment Musical, by Schubert; Vienna Life Waltzes, Johann Strauss; Trio in G Major, by Mozart; Autumn and Winter, from "The Seasons," by Glazounow.

STATE FERRIES HIT HIGH MARK JULY 4TH

Automobiles Carried in Excess of Any Previous Holiday Mark

July 4 traffic at the Straits of Mackinac swelled to unprecedented heights when the three state boats carried 2,425 automobiles in one day, according to figures of the State Highway Department.

It was the second largest day in history in addition to being the best business for any July 4 celebration in history. On Labor Day last year the ferries carried 2,625 cars, an all-time record.

The 2,425 cars Saturday represented an increase of 809 over July 4, 1935. Sunday, the total traffic was 2,195, or an increase of 944 over July 5 last year.

KAMP KAIRPHREE NEWS
By Ann Oakman
K. K. Welcomes First Overnight Events

You should have heard or rather seen the excitement in camp the morning it was announced that there was to be an overnight, Mondny night. It was a place about two miles up the lake and we started after supper with a good wind at our backs. The Sand Dunes were great and a grand time was had by all those who went, which include, as chaperones, Miss Lucy Brauns, Miss Marney Coe, and Miss Eileen Lay, and as campers, Betty Fariss, Barbara Brooks, Ruth Gram, Penny Shaw, Ann Oakman, Betty Johnson, Mary Alice O'Connor, Lucile Nolan and Gladys Gallinger.

Tuesday, I suppose everyone noticed that it seemed rather warmish but of course there's always the lake and do those moonlight dips feel good! In the evening, we were entertained by an assembly from the new counsellors, including Miss "Buffy" White, Miss Elizabeth Brown, Miss Marion Dickinson, Miss Eilcen Lay, Miss Helen Caffyn, Miss Mary Edna Hert, and Carl Oakman. I'll admit some of those tricks had us fooled. Have you ever been "In Cahoots?" We'll tell you about it some time. And some of us felt pretty silly being rooked into playing rocks around the light house, which was Bar Brooks. And we hear that she's still blinking! (?) Our juniors, Betty Crawford, Patsy Brown, and June Rosen, went out to cook their brenkfast, and came back very enthusiastic over camp-kraft.

Wednesday morning, we were duly honored with a ten or fifteen minute visit from some of the younger group of Camp Charlevoix who were paddling their way home after an overnight across the lake. And there seemed to be a great deal of excitement over the presence of a couple of idle water snakes seen on our beach. We presume, of course, that it was entirely the snakes!

Wednesday night, the blues and whites contested in several different types of games. For instance, what tree is given to sadness, and sighs? Give up? Pine tree, of course!

Starting Thursday the classes have been cut to one-half hour and swimming hours lengthened. In the afternoon, a barber from Charlevoix came to camp and afterwards many were seen with a good neck trim, for a change! A group also went into Petoskey this afternoon. In the evening, a play was given under the direction of Miss Mary Edna Hert. Barbara Brooks, hero; Betty Fariss, villain; Ann Oakman, heroine; Ruth Gram, curtain; Betty Johnson, scene shifter; Penny Shaw, jockey, and Lucile Nolan and Gladys Gallinger, time keeper and jockey respectively, were the players. Drama!

Friday finds us still minus our bed socks and wringing our hankies! Three intermedes and two counsellors go into Charlevoix. The sources of entertainment seem numberless, including: We watch some fish get hooked, we learn about Instein (pardon the combination!) and movies are shown. By the by, our films are sent from the U. of Indiana and some of our films were concerning western irrigation, Alaska, and the great glaciers. Sounds refreshing, doesn't it? We call them super!

Saturday, we go riding, (incidentally, we learn something about saddling horses, and prize fighting) nnd Kit and Penny go to town. We all become interested in watching snakes dissected (some of the braver of us attempt it) and now don't be surprised if you find us wearing snake skins around our head! (Now we know how those snake charmers feel!) They are really quite effective! Want to try it? Assembly in the Shale Pit, and we get countries pinned on our backs, and one unfortunate who couldn't guess Honolulu had us doing the hula hula dance for her!

Sunday we all break down and take it easy. In the afternoon we all go in for a long swim, and come out in time for Chapel. Jean Reimann gives a selection from the Bible, and Ruth Kittredge, Shirley Squires and Jean Manwaring also give the sermon, the hymns, and the reading, respectively.

In the evening, the Kchatter comes out and we all go to bed refreshed from our dip and singing "Grass Hoppers Three."

Visitors

Our visitors for the week were Mrs. Max Peet and children, from their summer home on Burt Lake, and Mrs. William Underdown and son, Billy, also from Ann Arbor but vacationing at Dr. Peet's, who is a well known physician in Petoskey as well as Ann Arbor and nation-wide renown.

Kamp Kairphree Kchatter Kolumn

Friday evening we were all snugly (?) tucked in bed and almost asleep, being after taps, when several of us were consumed with curiosity by figures and lights hurrying down the road. Then the lights headed for our tents and Mother Swain and some of the counsellors told us to hurry out on the dock, so there we hurried, wondering just what was going on. Then we looked up into the skies and some of us who had never seen northern lights before, couldn't imagine what those lovely, brilliant rays of light, resembling searchlights, were, flooding up and up into the stars from behind the lodge. We studied them intently for some time, watching the varying positions and brightness. Once, we saw a streak of lavender emerge from nowhere, beautifully tinting the paling loveliness of the northern lights. As we slowly walked off the dock we wonder why it is that so few of us really appreciate all of the beauty that surrounds us daily.

SEEK JORDAN TRACT FOR A STATE FOREST

Conservation Dept. Considering Purchase of 15,000 Acres

Possession of the Jordnn River tract in Antrim county is being obtained by the State Conservation Department in order that it may be ultimately joined to the Hardwood state forest in Charlevoix and Cheboygan counties.

This was revealed by P. J. Hoffmaster, director of conservation. He said the national forest service is obtaining options on much of the land, in order that it may be traded to the conservation department for other land adjacent to national forest developments.

Just what the development will be in the 15,000-acre tract of cutover hardwood is not yet certain, Director Hoffmaster said. The department will not begin a survey or any other activity until title is obtained, he said. This may take several months or a year.

Originally the tract was more than 23,000 acres, the department said, but the size has been temporarily reduced to about 15,000 acres on either bank of the Jordan River. An attempt is to be made to extend the tract back up past the source of the stream and to join the Hardwood forest.

"The tract probably will be ultimately dedicated as a state forest, administered and developed as such," Hoffmaster said. "It is good deer and small game country, and the Jordan River is an excellent trout stream. We have to get title to it in order to control it properly."

Possibility that a game refuge will be established on the property is being considered, although there are no definite plans.

MICHIGAN BELL ACCEPTS RATE CUTS

Savings to Patrons in State Will Aggregate $1,500,000

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company Friday announced acceptance of all rate reductions and charges ordered by the State Public Utilities Commission on June 30.

The saving to telephone users by application of the new rates and charges was estimated at $1,500,000.

In addition the company announced it would withdraw its suit now being conducted before the U. S. district court at Detroit, "and thus terminate all existing litigation" in the rate controversy.

A letter of acceptance was mailed the Utilities Commission. It was signed by G. M. Welch, president of the telephone company.

Several findings of the commission were objected to by the utilities company, the most important of which was the commission's valuation of intrastate service at $145,000,000.

However, "to avoid continuing the litigation" the telephone company agreed to put the entire order into effect giving users of the service benefit of all the new rates and practices.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
By B. C. Mellencamp

A new ruling has come from Secretary of Agriculture Wallace on proof of performance other than a good stand for a soil conserving crop. Farmers who have seeded soil conserving crops in accordance with good farm practice but who have lost such crops because of drought, insect infestations or other causes beyond their control, may qualify for soil building and soil conserving payments on this land.

It will be necessary, however, that these farmers provide sufficient evidence that soil conserving crops were seeded in accordance with good farming practices. The above provision covers seedings alone or where a nurse crop has been clipped. However, a good stand will be the only proof of performance on land from which a crop of grain, hay or annual legumes have been harvested.

Self-distrust is the cause of many failures in life. The man who has no confidence in himself cannot expect others to have confidence in him. In the assurance of strength there is strength. They are the weakest who have no faith in themselves or their powers.

WALTER L. MAIN CIRCUS COMING

WILL SHOW IN CHARLEVOIX ON JULY 30TH

Performances Afternoon and Evening Bring Country's Best Talent to This District

The Walter L. Main circus which will exhibit in Charlevoix one day only, July 30, has many features this season that are not carried by other circuses.

Mr. Main, the man who is the directing genius of this vast enterprise, has the distinction of being acquainted with more circus performers than any other circusman in the business, and it has been said by many performers who have reached the top that if it had not been for the generosity of Mr. Main they would never have the chance to show their ability and get the start that finally led them to stardom in the circus profession. Hence, the Walter L. Main circus can command the best there is in the way of acts at the start of each season, this being the fifty-second annual tour of the main circus.

One of the outstanding features this season is the Cune-Grant troupe of acrobats and horizontal bar performers who do the most impossible feats on those swaying, bending, slender pieces of seasoned maple bars, which the spectators expect to see snap in two at any minute as they sway back and forth, as the troupe leaps from one slender bar to another in perfect rhythm keeping the audience gasping for their safety right up to the very moment of their whirlwind finish of death-defying feats.

There are many high-class features to be seen in the full two hours' performance, and it has been said that the variety of acts this season are of such high calibre that the critics find it hard and dislike taking it upon themselves to name any particular group of performers as being a feature over the other.

There will be two performances at 2 and 8 p. m., rain or shine with free acts being presented in front of the big tent both afternoon and night, one hour before the doors open.

GOV. FITZGERALD ADVOCATES FREE FERRIES

Tells Upper Peninsula Group System Should Be Like Highways

Free ferry service across the Straits of Mackinac, as proposed by Gov. Frank Fitzgerald, is meeting with popular approval throughout the Upper Peninsula of Michigan today.

The state's chief executive, making a campaign tour through the upper part of the state, advocated the elimination of tolls for motorists on the ferries because "they should be as much a part of the state highway system as any roadway and should be maintained by the state treasury from gasoline and weight tax collections."

Widespread comment followed the governor's proposal, inasmuch as plans are in progress for a $30,000,000 bridge across the Straits. The state now operates three ferry boats at a cost of about $250,000 a year. Fitzgerald, however, pointed out that ordinary road maintenance and snow removal exceeds three times the cost of ferry boat operation.

GRASSHOPPER POISON PROVIDED FOR FARMERS

Stations Arranged at East Jordan, Boyne City for Distribution

The exceedingly dry weather has apparently made the damage done by grasshoppers more noticeable. Already farmers, especially from the east end of the county, report that grasshoppers are damaging crops severely. They are beginning to appear in large numbers in hay fields and unless checked will enter grain fields.

In order to assist farmers to eliminate them, two poison bran stations are in operation. One is located at the East Jordan Cooperative Creamery, East Jordan, and the other nt the freight depot in Boyne City. The small charge of 10 cents per bushel is being made for the mixtures. One bushel should protect from two to three acres if spread thinly and uniformly over the infected area.

The station in Boyne City will be open from 8:30 to 12 and from 1 to 5 o'clock daily. The East Jordan Co-op station will be open at the same hours that the marketing association includes.

TWO MORE CLINICS TO BE HELD IN COUNTY

Curfew and Hetrick Districts Wilt Be Served on July 23rd

Two more health clinics for infants and pre-school children will be held in Charlevoix county, Thursday, July 23.

These clinics are for every family having children in this age group who do not routinely take their children to their family physician for a health examination. Toxoid for diphtheria and vaccination to prevent smallpox will be offered.

In the morning at 9:45 present plans are to have it at the Hetrick school, to include all families in the Hetrick and Curfew school sections. Miss Szepelak will be able to give you further information.

In the afternoon at 1:30 it will be at the Clarion school, with the assistance of Mrs. Morrow.

MACKINAC CRUISE ENTERTAINED HERE

TWENTY-SEVEN BOATS IN THE FLEET VISITING HARBOR

Band Concert and Daocing Party Entertainment Features — Yachtsmen Expressed Appreciation

Yachtsmen participating in the annaal Great Lakes cruise which visited here Monday and Tuesday not only found Charlevoix'a harbor one of the finest on Lake Michigan, but also that its citizens were solicitous of their comfort and entertainment.

At least such an impression was gathered from the complimentary remarks of the yachtsmen concerning their enjoyment during their visit in this city.

Twenty-seven hoats, 25 power and two schooners were listed umong the craft moored in Roand Lake for the over-night stop, a schedaled event in the itinerary of the annual Mackinac Island cruise of Lake Michigan and Green Bay divisions of the Lake Michigan Yachting Association.

Among the entertainment features provided were a concert by the city band, motion pictures of WPA recreational activities, and a dancing party at the Charlevoix Beach Hotel. O. E. Nadeau, fleet commander, expressed his appreciation of the fine treatment accorded the visitors.

Every facility for servicing the yachts with fael, ice, water and provisions were on hand upon arrival of the fleet.

The boats left Charlevoix at 10 o'clock Tuesday for Mackinac Island, where on Thursday, there will be a special race in the morning, a Pirate-Carnival and dance in the evening, and a night raid by the pirates of the fleet. For the first time the Pirates of the Great Lakes will band together in a torch-light raid on Mackinac Island. The fort will be taken and the island sacked. Each pirate will have a costame, wig and all. Among those present, resurrected by the aid of costamer and make-up man, will be such early notables as Pere Marquette, Nicollet, Siear LaSalle and others.

Continuing the cruise down the west shore of Lake Michigan, the fleet will be guests of the Marinette and Menominee Yacht Clabs, who have planned a lively three-day regatta at Menominee on July 26-28. A grand ball at the Menominee Hotel will be a feature, also swimming, sail and power races.

Of the 31 original entries in the cruise, boats present here were: Harolmi II, St. Joseph; Caprice, St. Louis, Mo., and Charlevoix; Ottmar, Chicago; Lazy Lady II, Alton, Ill.; Marle Fay, Chicago; Amy, Saugatack; Nancy Ann II, Toledo, O.; Yawn, Chicago; Adonde, Muskegon; Marjao, Chicago; Skeeter, St. Louis, Mo.; Glabadon, Alcarda, Inez, Nona, Elsa J., Lady Eileen, Sea Legs, Alice Dee, Chicago; Anjac, Cincinnati, O.; Marbo III, St. Louis, Mo.; Annie Mac II, Paw Paw; Yawn, Green Bay, Wis.; Sleepy Time Gal and Nipigon. The fleet was escorted by the Coast Guard Cutter Rush.

Charlevoix will be host on Sunday, July 26, to boats of the Eastern Fleet which left Detroit on July 18 for its annual Mackinac Island cruise, sponsored by the Detroit Yacht Club. Aboat 40 boats are expected and will remain here until Tuesday, July 28. Numerous entertainment features, including a colorful Venetian boat parade Sunday evening, are planned for entertainment of the visitors.

FAMOUS PILOT BRINGING BIG FORD TRI-MOTORED PLANE HERE

The largest transport plane to use the local airport will arrive here Friday morning.

This plane is a 17 passenger Ford tri-motor all metal transport monoplane, owned by Major Leslie G. Malzer, veteran U. S. Army Air Corps reserve and commercial pilot with over 5000 hours of flying time to his credit. The plane will be here on Friday only for the purpose of carrying passengers on flights over the city at a very low fare. Flying operations will begin at 2 p. m. and continue throughout the afternoon and evening.

This ship is 80 ft. from wing tip to tip, 60 ft. long, weights 14,000 pounds loaded, carries 17 passengers, 375 gallons gasoline, 30 gallons motor oil, 1,000 pounds baggage and is the largest Ford tri-motor transport plane ever built.

The plane will leave here Saturday for Traverse City, passengers will be flown from this city to Traverse City at an exceptionally low fare.

LAST HEALTH CLINIC SCHEDULED THURSDAY

Horton Bay Community to Be Served at Belknap Store

Thursday, July 30, the last two free infant and pre-school clinics will be held by Dr. Carleton Dean until September, when they will again be continued.

Thursday morning, at 9:45 a. m., it will be in the home of Mrs. Belknap (over the store) at Horton Bay. We hope all the families having children in these two age groups living in this school district and also the Lake Side and North Bay districts who did not attend a clinic within the past month will attend. Because of this second opportunity, there should not be one child in this township unprotected against smallpox and diphtheria, nor a child without a thorough physical examination by September. You can take your child to your own physician for these three measures or bring them to this clinic.

For the afternoon clinic definite arrangements have not yet been made, but we hope to give the mothers around Marion Center and Grand View schools the same privilege.

VENETIAN BOAT PARADE SUNDAY

FORTY CRAFT ENTERED FOR COLORFUL EVENT

Yachts of Port Huron-Mackinac Island Cruise Here for Parade — Swimming Meet Sunday, Aug. 2

A Venetian boat parade, one of numerous summer entertainment events sponsored by the Board of Commerce will be held on Round Lake, Sanday evening, July 26.

With final arrangements practically completed, the committee in charge of this colorful event announce that at least 40 boats will participate. Last summer's parade, one of the outstanding features of a homecoming celebration, had 17 entries. When the small number last year is compared to the present entry of 40 craft, a vivid picture of the beauty of the parade Sanday evening may be gained.

The city band, seated on a boat anchored in the center of Round Lake, will furnish masic daring the parade. The boats will be lighted with colored Japanese lanterns and the usual fireworks display will be featured. The parade will get under way at approximately 9 o'clock. Both local and boats owned by summer residents will participate.

The Venetian parade will provide an entertainment feature for visiting yachts of the eastern fleet of the Port Haron-Mackinac Island cruise, sponsored by the Detroit Yacht Club. It is anticipated at least 40 cruisers will arrive here Sunday for a stop-over July 26-28. Their visit follows that of the Western and Green Bay divisions of the Lake Michigan Yachting Association here Monday night and Tuesday. In view of the longer stay in port, several features for the entertainment of the visitors are being arranged.

Gordon Todd, activities director of the Board of Commerce, has announced that the next water event following Sunday night's feature will be a swimming meet on Sanday, August 2.

FOREST FIRE HERE MONDAY AFTERNOON

BURNED HUNDRED ACRES IN CHARLEVOIX TOWNSHIP

Joe Bendick Farm Buildings Endangered—Control Operations Showed Excellent Efficieney—

A forest and meadow fire which burned over a hundred acres in Charlevoix township Monday afternoon was brought under control by CCC enrollees from Camp Wolverine and local volanteers directed by Conservation Officer Ed. Deael of Boyne City, without major loss.

The fire, said to have been caused by sparks from the city dump, burned south to US-31, endangering the Joe Benedick farm buildings, and spread west into second growth. In less than a couple hoars after the fire wns reported, a tractor and plow and tank trucks from district conservation headquarters at Boyne City were on the scene, together with CCC workers. The fire area was circled with the plow and tractor and the flames soon confined. The Charlevoix fire track aided in the work.

Another fire which burned over aboat three acres of meadow in Section 2, Marion township, Sanday night, was extinguished by workers under Deaell. The blaze was started from railway engine sparks, it was reported.

The manner in which the two fires were handled gave a splendid example of the efficiency of the State Conservation Department's fire fighting forces. In an almost anbelievable short time after the fire was reported a tractor and plow was brought from Boyne City by truck along with tank trucks and other equipment. Volunteers were eqaipped with portable water tanks equipped with straps to hang on one's back. The tractor and plow circled the fire area to cat off its advance and the men with tanks scattered into the fire zone and extingaished the flames. The work was a fine sample of efficiency.

FLOYD A. SUPP FILES FOR SENATOR OF 29TH

Entrance of Local Attorney Makes Three-Way Republicao Contest

A three-way race for the Republican nomination for senator of the 29th district is in prospect with the filing of petitions by Floyd A. Supp, local attorney.

Others who have already filed are Otto Bishop, of Alpena, the incumbent, and Dr. George F. Lister, of Hillman.

FAVOR INCREASED FISHING LICENSE

COMMISSION WILL RECOMMEND RAISE FROM 50c TO $1

Deem Action Advisable to Raise for Funds for Propagation of Game Fish Species in Michigan

Convinced that additional funds are needed to meet the growing demands of aportsmen for more trout, bass and bluegills to plant in the streams and lakes, the state conservation commission at its July meeting went on record in favor of raising the resident rod license fee from 50 cents to $1.

"Only the legislature has the authority to increase the license fee," said Director P. J. Hoffmaster of the department of conservation. "The commission's actions, therefore, constitutes merely un expression of sentment."

The dollar fee, it was made plain, would include also legal fishing privileges for the wife of the resident licensee.

Not only are sportsmen demanding a heavier fish planting program than can be conducted under the present fisheries budget, but sport-fishing actually seems to be increasing, Hoffmaster said. "Eventually we will have to expand our planting program to satisfy these demands and to meet the heavier fishing of the future, but it is impossible to do so with the present available funds.

"Our hatchery system has been enlarged greatly during the past several years by means of CCC and WPA projects. We could produce more fingerlings for planting than we are now producing, if the necessary funds were available. Good conservation decrees that we make the greatest advantage of our hatchery facilities, but we cannot make the best possible advantage of them with the present revenue."

THREE CHRIS CRAFTS DELIVERED IN CHARLEVOIX

Purchased by Local Summer Reridents Through Miller & Gilders

Three more boats, new additions to the local fleet of pleasure craft, were delivered to Charlevoix summer residents over the week end

The deliveries, made by Miller & Gilders, local Chris Craft agents, were a 23½-ft. semi-enclosed cruiser for John C. Bagby of Chicago, Belvedere Clab summer resident; a 25-ft. sport cruiser for Julias Gilbert of Detroit, Park avenae summer resident, and a 16-ft. runabout for Mrs. Robert Stuart, Chicago Club.

Millerd & Gilders also report the sale of numerous used boats, indicating the general increase in boating interest here this season.

WEDNESDAY RAIN PROVIDES NEEDED RELIEF

Was First Rainfall Here Since July 1 —Too Late for Some Crops

A .44 inch rainfall, which records reveul was the first since July 1, ended n 22-day period of drought here Wednesday morning.

The shower relieved temporarily the most critieul forest fire menace in recent years, but came too late to help parched crops of oats and early potatoes. The raspberry crop, now just began, will be aided, also late farm crops.

While scattered showers provided 1.26 inches of moisture during the month of June, a .97 inch rainfall on July 1 was the last since Wednesday morning's shower.

NOTED RIDERS WITH MAIN CIRCUS SHOW

JOE HODGINI TROUP BILLED AS WORLD'S GREATEST

Appear In Two Performances at Legion Grounds on Thursday, July 30—Other Features

When the Walter L. Main big 3-ring wild animal circus arrives in Charlevoix where two complete performances will be presented on Thursday, Jaly 30, the greatest of all troupes of riders will head the throng of murvelous featares—Joe Hodgini Family.

Heading the thrilling riding exhibition is the celebrated clown 'Joe," whose antics brings thrills as well as joy to both young and old. Joe will perform daring feats from somersaults to the head of galloping horses and accompany the entire troape in a whirlwind finish when they all ride the same horse at one time.

Amongst the many other features will be presented the great Waters Troupe of aerial artists. Harry La Pearl, famous international clown heads the army of funny fellows that romp around the big top in the greatest fun fest of all time.

The coming of the Walter L. Main circus will mean another big holiday to the youngsters of Charlevoix, hundreds of the kiddies will set their alarm clocks for an early hour to rise and witness the anloading of the cars, and see the once barren show grounds at the Legion quarters rise into a veritable fairyland —no one seems to hurry yet the mammoth tent city rises like magic.

The matinee will start promptly at 2 p. m. and the evening performance at 8 p. m., the main doors opening one hour earlier, with an entertaining display of free acts being presented on the showgrounds promptly at 1 and 7 p. m.

MINIATURE LIGHTHOUSE IS A BIG ATTRACTION

Mounted on Center Table of the Fountain in City Park

A miniature lighthouse, the work of Clarence Bartlett, has been mounted on the platform forming the center of the fish fountain in the city park opposite the post-office.

The lighthouse, the center of attraction for local resident and tourists alike since its installation, is 3 foot 6 inches high, built from government specifications. A 110 volt lamp provides illumination of the revolving light, operated hy clock works. The light has a lens and reflector. Windows are set in copper and the construction is of wood.

DOWN-STATE BALL CLUB APPEARS HERE SUNDAY

Knights of Dearborn Play Red Sox at South Side Field

Charlevoix baseball fans will see one of the fastest down-state outfits in action here Sunday when the Knights of Dearborn meet the Charlevoix Red Sox at the south side diamond Sunday afternoon.

The game will be called at the usual hoar.

DEATH TOOK IRA A. ADAMS SUNDAY

FUNERAL FOR PUBLISHER HELD TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Mr. Adams Was Prominent in Business and Political Circles in Antrim County for Many Years

Ira A. Adams, Northern Michigan publisher and prominent in Antrim county political circles many years, died at 3 o'clock Sunday morning at his re-idence on Park avenue. Death came following an extended illness.

Deceased, born October 21, 1862, in Wilson, Niagara county, N. Y., came to Portland, Mich., with his parents at the age of nine years. He moved to Bellaire in 1896 and there was identified with numerous hasiness enterprises. He established the Bellaire Independent, operated a hotel and was interested in a hardware store and saw mill. He held the offices of county trensurer and register of deeds of Antrim county as well as numerous village offices. He operated the Antrim county abstract office and only in late years sold the abstracts to the county.

Mr. Adams served 20 years, two terms, as member of the Mackinac Island State Park commission and was prominently identified with the island's development. He spent a life time gathering what is perhaps Michigan's greatest collection of old fire-arms, swords, knives and antiques. In the pursuit of this hobby, he traveled extensively, particularly in western states. Many of the pieces in the collection are of great value and practically all have an intrigaing history.

Mr. Adams took over the Charlevoix Sentinel following the death of Willard A. Smith, its founder, in 1917. He retired from active business January 1, 1937.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Florence M. Smith, whom he married June 1, 1911, a nephew, Vincent Madison, and a sister, Mrs. Emma Linehaagh, of Portland, Mich.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. G. R. Parker from the See funeral chapel at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Burial was at Brookside cemetery.

GENE BARRUS, CAUGHT BY SWING BRIDGE, DIES

Gene Barrus, 76, local carpenter, died at Charlevoix Hospital at 4:30 Saturday afternoon of injuries received a half hour earlier when he was pinned between a pier pile and the Pere Marquette Railway Co. swing bridge over the channel between Round lake and Lake Charlevoix.

Barrus, one of numerous fishermen on the bridge trestle, heeded the bridge tender's warning, but either his feet or clothing caught on the piles and he was anable to release himself before the bridge caught him.

A resident here ten years, Barrus formerly resided at Lansing and St. Johns. Only living relatives known are a nephew, Winfred DeLavergne, Harbor Springs; a neice, Mrs. Anna Stiles, Ionia. The body will be taken to St. Johns.

PAVEMENTS DAMAGED DURING HEAT WAVE

Charlevoix In Area Affected, Local Swing Bridge Caused Trouble

A state highway department report reveals that the recent heat wave cost $15,000 in damage to highways from the blistering heat.

Charlevoix was included in the district badly affected. Namerous bulges in the pavement on US-31 between Charlevoix and Eastport required repairs. In some instances the surface went to pieces and had to be rebuilt.

The highway swing bridge over the channel between Lake Michigan and Round lake caused considerable trouble. The heat "stretched" the structure so that it did not fit when swung shat. The damage to the bridge was negligible, however.

Honor Pere Marquette

SCENE FROM COMMEMORATIVE PAGEANT

The 261st anniversary of the death of Father Jacques Marquette will be observed at Ludington, Mich., on August 14, 15 and 16. Pere Marquette died a short distance from the present site of Ludington in 1675. The three-day observance will have as its feature a colorful pageant of missionary and Indian traditions which will be presented on all three evenings with a cast of 450. Other outstanding events are planned including the dedication of Ludington State Park.

CORRESPONDENCE

There will be a special meeting at the school house the first Monday in August to decide on leveling the school yard, etc. All who are interested in the district should attend this meeting.

ROCK ELM

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Jensen, of Detroit, recently visited his mother and other relatives in this vicinity.

The boys' 4-H Club met at the home of Frank Shepherd, Thursday evening.

MORE CHERRY PICKERS WANTED AT TRAVERSE

Enough on Hand In Region But More Needed, Major Starret Says

A survey by the National Reemployment Service of the demand for cherry pickers in the orchards near Traverse City disclosed today that approximmtely 1000 more persons will be needed by growers within the next week, Major Starret, state reemployment director, said.

A score of growers reported that sufficient help has been on hand but that additional pickers are needed. During the last few weeks, the National Reemployment Service referred pickers from all parts of Michigan to the Traverse City region.

A few of the growers have not begun the harvest, the survey showed. Due to the weather, some of the cherries have not developed as quickly as in former years, they said.

With a large number of cherries already picked for the Maraschino trade, growers are supplying canneries. Picking for this purpose pays from $2 to $3 per day on a piece work basis, growers report.

Residents of Michigan over 16 years of age desiring these jobs should register immediately at the nearest office of the National Reemployment Service, which is affiliated with the U. S. Department of Labor, or go directly to the National Reemployment office in the Traverse City hall. Workers must furnish tents or other living accommodations and their own transportation.

CHEBOYGAN TO GET CEMENT EXPERIMENT

New Type of Construction to Be Tried on Huron Road Project

A cement stabilization project, which is expected to revolutionize construction of secondary roads, will be started July 27 in Cheboygan county, it has been announced by the State Highway Department.

Experimental work on the shoreline route one mile east of Cheboygan will extend for six miles. Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner said:

"The project will involve mixing the soil with cement for a depth of six inches, then seal-coating the 20-foot, stabilized road with a one-fourth inch thickness of bituminous surfacing."

The Cheboygan county project is the second of its kind in the United States. The first was completed last year near Johnsonville, S. C.

Van Wagoner explained the cost of the project will be low because there is no necessity for hauling materials.

BALANCE IN KANSAS

Topeka, Kas.—Kansas, whose Gov. Alf M. Landon's policy is "deeds, not deficits," was expected to close its books on a balanced budget at the close of the fiscal year, with a bigger amount of cash on hand than it had at the end of the 1935 fiscal year, according to the report of J. J. Rhodes, state treasurer. Rhodes reported that the unencumbered cash balance in the state's general fund May 31 was $1,572,481, compared with $889,591 at the some time last year.

All Nation Helps to Notify Landon

Topeka Prepares for Vast Throngs at July 23 Ceremonies

TOPEKA, KAS.—Plans are under way to welcome representative thousands of visitors from all over the United States for the ceremonies in which Gov. Alf M. Landon will be formally notified of his nomination as the Republican candidate for the Presidency. The notification will take place at the state capitol July 23 at 8 p. m.

To facilitate the attendance of the vast throngs who will pledge their support to Governor Landon in the November election, railroads have announced special reduced rates of one cent a mile for the occasion. Topekans already are busy arranging for parking facilities for the additional thousands who will make the trip in automobiles, and preparing the hotels for the enormous influx of visitors.

Several large groups from Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha and St. Louis, as well as cities of the East, have indicated plans for chartering airplanes, busses and railroad trains to make the trip.

Even now the streets of the Kansas capital are bearing an unaccustomed load of automobile traffic, carrying steadily increasing tourist hordes bent upon a first-hand glimpse of the man whose popularity, with the speed and force of a typical prairie cyclone, has endeared him to the hearts of millions of Americans as the one to lead the nation out of the mire of "three long years" of New Deal socialisms, blunders and waste.

Plans to make the entire day one of political rallying on a scale seldom seen, winding up with the governor's speech of acceptance, are going forward.

Landon Takes First Vacation in 4 Years

Topeka, Kan.—When Gov. Alf M. London and his family left here for Estes Park, Colo., it was the story of the first vacation in four years for the Republican nominee for the presidency. He was to spend two weeks resting in preparation for the campaign and in writing the speech with which he will accept his formal notification of the nomination, in Topeka, July 23. In between he hoped to sandwich a little horseback riding, of which he is fond.

With the governor were Mrs. Landon and the three children, Peggy Anne, nineteen; Nancy Jo, three, and John Cobb, two, and Mrs. Samuel E. Cobb, mother of Mrs. Landon. In addition there were a few members of Governor Landon's staff.

The governor was to return for the opening of the special session of the state legislature the second week in July, but Mrs. Landon is to remain until the notification ceremonies. The children will stay all summer.

Hopkins' Gag Rule Stops Investigations of WPA

Washington, D. C.—Harry L. Hopkins has closed the door upon public organizations which seek to know the truth about charges of political coercion and waste in the WPA, of which he is federal administrator.

Upon advice of his legal counsel, Hopkins issued an order to all state administrators, prohibiting them or their employees from furnishing records or giving testimony before state officials who question the wisdom or integrity of federal relief policies within their borders.

Former Roosevelt Man Now Supports Landon

Topeka, Kan. — Another former Roosevelt supporter has joined the Landon forces for the campaign of 1936. He is Ralph W. Robey, New York economist, who said he believed in a liberal economic policy, but not an "irresponsible" one.

"I supported Roosevelt in 1932," Robey said, "but I have long felt that his policies were wrong."

Where the Money Goes

Monument, Colo.—President Roosevelt has approved the expenditure of $149,430 of federal funds to repair a dam at the reservoir here, and to construct a mile of road. This project alone would provide every family in the little town with an income of about $3,000.

Adding machine rolls, typewriter ribbons, stencils. Order from Courier office.—Adv3tf

CAMP CHARLEVOIX WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

Edited by Ed. Taylor

Wednesday, our baseball, rifle, swimming, and tennis teams went to Camp Algonquin for an athletic day program. Although all of the boys did their best and gave everything they had for the honor of dear old Charlevoix, we lost three of the five matches. In soft ball Algonquin won 8 to 1. Bobby Kittredge pitched a good game but the boys failed to get any runs for him.

In the rifle meet the hosts were victorious and won by about 50 points. Ray Pinkham, Bill Palmer, and Longyear Palmer formed the Green and Grey trio.

Then tennis team beat their rivals soundly. Ken Gann and Dick Allen won their singles and one daubles match while Riley and Fritz Pinkham lost in doubles.

In hardball our team avenged a trouncing of the week before and won by five runs. Ken Gann did the pitching and all of the boys joined in driving across the runs.

In the last meet Algonquin's swimmers won handily over our less-experienced team by a score of 28-11. Jim Daniels scored our only first when he won the free style race.

Thursday night the seniors and older intermediates put on their Sunday clothes and went down to Kamp Kairphree for an evening of dancing and so forth. Highlights of the evening—Bob Camp and Stevie Woodruff spent the evening by the punch bowl and cookie box—Jim Voyce and his goatee swinging around hither and twither—the girls making more fuss over Tommy, the dog, than they did over any of the fellows—the staff members playing tiddle winks.

Saturday a group from Camp Hayo-Went-Ha were our guests and they beat our teams in both soft ball and tennis. Tuesday the Charlevoix nine and netters will go down to the Torch lake camp for a return visit and we hope they will be able to reverse the former decisions.

Sunday marked the arrival of a well-known figure to most of us here at camp—Tad Wiemann arrived to spend a week here and with him he brought his usual bag of tricks. Tad will conduct football classes each morning and have special classes in the afternoon. At night he will give campfire talks and preside at group meetings. Tad is a great fellow and is always ready to pitch in with the boys and show them a good time.

Bob Bogue gave the talk in church Sunday morning. His subject was "Religion in Camp" and his talk was well-worth hearing. Skid Livingstone read the scripture and Paul Piccard gave the prayer.

Sunday afternoon the juniors stayed in camp and used the boats while the other two sections went out of camp. The intermediates went to Mt. McSauba while the seniors sailed for a while and then went out on a picnic supper.

Saturday night was "stunt night" and several cabins entertained the camp with short skits. Cabin 3 gave a short play to start the entertainment. John Sweeney and his accordian furnished the main part of their act. Cabin 7 with Herb Johnson and Jack Hood having the leads gave a short play. Then Cabin 15 presented their version of "The March of Time." Last but not least came the "Chief" and his "Big Bad Bear" act.

Bob Lyon received a rather serious head injury last Wednesday when he was thrown from his horse but latest reports from the hospital show that Bob is feeling better and is slowly but surely recovering. Bob was one of the hardest working and best liked men in camp and the whole group is wishing him a speedy recovery and return to the Limberlost.

Monday afternoon a group of 16 left for a four-day trip on the Intermediate Lakes. Heading the trip were Jack Hogan, Tom Hart, and Ken Smith. The group will paddle through the series of lakes and will be picked up Thursday. Boys on the expedition were Phil Rowe, Ray Pinkham, Bob Camp, Jim Daniels, Bud Summerfield, Dick Friedlander, Don McHenry, Bruce Laing, Paul Piecard, Fred Pinkham, Bill Palmer, Herb Berdan and Bob Patterson.

Johnny Nenninger took an honor group of sailors up to Mackinac Island Tuesday to see the finish of the sailing race from Detroit. Those going on the trip with Johnny were Bob Stevens, Bob Abbott, Vern Evans, Bill North and Jim Karn.

The juniors left Tuesday for a three-day trip to Cross Village. When they come back they probably will be full of the tales of old Chief Thundercloud, the village story teller.

Don't forget—Dads! Saturday is Dad's Day and every boy is hoping that his dad will be here to spend the day with him. Let's come early and go through the whole day's program and see how we live here at camp.

ANALYZING THE PLATFORM

The New Deal has written into its 1936 platform one sentence which is its basic philosophy of government. It associates itself with their ideas of regimentation for all the peoples of this country, and if they are returned to power this fall it will, if enacted, be far more reaching in its harmful effects than the now defunct NRA or AAA.

This sentence reads: "We will act to secure to the consumer fair value, honest sales and a decreased spread between the price he pays and the price the producer receives." When this apparently harmless little sentence is connected up with Mr. Henry Wallace's book, "Whose Constitution," we can estimate to what lengths they intend to go if returned to power.

Perhaps the above sentence does not sound dangerous in itself. In any platform presented to the people during the last fifty or a hundred years we feel we can safely say that it would simply be taken as an intent by the party to assure the people of their sincere interest for the welfare of the country. But let us analyze exactly what it means when written into their party platform by the New Dealers, already drunk with power, and who seemingly will not stop at anything to continue in this power.

We already have what is commonly known as producer co-operatives. These can be likened to such organizations as co-operative elevators, that are owned and managed by the farmers of a single community. The apparently harmles sentence in Mr. Roosevelt's platform advocates not only this type of co-operative but consumer co-operatives as well. And, if we follow Mr. Wallace's book he goes even further and advocates Manufacturers co-operatives in the not far distant future. The difference in these co-operatives as we know them now and as they would be in the future is that the government would be the one to direct them and not the individual few of any particular community. This, then, resolves itself down to regimentation. Regimentation leads to Dictatorship, and we would find ourselves in the same position as peoples of the majority of the European countries under their present dictatorships.

This cannot be brought about as long as the Supreme Court is composed of its present membership. But some of these men are old, and before another four years have passed, this tribunal could well consist of men appointed by Ronsevelt, who would be sympathetic to the New Deal and its crack-pot ideas. If this should happen we would see our country transformed into a gigantic co-operntive commonwealth, under which the objectives of the NRA, AAA, and other invalidated New Deal measures would be forced upon us. Thus would end the freedom for which our forefathers fought so gallantly, and of which we have been so proud these last one hundred and sixty years.

Will it?

A rubber-stamp Congress, abdicated to Franklin D. Roosevelt, enacted his "must bills" regardless of doubts as to constitutionality however reasonable, and sought to surrender to him its constitutional powers.

A rubber stamp nominating convention has abdicated to him, swallowed his personally dictated platform, and listened for eight long hours to 60 speakers extol the virtues of a one-man government over a government of laws.

And now all that remains to abdicate to the Leader is the electorate on Nov. 3.

Will it continue to parade toward dictatorship?—Detroit Free Press.

THE INVISIBLE GUEST

A new, sinister, Invisible Guest is a few short years has made every home his dwelling place and every American citizen his victim. He is the hidden tax! Now he sits at the table and follows the round of work and play, goes with his victims to the shower; shares the morning toast: boards the same elevated, trolly, or automobile; looks in at the office; elbows along to restaurnats, movies or prize fights. He is here, there and everywhere.

There passed through the hands of the hidden-tax collector in the year ending June 30, 1935, approximately $2,000,000,000 in Federal taxes alone; "Invisible Commodity Taxes" accounted for 60 per cent of all Federal revenues, according to President Roosevelt.

Take bread, for instance. The Invisible Guest's share of every loaf is three slices. (He has tucked 53 taxes in with every loaf; within three years the cost of bread has increased $94,082,000). Or pork chops—he will claim one of three. Six cents on every package of cigarettes are for taxes. From every dollar paid to the electric-light and power company ten cents is passed on to the government in the form of taxes. In 1935 the cost in taxes and licenses for operating all motor vehicles in the United States was almost equal to the amount received by the manufacturers of motor vehicles.

State and city taxes are accepted by all, as they should be; as essential to the orderly conduct of government. But it is the taxes hidden in the necessities of daily living and enjoyment that have propped up the too heavy structure of Federal debt.

There must be more than moral indignation against governmental spending and borrowing and inflationary policies if the American principles of honorable thrift are to endue. There must be action!—Excerpt from an article in Good Housekeeping Magazine, by Mrs. Robert E. Strawbridge, Chairman, Women's Committee, Pennsylvania Branch, National Economy League.

AT THE TOP OF THE HILL

To warn motorists to remain in their own alley while going over hills seems a waste of time.

Yet a beautiful 16-year-old Akron, Iowa, girl was killed a few days ago when two cars crashed together head-on at the top of a hill. Others in the two cars were injured. Such a tragedy!

So many speed fiends, a few years ago, passed cars going up hills that the Iowa legislature found it necessary to pass a law against that foolish and dangerous habit. The law helped some. But every motorist sees it violated from one to twenty times every time he takes an automobile trip of any duration.

Through the grace of God, it isn't often that a car is coming full tilt from the opposite direction. But the chances are too great to take and one who hopes to spend a few more years on this mundane sphere should obey that traffic law if he has no regard for other rules that are intended for protective purposes.

We know nothing about the causes that led to that tragedy on top of the hill near Akron. But it is evident that at least one of the cars was on the wrong side of the road. Perhaps both were in the middle of the highway. At any rate, the proper caution wasn't exercized and a girl just budding into womanhood is now sleeping the sleep that knows no waking! It's so pitiful—and so unnecessary!

Another suggestion is to take a noonday rest, which may be a good idea for some, provided the noonday does not last until supper time.

EXPERIENCED MOTORISTS know that Mobilgas delivers maximum power, makes cars run smoother, costs less per mile and reduces repair bills. The reasons are unimportant to many.

Thousands of motorists say: "I never pay much attention to claims, but I do know the results I get from Mobilgas."

Many people don't care about "octane rating," or how Climatic Control works. It's action . . . results . . . that count. They just drive to their nearest Mobilgas station and say "fill 'er up."

Come to think of it, that's not a bad way for anybody to buy gasoline and oil. So . . .

"DEW AND SUNSHINE"

Although Frank Murphy, High Commissioner to the Philippines, and former Mayor of Detroit, is highly regarded in New Deal circles at Washington and Manila, as an administrator and statesman, he has demonstrated already that when it comes to Michigan affairs he is still the provincial Detroiter he was when he made the phrase "dew and sunshine" famous in 1930 and 1931.

In what was almost his first public admission that he would probably run for the governorship of this state, Commissioner Murphy launched out into a plea for a one-house legislature.

Michigan's legislature today, with its two houses, represents a fairly even balance between representation by population and representation by area, just as the U. S. Senate and House of Representatives maintain the same sort of balance. The Murphy proposal is simply another way of attempting to obtain Wayne county domination at Lansing. With the memory of Elmer O'Hara, Tony Wilkowski, Ed Barnard and John Gillespie still fresh in their memories, that kind of control is not wanted by better citizens of Detroit, itself, and would be resisted in every legitimate way by every city, village and township in the other 82 counties.

It is our guess that Commissioner Murphy has here created an issue that will prove the ultimate cause of his defeat.

INTERFERENCE

One of Michigan's most valuable citizens is Dr. Angus W. McLean, Democratic chairman in Wayne county. Throughout his long and active life he has subscribed to the principle that the best government is the one closest to the people. He now declines to be a party to Jim Farley's plans for secretly dominating Michigan democracy.

That is why he recently made public a letter to Mr. Farley inquiring bluntly for the name of the candidate for governor who was to be favored by the big boss. That letter was an open invitation to the Democrats of Michigan to witness the scheming manipulations by which the party of Jefferson is being Tammanyized.

No wonder Farley is so busy denying any undue interference in this state. With Democrats of the calibre of Dr. McLean and ex-Governor William A. Comstock publicly protesting the Farley tactics it would be even more in good taste if the gentleman would issue fewer denials and actually take his nose out of Frank Murphy's campaign and the affairs of Michigan democracy in general.

A CROP THAT ISN'T NEEDED

One bumper crop this year that we could do especially well without is the crop of weeds. These pests need very little encouragement to survive and the drouth has held no terrors for them.

Weeds take an annual toll that is appalling. It is estimated that they cause a crop loss of three billion dollars every year in the United States, nearly twice the loss, as a matter of fact, of plant diseases and insect pests. This fact makes the problem of weed control one of the major factors in production, and therefore a real social problem.

Attempts have been made to control the weeds. They have produced some results, but the fact that a single patch of weeds can infest a whole section, even an entire township, makes the problem take on proportions that require action on a widespread scale. Nothing short of state or national "mobilization" against the enemy will produce effective results.

HEAVENLY KINDNESS

Again we both sympathize and count our own blessings.

Great areas, amounting almost to states, have suffered from the drouth. Cattle have been hungry and starving. Farmers, by the tens of thousands, have been discouraged. For several summers in some of the western states nature has not been kind to her children.

But in Michigan, the sun has shined by day and the rains have fallen by night. The woods and the fields have been beautiful and green. The hay crop, just harvested, is generally good. Animals are happy in the woods and fields.

Such a condition is not within our own power or is it due to our own intelligence or deserts. We deserve even less than those good people who have had disaster year after year.

The Lord has been kind to us.

THREE JOB JIM

Former Governor Brucker lashed out from the pommel at the New Deal in his speech at Jackson, recently, in no equivocal terms, when he pictured the encroachments of Farleyism upon the liberties of government employes. Those of us who know postal employes well enough to talk with them confidently know full well the truth of his charges. An employe of Three Job Jim's department hardly dares say his political soul is his own. "Instead of feeding a hungry man, the New Dealers traded him food for his political freedom, and made him a creature of the administration," said Brucker. That is just what the patricians did to the plebians of imperial Rome—and history records the result.—Utical Sentinel.

BIBLICAL CONTRIBUTIONS

There are many present-day expressions that have their basis in the Bible, according to a treatise of the National Bible Commemoration Committee. Here are some of them: "The apple of his eye," "the salt of the earth," "the powers that be," "labor of love," "handwriting on the wall," "a mess of pottage," "the widow's mite," "we are the people," "the fat of the land," "the laborer is worthy of his hire," "all things to all men" and a host of others. These contributions appear in poetry, prose and speech.

Those who have worked hardest for their savings will be the first to be robbed when the nation is ravished by the consequences of the New Deal.

Moral Courage Is Key to Character

Chicago, Ill.—The call to moral courage in rebuilding the American dream is the one note to be found in all Gov. Alf M. Landon's addresses and acts, Philip Kinsley writes in the Chicago Tribune.

Mr. Kinsley takes as characteristic of Governor Landon his utterance before a convocation of ministers at Topeka in January, 1933: "In the recent past we worshiped false gods and neglected too much the true and living God, whose precepts have guided mankind through the centuries."

Mr. Kinsley also quotes from an address by the governor in 1935: "For some time—several years in fact—I have been of the opinion that we will not have a real, solid, genuine recovery in this country until we have a moral recovery. And by moral recovery I mean character, integrity, upright honesty and square dealing. There is an old-fashioned phrase that I remember my father and mother using, as a boy. It is somewhat out of date these days, but describes what I mean. It is: 'He is a man of principle.'"

2,000 Cheer Copeland's Defense of Constitution

New York City.—Senator Royal S. Copeland, Democrat, who refused to attend the party's national convention, was roundly cheered by a crowd of 2,000 at a patriotic gathering here when he warned against over-centralization of the federal government, defended state sovereignty and urged that the letter and spirit of the Constitution be upheld.

"What would be the attitude of the people today if one in authority presumed to repeat the acts performed by that despot of the Eighteenth century, George III?" he asked.

"Would we have the spirit to say, as did the authors of the Declaration: 'A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people'?"

EXPLAIN CHANGE IN SOIL PROGRAM

Drought Modifications Permit Michigan Farmers to Meet Emergency

Modifications in the regulations governing the 1936 federal soil conservation program in Michigan and other corn belt states have been set up so that the effects of heat and lack of rainfall on fields will not work too great a hardship with farmers participating in the program.

According to Maurice Doan, chairman of the Michigan Agricultural Conservation committee, encouragement is being given farmers to enable them to produce extra feed and forage for fall and winter feeding, to preserve all available forage for livestock feed and to provide as large an acreage as possible in soil conserving crops for 1937.

In describing the modifications, Claude R. Wickard, acting director for the north central division states which include Michigan, is informing state committees that an additional revision provides for farmers who fail to obtain stands in fields seeded to soil conserving crops. Acceptance of proof will be granted so that farmers can obtain cash grants if the failure to obtain a good stand was caused by conditions beyond the control of the farmer.

Good stand of soil-conserving crop on land from which a grain hay or annual legume hay is harvested is classed as soil-conserving — Land from which a crop of grain hay or annual legume hay, such as soybeans and fieldpeas, has been harvested in 1936 will be classified as soil-conserving provided a good stand of a soil-conserving crop is growing on this land when performance is checked later in the year. The kind, rate, and time of seeding the soil-conserving crop will be subject to recommendations made by the State Agricultural Conservation Committee.

Proof of performance other than a good stand—Farmers who have seeded soil-conserving crops in accordance with good farming practice but who have lost such crops because of drought, insect infestations, or other conditions beyond their control, may qualify for soil-conserving and soil-building payments on this land. It will be necessary, however, that these farmers provide sufficient evidence that soil-conserving crops were seeded in accordance with good farming practice. Prior to this modification, a good stand of soil-conserving crops constituted the only acceptable proof of performance in the North Central Region.

Emergency forage crop plantings—Land which has been devoted to a soil-conserving use may be used after this date for the planting of an emergency forage crop for harvest in 1936 without changing the classification of such land. Land upon which emergency forage crops are to be planted, however, will not be classified as soil-conserving if there is a good stand of a soil-conserving crop on such land. Emergency forage crops include the sorghums, sudan grass, soybeans, millets, and other similar forage crops.

POTATO SPRAYS PAY BACK PROFIT

Crop in Michigan Proves Value of Time, Materials In Fighting Pests

While Michigan potato growers continue to seek better cash markets both in and out of the state for quality potatoes, extension workers at Michigan State College continue to emphasize the proof that a persistent summer spraying schedule is one of the most important cogs in obtaining quality.

For after field preparation, seed selection, planting and fertilizing, there needs to be protection against field diseases and pests. Specifically, there are early and late blight diseases and insects including leafhoppers, aphids, flea beetles, Colorado potato beetles and other insects.

Copper lime dust and bordeaux mixture are the standard applications commonly used in Michigan, according to H. C. Moore and E. J. Wheeler, farm crops extension workers at Michigan State College and specialists in potato growing. They are authors of Special Bulletin 234, "Spraying and Dusting Potatoes in Michigan," available by writing to the Bulletin Department, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Field tests indicate that the liquid spray, using bordeaux, is superior to dusting with copper lime. Bordeaux sprayed plots outyielded dusted plots by 13.7 bushels for Russet Rurals and 20.86 bushels per acre for Irish Cobblers.

Spraying with the bordeaux was cheaper than dusting by $3.70 per acre. Some saving in dusting with copper lime can be realized by home mixing, the two men find, as there was a saving of $1.41 per acre with home mixed dust as compared to factory mixed.

VACATIONS WITH PAY FOR EMPLOYES OF MICHIGAN BAKERIES

"Appreciating the loyal cooperation of our employes," J. (Jack) Jansen, manager of Michigan Bakeries, Inc., said today, "I am very happy to announce that all of our bakers and salesmen will have a week's vacation with full pay this summer. Because our employes have so whole-heartedly and enthusiastically worked with us in our efforts satisfactorily to serve 'Michigan' customers, the management in this manner expresses its appreciation.

"Vacations will be arranged throughout the summer so that there will be no impairment of 'Michigan' service. Breads will be delivered fresh once or twice each day as usual to independent grocers handling 'Michigan' breads and rolls.

"There are about 75 men employed here in the Michigan Bakeries plant, who will be benefited by this vacation plan."

Mr. Jansen went on to say that "Michigan Bakeries, Inc., has the only bakery laboratory in the state of Michigan. In this laboratory all ingredients are tested for purity and for food value, baking processes are checked and experiments are constantly made to assure consumers of finest, most wholesome and tasty breads and rolls than can be made. I wish to extend a hearty invitation to everyone interested to visit my bakery."

POISON IVY A PUBLIC ENEMY; ITS TREATMENT

Easiest Way to Avoid Poison Is to Learn Recognition of Plant

Ivy poisoning usually results from direct contact with the plant, and the easiest way to avoid it is to learn how to recognize the plant and then to keep away from it. It sometimes results from indirect contact. Dogs and cats may run through patches of poison ivy and brush off the poison on their fur. Susceptible persons who may then pet these animals are very likely to contact a case of ivy poisoning without having been near the plant.

Poison ivy and poison oak can easily be recognized by the characteristic form of the leaf, which is divided into three leaflets and accounts for the wholesome maxim "Leaflets three, let it be!" After the leaves have fallen in the autumn, the plant is still dangerous and may then be detected by the white berries that remain well into the winter. Poison ivy, however, grows so often in dark and shaded places where it is not easily recognized that it is not always possible to evade it. When it is growing along paths, by the roadside, in the garden or near the house where it is difficult to avoid it, the plant should be eradicated. Dig them out by the roots. If you do not care to get so close to the pest as digging requires, other methods are available, and are fully described in Farmer's Bulletin No. 1166.

When sensitive persons find it necessary to pass through areas where poison ivy is growing they may protect themselves by first bathing the hands and arms with a five per cent solution of ferric chloride in equal parts of glycerine and water. Another preventive suggested is to bathe the exposed parts of the skin with a five per cent solution of copperas of ferrous sulphate before visiting dangerous areas.

Always remember that it is generally the hands that come in contact with the plant and become covered with the poison, which is then carried to any other portion of the body that the hands may happen to touch. If one suspects that he has touched poison ivy, he should be careful not to spread the poison by rubbing his face or touching any other part until he has thoroughly washed the poison off his hands. Use soap and hot water. Yellow laundry soap is best. It is advisable for susceptible persons to take the precaution to wash after every trip through the fields where there is reason to suspect the presence of the enemy.

The rash or blistering may begin to appear within a few hours or not until a few days after contact. Avoid scratching the infected skin because it makes a bad matter much worse.

An oxidizing agent is the most rational and satisfactory treatment. One of the cheapest and most harmless agents is potassium permanganate, which may be obtained at any drug store. Washing the affected spots frequently with a five per cent solution in water stops the itching almost immediately. Blisters should be opened with a sterile needle to allow the remedy to come in contact with whatever poison may be contained inside them.

The above is the standard treatment and has but one disadvantage. Potassium permanganate turns brown and leaves a brown stain on the skin. The stain may be removed slowly by washing with soap and water, or more quickly with a one per cent solution of oxalic acid or sodium bisulfite.

Generally one thorough application of the potassium permanganate is sufficient but stubborn cases may require several applications. It is harmless to the most delicate skins, particularly if the skin is washed thoroughly after each application. After itching has stopped the affected area should be allowed to heal under antiseptic conditions. A soothing ointment such as zinc oxide or boric acid ointments should be spread gently over the skin to assist nature in repairing the injured tissues.

But an ounce of precaution is always worth a pound of cure. Learn to recognize the plant and keep away from it!

URGES PLANNING IN TREE PLANTING

Forester at College Thinks Care and Selection More Important

With the approach of the fall tree planting season for farmers seeking improved windbreaks, woodlots, landscaping, cellulose production or feed and shelter for game, Professor P. A. Herbert of the forestry department at Michigan State College urges greater care in selection of species and method of planting.

More than a million trees a year are being distributed from the two nurseries operated by the college at East Lansing and at the Dunbar forestry experiment station. From inspections of plantings, Professor Herbert has drawn a tentative conclusion that volume of planting is far less important than proper selection and planting.

He urges farmers to consult with county agricultural agents who can obtain advice for them through the Michigan State College extension service. As an example of the need for advice and planning, he finds that in fields that slope down to swales, the difference in elevation and soil even in closely adjacent plantings requires selection of different species for the high and low ground.

Where plantings suffer from weather conditions or lack of proper planting, replacements should be made within two years. This is especially timely advice, according to Professor Herbert, in connection with the new type of snowbreaks being set out along highways where trees are to be used instead of the customary snow fences.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page.

Practically all foods are either somewhat cheaper or at least no higher than they were a week ago. Butter is no higher, lemonds, after a temporary slump, rose again but most fruits and vegetables are very reasonable or cheap.

Meats, particularly beef and lamb, are considerably lower with the greatest difference in forequarter cuts. Broiling and frying chickens are attractively priced. Egg production is keeping up well so that prices, except for the very top grade, are unchanged.

New potatoes are somewhat cheaper and new sweet potatoes are in market. Good sweet corn is now plentiful and cheap.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Truth" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 26.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (John 8:31, 32): "Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 183): "Truth casts out all evils and materialistic methods with the actual spiritual law,—the law which gives sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, voice to the dumb, feet to the lame."

Farm Women's Week July 26-31

Farm Women's Week is an event keenly anticipated by ladies who have participated in home economics extension projects. A full week is enjoyed in sightseeing tours, in play and in class room instruction. Outstanding talent has been engaged to appear before the various groups during the week. In addition to the general session, each lady may select a particular subject and carry it through the week. Following are the different subjects: clothing, food and nutrition, home furnishing, home management and child development. Also talks and discussions will take place during the week on poultry, landscape gardening, flowers, community recreation, speech and books.

It is expected that some 14 ladies will be at [illegible] Women's Week from Charlevoix county. They will leave by bus around, by present plans, 7:30 Sunday morning, July 26, and [illegible] Friday, July 30.

800 Herds Already Tested for Bang's Disease

An announcement from Dr. S. S. Rich, [illegible] of Bang's disease eradication, Lansing, to the effect that future tests for Bang's disease will be carried on without cost, has caused great rejoicing among the dairymen. In the first place the Federal Government only promised two free tests, but as a result of many petitions sent in from Antrim and Charlevoix counties they have now seen fit to do all the work necessary for accreditation free of charge.

In view of the above announcement we are greatly interested in having Charlevoix county the first county to be fully accredited in the United States. Think what this will mean in the way of maintaining high prices for surplus dairy stock. The only stumbling block now is the fact that some dairymen have not applied for the test. An earnest plea is herewith sent out to all dairymen who haven't tested to notify this office at once so that application blanks may be sent out and all herds tested. According to Dr. C. G. Jensen, veterinary, 800 herds have been tested up to date. Many have already had two tests and several three. Those who have already tested are interested in having their neighbors test who haven't, and those who haven't should be sufficiently interested in the future development of this county to have their cattle tested. Let's finish the job. What do you say?

Drought Madifications Announced in Soil Conserving Program

As usual, special conditions many times alter cases. Because of the extreme dry weather suffered by farmers in this district two modifications in the soil conserving program to permit farmers to receive credit for acreages lost, and to cut grain for hay to save grain crops.

The first revision provides for the acceptance of proof of performance other than a good stand of a soil conserving crop, if the failure to obtain a good stand was caused by conditions beyond the control of the farmer. For example, if the farmer sowed alfalfa seed this spring alone or clipped the companion crop and then, because of dry weather the seeding was lost he will receive credit for having a good stand and his soil building payment provided he submits the evidence signed by a community committeeman or at least two neighbors who are farmers, to the effect that such practice has been followed. The statement should show receipts for the purchase of seed or materials, kind and amount of seed sown and method of seeding or application, date of seeding or practice and number of acres involved.

The second modification permits cutting of oats for instance, or other grains for hay to save the seeding provided a good stand of soil conserving crop is growing on this land when performance is checked later in the year. For example, if a farmer sowed alfalfa with oats this spring and because of dry weather the oats are not worth while leaving for seed. In addition the seeding is lost, this man may cut the oats for hay and the field be considered as a soil conserving use made of it, provided a new seeding replaces the old one lost by the first of September and a good stand is found later in the fall when compliance is determined. The main thing is that if oats are cut for hay and the original seeding has been lost, it is necessary to reseed before September 1st in order to have the soil conserving payment for the big payment.

Still another modification enables farmers who have lost soil conserving crops to plant emergency forage crops such as millet, soy beans, sudan grass and so forth, without losing the soil conserving status. However, before this can be done the soil conserving crop originally planted or sown must have been lost because of dry weather.

The county committee has met with the state representative and are now faced with the task of taking off something like 3000 soil depletion acres and 5000 acres of crop land from the work sheets. It has not been fully determined how this will be done, but in any case if upon receiving your soil depletion base you find a decrease you will know that it was something that had to be done in order to have our totals accepted by the state committee.

Dynamic Drama of "White Angel" at Palace

What is heralded as one of the outstanding productions of the screen, "The White Angel," a First National picture portraying the life story of the immortal nurse, Florence Nightingale, opens at the Palace Theater July 26, with Kay Francis in the stellar role.

Margaret Sullavan Plays Stormy Star in New Film Comedy

Screen Play Is Blend of Thrills, Fun

Comedy, melodrama and romance are mixed lavishly in "Florida Special," newest contribution from the Paramount Studios, which opens July 30, at the Palace Theater, with Jack Oakie and Sally Eilers in the leading roles.

What effect will Lemke, Thomas and Townsend have on the campaign? If you want to know how voters throughout the Nation feel about it, read "America Speaks." It appears exclusively in Michigan in the Sunday Detroit News.

Landon Studies Farm Problem

TOPEKA, KAS.—Vacation is over for Gov. Alf M. Landon, who has settled down to a heavy routine of duties handling the affairs of his office and preparing his major campaign addresses. He is shown here with George N. Peek with whom he discussed agricultural policies. Mr. Peek, former AAA administrator for the New Deal, says "Agriculture has definitely lost ground under the New Deal."

KAMP KAIRPHREE NEWS

By Ann Oakman

K. K. Welcomes First Overnight Events

Monday morning, all of the swimmers were excited to see the launch and Daddy Swain with Mr. Behlmer officially managing the surf board come "putting" out to dock. Some of our fearless made several successful attempts and some of them were not so successful! (It depends on the way you look at it.) But here are orchids to Bar Brooks for standing on her head, just try it!

Also orchids to Kit (Ruth Kittredge) for shooting her marksmen! Bring on your sharpshooters, Charlevoix.

Tonight is another Kamp Kraft supper down the river, (pardon we meant lake) and were those "Somemores" good! Our senior canoeing group went out for a fast and successful trip down to Gilead Grove! going with the waves, but just ask them about the return trip! Maybe they thought it was one way traffic, but our opinion---. Anyway, lessons are on hand. Our assembly turns into launch rides, trial run, free!

Tuesday morning, half the tent row was startled out of bed by something that sounded something like a bugle on a frosty morning and as an answer to the SOS we all tear down to find our little Dancing counselor (Marney Coe) stuck in bed and trying frantically to disentangle herself. Are we laughing? In the evening, several intermediates and Miss Mary Edna was so enthusiastic over breadmaking that she's going to open a Bakery in Missouri and we're all promised a bread twist if come down and see her sometime!

For assembly, a conglamoration of hammers, saws, drills and etc., plus a couple of Doctors, and patients, screened behind a sheet with a light presented a rather terrifying effect. After assembly, the last person to walk along the tent row in an attempt to wade through sheets, pitchers and what have you, was duly informed that there had been a general piling of beds, and one counselor was heard to remark that if beds had to be piled, especially with clean sheets, she'd like to show 'em how it should be done! We're still looking forward.

Miss Hope Chipman, Miss Edith Hoyle and Miss Florence Cummings were visitors at camp Tuesday evening.

Wednesday, some of us went to Petoskey and got everything from curlers to false fingernails and so on. "I wonder why?" For assembly, we all tuned up on our dancing. Again we wonder why?

Thursday, Miss Agnes Jewett, of Grand Rapids, arrives for a while. The Kairphree-Charlevoix party was given and quite a royal turnout was here. They arrived at 7:30 or 8:30 (difference of time) take your choice, and were gone at 11. There were games in one room, the dance floor in another and Ping Pong and Shuffle Board on the porch, and a variety of other things. Songs were sung. The party ended with the whole assembly joining in Taps and goodnight all.

Friday, Miss Mary Edna Hert, Miss Elizabeth White and Miss Marion Dickinson left bright and early for the annual cherry festival at Traverse City, and Miss Mary Edna insists that she sat across from Ted Weems at dinner! In the evening, we had movies on posture and teeth. One girl wrote home the next day and said that she wanted three good new tooth brushes as she found out that her ten cent store one was liable to become very disastrious! How about it, Penny? Also, Mary and Fran Henderson and Ginny Osgood arrived to spend the rest of the week-end with us. Welcome home!

Saturday, we went riding and incidently witnessed a game of Heyo-Went-Ha at Camp Charlevoix. When we got back to camp, we found Janet Crawford of Detroit, and Rosie Neal of Birmingham here. Janet is staying the rest of the time and Rosie hopes to stay a week. Virginia Drury of Ann Arbor visited a while.

The first river trip of the season started today, with Betty Johnson, Ruth Gram, Shirley Squires, Louisa Penny, Ruth Kittredge, Mary Henderson and Fran and Virginia Osgood. Seemed they came just at the right time. Miss Lucy Brauns was counselor. Good Luck, girls! Mr. Vollrath of Indianapolis Ind. arrives for a short visit.

Sunday, the Hendersons left, also Ginnie, and we heard the river trip was successful. Films were shown of the monastries abroad, with Daddy Swain as master of ceremonies. We wonder what these men see in those things!

Monday, Betty Johnson, Louisa Penny, Jean Manwaring, Mary Alice O'Connor, Shirley Squires, Barbara Brooks, Lucile Nolan, Gladys Gallinger, Betty Fariss and Ann Oakman with Miss Helen, and Mrs. Behlmer went to Mackinac Island for the day; left camp about about eight and returning about 9:30 in the evening. A grand time was had by all! For assembly, there was a hare and hound race and it ended at the shale pit for a marshmellow roast. I guess we missed something, but it was a full and successful day for everyone.

The celebrated Stulberg Trio presented an unusually fine Sunday evening concert this week. David Pratt, cellist, thrilled his audience with his reditions of "Sicilienne" and "Papillon" by Faure. Other outstanding numbers included in the program were "Lustspiel Overture," "Keler-Bela," "Trio in G Major," Haydn; "Spanish Dance No. 3," Moszkowski; "The Mill," Raff; "My Heart At Thy Sweet Voice," Saint-Saens.

Many large luncheon parties are being given at the hotel by Belvedere Club members. Hostesses at the largest parties last week included Mrs. Leonard Matthews, Mrs. W. G. Caldwell, Mrs. Charles O. Roemler, and Mrs. Ernest Roberts, who is an all-season guest at Belvedere Hotel.

DRINKING WATER AIDS BODY HEALTH

Adults Should Drink from Six to Eight Glasses Daily

Drinking water can serve as a body thermostat in maintaining a constant temperature. Members of the home economics extension staff at Michigan State College describe the functions of water in the body to indicate the importance of drinking sufficient water during hot weather as well as at other seasons.

According to medical authorities, the suggestion of adding a pinch of salt to a glassful of water at intervals in extremely hot weather is valuable. This helps maintain proper health by replacing chlorides lost in perspiration.

"Water is an important part of the body. Most adults need from six to eight glasses a day," the home economics workers find. "For those who cannot remember to drink water between meals, a good suggestion is for them to take a glassful during the day each time the clock strikes the hour. The drinking of two glasses of water upon arising is an excellent aid in promoting good elimination.

"Water in moderate amounts should be a part of every meal, but should not be used as a substitute for thorough mastication. As a pure liquid it is a part of all the digestive fluids and aids in the absorption of food. Water carries food materials to the tissues and assists greatly in removing waste products."

MOTORISTS WARNED OF 'STICKER' DEADLINE

Must Have License Plates Before Midnight of July 31st

Use of automobile "stickers" or half-year permits will be illegal after midnight, July 31, and owners of motor vehicles in this state who expect to operate them after that time must equip them with 1936 license plates before then.

Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, points out that he is permitted no latitude, discretion nor power of extension and that only express authorization of the State Legislature—not now in session—could deiny or change this deadline.

On July 15 a total of 448,084 stickers had been sold by the Department of State.

REDUCED

EFFECTIVE ON THE DATES SHOWN BELOW

By order of the Michigan Public Utilities Commission, dated July 1, reductions are made in certain telephone rates and charges in the Charlevoix exchange.

On rural lines the charge for the upright or desk type telephone is reduced from 25 cents a month to 10 cents, and will be eliminated entirely after the customer has had that type of telephone in service continuously for 18 months.

The charge for the hand telephone is reduced from 25 cents a month to 15 cents, except on rural lines where it remains at 25 cents, and will be eliminated entirely, as at present, after the customer has had that type of telephone in service continuously for 18 months.

The above reductions will be effective in the case of present customers on

AUGUST 11

Reductions also are made in the charges for installing and moving telephones, and for changing the type of telephone instrument. For instance, the charge for installing a business telephone where there is no instrument already in place, is $2.50; for a residence telephone where there is no instrument already in place, it is $1.50. Those reductions became effective Saturday, July 11.

Effective August 11

Charges for rural multiparty service beyond six miles from the base rate area are reduced. Monthly rates for other residential and business service are unchanged except that the four party business service is discontinued, and two party business service will be furnished at the former four party business rate.

Telephone service now represents greater value than ever before. To place an order, or to obtain further information, call, visit or write the Telephone Business Office. Installation will be made promptly.

NEW CAMPING GROUND AT WILDERNESS PARK

Tourists Invited to Make Use of Improved Facilities

Wilderness State Park, 12 miles west of Mackinaw City, is now open for public use with a fine new tourist camp ground. Tourist campers are being invited by state parks authorities to visit this park area and stay as long as their camping permit authorizes.

A public campground with stone fireplaces, drinking fountains, water supply and sanitary facilities are available to tourist campers for the first time this summer at Wilderness State Park. The campground is near u bathing beach on the Straits of Mackinac, and not far from a picturesque artificiul lake which at one time was the site of a large beaver pond. An attraction at this lake is a number of wild geese.

Over-Night Cabins

Several over-night cabins with bunks at outlying points in the forest tract are uvailable for limited use. A trail leads to the Mount Nebo observation tower, 60 feet high, from which broud views of the Straits of Mackinac and forest land can be obtained.

Tourists finding other state parks neur the Straits congested with campers during the current month and throughout August, may reach Wilderness State Park by a well-marked road from Mackinaw City. Deer are numerous in the park and the motorist is repeatedly cautioned by signs along the drives to proceed carefully.

CLIFFORD HERZER TO GIVE PIANO RECITAL

Brilliant Youog American to be Heard io Petoskey, August 3rd

Another program is being given by the young Americun pianist, Clifford Herzer, at the Petoskey high school auditorium on Monday evening, August third at eight forty-five.

New York heard Mr. Herzer in a brilliant debut in October. A tour followed immediately, playing in eastern and southern states. In Miami, Mr. Herzer was guest artist at Mana Zucca's well-known music club and his performance was such a marked success that Mana Zucca announced that she was engaging him for a complete recital the following season.

As a novelty Mr. Herzer is playing five Childhood Memories by Octavio Pinto. These short descriptive pieces are very modern and most amusing. To end the recital Reuben Barnett will play the second piano score of the last two movements of the Saint-Saen's Concerto in G minor witb Mr. Herzer.

RURAL HEALTH WORK ASSURED BY FEDERAL FUND

HOPE WINNER CHICAGO-MACKINAC SAILING RACE

Intrepid First to Cross Line, But Beaten on Elapsed Time

Hope, the slippery Q class sloop which flies the hurgee of the South Shore Yacht Club of Milwaukee, was declared winner of the Chicago-Mackinac trophy in the 29th sulling of the fresh-water classic.

Hope's victory came only after she had been run aground on u reef about nine miles from port and had been freed by the able seamanship of her skipper and crew.

The coast guard patrol was prompt in reaching the distressed yacht, but any assistance from an outside source would be cause for disqualification, so the Badger State crew took care of their own troubles.

Intrepid, the Byrnes-Mulloy-owned sloop, which races under the colors of the Jackson Park Yacht Club, wus the first boat to cross the finish line, but was defeated by Hope on corrected time.

Rubaiyat, Nathaniel Rubinkam's flagship of the Columbia Yacht Club, probably has the first place among the cruisers tied up. She was the first of the cruising class to finish but could not be officially declared winner until several hours have elapsed due to handicups.

The elapsed and corrected times of the five yachts which has finished at a late hour Tuesday follow:

Racing Division:

Boat	Elapsed time	Corrected time
Hope	59:58:57	64:33:33
Intrepid	68:16:17	66:14:14
Cruising Division:
Rubaiyat	63:30:38	59:10:19

WPA Workers Mail Fan Cards to Hopkins Free

Washington, D. C.—Synthetic fan mail which would have cost more than half a million dollars to somebody, had it not been manufactured and posted under government frank at the federal taxpayers' expense, poured into the offices of state directors of the WPA, following a nation-wide broadcast in which Harry L. Hopkins disseminated New Deal propaganda in an "educational" program.

Thousands of invitations to listen to the chief spender of the Roosevelt administration were mailed under government frank to men and women on the Work Relief payrolls. Apparently the broadcast was intended primarily for the more than 3,500,000 WPA workers of the nation, for return postcards enclosed with the invitations and which were also allowed to go through the mails free under government frank, bore the message: "I have listened to Mr. Hopkins."

Like the ballots in the recent Nazi elections which contained facilities only for voting to support the Hitler regime, there was no provision on the form for saying, "I have NOT listened to Mr. Hopkins." WPA workers, as it is perhaps indicated by the almost daily charges of political coercinn springing up in nearly every state, know the consequences of not listening to Mr. Hopkins.

For printing the cards and letters, for paper stock, for labor and for postage, the cost of such a circularization to a commercial organization whose head sought the comfort, however synthetic, of such a deluge of fan mail, would have easily exceeded $500,000, it has been estimated by those familiar with the advertising business here.

PICK DELEGATES TO GAYLORD CAMP

COUNTY 4-H COUNCIL WILL SEND TEN MEMBERS

Over Hundred Boys and Girls Enjoyed Outing Held Last Thursday at Bay Shore

(By O. F. Walker)

About 110 boys and girls enjoyed n full day of 4-H Club activities and recrention nt the county round-up at Bay Shore on Thursday, July 23. This was the first time a county round-up has been held in Charlevoix county.

The winners of the various activities which were held during the day were as follows: Canning judging, Miss Irene Brintnall, of East Jordan, and Marie Klooster, of Undine. Clothing judging was won by Muriel Stephens, of Undine, and Irene Brintnall, of East Jordan. Crops judging was won by Wilbur McDonald, of the Advance club, and tied for second place were Albert McDonald and Howard McDonald, of the Advance group, and Harvey Cole, of Burgess. Lorena Brintnall, of East Jordan, and Raymond Fisher, of Ellsworth, were picked the healthiest boy and girl by Miss Dean Rincke, of the Couzens Fund, and Miss Bertha Cooper, of the State Department of Health, who acted as judges.

In the demonstration class, Irene Brintnall and Jessie McDonald gave a very interesting demonstration on the selection of canning exhibits, while Wilbur and Howard McDonald won a crops demonstration contest with their demonstration on the proper methods of treating and cutting of seed potatoes.

After a very fine picnic dinner, which was held on the bluffs at Bay Shore, the general assembly was held. At this time a few remarks were made by Miss Bird and Mr. Lundin, of the Michigan State College, who acted as judges of the different events. The balance of the day was spent in playing games of various kinds. All the winners of the various events will represent their county at the Gaylord club camp the week of August 10.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Copping and Mrs. Johnson, of Bay Shore, for their assistance in obtaining the buildings to hold the day's activities. Also the two nurses in the health judging contest, Miss Rincke and Miss Cooper, and the many others who cooperated in making this day a success.

BELVEDERE SWIMMING CARNIVAL AUGUST 2

Aonual Charlevoix Meet Postponed Week to Avoid Conflict

The annual Charlevoix swimming meet, scheduled for Sunday, August 2, has been postponed a week to Sunday, August 9, according to Gordon Todd, activities director of the Board of Commerce.

The change was made to avoid a conflict with the annual Belvedere water carnival, this year to be held August 2.

The Belvedere program, to be held at the bathing pier on Lake Charlevoix, will be directed again by Tom Darling. Numerous new events have been added to the program, including a "water circus," races and diving contests for swimmers of all ages, novelty races, etc.

CHURCH OF GOD CAMP MEETING OPENS FRIDAY

Will Be Cooducted at Camp Grounds July 31st to August 9th

The annual Church of God camp meeting will be held July 31 to August 9 at the camp grounds located two miles southeast of Charlevoix.

Services will be held each morning, afternoon and night. Rev. Clifton H. Lord, returned missionary and evangelist, will speak every evening. Mrs. Rachel Lord will have charge of the music. Many other speakers will participate in the program from day to day.

MANY YACHTS VISITING CHARLEVOIX'S HARBOR

According to records kept at the information bureau maintained by the Board of Commerce, 18 yachts made use of Charlevoix harbor during the past week. Thirteen were cruisers and five sailing craft.

PLANT SMALLMOUTH IN LAKE CHARLEVOIX

Consignment of 15,000 Released by Members Sportsman's Club

C. S. Webster, president, assisted by members of the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club, has announced the planting of 15,000 smallmouth black bass in Lake Charlevoix.

The consignment of advanced fingerlings, received from the Northville hatchery, were released in Loeb's Bay on the south shore of Lake Charlevoix and Wilson Bay on the north shore.

This year's smallmouth fishing in Lake Charlevoix has been the best in recent years and continued efforts of the Sportsman's Club are aimed to maintain this excellent sport for local and summer residents.

FARMERS' CASH INCOME SHOWS MARKED INCREASE

Cash income of farmers for the first six months of 1936 aggregated $3,291,000,000, an increase of $335,000,000 over the same period in 1935, when cash income totaled $2,956,000,000, according to estimates announced today by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

The total for the first six months this year included $171,000,000 in AAA payments compared with $286,000,000 in similar payments in the same period last year.

ORGANIZE REPUBLICAN CO. GROUP

"ON TO VICTORY" CAMPAIGN STARTED HERE WEDNESDAY

State-Wide Move to Organize All Republicao Grouos Behind Party Candidates Is Outlined

Initial steps to bring Charlevoix Republicans into a county-wide organization to campaign for party candidates at the September primary election were instituted Wednesday by William M. Sanderson, Republican county committee chairman.

Plans of the "On to Victory" campaign as outlined by national and state organizations is for the county Republican committee and chairman to appoint a campaign chairman, who in turn will appoint chairmen from each township and ward of the county. Old Guard and Young Republican groups, ex-service men and women are to be included among the campaign leaders.

The new organization is to be completed within ten days and names sent to Judge Henry Sweeney, Lansing, Michigan chairman of the "On to Victory" campaign.

Full details of the campaign will be given at a meeting to he held Wednesday, August 26, at Gaylord, when members of the county organizations will be guests of the Republican State Central Committee at a banquet. At the Gaylord meeting will be such prominent figures as Howard C. Lawrence, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee; Judge Henry Sweeney; Mrs. C. L. Barbour, vice-chairman of state Republican women's organization.

Mr. Sanderson called the attention of local Republicans to a daily radio broadcasting campaign which started Monday, July 27, over the NBC Blue network from 8:15 to 8:30 p. m.

CITY BONDED INDEBTEDNESS IS REDUCED

Water Works Bood of $4,000 Retired on Monday's Payroll

Reduction of the city's bonded indebtedness was one of the major items included in the regular payroll passed Monday evening by the city council.

The council approved a payroll aggregating $13,211.35, which included a $4,000 payment of water works bonds, reducing the issue to $4,000 and interest. The final payment will be made in July, 1937. Another payroll item of $4,040 was approved, comprising a local loan necessary for operation of city departments prior to the influx of receipts from the summer tax roll.

The advertising fund outlay for the current payroll included payment of advertisements run in mid-west dailies as a part of the Board of Commerce resort promotion program.

VENETIAN PARADE COLORFUL EVENT

BEAUTIFUL SPECTACLE ON ROUND LAKE SUNDAY

Twenty-Four Boats Owned by Local and Summer Residents Participate—Will Repeat Event

The days when water craft provided the principal means of transportation and were the center of summer entertainment, were re-enacted here Sunday night with the staging of a Venetian boat parade on Round Lake.

A crowd estimated at 5,000 persons saw the colorful spectacle. Every vantage point on the harbor was packed and, despite threatening weather, efforts of the marine committee of the Board of Commerce, assisted by Gordon Todd, activities director, were rewarded with an event acclaimed the most beautiful ever witnessed here.

While the entry fell short of original expectations, the 24 boats taking part provided a sufficient number. The boats, lighted with colored Japanese lanterns and made beautiful in the darkness by colored flares, sparklers and Roman candles, entered Round Lake harbor from Lake Charlevoix in a long line. The boats split in formation for the first circle of the lake and finally joined in a larger circle. The Marold 11, gayly lighted, carried the city band which furnished music during the parade.

Those entering boats in the parade were C. S. Webster, Ray Kipke, Dr. F. W. Young, Ivan Falconer, Henry Partridge, Bruce Withers, Harry Lesser, Milo Todd, Miller Boat Co., Ward Richardson, Charlevoix Trolling Camp, Fred Bergmann, W. H. Wallace, Sander Halverson, Charles Bellinger, Ronald Fairbanks, Vane Smith, P. D. Campbell, Bill Novak, Sam Halverson, Glenn S. See, Robert Gerrie and Wesley Gilders.

Due to storms and other adverse circumstances, only a small number of boats from the Port Huron-Mackinac Island cruise were present for the event. The greater portion of the boats have returned to their home ports, while some did not even complete the cruise.

Due to the fine success of Sunday night's event and complying with the request of numerous summer residents, another Venetian parade will be staged during the season, probably the third Sunday in August.

RADIO-ELECTRIC SERVICE GETS FAIR SOUND CONTRACT

Ivan Falconer, of the local Radio & Electric Service Co., has been given the contract to furnish the loud speaker system to be used at the Charlevoix county fair at East Jordan in September.

ANNUAL OPEN NET MEET ANNOUNCED

12TH CHARLEVOIX TOURNEY TO BE HELD AUGUST 10-15

Event at Municipal Courts Precedes Michigan Riviera Championships Scheduled for August 17-23

Opening its summer activities with the first of two annual tournaments, the Charlevoix Tennis Club will stage the Charlevoix Open nt the municipal school courts, August 10 to 15, inclusive.

This year, the 12th for the open event, the tournament will again precede the Michigan Riviera championships, scheduled for August 17 to 23, inclusive.

Held primarily for the entertainment and participation of summer residents and enrollees nt the many summer camps in this region, the tournament draws a large entry. Inquiries regarding the tournament indicate the usual strong field.

The Open will be conducted by Gordon "Doc" Todd, activities director of the Board of Commerce. Events listed are men's singles and doubles, women's singles, singles for junior boys and girls, age 15 to 18 years, inclusive, singles for boys up to 13 years. Entries, closing nt noon on Monday, August 10, are to be made with Mr. Todd at the information bureau. The fee is 75 cents for each event, players to furnish balls. Suitable prizes will be awarded winners of each event.

Last year's open champions were: Men's singles, Robert Bryan, St. Louis, Mo.; women's singles, Mrs. Richard Lowenstein, Chicago; men's doubles, Robert and James Bryan, St. Louis, Mo.; girls' singles, A. Allen, St. Louis, Mo.; boys' singles, Billy House, Charlevoix.

With entries just opened for the annual event, no indication is yet available as to the present champions who will enter to defend their titles. Billy House, who is now a junior, will be a strong contender in that division.

TWO REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONTESTS

ONE DEMOCRATIC CONTEST AT SEPTEMBER PRIMARY

Floyd W. Ikens, Sheriff; Ervan A. Ruegsegger, Judge of Probate, to Have Opposition for Nomination

Two present county office holders will have opposition for nomination on the Republican ticket at the September primary election.

Compared to 1934 when 22 candidates entered the field, providing opposition for every Republican incumbent, the 1936 election will be a tame affair.

At the deadline for filing nomination petitions at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Floyd W. Ikens, incumbent, and Henry Steimel, of Boyne City, had filed for sheriff. Probate Judge Ervan A. Ruegsegger, of Boyne City, is opposed by Clarence B. Meggison, former Charlevoix postmaster. A three-way race exists for the office of road commissioner, otherwise present office holders will be unopposed.

Seven Democrats filed petitions for six offices, providing a contest for nomination between Pearl I. McHale and M. A. Muma, both of East Jordan, for register of deeds.

Following is the complete slate of Republican and Democratic candidates:

Republican Ticket

Prosecuting Attorney—*C. Meredith Bice, Charlevoix.

Sheriff—*Floyd W. Ikens, Charlevoix; Henry M. Steimel, Boyne City.

Clerk—*Fenton R. Bulow, Charlevoix.

Treasurer — *Lillis M. Flanders, Charlevoix.

Register of Deeds — *Frank F. Bird, Charlevoix.

Circuit Court Commissioner — *Rollie L. Lewis, Charlevoix.

Drain Commissioner — *James J. Simmons, Charlevoix.

Surveyor — *Samuel A. Tokoly, Boyne City.

Democratic Ticket

Judge of Probate — William H. Webster, East Jordan.

Sheriff — George A. Hansen, East Jordan.

Clerk — William P. Gillian, Boyne City.

Treasurer—Mattie M. Dean, Boyne City.

Register of Deeds — Pearl I. McHale, M. A. Muma, both of East Jordan.

Coroner—George W. King, Charlevoix.

Road Commissioner—Daniel Swanson, Charlevoix.

Due to absence of information at this time, candidates for legislative offices in this district, other than those already announced, cannot be named.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellencamp

Discussion Group Project Being Organized

A new project that appears to be very much worth while started on July 21, when William F. Johnston, state discussion group leader, met with 18 farm leaders and presented the details. These leaders representing the 4-H Club program, ladies' extension activity, soil conservation, granges and other organized efforts.

The object is to encourage discussion as a method of adult education. It is meant to train the individual in clear thinking. It is contemplated that as a result of this first meeting many of those present will hold a similar group in their community and direct a round table discussion of topics that are on the public mind today. It is felt that there has never been a time when accurate and true information should be discussed as it is needed today.

Mr. Johnston aptly discussed how these groups should organize, what they may accomplish and the attributes of real leadership. He also gave a list of publications and pamphlets that would greatly add to the discussion itself.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

Edited by Ed. Taylor

Well, Dad's Day is over and, although everyone is tired and pretty well worn out from the strenuous day, we think that Saturday was the best Dad's Day yet. Most of the Dads were here for the whole day, and they sure kept the boys on their toes all day long.

Mr. Galton started the day off by arriving before the rising bell and arousing the whole camp by driving up and down the cabin row honking his horn.

At breakfast a dozen dads were here and more came in during clean-up, so by the time the activities groups started most of them were in camp and rarin' to go. Some went riding, others played tennis, baseball, went sailing or canoeing, or worked in the handicraft shop.

At noon the boys demanded that Mr. Galton be thrown in the lake. Mr. Farr appointed Judge Fead to rule over the court and asked Tad Wiemann to act as sheriff and bring in the prisoner. A jury of six boys and six dads was then chosen and the trial of Mr. Galton began. Both sides stated their case and finally the jury decided the prisoner was guilty. After a little thought, Judge Fead sentenced the guilty man to be thrown in the lake. The sheriff led the prisoner to the lake, where he was thrown into the icy waters of Lake Charlevoix.

In the seniors' ball game the boys beat the dads 24-11. Mr. Karn led the dads by socking out a home run. In the intermediate game the boys again won, this time the score being 17-16.

After the ball games several boxing matches were put on as sort of an exhibition between some of the best boys in camp. Bud Boetticher and Sam Ladd opened the card by putting on a three round exhibition. "Hap" Hubbard beat "Popeye" Ford in the first fight. Bruce Laing won a close decision over Junior Farr in another three bout. Bill Palmer, outpointed Eddie Robertson in a hard battle. Paul Piccard lost a close fight to Al McGregor in the final tussle.

In the evening the annual Dad's Day banquet was held. Kemp Burton acted as toastmaster. Don Blue offered a short toast to the Dads, to which R. M. Farr replied. A counsellors' sextet furnished music for the occasion.

The principal speaker for the evening was David Irwin, a young man of 25, but already a noted Arctic explorer and author of "Alone Across the Top of the World." He spoke on his now famous dog team trek across Alaska and the Canadian Northwest and showed the movies he made while on the trip.

The next morning Irwin returned to the camp and swam across Lake Charlevoix accompanied by two senior campers in a boat.

Last Tuesday our baseball and tennis teams went to Camp Hayo-Went-Ha for a return match. Several of the ball team were out on trips, so the team took a 26-0 trimming from the Torch Lake boys. The tennis team lost also, but only after a hard battle. Although we lost all the sports events, everyone had a good time and we were treated royally by our hosts.

Wednesday a group of boys from Ironton came over for a ball game with the older boys and younger counsellors. We were leading 4-2 when the storm broke and the game was called.

Wednesday evening the second cabin stunt night was held. The best skit of the evening was put on by Cabin 16. Fred Gilette, Junior Blue, and Bob Stevens gave an excellent imitation of a ladies' aid meeting.

Friday night Ken Smith and Herb John on presented their All Star Minstrel Show. Chief Reimann acted as interlocutor for the two end men, Jack Hogan and Ed. Taylor. Soloists were Kemp Burton and Tom Hart. Before the show, Tad Wiemann showed the boys a few tricks and kept them guessing as to what he was going to do next.

The feature of the Dad's Day athletic program was the pitching duel between the Dads and the Juniors, which ended with the score 15 to 15. The game had to be called on account of the boxing show. The Juniors won a moral victory as Dave Bennett and Jackie Farr, their two star pitchers, were not allowed to play because they were a part of the boxing card. W. D. Robinson, D. D. Hunting, and Mr. Weidhaff starred for the Dads, while Steve Baits, Dave Hunting and Grant Wetoff played sensationally for the Juniors. Ted (Popeye) Ford and Dave Bennett risked their lives as umpires. Captain Billy Robinson is still protesting some of the decisions made.

Tuesday night the Juniors had a weiner roast campfire. John Sweeny played his accordion and Bob Bogue led in a discussion of the constellation of the stars. The program ended with songs and yells in anticipation of the coming Junior-Intermediate competition.

On Wednesday of this week, Erwin Edgar's cabin took an all-day horseback ride which resulted in stiffness, causing several of them to want to eat off mantels.

Tom Bennett has challenged Langdon Hubbard to a boxing match for the title of championship of the featherweight championship of the Junior section.

The annual Swimming Meet of Belvedere Hotel and Club will be held on Sunday afternoon, August 2. An unusually large list of entries have been received to date, and from present indications, this will prove to be the outstanding water carnival ever presented at Belvedere.

Old Bryan Paper Bolts Roosevelt

Omaha, Neb.—The Omaha World-Herald, for 50 years one of the leading Democratic newspapers of the Middle West and once edited by William Jennings Bryan, has definitely stamped itself as opposed to President Roosevelt and the New Deal policies his administration stands for.

"Mr. Roosevelt, as earnestly and passionately as Hitler once did, assails our own capitalist system," says the World-Herald editorial.

"By his sweeping onslaught Mr. Roosevelt has precipitated uncompromising war between the government he heads and private enterprise . . .

"And just as long as that war rages, the billions of credit and money tied up in the banks, idle and unused, will remain idle and unused. The millions of idle workers will remain unused, unless it be on public labor . . .

"This newspaper believes the American system, both economic and political, is not so desperately sick, so hopeless beyond cure, that it is necessary to kill and replace it with an order alien to our traditions, repugnant to all our aspirations."

Landon Urges Wisconsin to Save Its Ideal Homes

Milwaukee, Wis. — "Wisconsin, with its thousands of beautiful homes and high percentage of home owners, is an example of much that is best in American life today," Gov. Alf M. Landon, Presidential nominee, wired the Republican State convention here. "Your decentralized industry, including thousands of small manufacturing plants living and prospering side by side with larger corporations, represent an ideal and a balance for which we must strive and to which the Republican party is committed by its platform."

Landon's telegram continued: "These small homes and businesses have been built by a frugal people schooled in the old fashioned virtue of thrift. I have never before known a campaign which has evidenced so greatly the quiet determination of men and women to save for themselves and their children the things that we Americans hold most dear. The American people have an appreciation of the value of good government and are prepared to fight for it."

John D. M. Hamilton, national chairman, speaking at the convention, referred to American citizens as "stockholders" in the federal government, accusing the administration of misleading its stockholders: "Your stockholders would like to learn, Mr. Morgenthau, why in recalling that the Treasury estimated in 1934 a $4,000,000,000 deficit for the fiscal year just ended, you omitted the fact that in the same year 1934, your Chief Executive promised that the deficit for this period would be zero, and before a United States senate committee as recently as last April you predicted it would be nearly $6,000,000,000 . . .

Presidents' Spending Compared

Milwaukee, Wis.—Appropriations of President Roosevelt's administration which were unspecified by congress totalled 13 billion 500 million dollars, or more than eight times the combined unspecified appropriations made to all the Presidents in the 143 preceding years, John D. M. Hamilton, Republican National chairman, told the state Republican convention here.

Agriculture and Industry

Returns for the first quarter of 1935 for industrial corporations publishing quarterly reports show net profits 21 per cent more than for the same in 1934 The total farm value of all important crops, exclusive of livestock, rose in 1934 to $4,752,423,000, as compared with $4,114,265,000 in the previous year and $2,882,195,000 in 1932

...boasts Kermit Kidder
THIS SYMBOL identifies the thousands of cars throughout the Mid-west now entered in the World's Greatest Road Test conducted by Standard Oil
RESEARCH TEST CAR

"IT'S something of a hobby with me—crossing the continent is. But, old experienced continent-crosser that I am, do I have my eyes opened this Spring? I do!

"Always before, I make the trip by foot, figuring I'm money ahead if other folks buy the gasoline. This time, though, I get reckless. I decide to forget expense and go in my own car. 'But, Kermit,' I says to myself, 'don't go completely nuts all at once. Take it easy and gradual,' I says.

"That's sensible, so I start it off with just one tea-cupful of gasoline in the tank. And right there is where I get my eye-opener: It happens to be Red Crown gasoline that I buy. And do I have to make another single stop for gas the whole way across? I do not! That one cupful takes me coast to coast, and I even have trouble stopping the car when I get to the Golden Gate.

We don't believe Kermit could really have been serious about this matter. In fact, we don't believe there is any such person.

It is a fact, though, that many motorists do have false or exaggerated ideas about gasoline mileage. That's why Standard Oil is conducting a great public road test this summer, in which thousands of motorists are taking part.

Reports already indicate that many are learning valuable new facts about the economical operation of their cars—discovering how to use gasoline more efficiently—finding out which brand of motor fuel does the best and cheapest job for them. Even if you aren't entered in the World's Greatest Road Test, it will pay you to

LEARN THE TRUTH ABOUT GASOLINE MILEAGE

HAVE YOUR STANDARD DEALER FILL YOUR TANK WITH STANDARD RED CROWN. Then note carefully how many miles you drive before you need gasoline again. Compare that mileage with any you've ever gotten before.

We know from our own tests that Standard Red Crown is good for fully as long a mileage as any regular priced gasoline on the market. But rather than make claims, we prefer to let Standard Red Crown speak for itself.

BE SURE YOUR CAR IS SAFE TO DRIVE—THEN DRIVE SAFELY!

CRITICAL TIMES

War looms on the horizon between capital and labor, especially in the steel and radio trades.

Upon the solution of this trouble between capital and labor depends to a large extent, how rapidly this country can continue on its march toward recovery.

So long as labor elects to fight capital, recovery in reemployment will be delayed, as a matter of logic. Hence, we trust that good sense and not crackpots will prevail to the end that business is not hindered or that labor has to suffer.

SOMETHING TO BE THANKFUL FOR

A husband recently was crabbing to his wife because he had to take the parlor rug out and beat the dust out of it. His mother-in-law heard him and remarked: "Quit your crabbing! When your father was your age he had to get down on his knees, take all the tacks out of the carpet, take it out, beat it, carry in newspapers and spread on the floor, pile fresh straw on top of those, then tack the carpet down again! Go to work, you lazy hound, and thank your stars you live in 1936 instead of 1886."

NO MORE CASHING OF CHECKS IN BARROOMS

No more will the worker stand up to the bar, cash his pay check and spend it all.

Sheriffs and police have received notice from the State Liquor Control Commission that, effective August 1, no person holding a license for selling liquor by the glass can cash a pay check.

This new regulation is designed to prevent a recurrence of the old saloon practice of cashing pay checks and then getting the money back across the bar.

LECTURE ON COMMUNISM SUNDAY BAPTIST CHURCH

Native Born Russians to Give Facts Regarding Motives, Origin Party

Communism, widely publicized although little understood by the average citizen, will be explained Sunday at the Baptist church by Rev. and Mrs. Astakahoff, native born Russians.

No nation hates Communism as does Russia, Rev. and Mrs. Astakahoff declare. This is but one of the striking and arresting statements of the native born and distinguished Russians.

Communism is not a Russian movement, as many suppose, but is an international movement to bring about world revolution in order to establish their principles. The German government during the World War, failing to dispose of Russia as their enemy through separate peace treaties negotiated, sent Lenin and other Communistic leaders then in Switzerland into Russia in steel cars to bring about the revolution and secure Communistic control. There were only 30,000 Communists at that time, but with a tired and discouraged army and with promises that the men should return to their homes, it was easy to win over the army and navy and thus get control.

"I consider myself fortunate to have heard the thrilling and instructive message from the distinguished Russian minister, N. I. Saloff-Astakahoff. He really has a message that all America should hear and those who miss him will probably not have an opportunity to know at first hand and from one who is so capable of expressing the facts in such a forceful way. His description of Russia should be a warning to every red-blooded American citizen who loves his country and his family."

AUTO STICKERS "OUT" AFTER FRIDAY NIGHT

Deadline at Midnight Will Be Enforced by Michigan Officers

Use of automobile "stickers" or half-year permits will be illegal after midnight, July 31, and owners of motor vehicles in this state who expect to operate them after that time must equip them with 1936 license plates before then.

Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, points out that he is permitted no latitude, discretion nor power of extension and that only express authorization of the State Legislature—not now in session—could delay or change this deadline.

On July 15 a total of 448,084 stickers had been sold by the Department of State.

NEW BATHING BEACH ON LAKE MICHIGAN

Construction Now Under Way Opposite New Birch Hills Sub-Division

Sponsored by Herman Panama, Boulder Park summer resident, and L. S. See, owner of the new Birch Hills sub-division, a new bathing bathing beach is being built on Lake Michigan off lake shore drive.

By the removal of stones and filling with sand, a beach 60 x 150 feet is being built. The stones removed from the lake bottom have been used for retaining walls on the sides and end. Water to a shoulder depth has been formed near the outer wall. The beach, wider on the shore, is to be covered with sand for lounging.

ADRIAN A. M'CUNE SUCCUMBS THURSDAY AT HORTON BAY HOME

Funeral services for Adrian A. McCune, well known Horton Bay resident, were held at the Horton Bay Evangelical church at 2:30 o'clock Sunday, with burial following in Maple Lawn cemetery, Boyne City.

The Rev. Ronald C. Miller and the Rev. E. F. Bailey, of Petoskey, had charge of the services.

Mr. McCune died Thursday at 59 years of age after 36 years at Boyne City and Horton Bay. He was born November 15, 1876, at Dorr, Allegan county, and was married to Miss Rena Crapsey, of Dorr, on March 30, 1896.

They came to Boyne City 36 years ago and for many years Mr. McCune served as foreman at the chemical plant there. Later they moved to a farm home at Horton Bay.

Surviving are: his wife; three daughters, Mrs. M. D. Jones, Marinette, Wis., Mrs. Ralph Durance, of Flint, and Mrs. Claude Agan, of Davidson, Mich.; a son, Adrian A. McCune, at home; and six grandchildren.

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank friends and neighbors, the American Legion and Rev. G. R. Parker for their kindness and sympathy during our recent bereavement. Mr. and Mrs. James Rayman and family.—Adv31t1pd

Landon and Son

Gov. Alf M. Landon frolics with his son, John Cobb, 3. "Pay-as-you-go," says the Republican nominee, "then your children won't bear the burden of your mistakes."

Roosevelt Slips, Gallup Reveals

New York City.—A definita swing away from President Roosevelt since the nomination of Landon and Knox by the Republicans at Cleveland and since the Democratic national convention at Philadelphia is indicated in the latest poll reported by the "American Institute of Public Opinion."

On June 7 the Gallup poll showed the President as having 56 per cent of the popular vote against the field. With the campaigns definitely under way following the national conventions, the poll released July 12 showed the President's popular vote as having been reduced to 51.8 per cent, and having shrunk mora in some cases in states normally Republican or doubtful.

A survey conducted among 3,000 persons in every walk of life by Fortune magazine indicated that after three years of the Nev Deal 59 per cent of the persons questioned feel that they are no better off.

Predicts G. O. P. Sweep to Majority in House

Chicago, IB.—The steady trend toward Landon and Knox throughout the country will help sweep a Republican majority into tha house of representatives at the approaching election, says Earl Venable, executive secretary of the Republican Congressional campaign committee with offices here.

"We will retain all the seats wa now have," said Mr. Venabla, "and from among the remainde. now represented by Democrats who came in on the 1932 landslide, a sufficient number can be swung back to give the Republicans a comfortable majority in the new house, which will support Landon after his election."

Debt $266 a Head

Washington, D. C.—The United States national debt a the closa of the 1936 fiscal year was 33 billion 779 million dollars, according to the report of the treasury department. That is a debt of approximately 266 dollars for every man, woman and child in the nation, or approximately $1 951 for every family.

Exports Drop Under New Deal

Wallace Bares New Deal Plans

His Complete Co-operatives Seen as Death Blow to American Ideal.

By WILLIAM J. LEE

CHICAGO, ILL.—Establishment of co-operatives for producers and consumers, wiping out the American system of free competition and business on a profit basis and threatening the ruin of independent farmers and tradesmen and retail storekeepers, is now aeen as one of the next objectives of tha New Deol.

New Dealers at the Philadelphia convantion presented a plank in favor of co-operatives that had the support of President Rooaevelt, but this was rejected by aoma of the older and conservatlva members of tha resolutions committea "as being too radical," ao only a modest referenca was made to tha scheme in tha platform.

However, publication of a book entitled, "Whose Constitution?", by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace ravealed tha scopa of the New Deol co-operative ideas.

Study Co-operatives in Europe.

In his book Mr. Wollace declores that "It is inevitable that mora ond more emphasis is going to be laid on the idea of co-operation as distinguished from free competition" and sets forth that the only woy a democracy can surviva "Is to develop the genuine co-operative ideal to tha limit."

"Producers' co-operotives are not enough," he asserts. "The co-operative way of life must pervade the community, and this means there must be consumers' co-operatives os well as producers' co-operatives."

The day after the Wallace book appeared, President Roosevelt announced ha had sent a New Deal commission to Europe to study the operation of co-operatives.

Commenting upon the Democratic co-operative plank, the Wallace book and the President's co-operative commission, and the fact that thera are marked aimilarities between Mr. Roosevelt's acceptance speech and the Wallace volume, the Kansas Times states:

"(It is probable) . . . that the inner ring of New Dealers already have agreed among themselves as to the next trick they will pull from the bag, either at an opportune time in the campaign or after tha election, ahould it go their way.

"The co-operativa commonwealth idea . . . has recalled tha declaration of Prof. Rexford G. Tugwell soma time back that, under the new order he envisaged for Amerlca, business as it now is known logically would tend to disappear."

Platform Reticence Explained.

How the Walloca idea of co-operatives is viewed in Democratic circles may ba seen in the following statements by Frank R. Kent, Democrat, in one of his recent columns:

"Apparently he (Mr. Wallace) belleves that under the general-welfara clousa a liberal-minded Suprema court could permit transformation of the country into a gigantic co-operative commonwealth, under which the objectives of the NRA, AAA and other invalidated New Deal measures could constitutlonally be achieved. There seems no other way to interpret his language.

"It is quite the most far-reaching idea yet advanced and it is easy to understand why the New Deal politicians did not want it injected into the campaign."

From this it seems clear tha New Deal now proposes to set up a system of regimentation that would ruin every independent farmer and every independent retail merchant. There ara millions of independent farmers and more than 475,000 retailers in tha United States.

Such a regimentation might deny a farmer'a son an opportunity to hew a living for himself on his own farm and prevent a man establishing himself in a business of his own making. All might become cogs in a huge federal machine.

Republican Trend Revealed by Poll

New York City.—"The most significant political development in the nation aince tha nomination of Landon and Knox is tha distinct, proven trend toward tha Republican candidates," declared John Hamilton, G.O.P. national chairman here, in a statement commenting on the poll conducted by the American Instituta of Public Opinion. The poll indicates President Roosevelt's strength has slumped about four per ceat sinca the Republican nomination.

"This means," said Mr. Hamilton, "that in total votes Landon and Knox have taken between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 from Mr. Roosevelt, and on the basis of electoral votes Mr. Landon is laading the nation. Director George V. Gallup of the survey gives him 272, with several important atates marked doubtful."

Mr. Hamilton said the country is swinging to Landon becauaa his common humanity has impressed itself upon the people, who realiza he knows how to keep his promisas, that he is of and for the common people and that instead of adding to the burden of taxation imposed upon the common man Governor Landon can be depended upon to deol with governmental deficits as the ugly things they are."

SOMEWHAT HIGHER BUTTER PRICES SEEN FOR FALL

It is probable that consumers will have to pay somewhat higher prices for butter, said the Bureou of Agricultural Economics in a report on the dairy situation issued today. The drought, which began to injure the pastures and feed crops in June, has cut down milk production further during July. Butter and cheese prices have risen rapidly during the month.

The trend of butter prices during the remainder of the year will depend to a large extent upon the seriousness of the drought in affecting production.

SUN RAYS SCORCH EVERGREEN TREES

Forester Surveys Plantings and Offers Advice on Saving Them

Good and bad news for farmers and city folks who have been watching their evergreens turn brown under the dry heat is offered by W. Ira Bull, extension forester at Michigan State College. Brown needles on the upper side of spruce tree branches, most noticeable on the south and west sides of the trees, are evidence of heat damage.

A soil sooking and watering is the best treatment for young plantings or choice specimen trees used in londscaping, says Forester Bull. Some of the smallest trees have been killed with the heat. Mature trees, even when they show considerable damoge, will not be as attractive but are not likely to die.

Forest trees planted within the last three years in Lower Michigan have suffered losses from extreme heat and drouth conditions. White pine and spruce plantings inspected recently by Mr. Bull indicated more serious effects than red ond jack pine because the former species cannot endure the heat as well. Some of the small trees still retain a faint green color in their needles, but they are dry and dead ond cannot be saved.

Trees older than three years indicate few losses, although scorched needles on the south and west sides of the trees may show considerable brown. Schools, 4-H ranger clubs, community organizations and individuals finding damage in plantings are being advised to check up on losses and make plans for replanting in spring, trusting that the next growing season will be more favorable.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Dangerous Waters

By the term "dangerous water" is meant any water that may cause illness or death if used for drinking purposes and there are many such waters.

For few realize that millions of deaths have been caused in times past from drinking water that was contaminated with such germs as those of cholera and typhoid fever.

A common-place though important function of water courses is the drainage of surface washings. In many instances, man has used the stream often unwisely as a means of disposing of sewage and industrial wastes.

About the most dangerous form of pollution to which a body of water can be subjected is that of receiving human waste, that is, the discharge from the human body. Even a very small amount of such pollution becomes a most serious menace, or if you will pardon plain words, one person suffering from typhoid fever has been known to infect the water-supply of an entire city, causing hundreds of deaths from this disease.

Just a few weeks ago, an outbreak of typhoid fever occurred in a small town in one of our middle-western states. Upon investigation, it was found that this outbreak was due to a cross connection which allowed polluted water to enter the mains of the regular drinking water system. It so happened that a national conference was being held in the little town and no less than eight states have since sent in reports of persons who were infected by drinking this water and who developed the disease after they had returned home.

Stream and lake pollution has steadily increased in the United States in the last few years with our rapidly increasing population until it is extremely difficult, in most cases impossible, to secure a source of supply water that is safe to drink without being purified, and in many cases the contamination is becoming so great that if there should be any material increase in this contamination, it will no longer be possible to purify the water except at a cost which is prohibitable of its use. Fortunately, many of the factors responsible for stream pollution are controllable, tending to make an otherwise bad situation more hopeful.

Foremost among the bad influences exerted by stream pollution is the contamination of public water supplies. If not prevented, or is not remedied by the installation of water purification plants, sickness and death are inevitable. Nuisances manifested by offensive odors and unsightliness may also result. Thus the public health and comfort are disturbed. The wholesome recreation afforded by fishing, bathing and boating may be jeopardized by pollution. Bathing in polluted water is so manifestly hazardous as to require repeated words of warning. Fish life may be entirely destroyed by pollution due to industrial wastes. Live stock, through inability to secure plentiful supplies of safe water, may also suffer. With these tangible ill effects it is not surprising that property values in the vicinity of a body of polluted water depreciate materially, while owners protest in vigorous terms.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

"Lost" Car Titles Found in Capitol

Twice a year many automobile owners discover they can't locate the titles to their cars—write to the secretary of state to complain they never received them—and find they have been held, for lack of proper address, for months or longer.

In the early part of every year, the "lost" title file may contain as many as 6,000 titles, returned by postal authorities to the capitol because the addresses furnished by car owners aren't correct. When license plates are bought, owners miss their titles for the first time, complain about it, and thus Department of State officials learn corrected addresses, and forward the titles.

With the passage of the time after which 1936 license plates are sold at half price, a number of cars not previously on the highways this year, are being licensed, and titles in the "lost" file are being sought by their owners.

The number of "lost" titles is seldom less than 3,000.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By Ann Page

This is peach week, the week when the big yellow Elbertas are most plentiful, the week when you will perhaps want to do some home canning and surely eat peaches at least once a day.

Bartlett pears, plums and cantaloupes are also excellent values.

All meats and eggs are higher though beef and eggs are still inexpensive. Butter is no higher in spite of unfavorable weather, pasturage and crop conditions.

Sweet corn, tomatoes and new white potatoes are the best vegetable values.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Love" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 2.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (I John 4:16): "And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 236): "Love, the divine Principle, is the Father and Mother of the universe, including man."

Now! A complete novel every Sunday. The first one entitled "The Second Key" by Mrs. Belloc Lowndes with next Sunday's Chicago Herald and Examiner. Be sure to read the complete novel every Sunday.

Nobody would mind giving women even more rights if they'd give up a few privileges.

Stars, Songs, Dances Make New Film Shirley's Greatest

It's always an event when Shirley Temple comes to town, but according to advance reports, when "The Poor Little Rich Girl," the tiny star's new Fox hit, opens Sunday, August 2, at the Palace Theatre, it will be something in a way of a celebration, an epoch, a new milestone in entertainment.

For, definitely, the talented Temple miss is said to give the performance of her life in this new film and, to top it off, she's surrounded by a veritable gallery of Hollywood's brightest stars including Alice Faye, Gloria Stuart, Jack Haley and Michael Whalen.

Does a man kill the one he loves because he loves so much?

Based on a burning question of today, "The Crime of Dr. Forbes," Fox picture coming August 7-8 to the Palace Theatre, presents one of the most unusual problems ever brought to the screen.

Gloria Stuart and Robert Kent head the cast, which also features Henry Armetta, J. Edward Bromberg, Sara Haden and Alan Dinehart.

E. J. Edwards, J. M. Foster, W. H. Wallace Re-Named Directors

Trustees were elected, annual reports heard and routine business transacted at the annual meeting of the board of trustees of Charlevoix Hospital, held Wednesday evening at the library building.

Edward J. Edwards, Joseph M. Foster and William H. Wallace were re-elected to two-year terms. The board will organize with election of officers at its next regular meeting.

An apparent lack of public interest in the affairs of the institution was indicated by the small attendance. It was necessary to recruit several persons after the meeting had been called to order to have a quorum present.

PETOSKEY AWARDED SOFT BALL TOURNEY

District Elimination Under WPA Supervision August 27-30

The first annual Class B softball tournament for the Fifteenth WPA district of Michigan will be held in Petoskey August 27, 28, 29 and 30. Word that the tourney had been awarded to Petoskey came through District Commissioner Davenport, of Charlevoix, and State Commissioner Seth Whitmore, of Lansing.

The tournament is a state affair, similar in arrangement to the district basketball tournament, with the winner and runner-up going to the state meet, probably at Lansing. The 12-inch ball is regulation for tournament play and the district affair is open to all teams listed as state members.

It is expected that between 25 and 30 teams will go to Petoskey for the event. The games will be played at night on Petoskey's new field on the lake front. The field will be brilliantly lighted.

KNIGHTS OF DEARBORN BEAT LOCAL BALL CLUB

Won Sunday Baseball Contest by 12 to 5 Count—Play Here Sunday

The Knights of Dearborn, strong down-state semi-professional baseball club, showed too much class for the Charlevoix Red Sox and won Sunday afternoon's tilt by a 12 to 5 score.

The contest was closely fought in every inning and the outcome was due largely to the more timely hitting of the visiting players. Denemy and Lord were the Charlevoix battery.

The Red Sox will appear on the home diamond again next Sunday. Their opponent has not yet been named.

INCREASE OLD AGE PENSIONS TO $30 A MONTH?

Michigan paid $2,650,000 to 27,700 persons in old age pensions last year. The present state appropriation of $2,000,000 is to be doubled and each pensioner will receive $30 a month, if the federal government advances a like sum.

URGE PURCHASES OF BEEF BARGAINS

Can Save Money and Aid Beef Producers by Helping Remove Surplus

Endorsement of a campaign designating August as national beef month is being given by Professor George A. Brown, head of the animal husbandry department at Michigan State College. All retail meat outlets in the United States, including chain and independent dealers have agreed to participate in the movement to assist beef cattle producers on five and one-half million farms.

Beef is being sold at bargain prices compared with a year ago. Cuts are retailing at from 7 to 32 per cent lower. During the month of June beef supplies that went to market for slaughter were the heaviest for any June in history.

Livestock associations, marketing agencies and the packing industry are supporting the movement to sell off the beef surplus. Actively functioning in the plans are the National Live Stock and Meat Board, the Institute of American Meat Packers, Food and Grocery Chain Stores of America, the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers and other national, sectional and state organizations within the livestock and meat industry.

"Many Michigan farmers are not receiving sufficient price to pay for beef production," says Professor Brown. "The consumer can help, and in so doing will also prevent the early return of another high peak in meat prices. If encouragement to the beef producer is given now, he will not get out of beef production temporarily, getting back in when prices are high and tempting. Removal of these peak and valley price trends can help consumer and producer alike."

WOLVERINE NURSERY TO HAVE MILLION SEEDLINGS

Trees to Provide Food Source for Game Birds and Animals

All indications are that Michigan will have a million or more hardwood and shrub seedlings from its new hardwood forest nursery near Wolverine for planting this fall.

Several species of seedlings suitable as food sources and cover for game birds and animals may have sufficient growth for planting in refuges and state forests this year, Conservation authorities say. However, some of the other seedlings, the cedar and maples, for instance, are just breaking through the soil.

AID WORK HORSE IN HOT WEATHER

M. S. C. Suggests Practices That Will Keep Animals in Harness

Nineteen brief pointers that can save horseflesh and veterinary bills for owners of work horses have been compiled by Professor R. S. Hudson of the animal husbandry department at Michigan State College. The pointers indicate the proper feed and care. The information contained can be obtained by writing the Animal Husbandry Department at the college at East Lansing, or by contacting the county agricultural agent.

"Feed regularly," advises Hudson. "But do not feed grain when the horse is tired and hot. Fresh hay in the manger is sufficient until the animal has had a half hour to cool off. Water often, at least four or five times daily, but do not let an animal drink more than a pailful of 10 to 12 quarts when the horse first comes in from work if he is tired and very warm.

"Avoid sudden changes in feed from old to new grain or hay. Bulky, dusty or moldy feed causes colic and heaves. In general, feed one and one-tenth pounds of grain and one and one-fifth pounds of hay daily for each 100 pounds of weight if moderate work is in schedule. A 1400 pound horse should have 15 pounds of grain and 17 pounds of hay.

"Horses should have salt available to lick at all times in barn or pasture. Collars and hames should fit well and be kept clean to avoid sore shoulders. Lift the collar frequently when the horse is working and wipe off the shoulders with the palm of the hand.

"As work decreases, the use of pasture may be increased. This will contribute to the health of the animal and reduce the cost of keeping him. Exercise is important, but if there is no place to turn out an animal, feed one pound of bran and six pounds of carrots or potatoes to help keep the horse in condition."

ANNOUNCE FEDERAL BENEFITS IN THIS COUNTY

Farmers Got $8,241.11 Under Agricultural Adjustment Act

Charlevoix county has received $8,241.11 in rental and benefit payments in the three years since the creation of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, according to information received by Abner E. Larned, state director, National Emergency Council for Michigan.

Rental and benefit payments in Charlevoix county for the wheat program totalled $1,601.55; corn-hogs, $6,639.56.

Rental and benefit payments in the entire state amounted to $9,790,101.98 for the three-year period; $909,815.85 of this amount was paid during the first five months of 1936, Mr. Larned states.

KAMP KAIRPHREE NEWS

By Ann Oakman

Birthday Banquet

This afternoon some of us go riding, even though it does look like rain, and the remainder of the afternoon is devoted to "dressing up" in honor of the Birthday Banquet. Jean Reimann arrives a little late but beaming and shining, the result of a hot shower! The table was decorated from end to end with ferns collected by the Explorers (Juniors) and two delicious cakes were on either end of the long table. Incidentally, the tables were arranged out on the lodge porch as is the custom. Our place cards were cleverly made by some of the counsellors out of pipe cleaners and the various animals, designed for each individual, provided plenty of fun and guessing. Especially when some bright person painted black stripes on Miss Lucy's! Three guesses.

Wednesday the long-looked-for-rain gives us a shower, rather a deluge, and consequently our schedule for the morning is slightly altered, though between showers we play off bat-minton and ping-pong tournaments. During swimming (as if we hadn't had enough water) we watch the rain come up the lake and all end up in one mad scramble for tents and rubber boots, and wade around looking like Santa Claus, though some people had the nerve to tell us we looked like a bunch of drowned rats! Doris Chase, of Grosse Pointe, arrives and is welcomed by all. Doris is an old camper.

For assembly, a famous K. K. K. F. P. P. (Kamp Kairphree Kircus for Pixilated People) is, well, was.

The admittance ticket was a homemade, hand-made animal or something, and some incidental visitors nearly got scared out and we aren't blaming them. Look what they got for waiting though! Just for example (about the animals) there were some circumhillii, you know, an animal that just goes around and around a hill one way, therefore having two legs (the inside ones of course) shorter than the outside ones! Logical? Very convenient, anyway! And the effect was startling enough.

Thursday, some of us brave the impossible and take canoes out looking like a lot of Indians. We mean that the lake was rough. And did we feel like braves! We came shooting back just a little faster than we expected. The rest of the morning was spent mostly in wading around in our "little red rubbers" until after dinner, then some of us go riding. No rain fortunately. For evening assembly, "Pyramus and Thisbe" is given for entertainment and the wall looked quite natural. After that, there was a bit of an amateur hour with Miss Lucy as the Major. First prize goes to Penny Shaw for imitating Ted Husing, mostly because we couldn't understand a word she was saying!

Friday morning there is much ado about changing tents and moving tooth brushes and so on. In the middle of things, Ginny Brooks and Margaret McCarthy arrive on the morning train in Charlevoix, and Jean Oglesby comes in from Indianapolis. In the afternoon we are all energetically taking our naps and Priscilla Ehlers, Connie Lorch and Faegal Hootkins arrive from Ann Arbor. Mostly moving all day. But anyone that wanted to could have seen their face shine on those floors, they were so clean! Movies tonight, all about ocean liners and the salmon industry, and they receive a big hand. Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Benaway arrive for guest week-end. Also, Mr. and Mrs. Kittredge, and Dr. Brown and son, Robert.

Saturday, for morning classes, we have all sorts of athletics up on the field. Mrs. Irene B. Johnson, mother, Mrs. Bigalke, daughter, Mary, and guest, Mrs. Carl S. Oakman, arrive early in the afternoon. After rest hour, six of us go to Camp Charlevoix to get the horses and ride them back, with Miss Eileen. The horse show is held on the field and is quite a success. We ride the horses back and take a dip to freshen up. For assembly a varied show of talents come out. We have a group of shadow pictures; the good old villain, heroine act in "No, No, a Thousand Times No"; a piano solo; a tap dance; and the Explorers give us a ballet dance. Taps, and goodnight all.

Sunday we unofficially take it easy and go surf board riding at swimming hour. Our visitors, Miss Mim Carey and Miss Rosie Neal, show us how. Shirley Squiers leaves this morning, and the Johnsons leave with Betty in the afternoon. Some of the Pioneers (intermediates) give the Chapel service. Dr. Brown drops in for a few minutes. The Kohatter comes out and we play "The Prince of Paris Lost His Hat."

STATE REPUBLICANS LIKED LANDON TALK

Speech of Acceptance Hit True Note With Michigan Leaders

Republican leaders here expressed themselves as "satisfied 100 per cent" with Governor Alf M. Landon's speech of acceptance, broadcast Thursday night from Topeka.

Typical of the comments by those responsible for guiding the party in its Michigan campaign was the statement of Howard C. Lawrence, chairman of the State Central Committee.

"Nobody can complain any longer that the Republican candidate is obscure or that the real Landon is unknown," Lawrence said. "No candidate could have expressed his philosophy of government and its administration more simply, candidly, or honestly. Labor has a clear-cut statement on the nominee's position, the farmer knows that his welfare is to be a major aim of the Landon administration, those on relief have his promise that they shall not suffer, and every American citizen has his word that sanity in the conduct of the government will once more return to Washington. We who are working for the election of Governor Landon were enthusiastic at the choice of the Cleveland convention. We are more enthusiastic than ever today. The Republican party has a real leader."

OPEN LOWER COUNTIES DEER SEASON

LEELANAU ONLY EXCEPTION IN NEW GAME RULING

Extend Open Season on Grouse in Lower Peninsula by One Day—Upper Peninsula Seasons Same

Every county in Michigan north of a line drawn from Muskegon to Saginaw Bay—except Leelanau county, will be open to legal deer hunting next fall.

Seeing no emergency which would warrant an official order to continue the closed season in Lake, Newaygo, Manistee, Mason, Missaukee, Clare and Wexford counties, which have been closed during the past five years by legislative act, the Commission decided to let legal deer shooting come into effect automatically this fall in those counties.

Leelanau county, which has comparatively few deer, is to be closed by Commission action to deer hunting again this fall. The Commission is authorized to do this under the Discretionary Power Act passed by the Legislature, it was pointed out by Director P. J. Hoffmaster.

The "line" from Muskegon to Saginaw Bay, north of which deer hunting will be legal and below which deer may not be legally shot next fall is defined as follows:

"Beginning at a point on the shoreline of Lake Michigan directly west of the west end of M-46, thence east to M-46 and east along M-46 to its junction with M-37 west of Casnovia, thence east and south along M-37 to Kent City, thence east along Kent county highway No. 510 to its junction with US-131 at Cedar Springs, thence north along US-131 to its junction with M-46 north of Howard City, thence east along M-46 to its junction with M-47 west of Saginaw, thence northerly along M-47 to Saginaw Bay, including all of the "Thumb." Under this arrangement it is obvious that all of the "Thumb" district of the Lower Peninsula, Director Hoffmaster says, will be closed to deer hunting.

"There has been some apprehension about open hunting seasons on deer, particularly in the western part of the Lower Peninsula, but we see no reason why any of the circumstances surrounding legal deer hunting should be peculiar to that area and not exist in other areas which have long been open to deer hunting," Hoffmaster stated.

"If all of the deer territory is opened simultaneously, it will tend to scatter the hunters, making a less-congested situation and therefore less danger in any particular area. It also will contribute to a more general hunting kill."

The Commission decided to permit a longer hunting season in the Lower Peninsula — by one day — on ruffed grouse, prairie chickens, sharptailed grouse and pheasants, setting the open season from October 15 to October 28, inclusive. The season in the Upper Peninsula is the same as before and, being set by the Legislature, cannot be extended by the Commission. No changes were made in any of the bag limits on big game or small game.

BAPTIST CHURCH
W. H. Rauch, Pastor

Personal experiences in Russia under the Soviet rule will be related Sunday, August 2, in this church by Rev. N. I. Saloff-Astakahoff, exiled Russian Christian worker. Rev. Astakahoff declares there are more Communists in the United States today than there were in Russia during the revolution which overthrew the czar. "Communism in the Light of Prophecy" and "Communistic Activity in the United States" will be the subjects of the lectures. The public is urged to hear these facts.

Morning worship, 10:30. Rev. Astakahoff in charge.

Bible school, 11:45.

Evening worship, 8 p. m. Rev. Astakahoff will lecture.

Prayer service and Bible study, Thursday evening, at 8 p. m.

World Wide Guild Monday evening, 7:30.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH
W. W. Hurd, Pastor

August 2: The pastor will not be able to speak, but several clergymen from abroad have made provisional arrangements. It is now—early in the week—expected that the Rev. J. W. Boyer, of First Presbyterian Church, Saginaw, will be the guest speaker, hoping to arrive here late Saturday.

The August meeting of the official board will be Monday evening, August 3, at the parsonage, 8 o'clock. The district superintendent has sent an important blank for attention at this meeting.

Next Sunday morning there will be a congregational ballot for lay delegates to the Annual Conference, in Battle Creek, in September.

The Aid Society has a regular meeting at the church, next Tuesday. Entertained by a committee.

YACHTSMEN LIKED TREATMENT HERE

EXPRESS APPRECIATION OF EFFORTS IN THEIR BEHALF

Many Return for Second Visit; This Harbor Picked for Headquarters 1937 Chicago-Mackinac Cruise

Proof that services, entertainment nnd courtesy extended visiting ynchtsmen during the summer have borne results is indicated by numerous letters of appreciation received by the Board of Commerce.

Chnrlevoix this summer entertained boats participating in the Chicago-Mackinac Island nnd Port Huron-Mackinac Island cruises, in addition to innumerable other yachts. In fact, in no summer in recent years has there been as much water activity as the present season.

Chnmber of Commerce,
Charlevoix, Michigan.
Gentlemen:

I wish to herewith express my appreciation of the courteous treatment received by myself, and guests, while in your harbor during our trip North, nnd return. There was nothing left undone, and every minute detail was tnken cure of so promptly, that it made our stay in your port a very enjoyable recreation.

Myself, and guests, feel that we were more than fortunate to hnve been in your port to witness the Venetian Night celebration. Both the writer, and guests, have participated in and seen many Venetian Night demonstrations, but the one put on in Round Lake during our stay surpassed by far any spectacle that we had seen in the past. I wish to herewith congratulate you on the success of this demonstration, even though you were hampered by threatening weather.

I wish to assure you that any time I am within sailing distance of Charlevoix, we will certainly make every effort to lay over in your port.

Again thanking you for all courtesies, I am,

Yours very truly,
O. W. Dean.
"Harolmi III"

Chamber of Commerce.
Charlevoix, Michigan.
Gentlemen:

Please accept our thanks for the marvelous reception and courteous treatment given to the power boats while at Charlevoix.

You may be interested in knowing that already we are contemplating on having the fleet make its headquarters at your city for 1937.

Several of the boat owners plan on returning to Charlevoix to stay for several weeks, so I am sure you will be repaid for your kind consideration to us.

With good wishes to your city, we are

Sincerely yours,
THE YACHTSMAN.
Hal Hull, Publisher.

WARN AGAINST SOLICITOR FOR GREENSKY INDIAN MISSION FUND

The public is hereby warned that the old custom and generosity of the public in making an offering for the support of the local Indian Mission is being abused.

This is the second time this has happened. An Indian, with some kind of forged credentials to show to those who ask, is going about collecting funds. He has no authority from the church for the same, in fact, has received a restraining order against the same. These funds, the merchants say, have been generously given, but are not legally collected, and are not being turned in to the church. The police officers are being ordered to stop it. This is unfortunate, for the work of the Mission is worthy, and the generosity of the public is being "stung."

The supervisors have asked the attitude of the church toward the proposed purchase of land adjoining, making u park, saving the famous council trees, etc. The Methodist Episcopal church owns five acres around the church, cemetery, etc., occupied by personal permission and "squatter rights," as so common in the very early days, for ubout 30 years. Then the church regularly purchased the property in 1880. The church is not adverse to the county owning the land, if properly controlled. It would settle the controversy about approach, and preserve the famous trees.

By Order M. E. Reusch,
District Superintendent.

BOARD OF EDUCATION RE-NAMES OFFICERS

Harker Kirby Continues as President for Another Year

All present officers were chosen to succeed themselves, leaving the board organized as follows: President, Harker Kirby; vice-president, Carl F. Kohler; secretary, Clarence B. Meggison; treasurer, Henry Partridge. The house and grounds committee is composed of Carl F. Kohler, Dr. Carleton Dean and Harker Kirby.

No definite plans for improvements during the coming year other than regular maintenance were made. The roster of instructors for the 1936-37 term will include five new members.

DEER HUNTERS ALREADY SEEK SMALL NUMBER TAGS

Although the deer-hunting season is more than three months away, a score of requests for low-number deer-license tags have been received by the Department of Conservation.

THREE SEEK REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL NOMINATION

Five-Way Contest Features Race for Democratic Nomination to Succeed Prentiss M. Brown

Reports from the office of secretary of state promised closely fought contests for congressman, state senator and state representative in the districts which include Charlevoix county.

Three Republicans are seeking the Republican nomination for Congress. They ure Allan J. McDougall, of Gaylord; Herbert J. Rushton, of Escanaba, and Jack H. Floyd, of Escanaba.

The biggest field is in the Democratic race for the congressional nomination where five men are entered. They are: Clifton D. Hill, of Alpena; State Senator John Leucke, of Escanaba; Francis T. McDonald, of Sault Ste. Marie; William J. Miller, of Rapid River, and George W. Manion, of Alpena.

The eight candidates are seeking the post now held by Prentiss Brown, of St. Ignace, who is a Democratic candidate for United States senator.

Two men are opposing Otto W. Bishop, of Alpena, who is seeking renomination on the Republican ticket for state senator from the 29th district. They are: Floyd A. Supp, Charlevoix attorney, nnd Dr. George F. Lister, of Hillman. Thomas E. Baker, of Cheboygan, is the only Democratic candidate for that party's nomination.

In Charlevoix-Leelunau district, Rep. Douglas D. Tibbits is opposed for the Republican nomination by LaVerne C. Rouse, of Boyne City. Robert F. Sloan, of Charlevoix; William J. Schram, of Omena, and Merle P. Crowell, of East Jordan, are seeking the Democratic nomination.

LIFE-TIME JEWEL COLLECTION IS APRAISED

Jewelry Owned by Martha J. Ayres Was Valued at $84

A life-time collection of jewelry owned by the late Martha J. Ayres, local eccentric, was appraised at approximately $84 at the office of Probate Judge Ervan A. Ruegsegger this week.

The collection, sufficient to fill a peck basket, contained brooches, necklaces, rings, watches, stick-pins, etc. Many of the items were a hundred years old or more and, while appraised for gold content in compliance with legal requirements, probably are invaluable as antiques.

Children's Party and Masquerade and Cabaret Party Entertainment Are Events for Month of August

Notices of the annual meeting of the Belvedere Club, to be held at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, August 11, in the easino, have ben issued by the Club secretary.

At this session the annual reports of the secretary, treasurer and committees will be heard. Election of trustees will be an important part of the yearly business. Successors will be chosen to George D. Webb and Emerson W. Price, and the terms of Homer D. Jones and R. Vernon Clark expire, requiring the selection of four new members of the board.

The report of Edward J. Edwards, warden, on improvements on the grounds, cottages and properties, will be of unusual interest.

The remaining weeks of August will bring numerous sports and entertainment events for Belvedere Club members, hotel guests, cottagers nnd their guests.

Outstanding among these events is the annual children's party nnd masquerade, directed by Miss Calla Travis, popular dancing instructor, and the annual cabaret party. The former event will be held August 21 und the latter August 25, both at the casino. Extensive preparations for these two affairs are now under way.

At the present time no definite date has been set for the annual handicap tournament at the Belvedere Golf Club course. The tournament always draws a large entry and is one of the most important sports events of the season for Belvedere summer residents. It is understood the annual tennis tournament will not be held this summer.

FORMER LOCAL MAN DIED AT PETOSKEY

Fuoeral for Louis Sandel, Former City Employe, Held Saturday

Funerul services were held at the Stone funeral home, Petoskey, at 2 o'clock Saturday for Louis Sandel, for many years a local city employe.

Mr. Sandel passed away Thursday at 80 years of age, after spending 50 years in Northern Michigan, largely at his farm near East Jordan. He was born in Lancaster, July 5, 1856.

DISPLAY MOOSE, REINDEER AND DEER HORNS ATTRACTS

Attracting considerable interest is a display of moose, reindeer and deer horns at Wood Brothers' hardware store. The horns were found in the woods in Canada and were brought here by Roy Ranger after the recent Thomson Luke Superior cruise.

The Pilgrim Circle of the Congregational L. A. S. will hold their annual Bazaar and Bake Sale, also serve lunches on the Harrington lawn, 106 Clinton street, this week Saturday.—Adv32t1pd

ELMER L. JOHNSON IS TAKEN BY DEATH

SUCCUMBED TUESDAY FOLLOWING EXTENDED ILLNESS

Was Operator of Swing Bridge Here for 34 Years—Funeral Services Thursday Afternoon

Elmer L. Johnson, well known resident of this city for nearly 50 years, died Tuesday at his home on Antrim street. He had been ill since February.

Deceased was born February 20, 1861, at Fairgrove, Mich., where he spent his early years. He later moved to Ohio, and on January 18, 1884, married Nellie Myers. To this union a daughter, Mrs. Mildred Lamphear, was born.

Five years later the family returned to Michigan, residing at Fairgrove and Central Lake before coming to Charlevoix. Mr. Johnson was a carpenter by trade, specializing in stair building. He built the stairways at The Inn, Belvedere and Elston hotels.

In 1889, Mr. Johnson became operator of the swing bridge over the channel between Lake Michigan and Round Lake. He held this position until retirement in 1932, operating three bridges, the first a wooden structure of lift type, and its successors the swing type. The earlier bridges were swung by hand. Mr. Johnson for many years was the only bridge tender, working 21 hours a day during the navigation season. While the bridge was under construction and later when disabled, he operated a ferry across the channel. He served the city as harbor master several years.

Mrs. Johnson died in 1924, and in 1925 Mr. Johnson married Louise Riker, of St. Louis, Mo., whom, together with the daughter, a sister, Mrs. Lillian Aymer, of Cass City, a brother, William F. Johnson, Charlevoix, and two grandchildren, Byrnece and Jack Lamphear, survive.

Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. G. R. Parker at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the home.

Will Be Held Evening of September 22 at East Jordan

Call for the Republican county convention, to be held at the high school auditoriam in East Jordan at 8 p. m. on September 2, has been issued by William M. Sanderson, chairman, and Agnes Lorch, secretary.

The county convention will select six delegates and six alternates to the state convention to be held in Grand Rapids on September 29.

Delegates to the county convention have been apportioned as follows: Bay 2, Boyne Valley 3, Chandler 1, Charlevoix 1, Evangeline 1, Eveline 5, Hayes 3, Hudson 1, Marion 3, Melrose 4, Norwood 2, Peaine 1, South Arm 4, St. James 2, Boyne City 11, Charlevoix 16, East Jordan 10.

TIBBITTS FINDS LEELANAU SUPPORT GOOD

Local Republicans Attended Old Settlers' Picnic Monday

Ed. Lorch and John Olson, of Boyne City, together with William M. Sanderson, chairman of the Republican county committee, and Representative Douglas D. Tibbitts, attended the annual Old Settlers' picnic at Glenn Lake, Monday.

They also had an opportunity to call upon many of Mr. Tibbitts' supporters throughout the county, who report very favorably regarding the nomination of Mr. Tibbitts in the coming primary election.

FORMER LOCAL GIRL IS KILLED IN AUTO MISHAP

Funeral Held Sunday for Doris Krulik Conn, of Atlanta, Ga.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon by Rev. G. R. Parker from the See funeral chapel for Doris Krulik Conn, who died Wednesday, July [illegible] at Atlanta, Ga., from injuries received in an automobile accident.

Deceased was born in Charlevoix, July 9, 1910. She attended local schools and resided here until several years ago.

Surviving besides the husband are her mother, Mrs. Josephine Krulik, this city; father, Rudolph Krulik, and brother, Edward, Detroit; a brother, Robert, of Alden, and sister, Mrs. Harold Hallett, this city.

Neatness and good salesmanship are far more important for success in selling farm produce at the roadside than is a set of elaborate buildings and equipment.

CORRESPONDENCE

BEAVER ISLAND

Miss Clara Gallagher is home from Chicago for a week.

Smalley Daniels, of Grand Rapids, arrived at his cottage Monday.

Captain and Mrs. Ludwig, U. S. C. G., left for a visit through Michigan.

Mrs. Emil Peschau and daughter, Joan, arrived for the remainder of the summer.

Miss Mary Greene, Mrs. John McCabe and daughter, Helen, of Chicago, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. John W. Greene.

Mrs. Charles McDonald arrived Friday to spend the remainder of the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Gallagher.

Mrs. Emma Sunanka, daughter, Countess, and a friend, all of Chicago, visited with relatives and friends here this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Donlevy, Mrs. Elizabeth Tucker and Mr. and Mrs. Hoover, of Kalamazoo, were guests at the McCann home Sunday.

John Grill and son, Walter, were guests at the W. J. Gallagher and Lafreniere homes this past week. They returned to their home in Grand Rapids Saturday.

Mrs. Peter O. Gallagher and Mrs. Lester A. Gallagher and daughter, Mary, arrived Sunday and plan to remain on the Island until after the annual gala August supper.

The Misses Gladys and Dorothy Gallagher and the Messrs. Johnny Gallagher and Bill Coon motored up from South Haven Sunday. Dorothy Gallagher will remain at her parents' home here for some time.

Notice everybody! Beaver Island's gala day is next Sunday, August 9. Dinner and dance of the season! A special excursion from Charlevoix will take you here. Come and bring your friends prepared to have one of the most hilarious days of your life.

It's a girl—born to Mr. and Mrs. Adolph McDonough at the Petoskey hospital. Margaret Mary Kay is the name. Proud relatives couldn't wait for it to come home to see it, so Grandpa W. J. Gallagher and Uncle Norman Gallagher took the first boat for Petoskey. They returned Sunday. Mrs. W. J. Gallagher returned Saturday.

Sunday marked the diamond jubilee of Mother Mary Clementine, O. S. D. Mother Clement he was the first of the courageous band of Dominican Sisters who established a mission and school on Beaver Island. Thirty-five years ago she began her work here and for 15 years participated actively in the hard-ships that the Sisters underwent to establish and maintain each. In below zero weather and through frozen drifts of snow, these courageous nuns trudged miles through the wilderness to teach in the school here. They not only taught the children, but were constant companions and comforters to the parish, nursing the sick and winning in the hearts of all Beaver Islanders deep love and reverence.

For several years Mother Clementine has been retired to the motherhouse at Marywood, Grand Rapids. Her yearly trips to the Island are eagerly looked forward to by all her devoted former pupils and friends. Not a person leaves Beaver Island or comes to it but she knows where they are and what they are doing. Their success is her success; their sorrows hers. She has watched her pupils grow to maturity and has watched their children, and now their children's children.

Sunday all the people of Beaver Island — Catholics and non-Catholics and summer residents who have known and loved her for her worth, all gathered at the new summer cabin that has been built by the labor of the Island people at Snad Bay to pay their love and respect to the Sisters. A most enjoyable afternoon of games was had by all the Island people. Delightful refreshments were served later in the afternoon.

MICHIGAN BAKERIES SALES HIT NEW PEAK

Business Increase Five Successive Weeks; Payroll Now Largest

J. (Jack) Jansen, manager of Michigan Bakeries, Inc., Traverse City, in announcing an all-time high record of production of bread and rolls by that company during the week just closed stated:

"For the past five weeks our company has successively broken any previous week's record of production in the entire history of the company. From the greater increasing demand which has continued throughout the summer, both from old customers who have used our product for years and from the greatly increased number of new customers, it looks as if Michigan Bakeries, Inc., would continue to break records for weeks to come.

"The company has a greater number of employes than ever before with resultant larger payrolls which means larger community purchases by Michigan Bakery employes.

"As the policy of Michigan Bakeries, Inc., is to purchase Michigan produced materials and supplies whenever possible, this added volume of business means larger sales to them by many Michigan manufacturers and producers."

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD OPENS A TRAFFIC OFFICE

In keeping with their policy to boost North Michigan and to assist in making this region the outstanding summer resort of the entire country, the Pennsylvania Railroad has again opened a passenger traffic office in Pennsylvania station, Petoskey, represented by C. C. Wieghart, Michigan passenger agent for that company.

This office has been opened for the second consecutive season and is maintained for the convenience of patrons desiring to use train service and not only reservations may be had there, but all information pertaining to rates, trips everywhere, all-expense tours, etc., may be obtained in detail.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellencamp

Charlevoix County 4-H Club Dairy Tour Well Attended

The Charlevoix county dairy tour was very well attended by 34 dairy club members. Mr. Pearson, assistant state club leader, gave some very interesting information in regard to judging the various classes of dairy cattle. He also demonstrated the fitting and showing of dairy animals.

The morning meetings were held at the homes of Mr. Woodward and Mr. Glazier on the east end of the county. In the afternoon the boys and girls met at the Barnard school where a baseball game was enjoyed, before going to the Ecklund farm, where the club members judged a class of Holsteins. While at the Ecklund farm an interesting demonstration on the fitting and showing of the calf was given by two members of the Barnard 4-H Club. The last of the afternoon was spent at the Elliott farm, where a class of Guernseys was judged.

The following boys, Adolph Ecklund, Raymond Fisher, Walter Shepard, Clair McGhan and Ralph Woodward, had the highest score on judging the various classes of cattle, and will represent Charlevoix county at the Gaylord club camp the week of August 10.

Mr. Pearson gave out the information that the winning demonstration team and the four highest in the dairy judging at the State Fair will win free trips to the Texas Centennial.

Soy Beans Yield "Pinch" Hay Crop

Should Be Planted on Soils High Enough in Lime to Grow Clover.

By Prof. John Dorrance of the New York State College of Agriculture.—WNU Service.

Soy beans or mixtures in which soy beans occur will provide farmers with the second best emergency hay crop.

Although soy beans give a satisfactory yield on sour soils, they do best on soils high enough in lime to grow the common clovers well. The earlier they are sown, the better. For early planting, the Wilson variety of soy beans is recommended. For later sowings, the Black Eyebrow and Manchu varieties may be used. About 115 pounds of seed to the acre should be enough.

Sudan grass is best adapted for soy bean mixtures. When a mixture is used, about 60 pounds of soy beans and 15 to 20 pounds of sudan grass to the acre is advised.

If the land chosen for a catch hay crop when soy beans are to be planted, happens to be slightly wet, it would be wise to use Japanese millet along with soy beans rather than the soy beans alone or a mixture of soy beans and sudan grass. The procedure with the Japanese millet is the same as for sudan grass.

For soy beans and soy bean combinations, treated with at least 200 pounds of superphosphate to the acre, is always desirable the soy bean seed.

Sowing of oats and sorghum, or oats and sudan grass, may take place for extra pasturage. Soil conditions should be nearly the same as for good corn.

Sunflowers Recommended to Dairymen for Silage

Sunflowers may be grown by many farmers this year to make silage for their dairy cattle, as a result of damage to other crops by chinch bugs and drouth, according to Prof. C. S. Rhode, chief in dairy extension at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

The fact that sunflowers are chinch-bug resistant makes them a possible silage crop this year. In past seasons when bugs have been bad, dairymen have grown sunflowers and have found that the resulting silage was fairly palatable, Rhode said. Cows fed sunflower silage, however, do not generally produce as well as those given regular corn silage.

Where barley fields have been practically destroyed by the chinch bugs, farmers may seed a portion of this land to sunflowers. The crop may be seeded any time and is usually drilled in rows 42 inches apart with the plants 10 inches apart in the rows.

Experiments conducted at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, indicate that the best time to cut sunflowers for silage is when about one-fourth of the plants are in bloom. Silage made from sunflowers at this stage is more palatable and is superior for milk production to that made from more mature plants. The composition and flavor of the milk are not affected by sunflower silage.

Soys for Breeding Swine

While the feeding of soy beans to fattening hogs results in soft pork, beans may be satisfactorily fed to brood sows during gestation. A mineral adxture should always be supplied with the beans, because they are deficient in minerals, as is also corn. Unless the sows are to be sold soon after the pigs are weaned, soy beans may also be fed during part of the suckling period, though at that time they should be mixed with tankage to the extent of about one-third. If the sows are to be fattened after the pigs are weaned, tankage or some protein concentrate mixture should be used as a supplement.—Wallaces' Farmer.

Watch the Lambs

Lambs that play and frolic are usually in good health but you need to see about those that have drooping ears or lag behind the flock, says a writer in the Missouri Farmer. If you pick one up that seems very light you have waited too long, that lamb is out of condition. If you have owned sheep any length of time just a glance over the flock will tell you whether all is well. See them if you can once every day, once a week look them over very closely. In that way you will detect trouble before it has done you serious damage. Sheep need watching through the warm season.

LARGE AND SMALL

Circumstances make a difference in financial affairs.

At least the theory expressed herein is interesting, whether or not it is true.

In speaking of two men who control properties worth hundreds of millions of dollars, a wise observer recalled that in their early days when they were handling affairs that involved only a few thousand dollars they were conspicuously unpromising. Their credit was bad and it looked as though they would never catch up with their debts.

Almost overnight they were plunged into a situation involving several million dollars. A miraculous change occurred. They could manipulate millions far more adeptly than they could handle thousands. It seemed that their imaginations required huge stakes.

The explanation may be that a creditor to whom ten million dollars is owing is not as bothersome as a creditor for five hundred dollars. In short, big debts are easier to handle than small debts. Take care of the little debts and the big debts will take care of themselves. Owe a man a million dollars and you have a partner; owe a man $50 and he'll put the sheriff in your living room.

THE MEN WE ELECT

In all forms of representative government, there has been developed what is commonly known as political parties. These parties represent peoples of the country that firmly believe in party principles, and that their government should be run under those principles. They can honestly expect that if they elect a man to office on their party ticket, he will uphold those principles when he is in office. However, this is not always the case. Sometimes there is elected to office a man that believes he is bigger than the party. He may be sincere, nevertheless, for the good of the party it is, and has always been, advisable to turn from such men and support a man that will do as expected.

Michigan has always been known as a Republican state. This can mean but one thing, the majority of the people of this great state firmly believe in the principles of the Republican party. When they use their right of franchise at the polls, they do so with the firm belief that the man they select to represent them in the halls of Congress will do everything in his power to further the Republican precepts of government. Such a man is Wilber M. Brucker.

SCHOLARSHIP CHISELERS

Educational institutions should discourage the loaning of money except through competitive examinations. The giving of financial aid to students who have not earned it and never intend to pay it back, has become a racket. John says that he ought to get some help on his tuition because Jim did, and so the thing grows. Ten years ago, or so, when a boy or girl thought about going to college, he or she also thought about either paying for it outright, or working for it. And the parents helped by saving all that was possible toward that purpose. A boy who raises pigs all summer, or a girl who raises chickens, to help earn money for tuition will appreciate an education, and they will be good students. Any able bodied American boy or girl who can't go to college without asking for aid should not go to college.

MICHIGAN LEADS THE WAY

Again the State of Michigan leads the way in businesslike conduct of state business. Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald, by his deciding vote when the project was before the State Administrative Board, assured another statewide advertising campaign to encourage collection of delinquent taxes.

The State of Michigan will spend $27,000 for the new campaign that will be conducted during the month of August. The drive will be handled by Milton M. Alexander, of Detroit, nationally known advertising man, who conceived and conducted last year's notably successful effort.

There is no more pressing problem before the various states than that of collecting delinquent taxes, carried over from depression years. In some states the authorities have thrown up their hands in despair at the problem. In other states various plans have been enacted only to be extended or changed time and time again. It remained for Michigan to make real progress in cleaning up this distressing problem. Reports are that seventy millions of dollars in delinquent real estate taxes were paid or revived in Michigan during last year's drive.

This year's drive will urge the taxpayers who are on the "ten-year plan" to make their second payments before September 1st in order to keep their tax records clear and avoid penalties. It will also persuade those not yet on the "ten-year plan" to come under it. Finally, it will point out that due to improved business conditions or distribution of the soldiers' bonus, many taxpayers are now in a position to pay up their remaining balances on the "ten-year plan" so as to save themselves eight per cent to 36 per cent interest on future payments.

When Abraham Lincoln was once asked how he managed to get so much work done, he replied: "When I have something to do I go and do it." Michigan had a job to do—and what a job! To the credit of our state officials be it said that our state has "gone and done it."

Mark Twain once was the editor of a Missouri newspaper. A superstitious subscriber wrote to him saying that he had found a spider in his newspaper and asking whether that was good or bad luck. The humorist printed this reply:

"Old Subscriber: Finding a spider in your paper was neither good nor bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant is not advertising so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door, and live a life of undisturbed peace ever afterwards."

CAMP CHARLEVOIX CARNIVAL AUG. 8TH

BIG PROGRAM OUTLINED FOR DAY'S ENTERTAINMENT

Campers and Steff Will Present "The Music Box Revue of 1936" and Other Features

(By Ed. Taylor, Camp Correspondent)

Camp Charlevoix will hold its annual Carnival Day, Saturday afternoon at the camp. In the evening the staff and campers will present "The Music Box Revue of 1936," a musical production directed by Ken Smith.

All parents, and friends of the campers, are invited to attend as well as are the people of Charlevoix and surrounding resorts. There is no admission charge, although a small fee is charged to all side shows. The show in the evening will be free.

Starting at 2:30 in the afternoon, the side shows will open and such attractions as archery, sailing, hit the nigger baby, riflery, duck the clown, fish pond, roulette, and other regular carnival stunts will be offered.

In the evening at 8 o'clock, the colossal revue will begin. Soloists will be Tom Hart and Kemper Burton. A quartette composed of Ted Ford, Bruce Laing, and Jack Hood, will sing. Al Redmond will do the "Dance of the Dying Eagle" and Bob Cooper will also do a solo dance number. Wiley Hitchcock and Jack Hood will sing "Love Songs."

Several cabins will present the skits which won them prizes in the inter-cabin competition. Cabin 10 will present a skit called "Freaks" and Cabin 16 will give their version of a "Missionary Meeting."

The camp is located six miles from Charlevoix. Go one mile southeast on the Boyne City road off US-31 and turn right. Visitors please drive carefully on camp road.

AUGUST COURT TERM CONVENES ON MONDAY

The August term of circuit court for Charlevoix county will convene next Monday before Judge Parm C. Gilbert.

The small docket contains but one criminal case, four applications for citizenship, nine issues of fact and law and three chancery cases exclusive of divorces which number seven.

The docket contains but one jury case and if this matter, now in the process of settlement, is disposed of before Monday, no jury will be called for the term.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

Edited by Ed. Taylor

The end of the sixth week is coming up and with it brings the Camp Carnival and Ken Smith's stupendous musical show. All parents are urged to come and bring their friends. The fun starts at 2:30 and will last till 5. Then at 8 the presentation of the "Music Box Revue." Come one! Come all!

The Tahquamenon River trip is back safely and now the Cheboygan canoe trip has gone out. The former trip spent a week paddling down the famous Tahquamenon River and visiting the two falls. Tom Hart, Kemper Burton, and Junior Blue were the counsellors on the trip and the boys who went were Fred Gillette, Ed Robertson, Wiley Hitchcock, Bob Million, Steve Woodruff, Skid Livingstone, Alex Galton, Bob Abbott, Vern Evans, Jim Karn, and Bob Huber.

Last Tuesday the Isle Royale trip left for a three week expedition. Jack Hogan led the group, and accompanying him were Fritz Pinkham, Bud Summerfield, Phil Rowe, and Herb Berdan.

Saturday, the Green-Grey track and field meet was held with the Greys winning by about 30 points. Ray Pinkham was the high scorer in the senior section, Bob Farr in the intermediate, and Marv Fisher in the juniors. Fisher had the high total for the day.

There is considerable doubt as to where the Mugwump is. The Greys hid it and when they went after it the Mugwump was missing. Foul play is suspected of the Greens who probably hid it hoping the Greys would lose points for not showing it. Now the committee is in a fog as to what to do about the situation. Probably had better find a new Mugwump.

Wednesday night saw five cabins putting on stunts in the competition among themselves. Cabin 2 won the Junior section competition with their skit called "Camp Charlevoix Amateur Hour." Popeye Ford was master of ceremonies. Jimmy James, Tom Bennett, Dick LaFever, Jackie Farr, and Jimmie Wickwire also participated in the production.

Cabin 1 put on a pantomime operation. A screen was between the audience and the principals so that only the shadows of their actions were visible. Ralph King served as the surgeon and Steve Baits was the patient.

Cabin 8 had a railway skit while San Ladd's group of wild hyenas in Cabin 10 put on a circus. Major Strow's Amateur Hour was given by Cabin 12.

Saturday night Herb Johnson's Players presented "Slim Jim and the Hoodoo." The cast consisted of Ray Pinkham, Bob Wieman, Jack Hood, Bob Camp, and Don McHenry.

Friday night the girls from Kamp Kairphree were our guests for the evening. Dancing and games furnished the entertainment for the evening and everyone had a good time.

More trips will be going out this week and the first part of next week. Wednesday morning the horse trip leaves for a three day ride around the lake. The juniors expect to go on their covered wagon trip soon and several cabins are planning overnight outings.

Cabin 2 went out Tuesday night on an overnight in the sailboat. Those going were Dick Brayton, Jim Evans, Ted Ford, Jimmy James, Dick LaFever, Jimmie Wickwire, Jack Farr, and Tom Bennett.

Bob Lyon, who was hurt in an accident while riding several weeks ago, is rapidly recovering from his bad spill. He has been sitting up for several days and hopes to be back on the job before camp is over. We sure have missed Bob and his cheery smile around camp and hope that he keeps on getting better. It was decided by the whole camp that they would like to buy Bob a little gift so Tom Hart and his committee collected a small amount from each boy and staff member and bought a fine razor which will be given to Bob at the first opportunity.

Parents please take notice! The final bonquet will be held Friday night, August 21. Immediately after the banquet the boys will leave on the train for Grand Rapids, Chicago and Detroit. Boys leaving by auto may leave either Friday night or Saturday.

Announcement

I am a candidate for the Democratic Nomination for Representative in the 11th district of Michigan.

1. I pledge my full time and best efforts, if elected, to the people of this district and will always feel that I am your servant, not your boss.
2. I stand squarely on the platform adopted at Philadelphia and I am in perfect accord with the "New Deal" and the efforts of our good President, Franklin D. Roosevelt.
3. Because of this "Machine Age" and "Mass Production" we never can turn back to the old plan of government, with special privileges to "Big Interests" instead of a square deal to all.
4. In the "New Deal" there must be no "forgotten man" or class and the small businessman, farmer and laborer, must be considered in legislation and protection under our government.
5. I ask you to vote for me in the Primary election on September 15, 1936, and promise you full service in return.

Sincerely,
George W. Manion,

Wheat Imports Jump Rapidly

United States Now Buys 40 Million Bushels From Other Nations.

By FRANK RIDGWAY

Geors of international trade machinery hove been thrown in reverse to the extent that the United Stotes is today the world's largest wheot importer, with the aingle exception of Great Britain, including North Irelond. In that regretiable position this nation has imported from foreign countries more than 40 million bushels of wheat within the past year.

For at least 70 years, this country had been o net exporter of wheat. A dozen yeors ago, farmers bragged about selling to foreign countries more thon 259 million bushels of wheat in one year, exceeding the exports of any other country in the world. Today, they are forced to stand by and wotch foreign growers sell wheat to America's customers abroad. They also ore supplying a large part of the market here at home.

Government Tinkering

This revolutionary change hos been brought about not only by drouths, but also by government tinkering with production and foreign trade policies. Had there been no government meddling, our growers would have had more wheot to sell during the next 12 months when prices are expected to be higher than they have been for several years.

After three years experience under a crop and livestock production program dictated to them by officials of o centralized government, many practical farmers feel that they would have done a better job acting individually. They must pay their share of the New Deal dole money sent out to individual farmers for reducing their production which has contributed to the present predicament.

Farmers had been told by political planners that the reduced production of farm products, brought about by adverse weather conditions and by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration program, had been good for them. As they now stand looking backward, each farmer is better able to appraise for himself what the drouth and the Agricultural Adjustment Administration did for him and decide as an individual whether it has been good or bad.

Pay Higher Prices

Producers, working under various hondicaps, are now threshing a wheat crop estimated to be approximately 638 million bushels, more than 145 million bushels less than the five-year average from 1929 to 1933. It will again be necessary for the United States to bring in large quantities of hard wheat to blend with soft wheat during the next year. Our millers will be forced to pay a higher price plus 42 cents a bushel duty because Canada's wheat crop is short.

When the wheat drills start this fall, many United States growers are expected to make their own decisions as to the number of acres they will plant and encourage their neighbors to do likewise.

Lincoln, Landon Have Same Initials

Mrs. Wilma D. Hoyal, assistant chairman of the Republican National Committee, isn't superstitious, but she points out that Abe Lincoln and Alf Landon have the same initials.

"Abe Lincoln," says Mrs. Hoyal, "brought our country through its greotest crisis in the 19th century. If there is any significance in this repetition, Alf Landon aurely will be elected to do the same for us in the 20th century."

How Much Water?

W. H. Martin, of the Kaosas State college, stated, following experimeuts, that it requires six to seven gallons of well water to cool a gallon of milk, and if the cooling is doos in caos it takes 30 to 00 miuutes' time. Several types of surface coolers have been studied at Michigan Agriculturul college, aod most of them required the above amount of water for efficient cooliog, but the cooliog was doae much faster, accordiog to Hoard's Dairyman.

Irradiation Improves Milk

Among the newer methods of treating milk to huprove its quality irradiation hy violet rays is gaining favor. According to work done at the Uotversity of Wisconsin, Madison, milk thus treated has a slightly lower bacterial count und lower acidity than ordinary whole milk. It was found that at refrigerator temperatures irradiated milk will keep several hours longer thao whole milk uot so treated. This added keeping quality is partly due to a very slight reduction in the developmeot of acidity of the milk after irradiation.

Blood gets into the milk by bursting of the small blood vessels of the udder. In many instances this is caused by injuries to the udder from lying in a poorly bedded sta"

The New Firestone STANDARD

IS THE BEST Buy IN TOWN!

FIRST GRADE QUALITY—The new Firestone Standard Tire is built of first grade materials by skilled workmen, and embodies the Firestone patented construction features of Gum-Dipping and two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords under the tread.

GUM-DIPPED CORD BODY—Every cotton fibre in every cord in every ply is soaked in liquid rubber by Gum-Dipping. This is the only process that prevents internal friction and heat, providing greater strength, blowout protection and longer life.

TWO EXTRA LAYERS OF GUM-DIPPED CORDS UNDER THE TREAD—This patented Firestone feature binds the whole tire into one unit of greater strength, cushions road shocks and gives extra protection against punctures.

LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE—The new scientifically designed non-skid tread is wider, flatter, with more and tougher rubber on the road, giving long even wear and thousands of extra miles.

LOW PRICES—These low prices are made possible by volume production in the world's most efficient factories.

THE FIRESTONE NAME AND GUARANTEE—Every Firestone Standard Tire bears the Firestone name, your guarantee of greater safety, dependability and economy.

THE MARCH OF POLITICS
By John H. O'Brien

The selection of Detroit as the scene of a national conference of prominent Democrats who have jumped the Farley reservation fence should occasion little surprise. The Democratic set-up in Michigan is the national situation in miniature; what was done to the traditional Democratic leaders in this state is exactly what was done throughout the nation.

The Democratic party today only remotely resembles the Democratic party of three years ago, and while personal opinion will decide whether the change has been for better or worse, the opinion of old-time Democrats is unanimous—they would rather have the party of 1932.

Democrats who were faithful in the days of "telephone booth" state conventions, when an active Democrat in Michigan was as scarce as a Republican in Tennessee, have seen control wrested from their hands, their advice disregarded, and their assistance declined — and without thanks. It was the faithful Democrats of the lean years who invented the epithet "Thirty Day Democrats" for those who received the smiles and patronage of the national administration.

The coming conference is expected to draw Al Smith, Jim Reed, Col. Breckenridge, Judge Cohane, Gov. Ely and others who want in their hearts to be Democrats—but not the 1936 variety.

They will find in Detroit and Michigan many a Democratic friend who resents the New Deal, and who in particular resents as the last straw the shotgun candidacy of Frank Murphy for the governorship.

With the election of Edward J. Fry as chairman of the Democratic state party an attempt will be made to bring former Gov. William A. Comstock back into the party councils. Comstock has been an active insurgent against the Farley machine in Michigan and is opposed to the Murphy candidacy. With several other old-time Democrats he is supporting the campaign of George Welsh, Murphy's opponent.

* * *

It was Jim Reed, incidentally, when representing Missouri in the Senate, who made a famous six word reply to an opponent's hour-long harangue and reduced him to ashes.

"I would rather," the orator concluded, borrowing the words of an abler statesman, "be right than president."

"The gentleman," said Reed, slowly rising to his feet, "will never be either." And sat down.

* * *

An unpredictable element in every national election is the vote of the young people; the vote of those who came of voting age since 1932.

A safe assumption has been that the youngsters generally vote the way their fathers do—unless the issues are so fundamental, important, and controversial that disagreements within families are frequent. The issues this year are of that type.

Michigan Republican leaders are looking to their youthful members and to the Michigan Federation of Young Republicans in particular to carry the G. O. P. message to the attention of first voters. Federation officers sit in at all important party conferences, their advice is heeded as never before, and with Michigan a "doubtful state" it may well be their efforts that weights the scales in G. O. P. favor. Whatever the result of the election may be, the interest of youth in the conduct of its government is bound to help Michigan. Modern business discovered that the infusion of youth rejuvenated many a dying enterprise; new blood in the Republican state organization will be a vital factor this year.

* * *

The charge that federal funds are being diverted to Democratic campaign use has been freely made in recent months by Republicans. Jim Farley and John Hamilton recently exchanged remarks on the question and the furloughed postmaster general's defense was that he was not responsible for the acts of "local politicians."

Michigan relief has been free from this sort of exploitation of human need and the state's relief administrators are entitled to commendation.

Examples of expenditure of federal funds for propaganda which cannot be blamed on "local politicians" have recently been found in Michigan, however. In the column of "Alowishus," staff writer for the Benzie Record, of Beulah, was printed a description of how Washington reached into Benzie county for purposes of propaganda.

Alowishus relates that he attended a motion picture in the village of Honor. The audience was requested to remain after the regular showing for a special film.

"Later," Alowishus writes, "the operator, probably feeling a bit guilty, announced further that the films were government pictures. The ice being thus gently broken, the audience discovered itself treated to a seige of WPA publicity scenes glibly explained and garnished with flowery comments by a government paid announcer.

"The pictures were probably authentic enough, although bordering on the comedy touch at times when the film was speeded up to show the workers tearing into their tasks with about twice as much fervor as the average man would use to put out a fire. And the crowd had a good time commenting back and forth with a frankness not exactly complimentary to the show. The films and announcements which accompanied them were directed very plainly toward proving to the average voter that the New Deal scheme of money-spending was bringing back recovery by leaps and bounds and giving Michigan untold quantities of blessings in the form of public works which otherwise it would never have gotten. If there was any other reason why the show should have been put on, Alowishus failed to find any who knew what it was."

The free show wasn't much of a success, Alowishus reports. Many spectators objected aloud against having to watch the government go into debt day by day and see moving pictures of how it is done at night. It is difficult to see how local politicians can be blamed for this piece of backfiring propaganda.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Four Persons Seek Each Elective Job

If records of the Department of State represent an accurate sampling of political activity throughout the state, an average of 4.3 persons are candidates for every elective office to be filled next November, Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, points out.

A total of 230 candidates for United States senator, governor, lieutenant governor, Congress and the State Legislature have filed their petitions with the secretary of state. The vacancies to be filled by election to total 52, thus the average number of candidates for each.

In 1934, while 217 candidates filed their petitions originally, six withdrew before the deadline for that privilege. In 1932, the record-breaking number of 245 candidates had presented themselves for consideration of voters in elections for which petitions are filed at the capitol.

Candidates whose districts are wholly contained within any one county, file their petitions with their county clerks. Thus, lists of candidates for Congress published by the Department of State, omit reference to the 1st, 13th, 14th, 15th and 16th congressional districts, all contained within Wayne county.

Similarly, candidates for the State Senate from the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 13th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 21st and 22nd state senatorial districts, file with their respective county clerks.

Of the 100 seats in the state House of Representatives, candidates for but 14 of them file their petitions with the secretary of state.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Spirit" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 9.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (John 4: 24): "God is a Spirit: and they that worship him umst worship him in spirit and in truth."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 334): "Spirit being God, there is but one Spirit, for there can be but one infinite and therefore one God."

How New Discoveries Confirm Bible Stories

An article, in The American Weekly, with next Sunday's Detroit Times, describes several recent fascinating finds by archeologists, including the rouge jars of wicked Queen Jezebel, the "bricks without straw" of the Israelites, etc.

If machines are a menace to civilization, why do so many unemployed girls refuse to do housework and seek jobs in factories?

Michigan Pioneer Women
Take active part in Campaign

Owosso,—Two venersble Michigan women, whose memories go back to the days of Andrew Jackson and James K. Polk, when Indians, bears, and log cabins were familiar parts of the Michigan scene, are going to do their bit in this year's political campaign.

Both residents of Owosso, Mrs. Eliza Goodale was born at Whitmore Lake, Washtenaw county, 100 years ago, and ten years later Mrs. George W. McClellan was born eight miles from Owosso.

Mrs. McClellan continues to keep up with the political news of the day and a radio broadcast by Mrs. C. L. Barber, of Lansing, vice-chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, brought from her the following letter to Mrs. Barber:

"I heard your talk this noon and take the liberty for asking for some of the cards. I will do all the good I can with them. I want to help clean the White House. My age prevents doing a great deal. I am nearly ninety and nearly blind, but I can see through the deception and treachery of the gang in Washington. My family were always loyal Americans. I am a grand-daughter of the man who fought seven years with Washington to make a constitution and I could not help destroy it. My own father helped to make the Republican party at Jackson. Please pardon the liberty I have taken. I want to help all I can. I feel our country is in great danger. I ask God to give us a Lincoln."

Grandfather In Revolution

The aged woman's whole life has been bound up with stirring events in history of the America she loves so much. Her grandfather, Benjamin Akeley, ran away to join George Washington's forces when he was fourteen and fought with the Revolutionary Army for seven years. Her father, Daniel Akeley, helped form the Republican Party under the Jackson oaks in 1854. An uncle fought in the Mexican War and Mrs. McClellan has a letter written by him in 1849 from Fort Washita in the then Chocktaw Nation in which he writes that he has re-enlisted for four years of Indian fighting. Her farm home during the Civil War was a local station of the Underground Railway where escaping slaves were kept over-night and then assisted on their way to safety in Canada.

"My whole life has been filled with the stories and legends of the men who fought to make and keep this country free," said Mrs. McClellan. "In every generation since Washington some member of my family has done his part to keep America what she was intended to be. I am the last of my family and I must carry on their work. I think America has reached a time of great danger once more. I am going to do my bit."

Owosso's Oldest Resident

"In 1902 I visited Washington and I saw the White House. I picked a chestnut from a tree on the lawn there and brought it back to Owosso and planted it. That tree there beside the house is the result. I know what the White House has always stood for in America and I know that the gang that's in there now doesn't belong there. We've got to get them out."

Mrs. McClellan says she is too old to be fooled by Roosevelt, Farley, or Tugwell. She described the visits of Indian chiefs to her home and said they always had ten or fifteen warriors in single file behind them; she refers to them as the "original brain-trusters."

Mrs. Goodale, wife of the first white child born in Shiawassee county and Owosso's oldest resident, is nearly deaf but her eyesight is unimpaired. She signed her name to a nominating petition of Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald in a firm hand and without the aid of glasses.

She lived as a child in a log cabin near New Haven. The many Indians in the vicinity were friendly to the white settlers unless they had been drinking, she said, and bears occasionally ambled through her father's corn field and had to be driven away. The concrete highway that is now M-27 was a log road, which floated away in a heavy rain.

Mrs. Goodale took a prominent part in Owosso's centennial celebration in July. She remembered that when she was a child her father hitched his ox to a two-wheeled cart and took the family over the corduroy roads to Owosso to see her first circus.

She has many aches and pains, she said, but she spends some time every day in her garden. As a young woman she made all the clothes for her family and recently made herself two dresses—and she threaded the needle herself, she said proudly.

ROADSIDE STAND AIDS FARM CASH

Horticulturist Suggests Pointers That Grower Can Follow in Marketing

Success with a roadside market for farm produce depends upon the application of the same fundamental principles which prove successful in any other business enterprise, advises H. P. Gaston, roadside marketing expert in the horticulture department of Michigan State College.

Mr. Gaston, who is at the South Haven experiment station of the college, finds that the number of roadside markets is greater than ever before in Michigan.

"Many growers have been disappointed with results. Failure usually is traceable to some such factor as poor salesmanship or lack of suitable site for the stand. Perhaps the advertising is not effective or the display lacks appeal. Rules to follow are comparatively simple but should be studied by the grower who plans to open a roadside market.

"The market should be visible for some distance so that the motorist approaching will have time to slow down and stop. The outside of a curve or the top of a hill usually make excellent locations. Sales tables or an inexpensive shelter help to keep the overhead down. If neat and clean the low cost equipment can be just as appealing to the consumer buyer as an elaborate and costly building.

"Signs should be large and legible but brief. They must tell the story at a glance while a motorist is travelling at high speed. Provide space for parking, for the customer will not and can not safely stop to buy unless there is sufficient room to get off the road.

"An attractive display is essential. A roadside merchant will do well to study the methods employed by the successful retail grocer. Repeat customers bring most of the business to a successful roadside market. Courteous and efficient salesmanship is therefore necessary. Reasonable prices bring customers back to the stand."

NEW METHODIST CAMP WAS DEDICATED SUNDAY

Special Services Conducted at Unique Community on Lake Louise

The Lake Louise Christian Community, summer camp sponsored by the Detroit and Michigan Conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was dedicated Sunday.

The camp, a gift of the Horner brothers, of Eaton Rapids, is located on the body of water formerly known as Thumb Lake, six miles east of Boyne Falls.

Speakers at the services Sunday included Dr. W. H. Phelps, editor of the Michigan Christian Advocate; Dr. Stanley B. Niles, of Sturgis, and Dr. Samuel J. Harrison, professor at Albion College.

The buildings were dedicated in honor of the donors and James Wagner, original settler, and James Pearson, an early settler.

The camp will be open for four weeks with a daily schedule of religious and cultural courses and recreational activities, with several trips to outstanding events on the Bay View Assembly program.

Methodist young people over 15 years of age will be accepted at the camp for one or more weeks. In addition to the trips to Bay View, an outstanding event will be Al-Gon-Quian Night when a program will be presented under the direction of Herbert Twining, president of the American Camping Association and director of Camp Al-Gon-Quian on Burt Lake.

"Black Feather" by Harold Titus—a story of the old fur trade. A complete novel—a $2.00 best seller, fully illustrated and published in color tabloid form, with next Sunday's Chicago Herald and Examiner.

Under steely exteriors are reservoirs of wistful hopes.

PICK ESSENTIALS IN REFRIGERATOR

Streamlining Has No Effect on Efficiency of Operation

"Look before you buy" is a good rule when purchasing a refrigerator, suggests Helen Noyes, home management specialist at Michigan State College. Studies of household equipment indicate that attractive colors or streamlining have no effect on the efficiency of operation of a refrigerator.

First, one must answer whether one should purchase a type operated mechanically by gas, electricity or kerosene or whether one cooled by ice will be most satisfactory, says Miss Noyes.

"Tests by the United States bureau of home economics," Miss Noyes points out, "show that four kinds of refrigerators required, under similar conditions, 50 kilowatt hours of electric energy, 900 pounds of ice, 12 gallons of kerosene and 1800 cubic feet of gas, respectively. The ice box maintained an average temperature of 53 degrees while the other types maintained an average of 43 degrees.

"Careful thought in selection of a refrigerator should be given to the temperature it will maintain, the cost of operation, the durability or probable length of satisfactory service, suitable size and adequate insulation. If moisture, for instance, gathers on the outside of a cabinet, this is evidence of poor or inadequate insulation.

"The size to buy depends upon the family. For a family of five living near a market, storage space of five cubic feet usually is sufficient. More space may be desirable, yet sometimes less space will serve if the foods that are not so perishable can be stored in a cool place not requiring artificial cooling."

MICHIGAN SOFTBALL CHAMPS HERE SUNDAY

Norge Refrigerators, of Muskegon, Meet Charlevoix All-Stars

Charlevoix baseball fans will have an opportunity of seeing Michigan's leading softball team in action here next Sunday, August 9.

The Norge Refrigerators, of Muskegon, Michigan state champions, are scheduled to meet the Charlevoix All-Stars in a game at the south side diamond at 11 a. m. The All-Stars, picked of Charlevoix and Petoskey league players, will have as pitcher John Stouton, of Grand Rapids, who recently held the Norge outfit to a 2-2 tie. A real ball game is in prospect.

Tax-payers:

Your 2nd Payment on 10-Year Plan is Due Sept. 1st

JUST a year ago your state and county officials were engaged in a great drive to encourage the property-owners of Michigan to clear their tax records.

It is estimated that over half a million tax-payers took advantage of the special concessions that were made for their benefit.

Back taxes for 1932 and prior years were put on a ten-year plan, and the first tenth-part was paid. Now the second part, again ten per cent, is due.

You must now make this second payment, with a 4% interest charge, in order to keep the advantage you won by coming under the ten-year plan.

Note:

If you have not yet put your back taxes for 1932 and prior years on the 10-Year Plan there is still time for you to do so.

IF, for any reason, you failed to put your taxes for 1932 and prior years on the 10-year plan last year, you can still do so by making the first two payments, with interest at 4%—plus a small additional charge on the payment you missed last year.

THE ARGONNE POPULAR WITH SUMMER VISITORS

An Increase in Dinner Parties and Luncheons Indicate Trend

If the steadily increasing patronage may be taken as an indication, Northern Michigan vacationists are finding The Argonne a popular place for entertainment, dinner parties and luncheons.

Entering the month of August, the height of the resort season, W. J. Kerns, manager, reports excellent business.

TENT CATERPILLAR CONTROL BEST ON COMMUNITY BASIS

An entire community, working together to collect and destroy the egg masses from which next year's brood of tent caterpillars will hatch, is suggested by entomologists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture as the best method of control during late summer and winter. These egg masses are deposited in midsummer. It is too late to take any action this year against the caterpillars—which have been unusually numerous and annoying in the northern, central and eastern states during the spring for several years—says the department in answer to many requests for advice.

BELVEDERE HOTEL

August 4th: Mrs. James B. Balch, of Kalamazoo, and wife of the president of Belvedere Club, was hostess to a large party of friends on Tuesday at a luncheon-bridge in Belvedere Hotel. The luncheon table was attractively decorated with low bowls of varieted flowers, having yellow and pink as the predominating colors. Dainty yellow and pink nut cups adorned the table which was dimly lighted with yellow and pink slender tapers. Following the luncheon hour, the hostess and her guests adjourned to the solarium of the hotel where they whiled away the afternoon hours playing bridge.

Among those invited were Miss Marie Heaton, Mrs. James Heaton, Miss Florence Grant, Mrs. Charles B. Fox, Mrs. R. Vernon Clark, Mrs. Charles O. Roemler, Mrs. Caroline Dewing, Mrs. William Church, Mrs. C. Powers, Mrs. A. Sanderson, Mrs. Carl C. Steiner, Mrs. Leonard Matthews, Mrs. M. Witherspoon, Mrs. Robert Hall, Mrs. Jane Ford, Mrs. W. G. Julius Stulberg, director of the Stulberg Trio, presented a most unusual Sanday evening concert this week. The character of these weekly concerts has established a precedent deserving of the highest praise. Joseph Evans, pianist, rendered a most difficult selection, "La Campanella" by Liszt-Busoni. Among other outstanding numbers included in this unusually fine program were "Gavot" by Leclair, "Dance of the Hour" (from the opera "Giocanda") by Ponchielli, "Romanee" by Sibelius, "Les Cloches (The Bells)" Debussy, "The Old Refrain," Kreisler.

Mrs. Charles W. McGuire, Chicago and Belvedere Club, entertained at a luncheon-bridge on Wednesday afternoon at the Belvedere Hotel. The three round luncheon tables were artistically decorated with assorted green and white flowers. Pretty green nut cups were noted at each guest's place, and green and white tapers cast a soft glow over the tables. Immediately following the luncheon hour, the ladies proceeded to the solarium of the hotel where they enjoyed an afternoon of bridge. At the close of the afternoon's game, Mrs. McGuire presented lovely gifts to each of the winners.

Covers at luncheon were laid for Mrs. A. Sherwood, Mrs. Trigg Waller, Mrs. Ernest Roberts, Mrs. W. N. Bemis, Mrs. W. B. Stewart, Mrs. George Tramel, Mrs. Charles B. Fox, Mrs. J. W. Firstoe, Mrs. E. N. Beach, Mrs. L. S. Rupert, Mrs. J. Landis, Mrs. W. G. Caldwell, Mrs. C. C. Steiner, Mrs. J. D. Ferguson, Mrs. Charles O. Roemler, Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. M. Witherspoon, Mrs. Leonard Matthews, Mrs. Elmer Kaiper, Mrs. Snyder, Mrs. W. A. Layman, Mrs. James B. Balch, Mrs. William Church, Mrs. John Kern and Mrs. E. E. Wilson.

VOTERS SHOULD CHECK THEIR REGISTRATION

Proper Registration Necessary to Be Qualified to Vote

With the filing of nominating petitions the fire has been kindled under the political pot and from now until the general election in November politics will play an important part in the every day life of the community.

This brings to mind the fact that many voters are not registered and will not be permitted to vote at either the primaries or election unless their registration cards are in order.

All voters in Charlevoix, regardless of their party affiliation, should check on their registration. If they changed address they must re-register. This can be done by simply stopping in at the city hall and making out a new card.

Saturday, September 12, is the final day for registration in the city. Unless a voter is registered on or before that time he will not be permitted to cast his ballot in the primary election.

Persons who have not voted for the past two years must also re-register under the new registration law.

CCC WORKERS PLANT NEARLY TWO MILLION TREES

CCC workers in Michigan have planted 166,854,000 forest trees during the past three years in Michigan. Up to March 31, they had constructed 5,916 miles of truck trails and built 1,210 miles of telephone lines.

Card of Thanks

We desire to express to our kind neighbors and thoughtful friends our heartfelt thanks for their many expressions of sympathy. The beautiful floral offerings were especially appreciated. Mrs. Josephine Krulik, Rudolph Krulik, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hallett.—Adv32t1pd

AT THE MOVIES

Barrymore Dons Skirts for Amazing Film Role

"Gone to my modiste's," is how Lionel Barrymore checked out with the casting office every day at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios in Culver City, during the filming of his latest picture. In his new picture, "The Devil Doll," opening August 9 at the Palace Theatre, he had to disguise himself as an old woman. He had three different gowns, also a wig. Skirts, pneumatic appendages to give feminine curves, specially made shoes to fit a man's foot but look like a woman's, were among the details of the costuming.

Brilliant Cast Makes "Suzy" Notable Event

Under any other name Jean Harlow, in the title role, would typify the women who, through their love and courage, build empires, cause wars and sometimes, avert them.

Simone Simon Makes Debut

One of the most important cinema events in years will take place beginning August 13 at the Palace Theatre when an exciting new personality, Simone Simon (pronounced See-MOAN See-MOAN), makes her debut in the Twentieth Century-Fox production, "Girls' Dormitory."

H. G. Wells' Film Forecasts Future

H. G. Wells' amazing forecast of the future, "Things To Come," will begin a one day engagement at the Palace Theatre August 15.

The widely-discussed film, which was produced by Alexander Korda, predicts the staggering developments in our world in the next century and its magnitude challenges anything ever attempted in Hollywood.

MICHIGAN LEADS STATES IN FISH LICENSES SOLD

Michigan led all states of the Union in total sales of resident and non-resident fishing licenses during 1935, but ranked fifth in total revenue. These facts are brought out in a compilation of fishing license sales by states, prepared and released by the United States Bureau of Fisheries, Washington, D. C.

KAMP KAIRPHREE NEWS
By Ann Oakman
Hill-Top Picnic

Our hikers got a chance to strut their stuff this afternoon when we hear that there is to be the yearly hill top picnic. Some of them get started and intend to harden up for the ten mile hike to Young State Park, but, how about it hikers,—some weaken and are picked up by the Buick! We might add that the distance is only a little more than three miles. After we arrive via truck, we find that our once grassy hill top has been cultivated (plowed), though fortunately not fertilized. Were we disappointed! However, we do find a smooth strip and after exploring "Echo Valley" and a full-fledged haunted house (though our juniors insist that it was haunted by a black and white animal strangely resembling a skunk—and after all, who are we to dispute their word?) we settle down to appease our appetite just as the remaining three or four weary and dusty hikers (?) straggle in. After the picnic some of the campers chaperoned by Miss "Buffy" White and Mr. and Mrs. Kittredge go into Petoskey and see the bright lights (some of them declared that it brought out the man-about-town in them) and a movie, plus a "Wimpy" afterwards. The rest of us return to camp by way of truck singing lustily, our tonsils well oiled!

Tuesday, it sprinkles a little. Mrs. Fariss arrives in camp. Captains of the blues and whites team are chosen and Jean Reimann is the white captain, while Ruth Kittredge is the blue. Congratulations, girls! Mary Alice O'Connor, Doris Chase and Faegal Hoorkins go into town for the afternoon. Regular classes today. In the evening assembly we have a contest between the blues and whites in putting up small tents. The teams were very nearly matched and with four on a tent, one was put up in less than three minutes. Pretty good, don't you think? If you don't, just wait 'til you get caught in a rain and try to put up a tent about 50 different ways and finally end up with it draped around you in such a manner that a passerby might store out of curiosity and wonder if the Indians were coming to town! Our Juniors go on an overnight to Halstead, chaperoned by Miss Betty Brown and Ruth Gram. We were solemnly informed that on their next trip they were going to take ten blankets, bed box, a night cap, and 27 mattresses! We're wondering too!

Wednesday morning a river trip starts out with Miss Lucy, Miss Buffy, and Miss Betty as counsellors. Our camp nurse, Miss Mary Funk, leaves this morning for work in Ann Arbor. Our new nurse, Miss Alice Bradford, is expected to arrive some time Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Kittredge also leave us. Mrs. Fariss takes some girls into Petoskey for the afternoon and we hear that a pretty good time was had by all! For assembly we play murder and some of those scream didn't sound so much like a lady in distress as they did the villain in "No, No, a Thousand Times No."

Thursday, we could hardly walk along the dock without being afraid we'd break our necks on some stray bar of soap that belonged to an unfortunate hair washer. There also seems to be a scarcity of curlers, and so on. Funny! Just to let you in on it, we hear that there is going to be a dance at Camp Charlevoix Friday night. Don't laugh, it's rather serious when our little girls, (Juniors), start washing their own hair and braiding it without any literal hair pulling. For assembly we bring up the vic and dance to it, rather, by it. Later that night, there seems to be a bit of polishing of once white shoes.

Friday, the greatest tragedy of the year occurred when Carl was en route for the camp rations in the faithful Reo,—year of birth, 1922. It is with deepest regret and undying memory to the faithful patriotism of the Reo, that we bid it a sorrowful farewell. It seems that it finally relapsed or rather exploded into a condition absolutely beyond repair. If you are wondering what could have caused such an unbelievable accident, we will attempt to enumerate some of said causes. First of all, mechanically speaking, the crank case burst, the carburetor was knocked open, the connecting rod broke through the side of the engine, and the gas which was dripping into the hot metal burst into flames. The remains of the noble car can never recuperate! In closing, we wish to say that the deceased served us well and faithfully throughout the 14 years of service it has seen. We also might add that Carl was the hero of the evening, and succeeded in grabbing the five gallon can of gasoline off the back and after frequent trips to the water tank, eventually putting out the fire.

This evening we donned our best and tripped up to The Inn to await the arrival of the truck which conveyed us to Camp Charlevoix. In due time the boys showed themselves, (we wonder if the delay was due to bashfulness, or—?), and we enjoyed a thoroughly good time. The refreshments were very good, and we all did ample justice to them. A little after 10:30 found us rolling home in the truck, all sleepy, but always singing.

Saturday finds another river trip starting out and hoping for as good a time as the last one had. Miss Lucy and Miss Mary Edna were the counsellors. Dr. and Mrs. Crawford arrive to surprise their children and to make a visit. We have pictures today, tonight rather, and they vary from Holland to Kamp Kairphree, as we see ourselves in the different reels that Mr. Swain has taken this year. Our little girls all pass their blue cap test in swimming and to say the least, we're very proud of them. Mr. and Mrs. Behlmer and Miss Helen Cubby-in go to Sault Ste. Marie for the day.

Sunday the Shaws from Ann Arbor come to visit their daughter, Penny, and we have some visitors from Ann Arbor for a while. Miss Alice, the new nurse arrives, and we have Chapel service up at the council ring. After supper, comes the Kchatter, taps, and goodnight all.

LIEUT. GOV. THOMAS READ

Lieut. Gov. Thomas Read, of Shelby, who has formally announced his candidacy for the Republican renomination, stated today that he will carry on an intensive campaign throughout the state. While Read expects to spend considerable time in Wayne county, his planned itinerary will take him to every section of Michigan, he said.

The lieutenant governor opened his campaign with a speaking tour in the Upper Peninsula at which time he was a member of Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald's official entourage while the latter was touring that portion of the state in the interest of his gubernatorial campaign.

A veteran Republican, Lieut. Gov. Read has served his home district and the state as a whole over a long period of years. He was a member of the Legislature in 1915-16-17-18-19-20 and at the opening of the 1919 session was elected speaker of the House of Representatives. He was elected to the office of lieutenant governor in November, 1920, re-elected November 7, 1922, and again elected November 6, 1934.

Born in Rochester, N. Y., Read came to Michigan and has lived in this state since 1889. He was educated in the public schools here, was graduated from Ferris Institute in 1908 and from the law school of the University of Michigan in 1913.

"If nominated and elected," Read said, "I will continue to give the people of the state of Michigan the same full-time, conscientious service that has characterized the official Senate proceedings during my previous terms as lieutenant governor."

CHURCH OF GOD
Dr. C. A. Stewart, Pastor

Sunday school at 10 o'clock. The Bible is the only reliable guide to the individual and to the nation. Come, let us become better acquainted with it. Classes for all ages.

The camp meeting continues through Sunday, August 9. After Sunday school at the chapel, the remaining services of the day will be held at the camp grounds. Preaching at 11 o'clock a. m., 2:30 p. m., and 8 p. m. Young people's meeting at the Tabernacle at 7 p. m. The camp meeting this year is said to be the best held on these camp grounds in many years. The music under the leadership of Mrs. Rachel Lord, of Cincinnati, is receiving much praise. The evangelist, Rev. Clifton Lord, is delighting the audiences from night to night with his pleasing way of presenting his messages. Several ministers from as far away as Montana have spoken at the day services. Other ministers will speak at the 10:30 a. m. and the 2:30 and 8 p. m. services every day until the close of the camp.

IF ANYBODY KNOWS a double play when he sees one, it is this fast stepping shortstop. He's seen all kinds of plays and players.

Outside the ball park, the best double play is Mobilgas and Mobiloil. Proof: Mobilgas is America's largest selling gasoline, Mobiloil is the world's largest selling motor oil They're proved in all kinds of cars over all kinds of roads in billions of miles of driving.

FERTILIZER

HEAVIER YIELDS COUNT UP QUICKLY. Prospects are for continued better grain prices. Fertilizer pays on wheat. Alfalfa and other crops following fertilized wheat always show large increases in yield. You get two returns from fertilizer.

WE RECOMMEND FARM BUREAU FERTILIZERS because they have the quality that gets results. Their nitrogen is 95% water soluble and quickly available as against 70% required by State law. Our phosphorus and potash carriers are the best. Farm Bureau fertilizers are extra dry, granulated and easy to regulate. Priced low.

BRUCKER ATTACKS NEW DEAL POLICY

MADE RECKLESS SPENDING TARGET IN ADDRESS

Former Governor, Campaigning for U. S. Senate, Addressed Kiwanis and Public Meeting Tuesday

Former Governor Wilber M. Brucker, campaigning for the Republican nomination as United States senator, addressed the Kiwanis Club and a public gathering here Tuesday evening.

Brucker challenged the campaign methods of Frank Murphy and James Couzens, candidates for governor and U. S. senator, charging Murphy with intimidation of WPA workers and Couzens with failure to support his own party.

After calling attention to his own efforts in behalf of the Republican party Brucker said Couzens had "remained strangely silent."

"On the one occasion when he attended a Republican state convention," charged Brucker, "he boasted he had little to do with such affairs. No longer than two years ago he declared he was under no obligations to the Republican party and refused point blank to the support of his colleague.—Senator Vandenberg. Now he says, 'I am a Republican.'

"That is not enough, coming as it does from one who has flaunted his contempt of Republican principles so often in the past."

—Brucker then demanded that Couzens make a definite statement as to whether he favored the Landon-Knox ticket and supported the Republican platform. He called attention to Couzens' support of New Deal measures and to his subsequent endorsement by James Farley. "With Couzens voting for New Deal measures and Vandenberg against them, Michigan is losing its votes in the Senate," Brucker declared. "If nominated and elected, I promise Michigan one hundred per cent Republican representation."

Reckless New Deal expenditures were made a target by Brucker. He dwelt particularly on the Florida shipping canal and the Passamoquoddy power project in Maine, which President Roosevelt continues to support after funds have been refused by Congress. He also called attention to a golf course constructed as a WPA project near Houghton at a cost of $126,000, taking exception to the fact it is located miles from the nearest town.

Brucker spoke at Traverse City, East Jordan, Boyne City and Petoskey on Tuesday.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE IS FORMED IN CHARLEVOIX

Four Teams Organized and League Names Officers for Summer Season

Softball, which yearly has gained popularity as a summer entertainment feature, has been organized in Charlevoix as a result of a recent meeting of local enthusiasts.

A four-team league, including in its membership both local and summer residents, has been organized with the following officers:

President, Ross Alexander; vice-president, Dwight Thomson; vice-president, John Knight; secretary, Gordon B. Todd; treasurer, Lyle Beaudoin. Teams which have become members of the league are Ironton, Knights of Pythias, Belvedere Club and Knight Hoods, the latter two clubs composed of summer residents.

A league schedule is being worked out for the remaining summer weeks and will be announced when available.

DRIVERLESS CAR BARELY MISSED ROUND LAKE BATH

A large sedan owned by Leo Allard barely missed a bath in Round Lake Sunday when the car, driverless, started off the Mason street dock, caught on a pile and hung suspended over the water. Local garage wreckers were unable to lift the machine. The job was finally accomplished by use of the derrick of the U. S. lighthouse tender Sumac.

People are told to live within their income. Some accomplish that feat by including in their income everything they can borrow.

VISITORS' DAY AT BIOLOGICAL CAMP

PUBLIC IS INVITED THERE ON SUNDAY, AUGUST 9

Visit to University of Michigan Station on Douglas Lake Provides Unusual Pleasure

The public is cordially invited to attend the ninth Annual Visitors' Day of the University of Michigan Biological Station, August 9, 1936, from 2 to 5 o'clock Eastern Standard Time. This is the only time of the year when the biological station extends a general invitation to its neighbors and the general public to inspect its buildings and to view the exhibits which have been prepared for this occasion. The exhibits will be of an educational nature and will include plants and animals of the region as well as certain kinds of class work and scientific investigations now in progress.

The biological station is located on the southeast shore of Douglas Lake, Cheboygan county, on the old Cheboygan - Petoskey trail, 13 miles southwest of Cheboygan. The roads from Cheboygan, Topinabee, and Pellston will be well posted with signs directing visitors. There will be plenty of room to park, help in parking, guide service, and free admission to all places of interest. Bring your friends with you and become acquainted with this part of your state university.

The first session of the biological station was held in 1909. From the very first, the study of animals and plants in their natural surroundings has been considered to be the special function of the station. For this work this region, with its great diversification of aquatic and terrestrial situations, is peculiarly well adapted. One has only to list the large number of lakes of all sizes within easy reach, bog lakes, bogs, swamps, cold brooks and rivers to realize that nowhere in the state is there a better area for aquatic work. The great tracts of unoccupied wild lands which present such a diversity of conditions as the pine plains, jackpine plains, the hardwood forests, the fir, spruce and cedar swamps, sand dunes on the shores of the great lakes, together with farm lands furnish a wide variety of conditions for the study of land animals and plants. Friendly neighbors have been of great assistance by permitting classes to collect upon their property.

The enrollment this year is 105, one greater than last year, and but three less than the maximum which was reached in 1931. Among the 105 students are 87 who hold first degrees, five held the doctor's degree, and 31 have the master's degree; one is a doctor of veterinary medicine. There are 56 men and 49 women. Sixty-four are engaged in teaching during the year and 40 are students.

SUGGESTIONS SUNDAY DINNER

By Ann Page

Beef and briling chickens are the flesh foods of the week, the former being the best meat value and broilers now at the height of their season. God quality lamb and veal are very high though poorer grades are plentiful and cheap. Eggs are much higher cheese is up and higher prices for butter are expected.

Fruits are plentiful and comparatively cheap. The berry season is about over having been shortened by heat and dry weather. Cantaloupes, peaches, pears and plums are outstanding with apples and bananas also reasonable. Lemons follow the thermometer and oranges are not cheap.

Vegetables are none too plentiful or good. Western lettuce and peas, potatoes and tomatoes are the best values. Cabbage, beets, carrots and onions are, as at most seasons, plentiful and reasonable in price.

Low Cost Dinner

Braised Beef with Vegetables
Tomato Salad
Bread and Butter
Orange Spanish Cream
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner

Cream of Celery Soup
Cold Cuts Vegetable Salad
Sliced Tomatoes
Bread and Butter
Peach Sundae Wafers
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner

Jellied Bouillon
Broiled Beefsteak Parsley Potatoes
Green Peas
Combination Salad
Rolls and Butter
New Apple Pie a la Mode
Coffee

PRELIMINARY COUNTY TOTALS GET APPROVAL

Notices Now Being Prepared for Farmers in Soil Program

It may be of interest to farmers in Charlevoix county to learn that in a conference with Mr. Hitchcox, of the State Soil Conservation Association, with the local county committeemen on July 24, that the summary of the figures of the farm acreage and soil depleting crops for Charlevoix county were tentatively approved. Charlevoix county, according to Mr. Hitchcox, was the first county in the state to be thus approved. Word has now been received that these figures have been confirmed from Washington, thus ending the first step of the new program.

Notices are now being prepared and mailed from this office, as rapidly as possible, notifying all farmers of the approved soil depleting figures for their land and offering an opportunity for filing appeals.

George C. Ferris,
Sec.-Treas. County Committee.

WARNING!

Dumping of explosive wastes in the in the nature of gasoline, crude oil or paint wastes in the Charlevoix sewerage system has taken place on two or three occasions. As our sewage tanks are covered when the fumes from these substances are mixed with air at proper proportions and temperature, it becomes very explosive and dangerous to property and life. In fact, it might destroy our plant and cause personal injury to those in the immediate vicinity. These wastes appeared on Tuesday afternoon, August 4, at the sewage plant. It is our opinion that whoever is dumping these wastes is doing so innocently without knowing its danger. We are, therefore, requesting that the utmost care be used in preventing these dangerous substances from entering our sewerage system.

RIVIERA TENNIS TOURNEY MONDAY

ELEVENTH ANNUAL EVENT AT THE INN COURTS

Strongest Field Since Days of John Hennessey Indicated in All Divisions—Three Champions Defend

The 11th annual Michigan Riviera tennis championships, Charlevoix's major summer sports event, will open Monday, August 17, at The Inn clay courts.

Entries now in the hands of tournament officials indicate the strongest field since John Hennessey, former Davis Cup star, came direct from Paris, France, to play in the tournament.

Harris Coggeshall, Des Moines, Ia., who last year added the Riviera men's singles and doubles titles to his numerous mid-west championships, comes from Rye, N. Y., to defend his title. He will again pair with Jack Harris, Chicago, in quest of another doubles win.

Although Coggeshall will be the defending champion, he will not rate the first position in the seeded list on account of the several higher ranking stars who have entered. Ernest Sutter, New Orleans, 1936 national intercollegiate champion; Ramsey Potts, national intercollegiate runner-up and co-holder with Sutter of the southern doubles title; William Reese, Atlanta, Ga., Georgia Tech ace and ranked 17th in national rating; Julius Heldman, Hollywood, Calif., the national junior champion; Rex Norris, Lansing, M. S. C. ace and 1935 Riviera runner-up, are among those who are sure to make next week a busy one for Coggeshall.

Other prominent players in the men's division are Frank Stewart and Henry Uhl, of the University of California; Sherwood Miller, captain-elect of the University of Michigan tennis team; Arthur Kaiser, Chicago veteran; Joseph Ziemet, one of Western Michigan's outstanding players.

The women's field will be the strongest in years. Elizabeth Kesting, St. Paul, Minn., will defend the title she won last year against such players as Catherine Wolf, a former Riviera champion and now 10th in the national women's ranking. Miss Wolf has won most of the major mid-west titles and comes from an eastern campaign. Other outstanding entries in the women's division are Margaret Steil, second ranking Chicago player; Mrs. Florence O'Connell, Chicago, 1935 Western indoor champion, and Marjorie Stern, Highland Park, Ill., one of Chicago's ranking players.

The junior division will far outclass that of previous years with the presence of Heldman, the national champion, together with Robert Rau of Monroe, Mich., the 1935 Riviera winner and defending champion, Stewart and Uhl, the Californians.

Tournament officials feel confident that before the entry closes at noon Monday, the field will be well over a hundred, the largest number in recent years.

Many of the entrants for next week's Riviera tournament will come here from Harbor Springs, following participation in the Western Championships which opened Monday at the Little Harbor Club courts. Charlevoix tennis fans will have an opportunity of watching the best tennis produced here in many years, and tournament officials extend a welcome to both local and summer residents to witness the matches.

ALL-STARS BEAT STATE SOFTBALL CHAMPIONS

Defeated Norge Refrigerators by 3 to 1 Score Hero Sunday

Johnny Stouton, Grand Rapids star softball hurler, pitched the Charlevoix All-Stars to a 3 to 1 victory over the Norge Refrigerators, of Muskegon, Michigan Class A softball champions, here Sunday morning.

The Charlevoix team, composed of picked players from the local and Petoskey softhall leagues, gave Stouten excellent support and the Grand Rapids pitcher held the Muskegon champions to a few scattered hits.

The contest, played at the north side ball park, drew a lurge crowd of local and summer residents.

CARLETON S. DODGE IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Died Last Friday Following Illness of Two Years—Funeral Monday

Carleton S. Dodge, Charlevoix business man for 35 years, died at 9 o'clock Friday evening at his home on Antrim street. He had been in ill health two years.

Deceased was born May 11, 1854, in New York state. He came to Michigan when a small boy, residing for many years ut Birch Run. He was united in marriage to Theodocia Robbins in 1882 at Gaylord. Three children were born to this union, Lula M. und Harry A., now deceased, and Gertrude M.

The family moved to Charlevoix 35 years ago. Mr. Dodge, a tailor by trade, followed that profession several years before taking over the cleaning and pressing business from which he retired a few years ago.

Surviving besides the widow and daughter are a brother, E. M. Dodge, of Flint, and two grandsons, Teddy Miller and Carleton Oberlon.

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock Monday morning from the See funeral chapel, Rev. G. R. Parker officiating.

BELVEDERE TEAM LEADS SOFTBALL

WIN FIRST TWO GAMES IN THE LEAGUE SCHEDULE

Contests Are Scheduled Two Nights Weekly Until Close of Season on Tuesday, August 25th.

The newly organized Charlevoix Softball League started its schedule on Friday, August 7, and will continue until competition closes Tuesday, August 25, playing twice weekly.

The Belvedere outfit lead the league teams in standing with two victories. They defeated the Knighthoods last Friday 6 to 4. and Tuesday night downed the K. of P. team by a 10 to 6 score. Other results are: K. of P. 16, Ironton 9; Knighthoods 10, Ironton 6.

Following is the schedule:

Thursday, August 13, 6:45 p. m.—K. of P. vs. Knighthoods, south side diamond; Belvedere vs. Ironton, at Ironton.

Tuesday, August 18, 6:45 p. m.—Ironton vs. K. of P., south side diamond; Knighthoods vs. Belvedere, north side diamond.

Thursday, August 20, 6:45 p. m.—Belvedere vs. K. of P., south side diamond; Knighthoods vs. Ironton at Ironton.

Tuesday, August 25, 6:45 p. m.—K. of P. vs Knighthoods at north side diamond; Ironton vs. Belvedere, south side diamond.

The League competition will end on Tuesday, August 25, and any team in the league or an "All-Star" team from the league will be eligible to compete in the district softball championships to be held in Petoskey the nights of August 27, 28, 29 and 30.

Gordon Todd, board of commerce activities director, has announced that the north side diamond is reserved every Tuesday, Thursday and Sunday mornings, and requests no games be scheduled for these mornings with notification to him.

KIWANIS ENTERTAINED AT CAMP CHARLEVOIX

Guests Tuesday Evening of Lewis C. Reimann at The Limberlost

Approximately 30 members of the Charlevoix Kiwanis Club were guests of Lewis C. Reimann at Camp Charlevoix last night. The local clubmen held their weekly meeting at the camp and were entertained by the campers and counsellors.

After the meal the campers sang a few songs and then the Kiwanians were called on to sing a few of their songs. Mr. Reimann welcomed the men to camp and then called upon the president of the club for a short talk.

A short program consisting of a saxaphone solo hy Wiley Hitchcock, a bass solo by Tom Hart, a group of accordion numbers by John Sweeney, and a group of songs by the camp sextette ended the meeting.

The evening of entertainment is open to all desiring to attend without admission charge. The Inn management extends a cordial invitation to all to attend.

SWIMMING MEET POSTPONED UNTIL AUGUST 16

Annual Event, Scheduled for Last Sunday, Was Rained Out

Charlevoix's annual swimming meet, scheduled for Sunday afternoon, was rained out and has been postponed until Sunday, August 16, it has been announced by Gordon Todd, activities director.

Sunday's heavy rain, lasting well into the afternoon, made it impossible to hold the event, after a large field of entries and a good crowd of spectators had gathered. Among the entries were a party of 15 from Grand Rapids, who had motored here to participate. The same group will come for the meet next Sunday.

During the coming week additional entries may be made with Mr. Todd nt the information bureau. The events will open at 2:30 o'clock at the city park between Mason and Clinton streets.

POMONA GRANGERS ENJOYED FINE PROGRAM

Mellencamp and Tibbitts Speakers at Session Saturday Night

Pomona Grangers numbering 35 in addition to visitors, witnessed a fine program last Saturday evening at Boyne River Grange.

A fine program of music, songs, readings, together with talks by County Agent B. C. Mellencamp and Representative Douglas D. Tibbitts was enjoyed. Plans were made to cooperate with the county agent in the Bangs testing program with the hope that all herds in the county be tested.

Following the business session, the meeting adjourned until September 23, when a session will be held at Deer Lake grange hall.

PLAN BUILDING SHIP FOR YEAR AROUND SERVICE

Traffic Demand at Straits Makes Additional Boat Necessary — Will Have Capacity 225 Cars

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, announced this week his expectation of a new ferry steamer at the Straits of Mackinac by June 1, 1937.

The commissioner's announcement accompanied the visit to Michigan of W. M. Rice, president of Henry J. Gielot, Inc., marine architects of New York and Michigan, who will start work immediately on the design of a new steumer. Rice studied the ferry data of the State Highway Department und made a personal inspection of the docks and facilities of the state-owned ferry system, at the Straits of Mackinac.

G. D. Kennedy, business manager and consulting engineer of the State Highway Department, who accompanied Rice to the Straits, said that public bids will be taken on n boat as soon as the marine architect has completed his design.

Commissioner Van Wagoner announced the new boat will have a capacity of about 225 motor vehicles compared with an average of only 80 vehicles for the three state-owned boats now in operation at the Straits. He added that the new steamer probably will be equipped with ice-crushing facilities to permit year-round service. The cost of the new boat probably will exceed half a million dollars.

"This new boat, if built to carry 225 automobiles, will increase transportation efficiency at the Straits by 80 per cent," the commissioner said. "The new boat is badly needed. We expect to carry about 200,000 vehicles across the Straits by the end of this year. This compares with 10,000 vehicles in 1923, the first year that state-owned ferries were in operation."

Commissioner Van Wagoner hired the marine architect less than a week after given the authorization by the State Administrative Board.

COUNCIL VOTES FUND FOR A BAND DIRECTOR

Will Cooperate With Schools to Provide City Band Instruction

Action of the city council Monday night insured the year-around employment of a band director in Charlevoix for the coming year.

The council voted $600 towards the salary of the band director, who, in addition to giving instruction in the public schools, will also direct the city band organization throughout the year and conduct the usual summer concert programs. This policy of cooperation with the board of education has been carried out for many years.

It is understood that Robert B. Magor, who has served as band director here several years, will go to Dearborn following the summer season. His successor has not as yet heen named.

YACHT HIT ROCK SOUTH POINT, ESCAPES DAMAGE

Cruiser To-To, Owned by O. Sauerberg, Grand Rapids, Towed to Port

The 35-foot yacht To-To, owned by Otto Sauerberg, of Grand Rapids, was towed into port here Monday night by Charlevoix Coast Guards after running upon rocks off South Point in Lake Michigan.

Sighting the harbor lights, the craft cut too close to the point to enter the bay. The craft was undamaged and left here Tuesday morning under its own power.

HEAVY RAIN, HAIL HIT THIS DISTRICT SUNDAY

Lightning Caused Fire at Wesley Jolliffe Residence, Antrim Street

A rainfall of 1.2 inches, the heaviest of the summer season, brought relief to drought-stricken crops in this district Sunday.

The storm, local in nature and hitting only u limited area, was uccompanied by hail in this city. Hail stones an inch in diameter fell for several minutes.

During the second storm of the afternoon, the Wesley Jolliffe residence on Antrim street was struck by lightning. The bolt is thought to have entered a chimney. It shattered n light meter inside the house and set fire to a chair, necessitating a fire department response. The Jolliffes were away at the time and neighbors turned in the alarm.

Tree branches were broken throughout the city by the heavy wind and streets were flooded for a short time by the deluge of rain.

Announce Beach Party

There will be a beach party Thursday evening at Nowland Lake, under the supervision of Noel Thomson, Ironton WPA recreational director.

ASK LEGISLATURE FOR LARGER FUND

SEEK $150,000 FOR RESORT CAMPAIGN NEXT YEAR

Tourist and Resort Association Outlined Program at Meeting Held In Traverse City

An annual advertising appropriation of $150,000 to advertise and publicize the summer attractions of Michigan will probably be asked of the State Legislature at its session which opens next January, according to action taken at Traverse City last Wednesday by a group of Michigan Tourist and Resort Association directors.

The Traverse City meeting was composed of directors living north of Muskegon who met with Hugh J. Gray, of Grand Rapids, secretary-manager of the association, at the Park Place Hotel.

Under the proposed plan the $150,000 advertising fund would he divided into five parts. Fifty thousand would be used to advertise Michigan as a state and the remaining $100,000 would be divided equally among the four tourist and resort associations in the state, the Upper Peninsula, Western Michigan, Eastern Michigan and Detroit associations. Each one of these would be required to raise its own advertising fund of $25,000 to match the appropriation from the state. In this way a total fund of $250,000 would he spent.

Mr. Gray and the directors discussed the present tourist and resort season and agreed it was among the best in the history of Western Michigan. The directors brought reports of hotels and cottages filled up all along the West Michigan shore.

Plans for next year's resort booklet to be issued by the association were also discussed and Mr. Gray presented an outline of the book.

F. J. Fessenden, Tourist Association director, and Mayor Arthur Bergeon represented Charlevoix at the meeting.

LOIS NIXON MAKING HIT AT RAMONA CLUB

Popular Artist Sharing Spotlight With Other Entertainers

Holding the spotlight of popularity at the Ramona Club, well patronized night club near Harbor Springs, is Lois Nixon, song stylist, who comes direct from the Hollywood studios at Hollywood, Calif., for an August engagement.

Clever song interpretations and vocal selections and an undeniable personality have captivated the pleasure seekers at this popular summer rendezyous.

Also popular with the Ramona patrons are the Randalls, international trio exhibiting the dunce which made them the sensation of Europe and America while introducing the latest Cuban and South American dances. They are direct from the Ritz Carlton Hotel.

The Ramona Club is offering numerous special attractions during August for its patrons, including a clam bake scheduled for Friday, August 14.

OUTLINE PLAN FOR CO. FAIR PROGRAM

EAST JORDAN EXHIBIT SET FOR SEPTEMBER 8-11

WLS Barn Dance Crew, Large Midway, Numerous Free Cash Awards Arranged by Committee

With August fogs rising from the lakes during the cool of the morning, and with gardens and fields "filling-out", despite an unprecedented drought, thoughts begin to turn toward fair-time and the annual Charlevoix County Fair at East Jordan—this year to be held the first full week in September—8-9-10-11.

The fifty-second annual promises to abound in more and better so-called Free Acts than ever before. In uddition to the usual and ever popular trotting and running races, M. B. Hooker, of the Hooker Riding Academy of Charlevoix, will be there with some unusual features. Bud Clark will make his usual balloon ascensions, and something of more than ordinary interest is promised in the McClintic's Trained Dogs act. Baseball fans are assured some fine games by teams from towns in this part of the state, with two games scheduled—forenoon and afternoon—of each day. Those interested will witness some good horse-pulling contests. Fair Secretary Charles P. Murphy is in Detroit this week arranging for additional free features.

WLS Barn Dance Crew

Night fair visitors this year will have their heart's desire fulfilled — that of seeing and hearing one of the famous WLS Barn Dance Crews. Contracts are being made and names of the entertainers will be announced later.

Big Midway Assured

Applications for concession space are being received almost daily. The R. F. Wade Amusement Co. of Grand Rapids has arranged for a total of 515 feet of the midway and will have seven different mechanical rides and four shows.

Free Cash Awards

Merchants' Tickets are going this year like the proverbial hot-cakes, which indicates considerable interest in the free cash awards. Drawings will be made each afternoon of the Fair, five awards each day. Several lucky persons are going off the grounds richer than when they entered.

Loud Speaker System

Ivan Falconer of the Charlevoix Electric Service Co. has been given the contract to furnish the loud speaker system to be used on the grounds during the Fair.—Contributed.

BELVEDERE GOLF TOURNAMENT OPENS AUG. 18

Match Play in Championship, Subsequent Flights Following Day

The annual Belvedere Club handicap golf tournament, one of the outstanding sports events at this popular summer colony, will get under way Tuesday, August 18, according to an announcement by R. Vernon Clark, chairman of the golf committee.

The tournament will open Tuesday with the 18-hole qualifying round. The first eight low scores qualify for the championship flight. Others qualify for subsequent flights of eight. Match play starts Wednesday, August 19. All matches will be 18 holes excepting the championship finals of 36 holes. Divisions are provided for both men and women.

The defending champions are Hampten Swift, of St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. B. K. Muir, of Detroit.

JAMES B. BALCH AGAIN BELVEDERE CLUB HEAD

James B. Balch, of Kalamazoo, was re-elected president of the Belvedere Club for 1936-37, his fifth consecutive term, at the annual meeting Tuesday.

Other officers chosen were: Vice-president, C. B. Fox, St. Louis, Mo.; secretary, Charles O. Roemler, Indianapolis, Ind.; treasurer, Logan G. Thomson, Cincinnati, O.; assistant treasurer and warden, E. J. Edwards, Charlevoix.

R. Vernon Clark, St. Louis, Mo., and Homer D. Jones, Oak Park, Ill., were re-elected trustees for three years, and C. W. McGuire, Chicago, was chosen for a similar term. Mrs. Irene Bisbee, Jackson, was chosen to serve the unexpired one-year term of the late George D. Webb.

Mrs. Elizaheth Dunlap, Boyne City, and Miss Mary Johnson, Detroit, were home for the Sunday dinner dance. They expect to remain on the Island for a few days.

Mrs. Billy Schied has closed her cottage and returned to Chicago. Her sons, the Rev. Father Bernard Schied and Morrell, motored up from Chicago for her.

That annual gala day for Beaver Island, which August always brings, has come and passed. It was an enjoyable and exciting one for all who participated in the events of the day. Two special boats from Manistique brought their band and the Manistique ball team. An exciting game was played in the late afternoon, close scores running all through the innings. Manistique won 7-6. A dinner was served in the Town Hall to over 500 guests. A dance followed in the evening; the music was furnished by a Charlevoix orchestra.

Among those who attended from out of town were Omer McCann, Edna Wyers, Marjorie Miller, Bernard and Lina McCafferty, Mary Margaret Orlowski and friend, Marguerite McCrae, Mildred LaBlanc, Franklin and Catherine Left, Fay Bradley, Joe Schwab, Helen Gallagher and Bob Gallagher, all of Charlevoix; and Fon Sendenberg, John and Aloysius McDonough, Helen O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Malloy, Mrs. Malloy, Sr., Mrs. Woodbine and daughter, Catherine, Miss Ethel Greene, J. Goodwill, the Misses McCauley, of Manistique and Escanaba.

Several small parties were planned for after the dance. A farewell-to-summer breakfast was served at the Schied cottage honoring Miss Roberta Schied and Jack McCann, who returned to Chicago Monday. Among those who attended were the Misses Clara and Dorothy Gallagher, Eleanor Sweeney, Elvira Gillespie, Winifred and Helen Lafreniere, Grace Bradley and Dorothy Malloy, and the Messrs. Giles and Edwin McCann, Charles and Elston Pischner, Lawrence McDonough, Preston Schiele, Norbert Gallagher and Jack McDonald.

CENTRAL LAKE

Moses King has been employed on the PWA accounting work the last few months at Bellaire.

It is reported that Mr. and Mrs. Howard Arnold have a new baby at their place, the Nicola's.

Rev. and Mrs. Liskum were attendants at the big Free Methodist camp meeting at Manton over the week-end.

Many of the farmers are mowing their oats on discovering there were no oat grains in the straw, due to the hot weather.

Mrs. Clare Savage's people from Traverse City visited over the week-end with her sister's family, Mrs. Don McLachlan.

Slight sprinkle here, but big rainfall at Bellaire Sunday. Hail as big as walnuts, it was said, fell at Boyne City. Good shower at Phelps.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy have returned from their trip to Indiana, where Mrs. Irwin Kennedy's brother, Mr. Browning, died a few weeks ago.

Lester Dawson took the Bay View and Grand View Sunday schools to Twin Bridges with his truck last week Wednesday. They report a fine time. About 40 attended.

William C. Palmer, successful commissioner of Charlevoix county, is accompanied to the big commissioners' meeting at Mt. Pleasant this week by J. W. Morse of this place.

Rev. Harry Batterbee and Vercil Mason called on the Harry Mason family last Sunday. The Mason people have been ill for four weeks with the flu with no one to care for them. Dr. VanDellen, of Ellsworth, has been in attendance.

The following were attendances at the several Sunday schools last week: Enstport, 39, with 80 the week before; Creswell, 19; Turner, 19; Grand View, 19. Misses Grace and Maxine King and Phyllis Hale accompanied Rev. Batterbee to Creswell and Turners and sang, while Mr. Batterbee conducted Sunday schools at both places.

A wonderful lecture was that given at the Baptist church two weeks ago Sunday by a Russian lady. The truth was told about Russia, and not what resorters and diplomats get when they go over there. It is said the Communists have the stage set for a nice showing to them, but those who escape and the real missionaries tell tales of atrocities worse than American Indians used to perpetrate, and yet the government recognizes such a country, and they are allowed a ticket at Election!

Most of the cherry picking is done around here, and Ellsworth and East Jordan Canning Companies have quit cunning cherries and gone to beans. The cherry crop has been disappointing both to canners and growers. The canneries have not got the crop they wished for, and growers have not received the price expected. Ellsworth and East Jordan promised three cents if Traverse City Co-Ops would pay three. Traverse City paid two and a half down, the other half to be paid later, so East Jordan and Ellsworth paid but two and three-fourths. Then, again, several orchards north of Central Lake had but half a crop on account of being struck by the hail. Others around Ironton, whose orchards were frozen two years ago, received but a small crop. One Ironton man pulled out 14 acres of cherry trees this spring. It looks as though the canners would make the best sell this year in several years. But many farmers will have to go on the welfare this year as beans, oats, and in many places, hay and potatoes, are practically nil.

BARNARD

Fine shower on Sunday.

We notice Glenn Cummings driving a new Ford V-8.

Robert Cummings came home last Wednesday from the hospital where he was operated on for appendicitis the week preceding.

The Clarke County Clowns played the Atwood nine on Saturday afternoon, resulting in a victory for the visiting team with a score of 12 to 9.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dhaseleer and daughter and son motored to Alden on Sunday, where they visited Mrs. Dhaseleer's brother, Matthew Ricksgers, and family.

David and Bernard Matchett, Ronald Lyon and Carlton Smith went to Gaylord on Tuesday to the 4-H Club camp. David and Donald are giving their demonstration on "Fitting and Showing a Dairy Calf."

ROCK ELM

Some of Mr. Porter's cherry pickers became so sick Friday afternoon from eating cherries that they were obliged to go home.

Mrs. Charles Fry and children and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas and daughter and son came from Jennings last week Sunday afternoon for a brief visit with Mrs. Thomas' sister, Mrs. Lawton, and also to pick cherries for canning. They returned to their homes Monday afternoon.

Lawrence Jensen had two quite unpleasant experiences last week. The first came Wednesday forenoon when he heard an outcry from a pen of fattening cockerels. On going to find the cause, he found the air so full of bees he had to run to keep from being stung. Picking up a pail of water, he threw it among them to hold them in check until he could get his smoker into action. When he had them subdued he found their hive filled to capacity, so, having no more room to work, they went on a rampage. The cockerels were so badly stung that he had to kill them. His second misadventure came Thursday night when he found one of his cows mired in the creek. It took the combined efforts of nine men to pull her out. Fortunately she had not been in long enough but that she was able to walk as soon as she had solid footing.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

Edited by Ed. Taylor

Saturday was Carnival Day and with it was perhaps the busiest day we have had in camp all summer. The boys worked on their concessions all morning and then in the afternoon was the carnival itself. At night came Ken Smith's musical show and Herb Johnson's players in their dramatic skit.

Quite a few parents and visitors from town were here for the entertainment as well as our little feminine friends from Kemp Knirphree. Two of the latter group, Jean Reimann and Jenn Manwaring, gave a special tap-dance number as an added attraction to the show.

Wednesday the horse trip went out for a three day jaunt around the lake. A good time was had by all and no one came home sitting on a pillow. Bud Boetticher and George Cunningham were the counsellors on the trip and the boys were Bob Kittredge, Juck Hawley, Burr Needham, Bruce Laing, Al Redmond, Al McGregor and Mel Donnlly.

Friday afternoon a group of older boys from Camp Leelanau stopped in for a hard ball game with the staff and older seniors. With the great Kemp Burton on the mound and Johnny Nenninger catching, Charlevoix won 4-2. Burton only allowed two hits while he and Tom Landon got two hits apiece to lead the Charlevoix attack.

Thursday a new event was introduced to the campers. A "watermelon splash" was held in each section between the Greens and Greys and the winners got a point and also the watermelon. The Greys won the seniors and juniors, while the Green intermediates won.

Sunday at church we had as our guest speaker, Dr. Carr, of the Court Street church in Flint. The quartet furnished special music after which Don Blue read the Scripture. Dr. Carr used as his subject "The Spirit of Pioneering."

Monday the sailing trip and the first section of the junior covered wagon expedition left camp. Cabins 1 and 3 in the junior section took the covered wagon and went to Youngs Park. Next week the other two cabins will take their turn. The sailors went to Pine Point and from there will go to Whiting Park and hope to be back by Wednesday.

Monday night the much publicized Indiana-Michigan basketball game was played. The game, which was probably the most rough and tumble affair seen anywhere, ended with the Michigan boys winning 18-9. For the winners were Oke Oldham, one of the roughest ever seen on a court, Kemper Burton, a ringer brought in from Pennsy, Bob Cooper, the only gentleman in the game, Sun Ladd, and Orr Wiemann. On the Hoosiers were George Cunningham, Bud Boetticher, who got in several nice roll blocks, Gil Haynie, Ed. Taylor, Ralph Kline, and Bob Million. Wiley Hitchcock refereed and Ken Gann sat on the sidelines with a "know nothing look" on his pan and failed to even blow the whistle in his mouth, although he was supposed to be an umpire. After three quarters of play, Wiley retired in favor of Ray Pinkham. Both teams tried to see how many tackles they could get instead of baskets and Oke and Bud had a personal wrestling match most of the game. The Michigan team won although their coach, Prof. Jim Voyce, was in a wheel chair with a bad foot. There is talk of a return game later in the season but in all probability it will be postponed till the basketball season gets here. (Next December.)

As camp nears its close, many interesting events are coming up. Tuesday afternoon a Green and Grey swimming and boating carnival will take place. Wednesday night will be "Gyp night" and all that comes with us. Thursday the big "camp battle" will be held.

After two weeks of searching, the "Mugwump" has been found. Inspector Ralph King of Scotland Yard trailed the lost bird through the woods for two weeks before he was finally able to capture it and restore it to activity. It seems that Al Redmond, who thought he was a Grey and whom records show to be a Green, and whom neither side claims, found the sacred token and, not knowing what to do with it, kept hiding it and as King drew closer on the trail he finally had to abandon it. Al was indicted by the camp grand jury and is waiting to be sentenced after being tried by a jury for his crime. Johnny Nenninger did the prosecuting, while Kemp Button acted as the defense attorney.

The first enrollment for the 1937 season is in. Alex Galton was the first to enter for next year after the Chief made an announcement about special trips being given to the first to enter. The first 10 juniors will receive a free trip to Beaver Island and the first 12 intermediates and seniors will receive a free trip to the Tahquamenon Falls. Others who go on these trips will be charged extra.

IRONTON

(Too late for last week)

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sherman were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Stevenson in Charlevoix Sunday.

The annual church bazaar chicken dinner will be held Wednesday noon, August 19. Everyone welcome.

P. Harris returned to St. Louis, Mo., Sunday after spending the past month with his family in the King cottage.

Mrs. Charles Allen and small son, from Brookfield, Ill., are spending several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Mower.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Barnum and daughter, Ema Bel, of Lake City, and Katherine Carson, of Detroit, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Alexander Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Cunningham and sisters, Mrs. Mabel Spencer and Mrs. Marie Spencer, from Libby, Mont., spent the past week visiting relatives in Holland, Mich.

Rev. C. E. Taggart, of Charlotte, is spending a few weeks visiting friends in Charlevoix and Ironton. Next Sunday he will have charge of the pulpit in our church.

Mrs. Ross Alexander and Mrs. Alfred Thorsen, of East Jordan, enjoyed Farm Women's Week at the Michigan State College in Lansing the past week. They followed the course of child development offered by Lydia M. Lynde, and speech by Prof. Nichols. There were 30 ladies from Charlevoix county and about 800 ladies enrolled from the state.

POULTRY FACTS

MANGELS ARE GOOD WINTER HEN FEED

Beet Family Crop That Will Be Great Help.

By Lee A. Somers, Horticultural Specialist, University of Illinois.—WNU Service

Green succulent feed, which would be greatly relished by chickens during the winter months, can be easily and cheaply produced by devoting a small portion of the farm garden to mangel-wurzels.

Although succulent feed may not be classed as an essential in poultry production, many farmers have found that such a winter supplement adds variety to the ration, and by whetting the birds' appetites, indirectly encourages greater egg production. Mangels will supply this winter succulence quite satisfactorily. They are easily grown, yield tremendously and may be stored with little inconvenience.

Mangels belong to the beet family and should be raised in the same manner as the fall beet crop. The seed may be sown late, dropping the seeds at the rate of six to eight to the foot. Later the plants should be thinned out to from eight to twelve inches apart. Generally, there are neither insect nor disease enemies serious enough to demand consideration.

The roots of mangels do not make much growth until the cool weather of late September and October, when they begin to expand and increase to surprising length. An individual root often weighs from five to eight pounds, while yields of 12 to 20 tons to the acre are common. A 100-foot row will usually supply enough mangels for a flock of 50 chickens during an entire winter.

Current Turkey Models Are Bigger and Heavier

Shifting of styles in turkeys is under way, according to L. E. Cline of the Nevada agricultural extension service, who recently finished a study of the present market for the holiday birds. The 1931 model will be bigger and heavier, Mr. Cline says, reflecting a consumer demand for a different type of bird which has been increasing since last Christmas.

The shift is a return to the turkey in greatest demand some time ago, the extension man says, and may be an indication of better economic conditions. In recent years the smaller birds have brought the best prices. Demands from restaurants and cabarets for larger breast meat has been an important factor in the change in consumer requirements.

A premium of one or more cents a pound is now being paid for the heavier turkeys, while for the last two or three years the price was that amount under the sum paid for lighter birds.

This condition always shows a decidedly healthy tone of the market, and if it prevails through the coming marketing season, as indications point, there will be a distinct advantage to the turkey producer.

Varieties of R. I. Reds

Formerly, there were three varieties of Rhode Island Red fowls—the rose comb, the single comb, and the pea comb varieties. Those who developed the rose-comb variety clung tenaciously to breed and developed a fowl of true type having the color described for the breed and a comb like that of the Wyandotte. The quality attained in the rose-comb variety attracted the attention of those partial to low-set combs; the result was that the pea-comb variety gained no further recognition. Fanciers adopted either the single-comb or the rose-comb variety.

Types of Geese

In a choice of geese, most prefer one of the heavy breeds, such as the Toulouse, Embden, or African. Standard weights for the noble Toulouse, largest of all, are: Adult gander, 26 pounds; adult goose, 20; young gander, 20; young goose, 16 pounds. Other standard breeds, according to an authority in the Wisconsin Agriculturist, are the Chinese, Canadian and Egyptian, none of them so popular as the big gray Toulouse.

Hot Weather, Smaller Eggs

The old hens need care as well as the young stock. When the temperatures go up the egg size usually goes down. Therefore, in order to keep the egg size as good as you can you should see to it that the laying house is comfortable. Be sure it is clean, that there is plenty of ventilation. Open the ventilators so the hot air which rises can be taken out of the house. Provide shade for the hens and plenty of fresh water, as most of the egg is water.

Heat Affects Eggs

A $15,000,000-a-year loss, due to the partial hatching of fertile eggs, is sustained by poultry raisers in this country. The rooster makes the eggs fertile. The fertile eggs develop a blood ring. Moral: Retire the rooster. He does not help the hens to lay. He merely fertilizes the germ of the egg. Summer heat has the same effect on fertile eggs as a setting hen or an incubator. Gather the eggs twice a day and get them to a cool place so the heat won't get in its work.

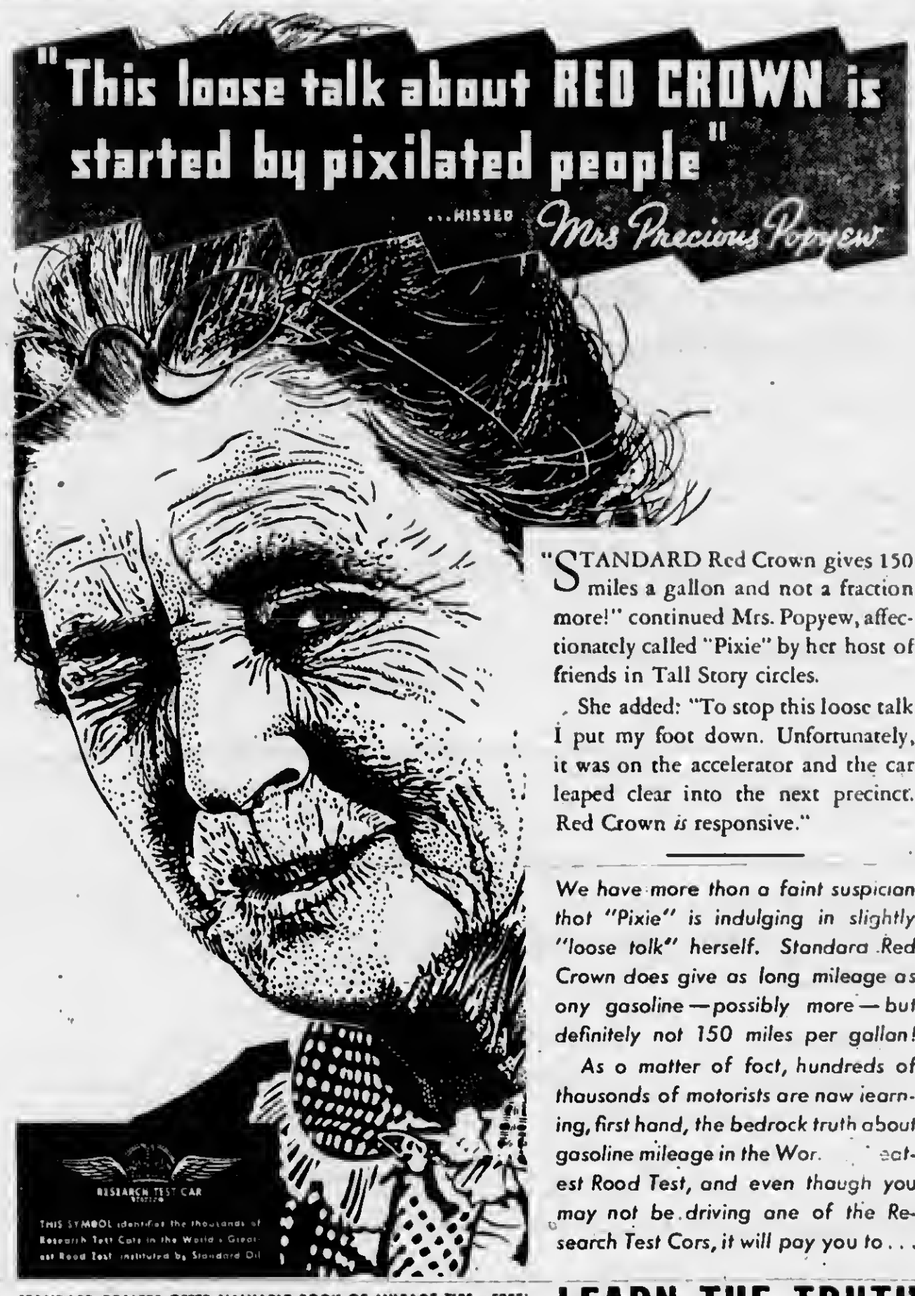
"This loose talk about RED CROWN is started by pixilated people"

...HISSED Mrs Precious Popyew



"STANDARD Red Crown gives 150 miles a gallon and not a fraction more!" continued Mrs. Popyew, affectionately called "Pixie" by her host of friends in Tall Story circles.

She added: "To stop this loose talk I put my foot down. Unfortunately, it was on the accelerator and the car leaped clear into the next precinct. Red Crown is responsive."

We have more than a faint suspicion that "Pixie" is indulging in slightly "loose talk" herself. Standard Red Crown does give as long mileage as any gasoline—possibly more—but definitely not 150 miles per gallon!

As a matter of fact, hundreds of thousands of motorists are now learning, first hand, the bedrock truth about gasoline mileage in the World's Greatest Road Test, and even though you may not be driving one of the Research Test Cars, it will pay you to . . .

The daily program provides for class work in religious education in the forenoon, recreation in the afternoon and preaching in the evening. Religious services will be held nll day on both Sundays, beginning at 9 o'clock.

Fine music, good teachers and preachers will be provided. The public is cordially invited to attend the services.

CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED AGAINST AMENDMENT

Claiming elimination of the three per cent state sales tax on food would deduct approximately $12,000,000 annually from the state general fund, Dr. A. J. Phillips, executive secretary, today launched a campaign through the 30,000 teacher members of the Michigan Education Association to defeat three of the four proposed state constitutional amendments in the November election.

Phillips said these two proposals "would virtually destroy the major sources of revenue not only for schools, but also for city, county, village and township forms of government."

Comes now another authority on interesting cities, a world-traveler, who declares there are only six cities worth writing about—New Orleans, San Francisco, London, Cairo, Shanghai and Washington, D. C.

He is W. S. Van Dyke, film director who has led motion picture companies to all corners of the earth and who has visited and lived in most of the interesting cities of the world. His latest picture, "San Francisco," opens August 16 at the Paiace Theatre with Clark Gable, Jeanette MacDonald and Spencer Tracy starred.

"San Francisco ranks among the most colorful cities," he said, "because of its exciting past. It was born on the mud flats in the days of the gold rush. It is today the only real cosmopolitan city in the west."

Your Baby Needs Exercise

The notmal baby exercises constantly when awake. While very young he is seen throwing his arms and legs aimlessly about; his little hands are opening and closing, stretching himself, and twisting his neck. He gets a good deal of exercise by crying; some crying every day does not harm the baby but is good for him, since it expands his lungs thoroughly and stimulates vigorous use of him arms and legs. As he grows older he is almost constantly in motion during his waking hours, thus giving his body the exercise it needs for growth. A baby should not be so clothed in shawls and blankets that he can not move every part of the body freely, for this wrapping hampers him in getting his natural exercise.

The baby should be allowed to exercise twice a day for ten minutes in a safe, warm place, such as on a large bed, with the mother watching him, or on a blanket in a play pen with almost all his clothes removed.

The mother can encourage the baby's exercise by laying him on his back with the left hand to the baby's chest, bending his knees gently with the right hand and pressing into the abdomen. This exercise may be repeated with the right and left leg, both being pressed into the abdomen. These exercises may be repeated three times with a moment's rest between. To develop chest expansion lay the baby on bis back, slipping the mother's left hand under his shoulder blades and then laying the right fingers lightly on the baby's abdomen. The mother then makes a slight upward lifting motion with the left hand and at the same time a slight downward pressure with the right fingers. This exercise of lifting and pressing may be done rhythmically, with the baby's respirations, five times.

When the baby has reached nine months of age it is desirable to have a play pen, either bought ready-made or built at home. This serves to aid him in creeping and standing alone while his feet are on a firm surface. Such a pen gives the baby room for exercise and keeps him from creeping into dangerous places, such as a heater or kitchen stove. The baby sbould not be taught to walk until he is ready for it and shows that he is. Too early walking may keep the natural bowing of a little baby's legs from straightening out or may actually increase it.

When weatber is suitable, the pen should be placed out of doors, and a canopy or protection of some sort placed over the pen during the hot months. Every mother who wishes her baby to have robust health should give him regular sun baths from early infancy until he is old enough to play in the sun himself.

Your District Health Department or your county nurse will gladly provide you with the literature on your baby's care.

MICHIGAN WEARS ALFALFA CROWN

M. S. C. Celebrates Strides Made In Growing King of Forage Crops

In celebration of Michigan's national leadership in the use of alfalfa for high quality feed and pasture, the Farmers' Day program held recently on the campus of Michigan State College brought back to thousands of farmers memories of the methods used to introduce the crop in projects begun more than 15 years ago.

The 1920 census credited the state with having 74,000 acres planted to alfalfa. O. E. Reed, chief of the federal bureau of dairy industry, Washington, D. C., then was head of the dairy department at the college and J. F. Cox was head of the farm crops department. In November, 1921, the first of a series of "barn" meetings was held in Allegan county. Dairymen were told how to test soils, how to prepare land and sow the seed and how to use the alfalfa crop.

The state then had about 750,000 head of dairy cattle and dairymen found the crop offered many advantages. The seedings increased yearly until it now is estimated at 1,040,000 acres. The dairy cow population now is about 934,000 animals.

One of the newest developments in the use of alfalfa is in silage. Test containers were opened up during the Farmers' Day program for inspection by many of the 5,500 visitors. C. F. Huffman, professor in dairy husbandry, explained why the alfalfa silage process was developed. In normal seasons alfalfa cannot always be cured as bigh quality hay. To preserve the feed, Huffman recommended the method of ensiling the cut crop. Sixty pounds of molasses to a ton of the wet or green feed is mixed with the cut alfalfa to aid fermentation.

License Plate Flood Again at High Tide

During the period of nine working days at the state capitol from July 27 to August 6, an average of 26,504 applications for 1936 motor vehicle license plates were received in the Department of State at Lansing from departmental branch offices. Records in the offices of Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, show that the total for the period was 238,532 applications.

The semi-annual high tide was caused by the expiration of the time limit on half-year permits or "stickers," August 1. By that time it was necessary for the owner of every motor vehicle operated on the streets and highways, to have paid the second and last installment of the cost of the 1936 plates.

Added to the rush from owners of cars already in operation, was the volume from purchasers of new cars. While plates are issued directly from branch offices throughout the state, total transactions cannot be determined until reports from branches are recorded in the Lansing offices.

Despite the seasonal rush and unavoidable peak in license plate work, mail direct to the Lansing offices on other matters, pertaining to motor vehicle registration and the like, is being answered within 48 hours of the time the inquiries are received.

* SUGGESTIONS SUNDAY DINNER By Aco Page *
* * * * * * * * * * *

Peaches, cantaloupes and pears are the outstanding fruits this week though apples, plums and grapes are plentiful and reasonable. Grapefruit is now coming to market in fair quantity.

Beef and young chickens are again good values. More quality lamb is available at slightly easier prices. Veal, fresh pork and smoked meats are high though smoked meats have a strong summer appeal regardless of price. Fish is both less plentiful and more expensive than last year.

Higher prices are being asked for dairy products, eggs, grain foods and canned vegetables as a direct result of heat aad drought.

OUT OF TOWN JOBS OPEN IN MICHIGAN

Experienced Workers Wanted in Four Communities, State Director Says

There are jobs for cabinet makers, molders, finishing machine and rolling machine operators in various parts of Michigan, if those qualified are willing to leave their present localities, Major Howard Starret, state re-employment director, said today.

Four offices of the National Reemployment Service, a part of the U. S. Department of Labor, are holding these orders. This employment service is organized to save manufacturers and business men time and money as well as to place Michigan unemployed in jobs, Major Starret said. The service is entirely free of charge.

The Muskegon office reports no qualified cabinet makers registered there. These are steady union jobs for experienced cabinet makers and assemblers on fine store equipment, carved stairways and panel work, he said.

At Grand Rapids, molders who can make small brass moldings by the squeezer process are needed. This is steady work for men between 25 and 45 years of age, the office reports.

A call for finishing machine operators comes from Cadillac where the jobs will last about six weeks, Major Starret said. Good mechanics who can operate a double screw machine finisher on 20 foot concrete paving are eligible.

The demand continues through the state for dig and tool makers and designers, die and tool machine operators, and metal pattern makers, according to Major Starret.

Major Starret pointed out that only Michigan residents qualified to hold these jobs should register at the nearest NRS office where additional information is obtainable. Regulations require that branch managers register residents in the counties under their supervision.

EXTEND CAMP SEASON FOR HAY-FEVER RELIEF

Several Larger State Parks to Be Open Until Mid-Fall

To accommodate visitors who will he seeking relief in Northern Michigan during the hay fever season, Walter J. Kingscott, superintendent of state parks, announced today that several of the larger parks will be kept open again this year until the end of hay fever season.

"We can do this with certain, strategic parks only since the cost of keeping all of the far northern state parks open until mid-fall would be prohibitive," Kingscott said.

"From our experience with this extra service last year, when it was tried out for the first time, we are convinced it is worthwhile and appreciated by many out-of-state visitors. The parks to be kept open will be announced later."

An unusual opportunity for city residents to renew their contact with daily farm life and for farm folks to learn more about the latest developments in mechanical farm equipment is afforded all visitors to the Great Lakes Exposition in Cleveland at the Firestone Exhibit.

A typical American farm, complete to the minutest detail with waving fields of grain in the distance, barn, house, implement shed, real live cows, horses, goats, turkeys, chickens, ducks, and collie dog has been transported into the very center of Cleveland's gigantic lake front show. Every piece of farm equipment including implements and vehicles of the most up-to-date design for efficiency and economy in farm operations are equipped with Firestone Ground Grip Farm Tires. It is a convincing demonstration of how Harvey S. Firestone has put the farm on rubber. Many of the vehicles are from Mr. Firestone's own farm in Columbiana, Ohio, where he conceived the idea and personally aided in developing the Ground Grip Tire for economy in modern farm operations.

The Firestone Exposition farm is run by a real farmer who has been operating a farm most of his life near Amherst, Ohio. He is on hand to see that the cows are milked, the chickens fed and the eggs gathered.

Hundreds of thousands have visited this exhibit and pronounced it the most interesting and attractive display at the great Cleveland fair. Located as it is at the end of the mall where a cooling breeze is always evident the Firestone Exhibit is rapidly becoming known as the cool spot on the Exposition grounds. The famed Firestone Singing Color Fountain where six noisy fountain sprays raise majestically from a [illegible] feet long and 20 feet wide are an ever popular attraction. The pool is located in the center of a large parkway which is surrounded by flowers and a delightful expanse of lawn. Benches border the parkway where hundreds of weary feet may be rested in this delightful atmosphere while soft lights change the fountain spray in gorgeous harmony with the tonal variations of sweet music.

For those who are seeking entertainment, the Firestone marionette show, motion pictures of the Indianapolis 500-mile Race and Ab Jenkins' amazing run of 3,000 miles in less than 24 hours on the Utah Salt Beds provide both laughter and plenty of thrills. There is also an interesting motion picture showing the economical method of changing farm vehicles over to rubber equipment which has been developed by Firestone, as well as a visual demonstration of the many advantages of Firestone Ground Grip Tires.

By JOHN H. O'BRIEN

Unless one is a diligent student of the many alphabetical departments set up by the New Deal administration in the past three years the exact duties of each department must remain pretty much a mystery. There has been a great deal of ridicule of them and everyone can sympathize with a Mr. George E. Marlin, of Maxville, Arkansas, who became so confused last week that he wound up owning a second-hand merry-go-round.

Marlin applied for aid to the resettlement administration and was given a pair of mules to be paid for by the administration. The mules cost $200 and by mistake the check in payment for them was sent to Marlin.

When he received the check Marlin decided that it must be the first payment under the Townsend Plan that he had heard so much about. He remembered that the Plan provided that he must spend the whole $200 within 30 days.

The resettlement administration supervisor discovered the error but before he could get to Marlin he had spent $85 for a battered old portable merry-go-round. Marlin promised that if allowed to keep his purchase he would pay the government back the $200.

Politics are booming in Arkansas right now as Marlin takes his merry-go-round to all the rallies, picnics, and barbecues and does very well. Now he wants to buy another merry-go-round and wants to get rid of the mules. He is on his way to independence, but he still can't figure out how it all happened.

The recent statement made by Democratic National Committeeman Edward C. Shields that a vote for Governor Landon would be wasted because the Senate would be Democratic and that Landon wouldn't be able to get anything done indicates an unfortunate viewpoint of the American system of government.

Despite the statement of Mr. Shields, the majority of the citizens of the United States still regard the United States Senate as more than a collection of party hacks. A senator who "goes down the line" may be a very valuable representative of his party, and even this is doubtful, but he is certainly not constructive use to the United States. To vote for a harmful piece of legislation or against a desirable law for party purposes can be regarded as a serious form of treachery.

That legislative bodies politically opposed to the executive do hamper his program is well known, but it is difficult to visualize the United States Senate ready to thwart the will of the people of the nation by making the election of their chosen executive a waste of time.

* * *

The job that the Republicans must do to carry Michigan for Governor Landon does not appear quite so difficult when the figures of the elections of 1932 and 1934 are reviewed. This is a campaign year and the air is filled with predictions ranging all the way from "Forty-eight states for Roosevelt" to "Forty-eight states for Landon." It is a lot safer to discuss past elections; you are surer of being right and you get in fewer arguments.

The record shows that Roosevelt carried Michigan by 65,903 votes in 1932. Assuming that the total vote this November will be the same as it was in 1932, which of course is not true, the Republicans would have to get the same vote they received in 1932 plus fifty-one per cent of the Roosevelt majority. In other words, if the Republicans could get back just 33,610 votes than went to Roosevelt they would carry the state for Landon.

In 1934 Frank D. Fitzgerald received 82,699 more votes for governor than did Arthur J. Lacy, the Democratic candidate. The Republicans, in other words, within two years had got back enough of their lost votes to elect a governor by a larger majority than was the majority of Roosevelt—and there were about 400,000 less votes cast in 1934 than in 1932.

Using the gubernatorial vote figures along with the presidential vote is not very satisfactory, but they happen to be the only figures available by which this November's election may be judged. The majority of the citizens of Michigan have always been Republican. Like the rest of the nation they joined in the anti-Hoover movement and the state went Democratic. If they have no such resentment for Governor Landon they will return to their native party—but there are the figures. Make your own prediction.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Soul" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 16.

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Lam. 3: 24, 25): "The Lord is my portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in him. The Lord is good unto them that wait for him, to the soul that seeketh him."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 467): "Science reveals Spirit, Soul, as not in body, and God as not in man but as reflected by man."

HEN INTELLIGENCE CUTS FEED LABOR

Experiments Prove Laying Hens Able to Count Calories and Proteins

Proof that laying pullets can pick and choose from individual hoppers of grain and laying mash with sufficient sagacity to obtain enough protein in their diet to maintain good production and body weight is found in experiments conducted and summarized by J. A. Davidson, assistant professor in poultry husbandry at Michigan State College.

"Common practice for many years has been to assume that the birds are incapable of taking care of their own requirements," he explains. "Hopper feeding in an experiment with four lots of pullets has shown in this recent experiment at the college that pullets if given an opportunity will balance their crude protein intake under conditions of this trial to take care of their needs."

The hopper feeding consisted of setting before the chickens continuous supplies of corn, of oats and of a 20 per cent crude protein mash, permitting the pullets to make their own choice as they picked out their feed.

This method eliminates irregularities in time of feeding and amount fed, says Professor Davidson. The continuous hopper system offers a solution to losses in birds or production caused by a change of individuals doing the feeding as often happens on many farms.

Artificial lights to provide a 13 to 14 hour working day for the pens probably are necessary for the successful use of this method of feeding. The mortality was similar to other years under usual methods of feeding. Production, without any culling except of hopelessly sick birds, ranged from 44.3 to 47.4 per cent for 11 months for White Leghorns, and from 46.5 to 49.6 per cent for pens of Rhode Island Reds. For the 11 months, the total feed per bird ranged from 79.9 pounds to 93.45 pounds.

MORE CARS ARE USING MACKINAC FERRY BOATS

Ten Thousand More Cars Carried In July Than Same Month Year Ago

Proof that Michigan is enjoying a record tourist and resort season is offered by statistics compiled by the State Highway Department.

Heads of tourist associations in the state predicted an unequalled influx to the summer playgrounds of Michigan, and figures announced by Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner show a substantial increase in automobile traffic.

Van Wagoner said 45,233 motor vehicles used the Mackinac ferries in July, compared with 35,404 for the same month last year. The total traffic at the Straits this year through August 2 was shown as 78,533 vehicles against 63,366 a year ago.

New Deal's Blundering Policies Keep Millions Idle, Says Knox

Chicago.—The vague, unsuccessful economic experiments known as the New Deal were charged with "delaying recovery" and "with responsibility for the ten million still unemployed" by Colonel Frank Knox in his address accepting the Republican nomination for vice-president. Colonel Knox spoke before a wildly enthusiastic crowd which filled to overflowing the huge Chicago stadium.

Senntor Frederick Steiwer of Oregon gave the official address of notification. In his opening remarks, Colonel Knox pointed out that Senator Steiwer had struck the keynote of the campaign with "his clear call to all citizens to join in a crusade for sound government in America." After accepting this call to service, the vice-presidential nominee referred briefly to the fact "he began to work as a small boy in a small town in Michigan."

He epitomized his war service when he said: "Long years ago I learned as a buck private the lessons of duty and loyalty."

"In this spirit of service, I accept the call of my party. I pledge myself to the principles of sound and honest government. I pledge my personal loyalty to that great governor of a prairie state, the next President of the United States, the Honorable Alf Landon."

Penple to Decide

Colonel Knox then pointed out that in the coming election it will be necessary for the people to decide, whether the "administration in office has met its responsibilities honestly and fairly and wisely."

"From the day that it took office," Colonel Knox said, "it embarked on a series of hysterical experiments on the economic life of a burdened people. At a time when universal cooperation was a necessity, it initiated a campaign of abuse and vilification of business men. At a time when the credit of the country should have been strengthened it inaugurated a policy of credit adulteration and currency experiment that demoralized foreign trade and frightened domestic finance. It set up a system of regimentation of industry that reduced production and prevented reemployment. By coercion of Congress it forced the passage of reform measures so recklessly drawn that they hamstrung the revival of enterprise and paralyzed the renewal of investment. It installed a regimentation of agriculture that destroyed food and reduced foreign markets and increased the cost of living and multiplied the expense of relief.

"At a time when private industry was struggling desperately fnr a new start it set up governmental enterprise to eompete with private business. At a time when the burden of taxation was already hard to bear it embarked on a policy of squandering public funds and increasing the weight of taxes. At a time when united effort and mutual good will would have completed recovery it promoted sectional hatred and class strife. At a time when returning business confidence was ending depression it began a campaign to terrorize business and subjugate the banks. At a time when confidence in the character of government was vital, it established a spoils system. At a time when the economic system was worn and emaciated it performed major surgical operatinns upon the industrial body to see what was inside. It adopted an economic philosophy of scarcity and forced it upon a hungry and distressed people."

Even though the New Deal "failed in its job," Colonel Knox declared that recovery could not be permanently blocked by "governmental error," but only "retarded and discouraged."

Delays Recovery.

Without mincing words and straight from the shoulder came his:

"I charge the present administration with delaying recovery, in the United States and in the world. I charge the present administration with responsibility for the ten million still unemployed."

The nominee next turned his attention to the broad view of the New Deal, which he described as "This policy of government by guess, officially explained by President Roosevelt as founded on a philosophy of try-anything-once. It began with a proposal for a belt of trees in a territory that Nature had decided should not have trees. It is ending with the use of public funds to conduct classes in tap-dancing."

Colonel Knox pointed out the major New Deal agencies, the AAA, the PWA, the CWA, the WPA and devaluation of the dollar were old in histnry before America was discovered and that they had failed in Babylon, Rome and England centuries ago.

"In reviewing the principles of the Republican party, the nominee asserted that "It disapproves a government of men instead of a government of law. It prefers a government [illegible] by constitutions to a government guided only by caprice."

A minute later, Colonel Knox gave a pledge to the people wtth the statement:

"Whatever concrete measures the Republican Party has in mind will be presented to the voters before election, not after. And whatever measures the Republican administration may urge upon Congress, not one will flout the Constitution of the United States. Nnt one will violate the obligation of contracts. Not one will break a promise."

Earlier in his address, the candidate had referred to the fact that the New Deal plans and experiments were not contained in the 1936 Democratic platform.

Amateur Experimenters.

"For more than three years the economic life of the country has been at the mercy of a crew of amateur experimenters, hacking at the vitals of American industry, agriculture "commerce and finance."

"It is now a race between exhaustion of Federal credit and the coming of natural recovery. It is a race between inflation and the revival of normal business activity."

Highlights taken from the acceptance speech of Colonel Frank Knox, Republican candidate for vice president, at Chicago Stadium, July 30, 1936:

I charge the present administration with delaying recovery in the United States and the world.

• • •

The coercive control of bank credit leads unavoidably to control of investment and that leads to the end of competitive industry and free enterprise.

• • •

All the major New Deal experimenta have ended in failure and economic loss.

• • •

Next November you will choose the American way.

• • •

America is too young, too vigorous, to be deceived by false promises of an easy way.

• • •

The people know that with election of a new administration next November the dammed up forces of recovery will hurst forth in a magnificent prosperity.

• • •

With the American system preserved, we shall . . . have a free people, living in plenty and security, without exploitation of destitution.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

August 10, 1936

The Common Council of the City of Charlevoix met on the above date with Mayor Bergeon presiding.

Aldermen present: Campbell, Carey, Cartier, Hallett, Kibbe and Ranger.

Minutes of previous meeting were read and approved.

The matter of raincoats was referred to committee on Police, Fire and License.

Be It Resolved, by the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix, Michigan, that whereas the Traverse City Iron Works has fully complied with the purchase order, contract, plans and specifications required on Division E of the Charlevoix Sewage Disposal System, PWA Project No. 2825, and the Supervising Engineer having approved of the same.

That, Therefore, the City of Charlevoix hereby accepts said material and herewith authorizes the Engineers supervising said project on behalf of the City to forward this resolution as a certificate of acceptance and occupancy to the Traverse City Iron Works in accordance with PWA regulations.

Resolution adopted by the following Yea and Nay vote: Yeas: Aldermen Campbell, Carey, Cartier, Hallett, Kibbe and Ranger. Nays: None.

KAMP KAIRPHREE NEWS
By Ann Oakman
Horseback Riding Overnight

Monday, August 3, though it looks like rain, we go on with our preparations for the horseback overnight, and promptly at 8 we lead our rather unwilling mounts from the riding stables at Camp Charlevoix, and start out for Maple Grove. In the course of events during the evening and night, there is a moonlight ride, and did that moon affect the horses, to say nothing of our little dancing counsellor. How about it! Then there was always the bonfire and one of the girls who was just a little bit timid about going into the woods during her watch to count the horses conceived the brilliant idea of shining the flashlight on the horses' eyes and resorted to the good old method of one plus one equals one! Some genius?

Tuesday, "Overnighter — We" return to camp whole, what we mean is, in one piece, with a brand new song, no doubt brought on by the "night before." Have you ever heard "Belgian horses run around——?" Ingenuity in our midst! For some N. G. reason, we all feel sort of lazy today. Funny thing! For evening assembly, some Dramatists (?) put on "Oh, Love in a Cottage," or "The Innocence of Bill Murphy's Daughter," and seeing is believing! Incidentally, Betty Fariss was the daughter and heroine, while the hero was Ruth Gram and the big bad villain was Lucile Nolan.

Wednesday morning the last River trip starts out, headed by Miss "Buffy" White and general assistant, Carl Oakman. During our absence, Margery Gould arrived for a few days' visit. We also hear that the remaining Rangers have a house-warming, and during the warming up they play "pinchy winchy." If you have never played "pinchy winchy," well—your education has been sadly neglected, though it is an economy on soap! It seems that after everyone was pretty well warmed up, two bandits, Pistol Pete and Shot-gun Joe (the latter, better known, as the evening progressed, as Cactus seeing as he, pardon, she demanded cactus juice in place of milk) arrived on the scene to cool them off. It was later discovered that these bravadoes of the west turned out to be our head counsellor, Miss Helen Caffyn and Miss Mary Edna Hert. I guess they really had them fooled!

Thursday, with every one coming in at different times in the a. m., the schedule was altered slightly, and were we royally welcomed! One visitor thought he was in the wrong place when he was greeted with a sign, "Welcome, Visiting Firemen." No wonder we are still cooling off from the shock. Today we wish Penny Shaw many happy returns. We have a benn hole supper at Gilead Grove, and those beans really hit the spot. For evening assembly the campers have a rousing council meet and voice our views on this, that and the other.

Friday, we celebrate another birthday, namely for Lucile Nolan. In the afternoon, Priscilla Ehlers and Ann Oakman go into town for their afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Gram visit with guests, Mr. and Mrs. Davis. For assembly we have our movies, "First Aid," "The Grou-e," and "Fishing." Then we are treated (?) with movies of ourselves that Mr. Swain has taken through the camp season. It is announced that the honor girls, Betty Fariss and Jean Manwaring, are to go on a three day canoe trip down the AuSable River with Mr. Swain, Miss Lucy Brauns, and Mr. and Mrs. Behlmer.

Saturday, we sing happy birthday to Carl. In the morning the general hair washing takes place before the Camp Charlevoix Carnival and promptly at three we arrive at the Carnival. Among some of the various booths (various to put it mildly) there seemed to be some favorites, such as the weight guessing and dice-matching ones. Oh yes, and the horse and buggy rated well, too. After supper, starting near eight, were the skits and singing. The chorus and quintet were fine, to say nothing of the solo! And the skits were thoroughly amusing. Ten o'clock found us rolling merrily home with something to talk about for the next few days.

Mrs. Ehlers arrives to stay over night with us. Chapel in the afternoon, and Kchatter comes out in the evening. After that we all go out on the lake in canoes and sing goodnight. Oh yes, perhaps some of you noticed that it literally hailed buckets full the better part of the afternoon.

STATE SALES TAX COLLECTIONS HIT RECORD

Collections of the state three per cent sales tax for the fiscal year which ended June 30 amounted to nearly $8,000,000 more than for the previous 12 months, it has been revealed.

Total receipts for the year up to July 31, 1936, including the tax levied during June, the last month of the fiscal year, totalled $46,743,894. This is a jump of $7,954,523 over the total of $38,789,371 for the previous fiscal year. July collections of the June tax amounted to $4,600,680 as against $4,551,233 for June collections of the May tax.

He deserves to be a small fry if he pays attention to a homely daughter of a school board member so he can teach school there next term

Japanese Method Winning Favor in U. S.

Chick buyers in a year or two may order their one-day old chicks by sex when they purchase from commercial hatcherymen. A method of determining sex in chicks, developed to a science in Japan, is being widely introduced into the United States.

Federal Department of Agriculture experts are now teaching members of poultry departments of state universities and colleges the methods employed in Japan. Members of the poultry department at Cornell have already had such instruction and have tried it out in a practical way with much success on New York farms.

Male chicks may be separated from the females with 80 to 90 per cent accuracy by those trained in the Japanese method. In the future, farmers may buy only half the usual number of chicks to raise pullets for their laying flocks by purchasing only the females. This will help to reduce feed and equipment costs. The males may be sold to those who specialize in production for the broiler market.

The technique of determining sex in chicks may be learned in two days to a week, but a thousand chicks at least should be studied to obtain skill and speed.

Chick Piling Means Big Loss to the Poultryman

The piling of chicks frequently causes heavy losses. This habit is common with chicks ranging in age from two to four months, but is most disastrous with chicks just at the time heat is discontinued, says the Missouri Farmer. To avoid these losses often taxes the ingenuity of the poultryman. The danger ceases as soon as the chicks take to the roosts. To encourage early roosting, roosts should be installed at least by the time the chicks are six weeks old. These should be placed in the rear of the house only a few inches above the floor.

The losses from piling are due to the chicks on the bottom of the pile smothering or "sweating" which saps their vitality. Some poultrymen avoid piling by installing wire frames. For instance, a frame two feet wide running the entire length of the north side of the house frequently solves the problem. This frame, covered with wire netting, is sloped up so that the back edge is about ten inches above the floor. As the chicks crowd toward the corners they are elevated off the floor. This discourages piling, and if the frames are provided with a couple of 2½-inch strips, they will serve as roosts.

Ration for Growing Flock

A practical ration for the growing flock of youngsters must be of a kind to supply materials for growths, bone structure and for reproduction. Such a ration contains plenty of digestible fats and carbohydrates, proteins of the right quality, enough minerals, some "ballast" or indigestible material and a supply of the highly important vitamins. Some of the necessary elements in such a ration are: yellow corn, wheat middlings, raw bone (calcium phosphate) grit (calcium carbonate) milk and salt (only a small quantity).—Wisconsin Agriculturist.

Separating Chicks

When cockerels should be separated from pullets in the flock of baby chicks depends upon the facilities available, but as a general rule the birds should be separated as soon as the sex is determined. The new quarters, however, should be well heated and the cockerels fully feathered before they are moved. Cockerels make a much more rapid growth than pullets and as a result, if the birds are not separated, the hopper and floor space will be crowded and make the chicks more susceptible to disease and cannibalism.

Colored Minorcas

Originally, according to some early writers, Minorcas were seen in a variety of colors and in recent times the cuckoo or barred and blue variaties have been developed. Blue Minorcas are said to have been produced by crossing the black hens with heavy Andalusian roosters. There is no mention in poultry books of buff Minorcas or any others except as above mentioned, the tendency being to keep close to the recognized types, which appear to meet all demands.

Producing Quality Eggs

Eggs are such a highly perishable food product that they should be sold two or three times each week to a dealer who is equipped to handle such products. The efforts of producers to retain the original quality of eggs will be useless unless they market their products to some one who is equally interested in establishing an outlet for high quality eggs. Dealers who appreciate quality eggs are interested in having their eggs reach consumers in the best possible condition.

DRIVE UNDER WAY FOR BACK TAXES

OVER SIXTEEN MILLION OUTSTANDING IN STATE

Second Payments Under Ten-Year Plan Now Due—Total Expected to Set New Record

With the campaign on in every county in Michigan to collect the second installment of taxes due under the ten-year plan, State Treasurer Theodore I. Fry predicted today that the payments will aggregate $16,000,000.

A sizable army of taxpayers already has begun marching on the various county treasurers, demanding a "paid" stamp on their bills. Early collection reports all have been good.

"On the basis of our experience a year ago, when the ten-year plan was inaugurated, I have no hesitancy about saying that this year's drive will be a big success," Trensurer Fry said. "I look for collections to top last year's total of $15,000,000 and to reach possibly $16,000,000.

"Business conditions are better generally, some individuals have kept their bonus money to pay the tax installment, and an investment in real estate is well worth protecting at this time. I am sure that practically everybody who paid his first installment on back taxes will realize the necessity for keeping up the payments.

"One of the purposes of the campaign is to acquaint those who failed to pay the first installment with the fact that they may still do so, with only a slight extra charge. A third group, who are now financially able to do so, will pay the whole thing up, in this way saving large amounts of interest and clearing the title to their property."

The rush of the public to pay in advance of the September 1 deadline recalls last year's jams at the treasurers' offices. All indications are that again this eleventh-hour visitors will have to wait in line and take their turn. Officials point out that those who pay now, not only gain the comfort of knowing that their property is protected, but save themselves this trouble of waiting.

The onslaught of the taxpayers gives visible proof of a thriving public realization that the State of Michigan is offering a bargain. Under the plan, taxes for 1932 and prior years—for state, counties, villages, townships, and all cities except Detroit, which has its own seven-year plan—are lumped and then divided into ten annual payments. All the heavy interest on these old taxes has been cancelled. The next interest amounts to only four per cent per year on each installment, figured from September 1, 1935, when the plan went into effect.

Those who are just starting in and making the two payments, put themselves on an equal footing with the rest, getting another eight years to meet the balance owing.

The ten-year plan, embodied in the Moore-Holbeck Act, was the happy solution of an extremely serious tax problem. Many, many millions of dollars in taxes lay uncollected, and apparently uncollectible, on tax rolls. Accumulated for years, the taxes in their net amount were so huge that the property owners, despairing of ever paying the total, refused to pay any one year's delinquent tax. Interest and penalty on the older unpaid taxes ran as high as 50 and 60 per cent of the original amount, a fact which further discouraged payment.

Governmental units needed the money which these taxes represented. A tax title sale would have raised funds, but thousands of families would have lost their homes and life savings. Pledging the delinquencies for a good-sized loan was also considered and rejected, because paying back the interest and principal on the loan would just have added that much more of a burden on the already-overburdened property owner.

Then the part-payment idea was evolved.

The state went right to its own property owners for assistance, and made the paying of taxes popular. Of the $15,000,000 collected last year, about ten per cent went to the state treasury, while the other ninety per cent went into local treasuries.

The $15,000,000 was actual cash. Through payment of it, $55,000,000 in taxes was "revived" and shifted from dead to active rolls, with collection of the whole amount merely a matter of time.

So successful has been Michigan's new method of collecting delinquent taxes that it has commanded nation-wide interest.

All county treasurers have the machinery of their offices geared to provide a maximum of service, knowing that the tide of taxpayers will be a rising one right up to the last minute.

OPEN TENNIS TOURNEY, POSTPONED, ON TODAY

Small But Select Field Start In 12th Annual Charlevoix Championships

The 12th annual Charlevoix open tennis championships, originally scheduled to open Monday afternoon, but set ahead because of small entry, will sturt at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Since postponement, interest has increased in the event, with the result a fairly good field will compete when the tournament opens. Personal contacts by Gordon Todd, who is directing the tournament, and officers of the tennis club, have brought numerous participants and it is expected well over 30 players will take part.

Of last year's champions, only Bill House, 1935 winner in the boys' division, is an entry. Outstanding in the men's singles field are Arthur Kaiser, for two years holder of the Chicago veterans' title, and Harold Kaplan, Detroit, one-time Riviera junior champion. Kaiser will pair with Dr. George Buttrick, Sequanota summer resident, in the doubles, and Kaplan with Sam Tack, unother Detroiter.

The Belvedere Club and Camp Charlevoix are well represented in all divisions of play. It is expected the tournament will be concluded Saturday afternoon. The matches will be played on the municipal school courts.

CO. BOARD TIGHTENS RELIEF REQUIREMENTS

Make Public Policy Following Recent Meeting County Committee

At a meeting of the Charlevoix County Relief Commission, held August 4, the matter of what should constitute eligibility for relief was discussed, with special reference to able bodied men. The commission felt that every person had a responsibility to the taxpayers of the community, and should make every effort to get along before asking for aid from public funds. If an honest attempt has been made, and an emergency exists, relief should be given as a matter of course. However, in cases where no real attempt has been made to get along, relief should be denied, or at most be very small, and then only when children are involved.

The foregoing outlines the general policy which will he followed hy the Charlevoix relief office. It is believed that this policy should be made public at this time.

(Signed) HAROLD F. LAMB,
Administrator,
Charlevoix County Emergeney Relief Administration.

NEW DEAL BLUNDERING KEEPS MILLIONS IDLE

"It (the New Deal) means Federal cuntrol over local business, over local bank credit, over local wages, over local conditions of work. It leads to Federal regimentation of the labor, the business, and the home of every American citizen. It leads to price-fixing and production control by Federal authority. It leads inevitably to the extinction of the small business man, to the end of free enterprise in America."

Coercive Control.

Colonel Knox specifically referred to the New Deal monetary policy with the declaration that "coercive control of bank credit leads unavoidably to control of investment and that leads to the end of competitive industry and free enterprise." Mentioning Mr. Roosevelt by name, the nominee asserted "no one man can successfully guide the course of industry for a great nation."

After stating his belief that the American people do not desire "to reorganize the American economic system by experiment," Colonel Knox said:

"The people want recovery, not rhetoric. They want economy, not waste. They want work, not relief. They want cooperation among the partners in production, not industrial strife. They want order in economic life, not an occasional breathing spell. They want dignity in government, not a merry-go-round."

In his final statements, Colonel Knox turned to what the people can expect from the Republican party and asserted that the Republican platform appeals to the "whole people", to the "sincere Democrats" and to the "millions of thrifty and hard-working people". He continued:

"It (The Republican party) does promise a fair and honest government. It does promise that this government will be as economical and efficient as it can be made. It does promise to make every effort to install sensible and practical measures to help in the solution of the problems of trade and industry and agriculture, the problems of poverty and insecurity."

CHARLEVOIX COURIER

VOLUME 41. NUMBER 34. EIGHT PAGES THE CHARLEVOIX COURIER, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 19, 1936 PRICE $2.00 PER YEAR

FINANCIAL STATEMENT CORRECTED

REFUTES CHARGES STATE OPERATED IN THE "RED"

Governor Fitzgerald's Contention State's Profit Last Year Was $5,594,044 Is Upheld

A statement substantiating Governor Fitzgerald's contention that the state was operated during the last fiscal year at a profit of $5,594,044 was submitted to him Friday by the heads of three of the state's finance departments.

The report also backed up the assertion of State Treasurer Theodore I. Fry that the state was $442,000 poorer last July 1 than it was the year before.

The conflict in figures was explained as being caused by vouchers in transit over the year end period and other bookkeeping details.

The report was signed by Fry, George R. Thompson, budget director, and W. G. Stevenson, chief accountant, and was compiled on order of the governor after he took violent exception to Fry's claim of a deficit.

"The figures by the state treasurer and the accounting division are each correct from the viewpoint of the two sources and can be reconciled," the joint statement said. "The figures from both sources exclude temporary deposits by various departments in the state treasury that have not been revenued by the departments to specific funds.

"The state treasurer's figures for the last fiscal year show that the cash balance of the state was less at the end of the year by $432,036 (00) and that the state's outgo of money exceeded the income of money by this amount. This means that the state treasurer cashed more warrants than there was money revenued to him during the year. The treasurer's figures are correct and his method of accounting is as prescribed by law, but they do not give the cash condition of the stute unless outstanding warrants, issued by the auditor general, are taken into consideration.

"The figures from the accounting division truly reflect the financial condition of the state; the net cash on hand at the beginning and at the end of the year. The total net revenues were $192,823,044 and the total net expenditures were $187,229,000, or revenues exceeded expenditures by $5,594,044. With the outstanding warrants considered as a charge against the cash balance of the state, the net cash was $5,594,044 greater on June 30, 1936, than it was the year before."

Governor Fitzgerald expressed gratification that "a correct statement of the state's finances has been prepared."

"The people of Michigan need no longer be misled by confusing and conflicting statements due to different bookkeeping systems," the governor said. "Examinatiop has shown that the different sets of figures can be and are reconciled."

AMATEUR ENTERTAINER SUNDAY AT ARGONNE

Unusual Talent Displayed by Group On Impromptu Program

Patrons at The Argonne, Charlevoix's most popular entertainment place were given an unheralded and unusual treat Sunday evening.

Little Dorothy Meyer, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Meyer, of High Lake, Ill., favored with several vocal selections, showing unusual ability for a child. Pearl Holzel, 13, was given deserved recognition following several tap dance numbers, and a girls' trio, composed of Esther Lage, Kay Stutzman and Geraldine Lanning, favored with a couple selections.

Entertainment provided by the amateur guest artists was greatly appreciated by The Argonne patrons and management.

MAN HUNGRY, THROWS BRICK THRU WINDOW, GOT 90 DAYS IN JAIL

He was arrested last Wednesday after throwing a brick through a window at the L. P. Adams & Son store. His only excuse for the deed was that he hadn't had a meal for three days and was desperate. Even his presence was not known until the missile crashed through the glass.

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN SENDS OUT NURSES

Bertha Cooper Assigned to Charlevoix County Health Campaign

Twenty-five public health nurses, including the first graduating class of the special training course at the University of Michigan, were sent out to 32 counties this week by the Michigan Department of Health to carry on the intensive maternal and child health program sponsored by the department under the provisions of the Social Security Act.

The program marks the most intensive effort ever made by the state to bring an educational nursing service to expectant mothers and preschool children. Goal of the department is a reduction of the death rates of mothers in childbirth and of infant death rates. Last year, death claimed 4,170 infants under one year, nnd 438 mothers died in childbirth. Dr. Lillian R. Smith, director of the Bureau of Child Hygiene nnd Public Health Nursing, is directing the project in Michigan.

Bertha Cooper bas been assigned to Charlevoix county.

NEW CHAMPIONS IN OPEN TENNIS MEET

ARTHUR R. KAISER, CHICAGO, WON MEN'S TITLE

Betty Mower, Detroit, Women's Champ; Bud Reynolds, Atlanta, Ga., Annexed Junior Crown

New champions were crowned in all divisions of the 12th annual Charlevoix open tennis tournament conducted last week by the Charlevoix Tennis Club.

While the entry was the smallest in the history of the event, 38 to be exact, the quality of play out-shone that of many previous years.

Arthur R. Kaiser, for two years winner of the Chicago veterans' title, succeeds Robert Bryan, of St. Louis, Mo., as the men's singles champion. In the finals Friday afternoon, he defeated Harold Kaplan, Detroit, former Riviera junior champion, by scores of 6-3, 6-0. The Chicago veteran far out-classed his younger opponent.

Kaiser was also winner in men's doubles, pairing with Dr. George Buttrick, of New York City, well known Sequanota summer resident, to defeat the Detroit team of Kaplan and Sam Tack.

Miss Betty Mower, of Detroit, Ironton summer resident, won the women's singles title. In the finals Saturday she defeated Ellen Steinberg, of Cincinnati, O., by scores of 7-5, 6-2, in a match closely contested in the first set.

Bud Reynolds, of Atlanta, Ga., succeeds Carl Anderson, of Detroit, as junior champion. In one of the feature matches of the tournament, Reynolds took a straight set victory from Gil Hayne, Evansville, Ind., by score of 6-4, 6-3.

Ken Gann, of Midland, is the new boys' champion, winning the title last year gained by Billy House. Gann defeated Dick Allen, of St. Louis, Mo., 6-3, 6-4, in the finals Saturday afternoon.

A. L. Livingston, member of the Charlevoix Tennis Club, presented trophies to the winners following the close of play.

ANNUAL INN CABARET FINEST EVER GIVEN

Forced Indoors Friday Evening, But Repeated at Patio Sunday Night

While weather prevented holding the annual Inn cabaret program out-of-doors last Friday evening, this condition failed to detract from the quality of the numbers.

Rain forced the program indoors Friday evening and several numbers were given for the benefit of a capacity crowd gathered for the event. The entire program was given Sunday evening at The Inn patio before a large and enthusiastic gathering.

The entertainment features arranged by Abner Rosenzweig, director, were the most and finest ever presented at this annual entertainment event. Each number was loudly and deservedly applauded.

M'CLURE-GRATTON WEDDING A PRETTY EVENT HERE ON WEDNESDAY

At a lovely ceremony at the Congregational church on Wednesday, August 19, Miss Phyllis Gratton, of New Haven, Conn., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Gratton, of Jackson, Mich., was united in marriage with Dr. Robert J. McClure, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McClure, of Calumet, Mich.

Miss Gratton, of Jackson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Dr. Gilbert B. Saltonstall, of Charlevoix, was the best man. The Rev. G. Russell Parker officiated.

A wedding breakfast was held at the Hotel Hallett after the ceremony. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. Gratton, of Jackson; Mr. and Mrs. James McClure, of Calumet; Miss Vida Gratton, of Jackson; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parker, of Los Angeles; Mrs. Frank Mathauer, of Grosse Pointe; Mrs. Ida Harper, of Calumet; Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Saltonstall, of this city. The young couple left on a honeymoon trip through the Upper Peninsula before returning to New Haven, Conn.

LOCAL GIRLS UNITED IN DOUBLE WEDDING

Helen Novotny, Marjorie Newman Spoke Vows at Traverse City

A very pretty double wedding was solemnized Saturday evening, August 15, when Miss Helen Novotny, of Charlevoix, became the bride of Clifford Yahr, of Bay Shore, and Miss Marjorie Newman, of this city, was united with Earl Crain, of Grawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Crain will reside at Grawn, and Mr. and Mrs. Yahr at Bay Shore.

HUNDRED PHEASANTS RELEASED IN THIS COUNTY

The State Department of Conservation has released a total of 1,687 live pheasants from the state game farm at Mason so far this summer. Charlevoix county was included in the area where releases were made, receiving 100 pheasants, according to the report.

BERGMANN WINNER HALF-MILE SWIM

REPEATED 1935 PERFORMANCE IN FEATURE EVENT

Grand Rapids Entries Winners of Competition in Women's Races; Large Crowd Saw Annual Event

The annual Charlevoix swimming meet, postponed from August 9 because of unfavorable weather, was held Sunday afternoon on Round Lake. A large gathering of spectators witnessed the successful events.

Equalling his performance of a year ago, Bud Bergmann, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bergmann, won the Marine Club half-mile swim, feature event on the program, and carried off a first and second in other competition. The youth out-distanced a strong field to win the half-mile race and was awarded the Marine Club trophy for the second year.

Dick Scott, of Phoenix, Ariz., gave an excellent exhibition of fancy diving, as did also Mrs. Tom Darling, of Grand Rapids.

Following are the results of the various contests:

Men's 100-yard—1st, Paul Harvey, Saginaw; 2nd, Earl Johnson, Chicago.

Girls' 50-yard — 1st, Rosann Partridge; 2nd, Billie Meyer, both Charlevoix.

Adult diving — 1st, Jean Darling, Grand Rapids.

Boys 12 and under, 25-yard—1st, Harry Zeitler; 2nd, Gene Bergmann, both Charlevoix.

The program was conducted by Gordon Todd, activities director of the Board of Commerce, assisted by members of the Marine Club.

LOIS NIXON CONTINUING AT RAMONA CLUB

Engagement at Popular Night Club Is Extended Three Weeks

Beautiful and talented Lois Nixon, Paramount Studio star, is making such a hit at the Ramona Club that an extension of three weeks was asked for, which favor was granted by the Studio.

The song stylist is proving the most sensational hit on the floor show program in some time.

Lorna Wolf, dancer, has closed a successful engagement at Ramona Club and, arriving Thursday, August 20, is Dea Lang, one of Broadway's daintiest stars, whose sensational acrobatics, tap and high-kick dancing have won her an enviable position as an entertainer. Miss Lang comes direct from the Hollywood Restaurant, New York City.

There is a complete show there each night with Frank Whitman and his music, featuring the voice of Paul Neighbors.

Office supplies of any description may be obtained quickly through this office. Charlevoix Courier.—Adv3tf

BIG TAX PAYMENT NOW ANTICIPATED

IMPROVED ECONOMIC CONDITIONS AIDING CAMPAIGN

State Officials Confident Back Tax Receipts Will Exceed the Total of $15,000,000 Paid Last Year

With Michigan industry leading the nation in economic recovery, employment at a high level and real estate holdings gaining in value both from a sale and rental angle, it is forecast by state officials that this year's collection of taxes under the ten-year plan will materially exceed the total of $15,000,000 paid in 1935.

There has been a great change for the better in the whole tax collection situation during the past twelve months. Whereas a year ago, before the plan was announced much pessimism was evident, today widespread optimism prevails due to improved economic conditions and to the fact that it is more universally realized that the state has made it comparatively easy for the property owner to meet his tax obligations.

Previous to the enactment of the Moore-Holbeck act which placed in operation the ten-year plan, many millions of taxes were held to be uncollectible. Interest and penalties on the old bills ran into such high amounts that the owners, suffering from the continued effects of the depression, lost all hope of salvaging their holdings. Accentuating this feeling of hopelessness was the decrease in property values and rentals due largely to lack of demand.

Then it was that the state through legislative mandate came to the aid of its harassed citizens. The part-payment idea was put into effect. While through educational methods the ten-year plan is widely known, it may not be amiss to restate its salient features for the benefit of those who are not wholly familiar with them.

Under the plan, taxes for 1932 and prior years, except for Detroit which has an individual plan, were lumped and divided into ten annual payments. All accumulated interest on these old taxes was cancelled. This year's interest amounts to only four per cent figured from September 1, 1935, when the plan went into effect.

The response to this economic relief project afforded by the state officials was instantaneous. As a result $55,000,000 in taxes were brought to

BELVEDERE CABARET PARTY FRIDAY NIGHT

Professional and Amateur Artists to Appear on Program

The annual cabaret party, one of the outstanding social events of the season at the Belvedere Club, will be held Friday evening at the casino.

A group of professional and amateur artists will be presented in a program of dancing and musical numbers, with William Tallman, of Detroit, acting as master of ceremonies.

Dwight Thomson, Cincinnati, O., will present vocal selections; Tom and Jean Darling, of Grand Rapids, sensational Adajio dancers, who won acclaim during the winter in Cincinnati, Cleveland and Toledo, O., will be featured; Miss Josephine Warren, dance artist from Grand Rapids, formerly featured with the RKO dance unit, will dance two numbers. Jean Darling has been assisting Miss Calla Travis with her dancing classes this summer and Miss Warren is now associated with Miss Travis' dancing school in Grand Rapids.

Miss Calla Travis has charge of the choruses.

BELVEDERE CLUB ACTIVITIES NOW AT THEIR HEIGHT

Social and sports activities at the Belvedere Club will reach their height during the remaining weeks of August, and plans are now in the making for several events.

The annual cabaret party is scheduled for Friday evening, August 21, and the masquerade for the following Tuesday evening, August 25. Both events will be held at the casino.

The annual Belvedere golf tournament got under way this week with the usual large entry and interest. Match play in the golf tournament starts tomorrow and will continue to the 36-hole finals.

Judging from the zest with which they plunged into the clever games planned for them and the cries of delight, it was a most successful party. Among those present were Anna Mae, Clair and Buddy Left, Mary, Helen, Kay and Sammy Osborn, Vera Mae, Buddy, Bruce and Joy McDonough, Mary Margaret Lafreniere, Donald Cole, Virginia and Perry John Palmer, Donald, Madoana and Margaret Ellen McDonough, Joan Fischner, Robert Gillespie, Dutzy Boyle and Owen Boyle.

Stacks such as this used in field curing beans the first two weeks in September reduce hand picking and mean better premium prices to growers.

STACKING OF BEANS REDUCES CULL LOSS

Michigan State College Experts Outline Proper Harvesting Methods

Growers of beans in Michigan receive nothing for cull beans and in fact are docked for the labor charge in hand picking. Because many cull beans are the result of conditions prevailing during the first two weeks in September when beans are harvested and in the stack for curing, H. R. Pettigrove, assistant professor in farm crops at Michigan State College, has compiled a new bulletin "Field Stacking for Michigan Beans," Special Bulletin No. 276, available within a few days by writing the Bulletin Room, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

"Pick is the term used by bean growers and shippers in this state to designate cull beans," says Pettigrove. "The term includes foreign material and all diseased, discolored and damaged beans. The average pick on Michigan beans from 1914 to 1934 was 8.16 per cent. Obviously pick is an important factor in bean prices and bean profits.

"A typical transaction shows why a reduction in pick is worthwhile to a grower. Take a price of $3 per hundredweight for choice hand picked beans. For eight pounds of cull there would be a deduction of three cents per pound because of loss in net weight, or a loss of 24 cents. There would be a cull picking charge of five cents per pound for labor, or another deduction of 40 cents. Subtracting 64 cents from the $3 quotation, the grower actually would receive but $2.36 for the hundredweight."

Weather conditions are not subject to human management but harvest practices are, says Pettigrove. The method used in the harvest can do much to overcome the disadvantage of unfavorable weather.

A full description with illustrations includes details of using the McNaughton system of stacking, which is one of the means which Pettigrove suggests for cutting the percentage of culls. The result would be better returns from the bean crop in which Michigan ranked first in quantity in 1935 in the nation.

CHURCH OF GOD

Dr. C. A. Stewart, Pastor

Next Sunday, August 30, will be Dr. Stewart's last Sunday in Charlevoix. He is leaving on the first of September for his new pastorate at Clinton, Iowa.

All services at the regular hours:

Morning preaching at 11 o'clock. The pastor will fill the pulpit both morning and night.

Night service at 7 p. m.

Mid-Week service Wednesday night at 8 o'clock.

The church extends a hearty welcome to the community.

If he doesn't have a good word to say about his successor the change was likely the company's idea.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

Sewing Machine School to Be Conducted on Wednesday, August 26

For the first time plans have been definitely made to conduct a sewing machine school. This will be of great interest to many ladies throughout the county who have sewing machines that are not properly adjusted or that may need some minor parts to make them work efficiently. A. J. Bell, who will be in charge of the school, requested that not more than 10 machines be brought in to work on, as that is about the maximum number that can be handled conveniently in one day. This school will be held in the gym basement in Boyne City starting at 10 a. m. and continuing until about 4:30 in the afternoon. It is suggested that you bring your lunch with you as this is an all day session. Room will be furnished for the lunch.

Each woman who brings in her machine should also include a pie tin, a spool of 40 or 50 thread, one-fourth yard of muslin, some old cloth to clean the machine, and a pint of kerosene, also to avoid the possibility of being splashed with oil and kerosene she should wear a wash dress. In other words don't wear your formal to a meeting of this type. Mr. Bell will not have any repair parts for machines, consequently broken machines will not be considered unless the necessary new parts are brought in with them. All services rendered by Mr. Bell of course will be without expense to those who bring the machines for cleaning, repairing and adjustment.

Inasmuch as ten machines is the limit and the first ten that are offered will be accepted, it is suggested that you notify your county agent if you wish to bring your machine, so that reservations may be made.

4-H Club News

The 4-H Club Camp held at Gaylord the week of August 10 was filled to capacity with about 500 boys and girls from 34 northern counties. Charlevoix county was represented by nine girls, 18 boys and four leaders. The delegates from this county were members of one of the four tribes, the Iroquois tribe, which won second place as a tribe, competing in the various events.

Charlevoix county will be represented at the State Fair at Detroit next month by Raymond Fisher of the Rock Elm 4-H Club. Raymond was high point winner in the dairy judging contest.

Lorena Brintnall, Einer Olstrom and Juanita Erber were three out of 11 members to be initiated in the Service Club. It is a high honor to have this many chosen from one county. Marie Klooster was chosen as alternate in canning judging, Melvin Somerville was alternate in wood identification, and Lorean Brintnall was alternate in the health contests. Einer Olstrom was also elected as chief of the Iroquois tribe.

Some of the high lights of the camp were: Monday evening, the welcome program; Tuesday, the 4-H candle lighting and Service Club program; Wednesday, the 4-H club dinner and dress revue; Thursday, the fun night. All club members were required to enter some of the following classes which were held each day: handicraft and forestry, livestock, crops, poultry, garden, and various classes in home economics. Recreation and singing were enjoyed each day.

CAMP CHARLEVOIX WEEKLY NEWS COLUMN

Edited by Ed. Taylor

The last week of camp and each day is full of activities and everyone will be busy up until the time the train pulls out.

Thursday the Greens and Greys had a swimming, canoeing, sail-boat, and row-boat meet. The Greens won the swimming meet by a score of about 52-26, with Wiley Hitchcock starring in the senior section, Ed. Robertson in the intermediate, and Jack Farr in the junior.

The canoeing was won by the Greys, the winning team being Million and Allen.

Karn, North, Abbott and Huber composed the Green sail-boat crew which won by about four lengths.

The entire meet was won by the Greens, giving them two points for the competition.

The counsellors had a watermelon splash in which Earl Oldham's team won.

Friday we had another ball game in which the Green juniors won by a score of 15-2. The intermediate Greens won, the score being 7-2. The senior Greys won at a score of 16-9. These games gave the Greens one point for the competition.

The annual camp battle was held last Saturday. One-half a point was given to each section that won. The junior and intermediate Greens won but the senior Greys won so fast the timers didn't know what happened. These battles gave the Greens one point and the Greys one-half a point.

That evening we had Indian games at the council ring, in which the Greys made a point. These games were composed of hand-wrestling, leg-wrestling, and horse and riders. The final score was 12 to 9.

Sunday the senior section went to the Torch Lake Yacht Club to watch the races. Everything went well until on the way home Ken Smith had a little trouble with the sandwiches, but I think I better not say anything more about that. The intermediate section went to Young State Park for the afternoon. They went swimming, and just loafed around most of the afternoon. They got back late in the evening. The juniors stayed in camp and played games.

The only thing of any importance that happened Monday was the election of campers for campers' day Tuesday.

Bob Huber was the leader of the Sidels and Bob Million was the leader of the Gumperts. They both had campaign speeches and some pretty hot platforms.

Well! Here we are, it is campers' day and are we having fun. The Sidels by far had the most candidates elected, but I must get on to the Isle Royale trip.

The Isle Royale trippers rolled in last Sunday at 6 a. m. Bud Summerfield, Phil Rowe, Herb Berdan, Fred Pinkham and the counselor Jack Hogan. A weary looking bunch were they, but they had a swell time despite the hardships. For two weeks they lived on Isle Royale hiking and fishing.

Bud Summerfield caught the most fish, bringing in 39 pounds. Pinkham was next with 37. The biggest fish, reaching from "here to there," was caught by Fred Pinkham.

Many moose were seen by all. Ed Ackley, the guide from Copper Harbar, was full of jokes and riddles, and showed the boys the Isle as it really is, wa-, and what it is going to be.

They found many valuable stones. Thompsonite and agates. A pine burrow was taken from a tree measuring four and one-half feet in diameter. It weighed 104 pounds. The guide carried it a mile and a half. Jack Hogan also helped carry it.

No boats were upset by the huge Superior waves. The noted fire came within a mile or so of the two canoes which were left on an inland lake. They were rescued by the group after the fire had been blown the other way.

The boys had a real scare when they arrived at Tobins Harbor where they were supposed to meet the boat that they were supposed to go back to Houghton on. The boat had been taken over by the government for fire fighting purposes and there wasn't any passenger service. They went to a CCC camp where they stayed all day hoping for a boat to come in. They ate with the fire fighters and saw how the men were going about trying to control the fire.

Finally a government boat bound for Houghton picked them up and after 36 hours on the boat they got back to the mainland. They packed duffle and all on the little red truck and drove straight through to camp where they ended an exciting and very adventurous trip.

The above news was written by Jim Karn and Fritz Pinkham, who have taken over the business office on campers' day. Now yours truly will add a few remarks before closing this column for the season.

Sunday the whole camp went into town to church and were the guests of the Rev. Parker and the Congregational church.

Monday the whole camp went to Charlevoix to see a special matinee showing of "San Francisco." They used the carnival money to go and in that way everyone got rewarded for their hard work.

The Green-Grey competition is over and the Greys won by the score of 17½-14. Wednesday night the losers will entertain the winners at a banquet.

Thursday night will bring the final council ring ceremony and on Friday night the final banquet will be held with the boys and counsellors leaving on Friday night and Saturday.

I hope you parents have enjoyed reading the news of your sons and their friends and that it has been of some interest to you. Goodbye until next year, and we wish everyone a successful winter.

The MARCH of POLITICS

By JOHN H. O'BRIEN

Major development of the week in Michigan politics was the loss by Frank Murphy of the support of the Detroit Times, the newspaper that brought him from obscurity to the mayoralty of Detroit.

In an editorial the Times stated that it had decided to support only worthwhile candidate of the Republican party and that while it would not attack Murphy, it would no longer use its columns to support him.

The Detroit Times made Frank Murphy. Before they took an interest in him he was one of several young men in the Detroit district attorney's office. The newspaper decided to break up the Recorder's Court clique known as "The Big Four" and chose Murphy as its candidate. The entire energy of the paper was brought to bear upon this single issue and by a sustained attack upon the four judges and a magnificent political build-up of Murphy the campaign was successful.

In 1930, a few months following the election of Charles Bowles as mayor, the Detroit News and Detroit Free Press began a campaign for the recall of Bowles. The Times was inactive in the fight, siding with neither group. The campaign was a success and with the recall of Bowles the Free Press and News combined in support of George Engel to replace him. At this point, the Times, which had heretofore remained out of the fight, announced that its candidate for the office was Frank Murphy. The Times repeated its former campaign for Murphy and elected him mayor. Murphy received more votes than the six other candidates combined, including Engel, who had the support of both the other dailies.

The loss of the Times when he is in the midst of a bitter battle for the nomination for governor with George Welsh must grieve Murphy greatly. In his previous campaigns, because of the incessant and efficient ballyhoo of the paper, he became accustomed to addressing tremendous crowds, who were drawn to meetings because of the publicity of the newspaper. He will miss the columns of laudation, the pages of pictures, the close coverage of his every move. It means that Frank Murphy in this campaign is on his own. He is on an equal footing now with Welsh, who is conducting a hard-hitting and telling campaign. The nomination of Murphy becomes more dubious every day.

Murphy's loss is the gain of the Republican party. The Times' political campaigns are invariably successful and its dropping of Murphy, in favor of Republican candidates is the most cheering news they have heard since the campaign got under way.

* * *

The Detroit Legal Courier reports an astounding discovery made by George Welsh while stumping the state:

"While George Welsh was touring the Upper Peninsula he met an old friend, in fact a man whom he had been instrumental in securing a job with the state conservation department when Groesbeck was governor. He was amazed to learn that he had held right on just doing his work under the rule of Green, Brucker, Comstock, and Fitzgerald. He was even more than shocked to know that this state employe did not propose to mix in this campaign even to the point of supporting Welsh, who secured him his original job.

So Welsh announces that he will see, when elected Governor, that the management of state parks is put where it will do the politicians some good."

HOME LOANS IN CHARLEVOIX CO. TOTAL $206,000

Residents of Charlevoix county received a total of $206,944 from the Home Owners' Loan Corporation during the three year period of refinancing operations which terminated June 13, 1936, according to final figures furnished Abner E. Larned, state director for the National Emergency Council. This sum represented 91 individual loans.

Tax-payers:

Michigan Real Estate is Worth Protecting..... Make your 2nd payment on the 10-Year Plan before September 1, 1936.

MICHIGAN has made real progress in cleaning up its back tax problem. During last year's drive fifty-five millions of dollars in taxes for 1932 and prior years were put on a 10-year plan, by payment of the first part.

Now the second payment becomes due.

You must meet this payment promptly in order to retain the fullest benefits you secured by putting your back taxes on the 10-year plan.

See your county treasurer immediately. Make your second payment, with interest of 4%. Your property should be a cherished possession. Protect it by keeping your tax record clear.

And remember: if you failed to place these taxes on the 10-year plan heretofore, you still may do so by paying the first two parts, together with 4% interest, and a small extra charge on the first payment.

Note:

If You can pay now in full You will Save 8% to 36% in Future Interest Payments.

THOSE who are in a financial position to do so are urged to pay up the remaining portion of their back taxes now on the 10-year plan. For them there is a substantial saving, ranging from 8% on the third year's payment to 36% on the tenth year's installment. Pay now and save.

By Order of Augmented Administrative Board of State of Michigan

DON'T NEGLECT YOUR TAX PAYMENT

September 1st is the deadline for the payment of the second annual installment of taxes under the Michigan ten-year plan. Many property owners have already met their obligations and protected their rights. Incidentally they have avoided the last minute rush and congestion of county treasurers' offices.

Officials of the state in conducting this year's educational campaign are endeavoring to bring home to the property owners that to carry out the terms of their agreement they must be sure and make this second payment by September 1st.

They are also hopeful that those who did not come under this legislative act in 1935 will do so this year. Provision is made for this action and it may be taken at very small interest cost.

Incidentally returns indicate that a considerable number of property owners are paying up their entire back tax assessment, thereby saving considerable money in future interest charges.

There is no more pressing governmental problem today than the question of past due taxes. Both the property owner and the various departments of the state are vitally affected. The state needs the revenue to operate in the interest of its citizens and the property owner wants to save his landed possessions.

While other states were floundering around with the problem Michigan officials went ahead and worked out an equitable solution. It had whole hearted support last year and it is receiving it again in 1936.

State officials are to be commended for working out this tax plan and giving it educational publicity.

Don't forget to do your part. Pay your second installment of taxes before September 1st if you have come under the plan. If you haven't joined up, do so now. Also, if you can afford to pay all your back taxes at this time do it. You will save materially in interest charges and you will have one less economic worry on your mind.

TAXES

There has always been plenty of growling about taxes, but the present tax-conscious citizen has at least two advantages over his former self: He recognizes that tax reduction can only come through intelligent curtailment of expenditures, and that basic reforms are needed in the system of taxation to insure the levying of taxes on the basis of ability to pay.

A government official says the church is a financial failure. It isn't as great a financial failure as the government would be if it were run by voluntary contributions.

MICHIGAN HUNTING LICENSES PREPARED

Nearly 750,000 Small Game and Deer Ready by September 1

Nearly 750,000 Michigan hunting licenses for the season of 1936-1937 will be printed and ready for distribution to nearly 2,000 license dealers by the first of September, it was announced by conservation authorities. It will require several weeks to complete distribution to all dealers.

Licenses now being printed are as follows: Resident small-game licenses, 560,000; non-resident small-game licenses, 25,000; resident deer licenses, 140,000; non-resident deer licenses, 3,000.

Deer hunter license tags which will be used for the first time this fall and the licenses themselves will be interleaved in the same booklets. Every other page will be a deer license and every other page a license tag, the numbers corresponding.

The 1935-1936 small-game hunting licenses and the 1935-1936 gun permits which are issued by conservation officers to all who hold licenses will expire on September 30.

It is expected the new digest of game laws will be ready for distribution together with the hunting licenses by September 1.

CHEVROLET BUILDS ITS TWELFTH MILLION UNIT

Spurred by a record-breaking demand continuing month after month, the production of Chevrolet cars and trucks has passed the 12,000,000-mark, the last million of that all-time total having been built in almost exactly eight months. The announcement was made by M. E. Coyle, president and general manager of the Chevrolet Motor Co. The number of cars and trucks built since introduction of the 1936 model is now 1,182,000, he said.

THIRTY-DAY DUCK SEASON APPROVED FOR FALL

President Roosevelt has approved regulations drawn up by the Biological Survey providing a 30-day open season for the hunting of ducks this fall.

ELEVEN MILLION TROUT READY FOR PLANTING

Transfer to Michigan Streams Awaits Close of Fishing Season

Michigan's 1936 crop of hatchery trout—nearly eleven million brooks, browns and rainbows—are waiting in state hatcheries and rearing stations for planting in the streams of the state this fall.

This crop of trout will compare favorably with those of the past five years, fisheries authorities assert.

The crop consists of approximately 6,000,000 brook trout, 2,700,000 brown trout and 2,200,000 rainbow trout. In accordance with the planting policy in effect during the past several years, many of these fish will be near or past the minimum legal size when planted. It is believed that nearly all of them will be of catchable size during the fishing season next year.

Distribution from the hatcheries and rearing stations will not be started until after Labor Day when the regular trout-fishing season in the streams closes for 1936.

RED ARROW REUNION AT MILWAUKEE, WIS.

Famous 32nd Division to Reunite on September 5th and 6th

The 1936 reunion of the 32nd Division Veterans' Association will be held this year at Milwaukee, Wis., on September 5th and 6th, according to an announcement by Ruel B. Chellis, of Detroit, publicity director for Michigan.

The association, made up of Wisconsin and Michigan National Guardsmen, has many members in Charlevoix county. The division was known to the French as "Les Terribles" because of their vicious onslaught at Juvigny and other "fronts." Their official insignia became the barred Red Arrow denoting that they pierced every German line in their path.

A special train carrying several hundred Red Arrows will leave the Michigan Central depot, Detroit, at 12:05 a. m. September 5th. This train will return Labor Day.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By Ann Page

Home-grown fruits and vegetables offer the outstanding values of the week. Corn, tomatoes, squash, eggplant, green and lima beans are plentiful and moderate in price. Both white and sweet potatoes are now inexpensive.

Cheese is higher at retail but slight slumps in the wholesale butter and egg market mean temporarily steady retail prices for these products. Beef continues to be the best meat value though chucks of lamb are lower. Fresh and smoked pork and veal continue high. Fish is somewhat more plentiful.

Oranges are lower. Apples, Bartlett pears, plums and peaches are moderate in price. Cantaloupes are cheap and watermelons lower.

Low Cost Dinner
Ground Beef Loaf
Creamed Potatoes Buttered Onions
Bread and Butter
New Apple Pie
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dioner
Roast Beef Browned Potatoes
Green Beans
Bread and Butter
Banana Cream Pie

AT THE MOVIES

"To Mary—With Love" Strikes Deep And Sure at Love

A story that strikes deep and sure at love today, comes August 23-24 to the Palace Theatre, in the Twentieth Century-Fox picturization of Richard Sherman's sensationally successful novel of modern romance, "To Mary—With Love."

Warner Baxter and Myrna Loy, together for the third time cinematically, are co-starred and their performances opposite each other are said to surpass the heights they reached in "Broadway Bill" and "Penthouse."

"Ziegfeld" Is Greatest Show Ever Screened

In "The Great Ziegfeld," showing August 27, 28 and 29 at the Palace Theatre, motion pictures have picked up the torch where the late Florenz Ziegfeld laid it down and have succeeded in out-Ziegfelding the great Ziegfeld himself.

"The Great Ziegfeld" has everything that a great musical picture should have. It has, in the life of Ziegfeld, a most gripping and perfect dramatic story. In its musical numbers, never before produced on such a scale of grandeur, it has many of the most dazzling scenes ever seen in pictures.

In entertainment alone it rates just about 1000 per cent. First, there are William Powell as Ziegfeld, Myrna Loy as Billie Burke and Luise Rainer as Anna Held.

Then there are Virginia Bruce as Ziegfeld's greatest glorified American Girl, Frank Morgan as his rival producer, Nat Pendleton as Sandow, Reginald Owen as Ziggy's manager, Fannie Brice as herself, Ray Bolger and his amazing dancing feet, Harriet Hoctor, and hordes of the most beautiful girls ever to smile at you from the screen.

MARY SLEZAK, 8, TAKEN BY DEATH ON THURSDAY

Funeral Held from Home Saturday—Burial at Brookside

Mary Slezak, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Slezak, died Thursday, August 13, after a brief illness.

She was born June 12, 1928, and is survived, in addition to her parents, by three sisters, Helen, Lulu and Anna.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon from the home, Rev. W. H. Rauch officiating. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

Schools to Receive State Seal Copies

In order that the official seal of the state of Michigan may be made familiar to school children of the state, Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, has had authentic copies of it made for school distribution. The reproductions of the seal are appropriately colored to bring out the features specified by the legal description of the seal. The copies will be appropriate for framing by each school.

Actual distribution to the some 6,000 public schools of the state will be handled by Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction. The reproductions will be received in the near future, with distribution of school supplies by the state school head. Distribution to the approximately 500 parochial schools in Michigan will be handled by John J. O'Hara, auditor general.

The drawing of the seal from which the official reproduction was made, was prepared this summer under the direction of Dr. Louis Webber, deputy secretary of state. The move was decided upon by Atwood because of wide-spread laxity through many years, in the printing of reproductions of the seal for various official uses throughout the capitol, on stationery and forms of various kinds. For ordinary use, reproductions of the state seal are not sufficiently large to permit inclusion of many details provided by law.

NORTHERN AUTO OBSERVING 25TH ANNIVERSARY

Established in 1911, Now Is Serving Thirteen Counties

Twenty-five years of continuous service was completed last week by the Northern Auto Company, of Petoskey.

Starting as the Northern Auto and Machine Company in 1911, selling Ford automobiles, the firm has gradually grown so that now it owns and operates sales rooms and garages in Petoskey and seven other Northern Michigan cities, Cheboygan, Boyne City, East Jordan, Charlevoix, Gaylord, Rogers City and Onaway.

The Ford sales agency is operated in five and a half counties; wholesale distributor of parts in 13 counties; Lincoln Zephyr agency throughout Northern Michigan; Firestone tire warehouse for six northern counties; 15 Sinclair gasoline service stations operated by the company with 200 associate dealers with bulk plants at Petoskey, Gaylord, Cheboygan and Onaway.

Officers of the company are: O. J. McMahon, president; Andrew Steffel, vice-president; Miss Ann Diekman, secretary; and Edmund Dean, treasurer.

Early organizers of the firm include O. J. McMahon, John L. A. Galster, A. C. Lovelace and Edward Rigg.

MERMASH

Makes Good

PULLETS

THESE ARE THE WEEKS in which to produce large, heavy bodied pullets that produce eggs cheaply and steadily when eggs count.

GIVE YOUR PULLETS on range free access to Mermash 16% and hard grains, both in hoppers if possible. If they seem to be maturing too rapidly, close the mash hoppers for a portion of the day.

MERMASH 16% PROTEIN DRY MASH is a lifetime ration for chicks, pullets and hens. It contains Mermaker; a blend of ocean kelp and fish meal (Manamar formula) that supplies essential minerals in food form. You can start with Mermash any time. Ask your Co-op Association for it.

DEMOCRATS---LISTEN!

I am asking for the nomination for Representative in the 11th District and I don't claim the Democratic Party owes it to me. Although I have given time and money aplenty to the party for the past 40 years, yet the Democratic Party at this time owes me absolutely nothing, nor does it owe any other candidate or any other Democrat anything. Our claims, no matter how large they were, have been repaid one thousand fold in the last three years.

When I consider the increase in my business during that time and the increase of my neighbor's business, and the security to our business and the solidity of our government, no more talk of revolution, but everyone working, everyone happy, portraying the spirit and ambition once more of our American forefathers.

I think it would be well for our Republican friends to commune with themselves and compare conditions of today with that of four years ago, and let party affiliation be disregarded; let your conscience be your guide, and show appreciation for great favors by voting for that large-hearted man—Franklin D. Roosevelt. Yes, and you can vote for me, too, in the Primaries, if you think I am worthy of it.

Yours,

GEORGE W. MANION,

BELVEDERE HOTEL

Julius Stulberg and his celebrated Trio presented a most unusual program on Sunday evening, at the weekly concert. Mr. Stulberg gave a lovely rendition of Danse Espagnole (from "La Vida Breve") by de Falla-Kreisler as the violin solo of the evening. "On Wings of Song," by Mendelssohn-Achron, was an outstanding number which had been especially arranged for the Trio by Joseph Evans, pianist. Other enjoyable numbers on the program included Rustle of Spring, Sinding; Slavonic Dance, No. 2, E Minor, Dvorak; Canzonetta (June), Tschaikowsky; Reverie, Richard Strauss; Deep River, an American Negro melody; and Waltz (from "Eugene Onegin") by Tschaikowsky.

NEGOTIATIONS BEGUN ON NEW STATE FERRY

Stream-Lined Ice Crusher to Have Capacity of 150 Automobiles

Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, completed negotiations this week for the design of a modern, streamlined ferry boat to be placed in operation at the Straits of Mackinac for year-round service.

W. M. Rice, president of Henry J. Gielot, Inc., of New York, marine architects, was directed to proceed at once with the design of the new vessel which will double the capacity of ferry facilities at the Straits. Rice expects to complete his design about September 1 and bids on actual construction will be taken shortly thereafter. The boat will require about eight months to build. Commissioner Van Wagoner plans to have it in operation by June 1, 1937.

Design specifications include:

Diesel-powered plant with cruising speed of about 18 miles an hour; 150 motor vehicle capacity; ice-crushing facilities; provision for handling 75 per cent of the motor vehicle load on the lower deck with the upper deck reserved for peak traffic loads; 14-foot clearance between decks, the same as on Michigan grade separation structures; twin screw design to permit greater flexibility in maneuvering; and pilot house control.

Rice estimated the cost of the new boat at $600,000 to $800,000. Commissioner Van Wagoner said an application for WPA assistance in financing the construction will be pushed although the State Administrative Board has authorized the use of state funds. Inasmuch as the new vessel will be an end-loading and unloading boat, alterations will be required at both the Mackinaw City and St. Ignace docks.

It's a safe bet he was in the trick of it during the war if you ask him if he was in the army and he says, "Yep."

KAMP KAIRPHREE NEWS

By Ann Oakman

Monday, August 10 — Bright and early our honor girls, Jean Manwaring and Betty Fariss, are driven to Grayling for their AuSable River trip. Daddy Swafin, Miss Lucy Braun, and Mr. and Mrs. Behlmer accompany them. Good luck and happy landing! For evening assembly three more campers, Miss Alice, our new camp nurse, and Howard Chase are initiated into "The Society of Teeth."

Tuesday, August 11—Some of the girls go riding. Mr. and Mrs. Roach from St. Louis, visit June. In evening assembly we play "Pinchy Winchy." A great game. We also indulge in "Three Rings on a String." Miss Gillette, of Ann Arbor, arrives for a week or so visit.

Wednesday, August 12 — The second Mackinac Island trip starts out with mostly juniors and Miss Betty Brown and Miss Alice Bradford to see that everything goes well. For assembly the rest of us collect pieces of birch bark which had been scattered on the lake earlier in the evening. Letters had been painted on these pieces which, after collected, spelled the word Kairphree. The trippers return from Mackinac happy and full of tales of the day's adventures.

Thursday, August 13 — Happy birthday is sung to Janet Crawford, Betty Fariss and Ann Oakman. Some of us go to town, some riding, and the rest await the arrival of the honor girls, who get here later than expected due to a slight delay in Grayling. A royal welcome was put forth and everyone "revelled in song." Song practice for the Blue and White Song Contest is held before assembly. Bunco is played at the birthday party of the evening and prizes awarded. Scrumptious chocolate cakes with candles adorning each are served with banana ice—it is whispered that Mrs. Fariss, Mrs. Onkman, and Mrs. Gram sent us the cakes. A hearty vote of thanks to them.

Friday, August 14—We celebrate Ruth Gram's birthday. Regular classes all day. For assembly films are shown, mostly concerning how Mr. Big Bad Snake consumes little Green Frog. Thusly—our lesson in Biology.

Saturday, August 15—Some of us go riding with several different purposes in mind. The Jubilee Supper is held, with all of us seated at tables according to the number of years that we have been here. Impromptu speeches are given by those called on. Candles on the tables designate the vent of the table with greens arranged around the center candle. Afterwards the Fancy Dress Ball is held and prizes for originality go to Mary Alice O'Connor, who came dressed as a wash stand, and Ann Oakman as "Blue Monday." The judges gave the award for the funniest costumes to Nurse Peg McCarthy and Babies Lucile Nolan and Ginnie Brooks. Betty Fariss as "Bo Peep" and Penny Shaw as South American shared the honors for the prettiest costume. Honorable mention went to the three blind mice, namely, Jean Manwaring, Jean Reimann, and Ruth Kittredge. So ends a happy evening. Oh, yes, we all went separately behind the curtain and knelt at the king's feet. He asked us where we would like to go if we could have the choice — Ethiopia, Alaska, or Niagara Falls. The first choice resulted in a daubing with lamp black, the second a flurry of snow (talcum powder), and the third a generous sprinkle of water.

Sunday, August 16 — Kchatter is read in place of chapel and the candle-lighting service is held in the evening after song practice. Mrs. Behlmer sang a solo that was greatly enjoyed by all. After the ceremony we all formed a circle at the foot of the stairs and sang "Taps."

TIPS ON TIMBER AID TO FARMERS

Logs from Farm Woodlots Should Be Sold by Measure

Hay by the ton and potatoes by the bushel but logs from farm woodlots sold for a lump sum without accurate board measure estimate indicates that farmers in Michigan should learn another phase of marketing if they are to realize a true return from marketable timber. Too much of the timber from small woodlots is being sold without the seller knowing its true worth, advises W. Ira Bull, extension forester at Michigan State College.

"Now that large scale logging operations in the state are declining because of lack of supplies, the farmer who has a well managed woodlot can find a good market at times for suitable trees for timber" says Forester Bull. "How to measure the number of cords or board feet of lumber in standing trees is a problem that confronts a woodland owner.

"A timber inventory easily can be made by following instructions given in Farmers' Bulletin 1210, 'Measuring and Marketing Farm Timber,' available by writing the Office of Information, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

"Only two measurements of a tree are necessary. Measure the diameter outside the bark at breast height or four and one-half feet from the ground. Then figure the length of the trunk from a point one foot above the ground to the place where utilization of log material will stop. Even an amateur can obtain the lumber content then by referring to a volume table in the above bulletin. County agricultural agents can aid in this marketing project."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Mind" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 23.

Among the Bible citations is the following (Heb. 4: 12): "For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two edged-sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit and of joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 179): "Immortal Mind heals what eye hath not seen; but the spiritual capacity to apprehend thought and to heal by the Truth-power, is won only as man is found, not in self-righteousness, but reflecting the divine nature."

. . . ANNOUNCEMENT . . .

OTTO W. BISHOP

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE TWENTY-NINTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT

I am a candidate for re-election to the office of State Senator on the Republican ticket. It has been a pleasure and a privilege to serve this district during the 1935 session of the Legislature.

Fortunately I secured an appointment on the powerful Finance and Appropriations Committee of the Senate, as well as assignments on the important Agriculture and Conservation Committees and the Chairmanship of the Sanatorium Committee.

In my service on these committees and in the State Senate generally I have always kept in mind, and worked for the interest and welfare of the people of my district. If my efforts have met with your approval, then I will appreciate your support in the coming Primary Election, September 15, 1936. If re-elected, I again promise to aggressively represent you in the Michigan State Senate.

FIRST GRADE QUALITY—The new Firestone Standard Tire is built of first grade materials, by skilled workmen, and embodies the Firestone patented construction features of Gum-Dipping and two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords under the tread.

GUM-DIPPED CORD BODY—Every cotton fibre in every cord in every ply is soaked in liquid rubber. This is the only process known that prevents internal friction and heat, providing greater strength, blowout protection and longer life.

TWO EXTRA LAYERS OF GUM-DIPPED CORDS UNDER THE TREAD—This patented Firestone feature binds the whole tire into one unit of greater strength, cushions road shocks, gives extra protection against punctures.

LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE—The new scientifically designed non-skid tread is wider, flatter, with more and tougher rubber on the road, giving long even wear and thousands of extra miles.

LOW PRICES—These low prices are made possible by volume production in the world's most efficient factories.

THE FIRESTONE NAME AND GUARANTEE—Every Firestone Standard Tire bears the Firestone name, your guarantee of greater safety, dependability and economy.

BEETLES BATTLE ORCHARD TREES

Dry Weather Makes It Necessary to Combat Pest With Extreme Care

Fruit trees in Michigan weakened by adverse weather in 1936 as well as in preceding seasons need extra protection against the fruit tree bark beetle which thrives and breeds in recently dead and dying wood and riddles twigs of vigorous and healthy trees as well.

In pointing out August as one of the two breeding seasons for the beetle, Ray Hutson of the entomology department at Michigan State College, suggests burning brush piles left from pruning, taking out dead or dying trees and removing from orchard blocks any of the larger pieces of dead wood that may have been saved for firewood. Burning brush piles must be carefully guarded, of course, because of the dry weather fire hazard.

The two types of injury that occur include injury to trees of low vitality that are easily killed by the tunneling of the beetle during breeding. The other injury is caused by the beetles boring into healthy twigs and bark in search of a feeding or breeding place, then leaving to find less vigorous wood when the trees counter attack with a flow of gum.

The fruit tree bark beetle also proves a pest in related ornamentals such as flowering crab and quince. The beetle is about one twentieth of an inch long. It is a dark brownish black in color and is believed to be of European origin. When the bark of trees has been punctured, the beetle and larvae are revealed by paring down the bark carefully with a sharp knife. Commercial orchard operators are warned by Professor Hutson to clean up abandoned orchard blocks to protect adjacent healthy producing orchards. Branches that broke from heavy bearing or storms should be removed.

BELVEDERE MASQUERADE TUESDAY EVENING

Visiting Artists on Annual Program, Sponsored by Miss Calla Travis

Local and summer residents are looking forward with anticipation to the annual masquerade party to be given Tuesday evening, August 25, at the Belvedere casino.

Sponsored by Miss Calla Travis, the annual colorful children's program will open the evening's entertainment at 8:15 o'clock. Featured artists at the children's party will be pupils of Miss Travis' summer classes and guest artists. Many local children will take part.

One of the most outstanding numbers will be the Little Wing ballet with its butterflies and bumble-bees. A very lovely modernistic dance will be given with Miss Nancy Avery, of Grand Rapids, as soloist, assisted by Marjorie Edwards and Nancy Price, of Charlevoix. Bobby Wexstaff will also dance with this ensemble. Around 150 children will appear in costume.

Tom and Jean Darling will do their modernistic number, the Indian Creation, which created a sensation during the winter. Jean will wear a white leather Indian costume. Miss Josephine Warren, of Grand Rapids, will also appear on the program.

William Tallman will assist Miss Travis as master of ceremonies.

The program will be followed by the annual masquerade with Belvedere Club, Chicago Club and Sequanota summer residents participating.

life and placed on the active rolls. Homes were saved and owners of other property were able to breathe easier again. Various units of government, threatened with curtailment through lack of funds, were enabled to continue functioning in the interest of all the people.

Property owners who paid their first year installment must now settle for the second year. Thousands have already done so. Many more thousands will make their payments on or before September 1st, and be secure in their tax position.

For various reasons many property owners were not able to take advantage of the ten-year plan when it was originated. Early payments this year reveal that added numbers are enrolling under its provisions. This may be done by making the first two payments—1935-1936—with interest at four percent—plus a small additional charge on the payment that was not made last year.

Another favorable condition that prevails this year is the large number of property owners who, with money easier, are paying their remaining balances on the ten-year plan in a lump sum. This, of course, brings a large saving— eight to 36 per cent interest on future payments.

State officials have received much praise from taxpayers and outside sources for the working out of the ten-year plan. It has been copied by other commonwealths. It is felt that this is an equitable adjustment of a serious situation which developed through no fault of the property owners who had made their investments before the shadow of the great depression spread over the nation.

The returns from various counties in Michigan indicate that the ten-year plan has an added appeal this year to the taxpayer. The state this year as it did last when the plan was originated, is conducting an education plan and also to remind those who are operating under it that their second installment is now due and under the terms of the agreement must be paid before September 1, 1936.

It is felt that as advertising and promotional work are a necessary adjunct to the success of any commercial or industrial enterprise today, the state in placing its business on a workable basis could do no better than to follow the course which proved so effective in 1935.

Milton M. Alexander, Detroit economist-publicist, is directing the campaign again this year.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCHES

Charlevoix and Irooton

Sunday morning will be Glad Sunday at our church. At this time the church will be decorated with hundreds of gladioli of all shades, and at the close these blooms will be given away to our summer guests. This is just a way of showing our appreciation of their stay among us during the vacation time. In accepting the flowers one assumes no responsibility but they carry our best wishes for the coming months.

FIVE RAILROADS OPERATE IN THIS COUNTY

Employ 42 Workers Who Are Earning $54,201 Annually

The economic as well as commercial dependence of Charlevoix county on the railroads is outlined in an employment-and-payroll study of the railroads in this state by the Michigan Railroad Employes and Citizens League.

Five railroads, the East Jordan & Southern, Pere Marquette, New York Central, Pennsylvania and B. C. G. & A., operate in this county. They have a combined total of 45.16 miles of track and employ 42 workers earning $54,201 annually. In addition, the county receives as its share of the primary school money and in direct taxes $20,708.02 of the taxes which Michigan's railroads pay into the state and local treasuries.

Twenty-one railroads, exclusive of belt, local and industrial railways, operate in Michigan. Their combined trackage totals 8131 miles and they employ 30,137 men earning $47,199,409.79 annually. The roads' combined tax bill in 1935 was $6,556,438.21, of which all but approximately $250,000, locally assessed, went into the primary school fund.

The survey compares modern railroad conditions with those of peak times when 44,274 men were in railroad work in this state, earning $69,542,515.75 annually, with 141 men, drawing yearly wages of $103,042 employed in this county. The survey places blame for the decline on the unregulated competition which the railroads, it is charged, are forced to meet.

"The survey reveals that 'the railroad' is the biggest or next largest industry in most counties in Michigan," according to Floyd E. Drake, executive secretary of the League. "It also shows how dependent we are on the lines, even though we may not travel on them or give them our personal freight. They bring in the things we eat and wear and live with, and take away the products from which we derive our livelihood; their heavy local property investments make our county wealthier and our own property more valuable; their taxes support our schools and lighten our own tax burden; they employ local men who spend their paychecks locally and help keep our merchants and businesses prosperous, and their stocks and bonds back up our insurance policies, savings accounts, trust and pension funds. Commercially and economically, the railroads rank as a major institution in each county just as they do statewide and nationally."

PENSION ACT TAKES AGED FROM WELFARE

Names of 4,308 Taken from Dole List in Michigan Last Week

The dole lists of Michigan lost the names of 4,308 aged indigents today as 4,308 old folks became pensioners of the state.

The emergency relief commission allocated $200,000 from its funds to match a like amount available in federal funds to remove all persons over 70 years of age from direct relief. They number 7.7 per cent of the entire dole list. The $400,000 will cover their needs for the next six months.

For the remainder of the current fiscal year the commission reports that it has $6,163,824 available, most of the difference between that figure and the original $9,000 being represented in advances of $1,635,882 to Detroit and other communities which had deficits for the previous 12 months.

* METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH *

August 23: Arrangements for the speaker next Sunday are not completed at this writing, but a guest speaker is being arranged for. If the doctors allow the pastor to speak, the topic will be "Did Moses Climb Vesuvius?"

SCHOOLS TO OPEN ON SEPTEMBER 14

FIVE NEW MEMBERS OF FACULTY THIS YEAR

Many Improvements Made in School Buildings During Summer Reported by Supt. O. P. North

O. P. North, superintendent, has announced that Charlevoix public schools will open Monday, September 14, for the 1936-37 term.

Five changes have been made in the personnel of the faculty since the close of school last spring. The fourth grade will be taught by Miss Geraldine Millar, a graduate of Ypsilanti Normal and an experienced teacher in Northern Michigan. Miss Frances Milner, of Charlevoix, will have the second grade. She is a graduate of Mt. Pleasant Normal and has had local experience. The high school English department will be in charge of Miss Helen Anthony, a graduate of Michigan State College. O. J. Kraushear, for the past seven years of Waupun, Wis., will succeed Robert B. Magor as instructor of band and music. During the war Mr. Kraushear played with the U. S. S. Pennsylvania band and was with Sousa's band for four years. Frank Oleksey will have manual training. He is a graduate of Northern Normal and this last year has received his Master's degree in vocational education from the University of Michigan. He has also five years' experience in repair work with an iron mining company.

During the summer many improvements have been made in the school buildings. All seats and desks in the grade rooms have been cleaned, varnished and painted. The decorating of the rooms has been completed, the basement passageway and the stairway from the boys' locker room to the gymnasium plastered and decorated.

The manual training room has been plastered and is now being painted. The partitions in this room have been removed, providing a store room and stock room, while the drawing room will be built on the north end of the building. It is not probable that this improvement will be completed for some time.

New showers are being installed in the girls' locker room. When school opens the buildings in use will have been decorated throughout. The exterior of the high school building has been painted to resemble the gymnasium.

New equipment will provide additional seating for the ninth grade which will be housed in the new building. Five benches are being added to the manual training department, as well as additional drawing boards, instruments and tools.

Work is going forward on the south side athletic field. The track is being filled with gravel and the football field inside the track is being levelled off.

ISLANDER IN JAIL FOR TIMBER THEFT

Dan Boyle Given 30 Days and Fine; Son Is Fined Also

Dan Boyle, of St. James, is serving a 30-day sentence in the county jail following a plea of guilty before Justice H. R. Fowler at St. James on a charge of larceny of timber.

Fowler sentenced Boyle to serve 30 days in jail and assessed fine and costs of $50, which must be paid within 30 days with alternative of another 30 days in jail. Boyle's son, Jack, who pleaded guilty to assisting his father in the theft, was given fine and costs of $15 and was placed on probation.

COUNTY OFFICIALS WERE GUESTS OF JUDGE GILBERT AT ANNUAL OUTING

The annual summer outing and picnic given for county officers and attorneys of counties comprising the 13th judicial district by Judge Parm C. Gilbert at his Long Lake summer home near Traverse City, was an event of Saturday.

Attending were the following from Charlevoix: Mr. and Mrs. Floyd W. Ikens and daughters, Helen and Marie, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Supp, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Fitch, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marshall, C. M. Bice, Fenton R. Bulow, and Fay A. Bradley.

The 13th judicial district comprises Charlevoix, Antrim, Grand Traverse and Leelanau counties. The affair was the usual enjoyable one.

LEO ALLARD APPOINTED STREET COMM'R

Named by Mayor Arthur Bergeon and Confirmed by City Council

Numerous items of city business, including passage of a payroll containing payments for city improvements, came before the council at its session Monday night.

The council affirmed unanimously the appointment by Mayor Bergeon of Leo Allard as street commissioner. Mr. Allard has been acting commissioner since last spring.

Through resolutions the council approved the advertising for bids to construct a combination curb and gutter on both sides of Prospect street from Division to the south line of Crouter street, also for sealed bids for the purchase of bonds to be issued to finance the project.

The matter of renewing lease on the municipal bath house to the present operators was referred to committee with power to act.

A payroll aggregating $7,909.59 contained payments on the new city park property between Mason and Clinton streets in addition to numerous obligations contracted for resort promotional purposes.

TWO MEN CHARGED WITH EXTORTION

THREATENED LIFE OF S. W. MOWER, OF IRONTON

Charles H. Helmer and John Crowder of Jennings, Taken by U. S. Department of Justice Agents

Charges of extortion have been placed against Charles H. Helmer and John Crowder, of Jennings, by federal agents as the result of a threatening letter these two men are charged with sending to Samuel W. Mower, of Ironton, and the two men are now awaiting arraignment in federal court in Grand Rapids.

C. A. Holtz, special agent of the federal bureau of investigation of the United States Department of Justice, appeared before United States Circuit Court Commissioner Elmer E. White at Traverse City and obtained a warrant for the two men. After their arrest they were brought before Commissioner White and bound over to the next term of federal court. Helmer, because of his physical condition, was allowed to furnish his personal bond, but Crowder went to jail in Grand Rapids to await arraignment.

The two men are charged with writing a letter to Mower at Ironton threatening his life unless he gave them $4,000. It is charged that Helmer actually composed the letter and that he had Crowder copy it. Then, officers say, the two men took the sealed letter to a restaurant waitress and asked her to address it. The girl, not knowing the contents of the letter, is not involved.

Mower's summer home, Gwellentop Farms, is located south of Ironton. On the property is a gravel pit from which WPA workmen under Helmer took gravel for the surfacing of M-66 between Charlevoix and East Jordan, a WPA project which is still in progress. Helmer was the foreman on the project until transferred several months ago.

IRONTON COUPLE MARRIED HERE SATURDAY

Hilda Ogden, Ivan Thomson Spoke Vows at Ironton Home

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ogden, of Ironton, last Saturday afternoon, when their daughter, Hilda, was united in marriage to Ivan J. Thomson, also of Ironton.

Miss Annabelle Cunningham acted as bridesmaid and Arney T. Thomson, a brother of the groom, acted as best man. Rev. G. R. Parker officiated.

The bride is a graduate of the Charlevoix High school and the groom graduated from the county normal in 1933. Mr. Thomson is engaged to teach the Loeb school next year. The young people will be at home after a short honeymoon in their home near Mr. Thomson's place of teaching.

Adjourned Court Term Friday

Judge Parm C. Gilbert, of Traverse City, presided over an adjourned session of the August court term here Friday morning. Several division cases and non-jury matters were disposed of during the session. Jury cases of the August term were continued until the regular October term of court.

ANNUAL COUNTY PICNIC SEPT. 7TH

LABOR DAY EVENT AGAIN AT WHITING COUNTY PARK

Program Includes 4-H Club Exhibit, Baseball Games, Sports, Races — Public Is Invited

(By B. C. Mellencamp)

Communities are making great preparations for the huge crowd that will be enjoying the 14th annual County Picnic on Labor Day, September 7. This is the one day when all folk in the county, both city and farm, unite for the occasion.

There will be something doing every minute of the day. Beginning in the morning, soft ball games will be staged. Already leagues have been formed in the county and there will be not less than three games played to select the champion of the county. In the afternoon, sports, running races, and many new stunts will be thrown in for good measure. The quoits contest will be staged. Also all of the best talent in the county will be secured for the amateur contest. The participants will come from all sections of the county and it will be the greatest gathering of talent ever assembled in the county.

Another big feature of the day will be the 4-H Club canning exhibits, in which there will be nine or 10 different clubs competing for top honors. There will be at least 500 quarts of fruit, vegetables, jellies, jams, and canned meats on display. In addition there will be over 40 dairy animals exhibited by 4-H club members throughout the day.

Music will likewise be featured by the appearance of two or three bands within the county. Free coffee, sugar and cream will be furnished during the noon hour. The various American Legion posts in the county will be on hand to quench your thirst and to satisfy your appetite.

Whiting County Park has been developed from year to year until all Charlevoix county can be justly proud of possessing such a beautiful spot. This picnic is for you and yours. Make your plans now to attend. More details will be presented next week, but don't forget Labor Day.

MAGOR DIRECTED LAST CONCERT WEDNESDAY

Band Director Here Four Years Has Established Excellent Record

Wednesday night's concert marked the last appearance of Robert B. Magor as director of the Charlevoix city band.

Mr. Magor has directed the Charlevoix High school and city bands four years. During that time he has greatly increased the size and caliber of the organization. Besides making the members music minded, he also made the citizens of Charlevoix likewise. The high school organization is known and talked about all over Michigan.

School patrons have widely expressed their appreciation of Mr. Magor's accomplishments and the best wishes of a large group of friends will go with him to his new position.

BELVEDERE CABARET COLORFUL EVENT OF LAST FRIDAY NIGHT

The event was sponsored by the young people of the colony, with William Tallman, of Detroit, acting as master of ceremonies, assisted by Miss Calla Travis.

The Belvedere chorus, composed of Louise and Georgianna Olin, Marjorie Dickson, Elizabeth Gordon, Dorothy and Dodo Morris, of St. Louis, Mo., Mary Burton Wallace, of New York, and Sally Green, of Detroit, did a very clever line dance, the last dance of the Truckin' number, which was very effective.

The outstanding comedy act of the evening was presented by the Hillbillies. Dwight Thomson and George McKay also presented a comedy act which proved very popular. Vocalists on the program were George McKay, St. Louis; Dwight Thomson, Cincinnati, O., and Marjorie Rutherford, of Marriam, Ill.

Toni Tallman, of Detroit, in farmer costume, gave a tap dance, and Tom and Jean Darling were outstanding in their numbers.

The affair proved very successful and was largely patronized by summer residents. Wenstaff's orchestra provided the music for the program.

RAILROADS TO GO EASTERN STANDARD

ICC RULING AFFECTS LOWER PENINSULA ROADS

Change Will Eliminate Existing Confusion Caused by Railroads Using Central Standard Time

Confusion over Eastern Standard and Central Standard Times in the Lower Peninsula of Michigan will be cleared up by the latest ruling of the Inter-state Commerce Commission, issued at Washington, making Eastern Standard Time official throughout the peninsula.

For several years the cities of the Lower Peninsula have operated on Eastern Standard Time but the railroads, controlled by the ICC, have maintained their schedules on Central Standard Time. Other agencies connected with the railways have been forced to operate on Central Standard Time.

Local railroad representatives said today that the roads will be pleased to change over to the Eastern Standard Time and clear up the confusion that has resulted from the difference.

At the same time the ICC refused a petition from Chicago asking that it be placed in Eastern Standard Time.

In the case of Michigan, the Commission pointed out that the state Legislature had approved a resolution making Eastern Time effective throughout the state on December 18, 1931. The state then presented a petition to the ICC asking that the time be so set for railroads, and the petition was turned down by the commission.

Now, however, the Commission said it found "convenience of commerce will be served by a modification of the boundary line of the Eastern zone to include the Lower Peninsula of the state of Michigan within that zone."

It pointed out that in the intervening time since the request was first refused, "the universal use of Eastern time in the Lower Peninsula of Michigan is now past the experimental state and is firmly grounded and the convenience of commerce will be met by its recognition for all purposes."

DAVIS, "HUMAN BAT," AT TRAVERSE FAIR

Performance Tops List of Entertainment at Northwestern Fair

In securing Irvin Davis, bat wing man who leaps from an airplane two miles high and soars down on his bat wings, the Northwestern Michigan Fair Association believes it has "tops" in thrillers for the fair which opens at Traverse City next Monday.

Davis is rated third best bat wing man in the United States by the National Aeronautical Association and holds the record for sustained flight and international glide. As he leaps from the plane he looses a smoke trail so the crowds can spot him and then spreads his bat wings and soars back and forth. When he gets from 800 to 1200 feet above the ground he opens his parachute for the rest of the descent.

It was Davis who was co-pilot on the plane in which big Leonard Koenecke of the Brooklyn Dodgers baseball team was killed last September between Detroit and Toronto. Koenecke, crazy drunk, battled Davis and Bill Mulqueeny, pilot, several thousand feet in the air while the plane flew crazily with no one at the controls. Koenecke was killed when struck with a fire extinguisher just before the plane crashed in Toronto.

Davis will make two soars during the fair, on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons, at 5:30 o'clock.

HARPER-WORTHINGTON WEDDING AN EVENT OF FRIDAY, AUGUST 21ST

Miss Alta Lee Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Harper, of Marion township, became the bride of Roy D. Worthington, of Alpena, on Friday, August 21.

The ceremony was performed in the church auditorium at the Park of Pines, near Boyne City, the Rev. Allen Schreur officiating.

Miss Nina Harper, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor, and Ralph E. Worthington, of Detroit, brother of the groom, as best man.

Following a wedding trip to Yellowstone National Park and other places of interest in the west, Mr. and Mrs. Worthington will make their home in Alpena, where Mr. Worthington is storekeeper at the Fletcher paper mill.

AMATEUR PROGRAM A FEATURE AT ARGONNE

Amateurs of Region Invited to Participate Every Sunday Night

The second of a series of amateur night programs planned as a permanent Sunday evening feature at The Argonne, Charlevoix's most popular entertainment place, made a decided "hit" with patrons last Sunday.

On the program were Tom Belding, Petoskey, old-time fiddler; Rodney Belding, who played selection on the saw with orchestra accompaniment; Harry Oldham and his "Hill Billies," featuring in solo, duet, trio and group numbers; Pearl Holzer, talented tap dancer and soloist; and little Joan Jasper, five years old, who sang and gave tap dance numbers.

Amateurs of this region are invited to display their talent on The Argonne weekly program. Anyone who can sing, play, dance or otherwise entertain is eligible. Entries are to be made with Willis J. Kerns, manager and owner of The Argonne. The program will be restricted to six features weekly, thus the first six applications will be accepted and others held over to subsequent Sunday nights.

M'GUIRE WINNER BELVEDERE GOLF

FIRST PLAYER TO WIN CHAMPIONSHIP TWICE

Mrs. Elizabeth McGuire White Winner in Women's Division—Other Flight Champions

Along with the championship, he gained the honor of being the first player to win the championship twice, as well as the first low medalist to become the victor.

McGuire, who won the tournament in 1928, was the 1935 runner-up and the 1936 medalist with a score of 77. In the finals he defeated John Peney, of St. Louis, Mo., 4 up and 3 to play. McGuire's name goes on the trophy for the second time and another win will entitle him to permanent possession of the cup. The 1935 champion was Hampten Swift, of St. Louis, Mo.

That McGuire should share the championship glory with his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth McGuire White, of LaPorte, Ind., established another tournament record. Mrs. White won the championship flight in the women's division by victory over Mrs. Marjorie Arklin, of Toledo, O., succeeding Mrs. B. K. Muir, of Detroit, the 1935 winner.

Other flight winners were:

Men's Division

Class A—Sam Pingree, St. Louis, Mo.

Class B—George Bisbee, Jackson.

Women's Division

Class A—Mrs. Elizabeth Ferguson Fenrbacher, St. Louis, Mo.

The Belvedere tournament, open to club members and guests and hotel guests, drew the usual large field. Handsome trophies were presented the winners.

ERNEST SUTTER IS RIVIERA CHAMPION

DEFEATS HARRIS COGGESHALL IN SUNDAY FINALS

Catherine Wolf, Elkhart, Ind., and Julius Heldman, Hollywood, Calif., Women's and Junior Champs

Sunday's finals brought to a close the 11th annual Michigan Riviera tennis championships, the most successful in point of entry and interest in recent years. New champions were produced in all divisions.

Ernest Sutter, New Orleans, La., national intercollegiate champion and winner of the Western title at Harbor Springs, became the new Riviera men's singles champion. He defeated Harris Coggeshall, Des Moines, Ia., the defending champion, by scores of 6-4, 6-1, 4-6, 6-2. Sutter's play was steadier than the Iowan's and a particularly strong net game was a determining factor in his victory.

Sutter also annexed the men's doubles crown. Teamed with Ramsey Potts, Atlanta, Ga., Sutter defeated Julius Heldman, Hollywood, Calif., and Jack Harris, Chicago veteran, by scores of 6-1, 7-5. Sutter and Potts are co-holders of the southern doubles championship. They left Charlevoix to represent the south in the national doubles championships in Boston.

In women's singles, Catherine Wolf, of Elkhart, Ind., captured her third Riviera title. In the deciding set Sunday afternoon, she defeated Elizabeth Kesting, St. Paul, Minn., the defending champion, 6-2. The match had been carried over from Saturday due to a postponement because of darkness. Each of the players had won a set, Miss Wolf taking the first 6-3, and Miss Kesting the second 9-7. Miss Wolf, the tenth ranking player in the national women's division, previously held the Riviera title in 1931 and 1935.

Julius Heldman, 17-year-old national junior champion, succeeds Robert Rau, of Monrog, as Riviera junior titlist. In the junior finals held Friday afternoon, he defeated Jack Chichester, Chicago, by scores of 6-1, 6-1, 6-1. Heldman's stellar play was one of the features of the Riviera.

Local tennis officials were fortunate to bring the Riviera to a conclusion on schedule. Play was hampered by rain three nights which resulted in late afternoon starts on matches. The event drew large crowds of spectators each day and a field of players whose caliber Charlevoix may not be able to duplicate in many years.

Officers of the Charlevoix Tennis Club wish to take this means of extending their appreciation to the Chicago Club, Belvedere Club and Mrs. Sidney Lowenstein for the use of their courts during the tournament.

SUPERNAW-MARTIN MARRIAGE SOLEMNIZED AT 8 O'CLOCK ON TUESDAY

At a ceremony solemnized at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Mary's church, Miss Irene Martin, daughter of John Martin, and Rex Supernaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Supernaw, were united in marriage.

A small group of immediate relatives and friends attended the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Supernaw are both well known local young people. They graduated from Charlevoix High school and Mr. Supernaw from Michigan Tech at Houghton. Following a honeymoon in the Upper Peninsula, they will reside in Detroit.

COURIER BRINGING A COOKING SCHOOL ON SEPTEMBER 11-12

Under sponsorship of the Courier, a two-day cooking school will be conducted here on Friday and Saturday, September 11 and 12, by Mrs. Helene Sailer, noted home economist and head of the Helene Sailer School of Cooking and Home-Making.

Classes will be held Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday afternoon at the high school gymnasium and women are asked to attend each session as entirely different programs will be presented each day. There will be no admission fee at the school and, in addition, free gifts will be distributed each day. The only requirement for winners of gifts is their attendance at the school sessions.

Housewives of Charlevoix and vicinity are asked to keep the dates in mind and plan on attending these instructive sessions.

Top off your lunch, dinner or picnic with a bottle of ice cold Stroh's Bohemian Beer. It is palatable, digestible and refreshing.

ADVISE APPLE GROWERS TO SPRAY ORCHARDS

Measure Necessary for Second Generation of Codling Moths

Apple growers in 18 Michigan counties are being advised to complete the first spraying for the second generation of the codling moth on or before August 15 in order to catch the codling moth larvae at hatching time to prevent fruit damage. The counties are Charlevoix, Emmet, Cheboygan, Presque Isle, Leelanau, Antrim, Otsego, Montmorency, Alpena, Benzie, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Crawford, Alcona, Manistee, Wexford, Missaukee and Ogemaw.

Two types of spray are advised by Ray Hutson of the entomology department at Michigan State College. For those who intend to wash fruit with chemicals, the spray should consist of three pounds of lead arsenate and four to six pounds of hydrated lime in 100 gallons of water.

Growers not equipped to wash fruit with chemicals are advised to use a summer oil emulsion, three quarts plus three-fourths pint of 40 per cent nicotine sulphate in 100 gallons of water, not combined with lime sulphur, other sulphur spray or bordeaux.

Through field reports, the date is set for this spraying program for standard winter variety apples. The spray should be applied within four or five days after the temperature reaches 62 degrees or above at nightfall, as the moths lay their eggs at night when these temperatures prevail.

CARELESS SMOKER DEMON OF DANGER

Twenty-Three Per Cent of All Forest Fires Is Laid to Him

"The careless smoker is a forest enemy. The careful smoker is a forest friend," says the United States forest service. Careless smokers — who neglected a few simple precautions—caused 47,845 fires last year, or 23 per cent of all forest fires.

Careless smokers started more fires than were started by railroads, logging, and debris burning, more than three times the number caused by carelessly left campfires and more than three times the number set by lightning.

A real woodsman always breaks his matches in two before casting them aside—a little habit which makes sure that every match is "out," says the forest service. He also crushes out the fire in pipe ashes, cigar or cigaret butts on a rock or in mineral soil. He does not even throw "dead" butts into brushes, leaves, or pine needles. He drops them into the dust of trail or road and tramples them, to be doubly sure they are dead.

The careful smoker not only observes these rules but while traveling through forest, brush, or grassy land smokes only in a safe place where there is no inflammable material or inside a vehicle with an ash receptacle.

ELLSWORTH CO-OP HAS $3,300 PROFIT

The Ellsworth Farmers Exchange has increased its directorate from seven to nine members. Herbert S. Peebles, William Kooyer and George Rubingh were re-elected. Mettus Rubingh and Gerrit P. Vanderark are new members.

Bernie Klooster, manager, reported a gain in business of 30 per cent over the previous year and a net profit of $3,300. A five per cent dividend was paid on stock and an extra two per cent patronage dividend was paid.

BELVEDERE HOTEL

August 25: The Stulberg Trio presented one of the finest concerts of the season on Sunday evening. The program ws opened with the lovely number "To Spring", by Grieg, followed by Adagio, (from "Sonata Pathetique"), Beethoven. Julius Stulberg, violinist and director of the Trio, and David Pratt, 'cellist, rendered a most interesting duet for the Viola and 'Cello, by Beethoven. Joseph Evans, pianist, was the featured soloist of the evening, selecting as his number "Malaguena" by Lecuona.

* *

On Sunday afternoon, the Stulberg Trio gave a recital in the casino, for the enjoyment of the hotel employes and their friends. The program consisted of all request numbers, and included many outstanding selections. Joseph Evans, pianist, thrilled his audience with his presentation of "Andante Finale" (from "Lucia di Lammermoor"), by Donizett-Leschetizky, a most difficult number that is played by the left hand only. Julius Stulberg, violinist, also rendered a lovely number, "Moses Fantasie" by Rossini-Paganinni, (for the G String alone). David Pratt, 'cellist, chose for his selections "The Swan," Saint-Saens, and "Flight of The Bumble Bee" by Rimsky-Korsakoff.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Christ Jesus" will be the subject of the es-on-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 30.

Among the Bible citations is the following (Matt. 10: 7, 8): "And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils; freely ye have received, freely give."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 138): "Jesus established in the Christian era the precedent for all Christianity, theology, and healing. Christians are under as direct orders now, as they were then, to be Christlike, to possess the Christ-spirit, to follow the Christ-example, and to heal the sick as well as the sinning."

Teaching: What she does during the period in her life between the halter and the yoke.

FIRST PRIMARY MONEY COMES IN SEPTEMBER

Apportionment This Year $7.70 Per Pupil; Less Than Last Year

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Dr. Eugene B. Elliott announced Saturday the first installment of primary school interest money this year will amount to $10,766,509, which is $272,020 less than last year's installment. The second installment will also be proportionately lower. It will provide an average of $7.70 for each census child compared with last year's $7.93.

The state Legislature provided for a totoal distribution of $37,400,000 including the Primary School Interest Fund to the 6700 school districts of the state for this year. This is an increase of $1,360,000 over last year. With the shrinkage in the primary interest fund, it will be necessary to appropriate over 23 million dollars from the state general fund, which derives its revenue largely from the sales tax.

Dr. Elliott said the first installment of primary school interest fund would come early in September.

DROUGHT INCREASES HIGHWAY MAINTENANCE

Caused Calcium Chloride on Gravel Roads to Dry and Blow Away

The maintenance experience from this year's drought may force the State Highway Department to add water tanks to its equipment in many counties of the state.

Admitting that gravel-road maintenance "has not been altogether satisfactory this summer," State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner pointed out that the air has been too dry for calcium chloride to hold to the road through absorption of moisture. As a result, the chloride has blown off the roads with the dust, the highways themselves have dried up and pitted to prevent dragging and have become dusty and rough.

"It may be necessary for us to purchase a number of more tanks so that we will have water for dust-laying purposes," the commissioner said. "We already have a half dozen but this number is insufficient to cover our entire gravel-road mileage."

EDITORIAL

INDEPENDENCE

Growing indications that people are going to reassert their independence is having a powerful influence in pushing back the barriers of depression. Drought is an obstruction to agriculture. Many are still unemployed. Unworkable theories still beset confidence. But an increasing tendency to sound thinking—a determination to get away from government planning and visionary tinkering have stimulated faith. Despite public debts and unbalanced budgets—the indiscretions of man—and dry weather and short crops—the abnormality of nature—dispersion of wild theories and re-establishment of practical policies will undoubtedly make the country bound back into a state of great and healthy prosperity. As a rule, people do not want to be helped. They want to help and direct themselves. And improved times, notwithstanding economic ailments, will find mighty stimulus in setting at rest a period of costly experimentation and wild clamor. We may in time overcome crop losses and unreasonable tax burdens if the track is cleared for the future and if we are assured that private initiative and enterprise are to be adequately rewarded.

LOOKING FORWARD

We heartily agree with the St. Johns Republican News when they say Frank D. Fitzgerald should be given much credit for not having spent as much money in running the business of our state as he received in taxes. This must be a never ending source of mystery to the New Dealers who have not only spent all they took in but have bonded our country to the extent of nine billion dollars, which has been poured out in useless projects for the past three and a half years.

It is a campaign year again, and Governor Fitzgerald could easily have spent this money on some boondoggling idea in order to purchase votes. Instead he has left it in the treasury. With his method of handling our business on a pay-as-you-go basis, we can honestly expect that economy will continue in the operation of our state business. This has relieved us of the specter of increased state taxation. Instead we can look forward to seeing a portion of the amount pared from our tax rolls which made it possible to pay up a six million dollar deficit and at the same time save four million dollars.

The ones who yelled "Bravo" loudest at his inauguration are the ones who yell "Impeach him," because there aren't enough slices to go around.

"Whadya mean long mileage! I didn't even get a hunert miles a gallon with RED CROWN"
murmurs Axel Adverse
THIS SYMBOL identifies the thousands of cars throughout the Mid-west now entered in the World's Greatest Road Test, conducted by Standard Oil.

JUST looking at Axel Adverse, you know that he constantly crusades for truth. No one is going to pull the wool over his eyes when it comes to claiming gasoline mileage.

Anxious to be fair about the whole thing, we'll go a big step beyond Axel's contention and concede that no one gets "a hunert miles a gallon" with Standard Red Crown. But we do have every reason to believe that this excellent motor fuel gives as many miles per gallon as any gasoline you can buy—quite possibly more.

In any event, thousands of midwest motorists are getting the truth, first hand, in the World's Greatest Road Test, instituted by Standard Oil. Even though you may not be driving one of the Research Test Cars, it will pay you to . . .

HALVERSON-GILLETTE WEDDING HERE SUNDAY

Ceremony Performed by Rev. Parker at Congregational Church

At a pretty wedding solemnized at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Congregational church, Miss Geraldine Halverson, of Grand Rapids, daughter of Sam Halverson, of this city, was united in marriage to Earl Gillette, of Grand Rapids.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. R. Parker before a group of relatives and friends. The couple were attended by Mrs. Wayne Belding and Martin Halverson, the latter of Flint, sister and brother of the bride.

Mrs. Gillette, formerly of this city, is a graduate of Charlevoix High school and Davenport-McLaughlan Business College at Grand Rapids. Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Gillette left for a honeymoon at Mackinac Island. They will make their home in Grand Rapids.

DAIRYMEN TO MEET AND ANGLE FOR BIG PRIZE

Pay $5 Pound for Largest Fish During Traverse City Convention

A Mackinaw trout fishing contest, with a prize of $5 a pound for the biggest fish caught, is one of the main events on the program for the summer picnic and outing of the Michigan Allied Dairy Association to be held at Traverse City September 8 to 11.

The opening day will be given over to registration and informal gatherings, with the big fishing contest scheduled for Wednesday, September 9. The contest will be supervised by George Raff and will leave from Northport and may continue all day. The evening will be given over to getting acquainted with competitors.

The Wednesday program for the ladies will include a scenic drive to Cedar Lodge, Northport Point, and a luncheon, followed by golf or bridge.

The following morning a golf tournament has been arranged for the men and a shuffleboard tournament for the ladies. Prizes for all the events will be awarded at a dinner in the evening.

No formal program has been planned for the final day of the outing.

Trout fishermen who are members of the association have been urged to start to the outing a few days early and get in the streams of the Grand Traverse region for the closing days of the season.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hansen have as guest for two weeks the latter's sister, Mrs. T. T. Leonard, of Cleveland, O.

Allan J. McDougall, of Gaylord, candidate for Congress from the 11th district, visited Wednesday with Charlevoix friends.

The first regular meeting of Rebekahs following the summer season will be held Tuesday evening, September 1, at the I. O. O. F. hall.

Miss Gertrude Mathiak and Harold Schinkath, of Detroit, whose engagement was recently announced at a dinner party given at the Book-Cadillac Hotel in Detroit, are visiting Mrs. Ella Brenner and family for two weeks.

Mrs. R. O. Cram, of Port Huron, former local resident, arrived Saturday for a visit of two weeks at the home of Mrs. William Taylor. She was accompanied by her grandsons, David and Vern, who will visit their grandmother, Mrs. Eva Hanshew.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Arnold visited several days here with the former's mother, Mrs. Charles Arnold. They were en route to the Upper Peninsula on a motor tour around Lake Michigan and attendance at a national photographers' convention in Chicago.

SPORTSMEN WELCOME EARLY STEELHEAD RUN

Trout Hitting in Lake Charlevoix Earliest in Recent Years

Charlevoix and down-state sportsmen are greeting with like enthusiasm the news that the steelhead "run" in Lake Charlevoix is under way.

Good catches have been made the past week, marking the earliest beginning of the fall "run" in recent years. Cool nights and low temperatures the past couple weeks is believed to have brought the steelhead out of deep water.

Fishing for smallmouth bass, which diminished almost to nothing for a period of about three weeks, is good again. Excellent catches are being made in the upper and lower channels and in Lake Charlevoix.

If he's around collecting money for a cause, it's likely a dead issue.

BELVEDERE MASQUERADE COLORFUL EVENT OF TUESDAY EVENING

The annual Belvedere masquerade party, presented at the casino Tuesday evening under the direction of Miss Calla Travis, assisted by Jean Darling, was the most colorful event of the summer season.

A capacity gathering of local and summer residents were given a wonderful evening's entertainment by a group of local and visiting artists.

The program opened with a grand march in which over a hundred children in costume took part, followed by children's fox trot. Other numbers included: "Pussy Cat," an acrobatic number by Louise Ann Usher, of Grand Rapids; Junior tap, Betty Pearl, Bobby Wexstaff, Ardis Usher, Kay Bemis and Louise Ann Usher; Butterflies and Bumblebees, featuring Helen and Mary Olin, toe dancers, Louise Ann Usher, soloist, Eleanor Barrett, waltz soloist, as butterflies, and Joan Rassieur, Sally Swinton and Martha McGuire as bumblebees; Heel and Tap dance, Joan Rassieur, Sally Swinton and Martha McGuire; grand march with Bill Tallman leading and a tap number by Mr. Tallman; Deep Purple, a modernistic dance, by Marjorie Edwards and Nancy Price and Miss Nancy Avery, of Grand Rapids, as soloist; Adajio, Indian dance, by Tom and Jean Darling; tap dance by Marjorie Edwards, Nancy Price and Robert Wexstaff, soloist; a tap dance number by Tom Tallman; The Hill Billies, a Belvedere group, singing and musical instruments.

Completion of the children's program brought the Chicago Club and Belvedere groups in their numbers. The former group represented the American Olympic champions in clever get-ups and the Belvedere group, representing South African big game hunters, displayed their prowess by bringing along the prizes of the hunt, a couple baboons, a tiger (skin) hung on poles and some sort of an animal in a cage. Pop-guns comprised their armament. Charlie Upton and his Harem was another feature.

Wexstaff's orchestra, augmented by members of the Stuhlberg Trio, furnished music for the dance numbers, as did also Mrs. Donald Swinton. Wexstaff's played for the dance following.

The party was the most successful masquerade in recent years. Both in quality and quantity the program numbers were wonderful.

STOP ROOSEVELT

The "hue and cry" has again gooe out to "Stop Roosevelt."

Four years ago, when the people of our country, regardless of party politics, were lookieg for a statesman, oot a politician, to radeem them from tha calamitous condition we were in at tha time, with every officer of the ship of state ahsolutely helpless, all eyes turned to one man.

Tha members of every party were looking for the man that could possihly save us, and many possihle saviours were held out to us, hut on scanning their political history, they didn't maasure up, but when the name of the then Governor of New York was meotioned all ayes were turoed toward him; they had studied his history and they liked it, further, they fouod that "Predatory Wealth" was opposed to him, and the peopla of all parties decided that he was the ooe great hope of the American people and immediately was born the "Stop Roosevelt" movement. Was it the common people that started that movement? No. It was "Predatory Wealth" that started that movement and in their wily ways they even secured the help and aid of Al Smith to go out to fight his friend of years aod many others that should have resisted temptation, hut efforts were of no avail, the die was cast, the common people elected as their President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and in four yaars he has more than fulfilled our greatest hopes of prosperity, and he is again the candidate for the common people, but "Predatory Wealth" fights until death; they again resurrected the "Stop Roosevelt" movement.

As Governor of New York he was not afraid of the privileged class aod as President he shows no change, and it being necessary to add many improvements to the "Stop Roosevelt" machine, they have added "Share tbe Wealth" Smith, "200-a-Month" Townsend, "Cheap Interest" Lemke and "Printing Press Money" Coughlin.

Aod did you notice that they started them all working the very moment the Rockefeller candidate was nominated in Cleveland?

I am a candidate for Congress. Vote for me in the Primary Election and if elected you will find another official that will oot he tempted by the wiles of "Predatory Wealth."

GOVERNOR URGES SECOND PAYMENT TEN-YEAR PLAN

Cites Benefits Accruing to Property Owners and Local Government

Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald today issued a statement reminding taxpayers that they must act nt once, if they wish to take ndvantage of the savings offered by the 10-year installment plan of paying delinquent taxes.

"September 1 is the deadline," the governor declared. "Those who paid their first installment last year, and those who wish to come under the plan by making two payments at once, will find it to their advnntage, I am sure, to visit their county treasurer."

Last year, the governor recalled, treasurers' offices were jammed during the closing days, causing much inconvenience and delay. To avoid this, he urged that payments be made as early as possible.

While the state is standing the expenses of the tax-collection drive, Governor Fitzgerald declared it was acting merely as a collection agent. Ninety per cent of the delinquent taxes collected remain in the local community where they originate. They are used for the support of city, township, school district, or county government.

"The state is deeply interested," he explained, "for the reason that a self-supporting local government is the best kind of a government. It is managed by its own people. It is not subject to evils of remote control. Likewise, when a local community handles its own affairs, it does not become an additional financial burden to the state. The local unit of government, the state, and the people in general profit when taxes are paid."

It was Governor Fitzgerald who championed the advertising campaign for tax collection last year, which resulted in the payment of $15,000,000 in first installments, of which $13,500,000 went directly for the upkeep of local governments.

CAN SOUPS NOW FOR EASY MEALS

Mixtures Put on Shelves Now Solve Some of Cooking Prohlems

Recommendation that housewives with extra garden produce will find it worthwhile to can soup mixtures for use when fresh vegetnbles are not easily avnilnble is made by the home economics extension department at Michigan State College

It is often a convenience to put up soup mixtures when other canning is being done. Good soup vegetables include tomntoes, corn, lima beans, okrn, carrots, turnips, celery, onions, pimentos nnd red and green peppers. One of the combinations that are popular can include equal portions of lima beans, corn and tomatoes

Processing under pressure has become the recommended practice for canned soup made in home kitchens. Studies also have been made so that the process can result in the best possible flavor in the products.

For putting up vegetable-soup mixtures the home economics staff suggests the following procedure: Wash and trim the vegetables. They should be cut into small pieces or cubes to get the flavor into the soup and permit better processing.

Bring the soup to the boiling point and pack the vegetables hot with sufficient liquid to cover and prevent too dense a pack. A steam pressure cooker should be operated at 10 pounds pressure or 240 degrees Fahrenheit through the time recommended. For pint glass jars, 60 minutes of processing is necessary. Quart jars need 70 minutes; No. 2 cans require 50 minutes and No. 3 cans 65 minutes, according to the bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture.

SMALL COMBINES CUT REAPING COST

Engioaar Finds Five-Foot Outfits Doing Efficieot Job

Hiram Moore, of Kalamazoo, Mich., over a century ago constructed a combine harvester that would cut, thresh aad separate grain maturing in the field, yet it has only been in the last nine years and especially during 1936 that the combine has been improved and prices lowered sufficiently to make them practical and popular with farmers in the state.

In observations in Michigan this summer, E. C. Sauve, of the agricultural engineering department of Michigan State College, has found small combines costing around $600 doing efficient work in handling standing grain. Combines with a five foot swath have covered 13 to 14 acres a day, approximately the same acreage as the average size grain binder. The small combine is becoming popular because it represents a cost nearly comparable to the binder which it replaces, says Mr. Sauve.

"It is not possible to determine at this time the degree of success of the small combine on all combine crops," Mr. Sauve reports. "The wheat and oat crops have been handled successfully so far. Some of these machines have demonstrated their ability to handle the 1935 soybean crop. Hulling grass seeds and threshing field beans are jobs tried this year."

Power to operate a five foot machine is not a serious problem. A two plow tractor able to exert a 12 to 15 horsepower drawbar pull is considered ample to maintain the desirable even pace of three and one-half miles an hour down the field. The small combine utilizes a power takeoff and runs on rubber tires.

MICHIGAN DUCK SEASON OPENS OCT. 10TH

Canvasback, Red Head Duck Placed on Protected List This Year

While sportsmen and conservation authorities throughout the country were speculating as to whether the federal government would allow any hunting on waterfowl this year, Ira N. Gabrielson, chief of the United States Bureau of Biological Survey, announced a 30-day open season on waterfowl, snipe and coots from October 10 to November 8, with two exceptions.

Canvasback and redhead ducks were added to the protected list this season and cannot legally be shot by the hunter.

Other changes in waterfowl-hunting regulations announced by Gabrielson are to be presented to the state conservation commission, which, by formal action will conform the Michigan regulations to them.

Anyway the World's Fair proved one thing. The "Streets of Paris" were just as crowded as the hootchy-kootchy leg show was back in grandad's day.

OIL-PLATING IS . . .

Oil-Plating is exactly what is formed in your engine by Conoco Germ Processed oil. The Conoco Germ Process scientifically combines a most carefully refined mineral oil with an extra, exclusive "concentrated oily essence"—fully guarded by patents. And this invention enables your Conoco Germ Processed oil to combine with all engine parts so that they become literally Oil-Plated. Oil-Plating does not depend on constant pumping up, because it does not rapidly drain down, but stays put—fixed—Plated. You can see that this firmly fixed, slippy Oil-Plating leaves no un-oiled bare spots in your engine. And that leaves least chance of wear . . . And the less wear, the more oil you save . . . Constitutional Democrats

Who are they? What is their object? Who is the power behind tha throoa?

Answering the first question, they are a hunch of disgruntled, one-time Democrats. At their head is ex-Senator Jim Reed of Missouri, supposed regular until peopla of bis state got wise and elected Baonati Champ Clark lo his stead and he has heen very irregular ever since. Ex-Governor Ely of Massachusetts, the people of that stata tiring of him, elacted Governor Curley in his stead and of course he is had natured over his exit, and some other hig wags from eastern states that we know are closely allied with Wall Street, not forgetting our own ex-Governor Comstock, who was turned down two years ago hy the Democrats of this state when he asked for re-election. Oh, yes! Aod Al Smith is expected hut he doesn't like to come because he got so much "booing" over his Liherty Day speech. He will be thare in spirit, but haso't the nerve to come In person.

These men say they helieve In the Constitution. We all do. But they say Roosevelt signed bills thal were declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. We don't deny it, that is not an uncommoo thing; nearly all presidents did the same thiog and hecause of these U. S. Supreme Court decisions (some of them 5 to 4) they are going to support Landon.

Now let us do a little thinking on their excuse.

The Supreme Court of Kansas reversed more of Landon's laws than the U. S. Supreme Court did of Roosevelt's.

It seems that what is a great sin for Roosevelt is a virtue for Landon.

Now my "ex" friends, let me tell you this: You are not fooling the voters. You must think up a better excuse for your supposed ire. If you can't support Roosevelt hecause of constitutionality, how can you support Landon?

But possibly it is bodily constitution that you are referring to. Being formerly in high office your constitution may require champagne and lots of other condiments that you are not getting now end of course in that case, we think you should get into the Stop Roosevelt Movement with some kind of feasihle excuse end you will feel better for the time being anyway.

Now kindly remember me in the Primary Election.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By Aen Page

Rising prices on dairy products should not be permitted to cut down the average family's consumption of milk, cheese and butter as these foods are particularly valuable for health. Evaporated milk is economical for cookIng purposes and Is equally as wholesome as fresh mllk. ff necessary to cut down, a substitute msy be used for butter.

In general, prices on most foods are no higher than last week and a slight decreaso has been noted in beef and lamb chucks, young chickens, eggs, apples, green beans, lima beans, cabbage and new potatoes.

A "Cinderella" Sues Her "Feiry Godfather"

An article disclosing a former "Follies" beauty's claim that a multi-millionaire paid her $1,000,000 a year for not marrying him. But he recently quit her and her splendor vanished like the fairy tale heroine's at the stroke of twelve. Read the article in The American Weekly with next Sunday's Detroit Times.

How science plans to recover $21,000,000,000 in lo-t treasure from the bottom of the sea explained in an illustrated article in The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next Sunday's Chicago Herald and Examiner.

Tax-payers:

Keep your tax record clear
. . . make second payment on the 10-YEAR PLAN
by September 1st, 1936

TAX-PAYERS of Michigan last year set a notable example for the people of America by paying or reviving their taxes on hundreds of thousands of pieces of property.

Many thousands of tax-payers cleaned up their back taxes in full. Other hundreds of thousands put them on a ten-year plan by paying one-tenth of their total indebtedness for 1932 and prior years.

Now the second payment is due. It amounta to only one-tenth of the amount involved, and to it must be added a carrying charge of 4%.

Don't miss making this payment.

And remember: if you failed to put your taxes on the ten-year plan last year you can still do so by making the first two payments, plus 4%, and a small extra charge on the firat part.

Note:

By paying up your taxes now on the 10-Year Plan you save 8% to 36% on future payments.

MfCHfGAN'S 10-year plan, as enacted by the legislature, provides that on unpaid balances the taxpayer is to add interest at the rate of 4% per annum from September 1, 1935. In other words, on this year's installment the interest charge is 4%. On next year's, 8%. In 1938 it will be 12%. In order to save these advancing costs you can now anticipate all payments by adding only 4%.

LAYING CONTEST OPENS OCTOBER 1

Fifteenth Competition at College Continues Breeders' Program

Encouragement to poultry breeders in Michigan and other states is offered in the announcement that a new egg laying contest will be opened on the campus of Michigan State College at East Lansing for a 51 weeks test beginning October 1.

"There is an incentive to better breeding in these contests," says C. G. Card, head of the poultry husbandry department at the college. "There was little progressive commercial poultry breeding previous to the start of the first contest at the college in 1922-23.

"That first year the high pen of ten birds had a 51 week- record of 2125 eggs. In 1933-34, the high pen was that of E. C. Foreman, Lowell, Mich., whose ten layers had a record of 2755 eggs. In 1934-35, W. S. Hannah and Sons, Grand Rapids, had a pen with a high individual bird laying 327 eggs. That is real production."

An increa-e of 50 eggs per year per bird in commercial flocks, it pointed out, offers a real step in breeding more efficient poultry for distribution from hatcheries and flocks. In the 13 contests already completed and the 14th, now in progress, the breeders making entries pay cost- of the competition. The high pen so far this year is that of the Royal Poultry Farm at Zeeland, with 2226 eggs and seven weeks records still to be made.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Weight—Height—Age

Weight in relation to height is an important health index. Age is a secondary consideration.

The weighing and measuring of pupils in school has proved to be the easiest and most accurate method of following closely the pupil's health between health examinations. It is a definite index of each child's progress from week to week or from month to month. It reveals sudden changes in weight which may be the early indication of a disturbance of health or of disease. It makes possihle the comparison of a child with others of his height and age, and thus interests children in their own health. Weigbt should be determined every month if a child is believed to be normal; more frequently if the child is not normal, as in case of malnutrition.

But the ferm underweight is not synonymous with malnourishment. Badly nourished children are in most cases underweight but that does not signify the terms have the same meaning. Weight in itself has no reference to a state of health. It is of use only as an indicator. As such it should suggest a check-up of the body machinery to determine if anything is actually wrong.

Standard height-weight-age charts are by no means infallible guides. W. A. Stecher, director of physical education in the schools of Philadelphia, says: "Common observation shows that the physique of children varies greatly. Although three children may be of the same age they may be of different height; the weight of the three may vary still more. Our observation chart, therefore, has three divisions based on type. If the child is of the 'tall, slender type,' it is measured according to the normal of thi- type; if it is of the 'short, stocky type' or of the 'average type,' we have on our charts the data which corresponds to these types." The criticism of such a classification is that no satisfactory skeletal measurements for this purpose have yet been demon-trated. Until such mea-urements are devised, any accurate and dependable cla-sification into type- is out of the question.

However, if such height-weight-age charts as we have as wisely used they give some very valuable information. ft is not necessary that the child weigh the exact weight for his height and age as indicated on the chart. If the child is not more than from seven to 10 per cent underweight or from 15 to 20 per cent overweight there is no need to worry. With adults the problem is a little different—those who nre 15 to 20 per cent overweight should consider dieting. It is inadvisable for children ever to diet unless It be by a doctor's orders.

As Dr. Thomas Wood of Teacher's College, Columbia University, sums it up: "Under-health-weight means weight which is at least seven per cent to 10 per cent below the standard table weight. Over-health-weight means weight which is 15 per cent above the table weight in high school pupils; and 20 per cent over table weight in elementary school pupils and younger children."

The MARCH of POLITICS

By JOHN H. O'BRIEN

The Democratic National Committee made a slight error in sending a recent publicity release into Michigan. In other states the statements contained in the release might have been taken for the truth, but not in Michigan.

The item discussed the failure a few weeks ago of two small banks in the East. Examiners of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation appeared and announced that all depositors would be paid in full up to $5,000. In a small bank this meant that practically all depositors were saved from any loss.

Thus far the release sticks to the truth, but this far only. The Committee then goes on to state that were it not for the protection afforded by the Roosevelt Administration the life savings of these depositors would have been swept away. This fact alone, the Committee announces, constitutes a valid claim upon the nation's gratitude.

The news that President Roosevelt, or anyone in his administration, has a "valid claim on the nation's gratitude" for the Federal guaranty of deposits must come as a surprise to Michigan's Senator, Arthur Vandenberg. It was Senator Vandenberg's amendment to the Glass-Steagall banking bill that provided for deposit guaranty. The administration had nothing whatever to do with it. Were it not for the obvious necessity for such a guaranty and the pressure of public opinion it is doubtful if the amendment would have been accepted. Michigan's Senator fought long and well and it is due solely to his efforts that small depositors are protected by their government today.

The claiming of everything good in sight and attributing to your opponents everything evil is a standard political maneuver. Where the voter does not know the truth and has no means of discovering what the truth is, this sort of thing may have some success. Perhaps Roosevelt may receive credit in Alabama, Oregon, or New Mexico for the guarantee of deposits, but not in Michigan. We know a Michigan Republican did that job.

• • •

Touchiest campaign issue this year is relief. The assumption is that the man on relief, while he may not like being there, wants to know that he will be taken care of until something better turns up. For a few, of course, nothing better will ever turn up because they do not want anything better.

The Republican candidates have pledged that relief will be continued as needed. In Gov. Landon's words "there is no future on the relief rolls," and "the record shows that the primary need is still jobs for the unemployed." The Republican nominee's attitude is that outright relief will be continued, simply because it has to be continued if men are to live, but that the real problem is not relief but the substitution of work in private industry.

These statements must be encouraging to the vast majority of men on relief. Work without hope, even in private industry, is depressing. That such an attitude has already spread among relief workers is shown by the formation of WPA Unions and the recent threatened "sit-down strike" in Detroit of WPA workers. The organization of relief Unions gives to the relief set-up the character of permanency. Carried to logical lengths it might develop into a sort of career, complete with regular raises, promotions, and vacations. It is, in fact, the perfect comic opera material in a setting of tragedy.

The average American on relief cannot possibly wish for any such development in relief. If he is penniless and hungry he wants relief and immediately thereafter he wants to get off the rolls and into private industry. It must raise his hopes these days to know that a nominee for the presidency realizes that there is no future on relief.

MAPS ARE AVAILABLE OF DEER TERITORIES

Conservation Department Announces New Service for Hunters

As a service to deer hunters who are planning trips into new and strange country this fall, the lands division of the Department of Conservation has available maps of many northern counties showing the roads, streams and lakes. These maps will be sent on request at a fee covering part of the cost of publication and mailing.

The maps will meet a demand that has been recurrent each fall, particularly from deer hunters from the southern metropolitan centers of the state.

Printed lithographic maps showing in colors the lakes, streams, soil type, forest-cover type and the roads and trails on a scale of an inch to the mile are available at a fee of 50 cents each on the following counties: Antrim, Alpena, Crawford, Kalkaska, Roscommon, Ogemaw and Menominee.

Another set of maps of the blueprint type on a scale of two inches to the mile will be distributed at fees ranging from $1 to $2.50 on the following counties: Alger, Schoolcraft, Cheboygan, Bay, Charlevoix, Chippewa, Iron, Luce, Montmorency and Oscoda. These maps also show the lakes, streams, roads, trails, forest cover types and soil types.

The maps will be handy for spotting the location of camp in relation to the nearest towns and landmarks.

SOW ALFALFA IN AUGUST

NOT FOR YEARS HAVE CONDITIONS been as favorable for seeding alfalfa as they are now. We have plenty of moisture in the soil. On well prepared seed beds,—limed if necessary—prospects are very good for August seedings. Even in September, it is likely to pay to risk 40 pounds or so of Farm Bureau alfalfa seed on five acres.

WE RECOMMEND FARM BUREAU'S CERTIFIED Hardigan or Grimm. They have no superior for yield or quality of hay. Eligible for producing certified seed. We also recommend highly our Michigan Variegated, which is seed produced from fields that were sown to Grimm, Hardigan, Ontario Variegated and other splendid strains. This seed is not certified, but it ranks with the best for hay and pasture, and the seed crop is in demand. The price is a money saver. These seeds are Michigan grown, thoroughly cleaned, high test, and guaranteed to their cash value to be as represented on the seed tog. Only Farm Bureau guarantees seed to its full cash value.

WE ALSO OFFER these reliable, high producing western varieties: Utah-Idaho Grimm, Montana Grimm, Kansas Common, Utah Common. We have some Michigan Variegated containing a little sweet clover and June. It's priced right. The first cutting eliminates the sweet clover.

Rye for Fall Pasture

FARM BUREAU RYE sown in August will make good fall pasture by October, and again early next spring. Sow a bushel to a bushel and a half per acre.

FALL GRAINS

Certified wheat and rye out yield common stock considerably. The small extra cost for certified seed is a good investment. See your Farm Bureau Dealer.

HOUSING PROGRAM AIDS STATE AGED

Would Remove County Farm Inmates to Suitable Private Homes

A program designed to move inmates of county poor farms into private homes has been started by the state old age pension bureau. Under the direction of Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald, Dr. Philip A. Callahan, bureau director, has started a survey of private homes for the aged, nursing homes, and suitable boarding houses.

Under the plan, aged inmates receiving old age pensions would be moved into private homes where their board would be paid partially from their pensions. The system was started on a small scale in Lake county and it reduced the number of county poor farm inmates from 38 to 14. In many cases, where hospitalization or institutional care is necessary inmates cannot be moved, but it is expected that large numbers of the aged can be made more comfortable and happy outside of the county institutions.

AT THE MOVIES

"Sing, Baby, Sing" New Triumph From Twentieth Hit Mint

With Alice Faye swinging torchy new tunes and romancing with Michael Whalen, Adolphe Menjou going daffy and roaming around in his nightie, Gregory Ratoff, the demon dialectician, mangling the English language, the king and queen of comedy, Ted Healy and Patsy Kelly, smashing all laugh records, and the Ritz Brothers bringing a new kind of musical clowning to the screen, "Sing, Baby, Sing" opens August 30 at the Palace Theatre.

Fresh from the hit mint of Twentieth Century-Fox, the picture is said to top their previous triumph, "Thanks A Million," in a million ways.

A laugh-jammed, song-crammed scramboree of stars, songs and show-stoppers, "Sing, Baby, Sing" starts crowding the laughs in the opening scenes and only the sizzling songs and romantic love-making provide interludes from the side-splitting mirth.

"China Clipper," Air Thriller at the Palace

The new dramatic air thriller produced by First National Pictures, "China Clipper," opens at the Palace Theatre September 3, with an all star cast including Pat O'Brien, Beverly Roberts, Ross Alexander, Humphrey Bogart, Marie Wilson and Henry B. Walthall.

The screen play by Commander Frank Wead, deals with the men of unbounded enthusiasm and courage, who were pioneers in establishing transoceanic air lines and the flights of dare-devil pilots who risked their lives in battles with fog and storm to nose their ships into foreign lands.

MRS. HELENE SAILER

Mrs. Sailer is known wherever better cooking is discussed. Her articles and lectures are followed by countless women. She has been engaged by The Courier to conduct the cooking classes the week of September 11-12.

Is Hubby getting just a wee bit suspicious at your oft-repeated "Well the butcher is to blame"? Is he patiently enduring those little dinner tragedies when the prize cake is brought in looking as though it's been sat on? How many times has he looked at you with mute protest in his eyes?

In preparing a meal, you know, as in nearly everything else, it's the little things which count for success or failure. Just a little difference in the amount of vinegar will turn a tasty dressing into so much stove polish . . . . an oven too hot will ruin the labor of hours.

In mother's day, to correct these culinary faults would have meant a long and patient apprenticeship to a skilled cook . . . . her mother, no doubt. Today there's an easier way.

Under the auspices of The Courier, Mrs. Helene Sailer, long time lecturer on finer cookery and domestic science, will deliver a series of interesting talks and demonstrations.

"How to Prepare a BETTER Meal." Held Friday afternoon, Friday evening and Saturday afternoon will deal with the preparation of every type of food. It will be worth your while to attend these classes. They're FREE . . . they're instructive . . . they're interesting. Be sure to come, and bring your friends.

TEMPERANCE LEADERS HEARD HERE TUESDAY

Meeting Scheduled at City Park Conducted at Congregational Church

Due to unfavorable weather, the W. C. T. U. meeting scheduled for Tuesday at the park was held in the Congregational church dining room.

Mrs. Clara P. Todd, treasurer of the Michigan W. C. T. U., and Mrs. Julia Hutton, 15th district president, were guests at a 1 o'clock dinner, after which Mrs. Hutton led in the devotional service and Mrs. Todd spoke on centenary educational program, and especially what is being done in this state. These women were making a good-will tour throughout Northern Michigan in their interest of the temperance work, and were on their way home from the Upper Peninsula when stopping here.

Something of interest to everybody in Charlevoix, which they brought with them, was the mechanical man, named "The Little Salesman," that was displayed in the store window of the Radio-Electric Appliance Shop Tuesday.

COLORAMA DIAL IS ONE OF AMAZING ADVANCES IN NEW G-E RADIO SETS

The colorama dial, an amazing new radio development that automatically changes from red to green when a program is perfectly tuned and assures flawless reception, is one of several new achievements created for General Electric's new line of "Focused Tone" radio receivers now on display at Radio-Electric Service Co.

Acclaimed as a distinct advance in the radio art, the new dial is a product of the same engineering skill that pioneered and developed the famous metal tubes, with which all General Electric radios are equipped. It answers the long-felt need for a visible, sure-method of reaching the highest point of tuning perfection. When the dial shows its brightest green, program reception is at its peak, furnishing life-like tone and undistorted reproduction. The bright green also gives the signal that the station being received is strong and free from noise.

Other new radio advances include: an automatic frequency control that instantly snaps the circuit into "focused tone" position; a local station personalizer that provides "custom-made" station identification; and a silent tuning control that allows switching from one station to another in absolute silence.

Radio enthusiasts will also see many new cabinet designs, employing specially selected woods and finishes of rare beauty. They are the products of master cabinet workers and were designed by General Electric's stylist in collaboration with the country's foremost furniture designers.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Several special services in our church, beginning with the prayer service Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. We are to have Rev. Hubert Reynhout, of Sand Lake, Mich., speak at this service. Rev. and Mrs Reynhout will sail for India October 1.

Morning worship next Lord's Day, 10:30.

Bible school, 11:45.

B. Y. P. U. at 7 p. m.

Evening service, 8 p. m.

Mrs. Rebecca Chapman, of New Orleans, will present a chorus of Negro Spirituals at this service. Those who heard our colored friends last year will want to hear them again this year.

Next Monday evening the World Wide Guild Girls will meet for their annual election of officers.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet next Wednesday night at the church for their annual election of officers and program.

On Wednesday afternoon and evening of September 16, Dr. Henry Ostrom, of the Moody Bible Institute, will hold a conference in our church.

The public is invited and welcomed at all our services.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

August 30: "What Price Glory—What Price Love?"

Again, the Aid Society meets next week Tuesday, in the church, entertained by a committee. This arrangement has proven very pleasant, and more convenient than the old custom of going to the parks.

As announced before, there are but two more Sundays in the Conference year. All accounts and business matters should be settled up at once. Certain benevolence subscriptions should be paid at once.

51ST ANNUAL FAIR OPENS ON SEPT. 8

MANY FINE ATTRACTIONS OFFERED THIS YEAR

Largest Midway, Numerous Free Acts, Horse Racing, Exhibits Assure Visitors of Entertainment

The 51st annual Charlevoix County Fair gets under way at East Jordan next Tuesday, September 8, and, until the gates close Friday night, September 11, the fair officials and board assure the public one of the finest fairs ever staged at the East Jordan grounds.

A grand midway is assured this year as concessions have been issued to fill practically every spot along this popular path. There will be sideshows, rides, merry-go-round, whip, ferris wheel, volplane, chair plane—in fact, everything to take your fancy.

Free acts and attractions this year are above the ordinary. There will be The Four Allens — acrobats supreme, McClintic's Trained Dogs in sensational stunts, livestock parade, balloon ascensions, horse racing, two ball games each day, and three days in which team pulling contests will be held.

Exhibits galore are assured in agricultural, horticultural, livestock, fancy work, school work, etc.

For Wednesday night only a great treat is in store. Radio stars from WLS will present a barn dance crew in two solid hours of great entertainment, commencing at 8:30 o'clock. This alone is worth the price of admission.

Merchants' tickets have been distributed for the past month or so and there will be drawings for cash prizes on each day of the fair.

Schedule for admission to the fair, together with the names of the officers in charge this year, is published elsewhere in the fair's advertisement in this issue.

Read this advertisement and be convinced that the Charlevoix County Fair offers you more this year in the way of education and entertainment than ever before.

POLITICAL RALLY THURSDAY NIGHT ANNOUNCED

Open "On to Victory" Campaign at Meeting in Boyne City

The first volley in the Republican "On to Victory" campaign in Charlevoix county will be fired Thursday evening at Boyne City, according to an announcement by William M. Sanderson, county chairman.

At a meeting scheduled for 7 o'clock at the high school gymnasium in Boyne City, members and township and ward chairmen of the county "On to Victory" organization will be guests of the Boyne City Women's Republican Club. A program of addresses, music and other entertainment has been arranged.

All party workers are invited to attend the meeting, the first of several to be held in the county.

RESORTERS SUPPORT SUBSCRIPTION FOR CLAYTON BROWN

That the heroic struggles of Clayton Brown across Lake Michigan's ice last winter has not been forgotten was made evident last week by the support local resorters gave a general solicitation. The 14-mile crawl to safety and help across jagged storm-blown expanses of open ice cost the fisherman hero two frozen legs, the amputation of which have kept him bedridden and miserable since.

The imminent danger of losing his home to the holder of a personal mortgage on the property, together with the mounting agitation of numerous creditors prompted leaders in this movement to organize a house to house canvass in favor of the helpless man and his little family. To date the total subscription is in the vicinity of some three hundred dollars, with but one refusal registering in 75 doors covered. Heading the list of contributors is Jonas Greenebaum, Michigan avenue, with a one hundred dollar spousor donation.

The support the resorters annually give toward Charlevoix citizens and projects is an important factor in the general welfare of the community.

SEPTEMBER IS GOOD TIME FOR ODD JOBS

Numerous Important Chores Outlined in Ford Almanac

September is a good time to attend to a number of odd jobs that will pay returns later, according to the monthly "Reminders" contained in the Ford Farm Almanac and Facts Book.

It is a good time, the Reminders suggest, to select and dry plenty of seed corn; to tamp and stake wind-whipped trees; to gas or otherwise destroy peach tree borers; to clean, drain and store the power sprayer; to clean and disinfect the farrowing house for fall pigs; to treat wheat for smut; to cull hens; and to check over the heating plant in preparation for winter.

Historically, September is significant as the month in which newspaper publishing was launched in America. Both the first paper published in America, a weekly, and the first daily were first issued during this month, according to the Almanac. The month also contains the date of the Pilgrims' departure from England and of the signing of the treaty at the close of the Revolutionary War.

Two full moons occur during September this year, according to the Almanac. The first is on September 1 and the second on the 30th. Last quarter occurs on the 7th, new moon on the 15th, and first quarter on the 23rd.

DELINQUENTS PAY, MONEY ROLLS IN

TREASURER'S OFFICE SWAMPED WITH TAXPAYERS

Rush Last Week to Beat September 1 Deadline Heaviest on Record In Charlevoix County

County Treasurer Lillis M. Flanders' office in the court house was jammed the past week as Charlevoix county property owners hurried in to pay their taxes before September 1, and save the heavy tax penalty.

Delinquent taxpayers had until Saturday to pay up their taxes for 1932 and prior years without interest or penalty and, not only prevent their property from being listed for sale as tax delinquent, but also save from 27 to 45 per cent on rates and fees.

The state also provided a plan whereby only a portion of the delinquent taxes can be paid at this time, the remainder being allocated over a period of years at a small carrying charge. When this plan is used, the property does not become listed as tax delinquent.

Early last week the last minute rush started and from Monday on the county trensurer's office was rushed handling the incoming money. The entire force was at work throughout the day.

While Treasurer Flanders has been unable to date to furnish figures on the volume of tax money received, she has stated that returns exceeded all expectations and will probably set a new record in the office. With an augmented force in the office, it was necessary to work day and night to keep up with the rush.

LAST REGULAR SUMMER TRAIN SEPT. 13

Post Season Pullman Trains on September 16, 20 and 27

The Resort Special will be discontinued with the last run northbound from Detroit and Chicago on Friday, September 11, and southbound with the last run September 13.

Special post season runs will operate from Charlevoix to Chicago on September 16, 20 and 27, and to Detroit on September 20 and 27. These trains will operate from Charlevoix on the time schedule of the regular season service.

Regular train service will begin September 14. Northbound train will arrive here at 2:15 p. m. and southbound train leaves at 4:07 p. m., daily except Sunday.

TOWNSEND CLUB MEETING SET FOR THURSDAY NIGHT

An out-of-town speaker will address the regular meeting of the Charlevoix Townsend Pension Club to be held at 8 o'clock Thursday evening in the court house. The public is cordially invited to attend the meeting.

COURIER COOKING SCHOOL NEXT WEEK

TWO-DAY PROGRAM, SEPTEMBER 11 AND 12, WILL BE HELD AT THE HIGH SCHOOL GYMNASIUM

Mrs. Helene Sailer, Recognized As One of the Most Capable Cooking School Demonstrators, Will Have Charge of the Event—Merchants Are Cooperating

Sponsored by the Charlevoix Courier, a Cooking School and Home Institute for women of Charlevoix and vicinity will be held Friday and Saturday, September 11 and 12, at the high school gymnasium.

The school, the Courier's second annual event, will provide three sessions as follows: Friday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock; Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, and Saturday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Helene Sailer, recognized throughout the Middle West as one of the most capable cooking school demonstrators, will have charge of the event. Not only is Mrs. Sailer an expert in the preparation of hundreds of delightful dishes and in the efficient use of various cooking appliances, but she is a charming hostess with a pleasing personality. Her message will not only be educational but it will be interesting from start to finish.

The women of Charlevoix and vicinity are cordially invited to attend all sessions. There is absolutely no charge. In addition to the messages on cooking and home making, local merchants have promised to arrange a group of prizes to be presented at each session. According to present indications, larger crowds than ever attended a cooking school in Charlevoix will be present for each program. Features of each session will be different.

Many Charlevoix merchants will cooperate with the Courier in promoting this school. They will have attractive displays of merchandise arranged and they will also provide merchandise to be used in the demonstrations. No merchandise of any type will be offered for sale at the cooking school.

Watch the special edition of the Courier next week for full details of the school.

HANDICAP GOLF TOURNAMENT MONDAY EVENT

Plans Now In Progress for City Tournament Later In Fall

A Labor Day attraction here will be a handicap golf tournament to be held at the Charlevoix Municipal course.

The event will be similar to that held earlier in the season, a handicap affair with prize to the winner and low medalist. Play will start at 10 a. m. and 1 p. m.

Bill Supernaw, professional at the municipal course, and "Doc" Todd, activities director of the Board of Commerce, are working on plans for a city tournament to be held later in the fall. The tournament will be open to men and women with qualifying round and match play. Championship and two other flights are planned for the men's division, and championship flight for women. The date will be announced later.

FISHERMEN SWELLING RANKS OF TOURISTS

Auto Club of Michigan Reports Five Million Bought Angling Licenses

The ranks of the nation's vacationing motorists are swelled considerably by the disciples of Izaak Walton, the total number of fishermen now being estimated at more than 5,000,000 strong, according to Richard Harfst, general manager of the Automobile Club of Michigan, which is affiliated with A.A.A.

"The latest check-up," Mr. Harfst declared, "showed a total of 5,121,320 fishing and combination hunting and fishing licenses had been issued by the various states, bringing in a total revenue of more than $7,000,000.

"Actually, the number of fishermen is even larger than is indicated by these figures, for a goodly number of vacationists fish in the ocean, bay or other tidal waters where licenses as a general rule are not required.

"With five million fishermen on the trail, it was inevitable that the stock of game fish should become seriously depleted in many sections of the country and both the government and the state game commissions have made strenuous efforts to make the supply meet the demand. But even with fish hatcheries working overtime, it is almost impossible to fill the gap caused by this army of fishermen.

"Trout-fishing has recently been growing tremendously in popularity, and tall tales are told of trout-fishermen literally lining the banks of trout streams, with a score or more lures waiting for every fish.

"Men are no longer monopolizing this time-honored sport, for the records show a substantial number of special licenses issued to women and children, while some states issue a special blankte license giving the entire family the right to fish."

FAREWELL FRIDAY FOR DR. STEWART'S FAMILY

Pastor of Church of God Left on Wednesday for Clinton, Iowa

Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Stewart and family were given a farewell party by parishioners of the Church of God at the church last Friday evening.

The Stewarts left Wednesday for the former's new pastorate at Clinton, Ia., after serving two years and two months as pastor of the local Church of God.

Mrs. Robert Dickie voiced the regrets of the congregation over Dr. Stewart's leaving in a very able manner, and Dr. Stewart, in answer, spoke in appreciation of his local congregation and their splendid cooperation during his pastorate here.

The evening was pleasantly spent in visiting and enjoying a program of music followed by a potluck supper.

E. E. WILSON, SUMMER RESIDENT, DIED TUESDAY

Retired Chicago Business Man Had Been Coming Here Many Years

Ethel Edwin Wilson, 76, a summer resident on the Belvedere Club many years, died at 10 o'clock Tuesday at his cottage. He had been ill over a year.

Mr. Wilson had been retired from business for a number of years after a career that included a wholesale grocery enterprise in Chicago, operation of hotels in St. Louis, and the real estate business in Detroit. He purchased the Price cottage on the Belvedere Club in 1926 and had been a summer resident here prior to that time.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Renaud Wilson, and the following brothers and sisters: Dr. Arthur W. and Thomas A. Wilson; Mrs. Fred A. Fielder, Mrs. John Grassell and Mrs. Robert H. Hunter.

The remains were sent to Chicago, where funeral services are to be held Thursday.

SEEKS POST FOR A THIRD TERM

REP. TIBBITS ASKS SUPPORT OF VOTERS OF DISTRICT

The Very Fact of Having Already Served Two Terms Should Not Be Overlooked by Voters

Douglas D. Tibbits, of East Jordan and Boyne City, state representative from the Charlevoix district, comprised of Charlevoix and Leelanau counties, has announced that he is basing his campaign for re-election on a platform of honest public service to the people of his two counties.

Because of experience gained during two previous terms in the state House of Representatives, Mr. Tibbits is peculiarly fitted to carry out his campaign pledge. In addition, he holds the confidence and respect of his collengues in Lansing and, if re-elected, is in an admirable position to see that the Charlevoix district is well represented in matters pertaining to this part of the state.

It is a well-known fact in Lansing that those legislators who have served two or more terms in the Legislature are better equipped and better qualified to represent their districts than are those who are serving their first terms. The fact that Mr. Tibbits has served this district so well during the last two terms of the Legislature gives him an added prestige in governmental affairs. Because he is well taken among the House membership, Representative Tibbits is in line for important committee appointments, and this fact cannot be overlooked by the voters of a district who are interested in a program of honest, efficient, and clean government.

The very fact that Mr. Tibbits has already served two terms in the House of Representatives makes him doubly valuable because he has constructed a foundation of experience upon which to build his program for the 1937 session.

TEACHING STANDARDS ARE RAISED BY STATE

Four Years of College Training Required for Life Certificate

Four years of college training will be required of state teachers seeking a life certificate, it was stated in an announcement by Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, superintendent of public instruction. The rule, which increases requirements from three years to four, is effective after September 1.

Dr. Elliott stated that in 1939 life certificates will be abandoned in favor of temporary teaching certificates to college graduates who must then serve a three year "internship" before receiving permanent certificates. The permanent certificates lapse if the teacher is unemployed for five successive years. The plan is expected to weed out incompetent teachers who have fulfilled training requirements but who are not capable teachers.

The new rule is part of a general plan to improve teaching standards

COUNTY PICNIC PROGRAM READY

ANNUAL LABOR DAY EVENT AT WHITING PARK, MONDAY

Four Ball Games, 4-H Club Exhibit, Flag Raising Ceramony, Sports Are Among Features

(By B. C. Mellencamp)

Nothing is being left undone to insure all Charlevoix county citizens a most enjoyable outing when the long awaited Charlevoix county picnic takes place on Labor Day. It is expected that around 5000 people will onjoy the many features arranged. Everyone is cordially invited, whether young or old. This is your day. Bring yourself and family.

Promptly at 11 o'clock, sports and races will open the day's activity. There will be new races and stunts included. Notice is herehy given to all fat men to commence road work in preparation for the fat man's race. Don't forget to incorporate in your diet plenty of pie, for there will be a pie eating contest.

At 1 o'clock comes the flag raising ceremony. The nbsence of a flag flying in the breeze has come to our attention and an appropriate ceremony is being arranged to unfurl a brand new flag, which is being presented to the park permanently. The American Legion posts in the county will be present to fire a gun salute. Two bands will play for this occasion.

At 1:30 comes the first two ball games. For the first time soft ball will be presented. The first game will be between the Knighthoods of Charlevoix and the Coffee Cups of East Jordan. These teams have won the pennant in the two soft ball leagues recently organized in the county. The second game played at the same time presents the Mud Dodgers of Boyne City and the Ironton Tigers. These games are to be seven inning games and immediately at their conclusion the two winners will play for the county championship. At around 3:30 the Boyne Falls Independents will play Barnard at hard ball. This game likewise will be a seven inning game. If you are interested in baseball, what more can you ask for than four games in one afternoon?

Also at 1:30 will be staged an amateur contest. It is expected that at least 20 acts will be presented to the public. In the majority of cases, the participants will be made up of young boys and girls throughout the county who have already appeared in various contests. Suitable prizes will be awarded the winners. Already search is being made by the committee in charge to secure the best talent available for this contest.

One of the outstanding features of the day will be the annual Charlevoix county 4-H Club exhibit. It will amaze you to see the fine work carried on by the rural boys and girls. The canning club display will consist of at least 400 quarts of fruits, vegetables, vegetable mixtures, jellies, jams and meats shown by nine different clubs and around 60 club members. The dairy calf club show will be another attraction. In this exhibit there will be at least 40 animals shown by as many club members. Many of these are top notch individuals. They will be judged and ribbons awarded the winners.

Music for the day will be furnished by the Boyne City Marine Band, which is a recent organization. They will entertain us throughout the afternoon. Oh, yes, I almost forgot, there will be a horseshoe pitching contest starting at 1:30 and continuing the balance of the afternoon, and if you are hungry or thirsty don't forget that the American Legion posts of the county will be ready to serve you.

Now, here's good news. Free coffee, cream and sugar will be available during the noon hour to make your picnic dinner more enjoyable.

Whiting Park has wonderful water, a fine bathing beach and other facilities, all of which will make the county picnic on Labor Day, September 7, a most enjoyable occasion.

MRS. HERBERT A. LOEB, SR. DIED SUDDENLY MONDAY

Summer residents in Charlevoix were shocked last Monday morning at the sudden passing of Mrs. Herbert A. Loeb, Sr., a regular summer visitor for more than ten years. Mrs. Loeb succumbed in Chicago only a few days after an extended visit at the Smith cottage on Michigan avenue.

Beaver Island Coast Guards are in harbor now after a particularly strenuous week of work. In the worst summer storm of many years, the Coast Guards searched the stormy waters for the ill-fated boat Two Brothers, from Epaufette. The boat was missing four days before the assistance of Coast Guards was called for. The cutter Perry was in port Saturday; it was also called to participate in the search. A report that the bodies of two of the missing men were found has been confirmed by local Coast Guards as this notice goes to press. The Coast Guards were also called out in this same storm to search among the islands for a row boat left there by a pleasure yacht.

Mr. Yeoman, of Detroit, has located on the Arnold place across the road from the Bay View school house.

Charles Peterson was taken to Lockwood Hospital last week, suffering with what the doctors fear is cancer of the stomach.

Gould Pinney called on Mr. Mathias Monday. He begins teaching at Undine next week. His home is eight miles south of East Jordan.

Callers at the J. W. Morse home Friday, Homer Loper; Monday, Mr. McNulty, of Central Lake; Gould Pinney, of East Jordan; Mrs. J. Dawson, Bay View; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mason, Eastport.

Kenneth McKay from town began a term of school at Grand View last Monday. Otto Mathins began teaching at Bay View Monday morning. He is from Manncelona. Central Lake school begins next week, also Bellaire. Mancelona began this week.

The funeral of William Cary, Jr., was held at the Central Lake M. E. church last week. He died from effects of getting his arm broken in a car wreck at Prudenville. A car in attempting to pass a parked car, swerved into the Cary car, breaking Mr. Cary's arm. The car "cut-inners" are getting to be a terrible menace. Instead of waiting behind the car ahead of them until the coming car passes, they "cut-in" and take the fateful chance. Watch the licenses, and see if your experiences have been the same as ours: The Illinois cars are the worst, and the Ohio cars the most careful.

We were pleased to see that the Courier made a correction on the propaganda the "poor dealers" had started about the origin of the banking law, Senator Vandenberg being responsible for this instead of the poor dealers. Some other corrections that should be made are about Presidential Candidate Landon oppressing the poor. It is just the opposite; he has been a friend of the poor. Also his saving ability; he, as our governor, put his state out of debt. Also, Gov. Fitzgerald is not a Catholic, but he and his wife members of the Methodist church at Grand Ledge. A Central Lake man who has a daughter residing at Grand Ledge, says Mr. Fitzgerald is well liked by the home people. Mr. Fitzgerald is against pari-mutuel, and wishes to have civil service rule. He thinks the state should not be in the liquor business, and to have anything to do with it is distasteful to him. He has no political tie with McKay or Green. He was the instigator of the lowering of the auto tax, although the Legislature put it through, so we really have him to thank for saving us so much when we got our auto license. It is easy to start yarns, but the starters should be made to vent to them before the proper authorities and then an example made by suing them for libel. Hoover made Senator Robinson apologize for a wrong statement made about him. This can apply to any party, so is not political talk.

The Republican Primaries to be held on September 15, 1936, are important and it is the privilege and duty of every registered voter to go to the polls.

LIVING COSTS SHOW INCREASE OF 9 PER CENT

The continually mounting cost of living increased nine per cent in July over the first three months of this year in Michigan, a report of the Department of Labor and Industry states.

The cost of feeding an average family of four, two adults and two children, was $7.75 a week in July as compared with $7.13, the average weekly cost six months ago. The cost a year ago in July was $7.48.

DOUGLAS D. TIBBITS

Candidate for Nomination as

STATE REPRESENTATIVE

On the Republican Ticket at the Primaries

September 15, 1936

Offers the people of Charlevoix County the benefits of the experience and prestige gained during the two terms he has served you in the Legislature.

. . . ANNOUNCEMENT . . .

OTTO W. BISHOP

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE TWENTY-NINTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT

I am a candidate for re-election to the office of State Senator on the Republican ticket. It has been a pleasure and a privilege to serve this district during the 1935 session of the Legislature.

Fortunately I secured an appointment on the powerful Finance and Appropriations Committee of the Senate, as well as assignments on the important Agriculture and Conservation Committees and the Chairmanship of the Sanatorium Committee.

In my service on these committees and in the State Senate generally I have always kept in mind, and worked for the interest and welfare of the people of my district. If my efforts have met with your approval, then I will appreciate your support in the coming Primary Election, September 15, 1936. If re-elected, I again promise to aggressively represent you in the Michigan State Senate.

OTTO W. BISHOP

Government Control

Immediately following the inauguratioo in March, 1933, the manufacturers, bankers and railroad men and all classes started their great trek to Washingtoo, in sackcloth and ashes as the Turks of old to the Mecca, to admit their guilt and their helplessness and to cry out in concert—"Mr. Presideot, help us lest we perish."

Being assured that his efforts were directed for the redemption of all and them, too, and that a new plao must he formulated—the New Deal—aod like the Jews of old that were led out of slavery and saw the promised land ahead of them, they returned to their homes with joy io their hearts and labelled their homes and offices with the sign, WE DO OUR PART, and they did it honestly for a while, faithfully for a time, and they felt prosperity begio to return, they saw their worthless stocks and bonds begin to represent real value, and they cried hallelujah from one end of the land to the other. The farmer was encouraged, the wheels of industry began to turn, bread lines ceased and they all glorified Roosevelt in the highest and peace and good will appeared like that of the first Easter morn.

And with more signs of prosperity, the manufacturer began to stick out his chest, the banker to look wise once more, and the capitalist to mount his gilded throne, aod they all went into secret solemn conclave, and they put their heads together, and they reasoned thus—the government has furnished money to start our banks, railroads and factories, but they also are loaning money to the farmer and home owner at low rates of interest, they compel us to raise the price and shorteo the hours of labor, and our husioess traosactioos must guarantee a square deal to all, to the small business man, to the farmer aod to labor. This is awful, this is goverooeot control. We won't staod for it aod immediately the murmurings began.

We want prosoerity but capital must have cootrol of the lives and destinies of the millions of people, forgettiog that through their cootrol, a short time before their holdiogs were worthless, that starvation was abroad io the laod and that the coontry was facing a revolution, through their unsatiatiog greed they revolted against the Presideot, who recognizes oo class distioction, and like wolves io sheep's clothing they began spreadiog their poison, growiog bolder step by step, uotil now they bawl aloud, "Stop Roosevelt."

Face the facts and vote accordingly.

ENSILAGE KNIVES CUT POWER LOAD

Proper Adjustment Can Effect Economies in Silo Filling Job

Michigan farmers filling silos this fall may effect economies in operating their ensilage cutters by considering some pointers given by D. D. Ebinger, Michigan State College agricultural engineer.

Ebinger suggests that farmers may he able to cut their power requirements by giving careful attention to the cutter knives, adjustment of elevating wings, and by avoiding excess speed of the cutter. The knives should be sharp and should be set as closely as possible to the shear plate in order to produce the desired shearing instead of chopping action. The adjustment of the elevating wing should be close. Not more than one-eighth inch between housing and wing is necessary, Ebinger said.

The blower should be set just to lift the ensilage over into the silo and not to provide any excess lifting. Excess speed of the cutter increases power requirement. About 400 revolutions per minute is sufficient for filling a 40-foot silo, he points out.

Farmers who have electricity available may find it desirable to use an electric motor in furnishing the power. A five-horsepower motor will be found satisfactory, provided the above points are considered, Ebinger said. Use of such a motor will cut labor and operating cost, he said. About one kilowatt of an electrical energy is needed for each ton of silage stored.

SET DATE OF TOURIST ASSOCIATION MEETING

Annual Session of Directors in Grand Rapids on October 8th

Date for the annual meeting of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association was set for October 8 by the executive committee of the association in session at Grand Rapids Wednesday, August 26. The meeting, at which all the members of the organization are expected to be present, is open to the public.

The meeting will convene at 11 o'clock the morning of October 8.

During the afternoon the session will be given over to a discussion of the success of the ragweed eradication campaign this summer and to plans for its furtherance in coming years, and to discussions of codification and enforcement of laws that have to do with the protection of the tourist and resort public.

The banquet in the evening will be followed by a floor show, an address on the progress of the Manistee National Forest, and a talk by a nationally known humorist.

CONSERVATION DEPT. RELEASES NEW FILM

"Michigan Forests" Title of New Three-Reel Moving Picture

"Michigan's Forests," a new three-reel conservation movie, will be available for loan to schools and organizations of the state September 15, it was announced by the Department of Conservation today.

The movie was filmed by Walter E. Hastings, staff photographer of the department, and shows reforestation work, technical forestry practices, fire prevention and suppression.

Fried or broiled chicken will be an excellent choice for at least one of the Labor Day week-end dinners. If you should serve it hot on Sunday, cook enough to serve cold on the holiday picnic.

Cre. lima beans, tomatoes and sweet potatoes are plentiful and reasonable and all are good to serve with chicken.

This country is particularly blessed in its climate which makes it possible for us to enjoy a great variety of delicious and cheap fruit. This week we have peaches, pears, plums, fresh prunes, grapes and melons in abundance. Cooking apples are also plentiful and cheap.

Beef and lamb chucks are reasonable. Egg and butter prices are slightly easier.

The New Firestone STANDARD

SAFETY AT LOW COST FOR YOUR HOLIDAY TRIP

FEW car owners realize how easily an otherwise perfect Labor Day trip can be spoiled by tire trouble. Now Firestone makes it possible for you to equip your car with four new tires that will give you blowout protection, non-skid safety and long mileage — at prices remarkably low.

Ever since the introduction of the new Firestone Standard Tire the Firestone factories have been running day and night to take care of the demand. Car owners were quick to recognize the outstanding safety and economy of this remarkable new tire. The extra values in the new Firestone Standard Tire are made possible because Firestone saves you money five ways—buying better raw materials at the source controlling every step in processing the raw material, more efficient tire manufacturing, volume production and more economic distribution.

Come in today and see this amazing new tire. You too will agree that never before have you seen so much tire for the money. Don't take chances on unsafe tires on your holiday trip — let us equip your car with a new set of Firestone Standard Tires — first choice of thrifty car owners.

FERTILIZE LAWN TO CURB WEEDS

Application in September Also Will Increase Vigor of Grass

Fertilization of lawns during the first part of September not only will increase the vigor of the glass but may help solve the crab grass problem for next year says James Tyson, of the Michigan State College soils department.

An application now of fertilizer helps the grass to make growth ahead of weeds and provides needed nourishment for the grass during the fall growing period, says Tyson. Because the lawn grass continues some growth after the first frosts, fertilization of the lawn may be helpful in controlling crab grass which is killed at the first frost. The lawn grass continues to make growth and is thus better able to crowd out the crab grass next spring.

If a complete fertilizer has been used during the present growing season, five pounds of ammonium sulphate per 1000 square feet will be all that is necessary now. If the lawn has not been fertilized during this summer one should use 10 pounds per 1000 square feet of a 10-6-4 commercial fertilizer. Either of the fertilizers should be used only when the grass is dry and then sufficient water applied to wash in the chemical. Otherwise the turf may be injured.

A CHALLENGE TO COURAGE

For some time we have wondered whether we would be living in the great nation we are, and under the proud flag we do, if the hearty settlers that landed on the rock bound coast of New England had been the kind of men that needed to depend upon a paternal government for a living. I am afraid not. Their undertaking took courage, and they left behind them brave traditions based on that courage.

Ever since those men founded a colony and that colony grew into a great nation, that nation has been known the world over as a land of equal opportunity. It is true there have been times of adversity. But we Americans have always faced those adverse times with the same bravery shown by our forefathers, and in the end we have triumphed over them. We are gradually coming out of the depression. Courage is needed by us all in the work to continue this upward swing. It may, or it may not have been government spending which started the pendulum in the right direction. Whatever it was, now is the time to cease the appalling expenditure of funds on government projects which are creating federal dependents. Over-guidance and over-government inevitably tend to create a permanently helpless class of people.

Let business itself shoulder the burden. We must not leave an enormous debt upon the shoulders of our future generations. This would certainly be an heritage of which they would not be proud to boast. We must rid ourselves of the party now in power in Washington, for it is taking advantage of a situation which no longer exists, by building up in the minds of the people the idea that they will starve unless it is returned to office and can continue these terrific expenditures.—C. B. K.

MENACE LURKS IN WEEDS

We could not live in this world of ours without green life, which includes weeds. Man might exist without other animals, but either directly or indirectly, he gets all of his food, almost all of it, from the green life. But there is a season in the year when this vegetation becomes not only a nuisance but a menace. It is the time when every vacant lot has grown into a miniature jungle, and many a roadside looks like a young forest. Weeds should have a pleasant youth, a short middle life, and never know the pangs of old age. For in old age they sift pollen into the air which aggravates the suffering of the hay fever victim, and in very dry seasons, such as the present one, they contain a decided element of danger. It is a fire hazard of the first order. This year fire losses were in excess of $20,000,000 over the first five months of 1935. In the last two months fire losses in rural communities have been exceedingly heavy.

We should all of us look around our neighborhood to see if there is any spot where a fire could get a quick and dangerous start. If so, go to work. It's as good exercise as a game of golf.

SLEEP FOR SAFETY

Now and then as you drive along the highway you notice a truck or car parked just off the road and the driver napping in the car or under a nearby tree. Such drivers possess good sense in taking time to relax and sleep a while instead of periling their lives and those of others by attempting to drive when sleepy.

Dr. Brant Clark of the University of Southern California, a psychologist, experimenting on the effects of long periods without sleep, says that one of the greatest effects is the impairment of vision when the body is tired. Lack of sleep causes bad perspective, slows the eye movements and causes poor color judgment. It makes one insensible to noise and even gives a high degree of insensitivity to pain.

In cases where people maintain they have gone for years without sleep, it is found that such persons doze off while resting, even though they do not realize it. Experiment has proved that the utter exhaustion produced from going without sleep causes death.

FREEDOM

The need of the time in all communities beset by unusually unfavorable conditions is freedom from small bickerings, freedom from factional strife, freedom from jealous hate. Lifted and broadened vision is imperative not only to promote growth and welfare, but to ease the pathway of the least fortunate in his uphill pull.—Wayne (Neb.) Herald.

NEW GAME LAW DIGESTS ARE BEING DISTRIBUTED

Supplies for 2,000 Deer and Small Game License Dealers Ready

The new 1936-1937 game law digests are ready.

Distribution of the digests, together with new waterfowl regulations, small-game and deer hunting licenses and tags has been started by the Department of Conservation.

Supplies are being mailed to nearly 2,000 license dealers in Michigan and nearby states and it is expected the distribution will be completed well before the opening of the upland hunting season.

TOWNSHIP CLERKS GIVEN ELECTION INSTRUCTIONS

A pre-primary election school of instruction for township clerks and election officials in Charlevoix county was held Friday forenoon at the court house by County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow. Attending the school were Paul Skornia, of Bay township; Otto Hausler and Frank Pierce, of Boyne Valley township; Lloyd Arnold, of Charlevoix township; Clyde Clute and Floyd Griffin, of Evangeline township; Zula Struthers, of Hayes township; Jay Adams, of Marion township; Louis Sevenski and Martin Duff, of Hudson township; Theodore Hull, of Melrose township; Mrs. Otilia Ricksgers and Anthony Greene of Peaine township; Claude Pearsall and Charles Shepherd, of Wilson township.

Visitors Surprise Mrs. Poole

Mrs. William Poole had a very pleasant surprise recently when a group of 14 friends and relatives from scattered points gathered in one day at her Park avenue home for a visit. None of the group knew of the intentions of the others, thus the unexpected gathering was a very pleasant one. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lynn, of Chicago; Mrs. Flora Papineau and daughter, Grace, Billy Papineau, Mr. and Mrs. George Hamilton, Harvey and Frank Hamilton and the latter's friend, Miss Esther Rosenbaum, all of Detroit; Mrs. George McMulkin and Mrs. James Tumath, of Ironton, and Miss Sarah Downey, of Hermansville, Mich.

MICHIGAN STATE COLLEGE SHORTS

Picking the so-called soft fruit such as the tomato, peach, grape, or strawberry, while they are rather green may be necessary in areas of Michigan affected by the Alabama moth, says Ray Hutson, Michigan State College entomologist. This moth is the only one in this section capable of piercing the skin of soft, ripe fruits. This is done by means of spines on its mouthparts. The insect then feeds upon the juices which exude and upon the soft tissue just beneath the skin. The result is water-soaked areas, which serve as entries for fungi. Picking the fruit before it ripens fully is the only means of preventing injury.

Wood shavings or ground corn cobs properly treated may be effectively used as a filled between walls and ceilings of the poultry house to provide cheap insulation, say Michigan State College agricultural engineers. The material is treated with lime in the proportion of two pounds to 100 pounds of insulation material. The lime is used to make the insulating material unattractive to rodents or insects.

Sowing winter oats or barley on land capable of producing good spring crops—in an attempt to avoid loss if the next season were too drouthy for the spring-sown crop—is not advisable, according to R. E. Decker, Michigan State College extension specialist in farm crops. Inquiries have been received from farmers who wish to purchase winter oats seed, but the farm crops department does not recommend this seed for use on land that normally would grow good spring oats. Many times such seedings are prone to winter-kill, largely because of the danger of the "heavy" soil, which is the soil on which spring seedings flourish. If the stand of winter oats does survive, usually the yield is inferior to that of spring oats. Appreatly winter oats succeeds on sandy soil in southwestern Michigan where no one would anticipate large yields of spring oats, Decker said.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

September 6: "Can Folks Really Know God."

This will be the last Sunday of the year. The pastor goes to Conference very early Tuesday, and as Monday is a legal holiday, with banks closed and people away, the church business should be settled up benevolence and missionary money, this week.

Tonight—Thursday—a meeting of the official board at the parsonage, at 8 o'clock.

The Conference is in Battle Creek, and one of the highlights is the lecture by Gen. Smedley D. Butler, who seems not afraid to disclose some of the seamy side of our naval and other governmental situations.

SEEKS POST FOR A THIRD TERM

know what their legislative representatives in Lansing do to earn their pay checks. Representative Tibbits can justly point with pride to his record of the past two years. He was on the job every say during all sessions each term. He got things done. Here are some of them:

Advocated and fought for reduction in automobile licenses. Hopes to secure a like reduction for farm trucks.

Helped in the cancellation of interest and penalties on delinquent taxes, and the 10-year payment plan for delinquent taxes.

Helped do away with state property tax with consequent saving in expense in the auditor general's office in Lansing.

Fought for and secured, in committee, a 50 cent fishing license, instead of $1 as proposed.

Sponsored and secured legislation outlawing deep water trap nets which were ruining commercial fishing in the Great Lakes.

Voted against the first old age pension bill with head tax attached. Helped put into effect a fairly sensible pension law that provided a definite sum of money for needy aged people. He plans to secure more money for pensions through further economies in state government by doing away with duplication of work now costing more than it should.

Offered a proposed constitutional amendment which would have made constitutional a $10,000 salary for the governor, and $5,000 for the state treasurer, auditor general and secretary of state. If this had been adopted these officers would receive, under the constitution, no more than they are already getting, but it would have made possible the abolition of the state administrative board with a consequent saving to the state of an estimated half million dollars per year. This proposal passed the House 70 to 14, but died in the Senate.

Introduced a bill to take the state highway department out of politics, use the money now meant for roads to be used only in the construction of roads and not in paying highway workers to campaign prior to election. This would have done away with the election of a state highway commissioner, put the department under a set-up somewhat similar to that of the conservation department and we believe would mean more roads for our money.

Secured an appropriation to keep a doctor on Beaver Island so the islanders could have medical attention the year around.

Supported and worked for legislation to enable schools to operate despite the breakdown of real estate tax collections; relieved rural school districts of having to pay tuition in city high schools for rural students.

Secured for the state conservation department a tract of land for a new state park. This tract has one and one-half miles frontage on Lake Michigan, south of Charlevoix. It is to be developed and will provide one of the finest parks on Lake Michigan, worth thousands of dollars to Charlevoix county as a tourist attraction. Tibbits consistently has supported legislation and appropriations for advertising Michigan as a resort state.

The exhaustive research and number of conferences incident to such a program of accomplishment takes time, energy and intelligence. He served on the House committees of Michigan University, Western State Teachers' College, fish and fisheries, aeronautics and state sanitorium.

The Charlevoix-Leelanau state representative district was much in evidence during the last two sessions. Thus speaks the record, in part, of Douglas Deforest Tibbits, in Lansing. Matters of vital interest to the Charlevoix-Leelanau district will be in safe hands and effectively looked after if Mr. Tibbits is returned for a third term.

GAS, WEIGHT, REVENUE IS HIGHER THIS YEAR

State Highway Department Reports Increase in Both Taxes

Highway revenues have increased about 13 per cent over last year, State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner has reported.

The figure reveals a greater percentage increase in weight tax receipts than in gasoline tax revenue. The former have increased 15 per cent while gasoline tax collections have jumped only 10.4 per cent.

Weight tax collections for July amounted to $741,569 and for the year through July they totaled $15,112,321. The latter figure compares with $13,137,227 for a like period last year.

Net gasoline tax collections during July for the month of June amounted to $2,424,539. The total net collections for the first six months of the year reached $11,627,608 compared with $10,524,459 for the same period last year. The average collections for this year over a four-year period have amounted to $9,775,857.

All of the weight tax receipts are turned directly over to the counties with the State Highway Department acting only in the capacity of a collection agency. Out of the gasoline tax receipts, the department will turn back $6,550,000 to the counties this year, $4,000,000 under the McNitt law abolishing township roads and $2,550,000 under an act of the 1934 special legislative session reducing the weight tax by 36 per cent.

Commissioner Van Wagoner pointed out that statutory obligations other than the returns to the counties further reduce the amount of highway revenues remaining for construction purposes. He said that less than $3,500,000 a year has been available the last three years for construction, right-of-way, engineering, overhead, etc.

S. O. TO BROADCAST CHICAGO, DETROIT FOOTBALL GAMES

MARKET BROADCAST RESUMED ON AUGUST 31ST

Michigan Ford Dealers Join in Bringing Service to Farmers

Broadcast of the Farm Market Reporter, a 15-minute program bringing to the rural population the latest farming news and livestock, grain and poultry quotations, will be resumed August 31 under the sponsorship of the Ford Dealers of Michigan.

The program will be heard five days weekly, Monday through Friday, from 12:15 to 12:30 p. m., over Station WXYZ and the following stations of the Michigan Radio Network: WELL, Battle Creek; WIBM, Jackson; WKZO, Kalamazoo; WFDF, Flint; WOOD-WASH, Grand Rapids; WBMC, Bay City; and WJIM, Lansing.

George Boutell, manager of the Michigan Livestock Exchange, who is widely known among Michigan farmers, will again be the Farm Reporter, broadcasting complete reports from the major market centers. Harold True, veteran radio news-caster, will be announcer and commentator. Mr. Boutell's reports and Mr. True's comments on farm news highlights will be supplemented by hill billy music by Mountain Pete and his Ford V-8 Mountaineers, regularly heard over WXYZ.

Five programs early in the fall series of the Farm Market Reporter, from Monday, September 7, through Friday, September 11, will be broadcast directly from the stage of the Ford V-8 Theatre in the Ford Transportation Building at the Michigan State Fair. Persons at the fair will be invited to see and hear the broadcasts and to remain each day following the program for a 45-minute stage show in the theatre which will feature the Mountaineers and either the Escorts Male Quartet, the Girl Friends Trio or one of the following WXYZ soloists: Audrey Warner, blues singer; Lois Brady and Cyril Wezmael.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Mind" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 6.

Among the Bible citations is the following (Gen. 1: 27): "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 94): "Man reflects infinite Truth, Life, and Love. The nature of man, thus understood, includes all that is implied by the terms 'image' and 'likeness' as used in Scripture."

HUCKLEBERRY CROP WAS SHORT ONE THIS SEASON

The huckleberry crop, like many farm crops, was hard hit by the heat and drought of July and has proved one of the smallest in several seasons, according to reports from the north. Berry pickers, however, found some compensation for the scarcity of berries in the price, which was higher than last year.

WARNING IS ISSUED TO FRUIT GROWERS

State to 'Crack Down' on Sellers Who Do Not Remove Spray Residue

Fruit producers were warned by Agricultural Commiasioner James F. Thomson today against marketing fruits this fall which bear spray applied to destroy insects.

Thomson said the state intends to "crack down" on those producers who sell products without first removing spray residue.

He said seven field laboratories have been established in fruit belts where producers may take samples of fruit to determine what solution should be used to neutralize spray. These laboratories are located at Benton Harbor, Fennville, Muskegon, Shelby, Traverse City, and South Haven. Another is planned in the Detroit area.

Thomson warned that with these facilities at hand, those who fail to cleanse their fruit properly may expect prosecution. Failure to remove the spray makes the producer liable to a maximum penalty of $500 fine or one year in jail, the commissioner pointed out.

"Mohicans" Presents Redskin As He Was

A true picture of the early American Indian and the early American Pioneer is offered in "The Last of the Mohicans," Reliance Pictures' colorful filmization of the immortal James Fenimore Cooper classic which will begin n two day engagement at the Palace Theatre September 0, with Randolph Scott, Binnie Barnes and Henry Wilcoxon heading a truly all-star cast.

The tribal life, times and customs of the Mohegan Tribe of Upper New York State in the middle years of the eighteenth century are vividly and faithfully reproduced with no pity or synthetic sympathy injected. Brave Uncas and Chingachgood and trencherous Magua are there, as is Nettie Bympo or Hawkeye, the eternal pioneer.

Bette Davis and William Again In Same Picture

Although both have been continuously under contract to the same studio for more than three years, Bette Davis and Warren William worked together in the same picture for only the second time.

The production is "Satan Met a Lady," the Warner Bros. picture showing at the Palace Theatre September 12.

The last picture in which the two were co-starred was the political satire, "The Dark Horse," filmed in 1932.

MANY FARMERS N THIS COUNTY REPAYING LOANS

Continual and heavy repayments of loans obtained by farmer members from their Production Credit Associations indicate an increasingly truer understanding and keener appreciation of credit, in the belief of George Susens, president of the Production Credit Corporation of St. Paul.

Illustrating his point, he cited the Gaylord Production Credit Association, which serves farmers in this county.

"Secretary-Treasurer A. J. Townsend reported cash repayments of $35,000 during the first six months of this year," Mr. Susens said, "while up to that time the association had made 168 new loans, and after the cash repayments had been deducted still had $132,000 outstanding in loans to its members."

The MARCH of POLITICS

By JOHN H. O'BRIEN

Much of the criticism that has been leveled against Senator Couzens since his desertion from the Republican Party does not hold water, but two charges made against him, and they are the gravest of all, can not be denied

These charges are that in turning his coat he betrayed his friends and that in running on the Republican ticket he is being politically dishonest.

No one can object to Couzens' decision to change parties. Every man is entitled to make personal decisions according to the dictates of his own conscience and his own view of the right. Couzens has been irregular from a party viewpoint from the day he took office. His complete disavowal of the party and its principles might have been expected. If his action were the simple changing of allegiance from one party to another no voice could be raised against him in any valid attack. Indeed, the senator might have come out of the matter a greater man than before. His candor would be admired, his honesty praised, and his adherence to personal principles respected.

The truth is, of course, that the senator's action is not quite so simple as that. In the first place he is a candidate on the Republican ticket. If he is not a Republican, he does not belong there and his being there is a political untruth. The ethical thing for the senator would have been to stay off the ticket. Since he is on it the next best thing he could do is to get off. His candidacy has become a rather dreary joke and the merciful thing for him to do is call off the whole thing and retire quietly into private life. He can get no Democratic assistance and between him and Brucker he has left Republican voters no choice. Wilber Brucker, in truth, is the only Republican candidate for United States Senator.

Couzens' announcement has bitterly disappointed the friends whom he betrayed. He has placed them in a ludicrous light. They have been persistent in their statements that Couzens is a Republican. A pamphlet issued by the Couzens-For-Senator Committee, under the signature of Thomas W. Payne, chairman, pleads for support of Couzens because "James Couzens will make votes for every Republican candidate. . . . . The Republican Party MUST WIN in November." Here are some chapter headings: He Puts Party Ahead Of All Personal Gain. A Loyal Republican, He Votes Intelligently And Sincerely. Senator Couzens Always A Stalwart Republican. It would be interesting to know now how Mr. Payne really feels about Senator Couzens since the senator has made of his little pamphlet a humorous document.

Mr. Payne is not alone. Couzens during the years has made many a loyal friend. To subject that loyalty to ridicule is inexcusable; it is too fine a thing to put at the whim of a man whose policy has always been to do just as he pleased about anything, regardless of its effect. Therein lies the injustice of Couzens' action.

* * *

As far as Republican county committees go, Couzens is no longer a candidate. A large group of Republicans who had not made up their minds between Brucker and Couzens have had their minds made up for them by Couzens and all that is left to do now is to count the ballots.

The next thing to expect from Couzens is his announcement that he will support Prentiss Brown, of St. Ignace, the Democratic candidate for United States Senator. Consistency of any kind is not to be expected of the senator, but he has to support somebody and it certainly will not be Brucker. Before he gets through "Senator Couzens Always A Stalwart Republican" will be the greatest New Dealer of them all. Republican sentiment is that Couzens has shown his true colors at last and that the Democrats can worry about him from now on. They can expect to have their troubles.

* * *

A citizens committee statement published in the Gladwin County Record, headed "Tammany Moves To Gladwin" goes on to tell how Vallie Knox, an employe of the Highway Department, was discharged because he is a candidate for the office of county surveyor, a job that pays only $25 a year. The advertisement states that there are three other Gladwin county candidates employed by either the Highway Department or the Works Progress Administration. They have not been requested to resign. Knox is a Republican. The three other candidates are Democrats. And it is the boast of the Highway Department and the WPA that they are free from politics!

LUNCHES AFFECT SCHOOL PROGRESS

At Least One Hot Dish Is Essential for Child's Welfare

Progress that a child makes in school is influenced by the sort of lunch he eats at noon. Roberta Hershey, extension nutrition specialist, Michigan State College, points out that this noon lunch should receive more attention than merely preparing a few sandwiches of miscellaneous left overs and a piece of cake.

"The noon lunch for the child who must carry his meal with him challenges the imagination and skill of the home maker," Miss Hershey says. "In the first place, every child should have at least one hot dish each meal, particularly from September to June. Hot dishes usually have a better nutritive value than cold ones and also tend to stimulate the appetite and digestion. If hot dishes cannot be obtained at the school, the school luncheon lunch box should be equipped with a thermos bottle so that the home may supply this lack."

A good pattern for a lunch box may include the following: sandwich with a filling of meat, cheese, egg, fish, peanut butter, baked beans or a substantial food with bread and butter; a succulent food such as salads, vegetable sandwich, raw or cooked vegetables or pickled vegetable or fruit; milk, for drinking or in a bottle of milk soup, cocoa, custard or other milk puddings; fruit or fruit juice; and something sweet.

If a thermos bottle is available a great care of the problem of providing nutritive lunch for the child is solved. The homemaker should not overlook the importance of packing the lunch attractively and providing little surprises in the choice of food from day to day.

Choice of lunch box has a great influence upon the ease in which the child's noon meal is planned and also upon his desire to eat the meal. Lunch boxes should always be of tin or aluminum so that they may be easily cleaned and scalded.

Three Rivers, Mich.,
September 2, 1936

The Editor,
The Charlevoix Courier,
Dear Sir:

Down around the Cigar Store here they got to talking and somebody said that a Mr. Murphy and a Mr. Welsh have locked horns to see who will be the Democratic candidate to be defeated by Governor Fitzgerald at the autumnal election.

Whoever it was who was talking at the time said Mr. Murphy is one of the eighteen or nineteen Murphys seeking public office this fall—while Mr. Welsh used to be a Republican and a mighty good sliphorn-player.

I also heard that Mr. Murphy is the only Irishman who speaks with a Filipino accent. He was over in the Philippines on a WPA project, they said, when he heard President Roosevelt whistle. He came a-running. But so did 16 or 17 other Murphys. They heard the whistle, also. Now we're not only suffering from humidity. But Murphydity, too.

Mr. Welsh's slogan, so they said down at the Cigar Store, is: "Once a staunch Republican, always an honest Democrat." But he never should have quit playing the slip-horn. Good sliphorn players are hard to find. And Democratic candidates right today are running a lot higher average than filling-stations, which is four to the city block.

I haven't any way of telling which one of these two candidates in the primary will be successful after they quit tramping down the burdock around the state. But if Mr. Welsh wins there won't be so many Murphys to get puzzled up about in November.

And Mr. Welsh, after the election, can go on being Michigan's most versatile sliphorn-player.

P. S.—I was talking to Cleon Hoopingarner the other day down south of town on Broad street. He was hoeing beans in his truck patch and he said he guessed he'd vote for Fitzgerald, when it came time. Cleon said: "I think he's honest. And when you get a governor that's honest there ain't much use fiddledickin' around tryin' to find another one. You might make a mistake."

yrs (sgd) C. S.

P. S. S.—Cleon Hoopingarner has some relatives over around Burr Oak—but I don't know if he's any relative of the Hoopingarner Boy from over there who went to sleep in a ten-ton truck and crashed through the balcony of Mel Lott's hotel here two years ago. He was almost ready to register when he woke up. Mel had the pen all ready for him to sign.

FORMER ATWOOD YOUNG MAN WAS MARRIED ON AUGUST 15 AT CHICAGO

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Harwood, of Atwood, have announced the marriage on August 15, at Chicago, of their son, LaVerne J., to Miss Alice Alberta Freeman.

The former Miss Freeman is a resident of Alberta, Canada, but for the past several months has been staying with relatives in Chicago. Mr. Harwood was born and grew to manhood on the farm of his parents near Atwood.

The couple will reside in Chicago.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

Early Auto Tags Trave Car Growth

One of the primary attractions in the basement of the state capitol, so far as tourist interest is concerned, is the display of Michigan's automobile license plates from 1908 to the present day, recently mounted in a glass case by direction of Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state.

The first "plate," that of 1908, was a mere metal disc, or seal, the smallest license "plate" ever issued by the state. In that year, only about 3,150 motor vehicles were registered in Michigan; the discs cost but 50 cents each.

In 1909, a comparatively enormous plate of heavy leather, with tin "house numbers" nailed to it, was fashioned. There was no indication on the plates of the year issued, but it was so distinctive, there was hardly much need for that.

The state's seal was first used on plates in 1910, when an enameled plate was formed from heavy metal. The seal appeared either enameled or riveted, each year thereafter including 1919, when it was last used. The biggest license tag was issued in 1926. Letters were first used in 1933. Twenty-nine tags are contained in the display.

Near this case is one containing 1936 license plates from other states. Michigan's is almost prosaic compared with that of some states, notably that of Tennessee, the only state in the union to shape its plates to follow its geographical outlines.

The outline of Montana appears in the background of its plate, however. Wyoming divides its plate numerals with the figure of a "bronco buster" astride a pony. A pelican divides the Louisiana numerals into halves. Pennsylvania, "The Keystone State," displays a small keystone on its plate.

Maine's plates carry the word "Vacationland" across the bottom. Rhode Island calls attention to its "300th anniversary" of statehood this year on its plates, while Texas similarly remembers its "centennial" with that word displayed.

Arizona achieves distinction by making its plates from copper, reminding people that this is "The Copper State."

GAYLORD ATTORNEY OUT FOR CONGRESS

Allan J. McDougall, Gaylord attorney, who very early in the game shied his tin hat in the political ring and went over the Eleventh Congressional District and shouted from the house tops and the barn tops and other high places that he was going to be a Republican candidate for the office of Congressman, right in the face of the fact that at that time the present Congressman from this district, Prentiss Brown, whom all Republican of the district had so much feared, had not made the announcement that he was not going to be a candidate, Mr. McDougall let it be known that he was not afraid of the big bad wolf, and that he would make as vigorous a campaign for the office as his ability, his time and his funds would permit.

Later, when Mr. Farley "drafted" Mr. Brown to run for the Senate, there were plenty of "brave" Republicans who were willing to sacrifice to gain the office. As soon as Mr. Brown was eliminated as their possible foe in the race for the toga, they were all brave, and willing to run. Mr. McDougall was in this county this week and we believe that he made many supporters while here. You just can't help but admire him; you just can't help but believe that he has ability to fill the position, and therefore, what's a good Republican going to do? It's our opinion that a great many of them are going to declare for Mr. McDougall who, when our country was in danger, went over and helped to make some grand unforgettable history, and who, as well, will again be there when he is called upon to take care of his constituents and their interests as their Congressman at the national capital.—Otsego County Herald.

Music, Sports and 4-H Club Display Were Big Features — Contest Winners Announced

(By B. C. Mellencamp)

The 14th annual county pienic, in spite of a rainy forenoon, resulted in one of the most enjoyable occasions yet held. The running races and sports took place at 11 o'clock. As usual, hundreds of young folks either enjoyed or participated in the various events. Races for both boys and girls were staged, including the ages of eight on up to 16 and over. The pie eating contest was by far the most exciting contest. When the smoke of battle had cleared, Jerry VanDorn proved to be the champion pie eater. Next Jerry claims he can eat n pie standing on his head, and no one disputes him.

At 1:30 a very impressive flag raising ceremony was carried out under the direction of the three American Legion posts in the county. From now on Old Glory will be flying in the breeze. The Boyne City Marine Band played the "Star Spangled Banner" in the beautiful ceremony. Immediately at the conclusion, the Boyne City Marine band and the Boyne Falls group of young musicians entertained the audience with several numbers from the platform.

The next feature presented was the amateur contest. Talent was secured from all sections of the county and without a doubt was one of the best collections of acts put together in one program. First place went to the Shoe Shine Girls in a tap and song number. Second place went to the 4-H Club boys in a string trio; third to little Mary Jane Scott and Martha Ann Loughery, tap dancing. Fourth place went to Fern McCleary in a tap danee on roller skates, and fifth to Irene Bugai, tap dancing.

Perry Writing was introduced at this time to the huge crowd. He delighted his many friends with his well chosen remarks. He certainly deserves the thanks of all Charlevoix county citizens for making it possible to have such a beautiful park. Year by year the park is becoming more

FOREST EXPERIMENTS HIGGINS STATE FOREST

Will Determine Best Treatment for Stands of Timber

Sixteen forest experimental plots will be established in the Higgins State Forest this Fall by enrollees and technical foresters at CCC Camp Higgins Lake. The plots are loeated in typical woods areas to obtain basic data for a management plan for sustained yield, to determine conditions under which a timber stand should be treated, to correlate plant life with soil conditions and similar information. The data is being obtained for the State Forest division of the Department of Conservation.

HOOKER-SLAVIN WEDDING EVENT OF SUNDAY

Popular Local Girl Became Bride of Chicagoan at Ceremony Here

At a pretty wedding solemnized at noon Monday, Miss Dorothea Hooker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Hooker, was united in marriage to Jack Slavin, of Chicago.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. H. R. E. Quant, of Battle Creek, former pastor of the Charlevoix Methodist church. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Dean Davenport. A small group of close relatives and friends witnessed the marriage.

Mrs. Slavin is a graduate of Charlevoix High school and attended the University of Michigan and normal college at Ypsilanti.

The couple left following the ceremony for Chicago, where they will make their home.

ENLIST OFFICERS TO AID SEARCH FOR LOCAL GIRL

In addition to county law enforcement officers, the aid of state police has been enlisted in the search for Kathleen Smith, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Smith, who left home last Saturday and has not been located at the present time.

STUDENTS RESUME CLASSES MONDAY

1936-37 TERM BRINGS CLOSE TO VACATION DAYS

Several Hundred Students Will Flock to Classes—Many Improvements Made in School Buildings

The juvenile picture in Charlevoix is due for a change next Monday, September 14, the date set for the opening of the 1936-37 term of Charlevoix public schools.

Carefree vacation days will be over for several hundred local young people, for at 8:45 o'clock, the regular hour, school will be called and matters of more serious nature than the children have had to confront for the past three months will be in order.

Classes the opening day will run on a half-hour basis to allow for registration, class assignments and procuring text books, which again this year are provided by the school district. Tuesday the entire system will be running on schedule. In view of the fact the state now pays high school tuition, an increase in enrollment in the high school is anticipated.

The public schools are all prepared for the opening day. Throughout the summer the buildings have been subjected to a thorough cleaning and program of fine improvements. Through the Works Progress program, school officials have procured many items of betterment. The exterior of the high school building, now being repainted, is an example of the fine work.

FOREST FIRES BURN OVER 50,000 ACRES

Lower Peninsula Had 1,300 Fires, Burning Over 14,000 Acres

Approximately 50,000 acres of northern forest lands had been burned over by the 2,300 forest fires which had occurred in Michigan up to September 1, according to records of the Conservation Department.

The Upper Peninsula, not including Isle Royale where the national park service is in charge of fire suppression, had 1,000 fires which burned over approximately 35,000 acres. The Lower Peninsula had 1,300 fires and 14,000 acres burned over.

REPORT PRE-HISTORIC FOSSILS SOUTH POINT

The South Point on Lake Michigan near Charlevoix contains one of the most interesting and unusual fossil sections in Northern Michigan, it is reported.

James Coleman, a summer resident, discovered several pre-historic relics preserved in solid rock that are worth actual cash in some of the leading geologic laboratories.

CHARLEVOIX COURIER BRINGS EXPERT FOR COOKING SCHOOL AND HOME INSTITUTE SECOND YEAR

MANY FREE GIFTS AT EVERY SESSION

Mrs. Helene Sailer Will Conduct Free Classes for Women at Charlevoix High School Gymnasium—Many Merchants and Distributors Are Cooperating in Staging Two-Day Event

It's Cooking School week in Charlevoix!

Friday, at 2 p. m., the first session of the Second Annual Charlevoix Courier Cooking School will open in the high school gymnasium under the direction of Mrs. Helene Sailer, noted home economist and head of the Helene Sailer School of Cooking and Home-Making.

Sessions of the school will be held Friday afternoon from 2 to 4; Friday evening from 7:30 to 9:30, and also Saturday afternoon, from 2 to 4 o'clock, but women are asked to attend each session as entirely different programs will be presented each day by Mrs. Sailer.

There is no admission fee at the school — it is free in every respect with many free gifts to be distributed each day. The only requirement for the winners of gifts is their attendance at the school sessions.

Mrs. Sailer will personally conduct each session of the school and demonstrate the various articles of homemaking equipment displayed by the local merchants cooperating with the Courier in staging the exposition. Everything used at the school comes through Charlevoix merchants, distributors and manufacturers.

Included in the exhibits will he all of the latest and newest things for home-making, with a great display of electric equipment, such as ranges, refrigerators, sweepers, washers, kitchen equipment, radios and other appliances.

The Courier staff has spent considerable time and money in the past two weeks in making this Cooking School possible for the ladies of Charlevoix and vicinity. There are so many countless little tricks to know, about short cuts, new ideas in cookery. How the housewife can take the cheaper cuts of meats and make them more tasty and tender.

Then the common apple pie—Most every housewife can bake an apple pie, but Mrs. Sailer will prepare and bake an apple pie just a little bit different than you have seen it prepared before. Be sure to see her cook a stew which takes the average housewife one to one and a half hours in eight minutes. Consider the saving in time and fuel.

Attend all sessions of the Cooking School and see what the merchants of this town have to offer in helping you to improve your homemaking with the fine appliances and foodstuffs they have to sell, and at prices that are surprisingly lower than you ever imagined.

Approximately 60 per cent of Charlevoix merchants are cooperating with the Courier in presenting the second annual school. The women are urged to come to the sessions early to assure plenty of time to inspect the displays of the participating merchants.

LOCAL SOFTBALL TEAM LOSE MONDAY CONTEST

Dropped 14 to 3 Decision to Beaver Island Team Labor Day

The Charlevoix All-Stars played Beaver Island Sunday in a game of soft ball and were defeated by the Island team with a Charlevoix pitcher by the score of 14 to 3.

After Beaudoin had struck out the first two batters the Charlevoix boys began to feel their sea sickness coming back on them again, and Beaver Island scored 10 runs the first inning.

After the sea sickness had worn off, the contest was really a ball game. Bill Supernaw, pitching the last five innings, set the boys down in order, and Harry Ladd, pitching for the Island, turned in the best work of his career. A very unfortunate accident occurred when Todd, going from second to home on Supernaw's double, crashed into the Island catcher, knocking him out and tearing a cartilage in his nose. The Charlevoix boys, while not playing as good a game as they were capable of, want to take nothing away from the boys from the Island; they are all real ball players and, above all, were real gentlemen and sportsmen, and the boys hope that they can have many more games with their friends from St. James.—Contributed.

RAILROAD CHANGES SCHEDULE MONDAY

RESORT TRAINS OFF EXCEPTING POST-SEASON RUNS

Arrival Time and Delivery of Mail From Post Office Altered—New Schedule Is Announced

With the fall railroad schedule taking effect next Monday, it is suggested that travelers consult the ticket agent before completing plans, for not only do the changes affect leaving time here, but also connections at division points.

The Pere Marquette train No. 1 will arrive in Charlevoix northbound at 2:15 p. m., and train No. 8 will leave southbound at 4:07 p. m. daily except Sunday. These trains will handle a through Chicago sleeper until October 15.

The Resort Special will be operated southbound on September 16, 20 and 27. These trains will carry complete equipment the same as regular summer trains.

With the changes in train time, the mail schedules also will be altered. Operation of the star route between Charlevoix and Petoskey will be inaugurated Monday morning by F. J. Gallagher. The bus returns at approximately 8:45 a. m. with the first mail of the day.

Under this arrangement, the first city delivery will leave the post office at approximately 9:30 a. m. Mail from the south arrives here at 2:15 p. m., and outgoing northbound mail should be in the post office at 1:15 p. m. Arrival of the southbound is at 4:07 p. m., and the deadline for mailing is 3:15.

This city will have two mail deliveries daily. Both will be complete to the business district, but the residential districts will receive only first class mail on the afternoon delivery. The star route carries both northbound and southbound outgoing mail which should be in the post office not later than 7 o'clock.

HEISE-INGALLS WEDDING EVENT OF SUNDAY

Well Known Local Couple Will Make Their Home in Flint

A pretty wedding took place at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Ingalls last Sunday afternoon, when their daughter, Ida, was united in marriage to LaVerne Heise.

The ceremony, with Rev. G. R. Parker officiating, took place at 12:30 o'clock with only members of the immediate families present. The young couple left for a brief honeymoon at Mackinac Island.

The two young people are life-long residents of the city of Charlevoix. Both attended local public schools. They will reside in Flint.

MICHIGAN VOTERS TO POLLS TUESDAY

REPUBLICAN AND DEMOCRATIC TICKETS IN THE FIELD

Candidates of Two Parties Seek Nomination to National, State, Legislative and County Offices

The Michigan primary election, with Republicans and Democrats seeking nomination to national, state, legislative and county offices, will be held Tuesday, September 15.

While several parties have qualified, only two have candidates in the field for the primary. In cases where candidates of either party are unopposed, their names do not appear on the primary ballot. In Charlevoix county contests exist for three offices on the Republican ticket. Ervan A. Ruegsegger, incumbent, and Clarence B. Meggison seek the nomination as judge of probate. Floyd W. Ikens, present sheriff, is opposed by Henry Steimel, of Boyne City, and a three-way race for road-commissioner between Charles Riedel, William F. Tindall and Frank D. Thompson.

Republican candidates who will receive uncontested nomination are: C. Meredith Bice for prosecuting attorney; Fenton R. Bulow, county clerk; Lillis M. Flanders, county treasurer; Frank F. Bird, register of deeds; Schuyler B. Stackus and F. F. McMillan, coroners; James J. Simmons, drain commissioner; Rollie L. Lewis, circuit court commissioner; Samuel A. Tokoly, surveyor.

There is one Democratic primary contest for register of deeds between Pearl I. McHale and M. A. Muma, both of East Jordan. Uncontested Democrats are: Thomas E. Baker, for senator, 29th district; William H. Webster, judge of probate; George A. Hanson, sheriff; William P. Gilliam, county clerk; Mattie M. Dean, treasurer; George W. King, coroner; Dan Swanson, road commissioner.

Party lines must be adhered to, as the voter will he asked which party he cares to vote for and will be given that party's ballot.

Following are the candidates seeking nomination on the Republican and Democratic tickets, the names preceded by (*) being the present office holder:

Republican—National

U. S. Senator — *James Couzens, Wilber M. Brucker.

State

Governor — *Frank D. Fitzgerald, Roscoe Conkling Fitch.

Lieutenant Governor — *Thomas Read, Luren D. Dickinson.

Unless changed by resolution of the city council prior to election day, the open hours of the Charlevoix polls in the Carnegie library building will be from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m

THE COOKING SCHOOL

The Charlevoix Courier wishes to express its grateful appreciation to the merchants of Charlevoix whose splendid cooperation has made possible the publication of this special Cooking School edition. It is our endeavor to send a copy of the special edition into every home in Charlevoix and rurals, thereby giving the advertising merchants a fine newspaper coverage.

The Cooking School, under the personal direction of Mrs. Helene Sailer, will be held in the Charlevoix High school gymnasium on Friday and Saturday, September 11 and 12, with sessions on Friday from 2 to 4 p. m. and from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., and on Saturday from 2 to 4 p. m.

All sessions of the school are free to the public. Many local merchants will have displays in the gymnasium and their merchandise will be used by Mrs. Sailer in demonstrating numerous methods of preparing and serving delicious dishes.

The women of Charlevoix and Charlevoix county are cordially invited to attend. If you can't come to all three sessions, come to at least one; you will like Mrs. Sailer, for not only is she an expert home economist but she is a gracious and charming hostess. Bring your note books with you, take down the recipes as she demonstrates methods of preparing economical, tasty dishes, and then, when you return home, try them out in your own kitchen.

We ask you to look on this school as a community affair, to which every one of you is most cordially invited.

TEN THOUSAND TROUT TO THE SQUARE MILE

That's Estimate of Officials Following Extensive Research

How many trout will occupy a mile stretch of a good trout stream? The institute for fisheries research conservatively estimates 10,000.

The figure is reached by a computation of the number of tagged brook trout known to have been in a 1.75 mile stretch of the north branch of the AuSable River near Lovells. The total was 2,437.

Institute workers arrived at a ratio of the tagged fish to untagged fish by a count made of the contents of 13 seine hauls in which 483 untagged brook trout and 69 tagged brook trout were taken. From these figures it is indicated that there is one tagged trout to seven untagged trout and by multiplying the known number of trout in the stream—2,437—by seven, the institute men obtained a total of 17,059 trout for the 1.75 miles or about 9,700 ranging from four to 10 inches, per mile.

HIGHWAY CONSTRUCTION HIT PEAK IN AUGUST

Forty-Three Contracts Totaling Over Two Million Dollars Awarded

Construction activity in the State Highway Department's 1936 program reached its peak during August.

State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner announced this week that 43 contracts totaling $2,341,737 had been awarded during last month. They call for construction on 62.4 miles of state trunkline highways.

Sixteen of the projects call for concrete surfacing on a total of 52.8 miles of highway. Other surfacing projects will provide 1.6 mile of sheet asphalt surfacing and 9.5 miles of gravel. Included in the list also were a bridge over the Kalamazoo River on a relocation of US-31 between Douglas and Saugatuck and borings for the new international bridge between Port Huron and Sarnia.

Among the other contracts were seven for roadside landscaping projects, seven for street work such as alteration of electric facilities in connection with Detroit street widening projects, and seven for building moving to make way for new construction.

All the surfacing projects except three are scheduled to be finished on or before the first of the year. Those projects which have completion dates later in 1937 are all located in the Upper Peninsula where the construction season is shorter than in Southern Michigan.

"The Universal Car"

ONE NAME comes quickly to mind when you think of "The Universal Car." The description is distinctively Ford. No other car is used by so many millions of men and women in every part of the world. Everywhere it is the symbol of faithful service.

That has always been a Ford fundamental. Something new is constantly being added in the way of extra value. Each year the Ford has widened its appeal by increasing its usefulness to motorists.

Today's Ford V-8 is more than ever "The Universal Car" because it encircles the needs of more people than any other Ford ever built. It reaches out and up into new fields because it has everything you need in a modern automobile.

The Ford V-8 combines fine-car performance, comfort, safety and beauty with low first cost and low cost of operation and up-keep. It depreciates slowly because it is made to last. There is no other car like it.

Only the Ford V-8 Gives You These Fine-car Features

1. V-8 ENGINE PERFORMANCE WITH ECONOMY
2. SAFETY GLASS ALL AROUND AT NO EXTRA CHARGE
3. SUPER-SAFETY MECHANICAL BRAKES
4. CENTER-POISE RIDING COMFORT
5. WELDED STEEL BODY . . . STEEL STRUCTURE AS WELL AS STEEL SURFACE
6. NEW INTERIOR APPOINTMENTS

A FOOL'S PARADISE

Governor Landon has never professed to know much about oratory. But anybody who listens to him soon learns that he knows plenty about arithmetic.

He knows, for example, that if you make $20 a week and spend $40 a week, you go broke.

He knows also, that if a government "makes" five thousand million dollars a year and spends ten thousand million dollars a year, it goes broke.

Individuals can borrow for a time, but they cannot borrow forever. Governments can borrow for a time, but they cannot borrow forever. Some time, somehow, somebody must pay the bill.—Chicago American.

Somebody is always doing what somebody else said couldn't be done. Why do they always serve five times as much spaghetti as anyone wants?

SMOOTH SURFACE IN SILO PREVENTS LOSS

Repairing and smoothing rough surfaces on the inside walls of silos before filling may be the means of avoiding spoiled silage, as rough surfaces interefere with the proper settling, says C. H. Jefferson, Michigan State College agricultural engineer. If the inside surface is only slightly pitted, applying a coat of white Portland cement paint may be sufficient. Before making repairs, the wall should be thoroughly brushed to remove all loose material and to provide a clean, hard surface. After cleaning the wall should be kept damp for at least an hour before applying the concrete paint in order to prevent the water in the paint from being absorbed too rapidly.

TRAILERS BOOMING TRAVEL, CONOCO EXPERT DISCOVERS

Current heavy sales of auto trailers foreshadow increased expenditures by motorists on long trips, edging travel closer to the status of America's leading industry, Joe H. Thompson, travel expert of the Continental Oil Company, declared today.

Thompson said the unexpected "trailer factor" necessitates upward revision of tourist business estimates for this and subsequent years. Last spring Thompson estimated $4,000,000,000 would be spent during 1936 by approximately 10,000,000 touring parties on trips averaging 3,500 miles.

KEEP VEAL CALF OUT OF HOT SUN

To make top quality veal calves during the summer and early fall, the calves should be kept in a cool and dark barn and allowed to nurse twice daily, suggests George A. Brown, hend of the animnl husbandry department at Michigan State College. Calves allowed to run with their mothers on pasture during hot weather dress out a dnrk color and the carcass sells at a discount on the market.

A hunk of chocolate is a good substitute for a highball.

OMAR FLOUR

Winner of 143 Prizes out of a possible 176 at the Iowa State Fair this Fall

Use this thrifty FLOUR

WISE HOUSEWIVES who measure values by the "Cost per Baking" and not by the "Cost per Sack," find OMAR the most economical flour they can use—for three reasons:

1. OMAR insures baking success.
2. OMAR makes more baked goods per sack.
3. Because OMAR can be used with perfect results for fine cakes and pastries, it eliminates the use of special cake flours, which cost more than twice as much as OMAR.

Used by the Champion Bakers of Nebraska, Iowa, and South Dakota.

MOODY INSTITUTE TO HAVE A SPEAKER HERE

Dr. Henry Ostrum Comes for Bible Conference September 16

Dr. Henry Ostrum, a member of the extension department of The Moody Bible Institute, will be the speaker at a "One-Day Bible Conference" being conducted under the auspices of the D. L. Moody Centenary and Moody Bible Institute Jubilee on Wednesday, September 16, 1936, at the Baptist church of Charlevoix, of which church Rev. W. H. Rauch is pastor.

The founding of the Institute by D. L. Moody 50 years ago is being widely celebrated throughout the year 1936. More than 500 churches have observed "Moody Day" this year. One-Day Bible Conferences are bringing a rich blessing to many. A campaign for "50,000 New Friends" is meeting with encouraging success.

For more than 40 years, Dr. Ostrom has been a leader in evangelism and Bible teaching. He has appeared in pulpits and on lecture platforms in all parts of the United States and in foreign lands. Dr. Ostrom has lectured at numerous city missions, addressed factory workers, prisoners and other groups, and for a period of time preached in Wall Street from an automobile pulpit.

SCHOOL DAYS BRING DANGER OF DISEASE

State Health Dept. Seeks Cooperation Teachers to Curb Spread

With school bells again ringing throughout the state, Dr. C. C. Slemons, state health commissioner, today asked for the cooperation of teachers in the control of common communicable diseases in the Michigan schools. "The opening of schools in September with the consequent grouping of large numbers of children is always the signal for a decided increase in the prevalence of the common communicable diseases," the commissioner explained.

"An interested and informed teacher working in close cooperation with health officers and parents can do much to solve the difficult problem of communicable disease control in the school," Dr. Slemons said. "Technical knowledge is not required, for that is the province of the health officer and physician. The teacher's part is to be constantly on the alert to detect anything out of the ordiaary in the health of her pupils so that she may bring it promptly to the attention of the health officer or the public health nurse.

"Communicable diseases in the school are spread usually by cases before a diagnosis is made or by mild cases which do not come to the attention of the physician. The period of communicability for these diseases varies considerably, but for most of them the greatest danger to others is during the first symptoms. For this reason, an early recognition of the possibility of a child's having a communicable disease is important. The exclusion from school should not await a diagnosis, for by that time it may be too late to prevent its spread. Teachers should report all suspicious cases at once to the parents and to the local health officer."

An information pamphlet for teachers on such diseases as chickenpox, diphtheria, measles, mumps, scarlet fever, smallpox, whooping cough, and skin infections has been prepared by the Michigan Department of Health and may be secured free of charge upon request.

PROTECT HEALTH BY TREATING MILK

Milk on Farm Can Be Pasteurized Easily to Help Avoid Diseases

Housewives in communities or on farms where commercially pasteurized milk is not available, among everyday kitchen utensils have the means of effectively protecting families against possible infection caused by mastitis or other germs in milk, suggests C. S. Bryan, Michigan State College bacteriologist.

These germs which may be responsible for septic sore throat are destroyed by pasteurizing the raw milk in an ordinary double boiler such as the housewife uses in preparing custards. The raw milk is placed in the inner container of the double boiler and the water brought to a boil. As soon as the water starts to boil, the inner container should be removed and the milk cooled immediately and placed in refrigeration to keep sweet.

Results of a study undertaken by Michigan State College bacteriologists to determine this simple and fool-proof method of home pasteurization of milk are found in the August Quarterly Bulletin of Michigan State College. A copy may be obtained by writing to the Bulletin Room, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Public health regulations, if enforced, are adequate to protect the consumer of commercially pasteurized milk, such as those in cities, but do not protect farmer consumers since the milk received the treatment after it has left the farm. This condition indicates the desirability of home pasteurization.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
By B. C. Mellencamp

During the last few days cards have been sent from the Soil Conservation hendquarters to every farmer in the county who has executed a work sheet. Apparently there is considerable misunderstanding relative to the reason for sending the cards. According to regulations issued from the state office, it is necessary that each farmer send tha card back to George C. Ferris, secretary, before the compliance farm reporter stops at your farm to make the measurements of fields and to secure the practices followed for soil building payments.

We strongly advise you to send this card back even if you are in doubt ns to whether you have qualified for pnyments, as many new modifications permit payments which were not thoroughly understood by the mnjority of farmers. We would like to have you send the card back so that the complinnce farm reporters can call on you and give you the opportunity of securing payments if any are possible. In other words, we do not want to have any one miss the opportunity of getting the payment if earned.

If you have executed a work sheet and did not receive this cnrd let us know and one will be sent out. Already farm reporters have been tentatively selected by the county committee and it is expected that the middle of September the compliance activity will be started. As you know, September 1 was the closing date for the fiscal year and you should get proof of compliance evidence covering the suggested practices for soil building payments in shape to present when the farm visit is mnde. If your legume seedings have been lost due to dry weather, you must get at least two neighbors or a committeeman to sign a statemeot giving the details together with the receipt for seed purchased. If you have adopted other practices that qunlify, likewise present evidence to that effect. This is a big program nnd it will facilitnte matters if you have the necessary information on hand when the farm reporter sees you.

60 Farmers Keeping Farm Accouot Books

It is very gratifying to note that with the exception of three, all farmers who started keeping farm account records the first of March are doing a splendid job. The records reveal that conditions are gradually becoming better. A feature of each visit is the bringing back to each cooperator a very comprehensive anlysis of last year's record. In addition a complete summary covering all previous years has been left with the farmer so that he mny compare his progress from year to year.

Last year 50 completed records were kept. Out of the 50, 35 were in the black, while only 15 were in the red. The average for the county showed each farmer making around $350 for his labor and management wage. This is his return after the unpnid family labor has been deducted, after the depreciation has been removed and after the five per cent charge has been placed on his totnl investment.

Karl Wright, of the Michigan State College Farm Management Department, accompanied your county ngent in making these visits. Mr. Wright was very much pleased with the records kept for these 60 farmers, and states that this is the largest number being handled in one county in the state. Next March each one of these cooperators will be met again and their records completed.

Fruit Growers Should Remove Dead Wood from Trees

The fruit bark beetle has infested fruit trees in Michigan for many years. It is doing considerable damnge in the Traverse City area and is becoming sufficiently prevalent in Chnrlevoix county to be of deep concern to all fruit men. The bark beetle breeds and feeds in the cambium layer and also feeds in the twigs where it excavntes small tunnels cnusing death of the twigs in peach and cherry trees. This pest is also found in apples, plums and quinces. The beetle is about 1-20 of an inch long and dnrk brownish black in color.

Any fruit tree which appears unthrifty should be carefully examined for small round holes in the bark of the trunk and limbs. Such holes may be the exit holes of these beetles. If the bark has really been punctured by the fruit bark beetle in emerging from its work in the cambium, the valleys excavated by the beetle and larvae will be revealed when the bark is pared down with a sharp knife.

Therefore it will be to your welfare to remove all dead wood from orchards this fall as this is the breeding plnces of the pest. Likewise by all means remove brush piles of apple limbs as well as cherry away from the orchards. Wild cherry cut green and allowed to dry is almost sure to become the home of beetles. In other words, cleaning up measures is the only remedy to prevent serious damage from the fruit bark beetle.

A sure sign that the fall season is approaching is the fact that the home economics extension groups start their project activities on September 15 and 16. The group leaders on the west end of the county meet on September 15, and the east side groups on the 16th. Roberta Hershey, specialist from Michigan State College, will be the leader in charge. The project this year is on nutrition and includes subject matter that is very attractive and helpful.

It is expected that there will be 16 communities sending local leaders to the first training meeting. We have room for three or four more communities in the county to derive the benefits of this extension activity. If your community is not organized for this activity, kindly notify your county agent, who will be very glad to explain the progrnm and to help in organizing your community. Letters will be sent out soon to all local leaders giving further details regarding time and place of meeting.

CONSERVATION COURSE OFFERED ON SEPT. 15

50 Youog Men to Gather at Pigeoo River State Forest Headquarters

Fifty young men from as many different counties of Michigan will meet in the Pigeon River state forest headquarters northeast of Gaylord September 15 for a four-day course in conservation sponsored by Michigan State College in cooperation with the Department of Conservation.

Tbe meeting will be the first of its kind conducted in this state and looks toward the time when conservation will be a regular part of 4-H Club high school work.

Personnel of the camp will be selected from young men, ranging in age from 15 to 19 years, who have carried game management and forestry projects in their 4-H Club work during the past year.

A comprehensive course in modern conservation practices will be given, including such subjects as forestry, geology, game management, fish culture, fire suppression, law enforcement. Instruction in the history of conservation in Michigan and also in first aid will be given. Adequate allowance is being made for field trips and recreation in the program.

The camp will have its own staff of cooks and helpers, giving the young men an insight into the ways of camp-life as well as the meaning of modern conservation. The term will run from September 15 to the 19th, inclusive.

BE SURE AND VOTE THE

REPUBLICAN TICKET

THE CALL

It was late that night.

I sat—quite indifferently turning the dial on my radio—when suddenly out of that mysterious nowhere came a distinct voice which said, "Calling car twenty-nine. ..Calling car twenty-nine—car two-nine."

"Car two-nine, proceed to the North side of Lake Something. Go to the road one-half mile beyond the dance hall; turn right, and find a house in a grove on the left side of the road. There is a man there by the name of Blank. Tell him to go to his family at once: they are in great danger."

And as the custom of the State Police is, the instructions were repeated exactly as first given.

I was thrilled, and as I sat there I thought—Why, that is not unlike my job because I say,—Calling all women! Calling all women! Go to the road running North and South, also to the street running East and West by your home. Go to each house and find there a woman called Mrs. Citizen. Tell her that her America is in danger: that the New Deal is robbing her AND HER CHILDREN of their heritage of freedom and liberty. A well-known Republican has said, "In Lincoln's time the question was—Shall America remain a Nation. But now the question is—SHALL THE NATION REMAIN AMERICAN." Tell every woman that to ward off the danger of the New Deal, there is but one weapon. But to each of us is given that one weapon, and our duty to our Nation, to our families and to ourselves—IS—TO USE THAT WEAPON!

The WEAPON?—OUR VOTE.

Mrs. Citizen, your vote is your weapon.

Calling all WOMEN! Calling ALL women! ! CALLING all women! ! !

COUNTY PICNIC A SUCCESSFUL EVENT

popular and, as Mr. Whiting said, in years to come it will become more appreciated.

The baseball games attracted the usual number of baseball fans. Two soft ball games were staged, after which a hard ball game was the center of attraction. In the first game, the Ironton Tigers played the Mud Hens, of Boyne City, resulting in a victory for Boyne City. The winners next took on the Coffee Cups, of East Jordan, in a very close battle, the Coffee Cups emerging victorious. The game of soft ball is becoming more popular as evidenced by the number of fans that enjoyed the two games. The last game between Boyne Falls and Barnard was hard fought and exciting.

The 4-H Club exhibits were viewed by hundreds of interested folks. The exhibit was judged by Miss Hertzler, 4-H club leader, of Gaylord. The Jolly Jordanites won first in the club exhibit, led by Miss Irene Brintnall, closely followed by the Home Makers, with Mrs. Leslie Howe as leader, and the Blue Birds, of Bay Shore, with Mrs. Eda Copping as leader, won third. In the exhibit for first year members, Betty Leigl won first followed by Maxine McGregor second, and Alice Carson third. In the second year competition, Muriel Stephens won first, with Marie Klooster next, and Clarise Johnson third. The third year and advanced project members winning first, second and third were Lorena Brintnall, Irene Brintnall and Elsie Hilton. The champion collection of the entire exhibit went to Lorena Brintnall. Irene Brintnall had the sweepstakes jar of fruit, while Clarise Johnson had the best vegetable. Ruby Holborn had the best jar of jelly, and Irene Brintnall the best jar of canned meat.

The 4-H club dairy exhibit was the largest collection yet held. Forty animals representing the three major dairy breeds were carefully groomed for the exhibit. Never before have the animals possessed the high quality of flesh and type that this year's showed. The following boys won blue ribbons in the strong competition: Bud Shepard, Edward Bricker, Adolph Ecklund, Lawrence Ecklund, Franklin Mascho, Raymond Fisher, Lyle Anthony, Jack Urman, Billy Thayer, Roland Lyons, Junior Boss, Carl Glazier, Elliot Howe, Junior Willis, Paul Clark, and Harold Cottrell.

The horseshoe contest resulted in Grant Hammond, Keith Kerr and Donald Lapeer winning the three high awards. Adding to the enjoyment of the day was free coffee, cream and sugar served during the noon hour. The three American Legion posts in the county did a land office business throughout the afternoon. Everything was sold out long before the people began their pilgrimage home. It may be safely said that this year's Labor Day program exceeded those of last years by a somewhat more balanced program. The assistance of the WPA recreational leaders was greatly appreciated. Committees were appointed to handle the various events of the day.

Three Rivers, Mich.,
September 8, 1936

The Editor,
The Charlevoix Courier
Dear Sir:

Bill Duke stopped on the steps of the post office a little while ago—(he didn't get any mail)—and said he heard State Senator Miller Dunckel sent a basket of flowers to Mr. Murphy—(he's the Irish primary candidate with the Filipino accent)—when Mr. Murphy spoke in the grove out at Fisher's Lake the other night.

Mr. Murphy, Bill said, spoke on a platform under two electric lights, surrounded by bugs. And the senator's flowers, he said, filled the evening air with their rare fragrance.

I told Bill I thought that was a nice thing for Mr. Dunckel to do because you can usually depend on what you can smell, but you can't always put much stock in what you hear. And Bill said the big trouble with Mr. Murphy's campaign promises was that they'd be carried out—on a stretcher.

I guess Mr. Murphy said he was a boon to mankind; like Mr. Roosevelt—only, as it turns out, it's a boondoggle. And I told Bill I understood Mr. Welsh—(Michigan's foremost sliphorn-player)—had attacked Ed Shields. Bill said: "What Shields is that—Ol' Windy?"—and I said I didn't know. But I did say I thought these candidates go raving around about this and that—and they don't give out any useful information. They get you all gimmicksed-up. You don't know if you're afoot or a-horseback—or both. Why, instead of attacking and hurling defis don't they tell us how to get a snapping-turtle to let go of your toe? Most people think that when a snapping-turtle gets hold of their toe they have to wait for it to let go until it thunders. When, all you have to do, is to give the snapper a good stiff sniff of ammonia.

Bill said he thought I was right. And I said there was something else, too. Why don't Mr. Welsh or Mr. Murphy tell us how to keep from getting switched in the face by your cow's tail in fly-time?

All you have to do, I told Bill—(and I got this from Pret Kern, who lives out on the Old Jim Kerr Place on Hog Creek)—is to tuck the cow's tail under your left arm, way up in the armpit, and you can hold it from switchin' until you're done with your milkin'.

Bill said he thought so, too, and he said he bet Governor Fitzgerald—with that farm of his up at Grand Ledge—knew things like that. Then he said he wasn't going to pay much attention to the primaries. He said he'd come up on Election Day to get his mail and probably wouldn't get any—and then he'd vote. And he said he'd remember what Hi Phillips said, years ago:

"NEVER CHANGE BAR'LS WHEN YOU'RE GOIN' OVER NIAG'RY FALLS."

Bill said he never forgot that.

And I said I guess the people of Michigan wouldn't forget it, either.

Stick t' your bar'l—an' don't kick out any staves! An' always have a little bottle of ammony with you fer snappers.

P.S.—Bill's the fellow who chewed fine-cut for thirty years when a tobacco salesman got him to switch to plug—on free samples. Bill chewed up the free samples, and then went back to fine-cut.

SCHOOL REFORMS URGED FOR STATE

GOV. FITZGERALD URGED HIGHER TEACHERS' PENSION

State Payment for Education of Rural Children in City Schools Is Suggested

Reforms in the Michigan educational system, intended to benefit veteran teachers and rural youths of high school age, were advocated Friday by Governor Fitzgerald.

Need for revamping the present teachers' retirement fund to provide increased pensions and free tuition for rural children who attend city high schools was pointed out by the governor in his month-end accounting speech.

"The teachers' retirement fund can pay a maximum of only $500 a year to retired teachers and it should be over-hauled to provide a stable income which would leave retired teachers free from fear of insecurity," the governor said.

"We cannot expect to maintain a teaching corps of high caliber without meeting our obligation to the teaching profession. Teachers must not only be decently paid, but provision should be made for their future, when their years of active service nre ended."

In commenting on the situation in rural areas, he said:

"The state could well afford to pay the entire cost of educating rural children in city high schools.

"The payment of seventh and eighth grade tuition costs upon the same basis as for the upper high school grades would be an additional step in providing equal educational opportunities. In the city schools secondary training begins at the end of the sixth grade. The rural student who enters the secondary school at the end of the eighth grade comes in at a disadvantage. Mnny rural children do not attend high school because they feel out of place. Beginning the secondary course while still subject to the compulsory school law would get many children oriented to the city school before the time that it is easy to drop out of school.

"This provision would be made on a voluntary basis. The rural school would not be disbanded. Rural families that desired to do so could avail themselves of the opportunity to send their children to the city high school at the beginning of the seventh grade."

The state now pays $65 for each non-resident child attending a city school.

The governor admitted the need for "some minor adjustments in the distribution of school aid."

"A problem growing out of the tax limitation amendment is the need of obtaining funds to rehabilitate school buildings," he said. "There are many old buildings which will need replacement in the next few years. Under the 15-mill amendment, it is impossible to bond for longer than a five-year period. To do this, it is necessary to secure favorable action of the voters by a two-thirds majority. Some means should be developed to provide necessary replacements of capital structures.

"Social and ecenomic conditions vary throughout the state, and it is probable that during the next few years, each legislature will find it wise to make adjustments to meet these varied conditions in different districts."

CCC ENROLLEES LIKE TO MAKE DEER DRIVES

Many Conducted Throughout State to Determine Deed Population

One type of work project enjoyed by CCC enrollees which also furnishes valuable data for game management, is the so-called "deer drive" conducted by a number of CCC camps in state forests.

The drives are conducted at various seasons of the year, usually once in the Spring, once in the Summer, and before and after the deer hunting season. The areas driven are chosen by representatives of the Game Division of the Department of Conservation, and data obtained is forwarded to that division.

In making the drive, usually covering a section or part-section, several enrollees are stationed around the areas to count the deer and other animals as they cross the boundaries, while other enrollees in a long line drive the length of the area. Members of the driving line are spaced at 66-foot intervals. Checkers follow the driving line to count any animals which break through the line.

While the principal object is to count deer in the various areas, enrollees often see bear, porcupines, bobcats, fox and smaller animals. In the northern tip of the Lower Peninsula, elk are often seen.

CCC Camp Ogemaw in the Ogemaw Forest, Camp AuSable in the AuSable Forest, Camp Pigeon River in the Pigeon River Forest, Camp Escanaba River in the Escanaba River Refuge, and Camps Mackinac and Moran in the Mackinac Forest have engaged in deer drives lately.

After all, the fact that she is a widow with four children is a better reason than we usually have for putting a person in office.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Renewing Window Shades
Faded or slightly worn window shades can be renewed by spreading out flat and applying a coat of ordinary house paint.

Kitchenette Shelf
A shelf with hinges is a good addition to the kitchenette. Since it can be raised and lowered at will a work table is available when needed yet quickly removed when not in use.

Repairing Cracks in Wood
Cracks in woodwork can be repaired permanently. Ask your hardware dealer for the right kind of wood filler. Tamp the material down with a small instrument, leaving the fill slightly higher than the rest of the surface. After several hours, this is smoothed down with sandpaper, then painted or varnished, as the case may be.

Aluminum in Cooking
Aluminum is one of the most highly recommended metals for utensils in which to cook any food. It is but slightly affected by both acids and alkalies; vegetables may discolor it; whereas fruits and acid foods will brighten it. Never soak it with soda water but wash in hot soap and water. Polish with steel wool or whiting moistened with alcohol. Rinse in hot water. Wipe dry.

Fastening Cloth to Pail
A cloth, used for straining purposes can be fastened to the edge of the pail by means of ordinary clothes pins.

Prevent Varnish "Crawling"
The tendency of varnish to "crawl" in cold weather can be remedied by covering the previous coats with benzine. This evaporates rapidly and leaves a hard surface. Be sure the surface is dry, however, before the next one is put on.

Painting Hints
Lacquering or painting work should be done in a place where there is good ventilation and where there are no flames. The brushes used for lacquer should not be used for paint, varnish, or enamels. Lacquer brushes should be softened in lacquer solvent and kept well cleaned. Paint brushes should be washed in turpentine, thoroughly dried, and kept clean for the next operation.

Washing Windows
A sponge and chamois make the best window washing combination. The sponge moistens the glass without spreading water, while the chamois serves as an excellent drier and polisher.

How To Avoid Rough Painted Surfaces
When painting, if exceptionally smooth and highly finished surface is desired, the cracks in the object should be filled with putty or crack filler. The whole surface could then be given a priming coat of silica wood filler. After the primer has been allowed a sufficient period of time to become thoroughly hard and dry, varnish stain, color lacquer, or color varnish may be applied in one or two coats to obtain the desired finish. If the woodwork has any large number of knots present it is often desirable to touch up the knots with a coat of shellac. After drying, the finishing coats of colored product may be applied. After the first coat of color varnish or lacquer has been applied and allowed to thoroughly dry, it may be lightly rubbed with fine sandpaper to remove any imperfections before applying the final coat. A much smoother surface is thus obtained. Aluminum paint is sometimes used for touching up knots if the finishing coats are to be of paint for exterior surfaces. Highly satisfactory results are obtained with this treatment.

Rolling the Lawn
A heavy concrete roller will help smooth rough lawns. Several neighbors in one block can chip in and make or buy one jointly and then use it whenever it is needed.

Whitewashing Trees
A whitewash made of ordinary finishing lime and water should be applied to the trunks of trees which are not to be infected. This same wash is sometimes used on bushes with success. One gardener treats his tract of currants with this whitewash every spring and he claims that the bushes are kept free from parasites in early season when a sturdy, unhampered growth is essential.

Prevent Rust on Garden Tools
Keep a thick rag soaked in coal oil handy for wiping off garden tools when you come from the garden. This prevents rusting.

Renewing Wood Fiber Rugs
Wood fiber rugs of light tones soon lose the beauty which at first proved so attractive. After a year or two of use a light blue fiber rug looked impossible. I tried painting it with ordinary paint of a blue-green color and the result was most pleasing. I thinned the paint with turpentine so that it would brush easily. The original design was visible after painting giving the rug a two-tone effect which was good. The painted rug has worn well.

How to Toughen Glassware
Place the glassware or china, when new, in cold water, bring it gradually to a boil, boil it four hours and allow it to cool slowly with the water. Hot water will never subsequently crack it.

Care of Window Ventilators
Before putting the window ventilators away for the summer months, have them painted so that they will be in good shape and ready for use again in the fall. They are just one of the little things which are likely to be overlooked.

Scratches on Furniture
Scratches on dark oak, walnut or mahogany furniture can be made to disappear very simply by brushing the scratch with iodine.

Spots on Wall Paper
A paste of cornstarch and water will remove a grease spot from wall paper. Let it remain on the spot until dry and then brush off.

Care of Tile Floors
Just a little paraffin mixed with the hot water, for washing tiled floors, greatly assists the cleaning, and brings out the color.

Stains on White Goods
Lemon juice, salt and strong sunlight are cures for stains on white materials.

Egg Stains
Egg stains on table linen should be soaked with cold water, as warm water sets them.

Fruit Stains
Rub powdered borax on fruit stains; then pour boiling water through the fabric before washing and boiling it.

Brightening Chinaware
Discolored china or any other crockery ware can be freed of discoloration marks by applying a solution of salt and vinegar.

Paraffin for Kitchen Sink
A few drops of paraffin will usually remove odors and grease stains from the kitchen sink.

Furniture White Spots
To remove white spots on furniture made by hot dishes, use powdered pumice and linseed oil, applied with a soft cloth, rubbed dry and polished with the grain.

Using Gasoline for Cleaning
Whenever you use gasoline for cleaning purposes, pour the residue down the kitchen sink, followed by boiling water. This process will cut all grease deposits that may have gathered and give a thorough cleaning to the pipes.

Rust on Linoleum
Lemon juice will remove rust from linoleum.

Iodine Stains
Water actually boiling will remove iodine stains from linen or silk if poured directly over the stained spot held over a basin.

Greasy Mirrors
A soft cloth dipped in spirits of camphor is effective in cleaning a greasy mirror or picture glass.

Removing Paper from Raisins
If the paper sticks to the package of raisins, place them in the oven for a few minutes and the wrapping may be removed easily. It will also cause the raisins to separate and fall apart.

A Good Sink Brush
A worn whiskbroom makes a fine sink brush if you cut off the worn bristles clear up to the stiff part. Always rinse clean after using.

A WELCOME VISITOR

Did you ever stop to think that people read newspapers because they want them? The newspaper is not forced on anyone. People pay for it and pay for it regularly. Whole families await it eagerly and quarrel good-naturedly over their individual turns to read it. Each praises and criticizes it as one is prone to criticize the other members of the family. The newspaper is definitely a part of the family. That is why its sales force is immeasurable. Door-to-door salesmen use all kinds of ingenious devices to get inside the home, but the newspaper is a welcome guest. One type of selling is forced, the other type is received cordially. Door-to-door handbills are an intrusion upon the privacy of the home, but the newspaper is invited in. Its messages are read avidly and its advertisements are considered a part of these messages.

The bird who bragged to his family that he drove the car 18 miles in 16 minutes, thinks Junior impossible because he wrecked it the next evening.

STEELHEAD SPORT FOR THREE MONTHS

EXTENSION OF SEASON IN MANY LAKES AND RIVERS

Lake Charlevoix Open for Steelhead Fishing Until November 31— Fall "Run" Is Now On

Steelhead trout, the fresh-water "tarpon" of Michigan waters, will provide fishermen with three months of high quality sport this fall during the special open season on this species in certain, designated inland lakes and streams of the northern part of the state.

The season, in effect, is an extension of trout fishing in certain designated waters and continues open throughout September, October and November.

Anglers troll for the steelheads with heavy spoons and lines and within the past several years the sport has come to have a high ranking among the fall outdoor pastimes of the state.

The steelheads begin to enter the waters tributary to Lake Michigan early in the fall in sizes up to 15 or more pounds and will readily take a spoon-hook. Since these fish ordinarily do not remain in trout streams during the regular trout fishing season, the fall trolling is the only means sportsmen have of going after them, legally.

Waters in which trolling for steelheads will be permitted again this fall are listed as follows:

Muskegon River, Muskegon and White Lakes, and White River, Muskegon county; White River down from the dam at Hesperia, Pentwater and Stoney Lakes, Oceana county; Muskegon River down from Rogers dam, Mecosta and Newaygo counties; Pere Marquette River down from Indian bridge, section 23 T18N, R16W; south branch Pere Marquette River down from Riverview bridge, sections 35 and 36, T18N, R16W; and Pere Marquette Lake, Mason county.

Manistee River, Manistee, Arcadia and Portage Lakes, Manistee county; Manistee River down from Trunkline US-131, Wexford county; Round, Platte, Bronson, Lake Ann, Lower Herring and Betsie Lakes, Benzie county; Mullet and Burt Lakes, Indian and Crooked Rivers and Sturgeon River down from the dam at Wolverine, Cheboygan county; Crooked River, Crooked and Pickerel Lakes, Emmet county; Lake Charlevoix, Charlevoix county, and channel below new powerhouse at Elk Rapids, Antrim county.

A special open season governs the taking of steelhead trout from the Soo Rapids, St. Mary's River, Chippewa county. This season is open from June 1 to and including September 15.

Washing Greasy Dishes

A few drops of ammonia will help wonderfully in the dishwater if the dishes are unusually greasy.

Burned Enamel Ware

When an enameled sauce pan burns, add salt to the water and allow it to stand until the next day. Then bring it slowly to a boil and the burn will disappear. This is better than the soda and water plan.

Prevent Fire When Broiling

When broiling steak in a gas oven the fat will frequently catch fire. To prevent this cover the bottom of the broiling pan with water. This will catch the fat from the steak and prevent its catching fire.

Keeping Yolks Fresh

To keep the yolks of raw eggs fresh for several days, drop unbroken into a bowl of cold water.

Water on Pop Corn

A little water thrown over the popcorn before it is popped will make it more flaky.

When Frying Eggs

Sprinkle a little flour into the grease when frying eggs. It will prevent the eggs from spattering over the stove and you.

Bacon on Salad

Fried bacon, allowed to become cold, then grated over the top of the vegetable salad, imparts a delicious flavor.

Prevent Dishes Slipping on Ice

By placing a rubber fruit ring under a dish that is placed on ice, the ring will stick to both ice and dish and prevent it from slipping.

Salt with Eggs

If while boiling eggs they become cracked, add a teaspoon of salt to the water. The salt will close the cracks in the eggshells.

Left Over Vegetables

If you decide to use the left over vegetables in a salad, put them in a drainer and wash off the butter and seasonings with warm water. Drain well and chill thoroughly. They will then be ready for a delicate salad.

SIMPLE RULES FOR USE OF BAKING POWDER INSURE SUCCESS IN CAKE BAKING

Knowing that baking powder leavens cake it is natural to assume that adding an extra half teaspoon to the amount specified in a recipe will give a cake greater lightness. However, that is not true, and the best plan to follow is to use the amount recommended on your baking powder can.

Because of the increased efficiency of KC and some other baking powders in use today, representing about 80 per cent of the baking powder consumed, they should be used properly to insure successful bakings.

The following rules will be helpful in bringing about desired results:

First, always use the amount specified on your baking powder can. This proportion has been worked out as best for that particular type. With KC, one level teaspoonful to a cup of sifted flour is sufficient for most recipes.

Second, measure carefully — remember that an excess amount of any baking powder does not produce best results. A level teaspoonful means that you must level off with a knife.

KC Baking Powder, the brand used in the cooking school, is one of the most economical and efficient products entering the kitchen. Properly used it will produce for you, the finest of baked goods. You will be convinced of this by giving it a fair

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE TWENTY-NINTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT

I am a candidate for re-election to the office of State Senator on the Republican ticket. It has been a pleasure and a privilege to serve this district during the 1935 session of the Legislature.

Fortunately I secured an appointment on the powerful Finance and Appropriations Committee of the Senate, as well as assignments on the important Agriculture and Conservation Committees and the Chairmanship of the Sanatorium Committee.

In my service on these committees and in the State Senate generally I have always kept in mind, and worked for the interest and welfare of the people of my district. If my efforts have met with your approval, then I will appreciate your support in the coming Primary Election, September 15, 1936. If re-elected, I again promise to aggressively represent you in the Michigan State Senate.

"HOBBY" GROWS INTO LARGE INSTITUTION

Charlevoix County Nursery Through An Individual's Love of Nature

Mother Nature is the best friend Northern Michigan has. The native material in trees and flowers are as choice as any area in this land can boast of. They challenge the appreciation we all have and give us longings for more ability to see and absorb its beauty.

The Charlevoix County Nursery came into being because of the love of nature of an individual. The "hobby" has grown into an institution of real merit and is a joy to nature lovers. Mr. Hemingway has added choice material from all parts of the country. It has been the rule of the nursery to test out new varieties through two or three hard winters before putting it on the market.

Fall blooming material has been stressed as many resort people are not here early enough to see the Spring blooms. The Hybiscus and Budlein are at their height of glory now and the blue spruce have glorious color.

Visitors from far and near come each day to enjoy the flowers, shrubs, trees and evergreens. Drives are so arranged through the nursery to make the viewing easy from an automobile if visitors prefer not to walk.

The nursery has the distinction of acting as an experimental station for the Department of Plant Industry and receives many new types of trees from foreign countries. It is privately owned and has no relationship to Charlevoix county but has used the name only, for 26 years. It is located just east of the Ironton Ferry about six miles southeast of Charlevoix.

Many resort people use the nursery in having material shipped to their home grounds. Visitors are always welcome to enjoy the beauty and to acquaint themselves with material.

200 FARM LOANS IN CHARLEVOIX COUNTY

Credit Totaling $219,200 Reported by Federal Land Bank

In Charlevoix county 200 loans were closed in the amount of $219,200 by the Federal Land Bank and the Land Bank Commissioner, from May 1, 1933, through June 30, 1936, according to information received by Abner E. Larned, state director, National Emergency Council for Michigan.

Of the loans closed in Charlevoix county, 59 for $90,100 were made by the Federal Land Bank and 141 totaling $129,100 by the Land Bank Commissioner.

Through the agency of the Farm Credit Administration in Michigan, $68,736,590 have been loaned during the same period. These loans included 14,506 of Federal Land Bank loans for $33,000,000, 20,087 Land Bank Commissioner loans in the amount of $29,558,800, 14,531 Production Credit Associations totaling $4,876,656, 17,352 Emergency Crop loans amounting to $1,299,459, and four drought relief loans for $1,675.

In addition to refinancing loans through the Farm Credit Administration, the farmers in Michigan were benefited also by a reduction in mortgage principal which amounted to $6,152,600. Further savings resulting from lowered interest rates are estimated at $1,125,000 annually.

COOKING SCHOOL DEMONSTRATOR GIVES HELPFUL HINTS ON BAKING POWDER

Mrs. Helene Sailer, who is conducting the Courier Cooking School, says that for best results in baking it is a good plan to follow these simple rules:

Use the amount of baking powder recommended on the can. Because of the high strength of KC Baking Powder which she is using in the cooking school, only one level teaspoonful should be used to a cup of well sifted flour for most recipes. This is equivalent to one heaping teaspoonful to a quart of flour.

Careful measurement is very necessary as using more or less than a recipe calls for will not produce best results.

Another secret of good baking is to be sure that the baking powder is thoroughly mixed with the flour and other ingredients. The more thoroughly the baking powder and flour are mixed before you add moisture, the better your results are likely to be. Sift three or four times.

For biscuits, make a smooth dough that can be handled without sticking, and bake in moderate oven. For cakes, have your oven slow to moderate at first, until the cake is fully risen; then increase heat so as to just brown lightly.

Mrs. Sailer says that KC, the brand she is using in cooking schools, is manufactured by baking powder specialists who make nothing but baking powder—controlled by expert chemists of national reputation. It is always uniform in quality and can be relied upon to produce for you, the kind of bakings you will be proud to serve.

BAPTIST LADIES HELD THEIR ANNUAL MEETING

Officers for Ensuing Year Were Chosen Last Wednesday Evening

At the recent annual meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Baptist church, officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President, Mrs. Guy Smith; vice-president, Mrs. Vern Norton; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Usher.

A delightful program was a feature of the meeting, followed by refreshments.

COURT RULES LAKE LEVELS CAN BE ESTABLISHED

The state supreme court Thursday upheld the power of courts to determine the level of inland lakes.

The village of Addison appealed a Lenawee county circuit court ruling regarding the level of Devils and Round Lakes in that county and held that the court has the right to "determine the natural height and level of water." The appeal was based on allegations that the lower court judge was "biased and therefore disqualified to sit on the case," and the supreme court affirmed the decision.

LETTERS OF PRAISE SWAMP NRS OFFICE

Employers Tell Major Starret of the Benefits of Employment Service

Scores of letters from Michigan employers praising the National Re-employment Service for the service rendered them in the hiring of workers are being received by Major Howard Starret, state re-employment director.

The National Re-employment Service, a part of the U. S. Department of Labor, operates a free employment service for the unemployed and for employers. Fifty offices throughout Michigan serve all 83 counties.

Excerpts from a few of the letters follow:

"Thank you for your service and please be advised that the service you offered in connection with the employment of n civil engineer was all that could be desired."

This letter was from an architect. Another one from a large Pontiac automobile manufacturer:

"The purpose of this letter is to express our appreciation for your assistance in obtaining for us a blacksmith. We have tried without success several other points of contact and for this reason you can appreciate the value of your employment service to us."

An individual hiring persons to work on her estate said:

"I feel I must express to you my appreciation of your assistance. Your rare tact in selecting men suited for my work makes me feel that you are successful in getting the right person for the right job."

An official of the city of Iron Mountain writes:

"At a number of times the City of Iron Mountain has had occasion to call upon your service and we found that our requisitions were always promptly taken care of. The National Re-employment Service is a worthy one and the people of this county are aware of its benefits."

From a large contractor:

"We have just recently completed our highway project during the construction of which the National Re-employment Service sent to us in excess of 400 men. We are pleased to state that our relationship with the National Re-employment Service was most pleasant and the service rendered was above reproach. We received splendid co-operation from the local branch managers and our requisitions were handled promptly and efficiently."

A Detroit office manager said:

"We have had difficulty hiring certain office machine operators. We called your office and had hired two young women within four hours time. You are to be congratulated."

Another of the many communications received from Detroit employers said:

"We hired a salesman through the National Re-employment Service and have recently promoted him to sales-manager. He is the most successful man we have. Of course the answer probably is that he knew something about our product before he started on the job. You must have a great system to pick them like that. This government service is a real service to private employers. It is what we have been needing."

CONSTITUTION DAY IS SET FOR SEPTEMBER 17

Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald Issued Proclamation for Observance

Governor Fitzgerald has proclaimed September 17 as Constitution Day and requested its formal observance.

The proclamation read in part:

"In the midst of heated discussion on national issues, the Constitution of the United States this year comes in for critical attention. It is well for us to remember that the Constitution has stood throughout the years as a stronghold of good government. It has stood for the principle of equality and justice. Opinions may differ as to how its language shall be interpreted, but there can be no question that the Constitution has preserved the integrity of this nation throughout its life, in times of strife as well as in peace.

"The Constitution cannot be looked upon as a straight-jacket. It has proved to be flexible enough to meet any crisis that has arisen. It will remain so to successfully meet any new problems which may arise."

LEGAL NOW TO RUN DOGS ON ALL GAME

Persons Training Dogs Not Allowed to Carry Guns, However

The training of hunting dogs on game in the field is legal now. Persons running dogs must not carry firearms, however, and dogs may be trained only between the hours of sunrise and sunset.

The running of dogs on rabbits, grouse, pheasants and other upland game has been legal since August 15 but conservation officers in all sections of Michigan report hunters are still calling them to learn when the legal training period begins.

The law provides that dogs may be trained in the field 60 days in advance of the opening of hunting season, which will get under way in the Lower Peninsula October 15.

Charlevoix County Receives $18,689 Under McNitt Road Law

Checks totaling nearly $2,000,000 were mailed to 75 Michigan counties to complete the state's $4,000,000 payment under the McNitt township road law.

Auditor General John J. O'Hara and Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner announced the payments.

Charlevoix county's share of the distribution was $18,689.

STATE'S CASH BALANCE IS AT A HIGH LEVEL

General Fund Balance Over Seven Million—Cite Economies

Michigan's "pay-as-you-go" financial policy has brought the state's general fund up to $7,479,065.96, the largest balance it has had since the depression started, John J. O'Hara, auditor general, announced.

O'Hara credited the five per cent slash Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald ordered in appropriations in the last fiscal year, the "pay-as-you-go" policy, and increased sales tax and liquor revenues for the strong showing.

Prior to September 20, 1935, O'Hara said, the general fund had fluctuated between the red and the black in the ledger. On that date the fund showed a cash balance of $238,648 and has not shown a deficit since. A year ago last June the fund was $6,000,000 in the red. On December 1, 1931, the greatest deficit was reached when the fund was $13,638,555.87 in the red.

FARMERS ARE WARNED AGAINST RACKETEERS

Through the 30 posts, Michigan State Police this week sent a warning to farmers to check carefully on all strangers who come to their farms to negotiate purchase of poultry or stock.

The game is, the troopers have learned, for thieves to call in daylight on a pretext of buying. The visit gives the opportunity to look over poultry and stock, see how it is kept and generally get "the lay of the land." They then return under cover of night and help themselves.

In all cases where there is a call to negotiate a purchase, farmers are being urged to make a note of the car license numbers and observe the callers closely. Then, in event of a night raid, they would have information which their sheriff or their state police could use effectively in recovering the stolen property.

THE CARE OF KITCHEN UTENSILS

By Mary Irene Hart
Home Economics Director
Aluminum Test Kitchen

The tea kettle is possibly one of the most neglected utensils of the household. In some localities the water has certain minerals in it that deposit on the tea kettle, and if this is not removed at intervals, the accumulation will become so thick that the efficiency of the kettle will be decreased, and it will actually take more heat and a longer time to boil the water. All tea kettles should be kept free of sediment. This may be accomplished by pouring the remaining water from the tea kettle at the end of each meal. If an accumulation is found, empty the kettle, and place it over a low heat until the utensil is thoroughly dried out and is hot throughout. Then invert and rap very gently with a wooden mallet. By this procedure the mineral should loosen from the base of the tea kettle and drop out. Care should be taken, however, that the utensil does not become too hot.

Confine the heating of water to the tea kettle. It is a scientific, special design for economical heating of water. It takes more heat and a longer time to boil water in a large uncovered pan than in the perfectly designed tea kettle.

Since water is generally used in the lower section of a double boiler, it should be treated in a similar manner to a tea kettle. Be sure that enough water is added to the lower section of the double boiler to last through the entire cooking period. One should also remember that slowly boiling water is just as hot as rapidly boiling water, and there is not the extravagant unnecessary waste of fuel. The double boiler should always be used when milk is heated for the preparation of custard, sauce, hard cooked eggs, and for cream sauces and other foods containing a large per cent of milk. This eliminates the danger of burning the food, and produces a more healthful product.

You have possibly heard of the individual who uses her coffee pot or percolator day in and day out without washing it. A clean pot is essential for the making of good coffee. At the end of the meal wash the coffee pot or percolator thoroughly, just as any other utensil is washed. The grounds left from one meal should not be used in making coffee for the following one. The discriminating housewife will also clean the tube of the percolator frequently with a very small brush. Care should also be taken not to use too high a flame under this utensil, especially if the base is of a small diameter where the flames may come up around the utensil.

These directions for the use of a coffee pot or percolator may also be applied to the use of the tea pot.

All roasters are designed primarily for use in the oven. To properly roast meats, sear them thoroughly without the cover in a hot oven. This sometimes takes twenty to thirty minutes, depending upon the size of the roast. The heat is then reduced to about 350 degrees, the roaster may be covered, and cooking continued until the meat is done. With careful planning, one may prepare the entire meal in the oven, thus receiving the greatest returns from the amount of fuel used. Extra vegetables may be placed around the roast, thus economizing space in this utensil. By washing the utensil thoroughly after it is used, and by removing the fat which may have accumulated and burned on the roaster each time, it may remain a utensil of beauty.

A fry pan in any material should be given a certain degree at least of care. When one pours boiling hot water on an ice cold glass it will break. Metal subjected to the same test will not break, but in time will buckle, due to uneven expansion. Since aluminum is a rapid conductor of heat, the fry pan should be placed over a medium high flame, but not an extremely high one. This metal absorbs the heat very rapidly, and a lower flame gives it an opportunity to conduct evenly throughout the utensil. Since aluminum utilizes all the heat exerted on the metal, it is not necessary to use as high a flame under an aluminum fry pan as under some fry pans made of other metals. This same rule holds true in another way. Never pour ice cold water, or even cold water in a fry pan which has just been removed from the stove after frying steak and the like. Other utensils, such as sauce pans, griddles, Dutch Ovens, and French Fryers should be given the same care.

The pans used for butter cakes may either be oiled or used with a paper disc in the bottom of the pan. An angel food cake pan should never be used for anything other than angel food and sponge cakes. The loose bottom cake pans are very convenient to use, but one should follow this rule in order to keep them in perfect condition—after the pan is washed, place the bottom in the pan before it is put away.

One should never soak the wooden handle of any utensil or device in water. This rule should be kept in mind especially for care in regard to ladles, potato mashers, paring knives, and spatulas.

If one is attempting to measure exceedingly cold, hard fat in aluminum measuring spoons, the fat should be shaved off in thin sections before it is packed and pressed into the spoon, so as not to weaken the spoon. A better plan is to allow the butter to warm at room temperature for a short time before measuring.

The cake decorator should be thoroughly washed at the end of each using. This is a convenient contrivance to use, not only for decorating cakes, but for filling cream puffs, decorating open face sandwiches with cheese mixtures, and stuffing celery. All lumps should be removed from any mixture which is to go into the cake decorator, thus preventing the material from clogging the tips.

Gelatin molds may be found in all sizes, shapes, and varieties. These do not demand any special care except that they be washed thoroughly after each using. To remove gelatin from the mold, dip it in warm water to a depth above the mixture; when the mixture is loose at the edge, invert the serving plate over the mold, turn the plate and the mold together in an upright position; then lift the mold from the mixture. If the mold does not come out readily, repeat this procedure.

The ring mold is sometimes thought of only as a gelatin mold. However, this utensil may be used very nicely for all types of cakes, meat loaf, spinach, noodle, and spaghetti rings. Follow the final directions for the use of jelly molds in removing the utensil from the ring. However, loosen the food from the edge of the mold with a spatula instead of dipping it in warm water.

Great men are patient when patience is necessary.

ANGLER DANGLES BLOND CURL AND LANDS BIG FISH

Bellaire—Gentlemen are not alone in preferring blonds, for it was due to the preference of a German brown trout for a bit of a blond curl from the head of Mrs. Earl Morse, 347 Mt. Vernon avenue, Grand Rapids, that Mr. Morse caught a beauty (trout) weighing four pounds, eleven ounces.

Last Friday night Morse, fishing from a small boat in a stumpy portion of the municipal pond here, flicked the surface of the pond with a homemade bait consisting of a cork, chicken feathers and a piece of one of his wife's curls, which she had saved for him a week previous when she had her long hair cut.

Up to 10 p. m. trout didn't prefer blonds, for the other fishers except Morse seemed to be doing well, but at 10 o'clock:

"Zip" went the line, and the cane pole almost went double. Following a battle of 20 minutes, Morse landed his catch.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Aiding Starch for Gloss

A pinch of salt added to hot starch will give a high gloss.

Shellacking Chairs

A coat of clear shellac over the seats of rush-bottom chairs will greatly prolong their lives and keep the reed from splitting.

Paint Odor

A pail of water in a freshly painted room will help remove the odor.

Onion Odor

A little mustard rubbed into the hands after peeling onions, will remove the disagreeable odor.

Refrigerator Deodorant

Put a piece of charcoal on one of the shelves of the refrigerator. It acts as an absorbent for all odors and purifies the air.

Prevent Soiled Curtains

Paint patent clothes pins the color of your decorations in different rooms and use a pair to pin back curtains at night or during showers. This keeps the curtains from being soiled by the screens.

Mice Avoid Camphor

Pieces of gum camphor placed near books on the shelves will protect them from mice.

Make Shakers Work

To keep the metal tops of salt shakers from corroding, cover the inside with melted paraffin. While the paraffin is cooling the holes may be opened with a pin.

Sparkle on Glass

To make cut glass sparkle, dip a small brush in lemon juice and scrub the glass with it.

Aluminum an Advantage

An aluminum dish pan is a joy to the housewife, as it holds the heat of the dishwater much longer than a tin or agate pan.

Killing Earth Worms

To exterminate earth worms from potted plants, thrust unburnt sulphur match-heads, heads down, into the earth around the plants. Use from two to six matches, according to the size of the plant.

About Cedar Chests

Remember cedar chests will not kill moths or their eggs. But if the garment is put into the cedar chest free of eggs and larvae, it will never become damaged from moths.

Making Irregular Shaped Holes

Drilling large and irregular shaped holes may be accomplished in the following manner—make an outline of the hole desired and drill as close together as possible a series of 1/8-inch holes, using a punch drill if available, then with hammer knock out center using half round file to finish hole, giving smooth edge.

Putting New Wicks in Cigar Lighters

Owners of cigar lighters have no doubt experienced difficulty in putting in new wicks. Wicks can be inserted in your lighter easily if you will take a single strand of wire — cut from a piece of fixture cord and commencing about one inch from the end of the wick wind tightly, leaving about a three-inch tail of wire. Then insert in wick and pull through.

Prevent Wood Splitting from Screws

Screws may be quickly driven in hard wood and splitting prevented if a small hole is punched to start the screw and paraffin or soap is applied to the threads.

Turning Window Shades

When window shades become soiled or faded at the lower end, it is by no means the end of their existence. Remove them from the rollers, make a hem in the good part of the shade and tack the shabby end to the roll. They will look like new as the shabby part will only show when the shade is pulled all the way down.

Tinting Lingerie

Lingerie must be tinted occasionally to preserve its dainty appearance. A faded blue garment will tint a delicate orchid with the aid of pink dye. A pale yellow will shade into a delicate green if dipped in blue dye, and a pink dye will change yellow to a melon or shell pink. Be sure to use small quantities of the dye for pastel shades.

Brightening Silk Hose

A tablespoon of vinegar to the rinse water will bring out the lustre in silk stockings.

Extra Shelves

Hanging shelves make extra storage space in a crowded cellar and prove splendid places to store preserves and jellies, out of reach of any cellar pests or rodents.

How to Take Unpleasant Tasting Medicine

When the medicine is particularly unpleasant to take, hold a piece of ice in the mouth for two minutes before taking. It will not taste nearly so bad.

Keep Silk White

A light bluing in the rinse water after laundering white silk underwear will keep it snowy white and never give it a chance to yellow.

Skin Irritation

Irritation to the hands as a result of using naphtha for cleaning can be avoided if first you rub and work a little vinegar well into the skin.

Preserving Linoleum

A light coat of varnish, applied every few months, will lengthen the life of linoleum and preserve the design.

Hanging Calendars

If you wish to hang a calendar where there are only painted walls, attach a tiny piece of adhesive tape to the calendar and the other end to the wall. This will save driving nails or screws into the plaster.

Fudge Ice Cubes

An electric refrigerator can be used in making candy. Butter the tins used for ice cubes and pour your fudge into them. The candy will harden almost immediately and there will be no cutting to do.

Identifying Dishes

Your dishes will come back from the church or bazaar sale if you write your name on a piece of adhesive tape and fasten to the bottom of each utensil.

Cleaning Paint Brushes

Paint brushes can be cleaned by washing them in hot soda water and soft soap.

Papers Under Carpets

Putting papers under carpets and linoleums is an old, but very excellent trick for winter. Papers laid under mattresses also keep out much cold air. This, of course, applies more to houses than to apartment flats.

Parchment Shades

Wipe off parchment lamp shades with a cloth dampened with olive oil. It will remove all soil and restore all the former freshness.

If you keep a nickel's worth of sulphus in the dog's drinking water and leave it there, it helps keep the dog healthy and is especially good for a dog subject to worms.

Taxation vs Starvation

For the past year or more you have listened to the plaintive cry of industry and big interests being ruined by taxation. At the same time you have read of the great increase in their business and their stocks and bonds that were almost worthless, coming back to value. This situation is hard for ordinary minds to comprehend.

But the question of taxation must be considered and considered honestly, and when you get down to "brass tacks" it is a very simple one. You must have taxation or starvation. This has already been proven so plainly that there can be no doubts in the mind of the average American citizen. Go back four or five years, the country was begging our government for aid in feeding the starving, but the big interests, through their paid servant Hoover, said "they could do nothing." "To feed the hungry, to place them on a dole, would lower their independence." The American citizen could lay by the wayside and starve, but his independence must be maintained. Millions given to railroads and banks, but not one cent to feed the poor and the helpless.

Can we survive without this heavy taxation? Yes, of course we can.

Through improved machinery and mass production we cannot use all our labor, but by reducing the number of hours in a day's work we can absorb surplus labor and in order to give labor a buying power, wages must be raised to consume the products of our factories. Of course, this will affect great profits and you will not produce multi-millionaires so fast and so big as you have in the past, but you will produce a happy and contented people instead.

The matter of taxation has been put up to industry squarely by the New Deal. Take care of labor and avoid taxation, since industry will not take care of labor, the government must, and you must have taxation instead of starvation.

Think of me September 15, 1936.

MAN vs MACHINERY

Besides the raw material, two elements enter into the production of manufactured articles. One is labor performed by man and the other is machinery directed by man.

To which does capital give the greatest attention? The men in the plant or the machinery? In case of a "shut-down" the machinery is carefully repaired and oiled and cared for so as to have it in good condition when the factory again opens.

What about the men in this case? Are they cared for? Are they fed and housed and a physician sent around to examine their health to see that they will be in good condition when the shop opens? No! They are turned out to starve and seek shelter or go on charity, if they have been unable to accumulate enough to sustain them until work again opens up.

Evidently the employer thinks more of his machinery than he does of employes; if they starve in the meantime, they can get more men to take their places. Great humanitarians, are they not? Does the official's large salary cease and the stockholder's dividends cease when the plant closes? Oh, no! They must be paid far 12 months if the plant runs only five months in the year. But labor, the element that creates the wealth, gets no consideration.

The Wagner Labor Act that the President endorsed, but reversed, at the request of large employers by the Supreme Court, was a remedy for the sad condition of labor above described; was stopped temporarily by the Supreme Court, will be made into law that will endure if Roosevelt is again elected, and now they and their paid agents yell "Stop Roosevelt." But their false entreaties are in vain. The small business men, the farmers and the laborers are great in number compared with the privileged class and Roosevelt will be re-elected, and CAPITAL under the New Deal completed, will be compelled to part with GREED, and they may become good citizens, God-fearing, man-loving men.

I would appreciate your vote for Congress September 15.

WILL SELECT NATIONAL 4-H COMPETITORS

Raymond Fisher, East Jordan, Charlevoix County Representative

Nearly every county in the state is represented in the 4-H judging and demonstration contests at the Michigan State Fair at Detroit next week to select representatives for national 4-H competition.

From Charlevoix county, Raymond Fisher, East Jordan, will compete in dairy judging.

The members to compete were selected from about 35,000 boys and girls through a series of elimination contests which have been conducted this summer. Contests were held in connection with 4-H camps held at Gaylord and Chatham, and in a week's program at Michigan State College, East Lansing.

The winning team in dairy demonstration and the four high individuals in dairy judging will compete with state 4-H teams at Dallas, Texas, next month. The two high scoring boys and girls in the achievement contest will compete with similar winners at the National 4-H Camp at Washington, D. C., next June.

Those who will compete at National 4-H Congress at the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago in November include the livestock judging, poultry judging, poultry demonstration, crops demonstration, handicraft demonstration, wood identification, food preparation demonstration, and clothing demonstration team winners. Others who will compete nt the International are the high individual in the dress revue, high two individuals in canning judging, high two persons in clothing judging, and the boy and girl winners of the state health contest.

Expenses of the members to Detroit and also the expenses of the representatives to the various national contests are being paid by the state fair association.

THOMAS READ PROMISES MICHIGAN REAL SERVICE

Seeks Re-Nomination As Staunch Republican and Worker

Lieut. Gov. Thomas Read, of Shelby, who is running for re-nomination on the Republican ticket at the September primaries, told the people of Michigan today that if they return him to his post as president of the Senate they can be assured that he will deliver to them a full measure of conscientious service.

"The people of the State of Michigan," the lieutenant governor said, "have a right to expect this type of service from the men they send to Lansing and it is my one desire to see that they get it."

In addition to being a staunch Republican, Lieut. Gov. Read is a keen student of state affairs and is cognizant of the many problems confronting the citizens of Michigan today. Time and again during his previous terms as lieutenant governor, Mr. Read has demonstrated his rare ability to cope with perplexing situations and has displayed excellent judgment in carrying out the people's wishes.

Citizens from all walks of life have found in Lieut. Gov. Read a fast friend. Farmers, laboring men, educators, industrialists and business men are supporting his candidacy because they know that he has their interests at heart.

Standing squarely on a platform of economy in government and fairness in legislation, Lieut. Gov. Read will continue to place duty above self and give the people of Michigan a straightforward, business-like administration in the Senate.

UNITED COMMERCIAL GROUPS IS PLANNED

Held Meet at East Jordao to Merge Efforts of Three Cities

Officers of the Charlevoix board of commerce and Boyne City Progressive club were guests, last Wednesday evening, of the East Jordan chamber of commerce.

Supper was served at the Cherryvale Lodge, near East Jordan, with some 25 business and professional men of the three towns in attendance. Following the meal, a regular meeting of the East Jordan chamber was called and President Barney Millstein announced as the principal matter of business a proposal to unite the three civic bodies represented in a county organization.

The plan met with the hearty approval of all, as it is felt that the three cities of Charlevoix county have many problems and interests in common — especially as respects the resort business — that can best be dealt with and promoted by joining forces. President Millstein directed the executive committee of his chamber to formulate a plan of county organization and present it at the next regular meeting.

Other matters discussed were the diversion of northbound traffic to M-66 at Mancelona by the erection of a sign at that point, the value of membership in the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association, the most effective rate for chamber of commerce dues, and other minor subjects.

FARM POWER PLANS NEARLY COMPLETED

Charlevoix County Will Be Served by Michigan Public Service Co.

The last gap in the rural electrification program of the State Public Utilities Commission will be closed within 10 days, it was announced by Emerson R. Boyles, utilities commissioner.

With agreements virtually reached between the commission and power companies, Boyles said the commission would issue an order soon under which Associated Gas & Electric Co. would supply rural power to Van Buren, St. Joseph, Cass, and part of Kalamazoo and Berrien counties. The contemplated order for the Michigan Public Service Co. will bring power to Mason, Cheboygan, Oceana, Manistee, Charlevoix, Otsego, Grand Traverse, Leelanau, Antrim, and Crawford counties. The Lake Superior District Power Co. will bring lines into rural Gogebic county.

The orders will leave blanks in the rural power map only in small areas served by utility companies that could not be expected to participate in the commission's program at this time, the commissioner said.

FITZGERALD AND MURPHY LEADING FOR GOVERNOR

BRUCKER HAS LARGE MAJORITY OVER COUZENS IN REPUBLICAN RACE FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR

DICKINSON LEADING G.O.P. FOR LIEUT.-GOV.

Ikens Given Heavy Majority Over Steimel for Sheriff; Ruegsegger Beats Meggison by 226 Votes for Judge for Probate; Tindall Is County Choice for Road Commissioner

Down-state reports, giving a boiled-down but incomplete resume on results of Tuesday's primary election, give Frank D. Fitzgerald, Republican incumbent, an overwhelming majority for nomination.

In the Democratic race for governor, 2050 precincts gave Frank Murphy 108,219 votes to 50,873 for George W. Welsh, who has conceded defeat. Wilber M. Brucker was leading James Couzens by a vote of 188,856 to 123,558 for the Republican nomination for United States senator, with 1986 precincts reported. Prentis M. Brown was leading a field of four for the Democratic nomination.

In the race for Lieutenant-Governor, Luren D. Dickinson appears to have a commanding lead over Thomas Read for the Republican nomination, while Leon D. Case was leading the Democratic field of four.

While reports are unofficial, Herbert J. Rushton is given a majority of 400 votes over Allan J. McDougall for the Republican nomination in the 11th congressional race. John Luecke is apparently the Democratic nominee.

Otto Bishop, the Republican incumbent, and Tom Baker, unopposed Democratic, are the nominees for state senator of the 29th district.

Leading the county Republican ticket, Douglas D. Tibbits received the nomination for representative of the Charlevoix-Leelanau district by an overwhelming majority over LaVerne C. Rouse. Tibbits had a three to one majority. Robert F. Sloan, on the basis of unofficial returns, is the Democratic nominee for state representative, with a majority of 153 votes over William Schram, the Leelanau county candidate.

In contests for Republican nominations for county offices, Floyd W. Ikens was given a two to one majority over Henry Steimel. Ervan A. Ruegsegger, incumbent judge of probate, defeated Clarence B. Meggison by a margin of 226 votes. William F. Tindall was the voters' choice for road commissioner, polling more votes than his two opponents combined.

In the only Democratic county contest, Pearl McHale received the nomination for register of deeds over G. A. Muma by a margin of 301 votes.

The county vote was lighter than average, especially in Charlevoix. A total of something over 600 Democratic votes were cast, compared with approximately 2,500 Republican.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS NOW UNDER WAY

REGULAR ROUTINE RUNNING SMOOTHLY TUESDAY

Initial Enrollment Figures, Now Only Tentative, Show a Decrease of 32 in Enrollment

Charlevoix public schools opened Monday for the 1936-37 term. Classes the opening day were conducted on an irregular schedule, but Tuesday the regular routine was under way.

Initial enrollment, expected to increase in subsequent weeks, shows a drop from last year and two years ago. Figures made available by Supt. O. P. North show a decrease of 32 on the opening day, September 14.

At the present time 329 pupils are enrolled in the junior and senior high schools, as compared to 342, the average 1935-36 figure. The grade enrollment is 246, as compared to 269 last year. High school enrollment is holding up due, to the increased attendance from district schools. The decrease in the grades is attributed largely to families moving from the city.

Following is the enrollment by grades:-

Grade	1936	1935
High School
12th grade	51	49
11th grade	55	56
10th grade	70	72
Total	176	177
Junior High
9th grade	79	75
8th grade	43	42
7th grade	31	48
Total	153	165
Elementary Department
6th grade	38	34
5th grade	33	40
4th grade	42	37
3rd grade	36	42
2nd grade	27	39
1st grade	40	38
Kindergarten	30	39
Total	246	269

Due to the large kindergarten, a few children can be allowed to enter, with the understanding, however, that they will not be allowed to enter the first grade until having reached the age of six years.

Inasmuch as state aid is determined on the number of children enrolled in school, members of the board of education are considerably concerned over the drop in enrollment.

YOUNG REPUBLICAN CLUB FORMED ON MONDAY EVE.

Officers Were Chosen and Plans for Future Activities Made

At a largely attended meeting Monday evening at the court house, a Charlevoix Young Republican Club was organized, officers elected and plans made for future activities.

Officers chosen were: President, Fay A. Bradley; vice-president, George O. Haggard; secretary, Marjorie Jean Carey; treasurer, Mabel Bird.

Officers of the Boyne City club were present at the meeting, and organization of the local group completes the county-wide set-up. Plans for a county-wide rally are now in the making.

The Charlevoix club will hold its next meeting Monday evening, September 21, at the court house. Committees will be appointed at that time.

SOCIALIST LEADER TO SPEAK AT RALLY HERE

John Monarch, Gubernatorial Candidate, Comes Thursday Night

John Monarch, Socialist candidate for governor of Michigan, will be the principal speaker at a campaign rally to be held Thursday evening, September 17, at 8 p. m., in the court house.

Born in the Kentucky mountains, Monarch started to work in the coal mines at the age of 13. At 18 he was an organizer for the United Mine Workers of America and in such capacity worked in the coal mine regions of Illinois and Indiana for many years. Moving to Michigan 12 years ago, he made his home in Battle Creek.

The public is invited to the meeting.

RURAL TEACHERS' CLUB HELD FIRST MEETING

Next Session of Group Is Scheduled for Monday, October 19

The Charlevoix County Rural Teachers' Club held its first meeting of the school year at the Murray school on September 10. The meeting was well attended and an enjoyable feature was a cooperative supper.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Josephine Laughlan, club president. A discussion was held on the subject, "Teaching of Health Education." Miss Deane Rinck, county nurse, gave a very interesting talk on "Physical and Mental Development of Children," and discussed other subjects having a great influence on this process of development.

All rural teachers of Charlevoix county are urged to be present at the next meeting to be held Monday evening, October 19, at 7 o'clock. Each is urged to bring one or more members of their school board to the meeting.

FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS SEPT. 26TH

RED RAYDERS PLAY GAYLORD HERE FIRST GAME

Five Veterans Among Forty Candidates Reporting for the Initial Practice Session Monday

Football practice in preparation for the 1936 season which opens here September 26, got under way at the south side athletic field Monday afternoon, the opening day of school.

A group of 40 candidates reported to Coach Ray Kipke for the initial work-out. Five veterans from last year's squad were included, two backfield men and three linesmen. They were Ed. Radle, fullback; Leslie Shaptoa, halfback; Ralph Shapton, guard; Bob Neff, tackle, and Dan Gallagher, end. In addition to these five seasoned veterans are a large group of last year's reserves, many of whom saw action a part of several games.

Of the 1935 reserves are Bruce Withers, Franklin Ochs, Lee Hiller, Bob Livingston, Harry Withers, Bert Pearl, Lewis Brown, Bob Goss, Keith Carey, Douglas and Kenneth Bird, and Harrison Bedford. In addition some promising new material reported for practice and, while Coach Kipke is confronted with building up practically a new team, the task, in view of the reserve and new material, is not altogether a gloomy one. A casual glance at the candidates for the 1936 Red Rayder squad reveals that the team will not only be rangy, but also heavy.

Charlevoix will open its schedule at home on Saturday, September 26, meeting Gaylord. Other games, all scheduled with Tip of Michigan conference schools, are as follows:

October 3—Charlevoix at Boyne.
October 17—Charlevoix at Jordaa.
October 24—Harbor Springs here.
October 31—Rogers City here.

The first three games are scheduled for 2:30 o'clock, and the other two at 2 o'clock.

ELEVEN MILLION DOLLARS TO BEET GROWERS

This Amount to Be Paid for 1936 Crop in Michigan, Other States

More than eleven million dollars will be distributed to the sugar beet growers of Michigan, Ohio and Indiana for their 1936 sugar beet crop, according to an estimate made today by Dr. J. A. Brock, editor of the Sugar Beet Journal.

"In spite of adverse weather conditions," said Brock, "it is believed that over four hundred million pounds of beet sugar will be produced this season in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana. If the people of the three states rally to the support of their home sugar industry by demanding and using home-grown sugar the purchasing power of thousands of Michigan, Ohio and Indiana farmers will be increased by millions of dollars."

PLAN EXPANSION OF THE TOURIST TRADE

Travel Bureau Manager to Be Given Personal Tour of State

Michigan tourist associations Friday mapped out a program for 1937 intended to boost resort business in the state above the record proportions established this year.

Officials of the resort associations announced that tourist trade in Michigan hit an all-time high, and plans are already under way to further publicize the state's summer playground facilities.

A tour of Michigan for travel bureau managers from other states, to be staged next spring, was approved at a conference of tourist association representatives with state officials at Lansing. Visitors will be escorted to points of interest in Michigan and will be shown first-hand the state's summer vacation advantages. It was pointed out at the conference that travel bureau representatives influence millions of persons planning vacations.

COOKING SCHOOL A SUCCESSFUL EVENT

ATTENDANCE INCREASED WITH EVERY SESSION

Fine Cooperation of Local Merchants Made Event Possible—Will Be Repeated Next Year

Saturday afternoon's largely attended session brought to a close the second annual cooking school sponsored by the Charlevoix Courier.

Introduced in Charlevoix for the first time by this publication last year, the school increased with popularity each session. The first demonstration conducted by Mrs. Helene Sailer at the high school gymnasium drew an attendance of 152. The attendance increased to 157 for the second session and swelled to over 200 for the third and concluding demonstration Saturday afternoon.

The Courier plans making an annual feature of the Helene Sailer Cooking School, a demonstration which affords the housewives of Charlevoix and vicinity a first-hand view of the proper methods of running that greatest of all businesses—the modern American home. Without exception, all attendants expressed their satisfaction of Mrs. Sailer's methods which, instead of a long series of dry lectures, provided practical demonstrations, step by step, in revealing the secrets of successful cooking and baking.

That Charlevoix merchants were appreciative of the opportunity of presenting their merchandise for the inspection of local housewives was indicated by the many fine displays shown. In fact, it was the fine cooperation of Charlevoix merchants that made the Cooking School possible. With this cooperation continued, the event will grow in its benefits from year to year.

MRS. PEARL SMITH IS WINNER OF CONTEST

Awarded Silex Coffee Maker by Radio Electric Appliance Company

Mrs. Pearl Smith is the proud owner of a Silex Coffee Maker, given by the Radio Electric Appliance Co. as a prize during the Courier Cooking School last week.

Mrs. Smith guessed within one-tenth of a cent of the correct answer of the operating cost of the Frigidaire operating cost contest. At the close of the contest the meter reading was one and one-fifth kilowatts consumption at a cost of three and six-tenths cents. Mrs. Smith's guess on the cost was three and six-tenths cents.

MICHIGAN COAL IS USED THROUGH STATE PURCHASE

The state purchased 30,350 tons of Michigan coal for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1936, it was announced by Hugh E. Lillie, secretary of the State Administrative Board. For a similar period in 1935 the state bought 21,000 tons.

CLAIM DEER RATIO IS STILL SATISFACTORY

ONE BUCK TO 2.4 DOES REPORTED AFTER SURVEY

Ratio of Bucks to Does Slightly Higher in Upper Peninsula Game Cover Than Lower Counties

The buck-to-doe ratio of Michigan's deer herd, which has been subject to a steady fire of speculation and argument in hunters' circles the past several seasons, seemed entirely safe and satisfactory among the 300 or so deer live-trapped, tagged and released by CCC men working under supervision of the Game Division, Department of Conservation, last winter.

A report recently compiled shows a ratio of one buck to 2.4 does taken in these operations. These figures—which the average deer hunter may be inclined to question — compare very favorably with every other dependable method known and used in Michigan for checking deer sex ratios.

Last year special "cen-us" drives were conducted in various deer areas to obtain information on the probable populations of deer present per square mile. Eighty-four drives on 93 square miles were held, all told. The CCC men reported seeing an average of 2.1 does for every buck counted in the Upper Peninsula and 2.7 does for every buck seen in the Lower Peninsula. These figures give a state average of one buck to 2.5 does.

Another method of checking sex ratios is the annual tallies made in the field by Conservation officers. These are conducted personally by officers during the summer months. A state average of three does per buck was revealed on the basis of the officers' reports for 1935.

Sportsmen who go north each fall for deer and consistently report seeing 10 does to a buck or frequently no bucks at all, will not be inclined to agree with these figures, and the game men can't help but feel that it's a natural reaction. The one-buck law obviously operates to reduce and limit the supply of buck deer and it is reasonable to expect to see more does, the game men point out. They are inclined to believe from the check-ups and drives, furthermore, that the buck-to-doe ratio is not far from what might be expected under a one-buck law.

"A common mistake and one that most any individual would make in observing deer in the fall months," said Max C. Wakeman, who had charge of deer-trapping operations, "is to class all anterless deer as 'does.' They do not stop to think that the year's crop of fawns are now small deer in the 'red' coat, not easily distinguishable from does, and that somewhere near half of them are bucks.

"As a whole, we haven't seen any reason to feel alarmed yet over the ratio of does to bucks. Deer are polygamous and a ratio of one buck to five does ought to be at least 'safe'."

The deer live-trapping operations were conducted to obtain more information concerning the migration or ranging habits of the deer. In the Upper Peninsula a total of 131 deer were tagged by CCC men and released. Live traps were operated at Blaney Park, the Cusino refuge unit and the Escanaba River tract. In the Lower Peninsula live-traps were operated at the Luther-Baldwin forest unit, the Crawford refuge and Wilderness State Park, and a total of 193 deer tagged and released, making a grand total of 324 for the state.

Eighty deer live-trapped in the Crawford refuge were moved to new areas, 54 in the North Manistee River swamp, Kalkaska county, and 26

PROCLAMATION By the Governor

Governor Fitzgerald has designated October 4 to 10 as Fire Prevention Week.

His proclamation reads in part:

"Each year fire destroys thousands of lives and millions of dollars in property value. In order that the people of Michigan and every community shall individually and through various organizations discover and correct existing fire hazards, promote measures of public and private fire protection, extend instruction in fire prevention among adults, as well as school children, and arouse the people generally to the need of habits for greater care, I direct the observance of Fire Prevention Week."

NORWOOD

Floyd Wagner has built a new porch on his house in Norwood.

Several Norwood citizens attended the county fair held at East Jordan last week.

I. L. Dice will open his cider press on Thursday of each week, beginning this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Holmes, of Charlevoix, visited Harris Pierce and family Sunday.

Rollie Baumbach, with his crew of men, are threshing grain in our locality this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parsons, of Ellsworth, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Jones.

Miss Bessie McDonald and Henry Stevens, of Manton, were guests of Miss Bertha Pierce, Labor Day.

William Supernaw has repaired his barn, which was struck by lightning during an electric storm this summer.

Mrs. Glenn Pearl visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hull last Thursday and Friday, before leaving for Texas.

R. E. Stafford has remodeled the barn and is reroofing the house on his farm which he recently purchased from Harry Pearl in Norwood.

Several students from Norwood district are attending high school in Charlevoix this year, namely Doyle and Delta Richardson, George Light, Martin Richardson, Kenneth Empey, Forest and Frederick Wagner, and Misses Grace and Ruth Baumbach.

Plenny Genett was very pleasantly surprised Monday evening when 14 of his friends gathered at his home, honoring his birthday anniversary. The evening was spent playing progressive pedro, Mrs. Ben Yettaw and Edd Scott winning first prizes, and Mrs. George VerSnyder and William Seymour the booby prizes, after which a delightful cooperative lunch was served, including a beautiful birthday cake. Mr. Genett was the recipient of a very pretty and useful gift from his friends. The guests departed wishing the host many more happy returns of the day.

ATWOOD

Helen Mae Brown is attending the East Jordan High school this year.

Herbert Peebles, of Ellsworth, was a business caller in this vicinity Monday.

Miss Margaret Lord returned home last week after a few weeks' employment at Eastport.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jolliffe and sons, Billie and Dick, spent Saturday of last week in Petoskey.

Gerrit Hoffman, of Grand Rapids, has rented the John Hoffman farm and will move there this fall.

Most of the families in this community were represented at the Charlevoix County Fair last week.

Howard and Velma Miller, Jane Parsons and Charles Greeley resumed their high school duties at Charlevoix Monday morning.

Pete Burns, who for the past two years has operated the John Hoffman farm, recently purchased the Jake Venerin farm and will take possession this fall.

Friends of Andrew Miller gathered at his home Sunday and enjoyed a cooperative dinner. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Clarke and family, of East Jordan; Mr. and Mrs. Sid Thompson and sons and Mrs. Cora Brown and family, of Chestonia, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown and family, of Atwood.

"High Tension" Thrilling Hit

"High Tension" might be the description, as well as the title, of the Fox film of that name coming September 22 to the Palace Theatre with Brian Donlevy, Glenda Farrell, Norman Foster, Helen Wood and Robert McWade featured.

Based on the adventures of the dare-devil "trouble-shooters" who repair the breaks in the mighty cables connecting the continents of the world, the film is filled with fast-moving excitement and high-speed adventures.

"Green Pastures," "Best Loved Play" at Palace Theatre

"The Green Pastures," picturized by Warner Bros. from Marc Connelly's Pulitzer Prize Play, and hailed by critics as "America's best loved drama," comes to the Palace Theatre September 23, 24 and 25.

The picture, which ran for five years as a stage play and thrilled millions of people, is said to be one of the most inspiring spectacles that has ever been screened. It was produced on a magnificent scale with gigantic sets and beautiful backgrounds. In this respect it is far greater in scope than the stage production because scenes which were only hinted at in the cramped quarters before the footlights are shown in all their magnificent grandeur on the screen. The unlimited space and the magic of the camera have wrought a miracle the stage never dreamed of.

Rex Ingram, who has the leading role, takes the place of Richard Berry Harrison, who died after playing the part for five years on the stage. He is credited by Mr. Connelly, the author, with giving even a finer performance than Harrison, who won the hearts of millions by his simple and dignified performance.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
By B. C. Mellencamp

Field Measurements Will Start This Week In Soil Conservation Program

The final stages in the soil conservation program have already started this week when the measurements of farm acreages are taking place. The county committee has already selected a group of men for this job. In many cases assistants will accompany the farm reporter so as to hurry up the work. Measuring wheels have already been ordered and will be here immediately.

In order to hurry the measuring to a successful conclusion, it will be appreciated if the farmer will lend his assistance on the day the farm reporter visits him. As has been stated before the proof of compliance rests on the farmer so in many cases it will be necessary for him to have the signatures of two neighbors, which by the way, can be secured the same day the farm reporter makes his listing of the practices that earn payments. We are anxious to have the work done before snow falls, which means that everything will have to be efficiently carried out. Not alone this, but the expense of the program is borne by those who receive payments in the program, so the faster the work is carried on the less expense has to be paid by the cooperators.

Animal Disease Meetings to Be Held Next Week

One of the most profitable series of meetings to be arranged for this year will be the animal disease meetings scheduled for the week of September 21. Dr. B. J. Killham, animal pathologist of the Michigan State College, will be the speaker at each meeting. At least 10 meetings will be held at various points in the county and all farmers are cordially invited.

The subjects to be discussed will cover all phases of animal diseases. The simple remedies that are safe for farmers to use will be suggested to those in attendance. For instance, scours in calves are very prevalent. Colic is another disturbance. The common ailments of poultry will be discussed. You can imagine the other more or less common diseases of livestock that will come up for discussion. Many times homemade remedies will save the farmer many losses.

Another very important objective is to have all cattle in Charlevoix county tested for Bangs Disease. Over 900 herds now have been tested and everyone is now anxious to get all herds completed by the end of 1936. Dr. Killham will discuss in detail all the facts concerning this disease. We would like to get the names of everyone who has not tested so that the job can be completed. The tuberculosis campaign will likewise come in for its share of consideration.

It is felt that this type of work will be very helpful to all owners of livestock. The schedule can not be announced at this time but a circular letter will be sent to each farmer announcing the place and time of meetings. Be sure to plan on attending your nearest meeting.

STATE FERRIES OPERATING FALL SCHEDULE

Two Boats on Run — Start 6 a. m. Every Hour and Half to 9 p. m.

State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner announced that beginning September 10 and continuing through November 9 only two boats would give service across the Straits of Mackinac.

Labor Day was the signal for a marked decrease in traffic across the Straits and two of the four boats operated by the state highway department since July 1 were taken out of service. The Straits of Mackinac, flagship of the state fleet, has left the Straits for dry dock at River Rouge. The St. Marie, which has been operated under a rental agreement with a railroad transportation company, is also out of service. The commissioner said that boats would operate at hour-and-a-half intervals out of St. Ignace and Mackinaw City daily from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m.

The ferries have handled a record amount of traffic this season, twice breaking old records for number of vehicles carried during a single day. For the first time in the history of the service four and five boats were used to accommodate the thousands of tourists crossing between the two peninsulas. Three of the boats belong to the state owned fleet. The St. Marie was rented for exclusive service for trucks and buses and the Chief Wawatam, another railroad carferry, was pressed into service at peak periods.

The total number of cars carried by the ferries so far this season is equal to the total number carried on November 15 last year. Commissioner Van Wagoner estimates that the total at the end of the year will reach 200,000.

A boy usually asks for about five times as much freeway as he expects to get.

House Trailer Licenses

Increase in the use of automobile house trailers has created the necessity for two more forms of application blanks for automobile license plates and in 1937, these different forms will be distinctly colored for guidance of the public and as an aid to bookkeeping in the Department of State.

Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, in deciding to have the several application forms printed on colored paper, has pointed out that there is no final and accurate knowledge of the number of house trailers licensed in Michigan today. In past years, applications for house trailer license plates—an almost negligible volume—have not been segregated from those of ordinary trailers. hTe rates for the house trailer and passenger vehicle are the same.

Today, when plate applicants go to the state capitol or to branch offices of the Department of State, they must choose the right form from a total of nine. There are full and half year plate forms for passenger cars, commercial vehicles, ordinary trailers, house trailers and motorcycles. Clerks must watch carefully in their handling of these nine distinct kinds of applications.

To simplify the matter for all concerned, Atwood has ordered 1937 application blanks printed on different colors.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

OFFER DIAGNOSIS OF FARM PRICES

VALUE PRODUCTS EQUAL COMMODITY PRICES, REPORT

Drouth Results in Sub-Normal Yields in Almost Every Major Farm Product of United States

For the first time since 1930, the prices of products which farmers in Michigan sell have been on a par with prices of commodities which farmers buy, reports R. V. Gunn, extension economist, Michigan State College.

In diagnosing what has occurred and what effect trends may have on the crops farmers in this state now are harvesting, Gunn reports that on August 15, for instance, the average farm price index was 34 per cent higher than the pre-war level and that prices are more than double what they were in the fore part of 1933.

"To put it another way, the cash income to Michigan farmers for the first six months of 1936 is estimated to be approximately 16 per cent higher than for the first six months of 1935. If this proportionate increase over last year continues for the balance of this year, the total cash income to Michigan farmers for 1936 will approximate two hundred million dollars. This is almost equal to the income of two hundred and eight million dollars in 1930. Compared with the low cash income year of one hundred and eighteen million dollars in 1932, this represents a 70 per cent increase. It is true that the cost of commodities which farmers buy has also risen during the past four years, but so far this increase has been only 26 per cent.

Drouth Increases Prices

"For the fourth consecutive year, the total U. S. wheat crop is almost 25 per cent below normal. We will again be on an import basis which means that prices for the 1936 crop can be expected to remain high, compared with the 'world market' price. Michigan, with a good crop this year stands to gain because of this situation."

The U. S. corn crop as indicated by August 1 conditions is the smallest since 1881.

The Michigan corn crop, according to government crop reports, will probably be not much more than half as large as last year's bumper crop. As Michigan normally imports some corn for feed, the price situation on corn will be costly to livestock producers in the state. The oats and barley crops are also much below normal in Michigan.

Prices for old crop beans have soared to 1930 levels—close to $5 per hundred pound bag. The prospective yield, however, is but slightly more than half last year's big crop and only slightly less than average. If present prices hold for the new crop, Michigan bean growers, even with a less than average crop, will still secure a good income. However, the total 1936 U. S. bean crop was estimated on August 1 to be only 14 per cent less than the 1928-32 five-year average. Therefore, the final outcome is somewhat problematical.

Potato Crop Valuable

"Although recent rains may improve prospective yields materially a twenty million bushel potato crop for Michigan was indicated August 1," Gunn reports. "This is about 75 per cent of the average production for the previous five-year period. On the other hand, the total late potato crop for the U. S. is now expected to be as small as the extremely short crops of 1925 and 1919. With such a small U. S. crop in prospect, potato prices for this year's crop are likely to average much higher than for any season since 1925-26. With fair yields and good prices in prospect Michigan potato growers have an encouraging outlook.

"At present the outlook for sugar beet growers is fairly good. Yield prospects, despite the dry weather, indicate a fair sized crop. The price of raw sugar for the 1935-36 season has been running from 25 to 90 cents per hundredweight higher than for the 1934-35 season. Stocks of raw sugar in Cuba and at domestic refineries are from 20 to 25 per cent less than a year ago. There is nothing to lead us to expect lower returns per ton of sugar beets to growers of the 1936 crop than for last season's crop.

"The livestock outlook continues encouraging. Total meat supplies are expected to be smaller in 1937 than in 1936, largely because of the 1936 feed shortage occasioned by the drought. Reduction is expected to be most marked in pork and in the better grades of beef. Further improvement in consumer demand for meats is also in prospect. As a result of these two factors — reduced supplies and improved demand — the general level of both meat and livestock prices is expected to be higher in 1937 than in 1936."

Meats May Go Up In 1937

Because of the feed shortage, cattle and hog slaughter during the remainder of 1936 is expected to be relatively large. Some decline in prices from now until the first of the year may result. With lighter weight and smaller supplies available for slaughter in 1937, prices are likely to advance sufficiently to more than offset the prospective decline this fall.

"Prices for dairy products for the next twelve months probably will average higher than a year earlier. Production is expected to be curtailed somewhat and demand continues to improve. Although the cost of feed will be higher than for last year Michigan will not be faced with a hay shortage. Furthermore, late summer rains will improve fall pastures. Dairymen of Michigan who are not required to buy much feed should obtain higher net returns than during the past 12 months.

"Poultry prices are likely to decline by more than the average seasonal amount from July to December, but egg prices probably will rise more than the average. Because of the increased number of chicks hatched and due to the drought conditions, more poultry will be available for market. On the other hand, lower storage stocks of eggs and improving consumer incomes should have a beneficial effect on egg prices."

COWS ELIGIBLE FOR BIGGER CUDS

Extension Dairymen Suggests Cutting Roughages Ordinarily Wasted

Michigan dairymen with foresight will be able to save their check books from embarrassment next winter by putting up now all the ordinary waste roughages possible, points out A. C. Baltzer, Michigan State College extension dairyman.

During the coming season in which it is obvious that feed supplies will be reduced, dairymen will find that an extra stack, mow, shedful or pitful of such material that ordinarily goes to waste will come in handy. Quality of the second mowing, wild hay, immature corn stover and other waste roughages may not be the best but it is important to garner all the crops possible from even the fence rows, ditches and woodlots, says Baltzer.

Farmers who have sufficient hay and other feed, by conserving these waste roughages, may be able to convert them into some extra cash or may be able to sell some of their better feed. I making a clean sweep of the farm for all possible waste roughages, the farmer should not overlook swamp grass, beet tops, fescue and similar roughages. Bakery and brewery refuse, apple pomace and pea vinery refuse have value to the hungry cow and can be converted into milk and butterfat.

"Feeding these low quality roughages in small amounts daily may conserve more expensive feed," Baltzer advises. "The addition of molasses and the chopping or grinding of the material will help to make the roughage more palatable.

"With every indication of high prices for grains and concentrates this coming fall and winter, low grade roughages can be fed to dry cows, due to stand dry for many months, young open heifers which must be wintered through, and in moderate quantities to the herd bull.

"Regular additions of salt or mixture of two pounds of salt and one pound odorless steamed bone meal to every hundred pounds grain fed should be supplied. No money should be spent for the purchase of fancy mixed mineral mixtures other than steamed bone meal."

SMALL GAME LICENSE EXPIRES SEPTEMBER 30

Licenses for 1936-37 Season Are Now Ready for Distribution

All small-game hunting licenses for the season of 1935-1936 and all gun permits for the same period will expire Wednesday, September 30, it has been announced by conservation authorities.

The small-game hunting licenses for 1936-1937 are now being distributed to license dealers who will have them on hand for sale in time for the fall hunting season.

Gun permits are issued by local conservation officers only and to individuals who hold small-game hunting licenses.

Cattle Imports Peril U. S. Herds

Foreign Beef Is Feared as Disease Carrier to U. S. Livestock.

By FRANK RIDGEWAY

Farmers in the United States are jealous of the disease-free condition of their herds and flocks and insist that stringent measures be maintained to prevent the reintroduction of foot-and-mouth disease and other human and animal plagues through increasing importations of foreign animals and meats.

Livestock producers have become alarmed over persistent efforts being made in Washington to lower embargo bars that aid in keeping out highly contagious foreign diseases. Through their organizations farmers and ranchmen oppose the proposal of high ranking New Dealers to change restrictions now imposed on Argentine imports. Present regulations forbid the importation of meat products from countries where rinderpest or foot-and-mouth disease exist. Federal officials propose changes that would permit the re-zoning of the Argentine and admission of meats from zones declared free of these two maladies.

Farmers' representatives say that "the efforts to break down the present embargo are wholly based on economic grounds, and are pursued with a careless disregard of possible grave consequences." Lives of human beings, as well as cattle, hogs and sheep, are involved. Foreign meat is not needed; farmers in this country even now find it difficult to sell, at a satisfactory profit, the meat animals they produce.

Officials of the American National Live Stock Association believe "no one can fairly claim that imports of meat products from any zone of Argentina under present conditions would not constitute a dangerous threat to our herds and flocks."

They point out that the disease-free condition of live stock in this country has been attained at great expense. "That condition," says the association, "should be maintained in the future at all costs. No diplomatic coup, no international intrigue, no pressure from foreign-trade enthusiasts or well-meaning but misdirected free-trade advocates should be allowed to undermine it."

Farmers wonder why this nation should spend millions to clean up diseases and then have foreign trade policies that threaten to undo all the good work. The United States is the only nation that has ever successfully stamped out foot-and-mouth disease.

Western cattlemen cannot forget the big foot-and-mouth disease outbreak in California in 1924 when nearly 100,000 of their cattle, sheep, hogs and goats were destroyed to stop it.

Landon Leading 2 to 1 in Six-State Radio Poll

Chicago, Ill.—Reflecting the nationwide swing away from the New Deal Party, Governor Alf M. Landon, Republican Presidential nominee, is maintaining a two-to-one lead over President Roosevelt in a poll conducted by the midwestern radio station, WIND.

Covering six states, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Iowa and Wisconsin, the poll requires that all votes must be written and sent in through the personal interest of the voter.

With Governor Lanoon showing better than 12,000 votes at the latest count and President Roosevelt trailing with less than 6,000, the minor candidates of Lemke, Browder and Thomas divided another 1,500 votes.

Evils of Restricted Production

No policy of restricting production and artificially raising prices is sound policy. Reduction of production inevitably affects the real wages of everyone; therefore, it lowers the standard of living. And, more than anything else, it leads to the bread lines, to ration cards and to a form of government that is not a democracy but an autocracy. (Frank Knox, Worcester, Mass., speech.)

AUGUST TAKE PREDATORS THE SMALLEST OF YEAR

The August take of predatory animals in Michigan was one of the smallest of the year, conservation authorities report.

Bounty hunters killed 13 bobcats, 121 coyotes and one wolf for a total of 135 predatory animals. Twelve of the coyotes certified for bounty payments were pups. The take of bobcats has shown a steady decrease since January 1.

MAINTAIN KROGER MEAT DEPT. DURING WINTER

Of interest to local citizens is the announcement by Robert Searson, local Kroger store manager, that the store's meat department will remain open through the winter months.

CITY GOLF TOURNEY WILL START SUNDAY

Charlevoix Champ to Be Decided In First Annual All-City Competition

Charlevoix's city golf champion will be determined next week at the conclusion of the first annual city-wide tournament at the Charlevoix Municipal course.

Qualifying rounds will be played Sunday and Monday and match play starts Tuesday with championship and two subsequent flights in the men's division and a championship flight for women. According to "Bill" Supernaw, club professional, matches will be scheduled to avoid confliction with business hours and thus provide an opportunity for all so desiring to take part.

Entries may be made any time prior to Sunday at the clubhouse. A one dollar entrance fee entitles each participant a week's privilege of the course, including those eliminated in match play. Suitable prizes will be awarded all flight winners.

From now on until close of the course, the daily greens fee has been reduced to 50 cents.

TEMPERANCE UNION ELECTED OFFICERS

Mrs. Mary Kirby Was Chosen President for Ensuing Year

At the September meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Mrs. Mary Kirby; vice-president, Mrs. Ida Burns; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Ella Usher; recording secretary, Mrs. Annie Metcalf; treasurer, Mrs. Cora Kelderhouse.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Cassie Hart. Mrs. R. C. Molet presented the topic: "Seeing Is Believing," and told of the alcohol education exhibits at the Century of Progress fair and San Diego Exposition, also of many other methods which are being used by the Unions to show people the effects of alcohol.

SPEAKERS CHOSEN FOR STATE G.O.P. MEETING

Vandenberg and Fitzgerald Will Be Heard at Grand Rapids, Sept. 28

JOHN DARLINGTON A VICTIM OF ACCIDENT

Former Local Young Man Killed Sunday at Elkland, Pennsylvania

Sad news was brought to Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Tyler of this city, last Sunday morning, in a telegram stating that their daughter's husband, John R. Darlington, had been instantly killed in a traffic accident early that morning.

Mr. Darlington had a responsible position in the power plant of a large tannery at Elkland, Pa., He and his wife and little three-months-old son lived at Addison, N. Y., some 10 miles from Elkland, a distance that Mr. Darlington traversed twice each day on a motorcycle, over narrow mountain roads. Saturday, he was working on the night shift from six to midnight. While further details are not, at this time, available, it seems that he was climbing a steep hill on his way home and, at the top, collided with a car coming from the opposite direction. He was killed outright and the two people in the car seriously cut and otherwise injured.

The funeral was held at 2 p. m., Tuesday, at Addison, the rector of the local Episcopal church, of which the Darlingtons were members, officiating. Mr. Darlington, who was known to quite a number of Charlevoix people, was a native of St. Joseph, Mich. Besides his family and relatives here, he is survived by a sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Clark, of Troy, Pa., and a brother, Leo Darlington, of Philadelphia. Mrs. Darlington plans to return to this city with her infant son, following a short stay with her sister-in-law at Troy.

FORMER LOCAL GIRL MARRIED SATURDAY AT TRAVERSE CITY

One of the prettiest weddings of the season took place at the Oak Park Congregational church, Traverse City Saturday evening, September 5, at 8 o'clock when, in the presence of about 150 relatives and friends, Jermaine Atchison became the bride of Delbert Wales.

Mrs. Ruby Akey sang "I Love You Truly," with Mary Lou Bennett as accompanist. Then to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march the couple were received by the Rev. Thomas C. Bennett at the altar, which was banked with ferns and flowers, where the impressive double ring ceremony was performed.

The bride was radiantly beautiful in a princess style white satin gown and bridal veil of white lace, which depended from a cap of lace with medallion design, forming a train. She carried an arm bouquet of Johanna Hill roses, snapdragons and gypsophelia.

The matron of honor, Mrs. John Van Zon, of Petoskey, was attractively gowned in peach taffeta and carried roses and gypsophelia. The best man was Kenneth Owens, of this city.

Bridesmaids were Julia Glados and Daisy Dutcher, of Charlevoix, in dainty gowns of yellow and pale blue, respectively. Flower girls were Julia May Atchison, sister of the bride, in orchid, and Judith Wales, sister of the groom, in pale green. The ring bearer was Bobby Buell. Ushers were Bradley Atchison and George Wales, brothers of the young couple.

After the ceremony the bridal pair received the congratulations of those present, then amid a shower of rice drove to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Atchison, 908 State street, for the wedding reception to relatives and close friends. The house was decorated with vases of garden flowers and in the refreshments the pink and white theme was effected.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schwerten and Mr. and Mrs. Nat Burney, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Fowler, Mrs. Julia Shrier, Mrs. Russell Curtis, Mrs. Wayne Belding, Miss Lucille Bogart and Miss Marjorie Jean Carey, of Charlevoix; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jones and family, of Frankfort.

On their return from a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Wales will be at home to their many friends at 340½ West Seventh street.—Traverse City Record-Eagle.

The MARCH of POLITICS

By JOHN H. O'BRIEN

If the Senate Committee investigation of Michigan campaign expenditures is an average sample of Democratic master-minding then the tacticians of that party have been vastly over-rated.

After all the charges that have been made of administration interference in the state campaign in Michigan it would appear that the wisest thing to do would be to see that no more ammunition of this sort was handed to the G. O. P. The Democratic leaders evidently did not consider such charges worth bothering about and proceeded to set on foot another example of state government with Washington as the state capital.

The investigation itself was a joke. While the investigators did not specify any candidate or party as the subject for the quiz, it soon developed that Governor Brucker, a Republican, was their game. Brucker had two conferences with investigators and both seemed satisfied with their treatment and the information given them. Then arrived a telegram from Senator Lonergan threatening subpoenas if information were not forthcoming. Brucker then took the play away from the investigators by making a few charges of his own. Next move was the hurried departure of the investigators to Maine—another doubtful state. Net result—nothing, except that Brucker made it quite plain that the investigation was nothing more nor less than an old-fashioned "eve of election" piece of politics. What the Democrats expected to gain by the investigation is obvious, but how they expected to gain is a mystery. A few more moves like this and Michigan won't be in any doubt at all.

Feel full of pep and possess the slender form you crave—you can't if you listen to gossipers.

To take off excess fat go light on fatty meats, butter, cream and sugary sweets—eat more fruit and vegetables and take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning to eliminate excess waste.

Mrs. Etma Verille of Havre de Grace, Md., writes: "I took off 20 lbs.—my clothes fit me fine now."

In this column two weeks ago, attempts of the publicity department of the Democratic National Committee to claim credit for the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation for the Roosevelt Administration were discussed. Since that time Frank Murphy, the furloughed High Commissioner, has taken to discrediting the work of Senator Vandenberg on the deposit guaranty amendment. According to Murphy, Vandenberg deserves no credit for the amendment that bears Vandenberg's name.

Vandenberg replies that the first time deposit insurance was mentioned in Congress was in 1933 when he introduced a specific and definite bill.

Murphy says Congressman Steagall, a Democrat, supported the bill in the House and Senator Glass, a Democrat, in the Senate.

Vandenberg admits Steagall helped greatly in the House, but that Glass certainly did not in the Senate.

Murphy says the president "buttressed the banks with the plan of insuring deposits."

Vandenberg points out that Roosevelt sent a letter to the conferees of the House and Senate on the amendment demanding that it be eliminated from the banking bill.

Both Murphy and Vandenberg are truthful men. Both believe what they say to be true. The best test here is to ask each where they were at the time the fight to incorporate the amendment was going on. Senator Vandenberg would reply that he was on the floor of the Senate debating on the bill, fighting for it with individuals, studying it, improving it, and living for weeks with a piece of important legislation in which he took a vital interest. Frank Murphy would reply that he was 12,000 miles away in the Malacanan palace in the Philippines. We think Mr. Murphy had better talk about something he knows after this.

* * *

The Murphy-Welsh fight toward the last became amusing. Murphy challenged Governor Fitzgerald to a debate. The governor replied that inasmuch as he was not the Republican nominee as yet and Murphy had not yet been chosen by his party, perhaps they had better not debate.

Much to Murphy's embarrassment, Welsh then challenged him to a debate and set up a point-by-point schedule of debatable questions. Welsh gave Murphy 24 hours in which to reply. Three days later Murphy declined the challenge on the grounds that a debate between two Democrats would not make for "solidarity in our ranks." The box score reads: three candidates, two challenges, no debates.

FIFTEEN PARTIES CAN BE ON BALLOT

Parties Must Certify Candidates for Place on Ballot, However

While only the two major political parties of the state held primary election September 15, a total of 15 parties will be entitled to place the names of their candidates on the general election ballot of November 3.

Only those parties the names and vignettes of which were filed with the secretary of state prior to last May 4, are entitled to places on the ballot.

According to the records of Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, these 15 parties are: Republican, Democratic, Socialist, Communist, Farmer-Labor, Socialist Labor, Commonwealth, People's Progressive, National, American, Proletarian, Liberty, Progressive, The United Party, and The Third Party. However, only those parties certifying candidates will appear on the November 3 ballot.

SILAGE HITS TOP IN FEED RETURNS

Tests Offer Proof of Greater Value in Use of Corn as Silage

Summaries of a three year test at Michigan State College to determine returns from feeding corn as silage, shock corn in the bundle or ground shock corn indicate far greater returns from corn silage. Assistant Professor G. A. Branaman in the animal husbandry department finds that corn per acre in silage was worth $32.91; shock corn in the bundle $20.54, and ground or cut shock corn $15.46.

Proof of the value of a silo is contained in additional figures based on costs of handling the corn. Power and machinery costs in silo filling were but $2.02 per acre. Processing shock corn cost an average of $6.98 per acre. Including labor and machinery an acre of silage corn was handled at a total cost of $10.95, an acre of corn fed in the bundle took labor and machinery costs of $5.25, and the cost for labor and machinery in handling corn put through a roughage mill was $14.06 for an acre.

"Two factors mainly are responsible for differences in the returns for an acre of corn," says Branaman, "the acreage required to feed each steer and the cost for labor and machinery. The average steer in addition to alfalfa hay and cottonseed meal ate .61 acres of corn in the form of silage. A steer fed shock corn required .97 acres of corn. Grinding or cutting the bundles of corn, increasing the cost, reduced the acreage to .77 acres per steer.

"But from those figures of corn consumption, the striking difference is in the gains. From each acre of corn in the form of silage and with other feeds a gain of 515.3 pounds beef and pork was produced. An acre of corn fed in the bundle produced 336 pounds of beef and pork gain, and when corn was run through a roughage mill the gain per acre was 389 pounds."

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page

With cooler weather, oven cookery is again more popular, particularly cookie making for school children and quick luncheon dishes.

Fruits and vegetables in variety are still plentiful and reasonable. Apples and grapes are becoming more important daily, peaches, pears, fresh prunes, cantaloupe and honeydew melons are all inexpensive.

Sweet potatoes, and yams as well, are now cheap and plentiful. White potatoes are lower and so is cabbage. Green and lima beans, onions and tomatoes continue to be cheap.

Meats and eggs are higher. Beef chucks and young chickens are still reasonable.

Low Cost Dinner

Pot Roast of Beef
Potatoes Onions Carrots
Bread and Butter
Raisin Bread Pudding
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner

Pot Roast of Beef Potatoes
Lima Beans Cole Slaw
Bread and Butter
New Apple Pie
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner

Honeydew Melon
Fried Chicken with Cream Gravy
Browned Sweet Potatoes
Buttered Onions
Perfection Salad
Rolls and Butter
Fruit Crackers Cheese

MEN LOVE PEPPY GIRLS

You can become peppy this easy way

If you are happy and peppy and full of fun, men will take you places. If you are lively, they will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT, if you are cross and lifeless and always tired out, men won't be interested in you. Men don't like "quiet" girls. Men go to parties to enjoy themselves. They want girls along who are full of pep.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND helps give you pep and energy. For over sixty years girls and women have been taking this famous old medicine to pep them up . . . to help give them strength, energy, sparkle. Notice the girls and women about you who are full of pep. Ask them what makes them peppy. If they are honest, many of them will give the credit to LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. You should give LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND a try. Girls with pep are more attractive to men.

ARE YOU NERVOUS?

Here is a way to help calm quivering nerves

Do you feel so nervous that you want to scream? Are there times when you are cross and irritable . . . times when you avoid those who are dearest to you?

If your nerves are on edge, try LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. It helps calm your quivering nerves and should give you the strength and energy to face life with a smile.

When your worries and cares become too much for you and you want to run away from it all . . . take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. Many women have had nerves as jangled as yours, but they have been able to build up their pep and energy and get back to normal with the aid of LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

When your mother and your grandmother used to become nervous, irritable and rundown they depended upon this famous old medicine to pep them up again . . . to help their nerves . . . to help give them a cheerful disposition.

FANATICISM

A religious fanatic hugs one belief, and is such a fierce defender of that belief that he becomes an intolerable nuisance. In this country which still guarantees freedom of worship, one may mnifest the narrowest or broadest conception of religious essentials and escape molestation. But he annoys when he tries to force his convictions on others. It does not matter much which ecclesiastical leadership one adopts, but it is important to be convinced that life's greatest mystery will be satisfactorily solved by succession to a higher spiritual existence. The one who insists on acceptance of any specific tenets and rites as supremely essential often overlooks the need of leading to heights of assurance, and thus he is likely to fashion either fanatics or skeptics. The mind searching for truth cannot be satisfied to be told what he must do to be saved. The more he is convinced that this life is but a start in an eternity of spiritual growth, the more careful he will be in directing his thoughts and conduct. If he is able to follow the Golden Rule, permitting conscience to prescribe a course that he believes will meet the approval of invisible eyes, then the most he needs to inspire content is confidence. Fanaticism only dulls the senses of essentials.

PROGRESS

President Roosevelt's administration of relief has accomplished three major objectives:

1. It has increased the number of persons on relief rolls.

2. It has raised the cost of relief administration, both as to total cost and per capita cost.

In the early part of 1933, there were 17,000,000 persons in the United States receiving federal relief in one form or another. Now—according to figures released by the Democratic National Committee and surely that agency wouldn't exaggerate — the Roosevelt relief rolls have skyrocketed to 25,000,000.

This may be Roosevelt progress, but it gives no assurance to the man who wants to get off of relief. There is no future on relief or the WPA. There is no possibility of an advance in pay, a better job, nor any of the things that an American family should have. Oh yes, there are better jobs, but the political favorites get them.

There is, however, one way to knock out this cockeyed system. That is to vote for Landon and Knox. They will help make it possible for business to pick up the unemployment load.

That's what we mean when we call them practical liberals. They are just as kindly intentioned as Roosevelt but vastly more experienced, successful and practical. They can fulfill the promises he makes.

WHITHER COST OF LIVING?

The averege cost of living in the United States has increased approximately one-fifth since President Roosevelt took office. Income, however, has not kept pace with that advance.

Food, for which the average worker expends about one-third of his budget, now costs approximately 44 per cent more than it did at the beginning of Mr. Roosevelt's term. Rent, which takes about one-fifth of the average income, is now about 22 per cent higher for the country as a whole than it was when the new deal went into action. The total for necessities has climbed more than 20 per cent.

It cannot be successfully denied that administration tinkering with the nation's food supply has been a strong contributor to price advances. Nature has only augmented the scarcity deliberately created by the administration's so-called crop control efforts.

And, if the cost of living has got out of hand through the reckless experimentation by the Roosevelt administration, what is there in prospect if Roosevelt is re-elected but more experimentation of the same kind?—Portland Oregonian.

BRIGHT COLORED CLOTHES SAVE CHILDREN

Do not dress your child in grays and browns, and drab colors which harmonize with the background. When a child has to cross a street he will be highly visible if he is wearing a bright garment.

The best trained child is not responsible 100 per cent of the time, and neither is a driver. It is our duty to concentrate on precautions which are a protection when the unexpected happens, when a driver turns too quickly onto a street, and a child darts out suddenly to retrieve a toy.

THE NATION'S BREADBASKET

Scientists agree that no rearrangement of the climate is going to turn the middle west into a desert. They call attention to the fact that past centuries have known periods of drouth and grasshoppers, and emphasize the reasonable belief that cycles of ample rainfall and abundant harvests will follow. Persons familiar with the middle west and the character of its inhabitants express confidence that the pioneer spirit that overcame all kinds of hardships in taming a wild frontier will be reasserted in the task of surmounting present obstacles. Salvaging as much as possible from this year's crop and turning it all to a possible advantage is the big job at present, though on every hand are heard plans for the future. Not only are farmers looking out for feed for next winter, but for seed for next spring. It is this indomitable spirit that wins for this midwestern area distinction as the world's greatest food producer.

CONSERVATIVE LIVING

When people have been through bad times they resolve to fortify themselves against like recurrences. The natural reaction is to reach out frantically, to grab money in most any way. They niche to know again the feeling of plenty. This eagerness to get on, to acquire material wealth, is a justifiable yearning, but it must be tempered with normal restraint, with honesty and industry. Get-rich-quick schemes should be avoided. Few people ever acquire riches and keep them by wildcat methods. That is the kind of philosophy which helped to bring about the collapse of '29.

Think straight! It is wise not to invest in enterprises of which little is known. It is wise not to mortgage the home to buy luxuries. It is wise not to look down upon anyone who refuses to live beyond his income.

CLENCHED FIST

The very fact that the power project of the TVA has adopted as its emblem the figure of the "Clenched Fist" holding a bolt of lightning, calls to mind the electrification projects of the Soviet Union, especially that located at Dnieperstroy, and the deadly parallel between the two. Visions of a Soviet America!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Matter" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 20.

Among the Bible citations is the following (Isaiah 55: 8, 9): "For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the Lord. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 286): "God's thoughts are perfect and eternal, are substance and Life. Material and tempural thoughts are human, involving error, and since God, Spirit, is the only cause, they lack a divine cause."

RESORT ASSOCIATION FURTHER STUDIES ON RAGWEED ERADICATION

Members of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Assocition attending the annual meeting of the organization at Grand Rapids, October 8, will continue their research on the problem of ragweed eradication. Ray Baker, special writer of the Ann Arbor News and Booth Newspapers, who probably is more responsible than any other one man for starting the agitation to rid the resort region of ragweed, is scheduled to speak on the subject at the meeting and to lead a discussion on ragweed.

Baker's stories on the activities of special groups in scattered sections led others to take up the fight and through Garden Clubs, Chambers of Commerce, City and County Boards and private individuals the battle against the chief offender in hay fever cases stepped off this summer in force. It was probably the most effective campaign that has been waged yet.

No one is more ready to admit the shortcomings of the campaign than the stalwarts who have been most closely in touch with it. The fight, they say, has only started. They point out, however, that the effectiveness of the West Michigan campaign may best be judged by a motor trip through some of the neighboring states, which have done nothing about the eradication of the pest.

The West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association took an active part this summer in making the region a ragweed free paradise for hay fever sufferers and awarded cash prizes to the boy and girl winners of the ragweed eradication campaign in each county of the territory.

MICHIGAN BELL TO INCREASE CAPITAL STOCK

Fifteen Million Increase to Be Used for Expansion in Michigan

The Michigan Public Utilities Commission today approved the application of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company for permission to increase its common stock $15,000,000.

George M. Welch, president of the company, who attended the hearing, explained that the proceeds of the stock increase will be used to retire a like amount of indebtedness that was incurred in adding to and improving the telephone plant.

During the next four years, he said, it is expected that net plant additions will amount to another $20,000,000. Practically every section of the state served by the Michigan Bell Company will benefit from this anticipated telephone development, which will be required in order to meet the growth of service demand that will come with the expected increase in general business, he said.

At the peak of its business, the Michigan Bell Company served 691,000 telephones, which point was reached in May, 1930, compared with a depression period low of 481,000 in December, 1933. Since the latter date, the company has regained 81,000 of the 210,000 telephones lost, Mr. Welch said.

The last previous stock issue of the company was $25,000,000, approved in October, 1929. When the $15,000,000 of stock approved today is issued, the total stock outstanding will be $125,000,000.

LATE POTATO CROP TO BE "FAIR," PREDICTED

Recent Rains Prove Big Benefit in Michigan Potato Regions

A "fair" crop of late Michigan potatoes is forecasted in the weekly crop summary compiled by the United States weather bureau office at East Lansing.

The report said: "Recent rains have left the soil well supplied with moisture in most localities. Pastures have greatly improved and alfalfa is making good growth. Late potatoes are doing well and a fair crop is expected. Sugar beets and late truck are also doing well. Corn is ripening in the south and some has been cut for fodder. There has also been considerable silo filling. The earlier planted beans are ripening."

MICHIGAN DUCK HUNTER CAN USE SNEAK BOAT

Boats Not Camouflaged May Operate Anywhere in Duck Waters

Duck hunters in Michigan may legally use sneak boats during the hunting season this fall, even though the summary of federal and state migratory bird regulations accompanying the 1936-1937 game law digests implies that it is forbidden.

"As a matter of fact neither federal or state regulations limit the operation of sneak boats this year," commented H. D. Ruhl, chief of the game division, department of conservation. "Sneak boats, which are not camouflaged, may operate anywhere in open duck waters. Last year, on account of federal regulations, they could not be used legally beyond 100 feet from well-defined emergent aquatic vegetation and so were of little use. That technicality has been removed from federal regulations this season."

A discrepancy appears between state and federal regulations, involving use of temporary blinds and the state regulation takes precedence.

Federal regulations place no restriction on the place where a temporary blind may be established this year, but Michigan regulations do and will be enforced. The Michigan ruling on use of temporary blinds forbid their use beyond 100 feet from well-defined emergent aquatic vegetation. Hunters in Michigan must observe this regulation, state authorities say.

Three Rivers, Mich.,
September 14, 1936

The Editor,
The Charlevoix Courier
Dear Sir:

It begins to look as if I'd have to sue President Roosevelt and the Works Progress Administration in Washington.

Th' guv'ment is encroaching upon my sacred territories—and usurping my sovereign rights and inalienable privileges.

I'm irked. And with me an Irk's an Irk.

During the past week no less than five expert boondogglers on the Democratic payroll have invaded Three Rivers to get pictures of Fred Rohrer's wooden Indian princess and my 11-pound cast-iron pigeon.

It all started when a Mrs. Colman came down from Kalamazoo and said the guv'ment was making up a folio of departed institutions — remainders of a bygone civilization.

Mrs. Colman and I had a conference—(a Drought Conference, too) —and then she sent in two artists. One of the artists spent three days down at Rohrer's Cigar Store, sketching Pocahontas in all her livid beauty. Another artist spent an entire day making an outline drawing of my pigeon and a cast-iron rabbit. Then he came back and spent most of the next day checking up on the colors.

I suppose I should feel flattered. Perhaps I should feel honored in this belated recognition by the President!

And so should Fred, and Lizzie—(that's Fred's wife).

Those sketches will be embalmed in the archives in Washington — to remind future generations of cast-iron pigeons and wooden Indians.

But—ten years ago I made an exhaustive study of the Wooden Indian —both sexes.

And eight years ago I engineered the WILD CAST-IRON ANIMAL LIFE CONSERVATION CRUSADE within The Guild of Former Pipe Organ Pumpers.

Now, after all these years, along comes the Guv'ment and the WPA and thinks this is a brand new idea!

What I want to know is—Who is conserving the wild cast-iron animal life—the Ferrous Fauna of America —me or the WPA?

And who knows why the wooden Indian population of the country has fallen off so alarmingly — Me or ROOSEVELT?

I'm going to get Juddy Wade and some other local attorneys and see about it.

But—whatever the outcome is—I now know what a Boondoggler is: He's an artist working for the WPA. And it takes three days of boondoggling, at regular government scale wages for 1st Class Boondogglers to draw a picture of a female wooden Indian!

And two days to sketch a cast-iron Piggin.

And I could have made both sketches, blindfolded, with a crowbar dipped in cotton-seed oil in five minutes—Eastern Standard Time or Daylight Savings!

Maybe it is the duty of the Guv'ment to take these Guild projects out of the hands of we Former Pipe Organ Pumpers and turn them over to boondogglers and fiddle-dickers of voting age. Maybe the pay of the artists and regional directors don't show up in the Democratic Campaign Fund.

Maybe I'm wrong to claim priority rights to my Piggin!

But, now that Roosevelt and the WPA has stepped in, it casts a shadow of incompetency on the Guild. It makes it look like we didn't do our work well. My reputation is at stake! I'm going to see what's what. And the next time I am approached I'm going to whisper a secret to Mrs. Colman and her artists. I'M going to tip them off that flintlock muskets are not being used any more, either—or mustache cups.

That'll be news in Washington, yrs (sgd) Chet Shafer.

And maybe some of these days they'll hire some PWA artists to sketch the Constitution—as a relic of bygone days—for future generations to view.

P. S.—And the boondogglin' of t'day is the same as the fiddle-dickin' during the Cleveland Administration —only it pays a lot better.

INCREASED COST FOOD IS SHOWN IN REPORT

Every Day Grocery Needs Cost 35.5 Per Cent More Than in 1934

In January, 1934, a week's supply of food sufficient for an average wage-earner's family of four cost $5.83. Today that same food costs $7.90.

The figures are contained in a report compiled by the State Department of Labor and Industry.

Food prices have increased 35.5 per cent in the past two and one-half years, the report states. The increase over a year ago is 5.2 per cent and the increase for August, 1936, over the previous month was two per cent. The prices continue to jump each month.

The department lists 32 staple foods and quotes prices for several of the principal cities of the state. Nine of these items most commonly used and the increase in their cost since January, 1934, follow:

Item	Quantity	Jan. 1934	Aug. 1936
Round steak	1 lb.	$0.12	$0.29
Pork chops	1 lb.	.15	.28
Picnic hams	1 lb.	.15	.24

SECOND SPRAY APPLE ORCHARDS IS ADVISED

Steps Necessary to Control Second Brood of Codling Moths

Immediate spraying of apples to control the late second brood of codling moth has been made necessary because of weather conditions, says Ray Hutson, Michigan State College entomologist.

Hutson has just completed a survey of Michigan's commercial apple sections and reports that considerable damage may be done this year's crop unless spraying is done as soon as possible. Any of the standard codling moth sprays, such as were applied earlier in the season in the regular spray schedule, will be effective.

He cautioned, however, if arsenical sprays are applied that it will be necessary to wash the fruit before it is marketed.

CLAIM DEER RATIO IS STILL SATISFACTORY

in the state-owned Butterfield swamp Roscommon county.

In none of these operations was the buck-to-doe ratio of deer live-trapped more than one to 2.8 and nothing has yet been indicated in deer management check-ups to substantiate any supposition that there are not enough bucks to balance the deer herd or that the sex ratio is in a sub-normal condition.

"In our live-trapping operations the deer are observed quite carefully, and there has been nothing to indicate that a buck deer won't approach and enter a live-trap just as readily as a doe," Wakeman said.

REPUBLICANS RE-NEW ALLEGIANCE

COUNTY CONVENTION TUESDAY AT EAST JORDAN

William Sanderson, Chairman, and Other Former Officers Re-Named; Nineteen Delegates Chosen

With 99 out of 102 aceredited delegates and a large group of visitors present, Charlevoix county Republicans held the most enthusiastic convention in recent years Tuesday evening at East Jordan.

Temporary officers of the county committee, all chosen to succeed themselves, were made permanent as follows: Chairman, William M. Sanderson, Eveline township; vice-chairman, Dr. F. F. McMillan, Charlevoix; secretary, Mrs. Agnes Lorch, Boyne City; treasurer, Dr. G. W. Bechtold, East Jordan.

The resolutions committee report, prepared by J. M. Harris, H. A. Craig, Ira D. Bartlett and S. W. Mower, was enthusiastically adopted. It renewed a pledge of support to the United States Constitution and principles of the Republicun party; pledged united support of the party platform adopted at the national convention; endorsed and pledged support of the presidential candidate, Alfred M. Landon, and Frank Knox for vice-president, Wilber M. Brucker for United States senator, Herbert J. Rushton for Congress, Otto W. Bishop for state senator and Douglas D. Tibbits for state representative, as well as the entire Republican list of candidates from national down to the county ticket.

The spirit of enthusiasm prevailing at the convention is reflected in the large group of persons showing willingness to attend the state convention at Grand Rapids, September 29, as county delegates. Nineteen persons were named as follows: William F. Tindall, J. M. Harris, Alex Heller, Mrs. Agnes Lorch, Dick Dickens, Boyne City; Mrs. F. F. McMillan, H. A. Craig, A. L. Fitch, R. L. Lewis, F. R. Bulow, Mrs. C. M. Bice, Floyd W. Ikens, Charlevoix; Kit Carson, Barney Milstein, John Porter, East Jordan; William M. Sanderson, Douglas D. Tibbits, Eveline; W. J. Pearson, Boyne Falls; W. J. Gallagher, St. James. It is understood an attempt will be made to obtain credentinls for the entire group.

Rousing talks were heard from R. L. Lewis, William J. Pearson, H. A. Craig, Mrs. R. B. Armstrong and Rev. Sidebotham.

Refreshments were served by East Jordan ladies following close of the convention.

RUSHTON WINNER IN CONGRESSIONAL RACE

Recount on Brown-Ward Battle for U. S. Senate Has Been Ordered

While final determination of the vote in the raee for Republican nomination as congressman of the 11th district awaits report of county canvasses from Lansing, it is apparent Herbert J. Rushton, of Escanaba, has a comfortable margin over Allan J. McDougall, the Gaylord candidate.

In the meantime, the county canvassing board is awaiting final instructions from Lansing to go ahead with a recount of votes cast in the Democratic raee for United States senator between Prentiss M. Brown and Louis B. Ward. County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow has received instructions to call in all ballots cast in the county and, in all probability, the recount will get under way this week.

Final reports gave Brown a lead of something over 3,000 votes over his opponent. Other election results as reported in The Courier last week remain unchanged.

Small Game Licenses to Replace Those Expiring on September 30 May Now Be Procured

You can now secure one of the new 1936-1937 Michigan Game Law Digest pamphlets from any of your local sports dealers in town.

They are put out by the Michigan Department of Conservation free, and are quite extensively illustrated, the back cover having on it a picture of a deer hunter displaying on his back the new number system put into use in the state of Peunsylvania for so many years. There is also contained a picture of the Lower Peninsula showing the territory open to deer hunting this fall.

Small game license fee, $1.

Non-resident small game, $5.

Resident deer $2.25, non-resident deer $25 (includes bear).

Muskrat trapping, 20 traps, $2.

Waterfowl. A federal waterfowl stamp obtained at post office for $1 and nttached to small game license is required for hunting of migratory waterfowl.

Deer, male, November 15-30, inclusive, antlers not less than 3 inches.

Rabbits in our territory, October 15 to January 31, inclusive. You can hunt bunnies across the Straits from October 1 to January 31, inclusive. Five in one day; 50 in a season.

Chinese ring-necked pheasant, male, October 15 to 28, inclusive, in Lower Peninsula; 3 in one day.

Partridge, October 15 to 28 in Lower Peninsula; 5 in one day.

Should you want more information, better get a book.

FOOTBALL SEASON OPENS SATURDAY

RED RAYDERS MEET GAYLORD HERE IN INITIAL GAME

Local Team, While Inexperienced and Shy of Veterans, Shows Up Well In Practice Sessions

The football season for Charlevoix High school will open at south side athletic field at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon when the Red Rayders meet Gaylord in the initial contest of a five-game schedule.

While Gaylord will have the advantage of experience gained in one eontest so far this fall, Snturday's tilt will be the first for Couch Ray Kipke's comparatively green and inexperienced squad. Charlevoix lost all hut five veterans by graduation last spring and, by building a team around this group of seasoned players, Coach Kipke has worked out a squad which looks good in practice and may cause plenty of trouble in Northern Michigan Class C competition before the season is over.

Up to the present time Kipke has given no indication as to what his starting line-up will be other than that he has tentatively chosen 19 players who will probably see action against Gaylord. None are sure of steady positions and their play in Saturday's contest will probably determine their standing in future games. Players who have been named as possible starters are Bruce Withers and Harrison Bedford, centers; Ralph Shapton, Bob Pearl, Frank Kulpa and Robert Bergmann, guards; Bob Neff, Bernard McCafferty, Franklin Ochs, Kenneth Bird and Jim Hiller, tackles; Leslie Shapton, Ed. Gengle and Harry Withers, quarterbacks; Ed. Radle, Ray Nowland, fullbacks; Bob Livingston, Jim Hiller and Bert Pearl, halfbacks.

Of the above named players, Leslie Shapton, at quarter, is probably a sure starter. A last year's veteran, Les handles the pivot position nicely, is an accurate passer and good kicker.

Since the opening of practice two weeks ago, three full teams have reported daily. That some excellent ability may turn out of the large group of reserves is not at all impossible in view of their number. Any eleven men picked from the probable starters will give Charlevoix a team equal in weight and speed with the 1935 squad.

Other games scheduled in addition to the opening Gaylord contest are: October 3, Charlevoix at Boyne City; October 17, Charlevoix at East Jordan; October 24, Harbor Springs at Charlevoix; October 31, Rogers City at Charlevoix.

BOARD OF COMMERCE BANQUET ANNOUNCED

Meeting Open to Public Is Scheduled for Thursday, October 8

Through its activities director, Gordon Todd, the Charlevoix Board of Commerce has announced a banquet and public meeting to be held Thursday, October 8, time and place to be announced later.

The meeting is being called to review for the public benefit the accomplishments and activities of the Board of Commerce during the past summer season, and to receive suggestions and outline plans for next year.

Mr. Todd has requested that all committee chairmen meet at the Board of Commerce office next Wednesday evening, September 30, to make plans for the event.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION MONDAY

R. F. SLOAN CHOSEN CHAIRMAN COUNTY COMMITTEE

Eight Delegates, Each With Half Vote, Chosen to Attend the State Convention at Grand Rapids

Charlevoix county Democrats, meeting in convention at the court house Monday evening, organized their county committee, elected delegates to the state convention and outlined plans of activities for the November general election.

Robert F. Sloan, Charlevoix, was ehosen county chairman, and Mrs. Clarenee Bierlein, Boyne City, was elected secretary-treasurer. Eight vice-chairmen, a man and woman from each city nnd Boyne Falls, were chosen as follows: Mrs. Mattie Dean, William Gilliam, Boyne City; Mrs. Pearl McHale, Dan Swanson, East Jordan; Mrs. Charles Crakes, Frank Pierce, Boyne Falls; Mrs. L. S. Orlowski, Charlevoix; George Hanson, Ironton, delegate-at-large.

Eight delegates were chosen to attend the state Democratic convention Friday and Saturday at Grand Rapids. Each will have a half vote. Delegates are: J. M. Foster, Rev. G. R. Parker, Charlevoix; Frank Crowell, Merle Crowell, East Jordan; Clarence Bierlein, Fred Mitchell, Mrs. Mattie Dean, Boyne City; Frank I. Pierce, Boyne Falls. The delegates were uninstructed other than to vnte as a unit at the convention.

The delegates Monday night adopted a resolutions committee report endorsing the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt; Cong. Prentiss M. Brown for United States senator; George Welsh, of Grand Rapids, as secretary of state, in view of his splendid service to the party; Theodore I. Fry for state treasurer, and Murray D. Van Wagoner for state highway commissioner. The resolutions also endorsed all Democratic nominees for state and county offices.

The meeting was harmonious and radiated party enthusiasm. Plans were discussed for holding meetings of the committee once each week prior to the November election, alternating with the several cities of the county.

GRAVELING OF SCENIC DRIVE IS UNDER WAY

Grade and Drainage on Shore Project Was Completed Last Week

Of interest to local citizens is the announcement that grading of the scenic drive along Lake Michigan from Bell's Bay to Norwood has been completed.

Work on the grade and drainage was finished last week and at the present time an eight-foot gravel roadway is being spread. Work has been started from the south end, using material available along the route. Graveling that portion in Charlevoix township is nearly finished and the work will be continued as far as funds permit.

D. T. McHugh, WPA director in charge of the project, states that several miles of the Norwood end of the drive is in shape for automobile travel.

REPUBLICANS JUBILANT OVER ELECTION

See Heavy G. O. P. Vote As Indication for November Victories

Republican leaders were juhilant today over results of the primary elections and expressed the belief that the Michigan results plus the Maine elections boosted G. O. P. stock skyward.

They took their greatest satisfaction from the fact that 60 per cent of the votes cast in Michigan were Republican ballots.

"We had no outstanding primary fights to bring out our vote," said Howard C. Lawrence, state chairman, "yet we polled more votes than the Democrats. It means to us that we do not need any artificial stimulus to arouse Republicans of Michigan to their duty. They know what the New Deal stands for and they are out in swarms to end it. The sweep toward Landon that started in Maine gained impetus in Michigan. We are going to win this election."

Additional encouraging facts were the defeat of Senator Couzens because he was a Roosevelt supporter and the close race between the unknown, unadvertised Louis B. Ward and Prentiss Brown, the Farley-Roosevelt choice, for the United States Senate on the Democratic ticket. The Ward vote, they said, demonstrated that Roosevelt was beginning to be a burden on the backs of local candidates and that there was a fully developed movement away from the administration.

ORDER POWER FOR NORTHERN AREAS

CHARLEVOIX CO. IS INCLUDED IN STATE EXPANSION

Michigan Public Service Company Will Construct Lines Where Sufficient Consumption Guaranteed

The State Public Utilities Commission Friday ordered the extension of power lines into rural areas in 14 Michigan counties and set a new rate schedule for several more areas.

The Michigan Public Service Company of Holland has been directed to extend its lines in Muskegon, Oceana, Mason, Lake, Manistee, Benzie, Leelanau, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet, Cheboygan, Otsego and Crawford counties.

A similar order affects the Michigan Gas and Electric Company, also of Holland, which serves parts of Cass, Van Buren, Kalamazoo and St. Joseph counties.

Those companies are required to build lines at their own cost in areas where there is an average of five or more customers per mile who guarantee a minimum monthly payment equivalent to one and one-half per cent of total construction cost. The minimum bill for each customer will be $3 a month in most instances, according to Smith.

The commission also ordered new reduced rates for customers in the territory formerly served by the Hillsdale County Electric Co., near Camden and Montgomery, and also in Bay, Arenac, Ogemaw and Roscommon counties where the Northern Power Co. formerly operated.

Smith estimated a total reduction of $32,300 annually in the Northern Power Co. district and $4,057 in Hillsdale county. Consumers Power recently took over both areas.

OPERATE TRAINS ON LOCAL TIME SEPT. 27

Change to Eastern Standard Is Announced by Railroad Lines

Effective Sunday, September 27, train time here will be the same as Charlevoix time. The hour discrepancy between scheduled trains and Charlevoix time will be removed with the change of railroads to Eastern Standard Time.

Notice of the change has been received by B. Nickerson, local agent, who announced the switch will be made as scheduled and ordered by a recent ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission for railroad lines in the Lower Peninsula of Michigan.

CLARION YOUTH ELECTROCUTED PUTTING UP AERIAL

The youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ecker, of Clarion, threw the aerial wire over a 2,200-volt power line. The electricity, travelling through the wire to him, caused his deatb immediately.

COUNCIL WILL TAKE OVER GOLF COURSE

UNOFFICIAL AGREEMENT WAS REACHED MONDAY NIGHT

Accept Recommendation Golf Committee Following Successful Operation Past Summer Season

Municipal ownership and continued operation of the 18-hole Charlevoix Golf Club course appears a certainty as the result of an informal meeting held at the council chambers Monday evening.

Before city officials and a representative group of business and professional men, a report of the committee which operated the course during the past summer season showed that the venture was sufficiently successful to warrant its continuance. The deficit for the season was shown to be far less than original estimates and only about one-third of the amount a year ago. Despite a substantial lowering of greens fees, play increased sufficiently to produce revenue far in excess of the 1935 season.

Acting upon the committee's recommendation and approval of the general assemblage, the council informally agreed to accept the original Charlevoix Golf Club agreement to take over owner-ship of the course for the stipulation of $1 nnd acceptance of certain clauses in the agreement pertaining to operation and use of the property. The final action, it is understood, will be taken officially at the next regular meeting of the council.

Successful operation of the course during the past season is a credit to the committee appointed by Mayor Arthur Bergeon in the spring to manage the venture. The action was taken to avoid closing of the course in view of its importance as a resort asset. In view of the success attending the venture this season, it is expected the 1937 summer will produce even better results and Charlevoix will be assured of two golf courses as in past years.

SUB-DISTRICT NURSES' MEETING IS ANNOUNCED

First Session to Be Held at Petoskey on Friday, October 2

The Petoskey Sub-District Nurses' Association will hold its first meeting at the Petoskey Community Building Friday, October 2, at 8 p. m.

Miss Olive Sewall, executive-secretary of the Michigan State Nurses' Association, will be guest speaker. Officers for the 1936-37 year will be elected.

It is hoped that all registered graduate nurses in this district, which comprises Emmet, Charlevoix and Antrim counties, will attend this important meeting. Each person present will undoubtedly have some suggestion to contribute toward making the 1936-37 year profitable to us individually and as a group.

REGIONAL HEALTH INSTITUTE COMMITTEE MET SATURDAY

Mrs. Russell Barden, of Boyne City, Mrs. Howard Porter, of East Jordan, Mrs. W. Alexander, of Central Lake, Dr. Carleton Dean, of the District Health Unit, Miss Esther Rock, Antrim county nurse, Mrs. Ethel Guggisberg, Antrim-Charlevoix nurse, Miss Bertha Brown, Petoskey nurse, and Miss Deane Rinck, Charlevoix county nurse, met at the Bird's Nest Saturday noon for a luncheon meeting. The program for the Regional Eight-County Health Institute to he held at Traverse City, Thursday, October 15, was discussed.

Plans for this institute were made at an earlier meeting in Traverse City which the nurse and a lay representative from each county attended. The counties represented were Benzie, Leelanau, Grand Traverse, Missaukee, Kalkaska, Antrim, Charlevoix and Emmet.

The State Organization for Public Health Nursing had appointed Mrs. Russell Barden as general chairman. At the joint meeting the responsibilities for this institute were divided as follows:

Arrangement committee — Benzie, Leelanau and Grand Traverse.

Exhibit committee — Missaukee, Kalkaska.

Program committee—Emmet, Antrim and Charlevoix.

Mrs. Howard Porter, of East Jordan, was appointed chairman of the program committee.

The program when completed will be published.

This institute will be for all interested lay and professional people in these respective counties.

4-H Club Boys Enjay Cunservation Camp

Fifty boys from all sections of the Lower and Upper Peninsulas enjoyed a full week of instruction and activities at the conservation camp at Vanderbilt.

Two boys, Meryl Hetrick and Fred Korthase, from the Boyne Falls 4-H Forestry club, were the representatives from this district. This is the first time that a camp such as this has ever been held in Michigan. The boys were housed in one of the new log buildings at the camp, which is located 11 miles east of Vanderbilt on the beautiful Pigeon River. The boys were kept busy from 6:30 in the morning until 9:30 at night. Each day eight and one-half hours were spent in the class room outlining and studying the various branches of conservation. Probably the most important thing the boys learned at the camp was that conservation does not just apply to forestry, but also includes the conservation of our wild plants and animals and also law enforcement.

The program for the week was as follows:

Purpose and objectives of the camp, A. G. Kettunen, D. M. Rochester.

Michigan Department of Conservation, its organization and functions, C. A. Paquin, Educational Division Department of Conservation.

Motion pictures, C. A. Paquin.

Forestry, classroom discussion and field trip, C. S. McIntire, Forestry Division, assistant state forester.

First Aid, D. M. Rochester.

Michigan Geology, Dr. R. A. Smith, state geologist, Geology Division.

Southern Michigan Game Management, (slides and lecture on Central America), Glen Bradt, Game Division.

Michigan's Deer Herd, its problems and management, I. H. Bartlett, Game Division.

Ecology, inter-relationships between plants, animals and their environment, I. H. Bartlett, C. W. Bradt.

Michigan Fish, culture, habitat, species, etc., Fred Westerman, Dr. Al. S. Hazzard, University of Michigan.

Law Enforcement, Mert McClure, regional supervisor, Department of Conservation.

Discussion, Mock Trial, D. M. Rochester in charge.

Field trip to the following places: Hartwick Pines; Higgins Lake State Forest; Higgins Lake CCC Camp; Michigan Forest Fire Experiment Station, field demonstration of heavy equipment, field organization and functions, Gilbert Stewart, director M.F.F.E.S; Grayling Fish Hatchery.

History of Conservation and Forestry, P. S. Lovejoy, Michigan Conservation Department.

Much credit must be given to D. M. Rochester, superintendent of the conservation training school, who cooperated with A. G. Kettunen, state club leader, to organize and carry out such a complete and useful program. All the boys left camp with a much better understanding of the importance of conservation of plants and animal life.

WARN DEER HUNTERS NOT TO LOSE "TAGS"

Conservation Department Is to Be "Stiff-Bitted" In Such Cases

The attitude of the Department of Conservation toward deer hunters who lose their identification tags while in the woods this fall is going to be "stiff-hitted." H. R. Sayre, chief of field administration, said that problems will arise from the new license-tag regulations which will necessarily require strict interpretation and application of the law.

"The hunter who loses his tag will be one of these problems," Sayre stated. "No doubt there will be many of them, unless the tag is securely sewed on so that brush can't take it off. But many hunters will want to change garments; they won't be sewing the tags on the backs of their coats.

"When the license tag is lost in the woods, there is only one thing the hunter can do to avoid embarrassment and that is to unload his rifle and quit hunting until a new tag can be obtained. He will be able to get a new tag from the nearest license agent for a fee of 50 cents by surrendering his old deer license and antler tag for new ones. It will not be legal for a hunter to improvise a new tag, even though he uses the correct numerals.

"The conservation officer who finds a hunter in the woods without a tag cannot know whether the tag has been removed purposely or accidentally; he is not supposed to know. He is obliged to make an arrest."

STATE POLICE CHIEF WARNS OF "TRADERS"

Claim State Now Flooded With Fake Securities Salesmen

"Easy Money," the capricious siren who lured life-savings on the rocks of disaster in the days of pyramiding fortunes, again beckons to the unwary.

Captain Ira H. Marmon, chief of detective and identification divisions of the Michigan State Police, issued a warning this week that racketeers were again active in trading their spurious securities to the gullible holders of legitimate investments.

"The state is infested with men representing themselves as stock and bond salesmen," Captain Marmon said in his warning. "Many are salesmen whose licenses have been revoked by the state securities commission.

"They make a practice of calling upon those in rural sections and promoting by glib argument an exchange of their cheap or worthless paper for trustworthy securities. We have aapprehended a number of these men. Others are still eluding us.

"Usually they are well dressed, drive good automobiles and generally make a good appearance. They are fluent talkers. But they are unscrupulous and we have records of them trading farmers and retired residents of small towns out of lifesavings.

"A person approached by a stranger offering any kind of an exchange of securities is urged to consult a reputable financinl advisor before making any deal or allowing the would-be trader to even examine his certificates. If they do this they will save themselves money."

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By Aon Page

Grapes are at the height of their season including eastern grown Concords and western Tokays, Seedless Malagas and Ribiers. Apples, pears and fresh prunes are also plentiful.

Cauliflower is not much more expensive than cabbage, good spinach is reasonable and lima beans continue to be cheap. Both sweet and white potatoes are lower.

All meats but veal are cheaper, particularly beef and lamb chucks and fresh pork. Eggs and butter prices are little changed. Ducks are reasonable and otber poultry prices continue at about the same level. Here are three menus planned for different budget groups.

The MARCH of POLITICS

By JOHN H. O'BRIEN

Republicans and Democrats are taking what comfort they can from the returns in the state primaries—with the G. O. P. followers getting much the better of it.

In the first place, the Republicans were cheered by the fact that sixty per cent of the total vote cast was Republican—demonstrating a lively interest in Republican politics this year despite the fact there were no outstanding battles for nominations on the G. O. P. ticket. A light Republican primary vote was generally predicted. A primary vote is an unreliable basis for any predictions about November results, but the huge vote is serving to encourage Republican workers, already enthusiastic over the results in Maine.

The followers of the elephant are also taking a quiet satisfaction in the beating administered Senator James Couzens. No such majority as 125,000 was predicted for Ex-Governor Brucker. He was expected to lose the Upper Peninsula to Couzens along with Wayne county. His strength was supposed to be out of Detroit and south of the Straits. Instead, Brucker carried the Northern Peninsula and added 25,000 to the lead he had going into the metropolis. Unanimous editorial opinion concerning Couzens is that he asked for it and he got it. Any other result in the election would have been a distinct reverse for the Republican party organization, which he spurned. The huge Brucker majority was not expected, however, and Republicans are happily surprised.

Republicans are also taking comfort from the vote given to Louis B. Ward, the National Union for Social Justice candidate for United States Senator on the Democratic ticket. Ward is distinctly anti-New Deal. He refers to rPentiss Brown, his opponent, as the "President-Jim Farley-Frank Murphy-handpicked" candidate and wants a recount of the vote, which was surprisingly close. Evidently having the late-lamented Democratic recount in Wayne county in mind, he requested Governor Fitzgerald to notify election officials that the law requires them to preserve the ballots intact and that "ballots unhappily become destroyed before the recount can be had."

The Democrats point with pride to Frank Murphy's nomination. They say that the vote Welsh received was expected; that any candidate for governor would receive that many votes. They discount the statement that had Welsh not jumped so recently out of the Republican ranks, that if he had had a good Democratic record behind him, he might have defeated the Roosevelt-aFrley candidate.

The Democratic comment that "the defeat of Couzens showed perfectly the reactionary quality inherent in the Republican Party" is just another one of those statements that looks good until it is read a second time. What would have happened to Frank Murphy if he had announced three weeks prior to the primary that although he was running on the Democratic ticket he intended to support Landon? He would have taken the same drubbing from Democrats that Couzens took from Republicans. The Couzens defeat demonstrated nothing more nor less than that the American system of government is based upon the party system and that no one man is bigger than his party.

In Shiawassee county there are 1,000 families on direct or work relief. This is the rush season for the W. R. Roach Canning Co., of Owosso, but because the company is unable to obtain sufficient help, particularly women, the company is sending part of its lima bean crop to its Croswell plant for canning.

The company has repeatedly advertised for 300 women for the plant and has obtained but 50. The plant employs 700 persons now and is badly in need of an additional 300.

Average wage being earned by women, who work on a piece-work basis, is $4.75 per day, officials said.

The facts appear to be that the regulations of the WPA are such that relief is not given unless the person seeking it i destitute. Carried to its logical lengths, the WPA worker who managed to save some part of his relief wage over a period of a year would soon find himself ineligible for relief! And temporary work in private employment must appear useless to those on relief who know that they will only have to go broke again to get back on relief. If there is one problem that needs immediate solution in Michigan and the nation it is the rehabilitation of the mental outlook of relief workers; in another year they will be lost to America as useful citizens.

"The first man to ruin the Roman people was he who gave them treats and gratitudes."—Plutarch.

The political campaign is in full blast now, with two months to go.

Are Your Tires Ready for Fall and Winter Driving?

If You Do Need New "Rubber," Change to Firestone!

As the Fall and Winter seasons approach wise motorists everywhere are examining their tires to see if they are prepared for the extra wear and tear that surely goes hand in hand with Fall and Winter roads. Remember that the coming seasons bring with them various road surfaces that prove a severe test to even the very best of tires.

Slippery road surfaces in wet and also in icy weather, the rough and jutty roads of winter surely call for the best tires that money can buy. The problem of meeting these extra demands of a tire is not a difficult one—merely install a set of Firestone tires and tubes and you are prepared to enjoy driving in complete safety and comfort, in the worst seasons of the year as well as the best.

If there is any doubt in your mind about the quality of Firestone tires then consider that Louis Meyer selected these famous tires for his car when he won the track record at the Indianapolis Speedway and Ab Jenkins installed them on his car for his thrilling drive over the Salt Beds of Utah. While these are just two of the outstanding achievements of Firestone they are but a tiny fraction of the instances in which Firestone tires have proved winners. Year after year they have been called upon to give their best and in each and every instance they have lived up to the reputation that they have established.

In every town and hamlet, in all four corners of the world, motorists everywhere are putting Firestone to the test of wear and time and each day many thousands of drivers are discovering that they have the quality to answer the call for service with outstanding records of tire achievement.

You can enjoy this same dependable service with Firestones on your car. Why not drive in to one of the dealers listed below and have your present weak and worn tires replaced with a new set of Firestone tires and tubes and then you'll enjoy all the safety, service and comfort that you have a right to expect.

OPEN BIDS ON STATE FERRY ON OCTOBER 1

Design New Ice-Crusher for Straits Service Is Completed.

Bids for the construction of a new ferry boat to be placed in operation at the Straits of Mackinac will be opened October 1, Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, announced today.

The announcement revealed that W. M. Rice, marine architect employed by the state, has completed his design and specifications of the new vessel. Rice said that it will require at least eight months to build the new boat. Commissioner Van Wagoner plans to have the vessel in operation by next June 1.

The boat will be of the ice-crushing type to permit year-round operation. It will have a capacity of 150 motor vehicles which the commissioner said will double the transportation capacity of the state-operated fleet of boats at the Straits. Seventy-five per cent of the motor vehicle load will be carried on the lower deck with the upper deck reserved for peak traffic loads. Automobiles will be loaded and unloaded at the end of the 372-foot vessel rather than the sides.

Other features of the design include: Diesel-powered plant capable of developing 1,500 horsepower; 14-foot clearance between decks, the same as Michigan grade separation structures; twin electric screw type of steering gear to permit greater flexibility in maneuvering; and pilot house control.

Cost of the new boat is estimated at $600,000 to $800,000. Although an application has been made before the Public Works Administration for assistance in financing the construction, Commissioner Van Wagoner said plans will proceed independently of this application. The State Administrative Board has authorized the construction with state funds. A recent ruling of the comptroller general clouds the eligibility of the boat as a PWA project.

4-H MEMBERS TO TAKE PART IN PROMOTING FARM ELECTRIFICATION

4-H boys and girls are playing an important part in the nation-wide rural electrification movement now under way which is expected to bring the number of farms in the United States served by electrical energy to one million or more by the end of the year.

Through the aid of an educational program originated by the National 4-H Committee and conducted in cooperation with extension agents 4-H members are making surveys of farms and communities which will provide data valuable in building high lines and in making the most efficient use of electric power.

In addition to the value of the data which 4-H members are gathering, they are offered special inducements to participate by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, as sponsor of this program, in the form of college scholarships and many other prizes. The scholarships are for $400, $300, and $200 to be awarded the three club members in the nation who make the best reports as judged by a committee o fclub leaders. Eight trips are provided for sectional winners to the National Club Congress to be held in Chicago November 28-December 5, and substantial prizes are listed for state and county champions.

The work of the boys and girls will tie in with that of the agricultural colleges, farm groups, power interests, and the federal Rural Electrification Administration which is making loans at three per cent on a twenty year amortization basis to farm groups to build rural lines.

At least three-fourths of the one million enrolled 4-H members should have no difficulty in carrying this program through to completion. It has been approved by the state club leader and rules may be obtained of county extension agents.

ZENITH CORPORATION ANNOUNCES NEW TYPE OF FARM RADIO SET

Zenith Radio Corporation, through the Radio & Electric Service Co., its local dealer, announces a new, startling, revolutionary development — the new 2-6 Duplex Farm Radio. These new sets are not to replace Zenith's present line, but to supplement them.

The new Zenith 2-volt, 6-volt Duplex set is ideal for the farmer who wishes to purchase a radio at its very lowest list price and who may later on convert the set into the superior performing 6-volt set which will operate at n fraction of the cost of the 2-volt set.

This additional line has innumerable features such as the big black dial, copper plated chassis, beautiful cabinets, full short wave, built-in antenna tuning system, illuminated dial (which very few 2-volt sets have) with genuine quality Zenith workmanship. Lowest battery drain on record is an outstanding feature in itself (less than one ampere on a 5-tube, 6-volt radio).

In addition, this new line will contain the famous Zenith metaglas tubes which make it possible for the farmer to use metal tubes if he so desires.

Advertisement

We quote the following excerpts from a letter received from the Zenith Radio Corporation:

Repeated arguments have been advanced to us by dry battery manufacturers and others in favor of Zenith manufacturing a 2-volt dry battery set—the primary argument being that despite the excessive cost of dry battery operation, dealers need a 2-volt farm radio to sell in competition with low price sets offered by mail order houses and chain stores.

Zenith has consistently refused to build a 2-volt rndio because the upkeep of this type of radio is excessively high and no matter what type of dry battery equipment is used, the high operating cost continues.

The refusal was based on Zenith's unwillingness to propose to the farmer a radio purchase for which the upkeep and dry batteries for operating would cost more than the original radio.

Mail order houses and chain stores aggressively promote the sale of 2-volt radios—because they want the lucrative replacement dry battery business, but we feel the truth should be told the farmer.

In short, Zenith engineers have achieved a 2-volt farm set, which is for dry cell operntion in the old-fashioned costly manner, hut is available to the consumer at the low prices this type of receiver makes possible—yet when the farmer begins to realize the high cost of dry batteries, simply by purchasing a Zenith Economy Pack at a modernte cost and plugging it in the position indicated, the same set becomes a 6-volt set with all the advantages inherent in the type of receiver.

THE LIFEBLOOD OF OUR COMMUNITY

Agriculture is the foundation of our existence in this community — our only reason for being here. Let us consider, in all we plan and do as a community, whether our actions will benefit our farmer neighbors, for upon their success and prosperity hinges the success of all of us. We live in one of the best agricultural counties in the United States. This bank will do everything in its power to insure the successful continuance of a staple agricultural prosperity.

W. E. WRIGHT, NORWOOD SUMMER RESIDENT, DEAD

Local citizens will learn with regret of the death Sunday at Chicago of William E. Wright, well known Norwood summer resident.

Mr. Wright suffered a heart attack while at his summer home some time ago and had been in serious condition since that time.

The Wrights owned a beautiful summer home at Norwood and had been coming there several years.

GOVERNOR IN FAVOR OF RECREATION AID

A $250,000 playground and athletic field building program for the state was advocated by Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald in a speech dedicating Fitzgerald Park in Grand Ledge, bis home town.

"Today there is no responsibility more important to the fathers and mothers of this state than to secure for their children the kind of amusement that will help them grow up as strong bodied, clean-minded citizens," the governor said.

"I know that much already has been done by municipalities and other governmental agencies. We should encourage this movement by offering state aid to communities that raise funds for the establishment of athletic fields or other recreational centers. I believe the Legislature would appropriate a reasonable sum—let us say $250,000—for such a purpose and I would favor such an appropriation."

The Editor,
The Charlevoix Courier
Dear Sir:

I was sittin' over in Th' Ol' Snug Restraunt here a while ago and all the time I was there I kept thinking about Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde making all these speeches for President Roosevelt and that old song kept running through my head:

"GO TELL AUNT RHODY, THE OLD GRAY GOOSE IS DEAD."

And I've thought since there must have been something significant about it because that was Primary Day.

Since then I've noticed in quite a few papers that Mr. Welsh took that auspicious occasion to bow his way out and leave the honor of being swamped in the November election by Mr. Fitzgerald solely to Mr. Farley's Mr. Murphy—or is it Mr. Farphy?

(They're so close together I'm always gettin' 'em mixed up.)

This was a nice, courteous move on Mr. Welsh's part—and it looked then, for a moment, as if Michigan had heard the last of its foremost slip-horn player. But now Mr. Welsh says he is going to turn in and support Mr. Farphy, or whatever his name is. So we'll have to listen to a little more oomping on the slip-horn until the final oompah burples awny after the Fitzgerald Flood in November.

The sun's out down here now and the school bells are ringing and there's a little tang of Autumn in the air. You can go past almost any kitchen and nim your nose right and get a satisfactory sniff of some kind of picklin' goin' on. And when it gets this way I get sad—and start wondering whatever becamd of that upstanding orator and statesmun — Mr. GARNER.

Seems like one time we had a vice-president by that name—a colorful figure. But I never hear about him any more since Frankie and Nory began hauling the Demmycrat Wagon. And I hat to lose tab on Solons like him. Any other time of the year I might not mind it so much. But now, with the pickin' season ander way, I get downright tearful about it. One of these days I'm going to write Washington and try to find out something from Frankie an' Nory. But, on the other hand, maybe I won't. They'd probably write me back to vote for Mr. Gurphy.

Whatever—that Primary vote was convincing.

Governor Fitzgernld stood out like a giraffe in'n flock of sheep.

And it gets me to thinking about Uncle Johnny Whitehorne.

Uncle Johnny lived up north and east of here and he was driving down to do some trading one afternoon in the spring—and he drove through the Portage River to wash off his wagon wheels. When he got in the middle of the stream the water was so high it just lifted his waggnbox right off th' running'-gear. Uncle Johnny's team kept right on going and Uncle Johnny floated more than a mile downstream before he could land. And it took him two days to get his hosses and his wagon-box back together again.

And the primary vote indicates that this is being done.

There's that old tune again—"Go tell Aunt Rohde, the Old Gray Goose Is Dead."

yrs (sgd) Chet Shafer

Still drattin' them fiddle-dickin' Demmycrats.

P.S.—An' I like my pickles with a little tam'ric in 'em.

P.S.S.—And I suppose after the election when Mr. Farphy is free again that he'll go down to the White House Sody fountain and say: "I'll take Manilla."

P.S.S.S.—That other old song was about Frankie and Johnny — not Frankie an' Nory.

P.S.S.S.½—And with me a drat's a drat—just the same as an irk's an irk.

AIRY CLAIMS

Astrologists have been heard from on forecasting the November presidential election, and they agree with Chairman Jim Farley that Roosevelt has the election "in the bag." And confidence in the judgment of astrology is probably as well founded as that of Farleyism. In contrast with New Deal boasts and some restricted polls, along comes the Literary Digest's extensive vote-gathering machinery. In nine states — Indiana, Maine, Minnesota, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania and Texas—totals run two to one in favor of Landon. Results of the Digest's poll so far show no cinch for Landon but certainly they would tend to deflate the airy claims of the bubbling Farley.

Personality is a big factor in business success—but personality is not made by tailors and barbers.

MEN LOVE PEPPY GIRLS

You can become peppy this easy way

If you are happy and peppy and full of fun, men will take you places. If you are lively, they will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT, if you are cross and listless and always tired out, men won't be interested in you. Men don't like "quiet" girls. Men go to parties to enjoy themselves. They want girls along who are full of pep.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND helps give you pep and energy. For over sixty years girls and women have been taking this famous old medicine to pep them up . . . to help give them strength, energy, sparkle. Notice the girls and women about you who are full of pep. Ask them what makes them peppy. If they are honest, many of them will give the credit to LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. You should give LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND a try. Girls with pep are more attractive to men.

ARE YOU NERVOUS?

Here is a way to help calm quivering nerves

Do you feel so nervous, that you want to scream? Are there times when you are cross and irritable . . . times when you could blame who are dearest to you?

If your nerves are on edge, try LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. It helps calm your quivering nerves and should give you the strength and energy to face life with a smile.

When your worries and cares become too much for you and you want to run away from it all . . . take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. Many women have had nerves as jangled as yours, but they have been able to build up their pep and energy and get back to normal with the aid of LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

When your mother and your grandmother used to become nervous, irritable and run-down they depended upon this famous old medicine to pep them up again . . . to help their nerves . . . to help give them a cheerful disposition.

EDITORIAL

OUR FREEDOM OF SPEECH

We have become so used to freedom of speech in this country that we are shocked when we read that there are but six countries on the European continent that still have liberty of expression in their daily press. These countries are: Belgium, Holland, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland and Denmark. Outside of these countries it is not so much a case of smothering the press as it is a perversion of it to aid dictatorships in their efforts to warp the minds of the people they govern.

Our daily and weekly papers express the opinions of men and women throughout the nation on any subject they may wish to discuss. This is done in the editorial columns or through the so-called public pulse of these various papers. Quite often these men and women write articles which are of a derogatory nature to the party in power in Washington at the time they are written. But this is their right and privilege providing they do not agree with the men who are running the government. Sometimes this criticism is outright, and again it will be expressed in a constructive form in which they may offer a solution to the problems about which they are writing. But, regardless of whether or not they agree with problems political and the manner in which these problems are met by the present form of government, they are still allowed to express their opinions. This is their right as written into our constitution as a primary law of the land.

It is a truly terrible thing to suppress the publication of the truth. But it is a still more terrible thing to pervert the truth so that it will fit the purpose of certain forms of government. This has been done, and is still being done in such countries as Italy, Germany, and even worse than these known two, we have finally begun to realize that this form of perverted expression has entered into the press of France where originated the expression of Liberty, Equality and Fraternity.

When Roosevelt attempted to get the press of the United States to sign up under the NRA he refused to include in the code drawn up for them the Constitutional right of freedom of expression. When this was not included he failed to get them to sign on the dotted line. Since that time we have not heard any statement from him that he was not still in favor of forcing some such restriction on them as has been done in Europe. Surely we do not want o have reared in this land of the free a people that know not the truth as carried to them daily and weekly by the papers of our great land. Our insurance against any further attempts of this nature upon our press such as that made in 1933 is to oust from office men that have such aspirations.

RETARDING EMPLOYMENT

In a recent edition the New York Sun explained its survey of unemployment, giving reasons why employmeat has been retarded. It blames administration policies. Costly relief programs have failed to make permanent jobs in private industry. Tighter regulation of business has not made work for the jobless. Encouraging trade unions to demand a thirty-hour week has hindered. Increased imports have competed with home markets. Government rivalry in business has hurt. Higher taxes have tightened the grip of unemployment. In conclusion the Sun says:

"Industry has done its best—probably a better job than American business ever did before in a depression. One contributing factor was the accumulation of surpluses in good times; and this provident system the New Deal has tried to destroy. If the politicians had worked as earnestly and honestly as industry has done these last six years the country would be much further on its way."

CAUTION AGAINST USE OF GASOLINE

It is a never ending source of amazement to read about some tragedy resulting from carelessness in the use of gasoline. Some people persist in considering it a transparent liquid with an unpleasant odor instead of a highly explosive stream of death.

The state of Indiana was shocked this week by the tragedy which visited its football team. One outstanding player died, and several were injured, the result of an unusual accident in the shower room.

The players were in the habit of taping ankles and feet to minimize the chance of injury. After practice they used gasoline to remove the adhesive. Fumes from a heater ignited the gasoline.

Observe every known precaution in the use of gasoline, if you find you must use it.

The high point of the Republican convention came when a colored delegate, representing a Mississippi district, seconding the Landon nomination, asked re-emancipation for his race. Under the New Deal be declared "even the pigs ain't safe."

THE LAST QUARTER

The 1936 Presidential election will be won in the last few minutes of the last quarter of the game. The straw vote now being polled over the country is no definite indication of the trend of events. Ask the next ten men you meet how they intend to vote. Three may be definitely Republican, three definitely Democrat, but four will probably say, "Well, I haven't just made up my mind."

It would seem, then, that the party which has a trick up its sleeve for that last quarter—a bomb to fire—may get the votes of these "undecideds."

FRESHENING BREEZES

Vote one of our straw votes.

A prudent haste is wisdom's leisure.

Drive carefully, do not maim or kill a child.

Nothing is particularly hard if you divide it into small jobs.

Nobody learns how to invest except by investing, and the early experience is always costly.

No one can be sure whether we really got out of the depression or the government just took it over.

That speech Hitler made to the leaders of the Socialist Party might be named "An Invitation to War."

All growth depends upon activity. There is no development physically or intellectually without effort and effort means work. Work is not a curse; it is the prerogative of intelligence, the only means to manhood, and the measure of civilization. — Calvin Coolidge.

A long time ago a noted specialist said that his secret of success as a physician was keeping the patient's head cool and his feet warm. And it is just now becoming generally known that a "hot head" and "cold feet" are enough to bring disaster to even a well man.

And Now In Closing—

The very helplessness of the world today is in itself a repudiation of that self-sufficient and self-confident view of life that the world in its progressive development has outgrown the need of religion. It is religion which gives the world what it most needs, a standard of right living, a cause to follow and a law to obey.—John Grier Hibben.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Where We Shall Find the Typhoid Germ

The typhoid germs have no normal breeding place outside the human body. When they are passed out of the body they tend to die, most of them dying within a few hours but a few clinging to life for a number of weeks and months. They live longer in a temperature which closely relates to that of the human body. They are quickly killed when boiled and the majority of them are destroyed when frozen; however a few can withstand freezing for as long as five weeks.

Typhoid, no matter when or where it occurs, is caused by an infection with the typhoid bacillus which has been conveyed either directly or indirectly from a previous case of the disease. Water is the most common medium on which the germ is conveyed. The common mode of pollution is by the discharge of raw sewage of cities and towns into lakes and water courses. Fortunately, highly polluted water can readily be made safe for public use by filtration or chlorination. The remarkable drop in the typhoid rate of cities bordering the Great Lakes since the introduction of filtration and chemical purification of drinking water is proof of the efficacy of these precautionary methods.

The typhoid bacilli thrive when introduced in milk which remains unpasteurized. Flies play an important part in the transmission of typhoid germs. They carry countless numbers of germs on their sticky feet and on their bodies and wings in addition to the swarms present in their alimentary canal. It has been known that they can harbor these germs for a period as long as two or three weeks and possibly longer.

After the typhoid facilli enter the body no symptoms occur for about one or two weeks. The first day of actual onset is usually detected by chilliness which is quickly followed by fever and a general aching of the body. A severe, persistent headache almost always occurs. During the second week of infection the abdomen and chest become covered with a rose-colored rash and the fever may reach as high as 105 F. Then symptoms continue during the third week with gradual improvements during the fourth week and convalescence beginning the fifth week.

Protection against typhoid fever can be secured by inoculation with typhoid vaccine. Three treatments administered by a physician at weekly intervals will make a person immune for approximately three years. The possibilities in the prevention of typhoid have been clearly shown by army experience before routine immunization was established, at that time more men died of the infection in camp than were killed in battle. With the introduction of better methods of sanitation came a great reduction in this death rate and with the development of immunization it dropped almost to the vanishing point.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

Building, Loan to Report Progress

Figures showing that industrial centers of Michigan are experiencing a shortage of housing facilities, and that in cases of well-maintained property, rents are rising, are shown in a preliminary survey of the annual report now being compiled by the Building and Loan Division of the Department of State.

The report being compiled for submission by Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, to Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald, will cover the 12 months ending June 30.

Activities of building and loan associations of Michigan, as reflected in records of the Building and Loan Division, show that these associations have had a vital part in supporting the institutions of government during the past year. By the payment of delinquent taxes on property held by them, payment of taxes on their own property, and loans to their borrowers so that levies on their property might be paid, these associations will be shown to have contributed hundreds of thousands of dollars to make economic recovery an actuality.

Michigan has 70 active building and loan associations, 52 state-chartered associations, and 18 federal-chartered. Assets of the Michigan associations amount to $109,673,509. Of this amount, the state-chartered associations have $97,529,389, and the 18 federal associations, $12,144,120.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Totel of $275 in Premium Money to Be Awerded—Supervisors of Two Counties Are Cooperating

(By B. C. Mellencamp)

Plans are rapidly going forward for the combined Antrim and Charlevoix potato and apple show to be held in the East Jordan High school on Saturday, October 31. The boards of supervisors of the respective counties are making appropriations as well as the cooperative marketing associations and the boys and girls club department.

The premium list has been greatly enlarged as well as the apple department. For the first time a new place has been developed to consist of 100 pounds of graded U. S. No. 1 or U. S. fancy potatoes and truly representative of stock available for the table stock market in lots of 200 bushels or more. Prizes for this are $5, $5, $4, $4, $3, $3, $2, $2, $1, $1, or a total of $30. The peck sample of Russet Rurals the same premium. The beginners' class will be included with premiums of $4, $4, $3, $3, $2, $2, $1, $1, or a total of $20.

In addition there will be peck classes for the Smith-Hughes boys and the 4-H club members. Likewise other groups such as corn and beans will be added for both Smith-Hughes and 4-H club members.

In the apple division the bushel competition has been enlarged. All varieties competing with prizes of $6, $5, $5, $4, $4, $3, $3, $2, $2, $1, $1.

It is planned to have a big banquet Saturday night followed by an exceptionally well balanced program. Also Saturday afternoon will be used for a program. Additional announcements will follow, but our earnest plea is for farmers to immediately select their samples.

FAREWELL RECEPTION FOR RETIRING PASTOR

Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Hurd Feted at Affair Given Tuesday Evening

Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Hurd, the former having completed five years as pastor of the local Methodist church, were given a farewell reception Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Metcalf on Park avenue. The affair was largely attended, practically the entire adult membership being present.

The program included general singing, solos by Leslie Shapton and readings by Miss Freda McMillan. Mrs. P. D. Campbell presented a beautiful gift from the church with fine words of appreciation for the loyalty and efficiency of the pastor.

Rev. Hurd's address had to be written and read by Mrs. Hurd due to his serious vocal affliction, and was as follows:

"While I have known ever since the trip to Bronson Hospital last April, and the Bishop's promise in May that I was to be moved south this fall, yet, when the time comes it is just as hard to break up home and leave the many friends we have made here during the five years. I not only highly appreciate many in the church, but have made many friends among the men of the city outside of the church who have been increasingly friendly and loyal to me—all of which ties are hard to break.

"While at conference I became so much worse in health I was examined by the Battle Creek sanitarium specialists, who gave a very alarming diagnosis and ordered me to Ann Arbor immediately. In the meantime, Bishop Blake had selected a place where there was easy work, but one preaching place, in an industrial city where the well known E. K. Warren works are located. Have just received a fine letter of welcome from the Board, saying the parsonage had been re-decorated, etc.

"The five years here have been the very worst of the depression and church work has been very difficult. In spite of it all, I am glad to report a few items of interest. New members received were 39, and 29 at the Mission. Baptisms were 45 here and 10 at the Mission. Paid for building and improving church and parsonage $553.50, and an old debt of $740 inherited from former administrations has been reduced by careful management to $224."

After the program dainty refreshments were served.

ALL-CITY GOLF TOURNAMENT NOW UNDER WAY

Ike Denemy Scored 80 to Become Low Medelist in Field of 16

Match play in the first annual Charlevoix All-City golf tournament which opened Sunday at the Municipal course with qualifying round, was to start today.

A small but select field is competing, 16 players in all in the championship flight. Ike Denemy scored an 80, eight strokes over par, to become the medalist. Pairings had not been completed as yet.

Due to the small field, no other flights will be placed other than the championship division. Match play will continue throughout the balance of the week.

CHARLEVOIX WINS FOOTBALL CONTEST

DEFEATED GAYLORD 20 TO 0 IN INITIAL TILT SATURDAY

Shapton and Radle Show Promise of Great Combination—Team Goes to Boyne City, Saturday

Opening the 1936 football season at south side athletic field Saturday afternoon, Charlevoix's Red Rayders defeated Gaylord's class C outfit by a decisive 20 to 0 score to join other undefeated teams in the race for Tip of Michigan conference championship.

Charlevoix played alert football Saturday, taking advantage of every "break" to win a game which was closer than the one-sided score indicates. The fact that the Rayders were not guilty of a single fumble in the first game of the season was outstanding in itself.

That Coach Ray Kipke has one of the best running and passing combinations in recent years was revealed in the performance of Les Shapton, quarter, and Ed. Radle, fullback, both veterans of last year's team. These two players were consistent ground-gainers and accounted for all of Charlevoix's touchdowns.

Gaylord had the best of the battle in the first quarter, although failed to score. The teams were even in the first part of the second and it was late in this session Charlevoix grabbed its first "break", a fumble punt on their own 35-yard line. Shapton skirted right end for ten yards and on the next play took Radle's pass and squirmed through Gaylord's secondary defense for a 35 yard dash over the goal. Radle place-kicked the extra point.

Although having an edge, Charlevoix failed to score again until the final period when they pushed over two touchdowns. The first came after Gaylord fumbled on their own 30-yard line. Radle and Shapton alternated in an advance to Gaylord's 3-yard strip, from which point Radle plunged over. Both made runs of 25 yards during the advance. As was the case in the first two touchdowns, a Gaylord fumble, this time on their 20-yard line, paved the way for the final marker, with Radle carrying over the score and kicking the extra point.

Gaylord never threatened seriously except in the first period when the Rayders stood almost on their goal line and halted what appeared to be almost a certain score.

The line-ups:

Charlevoix		Gaylord
Gallagher	LE	Mazur
Neff	LT	Tubbs
R. Shapton	LG	Butters
Withers	C	Peterson
Bob Pearl	RG	Krauss
Ochs	RT	Wertz
Bergmann	RE	Culliton
L. Shapton	QB	Simmons
Livingston	RH	Lovelace
Bert Pearl	LH	Coultes
Radle	FB	Noirot

Substitutes: Charlevoix — McCafferty, Kupla, Officials: H. Ruggles, referee: C. Bailey, umpire: M. Novak, head linesman.

Charlevoix plays away from home this week, taking on Boyne City on the latter's field.

POPULAR COUPLE WERE MARRIED ON THURSDAY

Miss Marcia Oldham, William Foster Wed at St. Mary's Parsonage

In a wedding solemnized at 9 o'clock last Thursday morning at St. Mary's parsonage by Rev. Fr. Edward Neubecker, Miss Marcia Oldham daughter of Mrs. Ray O'Brien, was united in marriage to William J. Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Foster.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of immediate relatives and close friends. The couple were attended by Miss Mary Adams and Norman Ance. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom's parents.

Following a honeymoon trip to Chicago and southern Michigan points, Mr. and Mrs. Foster will return to reside in this city. Their many friends will join in extending them congratulations.

BOGART-FARMER WEDDING EVENT OF SAT.

Local Young Couple Spoke Vows in Ceremony at Bride's Home

Against an improvised altar of fall flowers and in the presence of the immediate families, Miss Lucille Bogart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bogart, became the bride of Alexander Farmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Farmer, in a ceremony performed at the home of the bride's parents at 9 o'clock Saturday evening.

The party entered the room to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March played by Miss Marjorie Carey. For the service, which was performed by Rev. Alexander, the bride wore a floor length gown of royal blue velvet, made in tunic style, and carried an arm bouquet of gladiolias of contrasting colors.

Her sister, Helean, as maid of honor and Miss Erma Kowalski of Traverse City, wore dresses of blue crepe and carried fall flowers. Richard Farmer, the groom's brother, and Harold Box, of Central Lake, cousin of the bride, completed the wedding party.

After the ceremony light refreshments were served. The couple departed Sunday for Chicago, where they will make their home.

COMBINED POTATO SHOW AT KALKASKA

TOP O' MICHIGAN IS JOINED WITH NORTHWESTERN

Farmers Formerly Served by Gaylord Exhibit Are Eligible—Premium List Changed This Year

(By B. C. Mellencamp)

"The Northern Michigan potato and Apple Show will be held at the Kalkaska school auditorium on Nov. 10-11-12," states K. Ousterhout, Secretary. Recently the Top O'Michigan and the Northwestern Michigan Potato shows combined for the purpose of holding a bigger and better show in 1936.

The premium list has been changed this year to place greater emphasis on commercial classes. There will be a class for table stock potato growers with an entry of 100 pounds graded U. S. No. 1 or U. S. Fancy. In the class $255.00 in premiums will be offered.

The apple show will be entirely for commercial bushels grading U. S. Fancy. Growers in these two classes will be required to have a supply available for sale of a grade equal to that represented by the exhibit.

The junior exhibits of the 4-H and Smith-Hughes classes should prove popular to the hundreds of boys enrolled in these projects in the district. The exhibit will consist of an entry of 32 selected potatoes.

Additional classes will consist of the premium table stock exhibit, premier certified seed exhibit, and peck samples of 32 potatoes.

Farmers, 4-H club and Smith-Hughes members should now make plans to exhibit. Write your County Extension Agent for a premium book. It will be available soon.

Any one living in the territory formerly served by the Top O'Michigan or Northwestern Potato shows will be eligible to exhibit at the Northern Michigan show this year.

HUNTING LICENSES ARE DISTRIBUTED BY STATE

Deer License Is Water-Proof Cloth Tag With License Number

The state conservation department began last Wednesday the distribution of small game and deer hunting licenses to 1,500 dealers for immediate sale to hunters.

Wayland Osgood, conservation commission secretary, said 550,000 small game licenses and 130,000 deer licenses will be shipped to dealers. Last year the department sold approximately 385,000 small game license and 90,000 deer licenses.

The deer hunting license this year is accompanied by a waterproof cloth bearing the number of the license. Hunters are required to wear the numbers pinned to their backs while in the woods.

Deer license No. 1, as usual, is reserved for the governor. Other low numbers, up to 200, are being held at commission offices for direct applications.

WLS RADIO STARS WILL APPEAR HERE

TWO SHOWS AT GYMNASIUM ON TUESDAY, OCTOBER 6

Appearance of Popular Radio Group Is Sponsored by Local Knights of Pythias

Charlevoix radio fans who have yearned, "I wish I knew what Lulu Belle looks like," or Winnie, Lou and Sally, or Patsy Montana, or others among their favorites, are going to have their wish granted Tuesday, October 6.

For the Knights of Pythias have announced the appearance at the high school gymnasium on that date, and in two shows, of the famous radio group of artists, the WLS Merry-Go-Round.

For several years, this radio organization has had a policy of sending its best known stars to appear in person before their listeners, and that is what this show is doing this season throughout the middle west.

The company coming here under Knights of Pythias sponsorship is made up of some of the most popular stars from Station WLS; including the Prairie Ramblers with Patsy Montana. Then there are the singing girls, Winnie, Lou and Sally; Tom Corwin, Billy Woods, Bill McCluskey and others.

Shows will be given both afternoon and evening of October 6. The afternoon performance will be a matinee especially for children. The program of both appearances will comprise seven acts.

If advance sale of tickets may be taken an an indication, a full house will greet the WLS stars here, according to Dallas Henry, who is handling ticket sales. Mr. Henry reports that practically all reserved seats have been taken.

TRAVERSE CITY EXTENSION CLINIC WILL BE HELD IN BOYNE CITY

The first extension clinic from the new Traverse City Children's Hospital will be conducted in Charlevoix county on Tuesday, October 6, in the Boyne City gymnasium.

Dr. M. F. Osterlin is the pediatrician and will be accompanied by Miss Winnifred Golley. The morning clinic will begin at 9:30 a. m., and the afternoon clinic at 1:30 p. m.

Any infant, pre-school or school child having a specific physical condition needing medical attention may be brought to this clinic, which is different from the routine health clinics as conducted by the District Health Department.

Appointments to the clinic are to be made by Miss Deane Rinck, Charlevoix county nurse.

COUNCIL STUDYING NEW ELECTRIC UNIT

SUMMER POWER DEMAND NEAR CAPACITY OF PLANTS

Two Civic Groups Petition Council to Zone East Side of Bridge Street for Parking Purpose

Aside from general business of a regular session, the city council was occupied Monday evening with matters pertaining to city betterment.

Chief among the propositions taken under advisement was the installation of another Diesel unit at the municipal electric light plant to care for the ever-increasing demands upon the system. It was brought out during the discussion that for a considerable period last summer the consumption was within a very small margin of the capacity output of all units. A break-down at that time of any one of the units providing electric current would have been a serious matter during the height of the resort season.

A special meeting is to be called next Wednesday, October 7, to give the councilmen an opportunity to view designs and plans for the proposed addition, also to find out the cost of installation.

Public interest in the parking on the east side of Bridge street between the channel and Antrim street was manifest by the filing of two petitions with the council, asking for a zoning ordinance which would confine improvements within this area to public parks, waterfront depelopment and recreation facilities. One petition was presented by the Kiwanis Club and the other by the Board of Commerce. It is understood that another public petition is now in circulation for subsequent submission to the council.

A petition for combination curb and gutter on Ainslee street, submitted by property owners, was referred to the committee on streets for consideration, also a request from the Charlevoix Oil Co. for permission to construct a four-car steel garage on their property, corner Bridge and River streets.

The council approved a payroll aggregating $11,166.10, which included retirement of a bridge refunding bond of $5,675 with interest, payment of officers' salaries and compensation insurance the city carries on its employes.

The council, which early in the spring made an appropriation of approximately $4200 for resort promotional activities of the Board of Commerce, heard a report by Harold Hallett, president of the organization, on the expenditure of the funds and accomplishments resulting from the program. Mayor Bergeon and individual members of the council spoke in commendation of the Board of Commerce program.

The Record Breaker

BROWN'S PLURALITY IS OVER ELEVEN THOUSAND

State Canvass Gives St. Ignace Man An Increased Majority

An official tabulation of the votes cast in 74 out of the 83 Michigan counties gave Rep. Prentiss M. Brown of St. Ignace a plurality of 11,393 over Louis B. Ward of Detroit in the race for Democratic nomination as U. S. senator.

The tabulation made by the state board of canvassers shows that Brown polled 109,013 against 97,620 for Ward.

Counties yet to file returns with the secretary of state are: Calhoun, Clinton, Genesee, Gladwin, Lenawee, Macomb, Oakland, Sanilac and Washtenaw.

MACKINAW TROUT CLOSED SEASON STARTS OCT. 20TH

All commercial fishing for lake trout in Lakes Superior, Huron, St. Clair and Erie will be suspended Oct. 10 for a 26-day period set by law for protection of the fish during spawning. The closed season reopens Nov. 5.

In Lake Michigan the season for taking lake trout closes 10 days later, on Oct. 20, and reopens on Nov. 15. Also being closed for a 26-day period.

OPEN SEASONS FOR HUNTING OUTLINED

OCTOBER 1 MARKS OPENING UP PER PENINSULA

Lower Peninsula Sportsman Must Wait Fourteen Days for Season Beginning October 15th

Tens of thousands of hunters throughout the upper peninsula and from many parts of the lower peninsula are preparing to celebrate the opening of the small-game hunting season in the upper peninsula.

Beginning Oct. 1 the season opens on rabbits, ruffed grouse, fox chickens, sharptailed grouse, fox squirrels and woodcock in all counties of Michigan north of the Straits.

Fourteen days later the season on these upland species will open in the lower peninsula, bringing more than a quarter-million hunters into the open.

Rabbits	Oct. 1 to Jan. 31
Fox Squirrels	Oct. 1 to Oct. 10
Ruffed Grouse	Oct. 1 to Oct. 12
Prairie Chickens	Oct. 1 to Oct. 12
Sharptailed Grouse	Oct. 1 to Oct. 12
Woodcock	Oct. 1 to Oct. 12

The open hunting season on ducks, geese and brant, coot, jacksnipe, rails and gallinules is the same throughout the state. The season opens on Oct. 10 and closes on Nov. 8.

LOCAL BOWLING ALLEYS OPEN WINTER SEASON

New Improvements Made at Popular Charlevoix Recreation Center

The fall season will be officially opened at the Charlevoix Bowling Alleys on Monday evening, October 5.

Two very important improvements are being made at the local alleys for the coming season, according to J. H. Supernaw, manager. These changes will affect all the bowlers and should both go a long way toward increasing interest in this already popular sport.

First the Packard Duck Pin Bowling Association, of which the Charlevoix Alleys is a member, has accepted the new five inch ball as standard size as against four and three quarter inch balls a used last year. The new ball will increase scores and also eliminate a good deal of lofting of the ball and throwing it part way down the alleys in the air.

The other major change is the installation of new automatic spotters which will assure the bowlers that every pin is on the spot at all times, and do away with all questions, and incidentally, many good alibis!

A great deal of interest is already being manifested by the local bowlers in the coming season, and some good leagues will be organized soon after opening.

The leagues will not start until the latter part of October in order to give the bowlers ample time to get in shape and accustomed to the new ball.

As a special inducement for lady bowlers, the management has announced that prizes will be awarded those coming the closest to a "hidden score."

SPORTSMAN'S CLUB PLANTS GAME FISH

DISTRIBUTE TROUT IN CHARLEVOIX COUNTY WATERS

Planting Marks Close of Most Successful Season In Recent Years —Will Enlarge Rearing Ponds

Fishing in Charlevoix county lakes and streams next year should show a marked improvement as the result of 1936 activities of the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club.

Concluding one of the most successful programs of fish propagation since the club was organized, over 50,000 of various species of trout have been transferred from the Stover Creek rearing ponds operated by the club. The fish were the finest bunch of advanced fingerlings the club has ever raised, ranging in size from three to seven inches in length.

On Monday, a truck and attendant sent from the state hatchery at Oden, transferred 18,000 German brown trout to the Boyne City power pond, located between Boyne City and Boyne Falls on the Boyne River. In the same load 1,550 brook trout were taken to Horton Creek.

Tuesday's plant included 10,000 brook trout which were taken to the Jordan River to be released in the vicinity of what is known as White's Headquarters, near the headwaters of the river. In the netting operations of Monday and Tuesday, none of the ponds were cleaned out completely, leaving an estimated several thousand trout which will be taken in small consignments to nearby streams.

The 1936 steelhead batch is still being held in the ponds. Club officers are making an attempt to find means of feeding the fish, numbering probably 20,000, until next spring, then releasing them after a growth of from seven to nine inches. Old River has been mentioned as a possible place, also construction of a pond in the city park, or even transfer to Oden where feed will be provided during the winter. The problem will be worked out in the near future.

In addition to the trout raised, the local club has made several plantings of small-mouth bass during the summer in Lake Charlevoix.

That the best steelhead fishing in many years has been available in Lake Charlevoix during the present season may be attributed directly to the persistent yearly plantings made by the Sportsman's Club. Charlevoix has been visited by hundreds of anglers from Lower Michigan and adjoining states who have either heard of, or have themselves caught these gamiest of fresh water fish. Guiding parties has become a sizable industry.

Efforts of the Sportsman's Club have been aided by financial contributions from Charlevoix summer residents, something over $300 having been turned in during the past summer season. With these funds the expense of patrolling Lake Charlevoix for nets has been met and other expenses taken care of.

The Club's program will be enlarged next year by the addition of three more rearing ponds to the present group. Members voted the addition at the last regular meeting.

NYA HAS OPENINGS FOR CHARLEVOIX CO. YOUTHS

According to Delberg Ponquette, of Boyne City, Charlevoix county supervisor of the National Youth Administration, there is an opening for several youths in Charlevoix county. Any youths previously employed can be reassigned at once by making application either with Mr. Ponquette, at Boyne City, or with Supt. O. P. North, in Charlevoix.

STARTING OCT. 8, ALL LOCAL STORES CLOSING THURSDAY AFTERNOONS

Starting Thursday, October 8, Charlevoix business places will close at 12:30 o'clock for the balance of the day during the fall and winter months.

The proposal to close Thursday afternoons came from merchants to the Board of Commerce which subsequently circulated a petition among business places for signatures of compliance.

Charlevoix citizens and those of the surrounding rural districts are asked to keep in mind the closing each Thursday afternoon and do their shopping accordingly.

If tentative plans of the Board of Commerce are carried out entertainment features of varied nature may be sponsored Thursday afternoons during the fall and winter.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Voegeli, who have been occupying their cottage in Norwood for the past week, returned to their home in Chicago Monday.

Miss Beatrice Baumbach and her brother-in-law, Charles Coleman, are guests of Mrs. Coleman, at Bliss, this week, where Mrs. Coleman is teaching school.

Mrs. Ashdon, of Charlevoix, was a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Dice last week. Mrs. Ashdon is 91 years of age, and is enjoying good health, and is very active considering her advanced age.

Norwood citizens were saddened to learn of the death of William E. Wright, which occurred at a hospital in Chicago, September 20. Mr. and Mrs. Wright have been coming to Norwood for several years, where they occupied their beautiful summer home. Mr. Wright will be sadly missed in our vicinity for his many acts of kindness to others.

Several Norwood citizens attended the funeral services of John Light, who died at the Lockwood Hospital in Petoskey, September 20, from injuries received from falling from the roof of his residence, while repairing the roof. Mr. Light was 75 years old and had been a resident of East Jordan for many years. Funeral services were held last Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 at the Latter Day Saints church in East Jordan; burial in the family lot at Sunset Hill, East Jordan.

BARNARD

Joe Bottema, of Grand Rapids, visited his mother, Mrs. John Bottema, over Sunday.

Edward James and daughters, of Fairgrove, are spending a few days on his farm here.

A good crowd greeted our new pastor, Rev. Cermac, of East Jordan. Let's keep it up, everybody.

Mr. and Mrs. Ludlow and son, Ralph, of Petoskey, were Sunday callers at the Clyde Smith home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murphy, of East Jordan, visited their daughter, Mrs. Clyde Warner, and family, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stoel and Mrs. Jasper Warner and daughter were Sunday visitors at the Clyde Smith home.

We wish to correct a mistake we made in our news last week. Clare Beattie is attending Michigan State College at Lansing instead of Houghton, as we stated.

The Home Economics Club met at the Grange Hall on Friday, with 10 members present. The lesson was on improving eating habits, which was presented by the leaders.

Charles Warner was pleasantly surprised on Friday evening when a party of neighbors dropped in to spend the evening. Games were enjoyed and a bountiful lunch partaken of. Everyone voted it a delightful time.

IRONTON

Ed. Cunningham shingled the H. L. Barnum cottage last week.

Mrs. L. Hammond, who is making her home with Mrs. H. Stevens, in Central Lake, was a guest of Mrs. Sam Alexander last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Britemeyer, of Flint, are the parents of a baby daughter. Mrs. Britemeyer is a sister of Mrs. Grace Brock and lived the past summer in one of Mr. Mosher's cottages.

CENTRAL LAKE

Ye correspondent will have to apologize for "no news" the past week for we have been vacationing at Ann Arbor Hospital with throat trouble. Dr. Conway, of Petoskey, advised us, as well as several other physicians, to consult Dr. Furtesenberg, at Ann Arbor. Our experiences were quite interesting. We were taken from main hospital by ambulance to the "convalescent." Here we were being deprived of clothes and other valuables, when ye correspondent objected, and said he thought he would go to a rooming house. He didn't want to give up his money, although he hadn't much. The nurse told him that was the general rule, but finally let him have his money. She was afterwards heard to say he had better be put in a room by himself where he could be watched, as he "wasn't just right." Next day he went to a rooming house. In the meantime, for three days he had been waiting for audiences with doctors, and one day had part of a growth pulled out of his windpipe for inspection. Blood tests were taken, two X-ray pictures, and then he was told not to eat any supper or breakfast and prepare for operation on third day. The evening before he was given a pill and didn't know anything more until he saw, the fourth day, one of the most beautiful nurses he ever had seen looking at him. Dr. Furtsenberg in the meantime had made an incision in ye correspondent's throat and through the opening had removed the tumor from the trachea — a most miraculous operation to your correspondent. Doctors Lammerson, Houser, and a good many visitors had been witnesses to this wonderful operation. The operation took place at 9:30 a. m., Friday, September 11, and we were out by following Saturday. By two weeks from time of operation we expect to be home with wound all healed. We won't be able to talk again, they say, as usual, but are glad to such a successful major operation, and cannot thank all participants too much. Dr. Furtsenberg for wonderful surgical ability, Dr. Houser, because he insisted on having it done, and Dr. Lammerson for his cheer-up-fullness; also the two special day and night nurses. Everybody can hear Dr. Lammerson's cheer-up voice resounding through the corridors of the hospital. And the "beautiful nurse"—one cannot help but get well you know—and the awful thing about it is the nurse leaving, just as one is "coming to." Guess that's why we have always been a bachelor, just as we "came to," the girl always left.

We just can't see how Dr. L. keeps so cheerful — operating on people's heads. If only they were like the students that Dr. Angel told of. The teacher asked the student what a vacuum is, and he said, "Well, well, I ought to know—I've got it in my head, but I can't think of it." The teacher wrote a note to Johnnie's mother, telling her she believed he could learn better if they'd get the adenoids out of his head. The parent wrote back: "I have to inform you, you are mistoken. I've combed Johnnie's head, and combed it, and I can't find a single adenoid in it."

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS
By B. C. Mellencamp

Child Care and Training.

The new Child Training project in the Michigan State College Extension program, is to be the study of the psychology of happiness. B. C. Mellencamp, County agricultural agent, has announced the title, "Keeping Your Child Happy in His Home." This is the third project of the kind carried in Charlevoix county, and is a part of the regular home economics extension service.

As before, this project is under the direction of Mrs. Lydia Ann Lynde, specialist in child training. She is already well known in the county, having lead study groups as East Jordan. Mrs. Lynde is especially fitted for this work through her training and experience. She is a graduate and has the Master of Science degree from Purdue University and the Universities of Minnesota and California. In 1927-28 as National Fellow in Child Development under the Laura Spellman-Rockefeller Memorial Fund, she spent 11 months studying the problems of childhood. She has had many years as a homemaker and mother of two sons, who are now in their teens. As a teacher of Home Economics in public schools she has worked with under-privileged, under-nourished and problem children and helped many children and their parents happily work out their difficulties. When asked how she happened to go into this work, she replied, "I need all the knowledge I can get to help my boys along. I found other mothers wanting help so I am studiying and passing it along."

For eight years Mrs. Lynde has been meeting with parents in this state and helping them understand and work out the little difficulties in their homes. It is so often the little everyday troubles that come into the lives of our children that mar and warp their personnlities and make the home life harder. If parents knew and understood how these come about and just what to do, much unhappiness could be avoided.

The topic for the first meeting is "How We Achieve Happiness." This meeting will be open to all men and women interested in children and family life, and will be held in the Community building, East Jordan, on Tuesday, October 20.

Animal Disease Meetings Held Last Week Well Attended

The 10 meetings on the subject First Aid to Farm Animals were well attended and greatly appreciated throughout the county. Dr. B. J. Killham, animal pathologist from the Michigan State College covered the field in a highly capable manner. He briefly discussed the various germ and parasitic troubles effecting hogs, sheep, horses and cattle.

The records up to date indicate that 850 herds have been tested for Bang's Disense, with 200 tested twice and 12 three times. A supreme effort is being made to complete the work in the county within the next month. Names have been given to the county agent of farmers who have not tested for various reasons and it is hoped that steps will be taken to prevent untested animals from entering the county in the very near future.

A letter will go out to all farmers who we believe have not tested yet, urging them to test. It is hoped that Charlevoix county can tell the world that their cattle have all been tested by the first of the year. Your help will be appreciated.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Unreality" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 4.

Among the Bible citations is the following (I Cor. 2: 14): "But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned."

Correlative passages, to be read from the Christian Science textbook Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (P. 353): "The Christianly scientific real is the sensuous unreal. Sin, disease, whatever seems real to material sense, is unreal in divine Science."

Has the Maine election affected the standing of leading presidential candidates? Read how voters feel about them today in America Speaks. It appears exclusively in Michigan in next Sunday's Detroit News.

The Editor,
The Charlevoix Courier,
Dear Sis:

The other dny I noticed that the national debt had passed the Thirty-four Billion Mark in the hands of them Demmycratic Fiddle-Dickers in their efforts to give us customers a more abundant life.

But what nre they doing about making bakers put more cinnamon in rest'rant cinnamon rolls?

I was going to get all irked-up nbout that when I saw that the feleral borryin' had reached such a staggerin' total so I decided to make Presidtnt Roosevelt a participating member of the INTERNATIONAL NO-GOT ASSOCIATION which is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Guild of Former Pipe Organ Pumpers.

(I had the c'tificate made out to Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald and then discovered he didn't need it—being in the Black the way he is.)

And the President is going to find out that his ownership Bond will be a Loozy for himself and his Noodle-Dealers as long as they continue at the helm of our sovereign state of Insolvency with headquarters in Washington.

I formed this association in 1931 for just such and emergency as this Thirty-Four Billion Dollar's-Worth of Assumpsit Proceedings.

The Association flower is a Spray of Spinach. (And I don't know if that's Billion or Boodle-n.) It has two slogans: "Lump Them Debts"—and— "WITH MALICE TOWARD NONE AND CHARITY FOR ALL WHO COMES EARLY ENOUGH."

As soon as a guv'ment or an individual piles up enough debts to become eligible the Association issues a First Prior Line Loan Four-Ply, Rust-Proof, NoN-Skid Ownership Bond—or c'tificate. This gives the holder the right to share in all the benefits of the Association.

The Association assumes all outstanding rebts of its bondholders.

Then—(and dere's the pepperment!) whenever a creditor or a bill-collector shows up and demands payments the Association's officials hands him a pink slip, which reads:

"NO-GOT PAYMENTS."

This makes the collectors pretty darned huffy, as a rule. So they sing out:

"I'LL SUE YOU!"

Whereupon the Association's Executive snaps hight back with:

"Well, Go on and Sue! Consarn it. Go on and SUE!"

And if the creditors and bill-collectors do sue, the Association gives them walnuts frames for any judgments they get—and if they are awarded any damages the Association splits with them—50-50.

This is something them Fiddle-Dinkin' Demmycrants have never thought about with all their borryin'.

So that's why I crossed out Frank D. Fitzgerald's name on the c-tificate and made it Franklin Delano Roosevelt—instead of going out and continuing my battles for justice and more cinnamon in rest'rant cinnamon rolls—which is my idea of an abundant life.

After all, I've got the interests of mu guv'ment at heart. Maybe the New-Dawdlers are encroaching on my Wooden Indian and Cast-Iron Piggin Rifihts and Privileges. But I can't see 'em just go saving our nation—in reverse—without pointing a way out and lending a helpin' hand.

Maybe our President won't accept his c'tificate in the International No-Get Association. But I've done my part.

yrs (sgd) Chet Shafer
The Wizard of Oz, in Work-Pants.

P.S.—An' now that it's getting along about time to eat buckwheat pancakes I'm goin' out t' make it a law that you get more'n two patties of butter with a stack. Th' least you ought t' get is three patties—an' that's never enough.

P.S.S.½—And, anyhow, Mr. Farley's Mr Murphy—(Mr. Farphy)—will conform to the laws of etiquette by running against Governor Fitzgerald. Mr. Furphy says you can be in politics and still be polite.

GAME COVER IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM IN FALL

Hardwood Nursery Near Wolverine Grows Many Game-Food Plants

Michigan will be in a position this falal to begin a large-scale program of sover and food improvement for wildlife on its refuge areas.

The enlarged program has been made possible by the availability of suitable planting stock from the new hardwood nursery, established in the Hardwood state forest near Wolverine early this year.

A half-million trees will be planted this fall and next spring to furnish browse for deer and cover and food for other wildlife. Sumac, dogwood, wild roses, white ash are included in the species to be planted. The wild roses will be relished by sharptailed grouse and prairie chickens.

In the aggregate approximately 500 acres of land in the Ogemaw refuge, Molasses River game area, Luther-Baldwin forest area and the Gladwin refuge will be planted to shrub and hardwood seedlings from the new nursery. About 2,500 seedlings will be set out to the acre. In past seasons plantings have been conducted on a small scale through cooperation of the forestry department of Michigan State College which has supplied the stock.

The department also plans to supply hardwood stock for the Waterloo, Yankee Springs and Allegan federal projects in Southern Michigan.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

Election Coverage Praised by Atwood

Praise for the manner in which newspapers and press associations have for years been "covering" elections in this state, has been voiced by Orville E. Atwood, Secretary of State and chairman of the State Board of Canvassers.

I can't recall any instance in which the newspapers have been wrong in reporting the result of an election—no matter how many votes are cast in it—and generally we of the reading puhlic have the story more or less completely, within 24 hours after the polling places are closed," Atwood commented. He added: "Probably none of us fully appreciate the public service rendered by newspapers in this connection alone. Official canvasses of elections are generally not a matter of record until some weeks after a state-wide election."

Atwood's comment was voiced as he compared "unofficial" results of the Sept. 15 primary elections, with "official" returns being filed in the Department of State by county hoards of canvassers. "Newspapers get their information by messenger, phone, telegraph and in writing, in systems carefully planned in each office," the Secretary of State said, adding: "It has always been a matter of wonder to we that with all the rush and necessity for speed and accuracy, and all the possibility for errors, that our election results are reported as fully and quickly as they are. When papers report doubt as to the outcome of a race, everyone knows it's an unusually close one, or that some error has been made in giving unofficial figures to newspaper men in some locality."

CHEVROLET TRUCK SALES ARE HIGEST IN HISTORY

Sales of Chevrolet trucks during the current year have shattered all previous truck records in Chevrolet history, W. E. Fish, commercial car manager, announced this week.

Sales to date since Jan. 1 have totalled more than 25 per cent above those for the same period last year, and more than 17 per cent above 1929, the all-time record year, he said.

A wife may be the boss, but that doesn't mean she likes to be called "the boss."

WINTER SPORTS TO BE PUSHED FURTHER

Several Communities Planning Programs for Winter Season

Additional emphasis will be placed on winter sports in Northern Michigan this winter with a half dozen communities actively participating in programs of out door events.

This was evident at a meeting of several western and Northern Michigan communities held in Grand Rapids last week under sponsorship of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association.

Petoskey has definitely set the dates of its big Winter Carnival for February 5 to 14 but will hold special week-end events at its Winter Sports Park both before and after the carnival dates.

Cadillac will hold its winter events just prior to the Petoskey dates featuring an iceboat regatta and a community fox hunt.

A GOVERNMENT OF LAWS

There is a famous phrase in the constitution of the commonwealth of Massachusetts that has become a vital American principle. It promises ". . . a government of laws and not of men."

The issue expressed in that phrase —"a government of laws and not of men"—is very much alive in the world today despite centuries of struggle to free men from the caprice and whim of personal rulers. One need but glance upon the world scene to see how this principle, which epitomizes America's ideals of government, has been abrogated in those countries whose traditions of freedom are even younger than ours.

The world menace at the present time is that of dictatorships, whose very essence is government by personal will. To be sure, the purposes of dictatorships are lofty, in word or fact,—but they all are inevitably predicated upon a sacrifice of human happiness and decency and self-respect.

In America, liberty has been "confirmed by law," but even here we have seen the demand for action and the growth of bureaucratic methods lead to a steady encroachment upon those humane and checks of power which were wisely stipulated by the founders of "a government of laws and not of men." Unfortunately, our thinking as a nation is too often colored by the circumstances of the moment. Right now we want action to conquer a depression, but there is grave danger in this if in our common demand for action we think less of "government by law" and welcome "a government by men."

The security and justice we seek will be but feeble and transitory indeed if we fail to make them part of our heritage of just laws conforming to the orderly processes of our democratic government which have been achieved only after centuries of struggle and sacrifice. — Northfield, Minn., News.

INTERDEPENDENT

Henry Ford says both farming and manufacturing must prosper in order that either may prosper. Neither can be sacrificed for the other. Farmers must be able to buy the things the manufacturer makes, and the manufacturer must be able to buy the things the farmer raises. They are interdependent. Ford points out that in their products, manufacturers are more and more using farm crops. He mentions soybeans in the process of building cars as better and less expensive than materials formerly used. In a practical — not sentimental — way Ford says developed uses of farm crops by manufacturing industries will take care of the problem of surpluses. As farmers find out the kinds of crops for which the greatest demand exists, they will govern their planting accordingly. Ford predicts that "raw materials in the near future will come from annually grown crops instead of from nature's forest and mineral resources." The best kind of farm relief, says Ford, is greater utilization of farm products in the industries which are largely dependent on farmers for support. In this achievement, toward which much progress has been made, "we shall," says Ford, "all march together to a greater prosperity than we have ever before enjoyed." He insists that city and farm dwellers must move forward abreast.

GOOD AND BAD HABITS

Nearly everybody has both strong and weak points—good and bad qualities. Some have more good than bad; others just the other way—more bad than good—judgment depending on the temperament and inherent tendency of the observing critic. Persons who have similar interests or tastes, are drawn together in the face of defects that would repel others. The one who holds high appreciation of integrity and candor or of fine intellectual or spiritual values is not largely influenced by material possessions. The fellow whose thinking is monopolized by the quest for money, is strongly inclined to have his appraisement of another on what he has earned or is earning and to let attributes of mind and character slide by as unimportant. The fact is, one may find good in nearly every person if he looks in a receptive frame of mind, and it is plainly unfair to give blanket condemnation when dislike or disagreement exists in only one point or in a minority of points. The individual who sees good only in himself — feels that noble purposes are restricted to himself—is of course a hopelessly twisted egoist.

WHEEL CHAIR ACCOMMODATIONS

A number of theaters have installed a sytem of ear phones for the deaf. Would it be possible to provide an arrangement for wheel chair sufferers?

A great many invalids could be transported to theatres in cars. Once there, if they could receive wheel chair service at the curb, preferably a side or rear entrance, and be wheeled into some private niche or aisle, they would realize no particular embarrassment or inconvenience. Can you imagine the world of miracle and marvel which would be opened to the lonely soul who lives across the street or around the corner from us. This privilege which we accept so casually would be like an eighth wonder to him. It would give him contemplation between times and help him to sustain his affliction.

When new theatres are built let us hope the invalid is remembered.

BRANDED

If some system could be devised by which a man who is convicted of flagrant traffic violation could be made to drive a branded car, we would see a most rapid decrease in accidents. No man wants to be branded publicly.

In olden times a man lost an ear or had his flesh seared by a red hot iron if he violated the laws of his country. There is no greater criminal than the man who skims over the road at high speed, weaving in and out around cars on curves and hills.

What a help to be warned ahead of time that a maniac of speed is approaching. To see a red flag, a white cross, or a skull and cross bones emblazoned on the radiator of his car would be a warning to move over, slow down and allow the wild man to pass. After a period of probation the emblem could be removed.

It is said that a certain European country follows this practice and is finding it successful.

APPEAL TO MOTHERS

Mothers, your child is back in school after a summer of unsupervised play, a summer of running riotously over grandfather's farm or of playing in resorts and camps. He may have forgotten his previous training in Stop, Look and Listen, therefore it would seem wise to accompany him to school the first few weeks.

Talk with him about traffic signs, teach him to use cross walks and not to dash through the middle of the street.

We learn by doing, and in this way you will establish a habit which will carry over when the child walks by himself. When you think he has become responsible, play a game with him, allowing him to lead you to school.

You will enjoy a new kind of companionship with your child, besides getting in some fine exercise.

QUEST FOR DOLLARS

As a means to comfort, money is necessary, but as the only consideration, it falls far short of bringing the content expected. Material wealth is so uncertain that dependence on it exclusively is often bitterly disappointing. Quest for dollars must be made incidental to other and greater values to insure a well-rounded life. When one perpetrates fraud or seeks unwarranted advantage to gain worldly riches he forfeits something for which money is no substitute.

Sally Save's KITCHEN CLUB

The Big Problem

Dear Club Members:

JUDGING from my mail these days I should say that the problem of school lunches is one of the Big Problems facing the country today. I suppose it has always been something of a worry to mothers. In those good old days we hear so much about when Johnny trudged seven miles through the snow to the Little Red Schoolhouse, his mother put him up a lunch. We are led to believe, however, that there were no complaints from Johnny in those days, and certainly his mother was not concerned with checking the vitamins! What a difference today! Modern mothers realize the importance of the proper diet for their children, and their children demand variety in their food.

Sandwiches, it seems are always popular and may be varied endlessly. Here are a few suggestions for vegetable spreads:

Chop together several leaves of lettuce and of raw spinach. Mix with mayonnaise and spread on thin slices of whole wheat bread.

Grate two or three small carrots. Add 1 tablespoon seedless raisins. Mix with dressing of 1 tablespoon mayonnaise, 1 teaspoon honey and ¼ teaspoon lemon juice.

Chop asparagus tips (fresh or canned) and mix with mayonnaise. Artichoke hearts, (fresh or canned), may be used the same way.

And don't forget, you modern mothers, that a glass of milk is an essential of every lunch, at school as well as at home.

GENERAL CCC CAMP ENROLLMENT OCTOBER 5TH

Youths Interested in Camp May Apply at Local ERA Office

According to an announcement by Harold F. Lamb, Charlevoix county ERA director, there will be a general enrollment for CCC camp on October 5.

Boys who are eligible and who are interested in going to camp should apply at the ERA office in Charlevoix as soon as possible. In order to be eligible a boy must come from a family that qualifies for direct relief or WPA employment; must be between 17 and 28 years of age and in good health. No boy who has been in CCC camp for less than four months is eligible for enrollment, neither is a boy who has been discharged (even though by honorable discharge) within the past year.

Boys interested in going to camp should apply in time to fill out the necessary blanks and permit the ERA to investigate their eligibility.

LATE RAINS BIG AID TO STATE FARM CROPS

Cash Income to Michigan Farmers to Be Greatest Since 1930

The rains of late August and early September and the advance in prices of most farm products have produced a more cheerful outlook for Michigan farmers.

The combined weighted index of farm prices for 20 leading Michigan farm products stood at 105 per cent of the 1910-14 base average on May 15. This index rose to 111 by June 15, to 125 by July 15, and to 134 on August 15. As only a few of the 20 farm products in the index were seriously reduced by the drought, the general price advance will probably give Michigan farmers a larger cash income in 1936 than in any year since 1930.

The condition of Charlevoix county crops as reported is as follows: Corn 65 per cent, oats 15 per cent, potatoes 66 per cent, tame hay 83 per cent, pasture 59 per cent, field beans 70 per cent.

GRAND RAPIDS MAN FREED ON "BLUE SKY" VIOLATION

Herbert B. Montague, of Grand Rapids, was freed on a charge of violating the state "blue sky" law in Charlevoix Thursday when Judge Parm C. Gilbert, after hearing the evidence, dismissed the case against him.

Mr. Montague was charged with dealing in securities without first securing a state license, but Judge Gilbert held that his selling activities did not come within the terms of the state statute and dismissed the case on these grounds.

MAJOR POLITICAL PARTIES CONVENE

SELECTED CANDIDATES FOR STATE OFFICE IN NOVEMBER

Charlevoix County Sent Full Delegations to Both Republican and Democratic Conventions

Michigan's two major political parties, the Republicans and Demorrnts, have chosen their slate of state officers for the general election in November.

Republicans, meeting in convention at Grand Rapids, endorsed their entire slate unanimously without going through the formality of a ballot. Only in one instance was more than one nomination placed, that for state treasurer. However, a unanimous vote was cast for Howard M. Warner when William F. Turner, the Mecosta county candidate, withdrew in favor of the former.

Orville E. Atwood, Fremont, secretary of state; Howard M. Warner, Farmington, state treasurer; John J. O'Hara, Escanaba, for auditor general; David H. Crowley, Detroit, for attorney general, and Harry S. Toy for Supreme Court Justice.

Democratic leaders, in convention at Battle Creek last Saturday, endorsed the following slate of officers: State Senator Leon D. Case, of Watervliet, for secretary of state; Raymond W. Starr, Grand Rapids, for attorney general; Theodore I. Fry for state treasurer; George T. Gundry, Flint, for auditor general; Bert D. Chandler, Hudson, for State Supreme Court.

Charlevoix county sent full delegations to both conventions, the Republicans twelve and the Democrats eight, each with a half vote.

BOARD OF COMMERCE MEETING THURSDAY

Report on Season's Activities to Be Given at Masonic Temple

The annual meeting of the Charlevoix Board of Commerce is scheduled for Thursday evening, October 8, at the Masonic temple.

At this time officers of the organization will report the results of the most successful season of resort promotional activities conducted in this city in many years. These reports will be of vital interest to every person interested in Charlevoix's welfare and progress, inasmuch as statistics to be presented will show in dollars and cents what the various types of summer visitors left in this city during the resort season.

In view of the fact next summer's program will be outlined during late fall and early winter, citizens will be invited to present their ideas on forthcoming activities. A 50 cent banquet dinner will be served by the Eastern Star.

A cordial invitation is extended Charlevoix citizens to attend this meeting and find out first hand what the Board of Commerce is doing for their commercial welfare. Among the speakers will be Harold Hallett, president of the Board of Commerce, and Mayor Arthur Bergeon.

CHARLEVOIX SHOULD BE FISHERMAN'S PARADISE

Steelhead Trout, Perch, Smelt Now Being Taken in Local Waters

'If the variety of fishing available could make it such, Charlevoix at the present time should be a veritable fisherman's paradise.

While steelhead fishing in Lake Charlevoix holds the center of interest, the annual fall perch "run" which has just started, and fishing at night for smelt in Lake Charlevoix, are other fine attractions.

A catch of five steelhead, taken Tuesday afternoon in an hour by E. W. Miller, was displayed at Wood Bros.' hardware. The five fish, weighing over 16 pounds, is the legal limit per person recommended by the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club. Other catches of greater number are being taken daily by larger parties.

MR. AND MRS. LANCE NEFF OBSERVED 25TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

The silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lance Neff was observed in a delightful manner at their home on Saturday, September 19.

Local and out-of-town guests came to help Mr. and Mrs. Neff observe the occasion.

The house was prettily decorated with fall flowers. For a delightful dinner, table decorations were carried out in the silver color scheme, with silver candlesticks and silver leaves for place cards. There was a beautiful bouquet of flowers for the centepiece and two large wedding cakes were also attractive. The table was set for 28 guests.

Local friends of the honored couple gathered in the evening to extend their congratulations and leave many beautiful gifts. Present from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Burke, Tom Hickey, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. MacLeod and daughters, Louise and Margie, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. David Bergstrom and daughter, Eleanor, Mrs. Gus Wulgren and daughter, Catherine, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Emery Gimble, of Petoskey; Mr. and Mrs. Marion Largent and two daughters and Miss Lillian Munson, of Cadillac.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Dangers of the Common Drinking Cup

It is probably no exaggeration to say that every day there are in the United States, on an average, a million persons who suffer, or recovering from some communicable disease of some kind.

Among the most prevalent and the most damaging of these ailments are the so-called "respiratory diseases" and also we should place here the ordinary contagious diseases, practically all of which are conveyed by the secretions of the nose and mouth, and consequently by the common drinking cup. Included in these groups (respiratory and contagious diseases) are tuberculosis, pneumonia influenza, diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles, whooping cough, cerebro-spinal meningitis, poliomyelitis (better know as infantile paralysis), smallpox, chickenpox, mumps, German measles, septic sore throat, and last but not least, the common cold.

Some of these diseases may be conveyed in some other way, but certainly all of them may be conveyed by the secretions which escape from the body through the nose or mouth. They may be spread through articles that are carried to the mouth, such as glasses, cups, spoons, towels, handkerchiefs, and pencils, if such articles are used in common with other persons.

If one drinks from a glass that reaches him unsterilized from the previous use by a person whose mouth or lips contain the germs of any of these diseases he exposes himself to the danger of contracting them. This danger has long been recognized by the sanitarians of the county, and it was mainly through their insistence that the first effort was made to combat the continual danger from this soure of infection. Kansas was the earliest of the states to enact a law against the common cup and the common towel and similar measures have since been placed on the statute books of forty-five other states.

In order to minimize the dangers of these diseases, and to prevent their being carried from one state to another, the Secretary of the Treasury, on recommendation of the Public Health Service in the year 1921, forbade the use of common drinking cups on trains, steamers, and other public carriers engaged in interstate commerce. The majority of the states themselves have also enacted sanitary measures forbidding the use of the common drinking cup. In addition, many cities and towns have supplemented state laws and regulations with local ordinances which forbid the use of insterilized drinking vessels at soda fountains, in hotels, restaurants, theaters and other public places.

Insofar as legislative action can protect—with the exception of two states—the public is protected against the common drinking cup. However, and this is the most difficult factor public health authorities have had to face, the people of the community for whom these safeguards have been devised, oft-times fail to support the laws by failing to comply with them individually and by failing to insist on their enforcement.

Men and women thoughtlessly expose themselves to infection by those diseases, and what is worse, they permit their children to suffer a like risk, by drinking at soda fountains where they can even see thet the glasses are not sterilized between users. In such carelessly operated soda fountain there may be,—in fact there actually exists — a veritable "germ exchange". One wayside cart serving children from infected glasses is a very potential danger to any community. Children ladling out lemonade in glasses that are contaminated with the diseases of others are in like manner a menace to those who are served. One ailing employee may cripple a large office force if a common drinking glass is in use.

A person suffering from any one of the diseases named, carries in his saliva the inferting agent of that disease, and unless the vessel from which he drinks is sterilized or destroyed, the next user takes a chance of becoming infected.

It is because of this menace to the public that the laws in general provide that there shall be sterilization of glasses after each use, or that cups shall be provided which may be used once and then destroyed.

HOLD SIXTEEN HUNDRED PHEASANT TO RELEASE

Sixteen hundred cock pheasants are being held in pens at the state game farm for release as the pheasant hunting season is over. The birds are all adults and will be "planted" in areas favorable to pheasants. The number of pheasants already released by state game men so far this year in proven pheasant areas totals 2,378.

DR. MILES' -ANTI-PAIN PILLS-

MEN LOVE PEPPY GIRLS

You can become peppy this easy way

If you are happy and peppy and full of fun, men will take you places. If you are lively, they will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT, if you are cross and lifeless and always tired out, men won't be interested in you. Men don't like "quiet" girls. Men go to parties to enjoy themselves. They want girls about who are full of pep.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND helps give you pep and energy. For over sixty years girls and women have been taking this famous old medicine to perk them up . . . to help give them strength, energy, sparkle. Notice the girls and women about you who are full of pep. Ask them what makes them peppy. If (he) are honest many of them will give the credit to LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. You should give LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND a try. Girls with pep are more attractive to men.

ARE YOU NERVOUS?

Here is a way to help calm quivering nerves

Do you feel so nervous that you want to scream? Are there times when you are cross and irritable . . . times when you could (none so as are dearest to you)?

If your nerves are on edge, try LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. It helps calm your quivering nerves and should give you the strength and energy to face life with a smile.

When your worries and cares become too much for you and you want to run away from it all . . . take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. Many women have had nerves as jangled as yours, but they have been able to build up their pep and energy and get back to normal with the aid of LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

When your mother and your grandmother used to become nervous, irritable and run-down they depended upon this famous old medicine to pep them up again . . . to help their nerves . . . to help give them a cheerful disposition.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

Lowden Will Stump for Landon

CHICAGO.—Frank O. Lowden (left), former governor of Illinois, announced that he will take the stump for Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, with whom he is shown here, in the latter's campaign for the Presidency. Mr. Lowden, a pioneer in soil conservation and beloved by Middle Western farmers, will make his first speech at Waterloo, Iowa, Oct. 6. It will be broadcast nationally.

The MARCH of POLITICS

By JOHN H. O'BRIEN

There was a perfect example recently of what makes politics so fascinating to so many people. A man who does not care about it regards anybody who talks politics as bitten by some strange bug that makes him temporarily insane upon that one subject. A great part of politics, even for the amateur at it, is hard work, but the other day the people who like it had a lot of fun.

Radio Station WJR in recent weeks has had two announcers equipped with portable microphones going about the state holding curbstone broadcasts. Passersby are asked whom they intend to vote for in the presidential and gubernatorial elections. Then they are asked to state their reasons.

Republicans began to suspect that the audiences the announcers were drawing from has been "stacked" with professional Democratic speechmakers. Too many of the Democratic voters sounded as though they had memorized their lines and they were better equipped with party propaganda than the average passerby selected at random. Besides, the proportions were running too much for Roosevelt in some Michigan towns where a Democrat is an oddity.

The suspicion became a certainty when the broadcast was held in Lansing. Democratic state employes were cut in force around the microphone so that it was virtually impossible for anyone not primed for the broadcast to approach it.

The next broadcast was at Adrian and there the Republicans had set speechmakers ready and the results were about even between G. O. P. speeches and Democratic.

By the time the caravan reached Mt. Clemens the Republicans had really got organized. A farmer with a Roosevelt button was called to the microphone and much to the surprise of everyone (except those who had planned it) said he was going to vote for Landon. He told the announcer he was wearing the Roosevelt button because that was the only way he could get to the microphone. A WPA worker said he was going to vote for Roosevelt because his boss told him he had to if he wished to stay on the WPA rolls.

The Democrats got a lot of fun out of this kind of political maneuvering and now the Republicans are laughing at them. The result has been, of course, that the radio program means nothing as a poll of Michigan opinion.

Michigan will soon be invaded by top-notch political orators and national figures. These siege guns are saved until the final month of the campaign when interest in the election becomes white hot and the electorate is willing to gather in sufficient numbers to hear political speeches.

Governor Fitzgerald will inject the fighting note into the Republican State ticket along with the choices of the Grand Rapids convention and Frank Murphy can expect to work from now on. George Welsh demonstrated that Murphy wasn't so good at "taking it" during a political battle and Murphy will have an experienced official and an able campaigner against him in Fitzgerald. It has been a fairly easy thing for Murphy to get elected to public office heretofore with the backing of the Detroit Times in Wayne county. He has no support now except the Farley organization. Michigan Division and lots of borderline Democrats cannot stomach that group. G. O. P. leaders get more confident every day that Michigan will repudiate the New Deal by defeating Murphy.

AT THE MOVIES

Jane Withers in Laugh Film.

In "Gentle Julia," the Fox picture which comes to the Palace Theatre Oct. 5-6, Booth Tarkington's funniest story and one of the screen's most talented little comediennes are brought together in a heart-warming romance of the dear old days when men wore pegleg trousers and automobiles were gasoline carriages.

HINTS ON HOLDING A JOB GIVEN BY MAJOR STARRET

Tells Young People Never to Take Their Jobs For Granted

What are the qualities of a successful employee?

Major Howard Starret, State Reemployment Director, answered this question asked by a group of young people seeking jobs through the National Reemployment Service.

He said an employee passes with a high grade if he or she can truthfully answer "yes" to the following questions:

1. Do you exhibit a team spirit in your work and are you enthusiastic about your organization?

2. Do you plan your day's work and do it as quickly as possible without sacrificing quality?

3. Do you make few errors and do you keep your desk and work tidy and clean as well as your personal appearance?

4. Do you meet customers or clients courteously, and cheerfully and do you react toward your fellow employees in the same manner?

5. Are you alert for ways to improve your employer's business and do you continually make an effort to improve your knowledge of the job?

"Getting a job," Major Starret told them, "is only the first step to success. You should give constant attention to holding the job to which the National Reemployment Service sends you. Most employers are looking for the good employee and are ready to reward him. Whatever you do, don't take your job for granted as soon as you are hired. Raises and promotions aren't received that way. Besides, you may be unpleasantly surprised."

SCHOOL ADVISORS ARE FIGHTING AMENDMENTS

Proposals On November Ballot Seen to Cripple Education

The Michigan advisory commission on education estimated Wednesday that adoption of two constitutional amendments appearing on the Nov. 3 general election ballot will cut school revenues by approximately $50,000,000.

Following a conference at Lansing, commission members went on record as opposing the amendment which would eliminate the 3 per cent sales tax on foodstuffs and abolish local property taxes. If the amendments were adopted, the commission said, public school terms would be reduced from nine to five months.

Commission members discussed all four amendments appearing on the general election ballot but expressed no opinion on one which would permit search and seisure without warrant in cases where firearms were confiscated by police and another permitting county home rule.

The commission, composed of laymen engaged in business, agriculture and industry, indorsed the proposal to empower the superintendent of public instruction to improve future school building construction. His approval would be given only from the standpoint of educational efficiency.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By Ann Page

The increased energy needs of the family that come with cooler weather can be met at little cost by an increased use of bread and other cereal foods.

In general price news is favorable to the consumer. Lower prices are being asked for lamb, beef, pork and smoked meats, butter is slightly cheaper and so are potatoes. Egg prices are unchanged.

Vegetables are plentiful and in general low in cost. Cauliflower, broccoli, Brussels sprouts are now in season as well as cabbage and celery cabbage. Celery is unusually cheap.

Apples, grapes, melons and pears are the outstanding fruits. Here are three menus planned for different budget levels.

Low Cost Dinner
Boiled Beef with Potatoes and Cabbage
Bread and Butter
Brown Betty
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Roast Pork
Browned Sweet Potatoes

THREE LOCAL MEN GET HONORARY MENTION

Included in Current Issue of "Who's Who In Michigan"

Work on the official "Who's Who In Michigan," a volume unique in the publication history of the state, has been completed and the book will be off the presses in a week, according to an announcement by the editor, Herbert S. Case, of Munising.

The volume will contain approximately 3,000 biographical sketches of the outstanding men and women leaders of the state today, selected from all walks of life on the merits of their contributions to the progress of Michigan.

The editor of the book is also editor and publisher of two Michigan newspapers, a vice president of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce, founder of The Northern Sportsman magazine, and one of the five Michigan publishers of the National Freedom of The Press Committee of The Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation.

The Board of Editorial Councillors of "Who's Who In Michigan" is composed of William A. Comstock, James E. Davidson, Webster H. Pearce, T. Hawley Tapping, E. W. Thompson, and Arthur D. Wood. About 100 other distinguished Michigan citizens have aided in the compilation of the book, including leaders in the fields of science, industry, art, education, etc.

Among those from Charlevoix who have been selected for a place in Michigan's "Who's Who," are C. Meredith Bice, prosecuting attorney; Robert Bridge, president of the Charlevoix County State Bank, and Oscar P. North, superintendent of schools.

FINGERLING TROUT PLANTING BEGUN

Conservation Workers Place Eight Million Fish in Streams

Planting of fingerling trout in the streams of the state is under way, Fred A. Westerman, chief of the fish division, announced late last week.

Until the work has been completed the exact size of the plant will not be known. From best estimates, however, Westerman says the trout will number 8,000,000, consisting of brook, brown and rainbow.

The department expects to plant upwards of 10,000,000 bluegills and another million largemouth and smallmouth black bass.

More than 100 million advanced walleye fry have been planted. This is about the usual program as far as this species is concerned. The major share of this fry goes back into Saginaw bay while the balance is planted in inland lakes.

REGAL BREWING CO. EMPLOYS NEW BREWMASTER

The brewing operations of the Regal Brewing Company are now under the direction of their new brewmaster, William A. Godron.

Mr. Godron has been actively engaged in the brewing industry for 35 years, and has been employed by some of the largest breweries in the United States and in foreign countries. He has also had considerable experience in the manufacture of malt, which he gained while in the employ of Pabst in Milwaukee. For the ten years previous to 1918 he was brewmaster for the Gotfried Kreuger interests, owners of the Kreuger Brewing Co., Newark, N. J. He is particularly well known for his success in the brewing of ale and lager beer—the type of beer produced by the Regal Brewing Company.

Human life, man's prize possession, is not even considered if he goes around you when you thought he couldn't.

FIRST CHILD HEALTH MEETING IS OCTOBER 2

Interesting Program Scheduled for Session at Boyne City Library

The first county meeting of the Charlevoix County Child Health League for the year 1936-37 will be held at the library building in Boyne City, Friday, October 2, at 2:30 p. m.

Speakers for the afternoon will be Miss Olive Sewall, executive secretary of the Michigan State Nurses' Association. Miss Sewall has asked the privilege of meeting the representative women of Charlevoix county. Mrs. W. Ely, of Boyne City, will talk of her visit to the Maternity Center in Chicago. This is the prenatal center concerning which Paul deKruif has written in his popular article in the May publication of the Ladies' Home Journal and in the August issue of the Readers' Digest, the topic being "Why Should Mothers Die?"

Reports concerning the summer work and future plans will be given by Miss Deane Rinck, county nurse. General plans for the year's activities will be discussed and a chairman will be appointed to represent each township, which in turn will compose the board of directors of the Charlevoix County Child Health League.

All persons attending will be given the privilege of contributing suggestions to help make the future monthly meetings both pleasant and educational. All women interested in child health are invited. It is hoped that each school district, as well as various townships and cities will be represented.

FOUR CANDIDATES ASK FOR RECOUNT OF VOTES

Canvassers to Begin Work Thursday Morning in Charlevoix County

Machinery for the recount of votes cast for four candidates in the primary election, which will be set in motion at 10 a. m., Thursday, in eight counties, has been approved by the state board of canvassers.

The actual recount will begin in Wayne, Washtenaw, St. Joseph, Livingston, Gratiot, Newaygo and Montmorency counties, and one Upper Peninsula county yet to be designated.

The recount will check the votes cast for Louis B. Ward, of Detroit, for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator in 2,569 of the 3,467 precincts in the state. Ward's amended petition, withdrawing 896 precincts from his original request for a statewide recount, was accepted by the board.

A recheck of the votes cast in 181 precincts of the 17th congressional district, in Oakland and Wayne counties, for Maynard Siebert, of Royal Oak, in the race for the Democratic nomination as U. S. representative. From the 11th congressional district, Allan J. McDougall, of Gaylord, asked for a check of 61 precincts of five counties — Menominee, Delta, Charlevoix, Antrim and Montmorency—and Herbert J. Rushton, of Escanaba requested a recount in 40 precincts in Alpena, Emmet and Otsego counties.

The petition of U. S. Representative Prentiss M. Brown, of St. Ignace, for a recount in 144 precincts in Oakland and Macomb counties in his race against Ward for the Democratic nomination of U. S. senator was accepted by the board, but action was withheld pending completion of the official tabulation and the outcome of the recount requested by Ward.

REPORT SHOWS MILK PRODUCTION IN STATE

Charlevoix County Has More Producing Cows Than In Year 1929

The production of milk in the state of Michigan totaled 446,583,661 gallons in 1934, according to a special report of the 1935 Federal Farm Census released today by Director William L. Austin of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce.

Sanilac, Lenawee, and Kent were the three leading counties in the state in production of milk, and reported 10 per cent of the state total. Cows milked in 1934 numbered 891,143, an increase of 145,061 over 1929, and were reported on 160,805, or 82 per cent of all the farms in the state.

Butter churned on farms in Michigan in 1934 amounted to 12,344,278 pounds in 1934 and was reported on 69,984, or 37 per cent of all the farms in the state. Sanilac, St. Clair, and Genesee were the three leading counties in the state in the production of butter and reported 10 per cent of the state total.

In the 1934 census, Charlevoix county had 1,100 farms reporting as compared to 864 in 1929. The numbers of cows is given at 5,812, producing 2,710,016 gallons of milk and 201,122 pounds of butter.

AMENDMENT WILL BETTER GUN LAW

VOTERS URGED TO STUDY PROPOSAL FOR BALLOT

Adoption Would Be Another Forward Step in Michigan's Battle Against Lawlessness

Opportunity for law-abiding citizens of Michigan to advance another stage in their battle against lawlessness will be provided at the November election when voters will have a chance to insert new "teeth" in the state's gun law.

Specifically, the voters will decide the merits of a joint resolution passed by the 1935 Legislature with a view to amending the constitution so that the unreasonable search and seizure clause of the constitution "shall not be construed to bar from evidence in any court of criminal jurisdiction, or in any criminal proceeding before any magistrate or justice of the peace, any fire-urm, or any other dangerous weupon, seized by any peace officer outside the curtilage of any dwelling house in this state."

In other words, the law-abiding citizen will retain his right to maintain arms in his own home for the protection of himself and family, but the criminal found in possession of dangerous weapons, in his motor car or elsewhere outside his home, cannot hide behind the constitution, but must face the court with the seized weapons admissible as evidence against him.

If the proposal is adopted, no longer will it be possible for the criminal to carry deadly weapons in violation of the law and snap his fingers at enforcement officers. The result of the adoption of the proposed amendment will be that law-abiding citizens will have ample protection in their homes, but lawless gunmen will carry their instruments of murder at their peril. There will be no argument of counsel for defense that weapons seized on arrest were not taken "by due process of law" and therefore not admissible as evidence.

The most notable instance which shows the need of this change in the constitution and one that was carried through the supreme court, was the case against Sam Stein and Joe Massie, Detroit gangsters well-known to the police. Stein and Massie were arrested in Detroit in 1934. Police stopped the cab in which they were riding because it was exceeding the speed limit. The men were armed in violation of the law but Judge John P. Scallen of recorder's court dismissed the charge against them on the ground that the arresting officers had no reasonable grounds for suspicion that they were unlawfully armed. The supreme court later upheld that decision in a five to three opinion.

It was this case in particular, and a large number of similar cases, which led the 1935 Legislature to pass a joint resolution submitting a constitutional amendment to remedy what nearly every law enforcement officer believes to be a defect in the basic statute. This measure was originally sponsored by the State Crime Commission and was introduced in the Senate by Senators Joe Baldwin and Leon D. Case, the latter a member of the State Crime Commission.

ARGONNE TO REMAIN OPEN ALL WINTER

Popular Dancing Place to Retain Singing Aces; Parties Planned

William Kerns, manager of The Argonne, dancing club, near Charlevoix, announces that the club will remain open all winter, and dances will be held each night.

The club serves lunches and meals and specializes in chicken dinners. The Singing Aces, Grand Rapids orchestra, which has been at the club all summer, has been retained for the winter.

Amateur night is a feature each Sunday evening. Prizes of $3, $2 and $1 are given. No entry fee is charged. Mr. Kerns is seeking talent from Harbor Springs to enter these events.

Special parties are being planned for Halloween and Christmas.

BEAVER ISLAND BOAT RESUMES ITS SCHEDULE

The Charlevoix-Beaver Island mail boat Marold II resumed her run Thursday after being in dry dock at Sturgeon Bay, Wis., several days for repairs. The freighter Rambler carried passengers and mail during the period which the regular boat was off the route.

SUPERVISORS CONVENE NEXT MONOAY

ANNUAL OCTOBER SESSION AT COURT HOUSE HERE

Reports, Appropriatioos, Included in Regular Routine Busioess—Annual Banquet Thursday, October 15

The annual meeting of the Charlevoix county board of supervisors will convene next Monday, October 12, at the court house.

The usual routine of business will come before the county solons, including reports of various officers and county departments, annual appropriations, claims, etc. One poor commissioner will be appointed, the term of Ira Bradshaw, of East Jordan, expiring at this time.

It is anticipated one of the major items to come before the board will be county participation in direct welfare relief. Federal funds have been withdrawn for direct relief for more than a year, with the result that the state and counties have been providing necessary financial appropriations.

The annual banquet for supervisors and county officers, an event which has become a permanent feature, will be held Thursday, October 15, at the I. O. O. F. hall. A program of entertainment and talks is being arranged. While the banquet is not a public event, a limited number of tickets are available to the public and when this supply is gone reservations will be closed. Tickets may be obtained at the court house.

It is anticipated the board will be in session for at least one week.

BAPTIST CHURCH ANNUAL MEETING MONDAY

Church and Sunday School Officers Chosen for Ensuing Year

The annual meeting of the Baptist church was held Monday evening in the church parlors, preceded by a fellowship supper. A larger representation of the church than in preceding years enjoyed the meeting.

Reports were given from all departments, showing the work to be steadily growing. The following church and Bible school officers were elected for the ensuing year: Church clerk, Mrs. Louisa Smith; treasurer, Ernest Peaslee; deacons, Albert Cook, Delbert Ingalls, Jesse Gregory and Henry Walker; trustees, Harold Dahlquist, Albert Cook, R. T. Davis, Mrs. Hattie Meggison. Sunday school officers chosen were: Superintendent, Ernest Peaslee; assistant superintendent, Mrs. Mildred Cohlentz; secretary, Jesse Gregory; treasurer, Miss Maud Hardy; pianist, Mrs. Mildred Korobko.

FEDERAL PWA FAILS TO APPROVE STRAITS BRIDGE

The Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works has turned thumbs down on the proposal for a grant and loan of over $30,000,000 for the construction of the proposed Straits of Mackinac bridge.

The "no" to the proposal was contained in a letter to S. T. Stackpole, chairman of the Mackinac Straits Bridge Authority, the office of the Federal Emergency Administration.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE AT PETOSKEY

TWO-DAY MEETING SCHEDULED FOR OCTOBER 8-9

Two Meetings Open to Public During Conference — Amelia Earhart Putnam Among Speakers

An attendance of 1,200 is expected at the annual conference of Region Five of the Michigan Education Association at Petoskey next Thursday and Friday.

Teachers from all over the northern part of the Lower Peninsula will go to Petoskey for two days of general meetings and discussions on particular subjects.

Two public sessions will be held during the conference. On Thursday afternoon the Parent-Teacher group will gather in the Methodist church to hear addresses by Herold C. Hunt, superintendent of Kalamazoo schools, and Mrs. Charles Lillie, of Grand Rapids, state secretary of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers. There is no admission fee for the meeting.

Thursday evening Dr. Frederick B. Fisher, of Central Methodist church, Detroit, will speak in the high school auditorium. The event was arranged by the Chamber of Commerce. A limited number of tickets are available for the address at the office of the Chamber of Commerce. It is expected that the Ford Motor Company will send one of its groups of entertainers for this meeting. Officials of the Northern Auto Company have confirmed the arrangement.

The Chamber of Commerce has also arranged a dancing party at the Petoskey-Bay View Country Club for Thursday evening. The event is only open to members of the Education Association.

All other meetings during the conference are closed to the public, including the talk to be given by Amelia Earhart Putnam, foremost aviatrix in the United States, who will speak at the opening general session Thursday morning.

Dr. E. G. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction, is to address another closed meeting on Friday afternoon, bringing the conference to a close.

WLS RADIO STARS WERE A BIG "HIT" TUESDAY

Over Eight Hundred Packed Gymnasium for Fine Eotertainment

The measure of popularity enjoyed by WLS stars as radio performers was increased no less than 100 per cent following their personal appearance here Tuesday evening.

Over 800 persons, taxing the capacity of the high school gymnasium, attended the Knights of Pythias sponsored program of the WLS Merry-Go-Round. The popular comment following the show by everyone present was "That it was the best 40 cents worth of entertainment they had ever enjoyed."

It was a generous program, with the performers responding to numerous encores. Saying that the entire troupe more than exceeded expectations from an entertainment standpoint without singling out any individual, aptly describes the caliber of the show.

The WLS group were guests of the Kiwanis at their dinner and regular meeting preceding the performance.

POTATO AND APPLE SHOW, EAST JORDAN

FARMERS ASKED TO PREPARE FOR EVENT OCTOBER 31

Worthy Sample at Charlevoix-Antrim Exhibit Gets Free Transportation to Kalkaska Show

Antrim and Charlevoix counties are cooperating in holding a potato and apple show on Saturday, October 31, at the high school building, East Jordan.

The following are the various classes that will be shown and first place premium:

100 lb. sample table stock potatoes—U. S. Fancy Grade, 1st place, $5.

32 potatoes — Russet Rural, 1st place, $5.

32 potatoes—Any other late variety, 1st place, $4.

32 potatoes—Any early variety, 1st place, $4.

32 potatoes—Beginner class, 1st place, $4.

Best potato—1st place, $2.

32 potatoes — Smith-Hughes, 1st place, $4.

32 potatoes—4-H, 1st place, $4.

Corn Exhibit—Smith-Hughes and 4-H, 1st place, $3.

Bean Exhibit—Smith-Hughes and 4-H, $3.

Apples, Bushel—Any variety, $3.

Best apple, $2.

Farmers of Charlevoix county should now plan to select their apples and potatoes in preparation of this show.

Worthy samples at this show will be given free transportation to the Northern Michigan Potato and Apple Show at the Kalkaska High school auditorium, November 10-11-12. Recently the Top O' Michigan and the Northwestern Michigan Potato Shows combined for the purpose of holding a bigger and better show in 1936.

The premium list has been changed this year to place greater emphasis on commercial classes. There will be a class for table stock potato growers with an entry of 100 pounds graded U. S. No. 1 or U. S. Fancy. In this class $255 in premiums will be offered.

The apple show will be required to have a supply available for sale of a grade equal to that represented by the exhibit.

The Junior exhibits of 4-H and Smith-Hughes classes should prove popular to the hundreds of boys enrolled in these projects in the district. The exhibit will consist of an entry of 32 selected potatoes.

Additional classes will consist of the premier table stock exhibit, premier certified seed exhibit, and peck samples of 32 potatoes.

Farmers, 4-H club and Smith-Hughes members should now make plans to exhibit. Write your county extension agent for a premium book. It will be available soon.

Anyone living in the territory formerly served by the Top O' Michigan or Northwestern Potato Shows will be eligible to exhibit at the Northern Michigan Show this year.

VIEW STATE PARK SITE ON THURSOAY

CONSERVATION OFFICIALS COMING HERE FOR INSPECTION

Local Delegation to Meet With Commission Requesting Changes Sponsored by Sportsman's Club

Site of a proposed state park intersected by the new Lake Michigan scenic drive south of this city will be scrutinized by members of the Conservation Department, including P. J. Hoffmaster, director, on Thursday.

With the October meeting of the commission scheduled to be held October 8 and 9 at Boyne City, a visit to the proposed park site will be included in several inspection trips in this section of Upper Michigan. Charlevoix civic organizations have urged the new state park for some time and as the result of this agitation, the 500-acre tract has been deeded to the Conservation Department by the state for park purposes.

Later Thursday afternoon, a local delegation, including Mayor Arthur Bergeon, Harold Hallett, president of the Board of Commerce, Harry A. Craig and C. S. Webster, president of the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club, will go before the commission as representatives of the sportsman's organization to urge consideration of several proposals sponsored by the Club.

The delegation will urge favorable consideration of the state park proposal; state participation in a move to take over under combined city, county and state maintenance of the local federal fish hatchery now closed; a limit of five steelhead trout per person from Lake Charlevoix; a request for the permanent location of a conservation officer in Charlevoix; removal of the inland lake limit on perch caught in Round Lake and Lake Charlevoix, deemed by the club as Great Lakes connecting waters; removal of a law requiring persons selling perch caught in Lake Charlevoix and Round Lake to first obtain a $10 commercial fishing license.

The last two proposals will be made in view of the fact that numerous fishermen make a winter living catching perch with hook and line and selling them to the local market. The lower steelhead limit is deemed advisable to maintain a sport which has gained wide recognition and assumed a considerable commercial angle. The limit on steelhead is now 15 per person, the same as brook trout.

MANY COUNTY CHILDREN TRAVERSE CITY CLINIC

Kiwanis, Ratarians Cooperate to Furnish Needed Transportation

Charlevoix county was represented by 25 crippled children at the Crippled Children's Clinic held at Traverse City Children's Hospital, Monday, September 28.

Seven of these patients were from Beaver Island. Ralph Price, county welfare agent, spent Friday at the Island contacting these children.

The transporting of this group was made possible through the cooperation of the Charlevoix Kiwanis Club, Boyne City Rotarians, and interested lay people.

BOYNE WINNER OF SATURDAY'S GAME

DEFEATED CHARLEVOIX BY 14 TO 0 SCORE THERE

Boyne's Greater Experience, Heavier Team Deciding Factors—Rayders Meet East Jordan, October 17

Advantages in experience and weight were more than Charlevoix's Red Rayders could overcome and they went down to a 14 to 0 defeat at Boyne City last Saturday.

The victory, third straight for Boyne's well balanced team, makes them the top-heavy favorites to capture the Tip of Michigan Class C conference title. Boyne has Harbor Springs, East Jordan and Gaylord yet to play and should, in view of their performance so far, take these hurdles for an undefeated season.

Boyne scored first in the initial period on a spinner play from Charlevoix's 35-yard line after a consistent gain which netted several first downs. A drop-kick accounted for the extra point.

The two teams battled on even terms in the second quarter and it was not until the third period that a steady march down the field netted another touchdown and extra point on a line plunge.

Charlevoix threatened Boyne's goal but once, then in the last period when a scoring chance ended on the 15-yard line. The Rayders made many nice gains, but not consistently, through the line. Forward passes netted most of the ground gained by the local team.

The line-ups:

Charlevoix		Boyne City
Carey	LE	L. Green
Ochs	LT	R. Dilworth
R. Shapton	LG	Thompson
Withers	C	Dillon
Hiller	RG	Smith
Neff	RT	Vincent
Gallagher	RE	Green
Shapton	QB	Hausler
Livingston	HB	Dickerson
Bert Pearl	HB	Brown
Radle	FB	Kanipe

Substitutes: Charlevoix — Olach, Bob Pearl and Kulpa.

Charlevoix has a vacant date in its schedule next Saturday and the week following plays away from home again when they go to East Jordan.

WOMEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB IS FORMED HERE

Organization Completed and Officers Elected at Meeting Friday

A Women's Republican Club was organized in Charlevoix at a meeting held Friday afternoon at the court house.

Officers elected were as follows: President, Mrs. R. B. Armstrong; vice-president, Mrs. Leo W. Carey; secretary, Mrs. Gladys E. Henry; treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Hamilton.

Similar organizations have been completed in Boyne City and East Jordan, and plans call for considerable activity prior to the general election in November.

Committees were named as follows: Enrollment, Mrs. Simmons, Mrs. Belding, Mrs. Hamilton; publicity, Mrs. Ella Usher, Mrs. Gladys Henry; decoration, Mrs. McMillan and Mrs. Armstrong; program, Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Hines and Mrs. Saltonstall. Supervisors to work with enrollment committee and help distribute literature were Mrs. Fitch, first ward; Mrs. McMillan, second ward; Mrs. Simons, third ward.

Mrs. Agnes Lorch and Mrs. W. F. Tindall, of Boyne City, were present. They assisted in the organization and gave helpful suggestions. County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow reported on the state Republican convention at Grand Rapids.

Mrs. R. B. Armstrong invited the club for tea at her home on Thursday, October 8. Each member will bring a political clipping to read at this meeting. A silver offering will be taken.

MRS. NANCY PLUM OBSERVED 85TH BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY MONDAY

Mrs. Nancy Plum, well known local woman, celebrated her 85th birthday anniversary at her home on Mason street, Monday.

With her for the occasion were her daughters and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Sandberg, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bigge, of Ludington, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marsh, of Glen Arbor; also her grandson, James Marsh, and family, of this city.

A delicious dinner was served and Mrs. Plum received numerous fine gifts.

The Grangers are having a chicken pie supper on Thursday evening of this week. Proceeds will go towards the decoration of the hall.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet next Wednesday, October 14, with Mrs. Isaac Brown for an all day meeting. Election of officers and other business will be transacted.

Barnard Grange Notes

Our Grange observed Booster Night on September 30. More than a hundred members and friends attended. After a fine program, refreshments were served in the basement and were much enjoyed.

A class of new members will be initiated into the order in the near future. Anyone who wishes to join at the same time should get their application in soon.

Improvement projects on hand are repairing roof and decorating the interior of the hall.

We are having a chicken pie supper on Thursday evening, October 8. Everyone invited.

The Grangers will have their annual game supper on Saturday night, October 17. Bob Cummings and Clarence Murray are captains of the hunt.

At the regular meeting on Friday night, election of officers was held and the following were elected: Master, Carlton Smith; lecturer, Hazel Murray; chaplain, Mrs. Bolhuis; assistant stewards, Clarence Murray and Elsie Hilton; steward, William Parsons; gatekeeper, Joseph Stutzman; treasurer, Clyde Warner.

BEAVER ISLAND

Charles Pischner was a business caller at Charlevoix this week.

Mr. Sweet brought a load of cattle here last week on the Ramhler.

Neil Gallagher went to Charlevoix this week to have dental work done.

Rita Lafreniere and Vera Mae McDonough were week-end visitors at Vesty McDonough's.

The Marold II returned Wednesday from Sturgeon Bay, where she went to have a new wheel put on.

Quite a number of girls went to Traverse City to attend a clinic last week. They returned home Wednesday.

Roy Fletcher arrived here Thursday to buy cattle. The Marold II took a load to Mackinaw Saturday night.

Robert McDonough and Joseph Lafreniere spent several days in Charlevoix on a vacation and visiting friends.

Mary N. Gallagher left on the Marold this week for her home in Green Bay, Wis. She spent four months with her uncle, Tom McCauley.

Mrs. Cecelia Lafreniere was a passenger on the Marold II on Thursday. She spent part of the summer visiting Nels Lafreniere and Mrs. Lloyd McDonough.

Word has been received from Bert McDonough and family that they are nicely settled and happy in their new surroundings, where he has accepted a position in South Chicago lighthouse as assistant keeper. We wish them success as they have been greatly missed from our island.

PHELPS

Ralph TeBho is now working at the Fred Falting farm.

John Block is now helping Walter Henley survey some land.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stevens and Mr. and Mrs. George Everts motored to Kalamazoo last week-end.

I think that a frost must be on its way as our weather prophet, Al Balch, is gathering his squash and pumpkins.

We are sorry to say that there were only two pupils on the honor roll this month. They are Evelyn and Helen Balch.

Most of the farmers in the community have been cutting corn or filling silos for the past week. They are trying to clear the fields before Halloween comes.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

Sunday morning service, 10:45.

Meets first Wednesday evening each month at 7:45 p. m.

Reading room open Saturday, 3 to 5 p. m.

Sunday school, 12 o'clock.

We cordially invite the public to our service and reading room.

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 11.

Among the Bible citations is the following (Job 37: 23): "Touching the Almighty, we cannot find him out: he is excellent in power, and in judgment, and in plenty of justice: he will not afflict."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with the Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 525): "Everything good or worthy, God made. Whatever is valueless or baneful, He did not make,—hence its unreality."

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellancamp

Soil Conservation Program Making Progress

The biggest responsibility in the Soil Conservation Program is the compliance activity, which will take considerable time. Farm reporters have been selected all through the county and the farms are being visited as fast as they can be reached.

We would like to call again the attention of all farmers to the cards recently sent out from the office, which were to be signed and returned. Officially each farmer is supposed to sign this card and send back if he desires to have his farm included for payments. We find that only about half of the farmers in the county have sent their cards back. Therefore we would like to urge you to sign this card and send back at once.

Another point to remember is that each owner should convey to the farm reporter all of the farm practices carried out in 1936 that receive soil building payments. These practices should be accompanied by a statement signed by two neighbors that the practices have been carried out. Especially is it true where soil conserving crops have been turned under before the farm reporter arrives.

Don't forget to send the card back to the office if you are interested in receiving payments for the 1936 farm activity.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Boil the Milk If In Douht As to Source

There is so much similarity between the germ contagious abortion in cattle and that of undulant fever in man that many bacteriologists believe the contagious abortion germ, not rarely present in cow's milk, may cause undulant fever in man. One of the reasons for advocating the pasteurization of milk is based on this assumption.

Undulant fever is very bad business. It is called undulant because of the course of illness—a period of feverish illness, then a period of comparative relief and improvement, followed by another run of fever, often repeated, perhaps for months and months.

Undulant fever in man is caused by the same germ that produces contagious abortion in cattle and is frequently found in the milk of cows that are affected with this condition. This is one of the reasons why the pasteurization of milk is desirable in all localities. The disease is called undulant fever because of its peculiar characteristics which are undulating in character. That is to say, there is a period of the disease followed by a period of comparatively quiet in which the patient is free from all symptoms, followed by another period of the disease and then another period of freedom from all symptoms. This alternate character may continue on for several months or years.

The disease both in man and cattle is detected by a blood test very similar to the Widal test in typhoid fever. This test definitely shows whether the cow harbors the germs of contagious abortion. Well-administered public health departments emphasize the needs of requiring this test on all herds where the milk is sold raw.

"If in doubt about the source of the milk, bring the raw milk to a boil for one minute, then one is sure that the milk has been made safe to drink."

Milk according to safety may be classified as follows:

Grade A pasteurized milk
Pasteurized milk.
Certified milk.

OBITUARY

Cecil Fales was born at Torch Lake, July 24, 1912. His home was at Ellsworth until he was 10 years old, at which time the family moved to Charlevoix. It was at Charlevoix that he completed his common school education and started high school. He completed his high school course at Bellaire. He also attended county normal at Mancelona a fall and a winter term. He was one of the many boys in Mrs. Poole's Sunday school class.

He went to Grand Rapids in December, 1935, where he worked in a factory until May of this year, when he suffered a broken arm. This healed, and he again went to work, when infection set in in the arm which had been broken. He then went to the hospital where he underwent an operation on his arm. He returned to his home in Charlevoix on Labor Day. He apparently improved for a time, but finally succumbed to death on October 1, 1936. He remained hopeful and was making plans for his life almost to the last. He was much encouraged during his illness by the prayers of visiting friends. He showed a great interest in eternal things, and was looking forward to the time when he could go to church and Sunday school.

Funeral services were held from the Church of God at Charlevoix at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, October 3. His body was laid to rest in the Ellsworth cemetery. His passing is keenly felt in the home and among his friends.

DUCK ARMY FACES BRIGHT PROSPECTS

SEASON OPENS UNDER NEW REGULATIONS OCTOBER 10

Teal, Other Local Birds Abundant in Michigan Marshes — Several Species Are Protected

The opening of the 1936 waterfowl season October 10 promises to see a fair abundance of ducks in Michigan marshes, according to reports of game men. The state's duck hunting army, the first to go afield this fall, may expect good shooting if weather conditions are favorable.

Farley F. Tubbs, of the game division of the State Conservation Department, predicts good jump shooting for the first day or two of the season. Teal are especially numerous in waterholes filled up by recent rains, he reports, and will supply good shooting until they become gunwise. Bluewing teal are particularly abundant on Wildfowl Bay, Saginaw Bay, St. Clair Flats and other big marshes, Tubbs says.

Hatch Is Better

Confirming this report comes word from Herman Millerwise, veteran Sebewaing duck hunter, that the duck hatch on Saginaw Bay this summer was better than last year's, due to more favorable weather conditions.

The birds haven't begun rafting yet, Millerwise says, although here and there flocks of from 300 to 500 are seen.

Whether flight ducks will be on hand from the northern marshes when the lid lifts October 10 will depend on the weather, Millerwise predicts. Warm weather will be likely to mean few or no flight birds.

Sebewaing hunters do not take kindly to the ban on shooting canvasbacks and redheads, Millerwise reports. The redhead flight is fairly heavy on Saginaw Bay and hunters there believe many of the protected birds will be shot by mistake.

From Muskegon, Dike Smedley reports that few ducks hatched locally on Muskegon Lake. "I have not seen a dozen all summer," he says, "although I know there are more than that up the river and around the south flats. Several hundred ducks are visiting a flooded wheat field northwest of Muskegon every afternoon."

Believes October 10 Too Early

Smedley believes October 10, the date set for the opening of the duck season this fall, is a little early. Few flight birds can be expected by that time unless the weather is cold with northwest winds, he says, and he voices the opinion that an opening on October 15 or 20 would be more favorable to Michigan gunners.

"If it's a cold, blustery fall we'll get some good shooting on Muskegon Lake," Smedley sums it up. "If it's warm and balmy we won't."

In connection with the earlier opening date Tubbs believes it will contribute much to the success of hunters in this state, especially those who rely on local teal, blacks and mallards. A later opening finds these birds on the way south, he points out.

Veteran blind men at Houghton Lake report a heavy hatch of local ducks and say conditions there point to a successful season.

ANNUAL MEETING TOUR-IST ASSN. THURSDAY

Laws for Safeguarding Tourists' Health Will Be Considered

Laws for safeguarding the health and well being of Michigan's tourists will occupy a prominent place in the discussions of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association at its annual meeting October 8.

At the request of the secretaries of the four tourist associations of the state, Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald suggested the assignment of Assistant Attorney General Milton G. Schancupp to review existing statutes bearing on the tourist business and to suggest new controlling legislation.

Assistant Attorney General Schancupp will attend the annual meeting and tell of his findings and suggest new or additional legislation to the members of the association. Schancupp will draft bills designed to give the state supervision over all supplies sold to tourists living in camps, regulation of tourist cabin use and tourist camp parking privileges and these bills will be considered and discussed at the session.

Mr. Schancupp will lead the discussion and answer questions of the members.

All of the sessions of the annual meeting of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association are open to the public.

FIRESTONE'S NEWEST-MOST SENSATIONAL TIRE DEVELOPMENT

The New FIRESTONE STANDARD Tire

FIRST LINE QUALITY—The new Firestone Standard Tires have been designed and constructed by Firestone skilled tire engineers—it is a first quality tire, built of high grade materials, embodying exclusive Firestone patented construction features.

FIRESTONE NAME AND GUARANTEE—Every Standard Tire is backed by the Firestone name and guarantee—your assurance of safety, dependability and economy.

LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE—The wider, flatter tread is scientifically designed with more and tougher rubber on the road for long, even wear, and thousands of extra miles.

GUM-DIPPED CORD BODY—Eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every one hundred pounds of cotton cords by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping. This not only provides greater strength, but gives greatest blowout protection.

TWO EXTRA LAYERS OF GUM-DIPPED CORDS UNDER THE TREAD — Cushion road shocks. Afford extra protection against punctures and bind the whole tire into one unit of great strength.

IT COSTS LESS TO BUY—VOLUME PRODUCTION SAVES YOU MONEY—The new Firestone Standard Tire is the greatest tire value ever offered car owners — volume production, efficient factories and the most economical distribution system make it possible to sell this new tire at these low prices.

For TRUCK and BUS Owners!

Gives Longer Mileage and More Economical Service at Volume Production Prices!

Whether you operate one truck or several, dependable service is your greatest asset. In hauling produce to market, operating fast local deliveries, in heavy cross-country hauling, operating school buses, or in any type of trucking service, you need a first-quality tire, built of first grade materials to give you long, trouble-free mileage. Now, for the first time, you can get such a tire at prices you can afford to pay. Come in today and let us show you how the new Firestone Standard Truck and Bus Tire will give you better service and save you money.

AT THE MOVIES

Freddie and Peggy Form New Hotcha Vocal Team

The new hotcha vocal team of Peggy Conklin and Freddie Bartholomew now sings its first number together. The song title is "Say Ah."

The song, which Mickey Rooney plays and to which Jackie Cooper tap dances, was written by the famous song-writing team of Arthur Freed and Nacio Herb Brown. It is used in a party sequence of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Devil Is a Sissy," in which the three boys, Freddie, Jackie and Mickey, are teamed, and which is showing October 10, 11, 12, at the Palace Theatre.

Cast Together Two Stars Meet for First Time

Two of the screen's foremost comediennes met for the first time when they were cast for feature roles in the Hal Roach-M-G-M full-length comedy production, "Kelly the Second," which opens a two-day engagement at the Palace Theatre, October 13. They are Patsy Kelly and Pert Kelton, both stars in their own right with tremendous individual fan followings throughout the world.

"Sworn Enemy" Introduces New Romantic Team

Teeming with flesh-and-blood characters from all walks of life, swept up from the city streets into a cauldron of dramatic circumstance—this is "Sworn Enemy," a story of metropolitan crime operations, opening October 15 at the Palace Theatre.

Cruel border law that forces Canadian bride and her American husband to meet only on the ferryboats between countries. In The American Weekly, the magazine distributed with next Sunday's Chicago Herald and Examiner.

"Don't you play football, grandpa? Daddy said we'd get a new car as soon as you kicked off."

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

"No Recount" Costs Taxpayers Money

While recounts, especially those involving the entire state, or any considerable portions of it, are expensive for taxpayers, and sometimes the petitioning candidates as well, one rarely suspected fact is that taxpayers have to shoulder considerable cost when a recount petition is filed—even if it is later withdrawn.

Records in the office of Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, and chairman of the Board of State Canvassers, together with estimates of expenses by scores of counties in Michigan, indicate that recount petitions based on the September 15 primaries, though since withdrawn, cost the taxpayers of the state well over $500 in actual expenditures.

Telegraph messages from Atwood to the 83 county clerks, advising them to take charge of ballot boxes, were followed by supplemental ones as amendments to original petitions were allowed by the state board. Withdrawal of petitions caused a third wave of telegrams. These charges amounted to more than $100. Many long distance telephone calls were involved as well.

Each ttelegram was confirmed by registered mail. Preparations in the state capitol for an impending recount necessitated mimeograph work, the printing and mailing out of notices and various regulations. County clerks spent money in transporting ballot boxes to designated county seats; in many instances rental of space for the expected recounts had been effected before the petitions were withdrawn. The amount of "administrative expense" for the time devoted to recount matters by Atwood, scores on his staff as well as many members of the attorney general's staff, cannot be computed, but it is certainly a matter for consideration.

State law governing recounts provides that a petition for recount may be withdrawn anytime, and under the law there is no provision for the state and counties to be reimbursed for costs.

If the recount is completed and there has been no change in the vote then the counties receive $5 for each precinct recounted and the state receives nothing.

GOV. FITZGERALD WILL GIVE RADIO ADDRESSES

Local Republicans will be interested in the announcement that Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald will deliver a series of radio addresses commencing Sunday, October 11, over Stations WJR, WXYZ, and Michigan radio network. All addresses with exception of that on November 1, will be given between 4:15 and 4:30, and the final one from 4 to 4:30.

YOUR VOTE

Are you still in doubt as to whom to vote for in November? If you are, perhaps you can find help in the following suggestions. Remember that in these times it is most important to choose a man of character, who has the intelligence and the ability to see and feel the trend of world events, and who is capable of guiding the country through troubled waters. Which candidate has the greatest feeling for the future, and is most in sympathy with the times? One man of the lot is bound to possess this ability in excess of the others. One is bound to see the European situation with the relation that America will play in the next four years, a mite clearer than the others. In a long view of the situation the thing which we should concern ourselves with is the big international situation more than our business of everyday living here at home. For these are indeed critical times. We should not vote "party" only, because it is really hard to find the boundary line anymore. We should not vote just for personality, or because we prefer an easterner to a westerner. We should not vote because we are mad at one candidate or the other. Above all, voting should be a matter of routine, but not a matter of conviction.

We should weigh our decision carefully, and vote sincerely. The man we want is one who has enough character, imagination and horse sense to carry us through these shaken up times. In whose hands can we trust America?

THE BEAUTY OF FALL

Within a few weeks nature will display an array of beautiful hues. A universe of green will change into myriads of color. For striking and vivid splendor there is nothing comparable to a page from the book of Fall.

For years tourists have recognized the scenic attractions of Michigan, but most of the traveling is done in the summer months. A trip through the forest covered hills brilliant in the soft haze of autumn, would offer a delightful pilgrimage to one seeking a picturesque outing. And if such a trip is planned it might be well to remember that often the national highways and popular roads offer more traffic congestion than the state and county roads. And often there is more beauty, and surely more atmosphere, along the less traveled roads.

LIFE'S GUARANTEE

Life insurance is so universally accepted, and uniformly relied on that we almost think of a family as queer, if we learn there is no life insurance policy in its safety deposit box. During the low period from 1930 to 1934 many a household found relief from desperate circumstances by cashing in on a policy or borrowing upon it until better times. Not that this was a means one liked to use, yet when money was tied up in other places it seemed to be generally available from insurance.

People who will never save in any other way have forced themselves to do so in order to keep in force some form of insurance. It is our guarantee against any misfortune the future may hold. We should support life insurance because it is necessary and important in our scheme of living.

TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS

In Los Angeles certain types of violators are taken to the morgue and forced to look at bloody, mutilated bodies, the victims of traffic accidents. This might be a cure for those who don't believe such things happen. No man can turn away from a horrible accident without fresh resolve to drive slower and observe all traffic regulations.

CHANGES IN POST OFFICE PERSONNEL ON OCTOBER 1

Two changes became effective in the personnel of the local post office force with the official retirement on October 1 of B. L. Harrington, who completed 24 years of service.

RECEPTION FRIDAY EVENING FOR NEW METHODIST PASTOR

The new pastor of the Methodist church, Rev. Alexander, and his wife and daughter were welcomed to our community at a family supper last Friday night. A large number of church members and many friends and neighbors gathered at the long flower-decorated tables in the church dining room to enjoy the excellent food and entertainment offered.

Dr. F. F. McMillan, as spokesman for all, graciously extended to the Alexanders the freedom of the city, which Mr. Alexander as graciously accepted in an answering speech. Miss Vera Belding and Miss Marie Walters gave very enjoyable readings and Frank Poole sang two beautiful solos. The rest of the evening was spent in forming new acquaintanceships and renewing old ones.

OCTOBER GOOD MONTH FOR MANY ODD JOBS

Ford Almanac Outlines Tasks Which Should Be Done This Month

October is a good time to burn weeds and plant that might breed disease, according to the timely "Reminders" in the Ford Farm Almanac and Facts Book. It is a good time, too, the Almanac suggests, to drain tractor radiators; prepare winter feed for bees; take in dahlia, gladiola, canna and other flower bulbs; sell off extra chickens; and have a good jolly corn-husking bee.

The month is important historically, according to the Almanac, for Columbus' discovery of America; Thomas Edison's invention of the incandescent lamp, John Brown's raid at Harper's Ferry; and Cornwallis' surrender at Yorktown. During this month, too, the cornerstone for the White House was laid, the Erie Canal was dedicated, and the New York subway opened.

Full moon this month comes on the 29th, according to the Almanac. The last quarter occurs on the 7th, new moon on the 15th, and first quarter on the 23rd.

Modern Freedom
...FOR MODERN WOMEN

Sanitary Protection without Pads Napkins or Belts

FOR today's woman . . . busy, modern, throwing off ancient shackles . . . B-ettes were created. Here is a method that ends the discomfort, the inconvenience and the embarrassment that heretofore has been an unavoidable part of this feminine problem. With B-ettes there is no consciousness of wearing a sanitary protection at all! They are completely invisible in use . . . deodorant . . . and, though they safely and efficiently perform the purpose of ordinary napkins, B-ettes are so tiny that a day's supply can be carried unobtrusively in a handbag. Never before have women known such comfort . . . such convenience . . . such daintiness . . . in a sanitary protection.

HUNTING SEASON OPENS OCTOBER 15

ARMY OF 250,000 EXPECTED TO BE IN WOODS

Partridge, Pheasants, Rabbits Are Legal Game In Lower Peninsula—Season One Day Longer

Special details of conservation officers attached to district headquarters posts in the north are to be brought into Southern Michigan to give added protection to game during the upland hunting season which opens in the Lower Peninsula, Thursday, October 15.

Conservation authorities have estimated that approximately 250,000 hunters will take the field on opening day and that this vast number of sportsmen will create serious shooting hazards. The department issued a request to all hunters to be particularly careful in the use of firearms.

Three of the most common violations on opening day, says H. R. Sayre, chief of law enforcement, involve the shooting of protected hen pheasants, exceeding the bag limit on pheasants, and dressing out game in the field.

The last-named violation, if the game happens to be pheasants, removes the sex identity and subjects the hunter to arrest by conservation officers. Sayre advises hunters to wait until they get home to pluck the feather; from their pheasants.

"We have made special efforts during the past two years to suppress the shooting of hen pheasants," Sayre stated. "We will do so again this season. The hen pheasant is protected at all times by law."

Beginning on Thursday October 15, the open seasons on small game in the Lower Peninsula, dates inclusive, are as follows:

Male pheasants — October 15 to October 28.

Ruffed grouse—October 15 to October 28.

Fox squirrels—October 15 to October 24.

Woodcock—October 15 to October 28.

Prairie chickens north of north line of Township 16 only—October 15 to October 28.

Sharptailed grouse north of north line of Township 16 only—October 15 to October 28.

Rabbits from October 15 to January 1 in the area south of north line of Township 16 and east of Saginaw Bay, including the "Thumb"; and from October 15 to January 31 in the area north of north line of Township 16 and west of Saginaw Bay.

Townline 16 is described as the south boundaries of Mason, Lake, Osceola, Clare, Gladwin counties projected through Bay county to Saginaw Bay.

The open hunting season on ducks, geese and brant, coot, jacksnipe rails and gallinules which opens on October 10, continues to and including November 8 throughout the state.

JUDGES FOR ROAD TEST ARE NAMED BY STANDARD OIL

Entry books submitted in Standard Oil Company's "World's Greatest Road Test" will be judged by Prof. Lloyd D. Herrold, of Northwestern University; Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club; and Charles C. Merz, member of the Society of Automotive Engineers and president of the Merz Engineering Company, of Indianapolis, Ind., is has been announced by Standard Oil officials.

Professor Herrold is widely known for judging contests, having directed this work for many of America's leading advertisers, and Hayes and Merz have acted in a judging capacity in many contests in the automotive field.

Contestants in Standard Oil's road test were required to turn in a record of at least 500 consecutive miles of driving and submit a statement of not more than 75 words on "What I Have Discovered About Gasoline Mileage." Record books were provided for this purpose.

Statements will be judged according to the relative practical value of information given, information which in the opinion of the judges' committee, can be applied to advantage by motorists. Excellence of mileage obtained will have no bearing on awards.

Thousands of mid-west motorists have submitted their completed record books. The three judges will determine the winner of the first prize, $1,000 in cash, and winners of 712 additional prizes, ranging from $500 down to $10 in cash and including 500 attractive merchandise awards.

Announcement of prize winners is to be made in the near future.

LEGAL NOTICES

Registration Notice For General November Election —November 3, 1936

To the Qualified Electors of the City of Charlevoix, State of Michigan:

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law," I, the undersigned City Clerk will, upon any day except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said City not already registered who may APPLY TO ME PERSONALLY for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the Second Saturday before any regular, special, or official primary election and the day of such election.

The last day for General Registration does not apply to persons who vote under the Absent Voters' Law. (See Registration by Affidavit.)

Notice is Hereby Given, That I will be at the CITY CLERK'S OFFICE

Wednesday, October 14, 1936

the Twentieth Day preceding said election as provided by Sec. 3, Chapter 3, Part II, Act 351, P. A. 1925, as amended, from 8 o'clock a. m. until 8 o'clock p. m. on said day for the purpose of Reviewing the Registration and Registering such of the qualified electors in said City as Shall Properly Apply therefor.

Notice is hereby further given to the Qualified Electors of this City that I, the undersigned Clerk of said City, will register qualified electors who may apply at my office on any business day in the year up to and including for General Registration by personal applicntion for said election, from 8 o'clock a. m. to 8 o'clock p. m.

The name of no person but an ACTUAL RESIDENT of the City at the time of registration, and entitled under the constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election shall be entered in the registration book.

Registration of Absentee by Oath

If any person whose name is not registered shall offer and claim the right to vote at any election, or primary election, and shall UNDER OATH, state that he or she is a resident of such precinct and has resided in the CITY TWENTY DAYS next preceding such election, designating particularly the place of his or her residence and that he or she possesses the other qualifications of an elector under the constitution; and that, owing to the sickness or bodily infirmity of himself or herself, or some member of his or her family or owing to his or her absence from the City on public business or his or her own business, and without intent to avoid or delay his or her registration, he or she was unable to make application for registration on the last day provided by law for the registering of electors preceding such election, then the name of such person shall be registered, and he or she shall then be permitted to vote at such election. If such applicant shall in said matter, wilfully make any false statement, he or she shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and upon conviction, be subject to the pains and penalties thereof.

Provided, That any city may provide or by resolution approved by a majority of the members of its legislative body for the registration of such sick and absent voters on the last Saturday preceding any election or primary election at the places of voting in the several voting districts of such city, instead of on election or primary election day.

Provision In Case of Removal to Another Precinct

Any registered and qualified voter who has REMOVED from ONE ELECTION PRECINCT to another election precinct shall have the right, on any day previous to election day, on application to the City Clerk, to have his or her name transferred from the registration book of the precinct from which he or she HAS REMOVED to the registration book of the precinct in which he or she THEN RESIDES. Such elector shall have the right to have such transfer made ON ELECTION DAY, or Primary election day, by obtaining from the board of inspectors of election of the precinct from which he or she HAS REMOVED a CERTIFICATE OF TRANSFER, and presenting the said certificate to the BOARD OF ELECTION INSPECTORS OF THE PRECINCT IN WHICH HE OR SHE THEN RESIDES.

Dated October 1, 1936.

RAY S. HAMILTON, City Clerk.

BRONCHIAL COUGHS

Just A Few Sips and— Like A Flash — Relief!

All coughs look alike to Buckley's Mixture (triple acting)—one sip of this grand medicine soon stops an ordinary cough—tough old deep seated coughs and the persistent bronchial cough are under control after just a few doses—no more tormenting, sleepless nights.

Buckley's is alkaline, that's why it's so different—it "acts like a flash". Refuse substitutes—guaranteed. 45 and 85 cents at all druggists. W. K. Buckley, Inc., Rochester, N. Y.

Help Kidneys

Don't Take Drastic Drugs

Your Kidneys contain 9 million tiny tubes or filters which may be endangered by neglect or drastic, irritating drugs. Be careful. If functional Kidney or Bladder disorders make you suffer from Getting Up Nights, Nervousness, Loss of Pep, Leg Pains, Rheumatic Pains, Dizziness, Circles Under Eyes, Neuralgia, Acidity, Burning, Smarting or Itching, you don't need to take chances. All druggists now have the most modern advanced treatment for these troubles—a Doctor's prescription called Cystex (Sis-Tex). Works fast—safe and sure. In 48 hours it must bring new vitality and is guaranteed to make you feel 10 years younger in one week or money back on return of empty package. Cystex costs only 3c a dose at druggists and the guarantee protects you.

Pain Passes Off

When your head aches; when Neuralgia tortures you; when Muscular Pains make you miserable—take a Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pill.

Mr. Smith is one of millions who have found this easy way to prompt relief. He says:—

"I keep Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills in my pocket and when I get a dull heavy feeling in my head, I take a Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pill and the pain passes off."

MEN LOVE PEPPY GIRLS

You can become peppy this easy way

If you are happy and peppy and full of fun, men will take you places. If you are lively, they will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT, if you are cross and lifeless and always tired out, men won't be interested in you. Men don't like "quiet" girls. Men go to parties to enjoy themselves. They want girls along who are full of pep.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND helps give you pep and energy. For over sixty years girls and women have been taking this famous old medicine to pep them up . . . to help give them strength, energy, sparkle. Notice the girls and women about you who are full of pep. Ask them what makes them peppy. If they are honest, many of them will give the credit to LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. You should give LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND a try. Girls with pep are more attractive to men.

ARE YOU NERVOUS?

Here is a way to help calm quivering nerves

Do you feel so nervous that you want to scream? Are there times when you are cross and irritable . . . times when you scold those who are dearest to you?

If your nerves are on edge, try LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. It helps calm your quivering nerves and should give you the strength and energy to face life with a smile.

When your worries and cares become too much for you and you want to run away from it all . . . take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. Many women have had nerves as jangled as yours, but they have been able to build up their pep and energy and get back to normal with the aid of LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

When your mother and your grandmother used to become nervous, irritable and rundown they depended upon this famous old medicine to pep them up again . . . to help their nerves . . . to help give them a cheerful disposition.

RIGHT THIS VERY MINUTE How Do You Feel?

Tired? Irritable? No ambition? Look at your watch—note the time. The same time tomorrow, compare how you feel then with the way you do right now! In the meantime, stop at your drug-store and, tonight, drink a cup of Garfield Tea.

Tonight—"Clean by Inside"—Feel Different Tomorrow!

Lose that let-down feeling. Let Garfield Tea clean away undigested waste, intestinal "left-overs." Acts gently, promptly, thoroughly. Drink like ordinary tea. 10c—25c.

ILLITERACY

We believe that education moves ever onward. Why shouldn't we believe it? Our children walk into buildings that are shining palaces compared with the old log cabin sch ol. We engage the best teaching staff, getting as many cogs at the end of a name as can be bought. And we hang our heads in shame if some other town builds a larger and better equipped gymnasium than ours.

But each year thousands of illiterates are graduated from elementary schools and from high schools. Illiteracy as here used has this meaning: A boy or girl has to be regarded as illiterate who cannot read the ordinary textbook, who cannot express ideas in writing, who cannot work out operations with common fractions and decimals—and so on.

Each year freshmen are enrolled in colleges who aren't qualified to write a decent sentence. They haven't been taught to think. If you mentioned the eight parts of speech they might begin to tell you they are the mouth, nose, palate, tongue, etc.,—even including tonsils.

There are, of course, explanations for such illiteracy. It may be that when large groups are educated at a time many students will be bound to slip through each year without necessary preparation. It may be that there is too much focus upon fads. Or that there is too wide a range of subjects, permitting the most fundamental ones to be neglected. After all, if the instruments of education—opportunities of self-expression and self-development—are made so numerous that the child is bewildered, how can he learn the essentials?

Or perhaps the explanation lies in the fact that there are teachers and teachers, and a real teacher will pound knowledge into a stone; he will teach what he knows to be necessary in the average man's life, and he will teach whether he finds himself in a well equipped building or a room with only four walls.

BRILLIANT PROGRESS

More than 3,500,000 men, women and children have died of tuberculosis in the United States in the last 30 years. An additional 2,500,000 would have died in that period if the mortality rate of 30 years ago had continued to prevail.

What has caused this appreciable decline in tuberculosis mortality? A number of factors have been responsible. Though a specific cure is yet to be discovered, medical science has nevertheless made brilliant advances in the way of treatment. In recent years chest surgery has become an increasingly important ally of bed rest. The tuberculin test and the X-ray have made possible the discovery of the disease long before the appearance of symptoms. Consequently, the development of early tuberculosis into the more dangerous stages can today be guarded against.

Then, too, there has been the constant health education campaign of the anti-tuberculosis organizations of the nation. In addition to spreading knowledge about the most needless of all diseases, these agencies, through tuberculosis Christmas seal funds, have been enabled to carry on case-finding programs, do invaluable socio-economic and medical research and promote the passage of effective tuberculosis legislation.

Plans are being made now by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association for the 30th annual sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals. Watch for those tiny tokens of good health and good will. When the seals do appear, make a generous purchase. They have had much to do with the fall of the tuberculosis death rate in the last 30 years. They will be an important force in the fight that remains ahead.

HOME DISCIPLINE NECESSARY

Law enforcement officials in their annual convention make a study of the "1936 model" criminal. The conclusion is that if youth receives proper home training, the criminal tendency is crushed. Broken homes is the greatest cause of crime.

We live differently than in the old days. There is no denying it. And one of the most noticeable changes is in the tempo with which the modern home is run. Everything is speeded up so that father may hurry off to a meeting and mother to a club, or so that the family can take a ride or go to the movie. Gone are the long quiet evenings with each member of the family at home engaged in games or discussions. It was then that the influence of mother and father was strongest—for there was opportunity to offer intelligent guidance, and sympathetic understanding to all.

Separation of parents, family bounds destroyed, and parental supervision and influence loosened, provide fertile soil for the seeds of crime.

THE CHIEF ROLE

Recalling that not long ago pictures of prize-fights were banned from the theaters, the Osage Press hazards the guess that "it may not be long before we pack the theatres to see official pictures of hangings." Maybe, maybe—but it isn't likely a movie of a hanging will engender in the mind of youth an ambition to show as the chief figure.

Coffee contains three poisons, and kills millions of people. It should be ROASTED until good people quit using it.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By Ann Page

With meats and butter more favorably in balance with her pocket-book, the housewife can plan and buy her meals more easily. This week fowl and chickens have come down considerably. Prices are rising only on large size Grade A eggs. Medium and small eggs are fairly plentiful and moderate in price.

Local grown produce is plentiful and moderate in price. Lettuce is still high but cabbage, escarole, romaine, spinach, celery, tomatoes and cucumbers are very reasonable.

Grapefruit is becoming plentiful, apples are an excellent value and grapes, pears and fresh prunes are generally available. Here are three menus planned for different budget levels.

BUT OIL-PLATING LASTS...

Change today

Right you are. The weather hasn't made up its mind yet. But you don't care, once Conoco Germ Processed oil—patented—is Oil-Plating your engine for Winter.

Change to modern Oil-Plating today, for instance. Then every cylinder, piston, bearing and other part is completely Oil-Plated

And today tomorrow.. next month... as long as you use Germ Processed, this Oil-Plating will still be up there. It gets there by means of the special "hyper-oily concentrate" which is alloyed into Germ Processed oil under patents In circulating, this oil renews its genuine Oil-Plating, which doesn't return to the crankcase, but stays up all through your engine.

Thus the old cry of "get your right Winter viscosity" isn't the half of it; now that you can get exclusive Oil-Plating, too—a great big extra Oil-Plating is all ready to lubricate before your starter even turns, and that lets your battery live. Oil-Plating doesn't run off in any weather, and that saves your engine and oil. You keep away from your next quart—your next battery—your next car, by changing today to Conoco Germ Processed oil.

ALL VOTE RECOUNTS CANCELLED IN STATE

Rushton Majority of 124 Stands As McDougall Withdraws Petition

Machiaery set up for recounts requested by five primary election candidates was scrapped Friday without having turned a wheel because all men involved withdrew their petitions.

The recount was scheduled to begin Thursday, but it was called off when candidates decided to save themselves the required five dollars per precinct forfeiture fee rather than risk an altered nomination in the check of ballots. Candidates would have lost their fee unless the outcome of the primary election was changed in their respective races.

Republican candidates from the 11th congressional district were the last to call off the requested recount. Late Thursday, Allan J. McDougall, of Gaylord, withdrew his petition and Herbert J. Rushton, of Escanaba, who held a lead of 124 votes on the basis of the official canvass, also asked that his petition be ignored.

Louis B. Ward, of Detroit, United States senatorial candidate who had the endorsement of the National Union for Social Justice, started the parade of withdrawals. When Ward admitted defeat in the face of official returns, his opponent, U. S. Rep. Prentiss M. Brown, of St. Ignace, withdrew a counter petition for recount which he had filed.

FRAUD ACCIDENT PLEA USED BY RACKETEERS

Don't wire cash in response to an emergency message signed "Cousin Elmer"—even if you have a cousin Elmer. That is, don't part with your money until you investigate.

This is the advice of Lieut. Van A. Loomis of the detective bureau of the Michigan State Police, who has been directing a search in a dozen counties for racketeers who are making phony accident telegrams pay.

The trick, according to Lieutenant Loomis, is to obtain the name of a relative of a person with money. Later, this person will receive a wire signed with the relative's name, stating the signed has been in an automobile accident and requesting $10, $25 or $50 at once.

In nine cases out of ten, the apparent urgency of the request from someone dear results in prompt dispatch of the money. The racketeer appears at the distant telegraph office with forged credentials, collects and moves on.

A telephone call to the usual address of the "accident victim" in such cases would avert loss. Establishing the request as a fraud, a tip-off to local or state police may result in apprehension of the perpetrator.

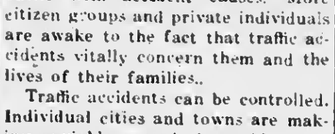
Safe and Sane DRIVING

BY THE NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL and Michigan State Safety Council

36,400 LOST THEIR LIVES IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS LAST YEAR



In this issue of the Charlevoix Courier is presented the first of a series entitled "Safe and Sane Driving." These traffic safety tips will be published regularly through the courtesy of the National Safety Council and the Michigan State Safety Council.

Keep up with this interesting series—designed to help reduce traffic accidents. Thirty-seven short, constructive, articles, dealing with the leading causes of death and injury on our highways will be offered. Learn the "Safe and Sane" way to drive.

THE COST IS TOO HIGH

More persons were killed in motor vehicle accidents in our country last year than ever before—36,400 lost their lives. More than 1,250,000 others were injured.

One out of every 100 Americans, this means, was injured. And at the same rate, one out of every 20 who are alive today will either be killed or injured in an automobile accident within five years.

What a price to pay for carelessness, thoughtlessness and indifference!

Yet the future is brighter than cold figures seem to indicate. More and more states are passing effective drivers' license laws. More cities and towns are beginning to organize their police and court facilities to battle with accident causes. More citizen groups and private individuals are awake to the fact that traffic accidents vitally concern them and the lives of their families.

Traffic accidents can be controlled. Individual cities and towns are making enviable records in accident reduction. And every driver can help in bringing this annual toll of human waste and human misery down.

PEARL BROWN TAKEN BY DEATH ON SUNDAY

Body of Local Woman Was Brought Here for Burial Wednesday

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. G. R. Parker from the See Funeral Home at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for Pearl Brown, beloved local woman, who died at 8 o'clock Sunday evening at Chicago. Burial was at Brookside cemetery.

Deceased, born in Charlevoix in 1879, was 59 years of age at her death. She had been a life-long resident of Charlevoix, occupying the family home on Mason street summers and spending the winters in late years in Chicago.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. William Cater, of Chicago, and a brother, H. H. Brown, of Los Angeles, Calif.

An invalid since childhood, Miss Brown, through her wonderfully cheerful disposition, won a large following of close friends who will mourn her death.

PROMINENT SUMMER RESIDENT SUCCUMBS

Harold C. Smith, 54, Died September 28 at Chicago

Harold C. Smith, 54, for many years a summer resident at the Chicago Club of Charlevoix, died September 28 at his home in Chicago. Funeral services were held last Tuesday.

Mr. Smith was president of the Illinois Tool Works and son of the late Byron L. Smith, founder and president of the Northern Trust Co. He was a native Chicagoan. Following graduation from Princeton University, he entered a Chicago brokerage firm. In 1915 he became president of the tool company. He also was a director of the Northern Trust Company and a trustee of the Home for Incurables. He was a past director of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association and the National Association of Manufacturers, and vice-chairman of the trades and industry division of the community fund drive.

From October, 1934, to May, 1935, Mr. Smith served on the advisory board of the old National Recovery Administration. He also was a member of the business advisory and planning council of the Department of Commerce.

Surviving are the widow, Mrs. Emily Birnie Smith; three daughters, Elizabeth, Joan, and Mrs. Anne Byron Waud, and a son, Harold Byron Smith.

EIGHT COUNTIES INCLUDED HEALTH MEET

Program Arranged for Institute at Traverse City, October 15

Plans and the program for the Regional Health Institute to be held at Traverse City on Thursday, October 15, are being completed and present indications are that the meeting will be one of the most important health steps thus far taken in this part of Michigan.

Earlier in the fall the public health nurse and a lay representative from Benzie, Leelanau, Grand Traverse, Missaukee, Kalkaska, Antrim, Charlevoix and Emmet counties met in Traverse City to lay preliminary plans for the meeting. At that time Mrs. Russell Barden, of Boyne City, was named general chairman for the health meeting.

Mrs. Barden has apportioned the work of the meeting to the various counties involved, giving Benzie, Grand Traverse and Leelanau charge of the general arrangements, Missaukee and Kalkaska counties charge of the exhibits, and Emmet, Antrim and Charlevoix charge of the program. Mrs. Howard Porter, of East Jordan, is in direct charge of the program.

The meeting will be open to the public and will be held, probably at the state hospital auditorium.

COMMERCE BOARD REPORTS PROGRESS

EXPLAIN SUMMER ACTIVITIES AT THURSDAY MEETING

President Harold Hallett Gave Detailed Report of Expenditures and Resultant Tourist Business

Eighty-one men gathered around the banquet table ut the Masonic Temple, lust Thursday evening, the occasion being the second generul meeting of the Charlevoix Board of Commerce since its organization in April.

At 7:30 p. m., following u delicious supper served by the ladies of the Eastern Star, the meeting was called to order by President Harold Hallett, who presented a brief but illuminating report of the past season's activities.

After sketching the methods by which the reorganization of the town's leading civic body wus brought about this spring, he told of the excellent results that had been nchieved through the appointment of an outside activities director. He stressed particularly the very effective way in which Charlevoix has been advertised this summer by the judicious distribution of literature, use of display space in the magazines and newspapers and personal contact with those best calculated to hoost for us.

He showed how resort revenues had been increased by the special efforts made to attract yachtsmen to Charlevoix and the remarkable results that had been obtained along this line through the personal uttention of Gordon Todd, activities director, who made the visiting sailors welcome nnd saw to it that they enjoyed serviee such as they had not found duplicated in any other port on the lakes.

He also gave to Mr. Todd the credit justly due him for having so effectively abated the peddler and solicitor nuisance that has long afflicted this community during the summer seasons.

Mr. Hallett also gave special praise to Charles Hamlin, chairman of the games and sports committee, and his committeeman, Kenneth Usher, for their conduct of the Michigan-Riviera tennis tournament this year. Many leading stars were attracted from various parts of the country and the resultant widespread newspaper publicity for Charlevoix definitely placed this tournament among the principal features contributing to the community's progress as a resort. Mr. Todd again received well-deserved credit for his part in keeping the expenses of the tournament within the appropriation allotted to it, ably pushing the sale of admissions and eliminating unnecessary losses. The two golf tournaments staged during the summer, under the speeial direction of Mr. Hamlin, were entirely successful as entertainment for the Detroit Athletic Club members and the West Michigan Out-of-Doods tourists.

The marine committee, Henry Partridge, chairman, eame in for a generous appreciation of their fine work in putting on a bigger and better Venetian Night boat parade this year. That this delightful spectacle is now an established annual event for Charlevoix, tending to approach in importanee Traverse City's Cherry Festival, admits of no doubt. Hundreds of cars were here with resort visitors from all parts of the region, attracted hy reports of the beauty and unusualness of the Venetian parade of 1935, which this year's event much surpassed.

The work of Dean Davenport, local recreational director under the federal works program, who so ably assisted the aetivities director of the Board of Commerce in the formation of a regional soft-ball league, was the subject of special comment on the part of President Hallett. Through the untiring efforts of those appointed to handle this popular game, it also takes its place as a permanent item in the Board's annual program.

Comment was also made by the speaker on the highly gratifying results obtained by the advertising committee, under the able direction of Harry A. Craig. Eight thousand of the new Charlevoix descriptive folders were mailed to selected lists of socialites in Detroit and St. Louis, Mo., and the advantages of Charlevoix's superb harbor were set forth in "The Yachtsman" and other publications devoted to marine matters. New road signs were placed at various strategic points throughout the region, directing tourists to this city. Merchants of Charlevoix und others will testify to the benefits of this committee's work in greatly increased resort business over previous years.

Conservation work, under the direction of W. H. Wallace and Clair Webster, was cited as one of the outstanding accomplishments of the Board of Commerce during the past season. Some very effective work has been done to promote better fishing in our lakes and streams by the conservation committee and the Sportsmen's Club and is bearing fruit in the unusually sustained interest of outside fishermen in steelhead and Mackinuw trolling.

One of the busiest committees, aecording to the president, was the entertainment committee, headed by Ivan Falconer. There were jobs for this committee to perform in connec-

COUNCIL AGAIN SUPPORTS RESORT ASS'N

VOTE $300 FOR PAGE AD IN 1937 SUMMER BOOKLET

Receive Petitions for Street Improvements and Extension of Water Service Outside of City

Continuing a long-standing policy of cooperation with and support of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association, the city council Monday night voted $300 for a page advertisement in the association's 1937 booklet.

The resort promotional association was represented at Monday night's session by Hugh J. Gray, secretary, and Edwurd Drier, an executive. An outline of activities of the association in promoting tourist trade for West Michigan resort cities was given by Mr. Gray, and Mr. Drier showed before the eouncil several movie reels of entertainment features sponsored by several resorts during the past season.

In all likelihood the city's contracting a page advertisement in the 1937 booklet will give Charlevoix a double spread as in previous years, with the larger hotels cooperating individually in the block advertising.

Another petition for a street improvement in the north side resort district was received by the council and referred to the committee on streets. The petition, asking for eombination eurb and gutter on Nettleton street, between Dixon and Petoskey avenues, eame from Nettleton street property owners. The council has unofficially given approval of a similar project on Ainslee street.

The request of five property owners on Petoskey avenue outside the city limits for water service was presented by Alderman Ranger. Properties involved in the request included those of the Johnson Dahlia Farm, William and George Cook, Eugene Stroud and the Herricks. The matter was referred to the utilities committee following discussion.

The eouncil voted purchase of 200 feet of two and one-half and 100 feet of one and one-half inch fire hose, and authorized placing of truck fleet insurance with the Walker A. Miles Agency.

HERBERT J. RUSHTON SPEAKER HERE FRIDAY

Congressional Nominee Found Royal Welcome in Charlevoix

Herbert J. Rushton, of Escanaba, Republican nominee for Congress from the 11th district, spoke before a large gathering at the court house here Friday evening, October 9.

The Upper Peninsula attorney, introduced by Arthur L. Fitch, this city, took the fancy of the assemblage by his direct and forceful presenation of issues of the day, and it may be said he left Charlevoix with an increased number of supporters.

Mr. Rushton was given an open informal reception at the Fitch residence prior to the public meeting, at which time Charlevoix and Antrim county Republicans took the opportunity to become acquainted with the Congressional nominee.

GORNELL-LEFT WEDDING WAS SOLEMNIZED SATURDAY EVENING

At a pretty wedding ceremony performed by Fr. Erwurd Neubecker at St. Mary's parsonage Saturday evening, Miss Ann Gornell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gornell, of Barnard, was united in marriage to Carl Left of this city.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of immediate relatives and close friends. The couple will make their home in this city.

COUNTY SOLONS IN OCTOBER SESSION

CONVENED MONDAY MORNING AT COURT HOUSE HERE

Preliminary Activities Occupied Monday and Tuesday—Committee Reports Expected Soon

With most of the major business of the annual October session still in the hands of committees, the Charlevoix county board of supervisors, which convened here Mondny, continued its work today.

A break in the regular routine will be provided Thursday at noon. County officers and supervisors will meet at the I. O. O. F. hall for their annual banquet. A program of talks and entertainment has been arranged for this event.

Up to the present time the board has heard numerous reports, communications, etc., and the usual requests for appropriations. These matters have been referred to proper committees.

Probate Judge Ervan A. Ruegsegger reported on hospitalization and care of crippled children, and asked for additionul vault space; C. B. Meggison reported for the Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief Commission and, due to balance on hand, asked for no appropriation for the ensuing year; Hugh J. Gray, secretary of the West Michigan Tourist und Resort Association, gave an oral report on the organization's activities and asked the usual support, which last year was $500; the Charlevoix and Jordan River Sportsman's Clubs reported their comprehension and successful programs of the past seuson and requested the board grant an appropriation as in previous years, last year's allotment being $400; Charles Murphy, reporting for the Charlevoix County Agricultural Society, showed receipts of the 1936 fair were $4,371.85 and disbursements $4,171.46, leaving a balance of $100.39. He asked the board for an appropriation for fair work. Other reports were given by Harold F. Lamb for the Charlevoix County ERA, also the Salvation Army and Michigan Children's Aid Society.

William C. Palmer, county school commissioner, gave a verbal report and asked the supervisors for an appropriation making possible the employment of a music instructor for rural schools. He was supported in this request by Mr. Hekhof and Carl Goodwin. Also a petition bearing the names of 29 Charlevoix county rural teachers was presented along with a similar request.

It is anticipated committees will start reporting out at uny time and that the work of the session will be completed this week.

ARGONNE PLANS FALL AND WINTER SEASONS

Singing Aces Continue Appearance Every Night Excepting Monday

"Due to the increasing popularity of the 'Singing Aces,' the popular dance hand will be continued through the winter months at The Argonne," stated Willis J. Kerns, manager of the popular tavern.

He also stated that it is planned to have a series of entertaining features for the fall and winter, the first to be a Halloween party.

The amateur programs held every Sunday night have become decided successes. Any amateur wishing to compete should eontact Mr. Kerns by telephoning Charlevoix, 7002 F-12. Cash awards are made.

KIWANIS BENEFIT SHOW ON TUESDAY

CHILDREN'S XMAS FUND ENTERTAINMENT AT GYM

Present Marquis, Popular Magician, to Raise Funds for the Annual Yuletide Charity Program

Needy Charlevoix children will be the beneficiaries of a Kiwanis sponsored entertainment scheduled to be held Tuesday afternoon and evening, October 20, at the school gymnasium for the benefit of the Children's Christmas Fund sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

They are bringing to Charlevoix for the second year the popular magician, Marquis, with his augmented troupe, whose introduction to the local public will occur at 11:45 Tuesday morning when the magician drives a car through Bridge street while completely blindfolded.

Two performanees will be given. A children's matinee is scheduled for the afternoon. For both shows Marquis brings a massive and spectacular production. An elaborate army of imported jeweled scenery is carried and glittering beauty is added to it by speeial electrical effects. The great magician is aided by a staff of assistants who work in split second precision.

Two solid hours of mirth and mystery are presented by Marquis. Bathing beauties of amazing pulchritude appear from bath houses previously explored and found to be "overflowing with emptiness."

An Oriental nautch girl floats through the air upon the behest of Marquis who reproduces the miracle of the floating girl exactly as he saw it presented in a garden in Hyderbad. There are amazing transpositions of human beings. Real living, breathing girls vanish into the "Nowhere" right above your head. There is modern spookery and throughout it all fun galore.

Marquis presents a program which appeals to the whole family from Grand Dad to Lad. There are huge and bewildering illusions, interludes of delightful comedy and even an expose of the fake spirit mediums. Thousands of live bunnies have been given away by Marquis to his juvenile admirers and several lucky girls and boys will have their cup of joy filled to overflowing when they are given a real live magic bunny by the great magician himself.

BEAVER ISLAND FISH BOAT DASHED ON REEF

Indian Owner, Two of Crew Rescued by Owen Chapman, Garden Island

A report received Monday from Beaver Island tells of the destruction Sunday of the fish tug McCann, Jr., and narrow escape from drowning of its owner, Alex Cornstalk, Indian fisherman, his son and Alex Washegesick.

The trio, clinging to the wreckage of the tug after it had grounded in Garden Island Reef, were rescued by Owen Chapman, of Garden Island, who rowed to them in a small skiff through heavy seas.

The tug later washed over the reef and was smashed to bits.

LIMIT ON STEELHEAD DECREASED

COMMISSION SETS CATCH AT FIVE PER PERSON

Acts Favorably on Request of Charlevoix Sportsman's Club — State Park Proposal Frowned Upon

At least one new fishing regulation sponsored by the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club was given favorable consideration by the Michigan Conservation Commission at its meeting last week in Boyne City.

Complying with the request of a committee composed of Harold Hallett, C. S. Webster and William Fessenden, representing the local sportsman's organization, the Commission ordered the limit on steelhead trout taken from Lake Charlevoix from 15 to five per person per day. Several other requests made by the group were taken under advisement for future action.

Principal among other requests made was the location of a conservation officer permanently at Charlevoix; an increase in the number of steelhead fingerlings allotted the club for propagation in the Stover Creek rearing ponds, and a change in the ruling governing the catch of perch from Round Lake and Lake Charlevoix. Just what will be the final action on the committee's requests remains to be ascertained.

Charlevoix's proposal for a state park located south of the city on the new scenic drive was not received very favorably by the Commission, it is understood. The Commission members, armed with mosaic maps, airplane views and with more actual knowledge of the typography of the proposed site than local citizens could muster, frowned upon the lack of a sandy bathing beach fronting the state property at any point and were non-commital regarding the matter.

Following contacts made by the local committee, it has been learned that the Stover Creek rearing ponds will be used for a scientific study of the habits of steelhead trout. Inasmuch as steelhead fingerlings have not been released and will be held and fed as long as weather conditions permit, conservation authorities this fall will tag a large number of the fish in an effort to determine principally their migratory habits. It appears that conservation authorities are not entirely satisfied rearing fish that may, in the course of a few weeks, end up in Wisconsin waters. Results of the study to he made at the local rearing ponds will he watched with interest by sportsmen generally.

All things taken into consideration, members of the Sportsman's Club are inclined to look with satisfaction on the results of their first direct contact with the Conservation Commission, and are now looking forward to bringing about results on other regulations sought at a future time.

CHARLEVOIX TO PLAY EAST JORDAN SATURDAY

Resume Football Schedule Following Two Weeks of Inactivity

Charlevoix's Red Rayders will swing into action again Saturday afternoon following two weeks of inactivity occasioned by an open date in their schedule.

The contest is at East Jordan and will be the last game away from home for the Rayders. Subsequent games are with Harbor Springs and Rogers City on the local gridiron, October 24 and 31.

In East Jordan, the Rayders meet another team undefeated in conference competition and one which will have the moral support of fans gathered for East Jordan's annual football homecoming. A win for Charlevoix would give them an excellent chance to tie for second place in the conference standing, possibly undisputed possession.

While the Rayders met defeat at the hands of Boyne's powerful team last Saturday, Coach Kipke has had two weeks to get his men in shape and they should be even stronger than in previous games.

TOWNSEND PENSION CLUB MEETS THURSDAY NIGHT

The local Townsend Old Age Pension Club meets at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening at the court house. An out-of-town speaker will address the meeting. All interested persons are invited to attend.

AUTO INDUSTRY HIRES 465,000 AS WAGES JUMP

The automobile industry employed approximately 465,000 workers during the first six months of 1936, the U. S. Department of Labor reports in current issue of the Labor Information Bulletin.

While this was a one per cent decrease in employment over the same period a year ago, weekly payrolls jumped from $11,900,000 to $12,600,000.

Thousands of these workers were placed in their jobs by the National Reemployment Service serviog Detroit and Michigan, the center of the industry, according to Major Howard Starrett, state reemployment director.

The only way to be rid of the worry about the things we have not done is to do them.

4-H Club News

The summer 4-H club work in Charlevoix county is drawing to a finish. All the members except the crop club boys have exhibited and finished their project. Many of the boys are now digging their potatoes and are also picking out their exhibit of 32 tubers. All crop club members will exhibit their work at the Potato and Apple Show at East Jordan, October 31. All the worth while exhibits from this show will be taken to the Northern Michigan Potato and Apple Show which will be held at Kalkaska, November 10, 11 and 12. At this show all 4-H potato club members 15 years of age or older will have the chance of entering a contest which will award one free trip to the Boys' and Girls' Club Congress at Chicago. This contest will be graded on the club member's potato exhibit, the story about his club work, and his general interest in club work.

Preparation is now starting for the organization of winter club work. The selection of winter projects are: Clothing, handicraft, hot lunch, food preparation and the 4-H Girl Entertains. New bulletins for first and second year clothing and handicraft club work will soon be ready for distribution. In general, winter club work will start around November 1.

"Keeping Your Child Happy In His Home" Is Subject for This Year's Child Care Project

The mothers and fathers of Charlevoix county are again to have the opportunity of attending a series of meetings for the discussion of the little everyday problems of children in their homes, under the leadership of Mrs. Lydia Ann Lynde, specialist in Child Care and Training, Michigan State College. The first meeting will be held in the East Jordan High school auditorium Tuesday night, October 20, at 8 p. m. So many difficulties that parents have with their children are due to their not understanding child life and development trends. Many of the failures and breakdowns of adult life can be traced back to these childhood experiences. Even a little of the new knowledge that the great world wide scientific research is giving us will help parents in solving these situations.

Fathers and mothers the world over and in the United States particularly are seeking and using this knowledge. One mother who has been following the work in Mrs. Lynde's project in Ottawa county said, "This study has helped our home life so much. We are enjoying our children 100 per cent more and my husband and I get along better too. Our children are certainly different." A father in Kent county remarked, "For a long time I've been getting government help in raising and handling livestock — now I'm more than glad to be getting some real help in raising and handling the most important little animals on my place. We are using all this scientific help we can get, and believe me, it works."

It is hoped that a large attendance of parents will avail themselves of this opportunity of hearing Mrs. Lynde in the East Jordan High school auditorium, Tuesday, October 20, at 8 o'clock.

Over 500 Attend 4-H All Talkie Program at Charlevoix Gymnasium Last Wednesday

One of the largest and most appreciated audiences ever to attend a 4-H club program was that held on Wednesday, October 7, in the Charlevoix gymnasium. Five hundred and four folks attended by actual count, while several more failed to register. The program was entirely free to all club members, club leaders and club friends.

The main feature was the picture, "Under the 4-H Flag." The picture unfolded a panorama of farm and 4-H club life, the enthusiastic meetings, the projects, the fairs, the camps, the fierce competition, and finally the ultimate triumph of 4-H club ideals. In addition the 4-H news reel was shown. In this scenes at the International Livestock Exposition were shown and the National Corn Husking contest. Last of all came School Days, a cartoon comedy.

The 4-H club program in the county is greatly indebted to Mr. North, superintendent of schools, for his fine cooperation in loaning the moving picture machine owned by the school board. The man in charge of the program stated that this was the best set-up he has ever had for a program of this type. It is hoped that additional programs may be given in the future as judging from this first response, that would be a welcome addition to the club activities in the county.

THERE GOES THE DINNER BELL

Three Rivers, Mich.,
October 13, 1936

The Charlevoix Courier

I just came up t' th' main offices of the City News Bureau after attendin' a Demmycratic Rally over on th' green lawn between Mel Lott's hotel and the little old wooden frame building where Zach Jacobs used t' have his one-chair tonsorial parlor.

It had been previously announced in large type in the newspaper here that five Leadin' Fiddle-Dickers would be on hand t' fill th' air with oratory — (all candidates for high state offices)—but only TWO showed up.

This was about average, I figured, for Demmycratic campaign promises.

Anyhow, one of the two was Prent Brown, or some such name, and he talked about this and that—and especially about how Mr. Farley's Mr. Murphy gave up a position paying $30,000 a year in the Philippines just to run for the governorship of his native state for $5,000.

The October sun was shining brightly as he talked—and over on the big elm tree there was a picture of George Welsh, of Grand Rapids, —Michigan's foremost sliphorn-player—(now retired). This picture had been tacked up there about six weeks ago when George was taking the hide off'n Mr. Furphy in the Primaries.

So, as Prent talked, I got to thinking of the fate of Mr. Welsh—and maybe how everything was pretty prophetic—and I said something to Charlie Jonker about it and Charlie went over and ripped the card off'n th' tree. It was all faded out and covered with cobwebs—and three big spiders crawled away on the bark underneath.

It all made me feel sad again — just as I did last week about that lone Gallinoodle down on the Ol' Millpond. I left Charlie standing there ripping Mr. Welsh's card to shreds. Then I came up here — thinking about how Mr. Farphy will have to go native again in November and run the Philippines for $30,000 a year—while Governor Fitzgerald will be paid that $5,000 for turning in another $8,000,000-dollar profit.

And the City News Bureau is located in the Old G. A. R. Hall, one flight up over the Wittenberg Boys' Newsstand, which is where Old George Avery used to run his Hay, Feed, Grain, Bean Pods and Middlin's Store, and just kitterin' across th' street from where Levi Knauss had his Harness, Carriage and Bicycle Repository.

yrs (sgd) Chet Shafer

Bald—but altogether too sentimental.

P. S.—Prent is runnin again Wib Brucker.

P. S. ½—And after ever' Demmycratic speech I'm always lookin' around like I used to for somethin' t' take walnut stains off my fingers. An' it couldn't be done.

TOURIST ASSOCIATION MEETING BIG SUCCESS

F. J. Fessenden Renamed As a Director of West Michigan Body

Following one of the most successful tourist seasons in the history of the region, the annual meeting of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association, October 8, at Grand Rapids, drew a record crowd. Discussions of ragweed eradication and proposed legislation were of great interest to the members.

The annual banquet, at which E. W. Tinker, assistant chief of the U. S. Forest Service, told of the development of the Manistee National Forest attracted an unusually large group of friends of the organization.

Gov. Frank D. Fitzgerald paid a surprise visit to the association meeting during the afternoon and pledged his continued support to the activities of the tourist associations.

Directors chosen for the association for the coming year are: H. A. Jackson, Saugatuck; H. H. Bechtold, Bellaire; Frank Orcutt, Beulah; William Olson, Frankfort; John C. Cox, Harvey L. RELIGIOUS COUNCIL MEETING OCTOBER 23

Annual County Convention to Be Held at Horton Bay This Year

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Charlevoix County Council of Religious Education held at the Evangelical parsonage at Horton Bay, plans were made for the annual county convention.

Date of the event was set for Friday, October 23, in the Evangelical church at Horton Bay. The convention will open at 2:30 in the afternoon and continue through the evening. The general theme of the convention will be: "Christian Objectives in the Church." A strong list of able speakers has been chosen.

The dinner at 6:30 o'clock will be on the cooperative plan, each bringing their own dishes.

AT THE MOVIES

Ameche Scales Film Heights In "Ramona"

Every train that arrives in Los Angeles, every plane that lands at the Glendale air terminal, every ship that docks in San Pedro, brings some new personality that one of the Hollywood studios plans to offer to the public.

The number of new stars and feature players that emerge in a year shows that only a few of these newcomers ever survive more than introductory minor roles — most of them return to oblivion, at least in Hollywood.

There are always exceptions of course—anad one of these is Don Ameche, who plans Alessandro to Loretta Young's "Ramona" in the Twentieth Century-Fox picture opening October 17 at the Palace Theatre, produced in the new perfected Technicolor.

"Star For A Night" Has Thrill, Lilt

Featuring Claire Trevor, Jane Darwell, Arline Judge, Evelyn Venable, J. Edward Bromberg, Dean Jagger and Alan Dinehart, the film tells an entrancing story of how madcap chorus girls turn a musical show topsy-turvy and Broadway exerts all its make-believe to make a mother's dreams come true.

Frances Hyland and Saul Elkins authored the scenario, based on a play by Katin Michaelis.

A husband can stand an occasional tongue-lashing from his wife — and expects it—but he's exceedingly tender on the subject of stock-market operations, and every humane woman with a grain of feeling ought to know it by this time.

BUGS BED DOWN FOR WINTER NAP

Fall Months Pointed Out As Time to Destroy Breeding Places

Michigan's hosts of insects and bugs either are too lazy or cannnt afford trips to Florida for the winter but they do bed themselves down for fairly comfortable winter quarters, says Ray Hutsnn, head of the entomology department at Michigan State College, in describing where insects go and what they do to cnmbat the cold.

They may freeze solid, but they'll thaw out again and be out in spring to do their gond or evil with crops and other vegetation next spring. One exception is the grasshopper, lively nnw, but due to cease his hopping and jumping acrobatics when he freezes. Females have laid eggs for next season's crop, so the present generation is ready for an insect cemetery.

But the plum curculio has crawled into fence rows, beneath logs and into high grass. He looks like an elephant in shape but is small. The codling moth, apple menace, has crawled into crevices where there will he pressure around his body. His own aid cnnditioning plant will maintain his comfort until spring.

Then there is the tarnished plant bug, Lygus pratensis, who carries a coat of colors like a deal leaf. He is harmless looking but because of numbers does considerable damage. Right now he has crawled into rubbish, weeds and trash for the winter. The corn borer is seeking wintering quarters in corn stalks and stubble. Cutworms have made snug nests in leaves and logs. Hutson suggests that stubble and rubbish in fields and gardens can be destroyed or plowed under to cut down infestations. Weeds and waste grass may also be destroyed along fields and in fence rows, weighing the gain in fighting insects against loss in cover for game birds and animals.

Pathfinders for the PURSE

There have been many definitions of advertising . . . some of them simple, some of them profound. There is room for another one. Let us say simply, but truly, that the advertisements in this paper are Pathfinders for the Purse.

Figuratively and literally, that's what they are. Pathfinders. Trail-blazers. Official guides to the best values in merchandise and service. Time-savers. Money-savers. Menu-cards, if you will, for the diet to be found in stores and shops.

The modern mother has many things to do with her time. She simply cannot afford to fritter her time and frazzle her temper by tearing all over town to find the merchandise she wants at the price her purse permits. She therefore reads the advertisements before setting out.

There's a tip here, then, for mothers . . . mothers and fathers and sisters and brothers. Read the advertisements, as you read a radio or movie guide. Let the newspaper in the home spare you the turmoil of town. Read the advertisements.

RUSHTON SUPPORTERS POINT TO HIS RECORD

G.O.P. Nominee for Congress Early Booster Resort Industry

Supporters of Herbert J. Rushton, of Escanaba, Republican candidate for Congress from the eleventh district, are pointing with pride to the recent report that tourists brought over $270,000,000 into the state during the past season. Exceeded only by the auto industry, the tourist business is the second largest industry in the state. Statistics from the Department of Commerce in Washington show that 10 million persons visited the Michigan resort sections furnishing employment for 25,000. Labor Day week-end motor traffic across the Straits of Mackinac amounted to 7,900 vehicles, nearly 1,000 more than all previous traffic records at the Straits.

The increase in tourist trade up Michigan can be dated from 1929 when the Rushton-Hartman Act, fathered by Senator Rushton, was passed providing for the disbursement of $100,000 annually to advertise Michigan's scenic beauty and tourist facilities. It can well be said that Mr. Rushton's interest in the then infant tourist industry has resulted in the building in Michigan of its second largest industry. The Department of Commerce report attributes the increase to the state's climatic and scenic resources and to the recent consistent advertising program of Michigan as a Vacation Land.

Mr. Rushton was further instrumental in creating this new industry when he threatened to force an investigation of the Highway Department to determine why Northern Michigan had received only a few miles of concrete highway while several counties in the metropolitan districts of the state were paved 100 per cent. It is significant, claim Mr. Rushton's supporters, that there are today several hundred miles of hard surfaced highways in the territory comprising the Eleventh Congressional District.

It is on the basis of these very definite things Mr. Rushton was able to accomplish for this district as a State Senator that his supporters in his campaign for election as Congressman are basing their claims that he will prove an equally efficient servant of the people in the National House of Representatives.

OBITUARY

Dr. John Allen Auld died October 5, 1936, in his 73rd year, at his place of residence, 241 N. Bostwick avenue, Charlotte, Michigan. Dr. Auld was born at Hamilton, Ontario, where he received his early schooling, and as a young man he attended the Ohio College of Dental Surgery at Cincinnati. After graduating he opened an office in Charlevoix where he practiced dentistry for 35 years. As a resident of Charlevoix he was active in local politics and civic affairs. He was a member of M. E. church, the Charlevoix Lodge No. 282, F. and A. Masons, Odd Fellows, and Knights of Pythias.

In 1923 Dr. Auld moved to Eaton Rapids, where he lived until 1926, when he removed to Charlotte and resided there until his death.

He is survived by his wife, Annie Jane, and two daughters, Mrs. Robert Easterly and Mrs. Hale Cowling, both of Ann Arbor; the only son, Lloyd Blodgett Auld, having passed on in 1933.

Funeral services for Dr. Auld were conducted by the Rev. George Mooers of the M. E. church and Rev. Taggart, formerly of Charlevoix, and interment was at Maple Hill cemetery, Charlotte.

FOUR STORAGE TYPES TO KEEP VEGETABLES

Home Garden Produce, Low Priced Fall Supplies Can Be Kept

Not many of the common vegetables available in the fall need be wasted for lack of immediate use. By making plans for canning some and storing the rest according to proper treatment even n year 'round supply can be maintained, suggests C. H. Mahoney, extension specialist in horticulture at Michigan State College and author of "The Home Vegetable Garden" bulletin.

For storage he classifies in one group potatoes, beets, carrots, horseradish, parsnips, winter radishes, rutabagas, turnips, salsify and cabbage. Cool, moist conditions are best. Potatoes may be put in an open bin away from furnace heat. Cabbage may be stored without cutting off the roots, heads down and covered with moist soil. Others in this group can be covered with moist sand to prevent wilting and shriveling.

Cold, moist conditions with ample air circulation are best for celery, kohlrabi, leeks, brussels sprouts, parsley and endive. Celery should be dug with roots and soil attached and planted in moist sand on the cellar floor or in a box, watering soil but not leaves. Others in this group also are dug with roots attached and put in moist soil.

For onions and garlic, different conditions are better. These vegetables need cool, dry conditions with plenty of air. Slatted crates insure ventilation. A cool attic room with temperatures close to freezing is recommended.

Squashes and pumpkins complete the classes. These vegetables need cool and dry quarters with good air circulation. A dry basement or a cool upstairs room is suggested.

AAA ANNOUNCES INITIAL SOIL PROGRAM PAYMENTS BE MADE

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration has announced that initial payments of 90 per cent would be made to producers under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program in the North Central, Western, and East Central regions. Producers in the Southern region will receive 90 per cent of the Class I payments and 100 per cent of the Class II payments, and producers in the Northeast region will receive full payment. Payments will be made as rapidly as possible, but due to the amount of work involved several weeks will elapse before they can go out in volume. Michigan is in the North Central region.

TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEETING OCTOBER 29

Urgent necessity for providing every community with modern tuberculosis protection will be the theme of discussion at the annual meeting of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association this year, officials of that organization announce.

The meeting, to be held Thursday, October 29, at Michigan State College, East Lansing, will be in conjunction with the Michigan Trudeau Society and the Michigan Sanatorium Association. A session on the day previous, October 28, will be held for the sanatorium group.

STRAITS AUTO TRAFFIC CONTINUES TO INCREASE

Auto traffic at the Straits of Mackinac continues to gain over figures for last year. According to releases from Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, the auto ferries have carried a total of 30,068 vehicles during the month as against a total of 22,260 during the same period last year. This represents a gain of 7,808 vehicles, or an increase of better than 35 per cent.

OLD AGE PENSION GETS LAST 1936 ALLOTMENT

Dr. Philip A. Callahan, state old age pension director, announced Friday that Michigan's allotment of federal funds for the last three months of this year is $872,361.

Callahan said 30,300 pensioners in Michigan are receiving grants averaging $16.50 per month.

CLOSED SEASON ON MACKINAW OCT. 20TH

Just Time for Fishermen to Get In a Few More Licks

Those who wish to get in a little more Mackinaw trout fishing before the season closes will have to act quickly as the closed season will start on October 20 and October 19 will be the last day the fishermen can enjoy their sport.

This leaves only a week before the closed season becomes effective and the fleets which have operated in the bay will be laid up for the winter.

The closed season will mark the end of the region's most successful Mackinaw trout season. The business has more than doubled over previous years and the industry is displaying a phenomenal growth. This growth has doubtless been brought about by the excellence of the sport.

In view of what has transpired during the past season there is every reason to believe that Mackinaw trolling will attract more than double the number of people in 1937 as it did in 1936.

PIONEER HAYES WOMAN DIED LAST SATURDAY

Mrs. Moses Cooper, Age 89, Hayes Resident Since Year 1869

Mrs. Moses Cooper, age 89 years, a pioneer of Hayes township, died Saturday, October 10, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Nora Brown, following an extended illness.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon by Rev. W. H. Rauch and burial was at Brookside cemetery.

Olive Cratsley, daughter of William and Jane Cratsley, was born in Conneaut, O., October 20, 1847. She came to Hayes township at the age of 20 and was united in marriage to Moses Cooper on May 4, 1869. To this union were born four daughters and a son.

Mrs. Cooper resided in Hayes township until 1927, when she came to Charlevoix to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Nora Brown.

Two daughters, Mrs. Brown, of Charlevoix, and Miss Vera Cooper, of Chicago, mourn their loss.

AMERICAN LEGION ACTIVITIES

By F. V. Tyler

Leslie T. Shapton Post squares away for winter activities with a Halloween old time dance at the Moonlight Gardens, Saturday, October 31.

Membership for 1937 in the post was reported at the last meeting as 37. Teams are now working to get as many into the fold as possible before Armistice Day. Everyone who can do so should turn in and help, as there will be a chance to win a substantial prize and the larger the receipts the larger the prizes will be. All 1937 members have a chance to win, as the serial numbers on the 1937 membership cards will be used for selecting the lucky prize-winners. Twenty-five cents of each man's dues will be put in a jackpot. First one out gets 50 per cent, second 30 per cent, third 20 per cent. In other words, if one hundred members are secured, the first prize will be $12.50, the second $7.50, and the third prize $5.00. Awarding of prizes will take place on Armistice Day (Wednesday evening, November 11), following a banquet at the Legion Home. You can't afford to miss this.

MRS. PALMER CHOSEN DIST. W. C. T. U. HEAD

Mrs. Gladys Palmer, this city, was elcted president of the Lower 11th District of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union at the annual convention held last week at Bellaire.

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS
By Aon Page

The list of available fresh fruits is fast growing shorter but new pack dried fruits are arriving to take their place, among them apricots, figs, peaches, prunes and raisins.

Beef and lamb are much cheaper than last week and pork is somewhat lower. There has been another retail reduction in the price of butter. Egg prices are the same or a little higher. Fish is more plentiful and a little cheaper.

Lettuce is down to more normal price levels. Both cabbage and spinach are cheap again after several months of high cost. Cauliflower is plentiful and reasonable in price. Here are three menus planned for different budget levels.

Low Cost Dinner

Veal Birds Mashed Potatoes
Yellow Turnips
Bread and Butter
Apple Crisp
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner

Roast Stuffed Shoulder of Pork
Browned Potatoes Buttered Onions
Celery Apple Mint Jelly
Bread and Butter
Tapioca Cream
Tea or Coffee Milk

Very Special Dinner

Stuffed Celery
Baked Smoked Ham Glazed Apples
Sweet Potatoes Spinach
Mixed Green Salad
Bread and Butter
Lemon Meringue Pie

The MARCH of POLITICS
By JOHN H. O'BRIEN

The greatest missionary work of the Republican Party in Michigan must be done among industrial workers of the state whose lot has improved since 1929.

These workers use a simple and forceful logic. It goes something like this: three years ago I was working four days a week and earning $17; this year I am working six days a week and earning $37. Sometimes they add personal details, they have accumulated savings accounts, or paid off their mortgage, or bought a new car. They attribute their comparative prosperity to Roosevelt.

There are many of these people because the majority of them are employed in automobile or automobile accessoroy plants and the motor car industry started and is still leading the recovery parade. Areas in which they live are depended upon by the Democrats to outweigh the remainder of the state. They assume that the plant employes of Detroit, Flint, Pontiac and a few other industrial centers will be sufficient to offset the vote of merchants, farmers, businessmen, and the residents of rural or small town areas.

The flaw in the workers' logic is that they give no credit to the automobile manufacturers and business in general for recovery. They believe that in some undefined way Roosevelt brought recovery and that the manufacturers merely reap the benefits of it.

The government, assuming that all of the money went for recovery purposes, which is doubtful, spent eight billion dollars. Business itself spent twenty-seven and one-half billion dollars more than its income during the recovery period.

There can be no quarrel with necessary relief expenditures, but it must be admitted that that is not the road to recovery. Boondoggling helps the boondoggler; its recovery value is nil.

The expenditures by business itself went to create goods. The money poured out daily in an unremitting fight against the depression — and it was this money that licked the depression. And Roosevelt, if he did anything with regard to business, spent three years alternately frightening and soothing businessmen. Their uncertainty as to just exactly what kind of a government he intends America to have still exists today. With the proper kind of treatment, business might have spent a few more billions, secure in the knowledge that they would be permitted to bring back recovery unhampered, and recovery might have come that much sooner.

Businessmen are united in the belief that complete recovery will come under a Republican administration that tells them definitely where it stands. Therefore, they are Republican. We thus have an illogical situation in which the men upon whom workers depend for their prosperity are for one party and the majority of the workers are for the opponent of business.

It is the job of Republicans to point out to the industrial worker that it was his "economic royalist" employer who put the extra money in the pay envelope each week and not the president. They can tell the worker the truth and the truth, it was said long ago, will prevail.

Registration Notice For General November Election November 3, 1936

To the Qualified Electors of the City of Charlevoix, State of Michigan:

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law," I, the undersigned City Clerk will, upon any day except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said City not already registered who may APPLY TO ME PERSONALLY for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the Second Saturday before any regular, special, or official primary election and the day of such election.

The last day for General Registration does not apply to persons who vote under the Absent Voters' Law. (See Registration by Affidavit.)

Notice is Hereby Given, That I will be at the CITY CLERK'S OFFICE

Wednesday, October 14, 1936

the Twentieth Day preceding said election as provided by Sec. 3, Chapter 3, Part II, Act 351, P. A. 1925, as amended, from 8 o'clock a. m. until 8 o'clock p. m. on said day for the purpose of Reviewing the Registration and Registering such of the qualified electors in said City as Shall Properly Apply therefor.

Notice is hereby further given to the Qualified Electors of this City that I, the undersigned Clerk of said City, will register qualified electors who may apply at my office on any business day in the year up to and including for General Registration by personal application for said election, from 8 o'clock a. m. to 8 o'clock p. m.

The name of no person but an ACTUAL RESIDENT of the City at the time of registration, and entitled under the constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election shall be entered in the registration book.

Registratioo of Absentee by Oath

If any person whose name is not registered shall offer and claim the right to vote at any election, or primary election, and shall UNDER OATH, state that he or she is a resident of such precinct and has resided in the CITY TWENTY DAYS next preceding such election, designating particularly the place of his or her residence and that he or she possesses the other qualifications of an elector under the constitution; and that, owing to the sickness or bodily infirmity of himself or herself, or some member of his or her family or owing to his or her absence from the City on public business or his or her own business, and without intent to avoid or delay his or her registration, he or she was unable to make application for registration on the last day provided by law for the registering of electors preceding such election, then the name of such person shall be registered, and he or she shall then be permitted to vote at such election. If such applicant shall in said matter, wilfully make any false statement, he or she shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and upon conviction, he subject to the pains and penalties thereof.

Provided, That any city may provide or by resolution approved by a majority of the members of its legislative body for the registration of such sick and absent voters on the last Saturday preceding any election or primary election at the places of voting in the several voting districts of such city, instead of on election or primary election day.

Provision In Case of Removal to Another Precinct

Any registered and qualified voter who has REMOVED from ONE ELECTION PRECINCT to another election precinct shall have the right, on any day previous to election day, on application to the City Clerk, to have his or her name transferred from the registration book of the precinct from which he or she HAS REMOVED to the registration book of the precinct in which he or she THEN RESIDES. Such elector shall have the right to have such transfer made ON ELECTION DAY, or Primary election day, by obtaining from the board of inspectors of election of the precinct from which he or she HAS REMOVED a CERTIFICATE OF TRANSFER, and presenting the said certificate to the BOARD OF ELECTION INSPECTORS OF THE PRECINCT IN WHICH HE OR SHE THEN RESIDES.

Dated October 1, 1936.

SHE LOST 20 POUNDS OF FAT

Feel full of pep and possess the slender form you crave—you can't if you listen to gossipers.

To take off excess fat go light on fatty meats, butter, cream and sugary sweets—eat more fruit and vegetables and take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning to eliminate excess waste.

Mrs. Elma Verille of Havre de Grace, Md., writes: "I took off 20 lbs.—my clothes fit me fine now."

Help Kidneys

Don't Take Drastic Drugs

Your Kidneys contain 9 million tiny tubes or filters which may be endangered by neglect or drastic, irritating drugs. Be careful. If functional Kidney or Bladder disorders make you suffer from Getting Up Nights, Nervousness, Loss of Pep, Leg Pains, Rheumatic Pains, Dizziness, Circles Under Eyes, Neuralgia, Acidity, Burning, Smarting or Itching, you don't need to take chances. All druggists now have the most modern advanced treatment for these troubles—a Doctor's prescription called Cystex (Siss-Tex) Works fast—safe and sure. In 48 hours it must bring new vitality and is guaranteed to make you feel 10 years younger in one week or money back on return of empty package. Cystex costs only 3c a dose at druggists and the guarantee protects you

Pain Passes Off

When your head aches; when Neuralgia tortures you; when Muscular Pains make you miserable—take a Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pill.

Mr. Smith is one of millions who have found this easy way to prompt relief. He says:—

"I keep Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills in my pocket and when I get a dull heavy feeling in my head, I take a Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pill and the pain passes off."

DR. MILES' -ANTI-PAIN PILLS-

MEN LOVE PEPPY GIRLS

You can become peppy this easy way

If you are happy and peppy and full of fun, men will take you places. If you are lively, they will invite you to dances and parties.

BUT, if you are cross and lifeless and always tired out, men won't be interested in you. Men don't like "quiet" girls. Men go to parties to enjoy themselves. They want girls along who are full of pep.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND helps give you pep and energy. For over sixty years girls and women here been taking this famous old medicine to pep them up . . . to help give them strength, energy, sparkle. Notice the girls and women about you who are full of pep. Ask them what makes them peppy. If they are honest, many of them will give the credit to LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. You should give LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND a try. Girls with pep are more attractive to men.

ARE YOU NERVOUS?

Here is a way to help calm quivering nerves

Do you feel so nervous that you want to scream? Are there times when you are cross and irritable . . . times when you could those who are dearest to you?

If your nerves are on edge, try LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. It helps calm your quivering nerves and should give you the strength and energy to face life with a smile.

When your worries and cares become too much for you and you want to run away from it all . . . take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. Many women have had nerves as jangled as yours, but they have been able to build up their pep and energy and get back to normal with the aid of LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND.

When your mother and your grandmother used to become nervous, irritable and rundown they depended upon this famous old medicine to pep them up again . . . to help their nerves . . . to help give them a cheerful disposition.

RIGHT THIS VERY MINUTE
How Do You Feel?

Tired? Irritable? No ambition? Look at your watch—note the time. The same time tomorrow, compare how you feel then with the way you do right now! In the meantime, step at your drug store and, tonight, drink a cup of Garfield Tea. Tonight—"Clean By Inside"—Feel Different Tomorrow! Less that let-down feeling. Let Garfield Tea clean away undigested wastes. Intestinal tract acts gently, promptly, thoroughly. Drink like ordinary tea. 10c—25c.

Since March, 1933, over 75 great new bureaus have been created by the federal government.

Fifty-five are still in existence.

We know of some of them, the AAA and the CCC. But there are many others. For instance there is the PCDID—Petroleum Conservation Division Interior Department. There is the FSLIC. That is the Federal Savings and Loan Corporation.

The purpose is not to discuss these agencies. The pledge of the national administration was to reduce governmental bureaus and departments.

When you count up the number of unfortunate people upon charity, also count those who have fat political jobs. It might surprise you.

HOW TO VOTE

A farmer living near Wayne expressed doubt as to how to vote for president in November, and he asked out opinion. We referred him to the broken pledges of the New Deal, the NRA nightmare that frightened and crippled industry, the wasteful slaughter of pigs, the compulsory potato restrictions that went down with the AAA, the unsuccesful attempts to force the control of agriculture and busines, the increase in government bureaus and public payrolls, with a steadily ascending federol debt which present and future generations must pay. We called attention to dangers to individual liberty — dangers too apparent the last three years to be regarded indifferently—dangers that are sufficient without other reasons to lead farmers and townsmen alike to vote against the New Deal. The question involved is not partisan. It is a question of whether we wish to surrender traditional rights for unsound government paternalism and autocratic dictatorship. When one makes up his mind he must look beyond this year. He must vote for restored confidence, restored independence and freedom from hobbling interferencc, freedom from uncertainty and fear. Under a soundly progressive order, private industry will ahsorb those on relief roles, and the unemployment problem will be solved. Then the inflowing tide of prosperity will bring assurance and peoce of mind.—Wayne (Neb.) Herald.

REAL ARISTOCRACY

We oncc had an aristocracy of hereditary titles. Then came one of wealth, acquired or inherited. Gradually wc are cstablishing an aristocracy of character, morals, and service to mankind.

This new aristocracy is self-created, its members coming from all classes of people—the rich, the poor, the educated, and the ignornnt. It is created by those who see that life's greatest opportunity lies in man's making himself a man.

God made man "a little lower than the angels" that he might minister in every possible way to make this world a paradise for all his creatures.

It's the men today who are doing all they can to carry out this divine plan who constitute true aristocracy, which only can endure because it is founded on that which is good. — Frank B. Craig.

A journal of your life is an excellent heritage to leave behind. People often say, "Oh, I couldn't write. I have nice thoughts but I can't put them on paper." Anyone who lives can write. Begin by noting down just one incident a day. Write "Today, Mary gave me a new recipe," or "Landon said ——." Soon it will come easier.

Diaries have been used to settle arguments, they are a record of the times, a check on our memory which often fails, and they really are a source of satisfaction and comfort.

Farmer Explodes 'Scarcity' Theory

Proves Growers Got More for Grains in Years of Big Crops.

PLAINFIELD, ILL.—Formers get os much or more for their grain in years of lerge crops than in the smoll-crop years,

This simple refutotion of the entire "scarcity" theory of the Roosevelt administration was found in records of the Deportment of Agriculture Yeai Book by Homer B. Grommon, "dirt" former with 450 acres near here, and president of the Formers' National Grain Dealers' association.

Mr. Grommon's conclusions are based on comporisons of the 13 largest crop years of the last 26 with the 13 amallcst. Hcre is what he found:

Averoge value of United States wheat crops in the yeors of plenty—1 billion 69 million dollors a year; in thc years of scarcity (planned or not)—677 million.

Average corn crop volue in years of plenty—2 billion 115 million; in years nf scorcity—1 billion 737 million. Averoge oat crop in yeors of plenty — 5 billion 575 million; in yeors of scarcity—5 billion 574 million.

Average prices recèlved during the "big" years were: wheat, $1.20 a bushel; corn, 75 cents, and oats, 43 cents. Averages in the "lean" crop yeors: wheat, $1.01; corn, 74 cents, and oots, 43 cents. Even when the World War years are excludcd entirely, the average wheat price was $1.17 for big-crop yeors and 88 cents for little-crop years.

Thirteen Largest Crops.

Year	Production (million bu.)	Farm Price* (per. bu.)
1915	1,009	$.92
1919	952	2.16
1928	932	.39
1928	913	1.00
1918	904	2.04
1914	897	.99
1930	890	.67
1927	875	1.19
1922	847	.97
1920	843	1.83
1924	840	1.25
1926	834	1.22

Totol	8,082
Average	668	$1.01

*Price per buahel received by producers. Prices for years 1909 through 1918 are as of Dec. 1 of each year. Prices for years 1919 through 1934 are weighted average prices for crop markelling season.

Large crops mean jobs in both the city and country, Mr. Grommon pointed out. The difference between average big-crop years and average small-crop years, including wheat, corn and oats is 26 million tons of grain, which would make 13 million two-ton loads for trucks. Thus a demand would be created for truck manufacturers, gasoline distributors and all the other operations of transportation, processing and manufacture. People would have more money to buy the farmer's products.

When prices are raised by an artificial or "planned" scarcity, there is no corresponding rise in the ability of the people as a whole to pay.

Let's See You Arrest Landon, Mr. Cummings

CHICAGO.—The attempt of the Roosevelt administration to frighten small store keepers from showing cards calling attention to the amount of invisible tax items concealed in the cost of nearly everything the average family needs is an indication that the question of taxation and waste is of paramount importance in this campaign.

This statement was made by Chairman John Hamilton of the Republican National committee, who asked Attorney General Cummings what he intended to do to Gov. Landon because he said in his Buffalo speech:

"We cannot buy a stitch of clothing without the government's taking in taxes a part of the money we pay out. We cannot buy an ounce of food at our grocery stores without being taxed to support the government. We cannot go to a movie, or to a baseball game, or ride in an automobile without this invisible tax arm of the government reaching out and taking a part of the money we spend.

"These hidden taxes — federal, state and local—amount to about 20 cents out of every dollar we spend. In the case of the Federal Government alone they amount to more than $5 a month for every family."

To make flattery effective you must be somewhat insincere; for example, tell a homely girl that she's pretty.

tion with almost every event sponsored by the Board during the summer months..and Mr. Fulconer and his assistants, Bob Miles and Arthur Wexstaff, responded faithfully and energetically to all demands. Henry Buddy, our former fellow-townsman now of Central Lake, was responsible through his efforts and those of his helpers for the accession of 297 poid memberships in the Board of Commerce during the first few weeks of its reorgunized existence. In view of the fact that at that time the Board had yet to show its mettle and sell itself to the public, this should be classed as one of the year's outstanding achievements.

Plans for next season were cursorily sketched. They include the securing of several more cruises, similar to that of the Detroit Athletic Club, development of our water-front facilities and other importont matters.

Perhaps one of the most interesting points brought out hy President Hallett in his summing up of the season's work is the fact that the Board of Commerce, on the whole, kept well within the appropriation granted to it by the city council, and had a balance left to return to the city treasury. The amounts spent by the various committees appenr below:

Advertising	$1,728.32
Golf	40.30
Tennis	406.34
Baseball	72.44
Boating	105.00
Venetian Night	143.82
Water Sports	26.90
Local Advertising	10.00
Conservation	202.91
Secretary's Office	675.00
Clerk Hire	116.06
Misc. Bills yet to be paid	40.50
	$3,567.59

As the total appropriation made by the city council for the use of the Board of Commerce was $4,260, it will be seen that the Board is out of the "red" by the comfortable margin of $692.41, which can be applied to their 1937 budget. This is a showing that is very gratifying to all concerned.

His report concluded, President Hallett introduced R. F. Sloan as the toastmaster of the evening. Mr. Sloan then introduced Mayor Arthur Bergeon, who gave the oudience a graphic word picture of what Charlevoix was like in earlier times as respects the resort business and how much it differed now from then. He proised the work of the Board of Commerce and expressed his plensure at the fine cooperation evident between that body and the city council. A rising vote of thanks wos then accorded to the Eastern Stars for the good supper they had provided and several reels of motion pictures in natural colors were displayed by Earl A. Young, to the great enjoyment of the spectators. Following this feature, Clair Webster was osked to describe what had been done to promote fishing during the past year, and the nccount he gave of the activities of the conservation committee and the Sportsmen's Club along this line both surprised and pleased his listeners.

Dr. R. B. Armstrong introducod a new angle into community improvement when he outlined the importance of each individual developing and beautifying his own property in order to enhance the general appearancc of the town and the impression it makes on the outsider. Leo Carey, representing the city council, expressed his gratification at the fine spirit of cooperation existing between the council and the Board of Commerce, and gave as his opinion that it would help matters greatly if people of the community would make known their wants and needs to the council in instances, he stated, where that body must often proceed in the dark, as it were, without knowing just what the people in general really thought of the particular proposition at hand.

Mayor Bergeon, during the course of his remarks, broached the very important subject of a new electric light and power unit for Charlevoix. Already, this past summer, he said, the peak load has been closely approached, and there is every reason to believe that it may be exceeded next summer. If such should be the case and the present equipment was inadequate to cafry the load, consequences would be quite serious.

Otto W. Bishop

Nominee on the Republican Ticket for Re-election to the Office of

STATE SENATOR

From the Twenty-Ninth Senatorial District

Was born in Alpena and has always resided in Northern Michigan. His early life was spent on farms in Alpena County and his young manhood in the lumber woods and saw mills.

From 1895 to 1900 he held a clerkship in a store. In 1900 he entered the employ of the Alpena National Bank where he remained for nearly twenty years, after which he went into business for himself, and is still carrying on a successful business in Alpena.

He has always been interested in the development of Northern Michigan and for a number of years has been either director or President of the local Resort Association. For many years he has labored in Chamber of Commerce work. He was a member of the Municipal Council of the City of Alpena for nine years; four years of this period he was its President. He then was elected a member of the Charter Commission which drafted and submitted to the voters a Business Manager form of Charter which was adopted and under which the city is governed at the present time.

In 1934 he was elected to the office of State Senator from the Twenty-Ninth Senatorial District. During the campaign that year he promised an active and aggressive representation of his district in the State Senate. His record proves that he has kept his promise. He immediately introduced a bill asking for an appropriation for advertising and developing the resort possibilities of Mchigan. The Twenty-Ninth Senatorial District comprises the greater portion of the resort area of this State.

He worked diligently for the passage of the old age assistattce act, which act provides assistance to all needy persons seventy years of age or over. This act was but the beginning of an effort to give proper assistance to the aged. He will favor and urge the passage of a bill that will make the pensionable age sixty, or sixty-five, instead of seventy, and an appropriation sufficient so that at least $30.00 per month assistance may be given to those over that age.

He supported and actively worked for the passage of the School Law in which $21,000,000 was appropriated for the assistance of Public Schools. He also was very active in starting construction of the Northern Michigan Sanatorium at Gaylord, which had been promised for a long time. That his work in the last session of the Legislature was most satisfactory is evidenced by many letters of commendation received from organizations and associations throughout the State, among which were letters from the Michigan State Farm Journal, Farmer's Educational and Cooperative Union of America, and Farmer's Union of Michigan. Others were received from labor journals, medical schools and associations, resort associations, and from Governor Fitzgerald and other State officials.

If his work in the interests and welfare of his district and the state at large meets with your approval, your support in the coming election November 3rd will be greatly appreciated.

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR

CONGRESS

His Record Deserves Recognition!

Based upon the actual records of his career as State Senator for six years, the selection of Herbert J. Rushton as your congressman can only be the dictates of SOUND JUDGMENT. A brief review of this record shows:

1 WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION. He handled the Wade Bill in the Senate raising compensation from $14 to $18 per week.

2 PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS. He fought against and aided the defeat of legislation which would have forced the closing of every parochial school in Michigan.

3 INTERSTATE BRIDGE. He advised and introduced the Bill that built the Interstate Bridge between Marinette and Menominee.

4 ST. IGNACE DOCKS. He stopped the highway department from moving the docks at St. Ignace which would have practically wiped out the life savings of everybody on its main street.

5 MINIMUM WAGE. He got the State Highway department to write into their contracts the minimum wage paid to men working on highway projects.

6 SCHOOL MONEY. He fought and stopped the taking away of money from the poor srhool districts.

7 HE IS THE ONLY MAN who ever served in the legislature upon whom the faculty of the University of Michigan conferred a Doctor's Degree for extraordinary services to the State.

JUDGES ARE ANNOUNCED FOR POTATO-APPLE SHOW

Charlevoix-Antrim Exhibit Scheduled for October 31 at East Jordan

With the announcement of judges and the premium list of $270, the success of the first annual Charlevoix-Antrim Potato and Apple Show is definitely assured.

The show is to be held at the East Jordan High school on Saturday, October 31. Already farmers of the two counties are selecting their samples. Without question the apple exhibit will be the largest in this district as apple producers have already given assurance they will exhibit the best selected from their orchards.

James F. Thomson, commissioner of agriculture, has been invited to give the main address. H. C. Moore, potato specialist, will judge the potato exhibits, and H. D. Hootman, well known in this district, the apple exhibits. All exhibits are to be set up by 10 o'clock Saturday forenoon. They will be judged during the noon hour. Ribbons will be awarded the winner.

The program will include a banquet in the evening and, in addition to the speaking portion of the program, many entertainment features are being arranged.

SHAKESPEARE STUDY CLUB MEETING MONDAY

Mrs. O. J. Hammond Hostess at First Regular Meeting of Group

The Shakespeare Study Club held its first regular meeting of the year Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. J. Hammond.

The executive committee, Mrs. O. P. North, president; Mrs. A. L. Fitch, vice-president, and Mrs. O. J. Hammond, secretary-treasurer, served a three-course luncheon to 19 members and one guest, the latter Mrs. W. E. Hampton, of Ann Arbor, a former member. The club colors of purple and gold were carried out in the decoration and throughout the luncheon.

Two new members, Mrs. C. F. Kreighoff and Mrs. George Haggard, were welcomed into the club. A short business session was held, after which Mrs. North gave a brief outline of the program for the ensuing year.

HILL VIEW DAIRY HERD ASS'N HIGH PRODUCERS

Ranked First During September In Northwestern Michigan

The grade Jersey herd owned by Hill View Dairy was high in production for September among the large herds (18 or more cows) in the Northwest Michigan Dairy Herd Improvement Association. Average production per cow was 564 pounds of milk (testing 5.2 per cent) and 29.4 pounds of butterfat.

Mrs. Grace Brock's Jersey herd wns, second among all large herds, with 624 pounds of milk and 29.1 pounds of butterfat per cow.

Dan Swanson's small herd of grade Jerseys, near East Jordan, was second in its class with 632 pounds of milk and 34.2 pounds butterfat per cow. Swanson has been using purebred sires of good breeding on his herd for a number of years, having acquired another one recently. This practice of using good sires has helped improve his herd both for type and for production.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN TO MEET FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Floyd W. Ikens to Be Hostess to Club—Fine Program Arranged

The newly organized Women's Republican Club met at the home of Mrs. R. B. Armstrong on Thursday afternoon, October 8.

All attending came prepared with political clippings which proved very interesting. Mrs. Armstrong served delightful refreshments, assisted by Alice Clark and Mrs. Neil Kemp.

The next meeting of the Club will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Floyd W. Ikens. Mrs. Marion Carey, vice-president, will assist and act as co-hostess with Mrs. Ikens. County Clerk Fenton R. Bulow will be present to explain the amendments to be voted upon at the November general election and a very interesting program has been arranged.

The Methodist Ladies' Aid will serve their annual Chicken Supper in the church dining room, Wednesday, October 21. Price 45c.—Adv42t1

RETIRED MINISTER IS RESCUED FROM LAKE

Fred C. Pillsbury Had Narrow Escape In Lake Charlevoix

Fred C. Pillsbury, retired Methodist minister, had a narrow escape from drowning in Lake Charlevoix last Friday evening.

Mr. Pillsbury, whose summer home is near Ironton, had taken a row boat to tow a log to shore, and suddenly the boat capsized. He managed to hang on to the log until his cries for help attracted Bruce Sanderson, 18-year-old son of William Sanderson, whose home is on the east side of Lake Charlevoix. Young Sanderson in a small boat, rowed across the lake and towed the exhausted man to shore.

A triple drowning occurred in the same spot last June when a mother and two daughters lost their lives. They were guests of the Pillsburys.

LEGION AUXILIARY NOTES

The American Legion Auxiliary entertained Monday evening at Legion Home, honoring two past presidents who are leaving our midst to make new homes at distant points, and other members who are soon leaving for winter resorts.

The evening was spent at cards, honors going to Mrs. Neal Kemp, while Mrs. W. E. Goss received consolation.

After a delicious luncheon, Mrs. George Kelderhouse and Mrs. Harry Glossinger were presented with gifts in appreciation of their faithful work with us.

On Monday evening, October 19, will occur the monthly business meeting. All members please be present as there is important business to be taken care of.

Members please remember dues should be paid before October 20.

CHARLEVOIX, EAST JORDAN GAME TIED

NEITHER TEAM SCORED IN SATURDAY'S TILT

Charlevoix Meets Harbor Springs and Rogers City at Home on Succeeding Saturdays to Complete Schedule

Charlevoix's Red Rayders will complete their 1936 football schedule with two successive games on their home gridiron. The first contest on Saturday of this week is with Harbor Springs, and the final game on October 31 brings Rogers City.

Last Saturday, Charlevoix and East Jordan fought to a scoreless tie before a large football homecoming crowd at East Jordan. The contest was a see-saw affair with both terms lacking the punch necessary to produce touchdowns when the opportunity presented.

A favorable wind and punting by Gallagher aided the Rayders as East Jordan carried the battle into Charlevoix territory during the first quarter. While play was more even, the situation was reversed in the second period, which saw East Jordan in the hole because of bad punting and Charlevoix muffing what might have been scoring chances through poor team work and bad passes from center.

Charlevoix's best scoring opportunity failed in the third period when Carey dropped Shapton's pass from the 12-yard line. Completion of the play would have given Charlevoix first down on East Jordan's eight-yard strip. Another chance went glimmering in the fourth quarter when Jordan blocked Radle's attempted place kick.

Shapton, quarter, and Kulpa, halfback, made several good gains, and Jim Hiller, playing at guard in the second half, did some excellent tackling behind the line. Olach, who substituted for Gallagher at tackle, will be out of Saturday's game due to an ankle injury.

The line-ups:

SCORELESS TIE

Charlevoix (0)		East Jordao (0)
Carey	LE	Bennett
McCafferty	LT	Umlor
R. Shapton	LG	Hitchcock
Withers	C	Johnson
B. Pearl	RG	Duplessis
Neff	RT	Porter
Gallagher	RE	Kemp
L. Shapton	QB	Sommerville
Kulpa	LH	Penfold
Nowland	RH	Gates
Radle	FB	Gregory

Substitutions: Charlevoix — Olach for McCafferty, Hiller for B. Pearl.

Following is the Northern Michigan Class C Conference standing following last Saturday's games:

	Won	Lost	Tied	Pct.
Boyne City	3	0	0	6
Rogers City	2	1	0	4
Charlevoix	1	1	1	3
East Jordan	1	0	1	3

NINE PARTY TICKETS ON BALLOT FOR ELECTION NOVEMBER 3RD

Withdrawal of candidates on the progressive and second farmer-labor party tickets today left the total ballots for November 3 general election at nine, according to certifications made with the Department of State.

Each of the parties which withdrew had two candidates on the state ticket. Stephen Sadowski, Hamtramck, was running for state treasurer, and W. H. Smith, Detroit, for U. S. senator on the progressive ticket, and Cyrus F. Boorum, of Ann Arbor, for secretary of state, and Harry H Hansen, Greenville, for state treasurer on the second faction farmer-labor party slate.

LOCAL WOMAN IS NAMED TO GRAND O. E. S. OFFICE

Mrs. Dorothy See Appointed Grand Ruth at Grand Rapids Meeting

The 1937 convention of the Michigan Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will be held in Grand Rapids. It will be the fourth consecutive year the organization's sessions are held there.

The 1936 convention closed Thursday following election of officers and memorial services at which Governor Frank Fitzgerald and former Governor Wilber M. Brucker, candidate for United States senator on the Republican ticket, were guests.

Mrs. Cassa Leonard Howe, of Grand Rapids, was elevated to the office of Grand Matron, while George C. Furgeson, Bay City, was elected Grand Patron. Mrs. Florence Ryckman, Flint, became Grand Conductress.

Other officers, appointed by Mrs. Howe, were: Mrs. Florence Van Haaren, Grand Chuplain; Mrs. Kathryn L. Foote, Peninsular Chapter, Grand Rapids, Grund Adnh; Mrs. Dorothy See, Charlevoix, Grand Ruth; Mrs. Helen E. Smith, Hillsdale, Grand Martha.

Those named to stunding committees included: Harry R. Murtinson, Kalamazoo, chairman of the finance committee; Otto W. Bishop, Alpena, chairman of jurisprudence.

REPUBLICAN ORIVE STAGEO IN COUNTY

PRE-ELECTION EFFORTS CENTERED AT MEETINGS

Rallies This Week at East Jordan and Boyne City—County-Wide Meeting Here October 27

Concentrating their drive to hold Charlevoix county in the Republican ranks at the general election on November 3, Republican organizations of the county are sponsoring a series of public meetings during this and the following week.

At a rally held Tuesday evening at the school gymnasium in East Jordan, Major John F. Gardner, of Reed City, and Attorney Floyd A. Supp, of Charlevoix, discussed topics of vital interest to voters before a large gathering.

On Thursday evening of this week, another rally will be held at the school gymnasium in Boyne City. The speakers for this gathering will include Hon. John Schofield, of Paxton, Ill., a Republican of national prominence; Circuit Judge Parm C. Gilbert, of Traverse City, will discuss general issues of the day; Attorney Arthur L. Fitch, of Charlevoix, whose topic will be "The American System," and F. K. Killiam, superintendent of Boyne City schools, who will discuss the amendments on the November ballot.

The three county Republican organizations—the Young Republicans, Women's Republican Clubs and County Republican Committee — are joining their efforts in staging a big county-wide rally here October 27. The meeting will be held at the high school gymnasium. The speakers for the meeting will include Col. Eastlep, of Lansing, sent out by the Republican State Central Committee, Judge Parm C. Gilbert, of Traverse City, and a speaker being arranged for by the women's organization.

In addition to the public meetings outlined, the several organizations are having their own gatherings weekly with a fine attendance.

FORMER LOCAL GIRL MARRIED AT LANSING

Miss Ruth Brown Became Bride of Donald Swartz There Saturday

A wedding of interest to a large number of Charlevoix friends was solemnized Saturday evening, October 17, at Lansing, when Miss Ruth Brown, daughter of Mrs. Lina Brown, of this city, was married to Donald Swartz, of Monroe. The wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. King Saunders.

Rev. William S. Carpenter, past national chaplain of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War and pastor of one of the Lansing Presbyterian churches, performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Saunders attended the bridal couple and guests included friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Swartz will make their home in Dundee, where Mr. Swartz is employed by the Buick agency.

SUPERVISORS CONCLUDE ACTIVITIES

INCREASE IN SALARIES FOR COUNTY OFFICERS GRANTED IN MOST INSTANCES DURING SESSION OF BOARD

Recognition Given Efforts to Increase County Resort Business Through $1000 Advertising Appropriation and Grant of $600 for Work of Sportaman's Organizations

Completing the work of their annual October session Tuesday afternoon, the Charlevoix county board of supervisors approved appropriations and the annual budget and adjourned after an eight-day session which had its moments removed from complete harmony.

Taking advantage of the withdrawal of some demands upon the county purse, the solons, while adopting a budget and appropriations aggregating less than last year, appeared generous.

County officers generally came in for a boost in salaries. While the probate judge was decreased from $1,800 to $1,600, the minimum set by statutes, and the prosecuting attorney was given $1,800, the same as last year, the sheriff's salary was raised from $1,500 to $1,800, together with an amount equal to civil fees and 30 cents per meal for prisoners; the friend of the court was raised from $200 to $300; county clerk increased from $1,800 to $2,000 with $1,200 clerk hire as before; county treasurer raised from $1,800 to $1,900 and clerk hire from $600 to $720; register of deeds increased from $1,500 to $1,600 with clerk hire left at $400. The court house janitor was raised from $15 to $25 per week and, starting with 1941, road commissioners will receive $500 per year without additional expense instead of $150 per year and expenses as at present.

The same trend of generosity which resulted in salary increases for county officers was continued in appropriations totaling $5,146 by the ways and means committee as follows: Soldiers' and Sailors' Relief Commission, $100; District Health Unit, $400, an increase of $25 to cover activities of township health officers in the control of communicable diseases; delegates to state supervisors' convention and association dues, $60; Starr Commonwealth, $150; Charlevoix Hospital, $750; Charlevoix-Antrim potato and apple show, $75; Whiting Park, $700, an increase of $100; county picnic, $50; airport fund, $200; fish and game fund, $600, an increase of $200; Michigan Beekeepers' Association, $50.

The board set up a county advertising fund of $1,000, of which $400 goes to the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association. Last year's appropriation was $500. The advertising fund will be administered by a committee of five, including one supervisor from Charlevoix, East Jordan and Boyne City, and two at large. The appropriation may be considered a boost toward a county-wide effort to attract the tourist business. The Charlevoix County Agricultural Society, which in its report showed a balance following the 1936 fair, was granted $500 for permanent improvements on the buildings and grounds of the fair association at East Jordan; $300 was allowed for transportation of a rural music teacher to be provided and paid for by the PWA, a matter which not only had the backing of the county school commissioner, but rural school teachers generally; $36 was allowed for Charlevoix county's share of office supplies for the National Re-employment service with offices located at Petoskey.

The board appropriated $24,000 to the poor commission for the ensuing year, less overdraft of $1,428.06, compared with $21,000 last year. In an effort to reduce the cost of hospitalization, a resolution adopted requires that in all cases when adults are accepted for hospitalization, an affidavit proving necessity must be signed by two qualified physicians and the supervisor of the township or ward, except in extreme cases, and that in all instances a reimbursement agreement must be signed by responsible relatives. The board deplored an apparent duplication of effort in administration of relief and, in an effort to eliminate the overlapping, appointed a committee of three to meet with the ERA and poor commission to work out a plan requiring the least expense.

The board went on record as opposing amendments three and four on the November ballot, which would eliminate food from state sales tax and prohibit all real and personal property taxes.

The financing committee report, stipulating $75,127.42 for expense of county departments, supplies, officers' salaries, etc., was adopted, requiring eight and one-half mills on a valuation of $8,838,520 as approved by the committee on apportionment. Last year's budget was $79,081.70, requiring nine mills on a slightly smaller valuation.

Dog tax for 1937 was set at 50 cents for males and unsexed dogs if paid by June 1, otherwise one dollar for male and unsexed, and two dollars for females.

The road commission reported expenditure of $105,077.66 for maintenance and snow removal on 787.84 miles of trunk lines, county and township highways during the past year, and asked that one-half of the 1937 weight and gas tax be used for maintenance of county roads.

Ira Bradshaw was re-elected poor commissioner from the East Jordan district, and William M. Sanderson was named park commissioner for a term of five years.

The Ironton ferry, providing transportation across the south arm of Lake Charlevoix at Ironton and operated under a committee of six supervisors for several years, was turned over to the county road commission for maintenance and operation. Salaries of ferrymen, as well as maintenance cost, formerly paid from county general fund, will be shouldered by the road commission under the new arrangement. The proposal was a controversial one, passing by a 17 to 5 vote.

BIRD HUNTING SEASON CLOSES ON OCTOBER 28

Less than a week remains of the open upland bird-hunting season.

Wednesday, October 28, is the last day on which pheasants, partridge, prairie chickens, sharptailed grouse and woodcock may be legally shot in the open areas of the Lower Peninsula. The open season on these species closed in the Upper Peninsula on October 12.

FIVE STEELHEAD LIMIT IN EFFECT JANUARY 1

New Lake Charlevoix Regulation Stands for Three Years

Five steelhead trout a day is enough for anybody, especially when a catch of that size may aggregate from 30 to 40 pounds in weight, believes the State Conservation Commission.

The commission has ruled that it will be to the best interests of the fast-growing sport of trolling for steelhead in Lake Charlevoix, to reduce the daily catch limit from 15 to five a day at that lake. The order stands for a three-year period and is effective January 1.

NEW AUTO LICENSES ON SALE OCTOBER 21

Early Release of Plates Coincideot With Production 1937 Models

Sale of 1937 automobile license plates will start October 21, it was announced by Secretary of State Orville E. Atwood.

"I feel that by releasing the plates on that date, the sale of cars will be expedited because the automobile industry is in production on 1937 models and these cars are now in possession of dealers for retail sale."

Plates may be purchased at that time for used as well as new cars.

ROSES BLOOM IN CHARLEVOIX IN MID-OCTOBER

Six Blooms and Several Buds Picked by Mrs. Katherine Himebaugh

Contradicting the supposition that roses are usually associated with the month of June, the Charlevoix Courier was presented Tuesday with a small bouquet picked by Mrs. Katherine Himebaugh and given to Mrs. Mary Prevost on her 80th birthday anniversary Monday. Revealing the absence of frost in this city so late in the season, the spray had six roses in bloom as well as several buds nearly ready to burst. The Courier acknowledges with thanks the fine gift from Mrs. Prevost and adds that the fact flowers bloom in Charlevoix as late as mid-October is just another of the many reasons why this city is one of the best spots on earth to live. Also our congratulations to Mrs. Prevost on her 80th birth-day anniversary.

NOTED SPEAKER IS COMING TUESOAY

LECTURE ON OBSTETRICS AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Dr. Alexander Campbell, Grand Rapids, Will Give Illustrated Lecture On Pertinent Subject

On Tuesday, October 27, all interested people in Charlevoix will have the opportunity of hearing Dr. Alexander Campbell, of Grand Rapids, who will discuss the all-important subject "The Care of the Mother Before—at the time of—and after the arrival of the Infunt." His presentation will be particularly interesting because it will be a slide lecture, a short moving picture to increase the informative value of his discussion.

Dr. Alexander Campbell is one of the leading obstetricians in the state. His many years of experience in the practical field and his receptivity to the new and improved scientific methods in this field have undoubtedly been responsible for the Michigan State Medical Association selecting him as their spokesman. He is at present traveling through the northern part of Michigan giving weekly lectures to all doctors on this same subject. He meets with the doctors in this vicinity at Petoskey every Tuesday night.

The purpose of these lectures is to help lower the disgraceful number of mothers and infants who die a premature death unnecessarily because of failure on the part of fathers and mothers to secure the best care for the mother at this time.

It is deemed a rare privilege to have Dr. Campbell here and it is hoped that many of the Charlevoix citizens will show their eagerness to want to learn more about this important phase of health work.

The lecture will be given in the Congregational church at 2:30 p. m.

Should there be a sufficient number of interested people in another section of the county it might be possible to secure Dr. Campbell for that group the following Tuesday.

SMELT FISHING POPULAR SPORT HERE NOW

Round Lake and Lake Charlevoix Produce Fine Catches Nightly

Rivaling in popularity only the annual spring "run" up Lake Charlevoix rivers and streams, smelt angling with hook and line here has gained the interest of many sportsmen.

An example of the catches being made nightly was displayed Tuesday by Roy Ranger, who took over 200 fish, ranging up to 13 inches in length from Round Lake Monday night. The Chicago Club and Belvedere bathing piers on Lake Charlevoix are other popular places to catch smelt, also the Charlevoix Trolling Camp boathouse on Round Lake.

Always considered a delicacy, the smelt taken at this time of year are much more tasty than those taken during the spring spawning "run."

WOMAN HAD PICTURE TAKEN WITH LANDON

Miss Fannie Siminow Photographed In Handshake With Governor

Miss Fannie Siminow brought home a cherished souvenir from her trip to Grand Rapids to attend the meeting of the Grand Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star.

The convention was held during the visit to Grand Rapids of Gov. Alfred Landon, Republican nominee for President of the United States, and, while many of the local group had the privilege of shaking hands with Gov. Landon, Miss Siminow was the only one fortunate enough to have her picure taken while in the act.

Miss Siminow has a copy of the photograph and is justly proud of it.

LOCAL YOUNG COUPLE MARRIED AT GAYLORD

Miss Edith O'Neil Became Bride of Kenneth Balch Last Saturday

At a pretty wedding solemnized Saturday, October 17, at Gaylord, Miss Edith O'Neil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos O'Neil, was united in marriage to Kenneth Balch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Balch, of Phelps.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Lovely, at the Methodist parsonage, in Gaylord. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Henley.

Following a honeymoon trip to the Soo, Mr. and Mrs. Balch will make their home in Charlevoix.

CORRESPONDENCE

NORWOOD

On account of the early frost in October, the foliage from the trees is falling fast.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Greeley installed a new Crosley radio in their home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Whitley, of Charlevoix, visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Holecheck, Sunday.

A much better potato crop has been harvested in our locality than was expected on account of the dry, hot weather of the season.

Enid Jinett, who was visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Greeley, for a few days, returned to her home near Elk Rapids, last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Madsen received word Sunday morning of the serious illness of their son, James. They immediately left for Chicago, where he is in a hospital.

Through the courtesy of Glenn See, funeral director in Charlevoix, a combination thermometer and barometer has been placed on the M. E. church at Norwood for the convenience of the public.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bugbee, of Charlevoix, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Plenny Genett and Mr. and Mrs. Edd Golden and their son, Billie, of Charlevoix, were afternoon callers. Mrs. Golden is a niece of Mrs. Genett.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Hull recently motored up from Lansing. After visiting relatives here, they were accompanied home by Mr. Hull's mother, Mrs. Margaret Hull. After a visit there, Mrs. Hull will go to Chicago for the winter months.

At a meeting of the Norwood Ladies' Aid Society, which was held at the home of Mrs. Crosby last Wednesday afternoon, Miss Bertha Pierce was named chairman of a committee for a program which will be given in connection with a bazaar at an early date in December, which will be announced later.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Koch, accompanied by Mrs. Koch's sister-in-law, Mrs. James McGeagh, of Charlevoix, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith, Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Koch reside in California and for the past month have been on a combined business and pleasure trip to Detroit and Charlevoix, and other points along the way.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hull and their daughter, Roberta, motored to Pontiac last Friday where they visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stott, returning to their home Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Hull also visited Mrs. Hull's brother, George Holecheck, and family, at Bay City, on their way to Pontiac. Friends of Mr. Holecheck will be pleased to know that, through the courtesy of the managers of the store where he is employed, he was given a voyage to Cuba. He has just returned, and enjoyed a delightful trip.

BARNARD

Mrs. William Burns and Mrs. Hugh King were visitors on Tuesday at the Ed. Boss home.

Lots of game hunters are in evidence lately. We don't hear of much game being caught, however.

We are sorry to learn of the serious illness of Mrs. Lena Bradsley, and hope to hear that she is better soon.

Mrs. Arthur Stoel and Mrs. Jasper Warner visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith, a few days last week.

Next week Thursday evening is the time of the Ladies' Aid Society chicken pie supper at the church. Remember the date, October 29, and 6:30 p. m. the time.

We were glad to read the news from our neighbors in Phelps. Wish that more of the country communities would let us know what is going on in their vicinities.

The game supper at the Grange Hall was attended by the usual large crowd and of course enjoyed by all.

The Epworth League is having the annual game supper on Saturday evening, October 24.

Rev. Koopman preached a farewell sermon at South Barnard on Sunday evening. His farewell at his own church, Atwood Dutch Reformed, was attended by a large crowd. He is leaving this week for his new work in Redlands, Calif.

The Ladies' Aid Society met last week with Mrs. Brown. The election resulted in some changes in office: Mrs. Brown, vice-president; Mrs. Bolhuis, secretary, and Mrs. Block, flower superintendent. They meet next month with Mrs. Burns in Charlevoix.

IRONTON

Roy Meyers and a party of Detroit friends spent the past week-end hunting near Atlanta.

Mrs. Anna McMulkin spent several days the first of last week with Mrs. Carrie Bird, in Charlevoix.

Extensive improvements are being made under the WPA project work on the road past the Emerson Price property.

The school children are preparing a Halloween party and will entertain their parents and friends at open house, Friday, October 30.

Don Stelle had the misfortune to fall and injure his back while hunting one day last week, and has since then been confined to his bed.

A flock of about 300 wild geese which hovered around Sequanota caused a great deal of excitement among the local hunters the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Allen and infant son, from Brookfield, Ill., were guests of Mrs. Allen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Mower, several days last week.

Mrs. C. A. Todd and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Miller and daughter, Barbara, from Dixon, Ill., arrived last Thursday to spend several days in the Todd cottage, returning to their home Monday morning.

ATWOOD

Only eight more days. "Be prepared."

Well, it's almost time for that game supper?

Potato harvest is almost over, and people are reporting a good crop.

"It won't be long now." Several flocks of geese have been seen going south.

Bert DeYoung is attending the board of supervisors' meeting in Bellaire this week.

Siebe and Rink DeVries are driving a 1935 Chevrolet. Be careful, Siebe, they don't climb trees very well.

A farewell party was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Koopman, Tuesday evening, in the church parlors.

Rev. Koopman preached his farewell sermon to a house filled to capacity last Sunday. They expect to leave Atwood Thursday.

We had quite a smash-up Saturday night in front of the Sinclair gas station. George Liberty, from Ellsworth, was parked on the side of the highway and, without looking back, turned across the pavement. Walter Hastings, who is with the State Conservation Department, was coming from the north. Mr. Hastings tried to avoid the other car, by cutting to the left, but couldn't quite make it. They hit and the Hastings car turned over on its side, but happy to say no one hurt.

CENTRAL LAKE

Phyllis Swanson was a week-end visitor in Bellaire.

Allen Aardema entertained visitors from Chicago last week.

Ivan Morse has a number of men helping dig potatoes this week. Help is scarce.

Rev. Snider, of Iowa, and sister are back at the Pentecostal church at Central Lake.

James Dawson has sold his engine and saw mill outfit to Jay Mudge, who will locate the mill at Eastport.

Ye correspondent returned Thursday afternoon via P. M. R. R. from Ann Arbor. We are minus half of a vocal cord and have to speak in whispers, but feeling fair otherwise. We thank the many friends who sent us cheering letters. Received two fine ones from Miss Ruth Matchett, of Lansing, and Miss Kate Wilson, of Flint, both teachers.

Forest Dewey, Hugh Muckamuck, for "100 per cent credit," met with quite a surprise Thursday evening when he walked into what he supposed was his meeting, near Bellaire, and greeted the crowd with "Abolish Imier." It was a Townsend meeting called by President W. M. Johnson, of Snowflake. However, the meeting went on all right under "100 per cent" and Townsend, too.

MARION

Quite a few of our young people attended the football game in East Jordan, Saturday.

Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. Taylor and daughter were callers at the Everett Crain home Sunday.

Mrs. Kenneth Moford, of Resort, spent a few days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pop.

Miss Bessie Straw, of Harbor Springs, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Straw.

Marion Center Grange held their hunt supper Saturday night with about 100 in attendance. A very good time was had by all.

Miss Christina Withers, who is attending school in Traverse City, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Withers.

COON SEASON WILL OPEN HERE ON NOVEMBER 1ST

Hunters will be able to unleash their 'coon dogs and go after one of Michigan's most popular game animals — the raccoon — beginning November 1.

The fall hunting season on raccoon in the Lower Peninsula opens on that day and remains open to and including December 15. State law does not permit an open hunting season on raccoon in the Upper Peninsula.

No two persons alike. After making each, the pattern was thrown away.

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT MAKES WINTER PLANS

Will Place Sand Containers on Dangerous Hills and Curves

Special safety measures to be included in the winter highway maintenance program were announced this week by the State Highway Department.

State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner said that metal containers filled with sand would be placed at hills and curves on trunkline highways for emergency use by truck drivers and other motorists. He will ask assistant district engineers in the field to indicate the number required in each county. He estimated that the number of containers would exceed 800.

"Our regular winter maintenance program calls for applying sand on all sections of the highways during slippery weather," said Commissioner Van Wagoner. "We can not, however, apply sand over the whole trunkline system at once, and emergencies are bound to arise. This will be especially true of trucks which travel almost constantly and occasionally are caught in an ice storm.

"By assisting truckers to keep their vehicles in motion we are making the roads safer for all types of traffic. Of course these same facilities will be available for other motorists who may need them."

The containers to be used are 50-gallon metal drums. Maintenance crews will check the containers to keep them well stocked with sand. Calcium chloride will be mixed with the sand to keep it from freezing and to make it stick to the ice. The container will be painted the standard orange color used on all highway equipment.

SEPTEMBER A SEVERE MONTH FOR PREDATORS

Bounty Trappers Set Record on Coyotes, Bobcats and Timber Wolves

September was a bad month in Michigan for the coyotes, bobcats and timber wolves.

Bounty hunters took one of the heaviest tolls of predatory animals on record since the bounty system went into ecect; it was the heaviest take of the year and cost the game protection fund of the state a total of $3,485. A total of 370 predators was certified for bounty payments through the various district conservation posts.

Bounties were paid on 333 coyotes, including 11 "pups"; 32 bobcats and five wolves. The kill of coyotes and the kill of wolves were the heaviest of the year. A noteworthy angle is that the catch of male coyotes exceeded that of female coyotes by 172 to 150.

OPEN SEASON ON FROGS WILL EXPIRE OCTOBER 31

The open season on frogs in Michigan expires October 31, fisheries authorities announce. State law allows a five-month season on frogs, beginning June 1.

DODGE HAS NEW LINE OF WIND-STREAM SIXES

Chassis Advances, Body Innovations Held Certain of Popular Interest

Announcement of the 1937 Dodge line—regarding which more than the usual crop of pre-season rumor has circulated—reveals an array of interesting features and a singularly impressive combination of eye-filling beauty and mechanical perfection.

Ten body styles will be available—business, rumble-seat and convertible coupes; 2-door sedan and 2-door touring sedan; 4-door sedan, 4-door touring sedan and convertible sedan; 7-passenger touring sedan and limousine. While the touring sedans are equipped with built-in trunks, the sedans have gracefully slanting lids in the rear body sections through which access in gained to roomy tire and luggage spaces. In coupe models, spare tires are carried back of folding seats.

Entirely New Bodies

The bodies of the 1937 Dodge line are entirely new; they are of all-steel construction, including the roofs which are integral with the remainder of the bodies. Not overly conspicuous yet sure to be appreciated in rainy weather are drip moldings sweeping over door and window openings.

Safety Is Keynote

The instrument panel of the new Dodge models is remarkable for safety features of its own. The instruments — speedometer, heat indicator, ammeter dial, fuel and oil gauges — are placed directly in front of the driver who in scanning them does not have to turn his eyes out of the direction in which the car travels.

Bodies Insulated from Chassis

In addition to insulating the bodies themselves, a decidedly novel body mounting method has been adopted in the newest Dodge models. The improvement involves the use of chassis outriggers equipped with rubber spools, through which chassis and body are prevented from being in actual metal-to-metal contact.

Full-Hydraulic Brakes

The brakes are of the genuine hydraulic type and of the construction that has made them, for a number of years, the feature of Dodge safe-stopping tests and demonstrations. Dodge brakes act on air-cooled brake drums of special iron having a high friction co-efficient and pronounced heat-dissipating qualities.

Also worthy of note among Dodge chassis details are: Patented floating power engine mountings; the Dodge synchro-silent three-speed transmission; a cowl recess in front of clutch and brake pedals giving extra toe room for the driver's feet; license plate bracket and illumination in the rear center of the body; air-cooling for the clutch mechanism and a clutch throw-out bearing with sealed-in lubrication; automatic engine choke for quick starting; seasonal carburetor adjustment; streamlined steel wheels with provisions for the easy attachment of tire chains; air-cooling and full voltage control for the current generator; an independent parking brake operating on the propeller shaft; arrangements for the installation of an extra radio speaker in the rear compartments of sedans, and many others.

Economy Again Rates High

Dodge engineers are emphatic in the statement that the operating economy of the company's latest product is fully equal, perhaps superior, to the economy which has distinguished Dodge automobiles in the past and has been the subject of considerable advertising and owner comment.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT

Community Intelligence Based Upon the Infant Mortality

It has been stated that the intelligence of a community be determined by its infant mortality rate. While this is not absolutely true, still we can say that the reduction of the infant mortality rate is a community problem in which the cooperation of general practitioners, obstetricians, pediatricians, public health officials and the lay community as a whole are involved. Public health officials cannot direct their efforts to control any disease properly without proper information. This same principle applies to infant deaths and unless the causes for the deaths are known, effective steps to prevent them cannot be undertaken.

It has been pointed out that the death rate of infants whose mothers received morphine or derivatives within four hours of their child's birth was greater than in those mothers who did not receive morphine. With the increasing tendency to use narcotics, analgesics and sedatives during labor, these facts should be borne in mind. Patients may demand shorter or more comfortable labor, but in attempting to bear more comfort to the mother, the risk for the babies may be definitely increased.

In order that the greatest benefit may be given infants as soon as possible after the birth is registered, the nurses of District Health Unit No. 3 make a call at the home, giving mothers proper instruction upon infant care. The nurse urges the mother to keep the baby under a private physician's care and distributes pamphlets giving important things to do each month for the baby. The nurse keeps in touch with the infants who are under a private physician to see that these babies are taken to their doctor regularly. To those not under private physicians, these are visited monthly by the nurse, in which each visit she continues to urge medical supervision. If the baby is ill or home conditions are undesirable, the nurse makes more frequent visits to see that the infant is getting proper care and medical attention. Whenever a nurse finds a baby in urgent need of medical care and home conditions are not proper for infant care, every possible effort is made to have the child hospitalized.

During 1935, in District Health Unit No. 3, comprising the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego, of the 33 babies that died under one month of age, 48.5 per cent were considered to be premature babies. That is, they were less than eight and one-half gestation, and were regarded as premature by the physician. No doubt the majority of these babies weighed under five pounds. Therefore, one of the greatest efforts of our Health Department in the reduction of infant mortality lies in the effort to save premature infants.

INTO OIL-PLATING YOUR ENGINE FOR WINTER

"My worst troubles never happen," the man with the worrying-habit finally admitted, you know

And for a good plain reason, the worst Winter engine troubles that you ever saw in print, simply don't happen after you change to Oil-Plating.

For Oil-Plating with patented Conoco Germ Processed oil makes sure that all engine parts have plenty to slide on, ALL THE TIME!

Before any mere "free flowing" old-type oil might even begin to flow, modern Oil-Plating has completely prevented ruinous drag on your engine, starter and battery. The reason is that patented Germ Processed oil, before returning to the crankcase, always leaves a long-lasting Plating of oil all the way up through your engine

Overnight, and even over days of Winter idleness for your car, this slippy Oil-Plating stays up—ready to start before you are! Then you needn't be scared of suffering one un-oiled start or one poorly oiled mile this Winter. Simply Oil-Plate today at the sign of Conoco Germ Processed oil. Continental Oil Company

WHY NOT PLANT A TREE?

Such is an ad in this paper of the nursery which this community has been benefited by.

We can well ask ourselves, are we appreciating to the full the benefits of our trees? Do we hold them in high esteem as we should? Are we doing all we can to encourage planting and doing our individual share in holding a proper tree balance

In Germany—we are told—it is a firm rule of economy to plant a tree whenever one is brought to the ground. How far short we have been in doing our part to keep the trees growing on for the generations to come?

We hope many of our readers will be awakened by the ad above referred to and plant trees for one good purpose or another.

FINAL PRIMARY ELECTION COUNT IS GIVEN

Figures Reveal Lead of Successful Candidates for Various Offices

The official canvass of votes in the September primary election, compiled by the Department of State, shows that there were 527,790 Republican votes cast to a total of 345,198 for Democratic candidates.

Former Governor Wilber M. Brucker, Republican candidate for United States senator, polled 328,560 votes against 199,204 for Senator James Couzens. On the Democratic side, United States Representative Prentiss M. Brown received 125,338 votes, Louis Ward, of Detroit, 117,338, Ralph W. Liddy, of Detroit, 71,963, and John H. Muyskens, of Ann Arbor, 29,935. The total vote cast for this office was 527,790 Republican and 345,198 Democratic.

Governor Fitzgerald polled 455,876 votes for Roscoe Conkling Fitch to win the Republican renomination. Frank Murphy won over George W. Welsh in the Democratic race, 278,967 to 130,537 votes. The totals were 509,172 Republican votes to 409,512 Democratic.

Former Lieutenant Governor Luren D. Dickinson, of Charlotte, won the Republican nomination over former Lieut.-Gov. Thomas Read, of Shelby, 245,973 to 212,347. Leo K. Nowicki topped the Democratic field for this office with 110,615 votes. He was followed by State Senator Leon D. Case, of Watervliet, with 99,521 votes.

CONSERVATION COMMISSION STANDS ON DEER RULINGS

The State Conservation Commission stands fast on its 1936 deer-hunting regulations. That, in effect, is what the commission told a delegation from Muskegon who asked that a commission order opening part of Muskegon county to deer-hunting this fall be rescinded.

Similar requests from several other counties in an area which will be open to deer-hunting for the first time in years, have been rejected by the commission.

NEW 1937 CHEVROLET WILL BE READY SOON

First Showing of New Models to Be Made Early In November

A total of $26,000,000 was expended in retooling and new machinery for the production of 1937 Chevrolet models, M. E. Coyle, president and general manager, has announced.

Coyle said this was the largest sum ever spent for a change of machinery over for a new model.

It is because of the complete redesigning of the 1937 models that such a sum was needed, Coyle said. The model, which was said to be an entirely new automobile from last year's car, will be announced early in November.

A total of $10,000,000 was spent in the plant at Flint; $6,000,000 at Detroit; $2,000,000 at Saginaw; $2,000,000 was divided between the parts factories and commercial body devisions at Muncie and Indianapolis, Ind., while a half million dollars was used at Bay City, and more than a half million dollars was spent by miscellaneous divisions.

RELIGIOUS COUNCIL CONVENTION FRIDAY

Annual Meeting to Be Held at Horton Bay Evangelical Church

The annual convention of the County Council of Religious Education will be held Friday afternoon and evening of this week, beginning at 2 o'clock, in the Evangelical church at Horton Bay.

A cooperative supper will be served at 6 p. m., and those attending are requested to bring table service. The entertaining church furnishes coffee, cream and sugar.

All Sunday school workers and others interested in religious education are invited.

LOCAL PERSONS HURT IN AUTOMOBILE MISHAP

Car Driven by Mrs. Fred DeCastro Overturned Near Blaney Park

Mrs. Fred DeCastro and children, Marie and Bobbie, and Mrs. Wayne Belding are recovering from injuries received Saturday when the automobile in which they were driving to Milwaukee, Wis., turned over in a ditch near Blaney Park, in the Upper Peninsula.

Mrs. Belding and Mrs. DeCastro were badly bruised, while Marie was cut about the face and Bobbie suffered a broken arm and other less serious injuries.

PROSPECTS FOR SUMMER AIR SERVICE ARE GOOD

The Traverse City Record-Eagle reports that a survey has been made of Northern Michigan by two of the largest airlines in the country to see whether air traffic conditions would warrant a summer mail and passenger schedule to the Upper Peninsula.

One of the lines has tentatively decided to operate such a line next summer with Traverse City as the only stop excepting the terminal point, which will be either St. Ignace or the Soo. It will not be very long before the people of Northern Michigan will have the same permanent passenger and mail service now being enjoyed by the larger cities.

MARION EXTENSION GROUP WILL MEET NEXT FRIDAY

The Marion Center extension group will meet at the Grange hall on Friday, October 23, for an all-day meeting, beginning at 10 a. m. Everyone is invited to attend.

Effective Date of Constitutional Amendments

Three of the four proposed amendments to the state constitution will, if approved by a majority of the voters expressing themselves on these questions, become operative 30 days after election day, Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, points out. The effective date of one of the proposals is provided for by the proposal itself.

The statement is in response to many inquiries on this point which have been sent to the Department of State.

Section 2, Article 17, of the State Constitution provides: "Every amendment shall take effect 30 days after the election at which it is approved," Atwood points out.

Proposal No. 1, relative to search and seizure, and Proposal No. 3, providing for exemptions of certain foodstuffs and prepared meals from the provisions of the retail sales tax, would thus become effective on December 3, if approved November 3.

Proposal No. 3, requiring the Legislature to provide general law for the incorporation of counties, would become part of the constitution at the same time as Proposals 1 and 3, but without effectiveness until the Legislature obeyed its mandates. Proposal No. 4, abolishing property taxes and authorizing the enactment of a graduated income tax, would become effective January 1, 1938, by the language of the proposed amendment itself, Atwood explains.

FIRST OF TRAPPING SEASON NOVEMBER 1ST

Legal to Take Muskrat In Upper Peninsula on That Date

The first of the fall and winter trapping seasons open in Michigan November 1.

Beginning on that date and continuing to and including January 31, it will be legal to trap opossum, skunk and badger throughout the state. The general game law imposes no day or season bag limits on trappers seeking these fur-bearers.

In the Upper Peninsula muskrat trappers may begin setting their traps for muskrat on November 1. The muskrat season in the Upper Peninsula closes on November 30.

The open seasons on trapping muskrat and raccoon in the Lower Peninsula are staggered. They are as follows:

North of north line of Town 16 N and west of Saginaw Bay from November 15 to December 15, inclusive, on both raccoon and muskrat.

South of north line of Town 16 and east of Saginaw Bay, including the Thumb, from December 1 to December 15, inclusive, on raccoon, and from December 1 to December 31, inclusive, on muskrat.

PETOSKEY AWARDED NATIONAL SKATING MEET

Amateurs to Compete There During 1937 Winter Carnivel

The National Outdoor Skating championships of the Amateur Skating Union of America will be held for the second successive year at Petoskey, on February 6 and 7, 1937.

Melvin W. Crawford, first vice-president of the Union, announced that the rink would be improved for the 1937 races. A six lap track will replace the eight lap track used last year.

Don Barnes, president of the Petoskey Winter Sports club, who accompanied Crawford to Cleveland over the week-end, announced that the championship races would again be the feature of the city's annual winter carnival.

SEEK REDUCTION IN STATE COAL RATES

Freight Cost Cut Is Planned by Michigan Chamber of Commerce

Plans of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce to seek a reduction of freight rates on coal shipped into Michigan have the approval of traffic directors of Chambers of Commerce and large industrial organizations of the state.

The traffic directors discussed the plans of the Michigan State Chamber at a meeting held at Lansing. They agreed freight rates on coal are excessive.

The Michigan Chamber proposes to ask a 50 cent per ton reduction in rates which would mean an annual saving of $10,000,000 to business and industry in the state. The chamber asserts there has been no reduction in rates since they were doubled "some 20 years ago."

Machines Can Take Michigan's Ballot

Not to exceed nine political parties will face Michigan's voters, on ballots or voting machines, November 3, Department of State records show.

Of interest in this connection is the fact that the modern style voting machine will not accommodate more than nine parties, without the machine adjustment by factory representatives. City clerks, in cities where voting machines are used, were concerned over the one-time possibility that paper ballots might have to be resorted to throughout the state. Fifteen parties originally filed their vignettes with Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state. No voting machine could accommodate them all.

Ten parties will face Wayne county voters as the candidates of one party will be confined to Wayne county races. Paper ballots are used in that county, however.

The order in which political parties are arranged on the ballot, is, under state law, determined by the number of votes cast for the several party candidates for lieutenant-governor at the last preceding general election. The nine parties certified to the ballot by the Department of State, in the order in which they will appear on the ballot, follows: Republican, Democratic, Socialist, Communist, Farmer-Labor, Socialist Labor, Commonwealth, American and The Third Party.

Six parties of the original fifteen will not be represented for a variety of reasons. No candidates' names were filed for the People's Progressive, National, Proletarian or Liberty parties. The candidates of the Progressive party withdrew. The slate of the United party was not accepted because of its failure to conform with state election law requirements.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Fessenden are expected home the latter part of this week from Muskegon, where they have been guests the past two weeks of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hahn. Mr. Hahn has opened a new drug store in Muskegon and Mr. Fessenden has been assisting him.

Rev. W. W. Hurd, now located at Three Oaks, has been confined at Blodgett Hospital, in Grand Rapids, much of the time since leaving here, according to word received by local friends. He has submitted to a second serious operation, the outcome of which is still in doubt, and on October 27 will learn if a third operation is necessary.

Walter F. Truettner, vice-president of the National Bank of Detroit and president of the Michigan Bankers' Association, also Harold Asplin, assistant cashier of the same institution, and Herman C. Wagner, executive vice-president of the Hackley Union National Bank, of Muskegon, were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bridge.

The Charlevoix delegation to the state O. E. S. convention at Grand Rapids returned Friday. They were Mrs. Robert Bonthron, Mrs. Angus L. Fochtman, Mrs. Frank Courier, Mrs. Harry Walstad, Mrs. C. S. Webster, Mrs. Chrles Bellinger, Fannie Siminow, Minnie Payton and Mrs. Glenn S. See. Mrs. See was appointed Grand Ruth by the new worthy grand matron.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank F. Bird have as guests this week their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Devere Bird, of Detroit. Monday guests at the Bird home included Mrs. Devere Bird's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Graham, also her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Will Graham, all of Adrian. Sunday guests were Mrs. Bird's sister, Mrs. R. V. Gunsolus, and daughters, Alice and Marie, and Samuel Persons, of East Jordan.

The October meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, held Friday at the home of Mrs. Thomas Milner, was largely attended. Mrs. Gladys Palmer was elected treasurer to succeed Mrs. George Kelderhouse, who is moving away from the city. Officers were installed and the new president, Mrs. Mary Kirby, took the chair. Mrs. Ethel Sandberg, president of the Excelsior Union, Detroit, was a visitor and spoke briefly. Mrs. A. J. Hamilton explained the four amendments to be voted on the November ballot. Gifts for the state convention souvenir booth were received. Other contributions may be left with Mrs. Floyd Ikens, Antrim street. Membership campaign honors for the past year were awarded to Group No. 3, Mrs. R. C. Molet, chairman.

MRS. WALLACE SAUNDERS HOSTESS AT BRIDGE PARTY MONDAY

Mrs. Wallace Saunders entertained at the home of Mrs. Lillian Crandell, on South Bridge street, Monday evening, with bridge.

Four tables were in play, honors going to Miss Berniee Lampheare, Mrs. Edw. Soblesky, of Petoskey, and Miss Monica Smith.

Other guests included Mrs. Hugh Mayne, Mrs. C. M. Bice, Mrs. F. R. Bulow, Mrs. Arthur Wexstaff, Mrs. Ray Kipke, Mrs. Walker Miles, Miss Lillian Manley, Miss Doris Solomon, Miss Florence Gibson, Mrs. Walter Bergeon, Miss Freda McMillan.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN ENJOYED MEETING FRIDAY

Were Guests at Ikens Home — Next Meeting Friday Afternoon

The Republican Women's Club met last Friday at the home of Mrs. Floyd W. Ikens, Antrim street.

A very interesting program was enjoyed. Mrs. Leo Carey, vice-president, presiding, and Mrs. C. E. Bailey in charge of program. Songs were sung and Mrs. Bailey reported on Landon's recent visit in Detroit. Arthur L. Fitch was the speaker of the afternoon. He read and explained the amendments on the November ballot, giving his point of view on each.

At the close of the meeting, Mrs. Ikens, assisted by Mrs. Albin Smith, served refreshments. The next meeting will be held at the court house at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, October 23.

FOOTBALL SQUAD HEAR "RED" GRANGE TALK TRAVERSE CITY

Coach Ray Kipke and 33 members of the Charlevoix football squad motored Wednesday evening to Traverse City to hear the famous "Red" Grange, former Illinois University football star.

Grange's appearance was sponsored by the Sinclair Refining Co., and football coaches and players from throughout Northern Michigan attended the meeting.

Why Not Plant a Tree?

Why not plant a tree—as an expression of a motive, a memorial that will endure?

Why not plant a tree, to mark the birthday of each of the children?

Why not plant a tree, as a marker of some special occasion of joyful remembrance?

Why not plant a tree to symbolize some outstanding event or experience in your own life?

Why not plant a tree to mark a meaningful historical event?

Why not give a tree, as real evidence of gratitude, to say, Mother or Father?

Why not "say it with a tree," so that you will be reminded of _____?

Why not have the joy and satisfaction that you have planted a tree, at least, and made this old world a little better place in which to live?

Why not have "a living Christmas Tree," by planting a spruce?

Why not have a tree to remind you of the daily blessings through the changing seasons?

Why not have a tree, your very own, to closely watch the marvelous growth and romantic maturity year by year?

Now is planting time!

Now Mother Nature has stopped the wheels of toil and growth to permit the moving of the tree from nursery now to permanent location. Now is the day to resolve to plant a tree for many good reasons not mentioned above. No reasonable amount of money will give a greater degree of satisfaction and pleasure and contentment and be assured of increasing joy.

Come to the nursery and pick out the perfect tree you want, or send a card, or phone for us to help you in any way, to plan with you, to arrange date or place of planting or review types best suited for the purpose.

We are here to serve you, small orders as well as larger ones receive our best attention. We will be planting until the soil freezes, but do not delay!

THE BANKER'S HARDEST JOB

Contrary to public opinion, the banker's hardest job is to say "No"!

A bank can only make money by loaning money — by selling the use of money in return for a reasonable fee—interest. Naturally we want to make loans.

But—a banker's first obligation is to the bank's depositors. Their funds must be returned at a specified time, either on demand or upon a certain due date. And when "rented out," adequate security must be left for them.

The banker's responsibility is complete. And the fact that your banker sometimes says "NO" is an indication of the safety of your bank.

Three Rivers, Mich., October 19, 1936.

The Editor,
The Charlevoix Courier
Dear Sir:

The other morning I was in at the Old Snug Rest'rant a little early and in came Butch Easterbrook and said: "I'm goin' t' have t' do somethin' with my trophies."

I asked him what trophies?—and he said principally his mounted pickerel heads which were down in the cellar where his butcher shop used to be—and he was going to move them to his new place. Then he said: "I'll never forget when I took 'em."

It was out at Fisher's Lake—Butch was fishing through the ice. He caught the two fish just an hour apart. One weighed 22 pounds—the other 20. And when he brought them in, Butch said, they had their back fins up—and they cut the ice just like a cross-cut saw. By the time he had hauled in the two pickerel the ice of the lake was cut to ribbons. Butch nearly slipped off the floating cakes three times, getting to shore. When he got to town he told Max Houghtaling, the iceman, about it, and that was the year Max didn't have to cut ice on the mill pond. And the only trouble with the ice-harvest at the lake was that so many cakes were round — where the pickerel pirouttted—that the cakes would roll out of Max's ice wagon.

Butch said: "Them was real pick-'rel! They don't grow 'em like that any more."

And after Buch went out I got to thinking this over — and I decided Max was in about the same boat with the fiddle-crackin' Demmycrats—that their cakes keep rollin' out of the back of the wagon — while here in Michigan Governor Fitzgerald has been cuttin' some good square chunks that stay put.

Maybe it's a pretty far cry from Butch's ice-cuttin' pick'rel to the present campaign, but I don't think so. And I think there's a lot to what Aunt Addie Orton said here a while ago about Old Granpap Cleveland. Old Granpap lived up near Tinkertowa—(Aunt Addie lives out south and east of town on the Anglin' Road)—and he had the loudest and biggest set of sleighbells in the county—so big and loud that you could hear 'em ten miles on a clear day and everyone would stop and listen and say:

"Here comes Granpap."

And Granpap Cleveland said that education would be the ruination of the nation yet.

He said that better'n fifty years ago and it begins to look as if he'd be about right since Professor Tugwell's loans have all gone bad—but there's still time to prove that Old Granpap was wrong—and elect somebody to put sleighbells like Granpap's on all Loans.

Anyway—that's the way it looks today—and winter ain't so far off either.

GREASE CHEAPER THAN METAL RUST

Big Saving In Farm Machinery by Giving Proper Care

There may be some question about whether it costs less to house machinery than to let it weather and depreciate faster, but there is no question that grease is cheaper than rust and wear, advises E. C. Sauve, assistant professor in agricultural engineering at Michigan State College.

Frequently Sauve is asked by a farmer, "How long will my tractor last?" There seems to be no specific answer, says Sauve, but for the purpose of estimating annual depreciation he approximates the average life of a tractor at ten years. Annual depreciation is thus ten per cent, and this estimate applies as well to other farm machinery.

"Depreciation in farm machinery is due to two causes, wear and deterioration from weather. Wear may be caused by necessity of producing work, while deterioration may be caused by neglect on the part of the owner in properly caring for his equipment.

"It need not be argued that such machines as tractors, combines, binders, mowers, hayloaders and plows should be placed under cover when not in use. These machines also will have years of additional life if they are given an occasional coat of paint."

Sauve suggests that polished working surfaces such as plow bottoms, coulters, cultivator shovels and harrow disks be protected from weathering by a coating of grease. Grease is cheap protection and should be used whenever it is advisable to prevent rusting and to insure better operation when the equipment again is put into use.

CHEVROLET PLANNING ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN

Will Use Newspapers Again to Put 1937 Models Before Public

Chevrolet's achievement of all-time sales records in 1936, under a policy which made newspapers the front line of the company's advertising offensive, has dictated continuance of that policy in 1937, and especially in the announcement of the forthcoming new models. This statement by C. P. Fisken, advertising manager, was a feature of an all-day party which Chevrolet held for 300 newspapermen this week.

"The 1937 models are the finest Chevrolet has ever built," said Mr. Fisken. "And the advertising behind them measures up to the product itself. Last year and for several years back, we have relied primarily upon newspaper space to get our message across to the public. In light of the amazing sales achievements of 1936, it is hardly necessary to justify to you our intention of adhering to that policy this year. The newspaper will be the foundation of our advertising effort."

A Republican State NEEDS A Republican Senator

In Michigan, 82 years ago, the Republican Party was born. We are, by every tradition, a Republican State, and need Republican representation in the Senate of the United States. By electing Wilbur M. Brucker—we shall send to Washington a man who understands the problems and needs of the people of this State, and who has established a permanent record for honest, loyal and efficient public service.

SERVED AS ATT'Y. GENERAL AND GOVERNOR

Elect Former Gov. WILBUR M. BRUCKER U. S. SENATOR

REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE

The MARCH of POLITICS

By JOHN H. O'BRIEN

If there were not so many issues, both legitimate and false, being discussed over the aid, in the press, and by speakers the Social Security Act would be the subject of debate from one end of the United States to the other.

This act, quietly enacted in the midst of other New Deal legislation, will affect every man, woman, and child in the United States all of their lives, yet millions of those affected know little about it. Many have never heard of it at all.

Yet part of the act has been in operation for the past year and the complete act becomes operative on January 1st.

Workers all over the nation are just discovering that one per cent of their pay will be automatically deducted by their employers. This percentage will increase until, by 1949, three per cent wil be deducted.

There can be little criticism of the Social Security theory, but it is generally agreed that this act is a bad piece of egislation and that it does great barm to the cause of Security.

There are two major faults with the act. The first is that there is no guarantee that, after a huge fund is accumulated from the pockets of employer and employe, it will ever be paid back to workers as either pension or unemployment insurance. The act does not provide for it and there is no reason why, in a period of business depression, the Congress can not appropriate the money for anything it pleases.

The second major fault is that life insurance that would include the same pension features can be purchased at a saving of 40 per cent.

There are numerous minor faults all of which can be lumped under the general heading of Regimentation. The worker and his employment history has heretofore remained his own business unless, when seeking employment, he is asked to give an accounting of himself. Now his permanent record from the time he comes under the provision of the act as a young man until he dies will be on file in Washington. He will be numbered. Other means of identification will be used.

From the employers' standpoint, and employers under the act are those having eight employes or more, his payroll is no longer his own business. It wil be available for competitors, even though the administrators of the act may not mean it to be.

The cost of the provisions of the act will come, of course, out of the consumer. The employer wil simply add the cost of the payroll tax on to his product.

To receive an annuity for which he has contributed from one to three per cent of his saary, the worker must cease working. He must give up gainful employment to take a pension which at its maximum will be $85 a month. Most of the pensions will be much lower.

The burden of paying into the fund will be borne upon the back of the young worker for many years. He will not only have to provide for his own pension, but he will have to help accumulate a surplus to take care of the present older generation.

There are several other faults in the act, both immediate and prospective. It has been attacked by the very persons who have fought for years for Social Security legislation. It was the subject of one of Governor Landon't major speeches in his campaign. The defense offered has been vague; either its faults are to be corrected or "some legislation is better than not any."

The Social Security Act remains a perfect example of ill-considered, hastily-enacted New Deal legislation. Here again, as in so many other fields of liberal political philosophy, the New Deal has taken the credit for progressive legislation — legislation that in truth does more harm than good to the cause of humanitarian government.

PASTURE IMPROVEMENT GREATEST ON RECORD

Situation Brings Heavy Increase In Production of Milk

The wonderful recovery of pasture conditions during September was the greatest of any year since records became available in the office of the Michigan Cooperative Crop Reporting Service. Th long drought period in the summer dried up pastures to an extent that little recovery seemed possible during the remainder of the season.

The condition on August 1 was 35 per cent of normal and continued to decline until raina came during the last half of the month which raised the percentage to 41 on September 1. Frequent rains in more than normal amounts since that date were responsible for pastures attaining the high condition of 82 per cent on October 1, the highest for that date in ten years.

Milk production reports showed an increase of 10 per cent during September in the average flow of milk per cow, due in considerable part to the improved pasture situation.

MORE ACREAGE BURNED FORESTS THIS SEASON

Conservation Dept. Reports Shows 2,389 Fires Burning 49,200 Acres

The latest official reports on forest-fire losses in Michigan thia year show that 2,389 fires occurred and 49,200 acres were burned over.

These are not the final figures, conservation authorities say. It is expected that fires will continue to occur this fall, particularly during hunting seasons and if the woods are dry.

Heavy rains have reduced fire hazards in the Upper Peninsula, where the fire season is comparatively short. "In the Lower Peninsula conditions usually are dicerent and the hunting season may bring us serious fire hazards yet this year, particularly if the weather happens to be dry," said H. R. Sayre, in charge of fire prevention and suppression.

	Acres Burned
1935	18,119
1934	53,016
1933	202,090
1932	39,033
1931	282,979

So far this year the total number of fires reported is the lowest since 1928.

CAUTION AT NIGHTFALL

Dusk bas been called a poetic hour for lovers; but the tricky half-light of swiftly falling night is the zero hour for motor car disasters.

No one can see as well on the edge of nightfall. If the weather is bad, if winter is at hand, the hazards are doubled. Rain, snow, fog—all these add greatly to the hazards of twilight.

Be extra cautious if you are driving. Some motorists hesitate to turn on their headlights early. Others who have been driving long distances forget to reduce their speed when twilight settles down.

Watch your step, if you are a pedestrian. Many eyes are defective and adjust themselves to darkness slowly. Your eyes may be all right, it is true; but how about the driver of the next speedy car? Your dark figure cannot be seen easily on roads where there are no sidewalks. Make a habit of having something white on your person on which reflected light will gleam. Walk on the side facing traffic. It may save your life.

From the point of view of some people the era that ended in 1929 will not be liquidated until every man is reduced to a single pair of pants.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

State Ram Truck to Again Visit County

The Michigan Sheep Breeders' Association is again sponsoring the ram truck. The rams will be mostly yearlings of good type and will be representative individuals of their respective breeds. The rams have been selected by Delmer H. LaVoi, extension specialist in animal husbandry of the Michigan State College. In their selection special attention has been given to their usefulness for service on grade flocks and especially to the production of market lambs, wool. The ram truck will stop at the Boyne City Co-Op on Tuesday forenoon, October 27, beginning promptly at 10 a. m. Mr. LaVoi will give a demonstration on the selection of lambs for market and the points to consider in the selection of a ram.

All rams are purebred and are purchased with the guarantee that they are breeders. The registration papers will be taken care of by the association and transfers made to the purchaser.

The rams will be priced according to their value and quality and will range from $25 up. Any special orders sheep men care to leave with the county agent will be forwarded to Mr. LaVoi and special selections made. If you are interested in buying a ram at a certain price and of a certain quality, be sure to inform your county agent so that your order can be taken care of.

Remember the ram truck will be at the Boyne City Co-Ops Tuesday forenoon at 10 o'clock.

Antrim-Charlevoix Potato and Apple Show on Saturday, October 31

Farmers are becoming interested in the approaching potato and apple show. The program is being developed and will be announced in next week's paper. Headlining the program will be talks by Prof. H. C. Moore, specialist in potatoes, and V. H. Hootman, specialist in horticulture. A big banquet will be held Saturday night with no doubt 150 in attendance.

All exhibits must be in place by noon so that they may be judged early in the afternoon. A feature of the exhibit will be the display by the 4-H club and Smith-Hughes members. They have been busily engaged for the past two weeks in selecting their samples.

Approximately $270 will be spent in staging this show, which will assure a much higher premium list than formerly. It is expected that the best exhibits will be saved for the Kalkaska show, which comes on November 10, 11 and 12.

In the apple division all of the leading producers in the county are selecting their exhibits. This will make some real hot competition, as the best exhibits at the Gaylord Top O' Michigan potato and apple show have always come from these two counties. If you want to see a real show and enjoy a splendid evening, make your plans now to attend the Antrim-Charlevoix Potato and Apple Show, to be held in East Jordan, Saturday, October 31.

AT THE MOVIES

Star Cast In "Dodsworth"

Sinclair Lewis' "Dodsworth," which thrilled millions as a novel and as a stage play, now comes to the screen in Samuel Goldwyn's film production which begins a two day run at the Palace Theatre, October 24, with Walter Huston, Ruth Chatterton, Paul Lukas, Mary Astor and David Niven in the leading roles.

"The First Baby" Stars Two Screen Youngsters

Two engaging youngsters win their big film chance together in "The First Baby," comedy-romance of newlywed love at the Palace Theatre, October 26-27.

They are Johnny Downs, the candid youngster of "Everybody's Old Man," and lovely Shirley Deane, for years a member of the 20th Century-Fox stock group.

Joneses Travel "Back to Nature"

The Jones Family, America's favorite film folks, go "Back to Nature" in a trailer with all the comforts of home in the new Twentieth-Century-Fox picture that opens October 28 at the Palace Theatre, heralded as the best picture in the series that the happy, scrappy family has appeared in.

Featuring Jed Prouty, Shirley Deane, Dixie Dunbar, Tony Martin, Spring Byington, Kenneth Howell, George Ernest, Florence Roberts and Billy Mahan, "Back to Nature" is a merry film of the Joneses turning the great outdoors upside down as they trail the domance trail in a trailer.

"How Bill Collected Two Bucks," a fast-moving story which tells how a hick taught some smart city gangsters their last lesson, appears in This Week, the magazine with Sunday's Detroit News. Don't fail to read this thrilling yarn by Ray S. Ayer, well-known Detroit author.

TEBOE-SMITH WEDDING SOLEMNIZED ON SUNDAY

Ellsworth Couple United at Baptist Parsonage by Rev. Rauch

The Baptist parsonage was the scene of a happy occasion Sunday, when Miss Alice Teboe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Teboe, and Harry Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith, were married. Both reside at Ellsworth.

Rev. W. H. Rauch read the double ring ceremony in the presence of immediate relatives and friends. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Milford Tyrell, of Antrim City.

MRS. JULIA SHRIER OBSERVED 81ST ANNIVERSARY ON SUNDAY

Mrs. Julia Shrier, well known local woman, observed her 81st birthday anniversary Sunday.

With her were her daughter, Mrs. L. B. Atchison, and grandchildren, Julia May Atchison and Mrs. Delbert A. Wells, of Traverse City, also her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Fowler, this city.

Mrs. Shrier received many beautiful remembrances of the occasion.

PILGRIM CIRCLE OBSERVED 25TH ANNIVERSARY LAST WEDNESDAY

The members of the Pilgrim Circle of the Congregational Ladies' Aid Society with a few guests gathered last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. N. A. Shores to celebrate the 15th anniversary of their organization.

Novel requests in rhyme attached to miniature aprons asked that pennies equal in number to the waist measure in inches be returned in the huge pocket. The waist lines totaled over 1500 inches and netted the circle more than one dollar for each year of its organization.

The program opened with singing "The More We Get Together," and closed with "Blest Be the Tie," led by Mrs. Neal Kemp. The president, Mrs. Walker Miles, expressed her pleasure in her association with the group. Mrs. Comfort's witty response in rhyme to the request for pennies was read.

High points in the circle's history were given in a sketch entitled "Fifteen Short Years." The membership had increased from 26, the first year, to 61 at the present time. Messages of congratulation were read from Miss Hettie Bennett, Mrs. Charles Linklater, Mrs. E. R. Widmyer, Mrs. H. D. Dean and Mrs. Sula Kaiser, former members. Also from Mrs. G. R. Parker, the pastor's wife.

Mrs. Shores sang two German songs. Mrs. Swinton gave a recitation. Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Shores and Mrs. Sass responded to a request for reminiscences.

A lovely birthday cake decorated with lighted candles was a part of the refreshments. Mesdames Miles, Kemp, Bergman, Bridge and Hutzler were the committee in charge of the event, which was one of the happiest of the many happy meetings which this group of women have enjoyed together.

Numerous patrons and good catches of steelhead trout over the week-end are reported by the Charlevoix Trolling Camp.

Included among the visitors were Mr. and Mrs. John C. Corcoran, the former treasurer and manager of the Alabastine Co., Grand Rapids, also Mr. and Mrs. Omar K. Jarrid and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hall, the men executives of the same concern.

Others included Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Burgess, of Galesburg, Mich., and here for several days this week are Bennie Fry, of Cleveland, well known National Baseball League pitcher, and his brother.

LOW PRICE '37 CARS WILL HAVE HYPOID REAR AXLES

Plymouth First to Bring Important Feature Into Low Price Field

A major change in rear axle design for 1937 cars in the low price field was confirmed here today by sources close to the Plymouth Motor Corporation.

Definite changes in the new Plymouth models were said to include an improved hypoid rear axle, formerly limited to high priced cars. It marks the first time this valuable feature will be included in automobiles built for the low price bracket.

D. S. Eddins, Plymouth president, refused to confirm or deny the report. He said that all details of the 1937 models are being closely guarded until public announcement time in early November.

DISTRICT HEALTH UNIT BULLETIN

Infantile Paralysis Causes Deformity

Infantile paralysis is responsible for one-third of the serious handicapped children in the State of Michigan. This disease is seasonal, and, therefore, can be expected to occur at the end of July, increasing through August, culminating about the first week in September, and gradually dies away as colder weather approaches. It is essentially a disease of young children and a dangerously communicable one.

In District Health Unit No. 3, comprising the counties of Antrim, Charlevoix, Emmet and Otsego, the incidence of poliomyelitis, better known an infantile paralysis, has been on the decline since 1931 when there were 28 cases known; the years 1932 and 1933 no cases were reported; in 1934 two cases were known to occur, and last year, 1935, ten cases were known, of which one proved fatal to the child.

The disease may be transmitted by one who is suffering from the disease or who is a carrier, the germs leaving the body in the secretions of the mouth and nose and in the body discharges. Before the disease has advanced to the stage of paralysis, one may possibly detect some of the following symptoms which occur in infantile paralysis, such as a constant fever, constant vomiting, constipation, pain in neck, extreme drowsiness, tremor or twitching of muscle groups, convulsions, stiffness of neck and especially of the back, changes in reflexes and profuse sweating which is often an early symptom. A physician should be called immediately when any of these symptoms are recognized in order to avoid the disabled condition that often results from this disease. Proper care and treatment usually bring about improvement during the first year and prevent permanent deformity.

For about six to twelve weeks until all the fever and pain are gone, rest is the only right treatment. It is best ot make the patient as comfortable as possible so that it will not be necessary for him to move, even to feed himself, for the slightest movement hurts his neck and back. Heat is always a comfort and helps to relieve pain. When pain and tenderness are gone, exercise can be of greater aid. Exercises which the child may take by himself, regularly, systematically and daily will start the muscles working. It is best not to allow him to overdo.

Conditions vary with the individual and until the patient is discharged by the physician, the orders and instructions given by the doctor should be implicitly followed in order to avoid any disastrous results which cause crippling effects for years and sometimes for life. Even if the arms and legs are paralyzed, their condition can be improved by promptly seeking the advice or attention of a skilled orthopedist.

Stage Stars Throw Bottles Again! Paris Pleased

An article in The American Weekly, with next Sunday's Detroit Times, tells how Paris decided the good old days returning, after the famous Opera Comique baritone threw a chair at the orchestra leader, somebody threw a seltzer bottle at the contralto and somebody else hit the soprano with a wine bottle after the two prima donnas had pulled each other's hair.

OTTO W. BISHOP

Nominee on the Republican Ticket for Re-election to the Office of

STATE SENATOR

From the Twenty-Ninth Senatorial District

The following letters were received by him immediately after the close of the last session of the Legislature:

Dear Senator Bishop:

I am taking this means of expressing to you the appreciation of the officers and members of the MICHIGAN STATE FARM BUREAU for the valuable services you rendered to your rural constituents and to agriculture generally during the recent session of the Legislature.

The two principal measures on the Farm Bureau legislative program this year were rural school relief and the exemption from sales tax of articles used by farmers in agricultural production.

You supported these and many other measures of vital concern to the farming industry, and I am sure that your record will be favorably remembered by the FARM BUREAU and by farmers everywhere.

Sincerely yours,
C. E. BRODY, Executive Secretary,
Michigan State Farm Bureau.

Dear Senator Bishop:

Commendation is certainly due you in connection with your efforts on behalf of the Northern Sanatorium and also in straightening out the difficulties concerning the subsidy changes that were tacked on to the Northern Sanatorium bill. As President of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association I want to thank you for your interest in this field endeavor.

Respectfully yours,
BRUCE H. DOUGLAS, M. D., President
Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

My Dear Senator:

As the Legislative session draws to a close, I take this occasion to express my appreciation of the splendid manner in which you have represented the people of your district, and of the loyal support you have consistently given me in my endeavors. We have worked for what we knew to be right.

Your association and splendid cooperation have been one of the rewards of the first five months of my incumbency as Governor. I sincerely hope our friendly relations may continue in private, as well as public life.

Very sincerely yours,
FRANK D. FITZGERALD.

Mr. Bishop again promises to aggressively represent the interests of the Twenty-Ninth Senatorial District in the State Legislature.

NEXT TUESDAY IS GENERAL ELECTION

NINE PARTIES HAVE CANDIDATES ON BALLOT

National, Congressional, State and County Officers, Four Amendments Come Before Voters

Voters of the United States will go to the polls next Tuesday, November 3, for the national general election.

In the hands of these voters rests the fate of the country's two major political organizations—the tottering Democratic party, in power since the Roosevelt landslide four years ago, and the Republican party, visioning a turn in public sentiment which may return it to the White House.

That Michigan's vote is of paramount importance is recognized by both parties. Traditionally Republican until four years ago, this state entered the Democratic ranks. Two years ago Michigan split the state tirket between the Democratic and Republican parties, but Republican leaders are confident that Tuesday's results will see a complete return to the G. O. P.

The 1936 ballot contains names of candidates of nine parties instead of ten, as in 1932. In addition to the major parties above named, are the Socialist, Communist, Farmer-Labor, Socialist - Labor, Commonwealth, American and Third Party. Voters will also be confronted with four proposed amendments to the State Constitution.

As far as party issues are concerned, Charlevoix voters will likely confine their interest to the Republican and Democratic candidates and, unless precedents fail, will cast a decided Republican majority. Heightening local interest is the appearance of two Charlevoix candidates on the ballot for state representative, R. F. Sloan on the Democratic ticket, and Frank Novotny on the Socialist.

Following are the candidates of the two major parties:

National

For President — Rep., Alfred M. Landon; Dem., Franklin D. Roosevelt.

For Vice-President — Rep., Frank Knox; Dem., John N. Garner.

State

For Governor — Rep., Frank D. Fitzgerald; Dem., Frank Murphy.

For Lieutenant Governor — Rep., Luren D. Dickinson; Dem., Leo J. Nowicki.

Secretary of State—Rep., Orville E. Atwood; Dem., Leon D. Case.

State Treasurer—Rep., Howard M. Warner; Dem., Theodore I. Fry.

Attorney General—Rep., David H. Crowley; Dem., Raymond W. Starr.

Justice Supreme Court — Rep., Harry S. Toy; Dem., Bert D. Chandler.

Congressional

U. S. Senator — Rep., Wilber M. Brucker; Dem., Prentiss M. Brown.

U. S. Representative — Rep., Herbert J. Rushton; Dem., John Luecke.

Legislative

Senator, 29th District—Rep., Otto W. Bishop; Dem., Thomas E. Baker.

Representative, Charlevoix District —Rep., Douglas D. Tibbits; Dem., Robert F. Sloan.

County

Judge of Probate—Rep., Ervan A. Ruegsegger; Dem., William H. Webster.

Prosecuting Attorney — Rep., C. Meredith Bice.

Sheriff — Rep., Floyd W. Ikens; Dem., George Hanson.

County Treasurer—Rep., Lillis M. Flanders; Dem., Mattie M. Dean.

Register of Deeds—Rep., Frank F. Bird; Dem., Pearl I. McHale.

Circuit Court Commissioner—Rep., Rollie L. Lewis.

Drain Commissioner—Rep., James Simmons.

Coroners — Rep., F. F. McMillan, Schuyler R. Stocking; Dem., George W. King.

Surveyor — Rep., Samuel A. Tokoly.

Road Commissioner—Rep., William F. Tindall; Dem., Daniel Swanson.

Election polls in Charlevoix's central voting place in the library building will be open from 7 a. m. until 8 p. m.

HASTINGS FISHERMAN CAPTURED A PRIZE STEELHEAD SUNDAY

What is believed to be the largest steelhead trout taken on trolling tackle from Lake Charlevoix was caught Sunday by Harold I. Smith, of Hastings.

Smith's prize, caught on a Baby June Bug spinner, weighed an even 12 pounds, was 30 inches in length, and had a girth of 16¾ inches.

Smith, fishing from the Charlevoix Trolling Camp, was a member of a party of five composed of Cleo Berry, H. W. Brockway and L. D. Pierce, of Hastings, and R. E. Adams, of Kalamazoo. The party landed four other steelhead in addition to the prize fish.

HIGHWAY REVENUES HIT A NEW RECORD

Charlevoix County Gets $13,896.11 Out of $22,000,000 Return

Yearly returns to the counties from state highway revenues have passed the $22,000,000 mark for the first time in the history of the state.

The record amount was made known as Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, turned over vouchers totaling $3,246,365 to Auditor General John J. O'Hara as the third-quarter payments to the counties from weight tax receipts.

Charlevoix county's share is $13,896.11.

AMENDMENTS ENDANGER SCHOOLS

VOTERS ARE URGED TO OPPOSE NUMBERS 3 AND 4

Disruption of Education and Local Governments Certain If Amendments Pass Next Tuesday

Charlevoix voters will be confronted with four amendments to the State Constitution at Tuesday's general election, and attention is called by the Board of Education to the results to be expected locally in case Amendments 3 and 4 are passed.

School District Taxes	$10,500
Tuition	5,000
Primary Money	7,600
State Aid	17,000

Passage of Amendment 4 would eliminate the district taxes and practically eliminate the primary money.

Amendment 3, abolishing sales tax on certain food products, would affect schools, welfare and old age pensions. It would cut down the state aid at least one-third and the state paid tuition one-third.

Unless the results are thoroughly understood, it is generally considered good policy to vote "No" on any amendment to change the Constitution. Many not being familiar with the situation do not vote at all on amendments, thus the danger of passage of harmful ones. Everyone is urged to get out this year and vote "No" on Amendments 3 and 4 to avoid disruption of schools and local governments.

BELOVED LOCAL WOMAN IS TAKEN BY DEATH

Mrs. Joseph Gornell Succumbed Tuesday After Week's Illness

Mrs. Joseph Gornell, well known local woman, died Tuesday evening at her Antrim street home following a week's illness. Her sudden passing was a shock to her family and friends.

Alice Horne was born at Shipley, England, May 16, 1885. She was united in marriage to Joseph Gornell in the Bankfort Parish church, England, May 17, 1911. Mr. Gornell came to America in 1914, just before the declaration of war by Germany. Mrs. Gornell did not follow him until September, 1919. She came directly to Charlevoix and had since made her home here.

Mrs. Gornell is survived by her husband; a brother, Joseph Horne, England; two nieces, Mrs. Martin Doctor and Mrs. Harry Southerland, both of Muskegon.

She was an active member of the Congregational church, the Pilgrim Circle and Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Definite funeral plans have not been made, but will probably be held Saturday, at the Congregational church.

CLOSE FOOTBALL SEASON SATURDAY

ROGERS CITY COMES HERE FOR FINAL CONTEST

Charlevoix Rayders Defeated Light Harbor Springs Team by 14 to 0 Score Here Last Week

Charlevoix pushed over two touchdowns in the first half to defeat a light but determined Harbor Springs football team by a 14 to 0 score here Saturday afternoon.

Failing to gain after receiving the kick-off, Harbor punted to their own 30-yard line and it took Charlevoix exactly two plays to chalk up the first touchdown. Shapton romped 15 yards after taking a lateral from Radle, who on the next play skirted left end for the remaining distance and then place-kicked the extra point.

The game was only a few minutes older when almost the same thing happened. Radle passed to Carey for 10 yards from Harbor's 30. Shapton then romped across the goal only to be called back because of a penalty.

A Harbor fumble paved the way for Charlevoix's next touchdown early in the second period. Starting from mid-field, Radle advanced 15 yards on two plays. Shapton added five, Radle another 15, Nowland 11 for a first down on Harbor's 10-yard line, Shapton advanced two yards and Radle went around left end for the touchdown. He also place-kicked the extra point.

That ended Charlevoix's scoring and, with several substitutes in the line-up, the Rayders were on the short end of the battle in the third period. Herrick, who did about everything in the football category for Harbor, spoiled a touchdown opportunity for his team in the third period when, after romping 58 yards, he stepped out of bounds on Charlevoix's one-yard line. On the next four plays Harbor lost three yards and a chance to score, while Charlevoix showed it had a stubborn defense when the occasion demanded.

Charlevoix had the upper hand in the last quarter and, while failing to score, was touchdown-bound when the final whistle ended the contest.

Charlevoix will close its 1936 football schedule Saturday when they meet Rogers City at south side athletic field. Rogers has lost only to the powerful Boyne City team so far this season and will provide probably the stiffest competition Charlevoix has had.

SMALL GAME SEASON HAS TAKEN TWO LIVES

Eight Wounded Reported Following First Week Open Season

Two hunters were killed and eight wounded, one a woman, as the direct result of gun accidents during the first two days of the small-game hunting season in the Lower Peninsula. In addition, two hunters died from heart attacks.

During the entire small-game season last year, 16 hunters were killed and 36 wounded as a result of gun accidents.

POTATO AND APPLE SHOW SATURDAY

PLANS COMPLETED FOR CHARLEVOIX-ANTRIM EXHIBIT

Event at East Jordan Expected to Be Most Successful Ever Held Locally—Fine Program Arranged

(By B. C. Mellencamp)

The Antrim-Charlevoix Potato and Apple Show gives every evidence of being the most successful event of its kind ever held locally.

All exhibits are to be in place before noon on Saturday, October 31, at the East Jordan High school. Immediately after dinner, Prof. H. C. Moore, specialist in potatoes, and H. D. Hootman, specialist in horticulture, will judge the potatoes and apples respectively.

The public is invited to see the exhibits during the afternoon and evening. Arrangements have been made to have all exhibits in place at the conclusion of the program in the evening so that all late comers can see the splendid display.

The 4-H club boys and Smith-Hughes project members will have an exhibit representing their particular project. Over $250 in premiums is being offered. Ribbons will be awarded the winners.

The banquet will be served at 6:30 by the M. E. Ladies' Aid Society. That is sufficient assurance of a wonderful meal.

For the program, Harry A. Riley, of Bellaire, will act as toastmaster. Kit Carson, mayor of East Jordan, will give the address of welcome. Miss Susan Porter will play two harp selections. The 4-H club orchestra from the Hopyard school will furnish music throughout the program. Charles Shepard, of East Jordan, will give several dialogues. The speakers on the program will be C. W. Wing, of Alba, and the two representatives of the Michigan State College. At the conclusion of the program, Ken Oosterhout, county agent of Antrim county, will announce the winners. A most wonderful time is assured each and every one attending the show. Remember, Saturday, October 31, at the East Jordan High school. Will see you then.

COUNTIES WILL JOIN IN HONOR OF COUZENS

Meeting at Traverse City State Hospital Scheduled for Sunday

Twenty-two Northern Michigan counties will unite Sunday at Traverse City to pay tribute to the late Senator James Couzens and the program will take place at the Traverse City State Hospital auditorium where Senator Couzens made his last public appearance when he dedicated the Central Michigan Children's Clinic on June 24.

On the program will be William J. Norton, secretary-manager of the Children's Fund of Michigan, the Senator's pet charity, who was among Couzens' closest friends. Also on the program will be James T. Milliken, member of the state hospital commission, and several nurses and physician who have worked under the Children's Fund.

Perhaps the most effective tribute to Senator Couzens will be short talks by two children, both receiving treatment at the Central Michigan Children's Clinic, the gift of Senator Couzens to Northern Michigan.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY SHARES NATION DEBT

Depression Relief Has Cost $912,000 to County Taxpayers

Michigan's 83 counties are holding the bag to the tune of $506,880,000 as their share of the Roosevelt national debt of $36,000,000,000. The share of Charlevoix county is $912,000.

In estimating the county's share of the total state deficit two-thirds weight was given to the county's assessed valuation and one-third to population.

Inasmuch as President Roosevelt has said "Taxes are paid in the sweat of every man who labors" the investigation of the amounts owed by counties showed that the burden of New Deal spending falls the heaviest in all Michigan counties on those who have jobs, own property, or rent a home or farm.

The present estimated national debt is $36,000,000,000 and to learn your county's share of this tremendous sum multiply your county's deficit quota by three.

TODD EMPLOYED AS ACTIVITY DIRECTOR

PLACED IN PERMANENT POSITION BY COUNCIL

Action Taken Upon Recommendation of Board of Commerce and Business and Professional Men

Gordon Todd, who has acted as activities director for the Board of Commerce during the past summer season, was placed on the city payroll by the council Monday as a permanent director of resort promotional activities.

The city council took its action upon the recommendation of directors of the Board of Commerce and a group of business and professional men who appeared in sponsorship of the proposal and individually stated their views on the matter.

More definitely defined, Mr. Todd's duties will follow the same lines as last summer when he directed two tennis tournaments, other sports activities such as golf tournaments, water carnivals and boat parade, provided the city's personal contact with visiting yachtsmen and tourists, handled the distribution of literature and advertising, the licensing of transient merchants and numerous other duties. During the winter he will handle cooperative civic and business activities, serve as the city's representative in lining up conventions, boat cruises, etc., as well as direct winter sports and recreational activities.

Mr. Todd's work last summer filled a requirement long needed in Charlevoix and his permanent employment in the capacity of activities director is considered a forward step in Charlevoix's efforts to promote the resort industry.

The council set the voting hours for the general election of Tuesday, November 3, between the hours of 7 a. m. and 8 p. m.

The matter of purchasing a new Diesel unit for the municipal electric light department came up for general discussion and was referred back to committee for further investigation.

WHITEFISH CLOSED SEASON NOVEMBER 5

Lift Ban on Lake Trout Fishing Lake Michigan November 4

Michigan commercial fishermen will observe a legal holiday on whitefish next month to give the species a chance to spawn and replenish their supplies in the Great Lakes.

On November 1 a 26-day closed season on whitefish goes into effect on Lake Superior, coming to an end November 26, inclusive. In other Great Lakes waters under Michigan's jurisdiction the closed whitefish season begins on November 5 and continues to and including December 15.

A 26-day closed season on lake trout in Lake Superior, Huron, St. Clair and Erie ends on November 4. In Lake Michigan the closed season on lake trout extends from October 20 to November 14, inclusive.

CHILD HEALTH LEAGUE MEETS NEXT WEDNESDAY

The Charlevoix unit of the Child Health League will meet Wednesday, November 4, at the home of Mrs. E. J. Edwards, Belvedere avenue.

The unit now includes the townships of Norwood, Marion, Hayes and Charlevoix.

Everyone is welcome to attend.

LOOK FOR "STREAM-LINED" STEELHEADS

CLIP FINGERLING FINS IN EXPERIMENT HERE

Fisheries Research Institute Expert Marking Steelhead to Learn Migratory Habits, Growth

While in reality an experiment being conducted here is primarily to learn the migratory habits of steelhead trout, the result in a certain measure is producing "stream-lined" fish.

Under the direction of Dr. David S. Shetter, in charge of tagging operations of the Institute for Fisheries Research, Conservation Department of Michigan, five thousand steelhead fingerlings reared by the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club at the Stover Creek rearing ponds, are being marked by removal of the small dorsal and adapose fins. The practice, common with salmon trout on the west coast and in Alaska, is brought to Michigan for the first time. The clipping method, it was explained by Dr. Shetter, is used when the fish are too small for tagging.

The purpose of marking the steelhead is to learn their migratory habits, rapidity of growth, etc. The sportsman catching one of the marked fish after their release, will be asked to report the waters it is taken from and the length to the Department of Conservation or to the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club. In order that the fish may be easily identified, cards bearing a photograph of the fish after being marked, will be posted throughout Michigan and states adjoining Lake Michigan. Through these reports will be learned the distance a steelhead travels from its birthplace, its growth, etc.

In addition to his work with steelhead trout, Dr. Shetter while here is also making a study of smelt, of which thousands are now being caught. A large number of these fish will be caught, tagged and released.

At the present time the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club is feeding 35,000 steelhead trout ranging from five to seven inches in length. When weather conditions prohibit keeping them longer, they will be released in Lake Charlevoix, which has become famous throughout the United States for its steelhead fishing.

REPUBLICANS HELD AN ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

Parade Preceded Program of Talks and Entertainment at Gym

One of the most enthusiastic Republican rallies witnessed in this city for many years was held Tuesday evening at the school gymnasium.

Preceding the program a parade, led by the traditional G. O. P. elephant and including the Legion bugle and drum corps, the city band and innumerable automobiles, traversed the business district.

A large gathering heard issues of the day discussed by prominent Republican speakers including R. J. Eustace, of Cleveland, O.; Mrs. George Ford and Mrs. Felix Reume, of Gaylord; Judge Parm C. Gilbert, of Traverse City, and E. C. Killiam, superintendent of Boyne City schools.

The entertainment features of the evening included selections by the city band, tap dance numbers by Miss Marjorie Edwards and Robert Wexstaff, and selections by the popular Hill Billies. Refreshments were served in the school dining room following the meeting.

Local Republicans have set up headquarters for their election efforts in the Priest building on Bridge street. Literature is available there, also applications for absent voters' ballots, etc. On election day, next Tuesday, anyone desiring transportation to the polls may call the Republican headquarters, telephone No. 8.

COLTER RESIDENCE GUTTED IN MORNING BLAZE

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Baker Barely Escaped With Their Lives

Aroused from sleep by flames darting through the walls of their bedroom, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Baker barely escaped with their lives at 2:30 Wednesday morning when fire gutted the Colter residence in which they occupied an apartment.

The fire, of unknown origin, started in a back shed and spread rapidly throughout the building. Only prompt work by the fire department saved the building from total ruin and the flames from spreading to the adjoining Episcopal church.

The Bakers were unable to save any of their personal belongings.

Funeral services were held Monday for Mrs. Catherine McDonough, who passed away Saturday, October 10. Mrs. McDonough is survived by three children: Leo, of St. James; Patrick, of Portland, Ore., and Mrs. George Hively, of Los Angeles, Calif. Mr. McDonough passed away in May. Mrs. McDonough was the daughter of John O'Donnell, who was one of the pioneers in settling Beaver Island. Mr. O'Donnell had to clear a space in the wilderness to build his first cabin. He also served for a brief term in the Civil War. In the World War the family was represented by Thomas John of the Coast Artillery Corps, and Jane, who did war work in the adjutant general's office in Washington. Later, Patrick was an officer with the U. S. Marine Corps. Mrs. McDonough was esteemed by the entire populace of Beaver Island throughout the many years of her life. Right up to the end she kept her alert interest in everything pertaining to contemporary affairs. At her death she was attended by her son, Leo, and daughter, Mrs. Hively. Her burial was in Holy Cross cemetery. Rev. E. Fox officiated.

Mr. Rushton

Stands Firmly for Social Security!

As he conscientiously faced every problem that confronted him as a state senator for six years, Mr. Rushton displays this same rugged individualism in stating his attitude upon the question of Social Security.

He Says: . . .

"The surge of social change brings to society today a solemn realization of its obligation to the aged and the disabled, and I insist that disabled citizens injured in industrial accidents and whose compensation payments have expired, leaving them dependent upon society, are equally an obligation upon society with the aged.

"Some laws have been passed to assist these people but all are admittedly inadequate and a long step must be taken by the Congress of the United States and the state legislatures, to enact more humane laws."

Farmers are about through with potato harvest.

The local canning factory has closed with the canning of squash.

Alfred Heinrich's people have returned to Detroit from the G. Madge farm.

G. A. Morse and son have built a radish dryer in connection with their seed business.

Alva James, postmaster, has moved his family over the post office building, and has rented his house.

Mrs Andy Dunsmore has been visiting in Oregon, and Mr. Dunsmore has been keeping house alone.

Fred Doty and family have returned from Florida, declaring Michigan "is good enough for us." They are living with Mary Doty.

Allen Andelema is finishing his new house on the Willis Wilkinson farm, where he will live in the future. He can there get the benefit of electric lights.

The town water works is about to starting up again. They are now working on the reservoir. Pipes have been scattered around town. The project was begun about four months ago.

Rev. W. P. Mosher and wife will enter the Clark Memorial Home at Grand Rapids, November 1st. Rev. Mosher is a retired M. E. minister, having preached for 60 years. He says he will stay to vote for Landon before he goes.

Grand View had to go to Interstate Sunday. Pentecostal and Rev. G. A. Weaver gave an excellent talk to the Sunday school at Grand View last Sunday. He meets up with strange experiences in his capacity as missionary and charity agent. He says many receive too much and others too little. He told of one child who, last week, actually starved to death. He says he never knew a country of 15 years as a time to carry on greater mismanagement of governmental affairs and lower morale at the head of government.

Elmer Carroll writes from Ann Arbor hospital that his legs are still in casts, and he is "very, very much miserable." We would say, "in great pain." He entered while we were at the hospital and we know now how good it seems to get a letter from home. We hope his many friends will at least drop him a card. We were surprised to find how widely the Courier, Torch and Progress were read. We received several letters from Chicago, Detroit, Grand Rapids and Lansing saying, "We read your letter in the Torch, Courier or Progress." We wish to thank the editors heartily for the publicity given us which resulted in informing many of our friends of our condition and was the means, also, of our receiving the many communications from home folk. The high regard of the editors and publishers should be commended.

If the editor will allow, we would like to say just another word in regard to election probably the last election for me. We hope the voters will forget all about politics, especially the church people, and vote to save restore our nation to higher moral as well as financial standard. It is more important than was our freeing ourselves from England's rule of freeing the slaves. Many have failed to realize what will happen if communistic doctrine do prevail, if a dictator is again allowed to throttle our industries and plunge the nation deeper into debt. We have laws that can curb the wealthy under a decent ruler as well as a heaper. Wealth is rightly used a blessing. The railroads could never have been put into the northern country except by wealth, or any model for us to use. Look back and see when you had the most money in your pocket, when presidents were looked to as moral guards, mostly under Republican rule. We have had many good Democrats, as Jefferson, Bryan, etc., and we need all Democrats to help in the vote now. This is no government by Democrats or Republicans either. I have been a Democrat all my life and voted Republican but once, when I voted for Hoover the first time, but this year I vote Republican all the way. I never voted but for Parker, Wilson, Bryan and Hoover, but never will I vote for the Poor Dear regime. Let's all pull together and get out of the Red. Yes?

Gaynor, Young, Bennett Star In New Hit With Simone Simon

With the most exciting and brilliant star combination ever to appear in one picture, "Ladies in Love," new Twentieth Century-Fox production, opens November 1 at the Palace Theatre, a bitter-sweet romance of four lonesome, lovely girls, and their adventures in search of love.

A quartette of Hollywood's most famous feminine personalities, Janet Gaynor, Loretta Young, Constance Bennett and Simone Simon, appears in the film, with the cast featuring Don Ameche, Paul Lukas, Tyrone Power, Jr., and Alan Mowbray.

"Little Miss Nobody," a hilarious comedy of a prankish orphan who is continually in hot water, comes November 3-4 to the Palace Theatre with Jane Withers heading a cast including Jane Darwell, Ralph Morgan, Sara Haden and Harry Carey.

Palace Books Hilarious New Comedy Drama

"Love Begins at Twenty," the new First National production which comes to the Palace Theatre on November 5-6, is said to be one of the most hilarious comedy romances of the present show season. The original play by Martin Flavin, introduces some of the most original angles imaginable to which have been added sparkling dialogue and treatment by the screen writers, Tom Reed and Dalton Trumbo.

Warren Hull and Patricia Ellis have the romantic roles.

PLANNED INDUSTRIALISM

The greatest security for the industrial worker and his family is employment at his trade. Unless the industry to which he is attached operates, there can be no employment. And unless the barriers of government interference are taken down there can be no expansion in business. History shows advancement in business and industry has been achieved only through free competition. Regimentation and standardization have never spelled progress at any period of the world's history.

A trace of returning prosperity is showing now in industries which have been temporarily released from the shackles of federal domination. Men are working not because of any accomplishment by the New Deal of Mr. Roosevelt but because their particular line of employment has been freed for a time of governmental dictation. The New Deal platform and past performance of the party in power in Washington blandly assures a return to power of all the regimentor elements, if the election goes the way of the New Deal. Within a year the course will be set for dictatorship either fascistic or communistic. There will be no free workers, who have built the American system.

Workers themselves will decide. They will say November 3 whether they will remain American workmen, free to barter their labor for a price, or just regimented numbers of a planned industrial governmental system.

SINGS FOR HIS SUPPER

Musicians are imposed upon. The singer, pianist or violinist who reaches the top is an exception. The rest, the thousands who have spent an entire lifetime learning an art, are scattered over the country endeavoring to earn a living in the way of other professionals.

A dentist, doctor or lawyer does not begin the study of his career at the age of six, or earlier, and once graduated is not expected to give his talent free to the community. Whoever heard of asking a dentist to entertain his friends of an evening by pulling a tooth or two? His services are valuable to our welfare and we gladly pay for them. : No less valuable is the musician who inspires our living and brings pleasure to us all. A musician's education is a long and costly affair. Why this fact is not more frequently recognized is hard to say. It may be a left-over from the days when bards traveled around singing for their suppers. But whatever the cause it is still as common as daylight. All that most musicians are offered for an evening of their art is a free dinner. Once in a while unusual generosity rules the club or group, and the invitation is extended to include a husband or wife.

LIMITED POWERS

Governments are composed of men —not supermen, not geniuses—mere men, imperfectly educated, not wholly disinterested, with very limited wisdom. Such men can operate only a government of limited powers, and no greater delusion has ever cast its spell upon the human imagination than that a group of mortal men can plan the future of a society and direct the affairs of a whole civilization. When government attempts more than men with their abilities are suited to do, the more they attempt the worse they will do it. The men [illegible] must be a movement of united power to [illegible]

MICHIGAN PAYS

Just how would you feel if the government compelled you, through taxation, to help set your neighbor up in the farming business or any other business so that that neighbor could be in a position to compete with you and possibly take your business away from you? You wouldn't like that, and still that is exactly what is being done to the people of Michigan by the federal government at Washington.

Michigan pays 4.12 per cent of all the internal revenue collections of the government, and out of the vast sums paid into the federal treasury by Michigan, the sum of $20,229,200 has gone to help pay for the projects now completed or planned by the Tennessee Valley Authority in the Tennessee Valley area. The state of Tennessee itself paid less than one-sixth as much as Michigan, although Tennessee benefits enormously by these projects. Every man, woman and child in Michigan was taxed an average of over four dollars to build all these projects in Tennessee.

Michigan is largely an industrial state, but after President Roosevelt has completed this vast Tennessee Valley power proposition and the government places on the market electric energy made cheap by your donations, you may most certainly see Tennessee attracting your Michigan factories to the land of cheap power. In other words, you help build the power plant down south and then it takes your industries away from you.

How do you like it? Think it over carefully before giving your approval to the man who is responsible for this robbing of Peter (Michigan) to pay Paul (Tennessee).—Cheboygan Vigilant.

AN ALLY FOR PEACE

The motion picture may well turn out to be the most powerful single factor in checking future wars. For no other agency can so vividly and horribly bring home to the peoples of the world a true picture of what war is actually like.

Newsreels of the Spanish conflict show homes and buildings and cities being blown to shreds by bombs; they picture men and women lying dead in the streets; they reveal the utter futility of victorious armies marching into wrecked and bloodstained cities. Yes, it is a hideous picture! But the very fact that people everywhere can see it with their own eyes may eventually make them determined to avoid this barbaric way of settling disputes.

GOOD BUSINESS

The Law of Good Business says: "Business goes where it is invited, and stays and comes back to the place where it is well treated and served best." You can't expect people to do business with you if you don't ask them to, which is just another way of saying: "You can't sell 'em if you don't tell 'em."

LIFE

"There is," said John Ruskin, "no wealth but life—life including all its powers of joy, of love, of admiration. That country is richest which nourishes the greatest number of noble and happy human beings; that man is richest who has the widest helpful influence over the lives of others."

TUHY-STALEY WEDDING PRETTY EVENT SUNDAY

Local Young Couple Wed at Methodist Parsonage In Petoskey

A pretty wedding was solemnized Sunday morning at the Methodist parsonage, Petoskey, when Anne Tuhy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tuhy, was united in marriage to Clare L. Staley, son of Albert Staley.

Rev. C. E. Pollock performed the ceremony. Attending the couple were the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dennis.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was given at the home of the bride's parents at which immediate relatives were present. Immediately following the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to the northern part of Michigan.

HARDY-MASON WEDDING SOLEMNIZED SUNDAY

Pretty Wedding Solemnized at Local Baptist Parsonage

A pretty wedding solemnized Sunday at the Baptist parsonage, Miss Maude Hardy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jud Hardy, was united in marriage to Vercil Mason.

Rev. William H. Rauch performed the ceremony. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Korobko. They will make their home in Charlevoix.

NO NEW TAXES . . .
NO NEW DEBTS . . .
. . . AND A BALANCED BUDGET!

Two years ago, Michigan was millions of dollars in the red. We were overburdened with taxes and debts. Fitzgerald promised us that, if elected, there would be no new taxes, no new debts—and a balanced budget. He kept his word! We have emerged, in two short years, with a state treasury showing over five million dollars balance! Think of this amazing achievement when you go to the polls on November 3rd!

VOTE REPUBLICAN
RE-ELECT GOVERNOR FITZGERALD
REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE

The sun is sinking redly in a hodge-podge of gray clouds behind the blazing fringe of trees on the other side of the Old Millpond.

The Methodist Church bell is ringing—Sunday'll soon be over.

There's no light up here in the offices of the City News Bureau. It burned out last week. So this piece must be written in the somberness of the evening that approaches before twilight settles and the typewriter keys grow indistinct.

But it's just a simple piece—about how Governor Frank Fitzgerald came down here a week or so ago and talked. He talked over at the High School—with all the facts of State Government at his finger tips. No flowery oratory—no attempt to sway his hearers with outbursts of emotion. He just talked—plainly—so all understood his message. He seemed a little old-fashioned up there on the stage—just sort of honest and sincere. He talked of Old Age Assistance Plans—of his Pay-As-You-Go Policy—

"When you get something," he said, "Pay for it."

He spoke of Freedom of religion—of Civil Service—told how he had worked for the state of Michigan for 24 years—how he started as an office boy—how he was still working for the same folks who hired him years ago.

His hearers listened attentively. There was no nervous, impatient stirring about. He said his principal aim was to be fair—to take care of his loved ones—to play square with those who repose their confidence in him.

The Governor finished his talk and there was a burst of applause from those convinced—first that he's an American—second—that he's sincere . . . and last . . . that two years more of the confidence in him will in no way be misplaced.

Down below, in the newsstand, the radio is going—and an orchestra is playing: "Long, Long Ago."

The Methodist Church bell has ceased tolling.

It's going to be difficult to get out these few remaining paragraphs.

It's the convictions of the heart that count in this life—and Sincerity comes only from Truth. What Governor Fitzgerald has is what he has DONE. That's his satisfaction of work.

The Governor said, without recrimination—without bitter attacks—that there must be Tolerance—friendliness and that simplicity must be guarded.

He has his convictions—and the integrity to safeguard them.

At the polls—Next week—think of tolling church bells—of peaceful twilight like the one at hand—of homes—of the strains of "Long, Long Ago."

Courage is simple—and simplicity is courage—backed by Truth.

Sunday's light is failing. The day is done.

May this message—a simple unvarnished message about Governor Fitzgerald—find you convinced that you'll do your part to maintain sincerity.

(Signed) Chet Shafer.

BOOKKEEPER WINS ROAD TEST HELD BY STANDARD OIL

An Indiana bookkeeper, a Missouri farmer and an Illinois traveling salesman today were announced by Standard Oil Company of Indiana as major prize winners in the "World's Greatest Road Test," in which 1,200,000 motorists of 11 middlewest states participated this summer and fall to discover what mileage the average automobile will obtain under average conditions from a gallon of today's gasoline.

A bookkeeper with the Perry Coal Co., of Indianapolis, Ind., W. J. Finn, 243 W. 38th street, Indianapolis, won first prize of $1,000. In the presence of city and business leaders and company officials, he was presented a check by E. P. Galbreath, Indianapolis division manager of Standard Oil.

Louis Schneider, R. F. D. No. 4, Clinton, Mo., a farmer, received second prize of $500, and W. T. Henderson, 1509 N. Main street, Decatur, Ill., a traveling salesman, was awarded third prize of $250.

RUSHTON-STANDING ON PREVIOUS RECORD

Secured Minimum Wage On Highway Contracts; Sponsored Wade Bill

Centering his campaign on the counties below the Straits, Herbert J. Rushton, of Escanaba, former state senator and present Republican contestant for Congress from the 11th congressional district, has been receiving enthusiastic response in this area. Throughout his campaign, Mr. Rushton has found effective argument supporting his claims for office in his splendid record which he achieved as state senator in Lansing.

In recognition of his sponsorship of the Wade bill which raised the minimum compensation of injured workmen from $14 to $18 per week, and because of his activity in securing a $3.60 minimum wage proviso on all state highway contracts, as well as for his vigorous support of other vital points of labor legislation, his record was given 100 per cent acclaim by the State Federation of Labor. It was also his action which prevented the wiping-out of St. Ignace when it was proposed to relocate the docks at that city.

Honored by University

Because of the extraordinary services he rendered the citizens of Michigan during his tenure of office in the State Legislature, the faculty of the University of Michigan conferred upon him a Doctor's Degree, making Mr. Rushton the only legislator in the history of Michigan to be so honored.

Mr. Rushton's outstanding contribution to this area particularly was sponsorship of the Rushton-Hartman Act which provided for the disbursement of $100 annually to advertise Michigan's scenic beauty and tourist facilities. The tourist industry in Michigan, since the state has begun to advertise its scenic resources, has expanded to an annual income of over $270,000,000 during the past season, thus making it the second largest industry in the state, exceeded only by the automobile industry. Inasmuch as Mr. Rushton sponsored this advertising appropriation when the tourist business in Michigan was in its infancy, he is being singled out as the father of the tourist industry in Michigan.

REQUEST HUNTER NOT TO SHOOT AT SIGNS

Practice Not Only Expensive, But Endangers Human Lives

"Oh, hunter, spare that sign," was the theme of an appeal sent week from State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner.

The commissioner received reports from all over the state of hunters using highway signs for practice targets. The inexpensive reflectorized signs, especially are favored as targets, the commissioner was informed.

"I am appealing to the hunters to pick out some other, less expensive target if they must get in some practice shooting," Commissioner Van Wagoner said.

"The habit of shooting at our signs is not only expensive to the state but is also very dangerous from a public safety viewpoint. Most of our signs are warning messages. If they are destroyed, accidents can be expected to increase. I realize that the hunters who have been making targets of our signs have no malicious intent but we would appreciate it if they were a little more thoughtful."

SUNDAY DINNER SUGGESTIONS

By Ann Page

This is National Apple Week come in time to help you celebrate Hallowe'en. Many varieties of both cooking and eating types are available for your choosing.

Veal and pork are noticeably cheaper. Chucks of lamb are an excellent value while chucks of beef cost as much as rounds. Broiling, frying and roasting chickens are all reasonable. Fresh eggs are cheaper and butter continues moderate in price.

Oranges and grapefruit are both very reasonable. Various types of winter pears including Bosc, Anjou and Comice are in market. The cabbage family represents outstanding values in the vegetable line.

Low Cost Dinner
Stuffed Pork Chops
Mashed Potatoes Cabbage
Bread and Butter
Apple Crisp
Tea or Coffee Milk

Medium Cost Dinner
Roast Pork Apple Sauce
Browned Sweet Potatoes
Brussels Sprouts

Modern Freedom
. . . FOR MODERN WOMEN

FOR today's woman . . . busy modern, throwing off ancient shackles . . . B-ettes were created. Here is a method that ends the discomfort, the inconvenience and the embarrassment that heretofore has been an unavoidable part of this feminine problem. With B-ettes there is no consciousness of wearing a sanitary protection at all! They are completely invisible in use . . . deodorant . . . and, though they safely and efficiently perform the purpose of ordinary napkins, B-ettes are so tiny that a day's supply can be carried unobtrusively in a handbag. Never before have women known such comfort . . . such convenience . . . such daintiness . . . in a sanitary protection.

300,000 LAMBS TO BE FED IN 1936

Feeders Are Warned Against Use of Heavy Fall Growth of Grass

With indications that farmers in Michigan again will feed around 300,000 lambs this year, warning is issued by George A. Brown, head of the animal husbandry department at Michigan State College, that the underweight condition of these animals from drouth areas and the fact that full rains have stimulated a luscious growth of grass may cause heavy death losses when lambs are turned immediately into pasture.

Many of the lambs are light in weight, thin in flesh and decidedly undernourished. Such lambs are sensitive to feed conditions and must be handled carefully to prevent losses.

"Lambs which have just arrived after a hard shipment should not be turned directly on to pasture with conditions as they are this fall," says Professor Brown. A safer place is the feedlot or barn where the lambs have access to first cutting alfalfa hay and some oat straw.

"Even in dry lot the salting must be done carefully. Frequently these western lambs have not had salt for several weeks or have had block or rock salt. Sprinkle a small amount of salt on the bottom of a feed rack where they are fed hay several days before providing salt liberally. A small amount of lime or baking soda in the drinking water is a practice recommended by many successful feeders to help get the sheep in shape."

More hand feeding may be practical in Michigan this year, Brown estimates. Self feeders imply maximum use of grain and minimum use of roughage. In self feeding about twice as much grain as roughage is consumed, whereas the reverse is true in hand feeding. The arithmetic involved, according to Brown, is that with hay at $8 a ton self feeding would not seem practical unless corn is less than 50 cents a bushel. For profit, even with hay at $12.50 a ton, corn must sell at 85 cents a bushel or less if the gains on the self fed lambs are to be as economical as those gains made by hand feeding.

"Everlasting Punishment" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 1.

Among the Bible citations is the following (Prov. 11:5): "The righteousness of the perfect shall direct his way: but the wicked shall fall by his own wickedness."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 391): "It is error to suffer for aught but your own sins. Christ, or Truth, will destroy all other supposed sufferers, and real suffering for your own sins will cease in proportion as the sins cease."

OTTO W. BISHOP

Nominee on the Republican Ticket for Re-election to the Office of

STATE SENATOR

From the Twenty-Ninth Senatorial District

KEPT THE PROMISE HE MADE IN 1934 TO AGGRESSIVELY REPRESENT THE INTERESTS OF HIS DISTRICT IN THE STATE SENATE. He made a good record for efficient public service.

He again promises to urge and support a continuation of a sound "pay as you go" policy in the Administration of State affairs.

He will try to secure a more adequate appropriation for the development of the Tourist and Resort Industry.

He will again urge and support legislation guaranteeing a sufficient appropriation to adequately finance the public school system of Michigan.

He favors a reasonable workable Civil Service Law that will eliminate politics from all State Departments and Institutions.

He will urge and support the passage of a workable Old Age Assistance Law that will increase the monthly allowance and reduce the age minimum to sixty-five or possibly sixty years.

He will urge and support a more economical plan and more workable law for the administration of welfare and relief so that the State shall fully meet all legitimate needs of deserving citizens.

It is his firm purpose to again actively represent the interests and welfare of the people of his district and the State of Michigan in the State Senate.

RE-ELECT OTTO W. BISHOP AND SEND TO LANSING A MAN WHO UNDERSTANDS THE PROBLEMS AND NEEDS OF HIS DISTRICT.

The MARCH of POLITICS

By JOHN H. O'BRIEN

Next week the "mauk and the shouting dies" politically. The voters will be able to read the football news without searching for it through columns of what Senator Whosis said about Senator Doakes, and vice-versa. Both Democrat Eddie Cantor and the March of Time on his radio did without cat-fighting stars portions of political talks that have the accustomed air. The cheer leaders at movie audiences will subside. We will be able to devote our time uninterruptedly to the case of the King and Mrs. Simpson. The presidential election, the proof every four years that America is the greatest democracy of them all, will be over.

Now is the time for predictions. The situation will probably not be altered in the next few days and the wild guesses of July and August can be pleasantly forgotten.

We are not going to attempt any prediction on the election of president. The Michigan situation presents enough of a problem for any guesser. To begin with we think the Republican state ticket is in with a comfortable margin to spare. We believe Mr. Murphy, with a sigh of relief, will return to the Philippines. We believe that Wilber M. Brucker will be elected United States Senator over Prentiss Brown and Louis M. Ward. We believe all of this for the plain and simple reason that in state politics Michigan is Republican and we disregard the 1932 election just as race track handicappers disregard the fact that Man O' War once lost a race.

How Michigan will vote on Roosevelt and Landon is as knotty a problem to solve as there is in the United States. Two months ago we would have picked Roosevelt. Today we will pick Landon by the slimmest of margins.

Having placed ourselves out on the limb we will explain how we arrived there. First, we still believe that the Literary Digest poll is the one accurate gauge by which to judge the election. It has never been wrong and there is no reason to believe that it is wrong today. In the second place, the Republican attack upon the onerous provisions of the Social Security Act has resulted in a tremendous swing of industrial workers' votes from Roosevelt to Landon. This was the one voting group that the G. O. P. had been unable to convince. It was the one group upon whom the Democratic Party in Michigan depended for a majority. In the third place, the Republican Party regained many of its lost 1932 votes in the election of 1934 and it will regain the remainder this November 3rd. In the fourth place, we have a hunch.

Even the Democratic party leaders are singing a different tune today. Their "in the bag" statements have ceased. They conceded themselves Michigan early and they are fighting to get it late. The Republican organization in Michigan started long ago on a systematic, thorough, efficient job of getting every G. O. P. vote that could be found throughout the state. The On-To-Victory Movement has placed a Republican worker in contact with every twenty-five voters in the state. We believe the movement, optimistically named four months ago, will turn out to be correctly titled. The Democratic Party has nothing like it to contact voters or to get out the vote.

Michigan is going Republican.

Why Not Plant a Tree?

Why not plant a tree—as an expression of a motive, a memorial that will endure?

Why not plant a tree, to mark the birthday of each of the children?

Why not plant a tree, as a marker of some special occasion of joyful remembrance?

Why not plant a tree to symbolize some outstanding event or experience in your own life?

Why not plant a tree to mark a meaningful historical event?

Why not give a tree, as real evidence of gratitude, to say, Mother or Father?

Why not "say it with a tree," so that you will be reminded of _____?

Why not have the joy and satisfaction that you have planted a tree, at least, and made this old world a little better place in which to live?

Why not have "a living Christmas Tree," by planting a spruce?

Why not have a tree to remind you of the daily blessings through the changing seasons?

Why not have a tree, your very own, to closely watch the marvelous growth and romantic maturity year by year?

Now is planting time!

Now Mother Nature has stopped the wheels of toil and growth to permit the moving of the tree from nursery now to permanent location. Now is the day to resolve to plant a tree for many good reasons not mentioned above. No reasonable amount of money will give a greater degree of satisfaction and pleasure and contentment and be assured of increasing joy.

Come to the nursery and pick out the perfect tree you want, or send a card, or phone for us to help you in any way, to plan with you, to arrange date or place of planting or review types best suited for the purpose.

We are here to serve you, small orders as well as larger ones receive our best attention. We will be planting until the soil freezes, but do not delay!

Brilliant New 1937 Dodge Captures Spotlight at Sensational New York Preview!

DOROTHY WRIGHT AND RENE BELLINGER

"Such smart, racy, beautiful lines," says Dorothy Wright of New York's younger social set..."Such luxurious interiors...you just can't blame anybody for wanting to switch to Dodge!"...And her escort, Rene Bellinger, agrees with her..."I'll venture to say that hundreds of thousands will want to switch to this remarkable 1937 Dodge...it's a honey!"

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT CATON PALMER

"I'll bet literally thousands upon thousands... will turn to Dodge as soon as they see this amazing new edition," exclaims the charming Mrs. Palmer...And her husband adds, "This new Dodge is certainly an eyeful...I, too, predict that thousands and thousands will want to switch to it."

● Scoring with one sensational new feature after another...combining brilliant new "windstream" beauty with record-breaking economy...the new 1937 Dodge is everywhere hailed as the hit car of the year...the car that "millions will want to switch to" in the opinion of those who have seen this greatest money-saving Dodge of them all!

See this amazing new Dodge now on display at your Dodge dealer's! Drive it! Discover for yourself its breath-taking beauty—its roomy, luxurious interiors—its many safety provisions—its sensational economy! And you, too, will say: "Switch to the big, new 1937 Dodge and save money!"

BENJAMIN BROWN

RUSHTON TO STAND ON HIS PAST RECORD

Seeks Congressional Post on Basis of Former Service to District

Enthusiastically received on his appearances in Charlevoix county and elsewhere in the Eleventh Congressional District, Attorney Herbert J. Rushton, of Escanaba, Republican congressional candidate, will climax his campaign with several appearances in his own county before the November 3 deadline.

In several recent addresses Mr. Rushton laid heavy stress upon his record as state senator for six years, particularly on his sponsorship of the Wade Compensation Bill, his defeat of the Turner School Aid Amendment, which would have reduced state aid to school districts, and especially his fostering the Rushton-Hartman Act, providing $100,000 to advertise Michigan as a Vacation Land, for which he is termed the "Father of Michigan's Tourist Industry."

"I am not afraid to put up my record for everyone to see," said Mr. Rushton. "Regardless of politics or religion, I have always been for the people of my district, the people I represent, and I think the only criticism I suffered during my six years in the State Senate was that I tried to get everything I could for my home district."

Change and Progress

"Good government cannot stand still," the ex-Senator declared. "To steadfastly progress we must be able to change. That does not mean that every change brings progress. This is the issue—to differentiate change that means progress from the change that yields only disappointment and discontent." Speaking on Social Security, Mr. Rushton was applauded when he opined that Congress and many state legislatures will tackle the problem of social security not only for those above sixty or sixty-five years, but also for the "unfortunates, regardless of age, who by industrial accident can no longer work." Workmen's compensation is wholly unsuitable in many of these cases where injury is permanent, he declared.

Americanism An Issue

Americanism, not Republicanism nor Democratism, is the big issue of the present campaign, cited Mr. Rushton.

"I don't care if a man is a Republican or a Democrat, if he is an American I will vote for him.

"I don't represent any particular set of people, and never did. No one ever told me how to vote. But if I go down to Washington — and it looks as if I might — I am going to try and see that the Constitution is preserved, and that the American life is preserved and that opportunities are again open to American youth, unhampered by the pampering and dictatorship of government. When they close the door of hope in the face of youth, it's going to be a sad day for America."

During his tenure of office as state senator, a doctor's degree for extraordinary services rendered to the state was conferred upon Mr. Rushton by the faculty of the University of Michigan, thus making him the first and only legislator of this state to be so honored.

SENSE, NOT LUCK GETS SPUD YIELD

Antrim County Grower Finds Himself Repaid for Extra Attention

Potato growers in Northern Michigan are curious about the methods employed in 1936 by O. F. Walker, certified potato seed grower of Alba, Antrim county, Michigan.

On six acres of potatoes Walker obtained a yield of 1513 bushels, according to H. C. Moore, of the extension service of Michigan State College. When this yield was graded out, the results were remarkable.

Walker obtained 1238 bushels of certified No. 1 seed stock measuring one and seven-eighths inches in diameter and not over 10 ounces in weight. He had 52 bushels of certified No. 2 seed stock one and one-half inches to one and seven-eighths in size. Seven bushels of No. 3 seed stock were included in the yield.

In addition to the seed stock there was 176 bushels of U. S. No. 1 table stock, mostly large potatoes over 10 ounces. And the remainder consisted of but 40 bushels of cull potatoes.

Moore finds that in general Walker follows methods recommended by Michigan State College, but that the Antrim county farmer adds a few ideas of his own. He usually puts in potatoes after sweet clover or alfalfa, plants early, or the latter part of May, puts in about 25 bushels of seed to the acre and plants deep, about four inches.

Walker usually uses about 500 pounds of commercial fertilizer to the acre and sprays at least seven times. The last time the field is cultivated he ridges up the rows, throwing at least one inch of soil over the row to prevent sun scald or frost damage. In harvesting he digs enough so that the tubers can lie on the ground for about two hours before they are picked up, toughening the skins before the potatoes are handled. He stores his seed stock under conditions probably better than that provided for most table stock, keeping temperatures about 43 degrees Fahrenheit.

As soon as a man has learned how to make a good living by working, he tries to make a better living without working and the losses from his speculations compel him to go back to work.

Elect

STATE SENATOR

JOHN LUECKE

of Escanaba, Representative in CONGRESS

(Democrat)

I believe in human rights above property rights. At the same time protecting property when honestly obtained.

I don't think it fair to ask home industry and agriculture to compete with importations of foreign products while home industry and agriculture lag. I believe that economics like charity begin at home.

I believe in federal control of fishing in the Great Lakes. The present set-up of conflicting fishing laws is wrong.

I am unalterably opposed to war. I SHALL NEVER VOTE TO SEND ONE BOY ACROSS THE SEA TO FIGHT. Two years in the trenches taught me that war is unnecessary, unchristian and uncivilized.

I believe in religious and political liberties. History shows that the two go hand in hand. When one is denied the other is forbidden also. Democracy depends upon both.

I am for reducing the interest rate on home and farm mortgages to three per cent with a re-financing of present mortgages at that rate. The ownership of home and farm is the foundation of our democratic form of government.

I believe old age pensions should not be less than $60 per month per person. That amount is feasible.

WINTERING BEES REQUIRE LARDER

Fifty to Sixty Pounds of Honey Are Needed to Keep Average Colony

Ads for Michigan's 200,000 colonies of bees will be watched more closely this winter because of an increase in honey prices of 10 to 15 per cent, in the opinion of R. H. Kelty, extension beekeeper at Michigan State College.

He advises several projects designed to keep colonies fed and comfortable for the winter. A colony should contain five to seven pounds of bees, with a young and active queen. Weak colonies may be united by placing a sheet of newspaper between the colonies. A colony for winter feeding should have between 50 to 60 pounds of well ripened white honey, preferably clover. The supply should be checked now, not at Christmas.

For winter protection Kelty suggests the use of tar paper covering, grouping two or three colony houses under each shelter. Extension Bulletin No. 77, "The Tar Paper Packing Case for Wintering Bees," describes the process. The bulletin may be obtained by writing the Bulletin Room, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

Honey produced in 1936 in Michigan is being called the best honey crop in 10 years, although there is a comparatively light crop. Commercially about 13 million pounds is normally marketed and is usually worth from one and one-half to two million dollars.

Bees do more than make a honey crop. Michigan's important fruit and seed production is aided annually, Kelty estimates, to the extent of 21 million dollars because of the work of bees in fertilizing fruit and other crop blossoms.

TEN FLAWS FOUND IN SOCIAL SECURITY ACT

Figures Show Cost Is 40% More Than Life Insurance Annuities

The Social Security Act, a New Deal measure under a nation-wide attack by Governor Alfred M. Landon and the Republican party, has at least ten serious faults, it was stated today in a release by the G. O. P. State Central Committee.

These reasons are, as stated in the release:

1. Costs 40 per cent more than life insurance annuities carrying the same benefits.

2. No provision in the bill for ultimate payment. Congress may appropriate the money for any purpose it chooses.

3. Payrolls become public property.

4. Workmen will be numbered.

5. Young people will have to contribute not only toward their own pensions and insurance but will have to accumulate a fund for present middle-aged and aged.

6. Workers will have to stop their savings accounts and have the funds go for the Act.

7. Pension paid at age 65 when only 30 per cent will live to receive it.

8. Workers must cease work in order to get an average of $35 a month.

9. Privacy of the worker and his record gone forever.

10. States may place similar tax on payroll if voted to match the federal payments.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

In an effort to stimulate the sale of automobiles at the time when for years manufacturers have closed their plants to take inventory, Orville E. Atwood, secretary of state, has written to proper officials of every state in the Union, notifying them that 1937 license plates were placed on sale October 21. He notified these officials that he would do all he could to cooperate with them, in the event they saw fit to release their 1937 plates early this year.

"It is the belief of Atwood that labor in Michigan, as well as everywhere else in the nation where automobile or allied industries are located, will be immeasurably benefited by every move to overcome the seasonal slack in the automotive industry.

"This is the second successive year in which motor vehicle license plates have been placed on sale on October 21, Atwood pointed out when he set the date. It was made as early as practicable in order to aid the manufacturers in their drive to bring out models for fall trade. It was believed that with the placing of license plates for the succeeding year on sale coincidentally with the bringing out of new models, one factor of sales resistance would be overcome for the motor industry.

LEGION AUXILIARY NOTES

Lelia Goss, Reporter

* * * * * * * * * * *

Charlevoix unit of American Legion Auxiliary played host Monday evening to about 50 members from Boyne City, East Jordan and Charlevoix at the Legion Home.

Many of the guests came masked and in costumes appropriate to the Halloween season. Mrs. Davis, from Boyne City, was voted the prize for the best costume or else it was for the graceful way she rode the witch's broomstick.

After a program of games, readings and dancing the guests were seated at prettily decorated tables where all did justice to the delicious lunch, in spite of the portentious fortunes they found at their places.

Members please remember the next regular meeting November 16.

BEAN MOISTURE BRINGS WARNING

Fifty-seven thousand farmers in Michigan growing beans commercially are warned this fall to keep down moisture content in harvested beans and to deal with elevators and handlers who maintain high standards in pick and moisture content in buying and selling if the state's bean producing industry is to maintain its market with wholesalers and consumers.

OIL-PLATING DONE HERE

(BUT BE SURE YOU READ ALL THE OTHER WINTER OIL ADS, TOO)

You will find most of the emphasis these days, on oil that flows freely.

Well and good. You SHOULD use your correct Winter grade, but... You can see that the more freely any oil flows, the more freely it FLOWS DOWN OFF the pistons, cylinders, and other parts when you stop.

Then in starting up cold, where is mere free-flowing oil?

It is waiting to be pumped up on the job. And even in much warmer weather than this—according to engineering opinion—those oil-starved waits can cost you more engine wear than all the rest of your driving!

But this Winter with free-flowing Germ Processed oil, you can have your engine Oil-Plated! ... much more than a change to OUR Conoco Germ Processed oil ... really a change to unbroken Winter lubrication for YOUR engine. It may stand cold for hours—days—weeks. Yet the slippy Oil-Plating formed only by patented Germ Processed oil, will always be UP N ADVANCE Pistons slip easy. Starter spins. Oil-Plated engine obliges—and lives the good life, on a stingy diet of Conoco Germ Processed oil. Continental Oil Company

Toward Lighter Housekeeping

Dear Club Members:

FALL housecleaning time again! This is a good time to pass on a few hints I have picked up here and there on how to save oneself during this strenuous operation.

I have found that rubber gloves are invaluable at this time. I always use them when I am cleaning, but during this semi-annual renovation when the pail of soapsuds is so much in evidence, I simply could not do without them. It is really easy to get used to wearing them and well worth a little trouble in the beginning to find one's hands in good condition at the end of a hard day.

How do you hold your broom when you are sweeping? I find that the least tiring and at the same time the most efficient way is to hold it as you would a canoe paddle, right hand at the top, left hand half way down the handle, sweeping back on the left hand side, as you would paddle. Try this and you will be amazed at the results.

Before sweeping down the stairs place a suit box or open newspaper below the last step to catch the dust. It will save time and effort with a dust pan later.

To clean your flat silver easily, pour boiling water into a bright, clean aluminum pot and add a heaping teaspoonful of baking or washing soda. Let the silver stand for a minute or two and the [illegible] gone.

CHARLEVOIX CLAIMS A MILITARY ODDITY

Mormons Fought Fishermen In Naval War In 1853

Probably the only naval engagement in a religious war in United States history was "The Battle of Pine River," fought along the shore of Lake Michigan near Charlevoix about 1853. Seven persons were shot during the hostilities.

Pine River, now Charlevoix, was then a part of Emmet county, organized and controlled by the Mormons. However, Pine River was made up of fishermen who were not members of the church.

Two Mormons named Hull and Savage escaped from the Mormon colony at Beaver Island by pretending to embark for Drummond Island, where an attempt was being made to establish a second colony. Moon, a fisherman, had also incurred Mormon enmity.

The Emmet county sheriff, a Mormon, obtained subpoenas for the three men and came to Pine River to serve them. The fishermen feared the men might be harmed and resistance developed. One of their number, Louis Gebro, was shot and the sheriff's party was forced to flee to its boats. The fishermen took up the chase and poured shot into the sheriff's boats for miles, injuring six.

Fearful of vengeance, the fishermen fled and Pine River was abandoned.

MICHIGAN NRS TAKES LEAD IN UNITED STATES

Big Jump In Private Placements Results from Drive Inaugurated

The National Reemployment Service in Michigan was one of the leaders in the United States last month. Major Howard Starrett, state reemployment director, announced today.

Private placements in Michigan during September increased at a greater rate than in any other state except Alabama and Mississippi whose combined private placements totaled slightly over 1000. The Michigan NRS made 12,234 placements in private industry and with private contractors, a gain of 96 per cent in private placements over August.

The Michigan NRS was second of the 39 National Reemployment Services throughout the country in total number of placements recording 14,651. Michigan was first in the volume of new applications handled making 10,236 registrations.

Every one of the districts showed an increase in private placements over the preceding month, Major Starrett said.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellencamp

Soil Conservation Meetings Held Last Week

All farmers in the county were invited to attend a series of five meetings held to discuss the 1936 soil conservation program, and to recommend changes they thought desirable for 1937.

The five meetings were held at Charlevoix, Boyne River Grange (east of Boyne Falls), Boyne City, East Jordan and Beaver Island. The reaction expressed by those in attendance was favorable toward the program. It seemed that the more the program was discussed the more the farmers began to realize that it was very nicely set up to begin with. However, it was recommended that the plowing down of the green manure crops such as sweet clover and alfalfa without taking the first cutting off for hay should earn a soil building payment. Also it seemed desirable to allow payments for taking care of farm wood lots. In other words rather than the slashing down of everything in sight, to encourage farmers to use thinning methods. On Tuesday, the 27th, the county board of directors attended the district meeting at Gaylord to present the summary from Charlevoix county.

The crew of farm reporters is busily engaged in measuring the farms and the office force is calculating the sizes of the fields involved and recording the number of approved practices that earn payments.

Home Economics Groups Meet Last Week

The extension leaders in the county are very busy these days. With two projects being carried on, there are over 20 different communities which are receiving the work in the projects.

Miss Roberta Hershey gave the second lesson in the nutrition project to the Charlevoix and Boyne City ladies Tuesday and Wednesday, October 20 and 21. One new group has been organized which makes a total of 15 communities participating in the nutrition project.

Mrs. Ludia Ann Lynde opened the Child Care project with a public address on Tuesday night, the 20th, at East Jordan. The second, third and fourth lessons will be given to leaders only, so kindly send in your enrollment blanks at once. The second lesson is to be given on November 17 and assistance will be gladly given to any community which has none thus far organized. We are striving to have 10 groups studying this project.

Coupe at $640 Lowest Price In Series of New Models Now Displayed

Prices of the new 1937 Dodge cars, involving a number of reductions and the furnishing of safety glass at no extra cost, were today announced by the Dodge Division of Chrysler Corporation.

As in former seasons, the base price of the line is that of the business coupe, which lists at $640, followed by the rumble seat coupe at $695. There are two 2-door sedan models, one equipped with tire and luggage compartment in the rear section of the body and quoted at $705, the other with built-in touring trunk listing at $715. The 4-door sedan type also appears in two versions, one with rear tire and luggage compartment, at $745, the other with inbuilt trunk at $755.

PLAN WPA RECREATIONAL PROGRAM FOR WINTER

Supervised Basketball, Baseball, Winter Sports to Start Soon

Preliminary arrangements for a WPA recreational program in Charlevoix county during the coming fall and winter months were made at a county-wide meeting held Friday at East Jordan.

Robert P. Sloan, Democratic candidate for representative in the State Legislature from the Charlevoix-Leelanau district, addressed the assemblage of former recreational directors of the various districts of the county.

A program similar to that of last winter, including basketball, baseball and winter sports, has been outlined and will start in the near future, it is understood.
